We are informed that R. B. Scoggins driving his horse, "Uncle Sam," won first money in one of the races at the fair at Mt. Pleasant last week, making the mile in 2:20 over a heavy track.

FOR OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

There is promise of a large attendance at the meeting at the court house this (Friday) morning in honor of the eighteen young men who are to leave on the 9:15 train for Camp Custer. A short program has been arranged, lack of time prohibiting an extended one.

The business men of the city have raised a fund to provide a small package for each boy consisting of stationery and stamped envelopes, a package of tobacco, a pipe and a package of cigarettes. The ladies of the Tawas City Red Cross chapter will present each one with a testament or prayer book, according to their religious belief, and the ladies of the East Tawas chapter will give them a housewife, containing needles, thread, buttons, etc.

The public and parochial schools will not open their morning sessions until after the train has gone, and all the children are expected to be at the court house and join in the march to the depot. The Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls will be present in uniform.

It is also expected that all business places will be closed from eight o'clock until after the boys are gone in order that all may be able to be present and show their good will toward the soldiers-to-be.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NOTES

Meeting at usual hour next Sunday evening.

Topic—"How We Should Work Together." John 17:20-26.

Leader—Stella McCardell.

The monthly business meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Buckle next Wednesday evening.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Sunday, Sept. 23, 6:51 p. m. Topic—"Appreciation as a Strategic Method of Approach."

Leader—Mr. Eugene Swem. You are invited.

"Paul, a Campaigner for Christ," is the Bible study book for this fall. Would you like to join? If so communicate with Miss Edna Worden. We start next week.

MILLINERY OPENING DELAYED

My shipment of millinery goods have been delayed to such a late date it is impossible to have a display of same today and tomorrow as advertised last week. I regret to disappoint my customers, but will notify each one as soon as I can arrange goods.

I expect to have them ready in time for the fair. It will pay you to wait and look them over before your purchase elsewhere.

MRS. A. W. COLBY. adv

Some men are born great and others roll up their trousers and wade right into greatness.

BE KIND TO YOUR HORSE AND ALL DUMB CREATURES. IT SHOWS THE GENTLEMAN. adv

DON'T MISS THE FAIR.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week are the dates of the fair, and the promise is that no better fair has ever been held in Iosco county. There are many special features which are going to add greatly to the ordinary. There are to be three big days this year. The fair will begin Wednesday, which is to be "Iosco County's Patriotic Day," with Gov. Sleeper, District Attorney Kinname, U. S. Marshall Haller, and a number of other prominent men present. In the afternoon there will be two good horse races and a ball game between Tawas City and East Tawas.

Thursday there will be a ball game in the forenoon between the East Tawas and Oscoda high schools, and in the afternoon Tawas City and East Tawas will again cross bats, in addition to three good races.

Friday forenoon Tawas City and Whittemore high schools will play ball in the forenoon, and Tawas City and East Tawas teams will play the third game of their series in the afternoon. There are also three horse races on this day.

A large number of outside horses are arranging to be in attendance this year and the races will undoubtedly be the best in a number of years.

The boys and girls Pig Clubs are going to be a feature worth seeing. There are about a dozen of these in the county and each one will have their pig there to compete for the liberal prizes offered by the society, but the really good news to the members of these clubs is the fact that President Hawks of the D. & M. Ry., has offered a special prize of a fine Duroc-Jersey pig to the boy or girl who exhibits the best pig at the fair. This is making it a big thing to the lucky winner.

The people of Iosco county will encourage the efforts to make Iosco's fair the best in these parts by giving it a liberal patronage both as to exhibits and attendance.

B. F. SLINGERLAND CELEBRATES 99th BIRTHDAY.

About twenty of the friends and relatives of B. F. Slingerland of Alabaster gathered at his home last Saturday to celebrate his 99th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Slingerland (who is only two years his junior) were both confined to their bed by illness, but the event was a very enjoyable one to them nevertheless.

