DEATH OF OREN H. McLEOD.

Ry. shop at Tawas City as a machinist apprentice, serving two years. He then went to Lansing and was employed at the Rio automobile works until March, 1912, when on account of ill health he went west and located at Cabri, Saskatchewan, where he was engaged in farming up to the time of his last illness.

He was stricken with appendicitis June 27. He was taken to a hospital at Swift Current, Sask., where everything possible was done for him, but to no avail, and he died July 17th. His sister Mrs. Geo. Culham, and his brother, Henry McLeod, both of Cabri, Sask., were with him when death came.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN
C. P. Milham.

Office, Court House, Tawas City. Week days from 8 to 9, and all day Friday. Phone 28-F-21.

THE FARM BUREAU.

Great interest has been shown by the farmers of Isosco County in the meeting that is to be held at the court house on Friday the second day of August, at two o'clock for the purpose of discussing farm problems and deciding on a plan of action. A number of those most actively engaged in the movement favor the organization of a Farm Bureau. Farm Bureaus in other states as well as in some counties of this state have a splendid record of results accomplished. This is strictly a farmers' organization having as its purpose the solving of farm problems so that farm work may be made more profitable and farm life more enjoyable.

The feeling prevails that the greatest problems which will require the organized effort of all the farmers to solve is standardization and improvement of grains, crops, livestock, soil drainage and improvement, plant and animal disease control, farm home improvement, and other things.

Isosco county wants to have a reputation for doing things well, and the Farm Bureau which will be organized, will be the first step in this direction; and after the reputation is made, the organization will maintain their record.

The Farm Bureau consists of an Executive Committee composed of four officers and about five other members well representative of the county, and each of which is especially interested in some special line of work. A county program of work will be planned and each man will be placed where his services will be used to best advantage.

Next in order comes the community committees. Each officer selected because of special fitness to direct some important part of the community agricultural program for improvement. A county agricultural council composed of the chairman of the community committees, and a representative membership of farmers all over the county.

The need of such an organization is apparent in ordinary times, but under present conditions there is an added stimulus to the need of it. The organization welds the people together so that instead of working in opposition, they work together, accomplishing things which could be done in no other way. It aids the work of the County Agent, because he can deal through community groups, receive the advice of a larger number of people, do what they want him to do, and instead of working blindly will have a program of work to follow, which will be of benefit to a larger number of people.

Oftentimes the Government wishes to find out certain things in regard to production prices and other things, so they ask various organizations in different parts of the nation and get opposite reports from different organizations, which contain other people than farmers; but when they ask the Farm Bureau they are dealing with one of the strongest bodies of agricultural men, and their word has weight.

The work of the future Isosco County Farm Bureau will be thoroughly explained at the meeting mentioned above, and everyone interested should make it a point to be present. There may be a good snappy speaker present from Lansing. Women also are interested in the meeting, because their part in the county program is important.

FARMERS' BEE

In order to help Mrs. Dorey, who is supporting a family of four small children, the farmers of Baldwin and Wilber are organizing a bee. Mrs. Dorey has a large crop of hay to harvest, and the farmers and others are going to help her out. If the weather is favorable the bee will be Friday July 26th. The place is in section 20, Wilber township. Everyone who can come is welcome.

CENTRAL COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA SYSTEM

The heads of the local Chautauqua Committees are getting more enthusiastic as the dates of the great event Aug. 12 to 16 approach. For they realize what a wonderful program has been provided for us this year—and that its splendid universal appeal should attract a record-breaking crowd for each of the five big days.

Back of it all is the big idea of patriotic service and real Americanism. But the entertainment features are not ignored and the lectures bid fair to be masterpieces of the art of speech.

Speaking of the lectures, on the FIRST DAY comes Samuel Cranston Benson, with his vivid word picture of the war—"Back from Hell." Few Americans have ever experienced the things this man faced while at the front in the ambulance service. Few know as he knows what Germany is—and the menace her present government is to civilization. Never have you had the opportunity to hear a story such as his—for he has lived in hell—and come out of it with a smile! But also with a determination to picture the Hun for what he is—and to make America realize the things that face our boys at the front.

