Latter, manager of the Gates ranch near South Branch: They are milking 26 cows, 12 of which have been milked since January, and in the month of July Mr. Latter shipped $358.72 worth of cream. Besides the 26 milk cows the herd contains a large number of young cattle, all good stock.

THE 1918 IOSCO COUNTY FAIR.

The 44th annual fair of the Iosco County Agricultural society promises to be a larger and better fair than ever before. The premium books just off the press contain a much more comprehensive list of articles for which premiums will be awarded than any heretofore issued, and the premiums too, are larger in a great many cases. The Society is doing considerable work on the fair grounds this season. Among other things they are erecting a large dining hall 20x40, with a 10x12 kitchen in connection. As a special attraction for the fair this year the management has secured the Byrne Trio, who are among the foremost performers in the country, and who will give free exhibitions twice daily during the fair. This feature alone, the management states, will be worth the price of admission. Altogether the prospects are bright for a record-breaking fair this year.

Premium books may be secured from secretary, J. A. Carpenter, East Tawas, or from the treasurer, L. J. Patterson, Tawas City. A limited number may also be secured at the Herald office.

DEATH OF WILLIAM NOBLE.

William Noble, a resident of Tawas City for many years, died at Mercy hospital, Bay City, on Tuesday, August 6th of typhoid fever. Mr. Noble had been ill for about four weeks before being taken to the hospital, and all possible was done for him, but in vain.

William Noble was born in 1862 near Ottawa, Canada, and was 56 years of age at the time of his death. He was married to Miss Amelia Ebert of this city on July 10, 1893, who with one daughter, Lillian, is left to mourn his loss. There are also five brothers and three sisters, whom he had not heard from for some time and whose present location is unknown.

The funeral services were held at the residence last Friday, August 9, Rev. Harry Howard officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Tawas City cemetery. Deceased leaves a large circle of friends whose deep sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife and daughter in their hour of grief.

DEATH OF LITTLE WARDWELL CHASE.

James Wardwell Chase, youngest son of Ernest Chase, died at the family home at 9:15 Sunday morning, August 11, of malignant growth on the liver.

In March he was operated on in a Bay City hospital, but the operation proved futile, and after nearly five months of suffering death came as a relief.

He leaves besides the father, two sisters, Marie and Blanche, and one brother, Dywane; also many friends to whom he had become endeared by his sweet patience under suffering.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Albyn officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Tawas City cemetery.

WHO IS ENTITLED TO SERVICE FLAG.

There has been considerable discussion recently regarding the display of service flags in various parts of the country by persons who are not entitled to display same. Perhaps some of the displays are made through ignorance and others from a sincere desire to show patriotism, but the fact remains that many service flags are shown without right according to the rules.

A service flag displayed in a private residence says: "A man from this house is serving with the U. S. colors." It is therefore deceiving and misleading to display a flag unless a man who actually makes his home at the house where the flag is displayed is serving with the colors. If otherwise used, as for a brother, cousin, or other relative not immediately domiciled in the house, the flag speaks a lie. A home in which a son was married and was living in a home of his own would have no right to display the service flag, and the same rule would apply in the case of a brother or other relative. Otherwise a flag might be displayed in several different homes for the same man, and doubtless this is true in many cases. It is altogether probable that the service flags displayed throughout the country far exceed in the number of stars displayed the number of men actually in the service.

SHOULD BE PUNISHED.

It has been called to the attention of the Herald that in various parts of the county vacant buildings have been seriously damaged by lawless persons, the damage consisting in breaking windows, carrying off windows and doors, and even in the tearing down and carrying away of part of the building.

CARD OF THANKS

To the many friends and neighbors, who came to our aid and comfort during the illness and death of our loved one, we desire to extend our heartfelt thanks.

Monthly reports of the Bureau of Crop estimates indicate in Michigan a normal production of corn and peas; increased production of oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, sugar beets, beans and apples; and a decreased production of winter wheat, potatoes, hay, peaches, pears, grapes and berries.

Iosco County apple orchards are going to yield a bountiful harvest. Other fruit is scarce, apples are healthy. Let us not waste any fruit. "An apple a day keeps the doctors away."