The party was held in the afternoon and a fine birthday supper was served, including a large and delicious birthday cake decorated with 99 candles for Mr. Slingerland, which he enjoyed immensely.

The many friends of Mr. Slingerland, both those who were present and those who were not, join in extending congratulations on this momentous occasion and in hoping that he may celebrate his centenary next year.

BUCK-DAFOE

On Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 8 o'clock p. m. a very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Henry Buck of Hale, when her daughter, Edith, was united in marriage to Mr. Howard Dafeo of Owosso. Rev. Thos. Marsh officiating. Only immediate relatives and a few friends were present.

The home was nicely decorated for the occasion with flowers and autumn leaves and presented a beautiful appearance.

At the appointed hour the young couple attended by Robert and Vera Buck, brother and sister of the bride, took their places to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Fern Yawger, and the impressive words were spoken that made them man and wife.

The bride wore a gown of white silk poplin and carried a bouquet of white asters.

Mrs. Thos. Marsh sang, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," little Faye Yawger "Love's Old Sweet Song," and Miss Gertrude Buck, "Jane."

After the ceremony congratulations were in order, after which the wedding company sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Dafeo left last Monday for their home in Owosso, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

WALHALLA POULTRY FARM WINNERS AT STATE FAIR

Carl E. Schmidt, owner of the Walhalla farm near Oscoda in this county, had an extensive showing of fancy poultry at the Michigan state fair in Detroit and his birds carried off most of the prizes in the classes in which they were exhibited. Following is a list of the prizes won by Mr. Schmidt's poultry:

Buff Orpingtons—3rd and 4th cock; 1st hen; 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 5th cockerel; 1st, 2nd, 4th and 5th pullet.

Buff Minorcas—1st, 2nd and 3rd cock; 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th hen; 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th cockerel; 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th pullet.

Speckled Sussex—1st, 2nd and 3rd cock; 1st, 2nd and 3rd hen; 1st, 2nd and 3rd cockerel; 1st and 3rd pullet.

Black Minorcas—1st and 4th cock; 1st and 2nd hen; 1st, 2nd and 4th cockerel; 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th pullet.

These four strains are bred exclusively at Walhalla, and that Mr. Schmidt is making a success of them is evidenced by the foregoing list of prizes awarded to his poultry in competition with the whole state.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the kind neighbors and friends who offered their sympathy and assistance during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. Also for the beautiful floral offerings and to those who furnished automobiles for the funeral.

Edw. C. Marzinski and Family

20TH REGIMENT OF ENGINEERS (FOREST) TO BE RECRUITED.

An additional regiment of engineers, designated the Twentieth Engineers (Forest) regiment is to be organized. This will be the second Forest regiment to be organized in this country for the purpose of getting out a supply of lumber and timber products for the use of the American, British and French armies in France. Ten battalions are now authorized, of which two are to be raised immediately. Each battalion will be comprised of three companies of 250 each.

The regiment is composed of woodmen, sawmill men, engineers and technical foresters, and will be engaged in timber work in widely scattered sections throughout the forests of France. It is not expected that much, if any, of the work will be near the battle line. The forests in which the work will be done consist of pine and fir in some sections and of oak, beech, and other hardwoods in others.

The commissioned officers of the forest battalions will comprise 50 per cent practical lumbermen and sawmill operators, 25 per cent technical foresters, and 25 per cent men with engineering and military training. The technically trained foresters and practical lumbermen and sawmill operators will be selected by the War Department upon the recommendation of the Forest Service. Captains and lieutenants will be appointed from men over 31 years of age who have had extensive experience in the lumber business and have proved themselves capable of leading men and of filling positions of responsibility.

The enlisted men will be picked woodmen and sawmill workers. Service in these units will give such men a chance to take the part in the war for which their life and training have peculiarly fitted them. For the logging crews, skilled axmen, woodswyers, cross-cut saw filers, tie hewers, skidders, teamsters, and blacksmiths are wanted. Millwrights, mill sawyers, cross-cut saw filers, tie hewers and experienced mill hands are needed to operate the sawmills which will form part of the equipment. Carpenters, machinists, and charcoal burners are wanted, and helpers are required for the various activities connected with wood operations and the maintenance of large camps. There is also a limited need for motor truck and motor cycle operators and motor truck repair men, as well as for experienced clerks and cooks.