On the SECOND DAY, Dr. Frederic Poole has a wonderful illustrated lecture, "The Birth of an Oriental Nation" that pictures life in China and the Orient and shows the relation of the yellow races to America and the great world war. Dressed in the rich robes of a Chinese Mandarin, he makes you see, as he has seen it, what China is—and how her destiny affects our own.

On the evening of the THIRD DAY, Chicago's famous "fighting parson" Dr. E. L. Williams, will deliver his most interesting lecture "The City and the Soil." It is a lighting up of the crime-infested spots of city life—a picturing of the dangers and the pitfalls that lurk within the midnight shadows of the city walls—a story that should be known to every one who has ever gone to the big cities, or who has any idea of ever going there.

And on the FIFTH DAY, Andrew H. Harnly has two great war messages—a lecture "The Trenches in America," which he delivers in the afternoon, and a lecture, "Carry On" which he presents at night. They are revelations of the part which every American at home as well as in the field is playing and must continue to play in winning the great war. And he brings first-hand information from Washington, where he conferred with the heads of the various Government Departments and secured much inside information concerning America's war activities.

THE JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA.

The Junior Chautauqua this year will be in charge of the following local committee:

Miss Nydia Campbell, Chairman
Elinor Carr
Luella Patterson
Grace Laidlaw
Florence Stickney

It is to be hoped that any one that is called upon by them to assist in the Pageant will do so cheerfully, as same will be larger and better than ever this year.

STABBING AFFRAY AT SCHMIDT RANCH

Last Sunday evening two men working at the Schmidt ranch in the northern part of the county became engaged in an altercation and as a result Donald Blaecock is nursing a knife wound in his arm and a man named Reed is out on bail charged with the stabbing.

Reed gave bail in the sum of $500 to appear before Justice Blakeley of Oscoda for hearing next Monday.

JOKING AT THE EDITOR'S EXPENSE

The editor of the Herald received a letter this week from some party in East Tawas signing themselves "A Subscriber," and enclosing a supposed joke on another party, also of East Tawas. The writer of the letter was evidently very desirous of having the item published, as a one dollar bill was enclosed, whereas the expense if we had been willing to publish it would have been less than half that amount.

It appears hard for some people to learn that a newspaper cannot publish matter of an anonymous nature, especially when it reflects upon another person and may cause trouble. Had the Herald printed the item in question, the party at whom the joke was aimed would have had a good case of libel against us, if not a more serious charge. We are therefore holding the communication and if the author wishes his (or her) dollar back we will be glad to send it upon receipt of address.

Once more we reiterate that no unsigned communication to this paper will be published. If you wish your matter to appear, sign your name to it, and then if not of a harmful nature it will be published. Otherwise it will be promptly consigned to the waste basket.

DEATH OF MRS. DANIEL FRAPPPIER.

Mrs. Daniel Frappier, who formerly resided at Marks station, died in a hospital at Detroit on the night of July 20th, after a lingering illness, aged 43 years, 10 months and five days. She was taken ill with scarlet fever in February, 1917, and heart complications resulted from which she never recovered.

The remains were brought to Tawas City Monday night and taken to the home of Birt Fowler, from whence the funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, Elder M. A. Sommerfield officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Tawas City cemetery.

Olive Morton was born Sept. 15, 1875, in Fentonville, Genesee county, Mich. She was united in marriage to Daniel Frappier on March 2, 1895 at Linden, Mich. To this union four children were born, three boys and one girl. Two of the boys died in infancy.

She leaves to mourn her loss the bereaved husband, one son, Lavern, who is now on his way to France with the U. S. troops, and one daughter, Mrs. Gladys Lonsbury of Detroit. Also two sisters and one brother, who were present at the funeral.

Deceased has been for 15 years a member of the reorganized church of Latter Day Saints and was a firm believer in the teaching of this sect.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to the family in their hour of sorrow.

CARD OF THANKS.