Do not wait until planting time to secure your seeds. Either fall or spring sown grain should be secured now. Find out who has the best, and secure seed of that party. If you are going to plant your own products, especially beans, potatoes, or corn plan on doing a little field selection. Secure at least enough seed for a seed patch for another year. Field selection increases the yield, purity, uniformity, and disease resistance. If you wish information the County Agent is ready to help you.

Is your Rosen Rye pure? Examine the heads, and if there are not four full rows of grain on nearly all the heads it is mixed. Pure seed can be obtained; ask the County Agent where some can be located. Rosen Rye has a shorter stiffer straw, greater leaf surface, longer larger heads, better filled heads, larger, plumper, better milling grains. Other rye should be discharged. Rye cross fertilize so anyone sowing it should place it as far from other varieties as possible. Its only fault is that it is not as hardy as other rye. To overcome this difficulty plant it a week earlier than usually is the custom.

Notwithstanding the fact that many grain smuts are easily preventable those most subject to control with formaldehyde, according to reasonable estimate annually destroy 20,000,000 bushels of wheat; 50,000,000 bushels of oats; and 6,000,000 bushels of barley. Plan on eradicating smut next spring.

Poor practices are the enemies of friends. Good practices are the strong right arm which will bring victory.

AN AUGUST CONCEPTION.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge, poet and essayist, writing some 75 years ago, said:

"The possible destiny of the United States of America as a Nation of a hundred million of free men, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, living under the laws of Alfred and speaking the language of Shakespeare and Milton, is an august conception."

The United States is now a Nation of a hundred million and more, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and reaching out east takes in Hawaii and the Philippines, on the north Alaska, and in the south the Panama Canal. But grander than its physical is its moral greatness. Its fairness and justice, its courage and power, its maintenance of right and freedom cover the world.

The destiny the United States is now fulfilling is a more august conception than even the imagination of the author of Kubla Khan conceived of less than a century ago.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan will begin September 28 and close October 19. The result of the loan will be watched with keen interest in Europe, not only by our associates in the war against the Teutonic powers but by our enemies. It will be regarded by them as a measure of the American people's support of the war.

The Germans know full well the tremendous weight and significance of popular support of the war, of the people at home backing up the Army in the field. As the loan succeeds our enemies will sorrow; as it fails short they will rejoice. Every dollar subscribed will help and encourage the American soldiers and hurt and depress the enemies of America.

The loan will be a test of the loyalty and willingness of the people of the United States to make sacrifices compared with the willingness of our soldiers to do their part. There must be and will be no failure by the people to measure up to the courage and devotion of our men in Europe. Many of them have given up their lives; shall we at home withhold our money? Shall we spare our dollars while they spare not their very lives?

PENCIL, POWDER PUFF AND ROUGE

It has been remarked that many feminine fashions prevalent even to this day are survivals of barbaric practices. African tribes pierce the nose and the lips and hang ornaments therefrom. Until some one kindly invented the screw earring, ladies of the highest social circles followed the primitive custom of perforating the ears, from which they hung dangling pendants. The Picts, dating in the stone age, who inhabited Great Britain before the Saxon invasion, practiced staining their faces. In an earlier day a woman who painted her face was commonly spoken of as a Pict. American Indians smeared themselves with chromatic earths in order to strike terror to the hearts of their foes, the "painted savages" being descended upon the early settlers being often mentioned in the chronicles of the latter.

American women therefore have historical precedent in their endeavors toward facial embellishment. Time was—before young ladies of virtue and "our best families" took to imitating the customs of the demi-monde—that the girl or woman who resorted to the drugstore for her complexion shared the reputation of Barrie's "Painted Lady." Such, however, is the effect of general imitation upon previous prejudices that we do not venture to question her morals, whatever view we may entertain of her mentality.

Given eyebrow pencil, lip stick, rouge and powder puff, a girl of artistic ability can make herself a passable picture unless subjected to daylight or the glare of electricity, when the camouflage is readily apparent, the more so as the aforementioned artistic ability is frequently a minus quantity. Many faces seen on our streets bear a resemblance to the luscious marshmallow in that they are equally well dusted with powder.