Applicants for the Forest Regiment must have reached their 18th birthday and not have passed their 41st birthday. They will be subject to the same physical examination as required by the regular army. Men of draft age whose names have been "posted" by the "local board" for service in the National army are not eligible for enlistment. Enlistment will be for the period of the war.

Applicants for the 20th Engineers (Forest) Regiment can secure further information and application blanks at the office of the Forest Supervisor, East Tawas, Mich.

M.A.C. TO OFFER SHORT COURSE FOR FARM YOUTHS.

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 19.—A "boiled down" course in agriculture, in which the usual four years work will be whittled down to 32 weeks, will be offered at the Michigan Agricultural college on October 29 for the benefit of farm boys of the state. In the short course the cream of the four-years term, embodying the more or less directly practical elements of the college work, will be given the attending students.

The time for the abbreviated term has been so arranged by M. A. C. that it will give boys from the country a chance to drop into East Lansing when they can best be spared from the farm. Thus the 32 weeks course will cover a period of two years, the first 16 weeks work to be given between October 29 and March 1 of the coming winter (1917-1918) and the second 16 weeks to be at the same time in 1918-1919, so that men starting on October 29 this year will be graduated at the end of February 1919, though all told they will be required to spend only 32 weeks in East Lansing.

Young men who would like to know more about the "capsule" course have been asked to write to the president of the college, in East Lansing.

FOOTE SITE TAKES ELEVEN INNING GAME FROM TAWAS CITY

Or rather, to be truthful, Tawas City handed Foote Site the game, by committing 12 misplays, enough to give almost any game away.

In spite of the errors the spectators were more than pleased with the game. The box score follows:

"LABOR IS LOYAL."

Lansing, Sept. 17.—"Labor is loyal, say the delegates to that Gompers convention at Minneapolis."

"Of course labor is loyal," says an editorial in the Houghton Mining Gazette.

"Whoever said it wasn't?" adds Editor Guck.

Continuing, the well known Houghton newspaper man, who is just home from the Officers' Training Camp at Fort Sheridan, says:

"Because there are a few loud shouting cranks yelling their heads off and inciting folks to treason and rebellion does not mean that labor follows their lead.

"And even those who make the most noise, the worst agitators of labor, are, in reality, not rightful laboring men at all.

"Furthermore, they assuredly do not represent labor. They do misrepresent it. The I. W. W. is not labor, just the opposite. The Moyer type is not labor. Just the type of men who make a living off of labor by pretending that they do represent labor.

"Labor is loyal of course. If it wasn't this nation never would get anywhere with any kind of a war. And 99 per cent of the citizens of this United States of ours is composed of laboring men.

"Any time there is doubt about the loyalty of labor then heaven help this great nation of ours."

AT WAR WITH DISEASE

The time has now come, with the increased demand for physical efficiency, that systematic physical culture should take its place in the public schools along with the other essential subjects. The war on disease must be both offensive and defensive. While killing disease producing germs, we must strengthen bodily resistance against those germs that are likely to escape our vigilance. It avails but little to wage war on tubercular germs so long as our boys and girls, with stooped shoulders, contracted chests, adenoids and diseased air passages, invite attacks from every weak, wandering bacillus that chances to come their way. The wise general, while fighting the enemy, never fails to keep his own army in proper fighting shape.

Free literature from the State Board of Health will help you defend yourself from communicable diseases.

SAW FOR HERSELF

Once when a few months of vacation came to Congresswoman Rankin, instead of going to some pleasure resort, she packed her trunk and put across the Pacific to New Zealand that colony in which Britain "tries on the dog" all of the latest fads and fancies in the way of progressive government and which on this account has been dubbed "The Sociological Laboratory of the World." Miss Rankin wished to see for herself how some of her pet reforms were working. While studying conditions there Miss Rankin engaged herself out as an expert seamstress, went right into the homes of the women.