CHILDREN MUST PLAY TO BE HEALTHY AND STRONG

A children's recreation drive is on to continue during July and August, under the auspices of the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, and the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. It will culminate in "patriotic play week," September 1-7, in which the work of 11,000,000 women in organizing recreation in 10,000 communities will come to an end.

"To be strong for victory the Nation must let her children play," said Charles Frederick Weller, associate secretary of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America. No time nor money can be spared from war-winning activities, but the winning of the war depends on the man power, and man power can not be sustained in any nation without health and wholesomeness in the children. Far worse than exhausting America's financial capital would be the exhaustion of child life, which is man-power capital.

"England and France began as the United States has been tempted to begin—by letting the children pay too heavily for the war in child labor, increased delinquency, overtaxed nerves, weakened bodies, and premature deaths, but England and France turned to lift war burdens from the children by giving them a chance to play. There is urgent need to give our boys and girls an American square deal—their safety valve of play."

REHABILITATION OF OUR SOLDIERS.

The United States Government is not going to be content with merely re-educating and rehabilitating its soldiers who have been disabled by wounds, and fitting them for useful and gainful occupations; it is not going to leave them to shift for themselves, but will exert an active continuing interest in their welfare.

This does not mean that the Government is to coddle them or treat them as weaklings, but it is going to take an active interest in securing them work, and in other ways endeavor to make up to them the opportunities and advantages they lost by reason of wounds received in fighting their country's battles.

Every Liberty Loan Bond and every War Savings Stamp purchased aids in this work.

The Army Medical Department has developed a mobile X-ray outfit to be carried on the standard Army ambulance to the front-line trench for the benefit of wounded soldiers. It is desired by Army surgeons to lose no time in ascertaining the extent and conditions of wounds. The outfit is made up of the Delce gas-electric set, the high-tension transformer, and the special type of Coolidge tube.

A recipe for a wheatless loaf of bread is soon to be made public by the office of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture. It is the discovery of the experimental kitchen conducted jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration. Directions are to be given for the making of three new wheat substitute breads—the half wheat loaf, the one-fourth wheat loaf, and the wheatless loaf. The recipe is expected to save thousands of pounds of wheat flour.

MARK TWAIN LOVED TO TALK

Noted Author Asserted He Also Profited From Instruction and Moral Uplift—Would Not Charge.

Gen. Fred Grant once invited Mark Twain to deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Robert Fulton Monument association for a fee of $1,000. Twain agreed to lecture, comments a writer, but declined the fee. Grant thanked him in the name of the association, but urged him to take part of the sum, asking why he should work wholly without compensation. Twain wrote in reply:

"Dear General—Because I stopped talking for pay a good many years ago, I could not resume the habit now without a great deal of personal discomfort. I love to hear myself talk, because I get so much instruction and moral uplift out of it, but I lose the bulk of this joy when I charge for it. Let the terms stand."

Later he wrote to Grant: "What shall I talk about? My idea is this: To instruct the audience about Robert Fulton, and... Tell me—was that his real name, or was it his nom de plume? However, never mind; it is not important—I can skip it, and the house will think I knew all about it, but forgot. Could you find out for me if he was one of the signers of the Declaration, and which one? I can skip it. Was he out with Paul Jones? Will you ask Horace Porter? And ask him if he brought both of them home. These will be very interesting facts, if they can be established. But never mind; don't trouble Porter; I can establish them anyway. The way I look at it, they are historical gems—gems of the very first water."

VILLAGES ERECTED ON PILES

Ancient Settlement Discovered in Lake Constance Contained 50,000 Tree Trunks for Its Foundation.

The most interesting of the earlier habitations of man are the curious lake dwellings of the age of bronze, notes a correspondent. These were usually built on piles sunk into the bottom of a lake, some distance from the shore. Large trees were felled, the trunks of which were sharpened on one end and driven into the mud by mallets used in the hands of the builders, who worked from a raft.