However satisfactory the original application, a hot day plays the mischief with it. Perspiration absorbs it in patches, and marks uncharted channels through it. That, no doubt, is the reason why the process of repairing a damaged complexion is no longer conducted in the privacy of the boudoir. Vanity cases open in the most unexpected places—in church, in the street car, at the matinee; we have even beheld the powder rag getting in its beneficent work on the street. In fact, her complexion never seems to be off the feminine mind, however it may desert the cheek.

Perhaps, after all, this is part of Modesty's defenses. The young man who realizes that he may not only damage a picture but his clothes if he attempts to implant a kiss of the Robert Chambers pattern upon the cheek of the beloved, may consider "safety first." Our men are earning high praise for their bravery and courage overseas. If they dare face German cannon, how then shall they be daunted by face powder?—Detroit Free Press.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM CHARLES McCRAY

France, June 23, 1918.

Friend Chas. Received your letter yesterday, glad to hear from you. It reminds me of old times when I was a kid around Tawas. I have often thought of our old school and our teachers. I remember Mr. Campbell very well. I got acquainted with him the first year at the old high school.

You must be pretty busy with all the extra work you have taken up and having a sick wife to take care of too. I presume the soldiers you met told you some interesting stories all right, and it wouldn't be a hard job to think of them for everything is impressed on your mind over here that you never will forget them.

I can stand all the rough stuff and the sights after a battle, as long as I can't see my own blood, and then I am down and out, but I am always wishing that the shell will drop on some body else's head instead of mine. (on a Fritzie prisoner for instance.) You spoke about a Service Flag. My mother says they have one at home in our church and it seems they have a star for me all ready to be gilded. But I'll fool them yet.

Your pictures were good. I wouldn't mind being in the hospital with one of those nurses. I don't know much about the Red Cross, but everyone speaks highly of them and their work. When you give to them it gets to the soldiers all right. The Y. M. C. A. is also doing good work. They have huts in most all towns where there are troops. You buy from them cheaper than any other place, besides, furnishing all material for our sports such as bats, balls, uniforms for our teams, and anything we need for any game we play, besides putting up money for prizes, and when we are up the line they have the Y's in the trenches, with all night service (We don't show ourselves in the day time.) After a long patrol of no man's land, or repairing our front line wire we drop in for a hot cup of tea and cookies. It is also a kind of a religious affair with no particular creed, something we need in this war.

Well Chas. I have all kinds of souvenirs to send, but it is hard to get them censored, but will watch my chance. Will close now, sending my best regards to everybody there. If any one wants to write tell them to write now as a letter is as good as a trip home to one of us.

Chas. McCray.

FROM HARRY E. PIERSON

Nogales Arizona, July 30, 1918.

To the Tawas Herald:— A few more lines to the old friends in Tawas. I am at the Y. M. C. A. this evening and the soldiers are playing the piano and violin, giving a few of those lively rags. They are all happy, as we got word that we would leave Nogales, Ariz. the 15th or a few days later although we have no idea where it will be; probably Texas, some where east of here to a large training camp to instruct the recruits although I would sooner go across than drill recruits, especially in Texas.

I hope we don't stop there, but it will be just our luck to be around the border of Mexico. 16 months is plenty of border duty. The weather is sure hot here although we are getting to not mind it any more, as we are drilling every day and gas instructions this afternoon, and also attend non-com. school, so it sure keeps the boys all busy 6 and 7 hours a day. Am going to the city tonight.

I wish all Tawas and Baldwin township people my best and good luck to all from an old Tawas pal.

Dearest Sister Cora:— Your letter was the first one I received after I reached here, O! and you bet your neck I was sure glad and surprised to get one so soon.

So Jennie Birney is dead. You didn't tell me any particulars. Its sure to bad. I always liked her as she was a nice girl.

So Harold is up for the army, is he? If he was only here what times we would have.

We were all over to Chicago and dedicated a French flag for the moving pictures. You know the French flag is only two colors red and white. I wore a white suit and helped to carry the flag. You ought to of seen me, some jackie, sister.