That smacks very much of the way they do things in the "movies," doesn't it?

WHY WE WINK OUR EYES

The act of winking furnishes a steady lubrication for the eyes and the ball of the eye is kept clean and in good condition by the water which passes over it from the tear glands. That is why we wink—to carry the water from under the upper lid over the eye.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Uruguay has 27,000,000 sheep scattered over the country?

An effort is being made to revive the Chinese pottery industry, which was once very artistic?

Only one lake in the world has as many as 300 islands?

The Mexican week used to contain 13 days?

NEW PROFESSION FOR WOMEN

They Are Making Marked Success at Secretaries' and Earn Very Good Salaries.

Evidence of rapid strides toward the creation of a new profession offering a good field for women is set forth in an article in the New York Evening Post by Raymond G. Fuller, director of the secretarial department of the Russell Sage College of Practical Arts at Troy, N. Y. He points out that government statistics and the reports of such organizations as the International Bureau of Occupations, New York; the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, and the Bureau of Philadelphia show that secretarial work is "becoming one of the most attractive avenues of vocational choice among college women." He states that Simmons college in Boston is the only institution of collegiate standing which offers a complete secretarial course, and that the demand for its graduates is so great that other colleges are rapidly falling in line.

In New York salaries begin at from $12 to $15 a week, increase to from $900 to $1,000 a year at the end of two years, and to from $1,500 to $1,800 a year within another year or two, or as soon as the secretary has definitely lifted herself from the stenographer class and shown real interest in the affairs of her employer, ability to grasp details and attend to them without delay and has developed a certain degree of judgment. Twenty per cent of the graduates of the secretarial department of Simmons go into business occupations, 10 to 15 per cent become teachers, and the rest find employment with lawyers, professors, doctors and other individuals, and clubs, settlement houses, colleges, etc. A recent survey of 800 college women in secretarial positions showed 30 per cent connected with suffrage, social and religious organizations; 14 per cent employed by schools and colleges; 8 per cent by public officials; 7 per cent by business firms and banks; 7 per cent by lawyers, and 6 per cent by doctors.

Necktie as Life Saver.

A necktie saved a Glasgow captain's life recently. He had been a passenger on board a Greek ship which had been torpedoed in the Mediterranean. He managed to keep afloat for a while, until a spar drifted along with a Frenchman on it. To this he clung, unable to scramble on because he had lost the use of his right arm and leg. "Then," says the Glasgow man, "a storm came up and we were lashed and buffeted about till I could hang on no longer. 'So long, old chap,' I said, 'I guess I'm a goner. Good luck to you and thanks.' 'Nonsense,' he said, 'Hang on for a second, and I'll fix you.' Before I knew what he was about he had whipped off his necktie and had securely bound my arm to the spar. Then we passed the night in terror. I thought my arm would be torn out. But in the first light of dawn an Italian destroyer came along and picked up everyone who had been on the ship. Yes," continued the Scotchman, "if you are going to sea in these parlous times be sure you have a good, long, strong necktie with you and don't lay it aside for an instant."

Taxidermists Are Sculptors, Too.

It is very doubtful if many of the 300,000 or more people who visit the animal exhibits of the National museum annually realize the great amount of work put on each animal in the mounting by modern taxidermists. The larger animals are mounted on so-called "manikins" of re-enforced plaster, and are not, as is quite generally supposed, simply stuffed with excelsior or sawdust. The expert taxidermists employed by the museum are more in the nature of sculptors than anything else. They are said to have been the pioneers in this kind of work, and at this time complete their work by constructing life-sized hollow plaster figures which are not only light and durable, but also far more realistic than those produced with sawdust and excelsior.

He Was Married.

The two women had been to the opera and going home in the street car they discussed the evening's amusement.

"I think, 'Lohengrin' is just splendid!" murmured the lady in the large hat, as she handed the conductor a nickel.