On these piles was built a platform, sometimes of great extent. One of the lake villages discovered in Lake Constance contained 50,000 piles. It formed a parallelogram 15,000 feet long and 400 broad, and probably accommodated a settlement of several hundred inhabitants. After the platform had been put down, the boards being fastened on top with pegs, and the whole strongly knit together with clay, the builders proceeded to put up their huts, which were circular or rectangular in shape. They were made of wattle work, coated on both sides with clay, and were generally furnished with a hearthstone and a hand-mill for crushing grain.

The village was connected with the shore by a long, narrow causeway, intersected by drawbridges.

Strange Adoptions by Cats.

The cases in which cats and dogs have formed close friendly relations are, of course, too numerous to mention. It really seems as if there were no animal friendship so strong and lasting as that between cats and dogs when once it is formed. It is well known that mother cats when deprived of their new-born progeny will adopt puppies, rabbits, monkeys or almost any other tender young creature that may be handy. But there has recently come to light a case for which there is no such apparent explanation.

A cat and a female fox terrier, which had brought into the world their progeny at about the same time, deliberately swapped their young, the cat taking the puppies to rear and the dog the kittens. The exchange was satisfactory, and both litters were brought in good health to the weanable stage. Nobody knows what led to such abnormal conduct.

Our Other Selves.

The old Hebrew sage declared, "Wisdom cometh from the opportunity of leisure." It does not mean that a wise man must belong to what we call the leisure class. It means that if one has only a little free time at his disposal, he must use that time for the refreshment of his hidden selves. If he cannot have a Sabbath rest of 24 hours, he must learn to sanctify little Sabbaths, it may be of ten minutes' length. In them he shall do no manner of work. It is not enough that the self that works and receives wages shall be recognized and protected; the world must be made safe for our other selves. Does not the Declaration of Independence say that every man has an inalienable right to the pursuit of happiness?—S. M. Crothers, in the Atlantic.

Give Cheerfulness a Chance.

Cheerfulness is a much rarer quality than is generally supposed, especially among the rich. It was not common even before we learned that, in spite of Browning, though God may be in his heaven nevertheless all is wrong in the world. If "most men lead lives of quiet desperation," as Thoreau says they do, it is, I suspect, because they will not allow cheerfulness to break in upon them when it will. A good disposition is worth a fortune. Give cheerfulness a chance, says the Atlantic Monthly, and let the professed philosopher go hang.

FOLLETT ENDORSED FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

WHEREAS, We the members of the Isoco District Republican Legislative Club, believe that in all public offices efficiency should be the watchword of the day, and especially at this time when our country is engaged in war; and that the district should be represented by some man whom we know is well qualified, has some experience and is well posted in state affairs; who is broad minded enough to be qualified to represent the various interests in our district; and who we know will be on the job at all times at our state capital when needed.

Enchanting Entertainment Offered by Marvel Miller

MARVEL MILLER

Back to the world of make-believe with a slip of a girl as the fairy enchantress.
Marvel Miller merits her first name. In the realm of "play-acting" she is a real marvel. For she has the ability to create character, to visualize emotion, to portray mental attitude.

Her dramatic readings catch the heart thought and the heart-throb of a series of characters, and she will make each live for her audience when she presents her delightful program during the coming Chautauqua program. In her rendition of "When the Fleet Goes By" she sends the salt sea air racing through your nostrils and makes you prouder still of Uncle Sam and his sea-power.

Her rendition of Henry Van Dyke's "The Colors" is another soul-builder, and a builder of real Americanism. Altogether, her Chautauqua program is one of the most interesting, entertaining and inspiring ever presented in America.

She is richly endowed by nature for her chosen profession, is possessed of unusual charm of personality, grace of person and sweetness of character, that assist her materially in winning her audiences.
Mrs. Stanley McCormick, in charge of the department of food production and home economics of the woman's committee Council of National Defense gives this advice to farmerettes: "Watch your feet. Dont ignore footwear. You must have a good spinal column to keep up with a good job. The condition of the spinal column depends greatly on the feet. Be picturesque if you wish, but be sensible. Wear good stout boots to preserve health."