I got the second shot in my arm yesterday. You know you get three shots and believe me they are shots too. But heck its nothing for me. Some of the fellows are laying down, some have their arms in slings, and here I'm able to write with mine. But I guess I've got to go back after another if this don't work better. We had some ball game yesterday, a rookie team and the regular navy team. The regulars of course beat. I played in the field. Of course they wouldn't of beat only for me. Ha! ha! But by gosh! the regulars are players.

I got a letter from Mabel yesterday. Seems good you all think of me so often. Tell Herold to write to me and give my many best regards to all my friends.

We had a fine show last night, every thing fine. It was a company of girls from Chicago I don't know what is on for tonight. These opera companies show all the new plays first to the soldiers and sailors. The place they have the show in is like an opera house, seats all around.

Sister you wanted me to write you if I wanted anything. Well I will tell you Cora what would suit me best of all. A nice cake, one of those good professional ones you make. Well sister its time for mess, that's eats you know. Its blowing now.

Be sure and write soon and don't forget your loving brother, Lee Griggs Co. 458 9th Reg Barracks 939 Great Lakes III.

Dear Mother and all:— I am going to write to you this morning as it has been quite a while since I have written.

Well mother the grand and glorious Fourth is past for another year; had a good time would like to have been home for the day. I suppose you all spent the fourth at the lake.

I sure received a surprise yesterday when a fellow from Tawas came up to see me and said "Hello!" It was Atlee Mark. I knew he was in the army, but I didn't think he was over here. He and I was talking over where we were last fourth. We played ball against Omer last year. Little did we think that we would be in France the next fourth.

Well mother how is everybody around home? fine I hope. I received a letter from cousin Frank Loeffler. I suppose dad is busy working hard every day.

Well will come to a close. Give everybody my best regards.

Love to all from your loving son,

FROM ALVIN COLVIN

Somewhere in France

Dear Mother:—

Well mother I am in France at last, and mother I am not sorry I am here, for it is a very beautiful place, and the people are very nice here. I do not think I will be put on the firing lines, not right away, but I am anxious to go there and have no fear, for the sooner we all get there the sooner this war will be over. And if every American boy feels as I do about this affair we will make knots that Bill can't untie with his gritting teeth.

Mother look on the bright side of this terrible affair and trust in our Savior and all will be well. So mother look forward to the ending of this war and to the day of my coming home, and the blessing we will bring, the greatest blessing that man ever brought to America. And mother I will do my best in this fight for humanity and uphold the reputation of an American soldier, and it wont be long before we will all be coming home. We had a beautiful trip overseas and the people used us fine.

How is Ethel and babies and dear old Grandpa? And mother I hope this letter will find you very well, for I am fine and happy and with a good bunch of fellows.

So mother this will be all this time as it is late, so will say good-by with love to all and with best wishes from your loving son. Hope you will write soon.

NO MORE ROAMING ROUND AT NIGHT FOR M. A. C. FRESHMEN

East Lansing, Mich., Aug. 12—

Midnight escapades, and the roaming round in the still hours which in days of yore afforded a dash of excitement to the life of incoming freshmen at M. A. C., will be done away with on the campus this fall. The freshmen, instead of being assigned to private rooming houses about the city of East Lansing, will all of them be gathered together in the dormitories of the college and held under barracks rules.

This decision was made by the faculty of the college in order to simplify the work of the military department of M. A. C. and to place the institution on a strictly war-time basis. All of the young men will also become members of the reserve officers training corps, and as such will be required to wear the regulation army khaki.

A corps of between 30 and 40 trained officers will drill the M. A. C. student cadets when the college term commences on October 7.

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. COMBINE IN FALL CAMPAIGN

To finance its war work for the coming year the budget of the Y. W. C. A. will be included in the $112,000,000 drive of the Young Men's Christian Association, which will probably take place in October, according to information just received here. Plans are now being perfected for the big campaign through the separate state organizations of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the Central Military Department.