"Do you?" asked her friend in the purple velvet, with a superior smile. "I think it's not bad; but I just love 'Carmen.'"

The conductor blushed all over his plain features.

"Sorry, miss," he murmured apologetically; "I'm married. You might try the motorman, though; he's a single man!"

Norway's Shipping Tonnage.

The losses to Norway's shipping arising from the war have been greater than those experienced by any other neutral and stand second to those of only Great Britain and France. In spite of this gradual reduction in tonnage, Norwegian shipowners have placed orders for a large amount of new tonnage in home and foreign yards. The total amount is estimated at about 1,200,000 tons, a large amount of which is to be built in American yards.

STUDENTS ARE PAID

New Kind of School Established by Factory Owner.

Boys Made Self-Supporting While Receiving Four-Year Vocational Training Under New Apprenticeship System.

The new apprenticeship system that has recently been introduced in a Hartford factory seems to offer one of the most promising of all remedies that have been tried by American factory managers to prevent labor troubles, increase factory production, lower production costs and generally bring about that co-operation between factory employer and employee that is indispensable to their mutual prosperity, says the Hartford Courant. One manufacturing company has taken on 130 apprentices as a freshman class in a four-year combined practical and theoretical course. Each year a new freshman class will be taken on, and in four years it is expected that there will be at least 500 apprentices.

The apprenticeship system is in charge of a supervisor of apprentices, who is also an experienced teacher, mechanic and a student of the human phase of the problem. He has his headquarters in the room which has been especially equipped for the boys' use and serves as a classroom and as a lunch and reading room. Here the boys came for a certain period each week, during working hours, to receive instruction and training to supplement their shop experience. Much of this instruction is necessarily technical and very much specialized, but at the same time an effort is being made to give the boys a general understanding of the fundamental principles that underlie all the mechanical industries and thus make them more appreciative of their own branch and the more alert to its possibilities. This room also serves as a social center for the boys and every noon they gather to read, play games and meet with one another.

The supervisor is also present and finds in this hour another avenue of approach into the boys' interests and friendships. Another hold has been got on the boys through athletics. Teams have been organized and games played, choosing schools for opponents as far as possible. Places upon the teams are dependent upon shop and class records and there are no "athletic scholarships." This all tends to create a spirit of loyalty, which is as desirable here as in any institution.

The boys' shop experience is obtained in the regular manufacturing departments of the plant. To insure an all-around experience the boys are changed from one department to another as their progress warrants. The minimum stay in one department is six months, and as the boy advances in his apprenticeship his stay in a department is usually lengthened, as he is then better able to profit by the variety of work that he may be given.

The course of study is divided into four main parts, mathematics, drawing, science and theory of shop practice. The boys are taught to look upon their apprenticeship as a period of training and to be more interested in what they learn than in what they earn. At the same time the apprenticeship rates have been placed sufficiently high to make the boy self-supporting from the start. The rates for the four-year machinist apprenticeship are respectively 14, 15, 17 and 18 cents an hour and the rates for the other apprenticeships higher than that, running up to 27 cents an hour in the last year. In every case a bonus of $100 is paid upon the successful completion of the apprenticeship. There is a material difference between the rates of the molders and the other apprentices on account of the maturity that is required by the nature of the work.

The Garden a Medicine Chest.

Every man who has a kitchen garden has a medicine chest in his back yard, although he probably has not seriously looked upon it as such. In the onion, for example, he has a sulphur oil which gives the onion its reputation as a remedy for insomnia and which some physicians hold is a valuable anodyne for "rheumatic" pains. There are certain oils in turnips and parsnips that have aperient and diuretic properties. There is solanin in the potato, and spinach contains iron. Cabbage is highly regarded as a preventive and corrective of scurvy and scrofula. The composition of the tomato is chemically so subtle that it is not yet fully understood, although several active principles have been isolated and names have been given to them. Thus the man who eats freely of vegetables is taking medicine without paying for a prescription and without being bothered by the high cost of drugs. In the normal individual the instinctive appetite automatically regulates the size of the "dose."—Portland Oregonian.