Gems of Grand Opera Will Charm Chautauqua Audiences

THE HUGH ANDERSON OPERATIC COMPANY

The hunger for song and music is as necessary as the hunger for food. What a joy to hear selections from "The Bohemian Girl" or "The Miserere" from Il Trevatore—when done by artists.
The Hugh Anderson Operatic Company is in its sixth season—growing each year in artistic accomplishment—and this year, is even better.

The company is composed of Eleanor Perea, whose beautiful, high, clear soprano voice never fails to captivate her audience; Gertrude Porter, a contralto gifted with a voice of wondrous beauty and sweetness, and a charming personality; Erma Meredith, accompanist and piano soloist; George Stump, a tenor of fine, clear tone and excellent carrying power; and Hugh Anderson, himself.

WIFEY GOT DUMKOPFF'S ROLL

Spouse Induced Him to Curtail Expenses at Celebration, Then Divided Money "Equally."

Adolph Dumkopff had made a killing at poker, says the Detroit Free Press.
"Oh, Adolph, how lovely!" scolded his wife. "You must have held wonderful hands, Adolph. What did you have—Jacks down, or a full kind, or something?"
"How about a little celebration?" said Mr. Dumkopff, jovially. "How about a little theater party, and then a little something to eat at Snoozemacher's?"
"Now, Adolph," remonstrated Mrs. Dumkopff, "what's the good of squandering it right away? Now that you've got it, you may as well keep it for a rainy day. We'll celebrate reasonably, that's what we'll do."

And after supper they went to the movies to see the beautiful Snoozles Wonderful in "Looping the Loop" in five parts, after which they each had a pickle sandwich in childish.
"Now, wasn't that a reasonable celebration?" said Mrs. Dumkopff, when they had returned home. "Only eighty-five cents altogether."

"Cheap at half the price," agreed her husband, as he dropped off to sleep. Half an hour later Mrs. Dumkopff carefully removed his trousers from the chair by his head, extracted his roll from the right-hand pocket, divided it with scrupulous fairness into two equal parts, kept the six tens and replaced the six fives in her husband's trousers.

"I'll buy something for the house with this, such as the prizes for my card party next week," thought Mrs. Dumkopff, as she tucked the bills into her back hair and slipped into bed to sleep the sleep of the foxy.

SHOULD SALUTE THE FLAG

Virginian Who Has Lived Abroad Urges Reverence for the Emblem of the Country.

"Why does the average American not salute the flag?" asked R. O. Quicault, a Virginian who has lived abroad for the last ten years, according to the Washington Post.

"On the day of the draft parade in Washington the only man I saw saluting the regimental colors was a policeman, probably an old soldier who has learned the love and reverence which every man who has served feels for the flag. When I and the friend with me—a Britisher—bared our heads every time the flag of a regiment went past a few persons in the crowd began, somewhat shamefacedly, to follow our example.

"In London or in Paris you would have no choice. Any man who kept his hat on when the colors of a regiment passed would have it knocked off for him, if nothing worse happened to him. I do not mean, of course, that one should salute the thousand and one flags carried in such a procession, but every one should at least bare his head when a regimental flag goes past. That's what thousands of men are going to die for before we are twelve months older. The least one can do is to salute it while we can before it goes somewhere in France."

Switzerland's Water Power.

There are no coal mines in Switzerland, but there is "white coal" or water power in abundance that can be transformed into light, heat and power. An electric railway climbs a tunnel inside the Jungfrau mountain. Halfway on the journey a good hot luncheon is served at the restaurant, in a station hollowed out from the rocks. The temperature of the tunnel in this snow-covered mountain is but little above the freezing point, even in summer, but the trains are lighted, heated and driven up the mountain, and the cooking and heating at the restaurant are all accomplished by the utilization of the icy cold water running down the mountain side as water power to generate electricity.

Few countries in the world are so well supplied with potential water power as Switzerland, and with this power fully developed she need never again see her industries at the mercy of a neighbor who might become at any time an alien enemy.

First German Colonists.