Told the Truth.

A man with a serious face said at a small gathering of people:

"What are we coming to? Statistics show that in Yorkshire there are 30,000 persons, all natives of the West Riding, who cannot speak the English language!"

"Impossible!" everyone exclaimed.

"It is true, nevertheless," persisted the grave-faced man.

"And all English, you say?"

"Certainly—and all under two years of age!"—Tit-Bits.

USED WIND POWER

Ancient Chinese Records Tell of Kite Carriage.

Same Idea Was Involved in Patent Issued for "Motor Car" to Hugo Upton During Reign of James I of England.

The first record of a vehicle traveling without animal power is found in the ancient Chinese records, which give an account of the kite carriages. These vehicles were driven by the wind blowing against a sail attached to the carriage. In the early reign of King James I of England, a patent was issued to Hugo Upton, reading as follows: "For the sole making of an instrument which shall be driven by the wind for the transportation or carriage of anything by land." Some believe that Upton secured his idea from kite carriages in old China.

However, the history of mechanically driven carriages dates back to 1680, when Sir Isaac Newton proposed a steam carriage to be driven by the reactive effect of a jet of steam issuing from the nozzle at the rear of the vehicle. Some years later a crude carriage was built, an early record of which reads as follows: "Mr. Pinchbeck has recently built a curious steam machine that has traveled without horses for 40 minutes and has covered a considerable distance." In 1759 there appeared an English advertisement reading as follows: "Mr. Ladd's patent four-wheel carriage that goes without horses and will carry four or five persons at the rate of six miles an hour is built on solid mechanical principles." In 1802 Richard Trevithick built a steam carriage, which was exhibited at London, having driven itself 90 miles. In 1830 a horseless carriage named "the automotion" was built by Walter Hancock. This was really the first steam carriage that proved at all practical. It covered 4,200 miles during its life and carried a total of 12,761 passengers.

The first internal combustion engine was invented by Abbe d'Hauteville in 1678, in which the explosive power of gunpowder was employed to drive a piston in a cylinder. This was the forerunner of the modern gasoline engine. Some years later John Street developed an engine operated by liquid air ignited by a flame. The first internal combustion motor which used gas was invented in 1884 by Gottlieb Daimler. In 1885 he successfully applied this engine to a bicycle, and in 1886 Carl Benz invented his single horizontal cylinder, water-jacketed engine, which he applied to a three-wheeled carriage. The first practical gasoline automobile built in America was constructed by C. E. Duryea in 1892, but it was found to be underpowered.

In 1894 he built a new four-cylinder car which proved quite successful in the Chicago Times-Herald race. The first automobile endurance race of international importance was held in France in 1894. Two Panhard machines contested. Both claimed a 3.5 horsepower and were driven by Messrs. Panhard and Peugeot. In 1895 the second automobile endurance race was held in France and covered a distance of 1,730 miles at the then remarkable average speed of 15 miles per hour. Six years later, however, the same course was covered at the rate of 50 miles per hour. In 1897, at the Paris-Trouville road race, a speed of 29 miles an hour was developed in a gasoline automobile. What a difference today. Not long ago a 300-horsepower car raced at a terrific speed of 143 miles an hour. Even pleasure cars easily run off 50 miles an hour.

Elbows.

Everybody has elbows and especially famous people, so that occasionally they can rub them with the masses. The elbow is a symbol of democracy and if people hadn't discovered how to rub them we might still be living in an age of feudalism. The elbow is very useful and some people who haven't a brain in their heads elbow their way through life and don't seem to mind the difference. Science has frequently been asked what people would have done if they had no elbows and has explained the baffling question in this way—they would probably have something else just like them. The elbow is a valuable organ, or member, and if you have an arm to cut off you will need an elbow on it so that the arm can be cut off either above or below the elbow. Elbows are of all sorts, such as ragged, wrinkled, shiny and rheumatic. Elbows are well enough in their way, but a great nuisance at quick-lunch counters.

India's Sunday School Growth.

The first Sunday school in India was established at Serampore, Bengal, in 1803, when three boys were the founders and teachers. There are now 16,936 Sunday schools in India, with 636,614 teachers and scholars, speaking 45 dialects. Every year the India Sunday School union conducts an all-India Scripture examination, covering both oral and written work. In 1905, this examination was taken by 20,495 students in 28 different dialects, and of these 17,592 passed the tests satisfactorily.—Christian Herald.

Defining a Gentleman.

Lord Chesterfield had his own crude ideas about what a gentleman should be, but Frank Fleet, of Atchison, says a gentleman is a man who can play a cornet but won't.

DON'T NEGLECT THE TEETH

The teeth are an important factor in maintaining health. Poor, irregular, decayed teeth cause foul breath and do not permit the thorough mastication of food. This increases intestinal disorders caused by lumps of partly masticated food lying and fermenting in the stomach.

All food must be in a liquid state before it can pass into the intestinal tract, so if this task be continually imposed on the stomach it produces distress.

The mouth is indicative of character and as expressive as the eye. Refined and particular people do not neglect the appearance of the teeth.

A reasonable amount of care, a good dentifrice, and a fairly stiff brush—all these give pearly teeth, a clean, sweet breath, ruby lips and a feeling of perfect cleanliness.

CHEER UP!

Cheer up! You have two chances—one of being drafted and one of not; and if you are drafted you have two chances—one of going to France and one of not going; and if you go to France you have two chances—one of getting shot and one of not; and if you get shot, you have two chances one of dying and one of not; and if you die—well, you still have two chances.

RURAL DOMESTIC NOTE.

Some men can't understand why their wives are so tired at the end of a day's work. Go to the average farm and notice the riding plows, the riding cultivators, and even the riding grindstones. Then go to the house and see how many riding dish washers and riding washing machines you can see.—Peabody (Kan.) Gazette Herald.

THIS IS A JOKE.

"What are you crying for my little man?"
"Boo-hoo! Papa fell down stairs!"
"Well, never mind, he will get all right soon."
"Yes, but sister saw him fall all the way and I didn't see nothin' Boo-hoo!"

Yes, Very Dry.

"Yes," said Gap Johnson of Rampus Ridge, Ark., "it's pretty totable dry out my way. It's got so, in fact, that about half of the time three or four of my smallest children get practically covered up while playing in the road and can't be found till their maw yells for 'em to come to dinner or an automobile comes ripping along and knocks 'em out of the dust."

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. ## Begin to Save Money Now

Some of the Biggest Fortunes in the World Had Less Than $100 for a Foundation

Begin With a Single Dollar and This Bank Will Help You Save the Other Ninety-nine

When you bring your boy or girl to this bank to deposit a dollar, get a bank book with the dollar credited in it, and take home one of these little savings banks. Think how much real benefit you will be doing them. Think how much worry and trouble you may save them in time to come because they cultivated early in life the habit of saving money. One of these banks is a good thing to have around the house, even to take care of your own nickels and dimes, as well as the children's pennies.

No one need be ashamed to save money. No one need be ashamed to start with as little as a dollar. The habit of saving money, if persisted in, is bound to make for financial independence and to make a good citizen of the "man with the habit" as well.

A bank account develops character at the same time that it is developing financial independence. A bank account will oftentimes save a man, or a woman from situations which without it would cause untold embarrassment—sometimes actual hardship.

The bank illustrated above is not a toy. It is a steel, silver finish, three-tumbler lock bank that cannot be opened except by the use of the key made to fit the lock. The saving of money is a serious matter. The American people are said to be the most extravagant race in the world. This may or may not be true, but certain it is that we all spend too much money—and in the worst of it is, we do it unconsciously. A nickel here and a dime there soon count up into dollars and, as we grow older, we begin to wonder what became of all the money that went through our fingers.

Now, neighbor, don't overlook this invitation. Drop in next time you're passing. No red tape. No formality. Simplest thing in the world to get one of these banks—and think what it means.