German emigration to America had its beginning 234 years ago, when the first party of pioneers from Germany landed at Philadelphia, relates a historian. There were 35 of them, mostly relatives, and all members of a religious sect closely akin to the English Quaker. Subjected in Germany to bitter persecution, they determined to seek refuge in the new world. The Frankfurt Land company was organized, and purchased from William Penn, the governor of Pennsylvania, a tract of land near Philadelphia. Francis Daniel Pastorius negotiated the deal, led the colony to America, laid out the town of Germantown, or Germantown, and became the recognized head of the settlement.

Steps Drive Business Away.

Store entrances now are flush with the sidewalk, or as nearly so as conditions will permit, observes a merchant in the New York Sun. Storekeepers are aware that customers are more likely to walk straight into a store when unimpeded than to go up even one short step. Banks were the last to realize the handicap imposed by steps at the entrances, and you don't see architects planning bank buildings now with steps at the front as they did in the old days.

"WE WON'T WIN IF WE WASTE"

Tested Wartime Recipes

FOR USE IN MICHIGAN
(Clip and save these recipes for future reference.)

War Breads Are Healthy.

"War Breads" (3-4 or 2-3 wheat and 1-4 or 1-3 other cereals) are even more healthful than those made entirely of white flour. They are light, wholesome, taste well, and are very nutritious, though the loaves are not so large nor so light.

As substitutes for wheat use oats, barley, rice, corn meal and potatoes. Rye with wheat makes an excellent bread; but our crop of rye is not as large as we had expected, so other cereals must also be used. Graham flour is a wheat flour; it is a wheat-flour, but is not a wheat substitute.

It is not a difficult matter to make these "War Breads." Follow your favorite bread recipe, using 3-4 the usual amount of white flour and 1-4 of some other cereal, such as oat meal, rice flour, corn meal, barley, etc., or potatoes.

Here is one reliable recipe for white bread to be used as a basis for substitution, if you have not one which is satisfactory. If you already have a good recipe, use that.

Four Loaf Recipe for Bread.

- 1 qt lukewarm milk, water, or a mixture of the two
- 2 cakes compressed yeast, or 3 C lukewarm milk, water, or a mixture of the two
- 1 C liquid yeast
- 1/2 t salt
- 1 t sugar
- 1 or 2 T fat, if used
- 3 qts sifted flour

Original bulk of dough two quarts; bulk when ready to be made into loaves, five to six quarts.
Boil the water or scald the milk. Put the sugar and salt (and fat if used) into a mixing bowl. Pour the hot liquid over it and allow it to become lukewarm. Mix the yeast with a little of the lukewarm liquid and add it to the rest of the ingredients. Cover, and allow to rise 1 1/2 hours at a temperature of 86 degrees. It may be better to set it at a lower temperature, but the lower the temperature the longer the time required for the rising. Cut down the dough from the sides of the bowl, grease the hands slightly. Knead a little and set aside to rise again for one hour. With a good bread flour, it should triple its bulk in each rising. With a soft wheat flour, it should rise much beyond twice its volume. Divide into portions, mold and place in greased pans. Allow to rise until a light touch will make a slight dent. Bake about 50 minutes.

The above rule will make a good working basis for the various war breads. In place of 1-4 of the bulk of white flour use one of the other grains,—corn, barley, rye, oats, or potato. This amount will not greatly change either the texture or the flavor of the bread.
There are different methods of putting in the substitute. One way is to use the correct amount of substitute (1-4 amount of flour usually used) and a small portion of flour when the sponge is set, adding the remaining flour as usual. Another method is to set the sponge as usual, adding the substitute with the remainder of the flour. This last method is especially good if rye or barley flour is used; mashed potato can also be worked in very satisfactorily at this time. If potato is used as a substitute allowance must be made for the extra water contents and enough flour added to make a very stiff loaf.

Illustration—Substituting 1-4 oatmeal in above recipe.

Set the sponge with 3 cups of oatmeal (scalded with one or two cups of boiling water). When lukewarm add the rest of the liquid, the yeast, two or three cups of flour, salt, etc. In the morning add the rest of the flour according to directions. If the short process is used, add all the flour at once and proceed with recipe.

Corn Meal Bread.

- 1 1/2 C liquid
- 1/2 t salt
- 2 C corn meal
- 1/4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, or 1/2 C lukewarm water.
- 1/4 C liquid yeast
- 2 1/2 C flour

Put the liquid over the corn meal and salt, and heat to the boiling point. Cook 20 minutes in the double boiler or over hot water. Cool, add yeast and flour, knead, let rise till double in bulk. Knead again, shape into loaf, and let rise in the pan until the bulk has again doubled. Bake 50 minutes.

Sour Milk Corn Bread.

- 2 C corn meal
- 1 C sour milk
- 2 T fat (melted)
- 1 T sugar, white or brown
- 2 eggs
- 1 t soda
- 1 1/2 t salt

Mix all the dry ingredients, including the soda, together. Then add the sour milk and the eggs well beaten and butter. The bread should be baked for 30 minutes. Buttermilk may be substituted for the sour milk, in which case the butter should be slightly increased; or sour cream may be used and butter omitted.

NOTE—In all of these recipes all measurements are level, and T equals tablespoon, t equals teaspoon, C equals cup, f. g. equals few grains, i. d. equals few drops.

"Busted Old Again."
The late Father Benson had the habit of preaching long sermons. On one occasion, after a 50 minutes' discourse, he went to the altar to give the blessing, when he remembered there was a notice he had been asked to announce. He turned back to do so. "Bless me," grumbled the verger, "if he ain't busted out again!"

Bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan are now being turned out by the thousands daily by the Treasury's Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The bonds are similar in form and design to those of the third loan, and space has been left on each bond for insertion of the exact terms of the bonds.

It is believed that a sufficient number of the bonds will be ready to make possible immediate delivery of all bonds of the fourth loan as they are purchased.

When you bring your cream to us you are guaranteed a fair test and the highest market price. And you get your money at once without any delay. Your cans are also promptly returned and in every way possible we strive to give you the best of service.

Become one of our customers if you are not already one and be sure of satisfactory treatment.

The question of the day is not whether or not to save, but HOW BEST TO SAVE.
The best way to make the start is open a Savings Account.

The proper time to begin is right now when work is plentiful and wages high.

The sure method to make progress is through systematic, regular deposits.

The right place is in this Institution where new accounts are welcome and depositors are given every possible banking assistance.

Truman H. Newberry

"The true, Michigan never fell short in her duties to the country at large. A big state always coming through in a big way. But now there comes still another opportunity. This year we elect senators—representatives of ours—to protect our rights and those of the country at large.

We must send to the senate men who are real Americans and who will uphold American ideals to the uttermost.

We have such a man in Truman H. Newberry who has in the past and is now serving his country in a big way. His past experience wonderfully fits him for this important position.

He's a fighter from the word go. A man of iron will, energetic and not to be bullied or coerced. Firm in his convictions and positive in his determination. His stand for the right has long been the topic of men who know. He is the people's man and Michigan's gift to the nation.

Odor.
Any substance that will not dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing is the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself.

Fischer's Exposition Orchestra
The Chautauqua Offers Unusual Musical Attractions
Music lovers are destined to a series of enchantments when the Chautauqua opens. Here are but a few of the harmony offerings of the week.
Fischer brings his wonderful Exposition Orchestra—the one unusual orchestra in America today—with its sweet melodies, crashing jazes, and above all, its series of surprise numbers.
The Imperial Russian Quartette, in barbarically beautiful costumes, will perform on the wonderful Russian Balalaikas—and on instruments more common to the American ear—some of the most beautiful as well as the most weird compositions by Slavic masters.
The Merrilees Entertainers, in a kaleidoscope of costume and color, will sing the songs of dainty Japan, quaint Holland and those charming Colonial days.
The Hugh Anderson Operatic Quintet will render the most difficult, as well as the popular selections from grand opera—all in costume effect.
And these are but a small part of what the Chautauqua has to offer to the lover of music.