The Army Y. M. C. A., it is announced, will require a total of $97,000,000 to carry on its work for the soldiers at home and abroad. It is estimated that the work of the Young Women's Christian Association in the army camps in this country and in Europe will require at least $15,000,000. Upon the advice of Dr. John R. Mott, George W. Perkins and other leaders in the movement it was decided at a conference held in Chicago recently to combine the campaigns of the two allied organizations.

In the approaching drive the country will be divided into departments similar in area to those of the army. The Eastern Department, embracing New York City, will be asked to give 44 per cent, of the fund or nearly $50,000,000; the Central Department, which extends from Ohio to Colorado and from the Canadian line to Kentucky, will be asked for 34 per cent, of the fund, or $38,000,000. The Western or Pacific department will raise five per cent; the Southeastern, four per cent, and the Southern, three per cent.

George W. Perkins of New York is chairman of the campaign committee.

SUPPLY OF TRAINED FORESTERS FAILING

East Lansing, Mich., July 22—The state's supply of trained foresters is fast dwindling into invisibility, declares Prof. A. K. Chittenden, head of the department of forestry at the Michigan Agricultural college. The war and the increased demand for foresters created by cities, states and owners of estates, he says, is at the root of the trouble.

"Even before we were visited by war, the call for foresters with college training much outnumbered our available supply of men," the professor averred. "This state of affairs has come about as a result of the increasing demand by cities throughout the country for foresters who can superintend their parks and direct surgical operations on the city's shade trees, and as a further result of the use of large numbers of these men in the industries. The positions going begging now will remain so unless young America comes to the rescue. "The boy outside of the army who is wondering what to do with himself should investigate this profession."

IF YOU WANT TO SHARE THE VICTORY OVER THERE

Keep on following the program of the Food Administration, whatever it may be.

Go lightly on sugar, limiting your consumption to two pounds per month for every member of the family.

Use plenty of fresh vegetables and spare the other foods for shipment overseas.

Do not let up on the saving of wheat. Use the substitutes. Remember we must build up a big wheat reserve out of the new harvest in addition to taking care of our boys at the front and the Allies.

Can all you can, using as little sugar as possible.

Allow nothing to go to waste. Back up the boys at the front.

Profits and Prices

Profits may be considered from two angles:

- 1st—Their effect on prices;
- 2nd—As a return to investors.

When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.

Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits; to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.

Is it fair to call this profiteering?

DEDICATION OF SERVICE FLAG

The Red Cross ladies of Plainfield demonstrated to the people of the surrounding country that they can do things.

Their program in the afternoon, consisted of bake sale, supper and ice cream, which netted $60.00. At 8:30 in the evening the people assembled at the M. E. church and listened to the best series of talks ever heard in this village, if not Isoco County.

R. D. Brown acted as chairman of the evening. Short addresses were given by John A. Campbell, N. C. Harting and Jos. Dimmick.

Rev. Jos. Dibley, a former M. E. pastor here gave the address on the work of the Red Cross. Much credit is due him for the able manner in which he presented it and when such men as F. F. Taylor, Jos. Dimmick, N. C. Harting and J. A. Campbell say that it was the best they ever heard you may know something of what you missed if you did not hear him.

Patriotic solos were rendered by Misses Pearl Staley and Edith McCrory, in their usual pleasing manner. Hon. E. B. Follett in behalf of the Red Cross presented a beautiful 5 by 8 service flag to the township with thirty-one stars upon it. Supervisor Lewis Nunn accepted it in behalf of the township, and to make the program complete Annabelle McLean gave an original poem on the flag as follows.

A TRIBUTE TO THE PLAINFIELD BOYS

A stripe of red, a field of white
With Stars of deepest blue
And this makes up our Service flag
Which we present to you.

We meet to dedicate this flag,
In honor of our boys,
Who from fair Plainfield marched away.

To join the battle's noise,
There's Leo and Forest, gone so long
And Elgin far away;
And Percy Thornton, now in France
To take part in the fray.

Albert Buck, with head erect
Marched off to do his bit;
And Clayton Jennings could not be Content at home to sit.

Walter and Herman Reimer,
Are Uncle Sam's men too
And along with Clarence Ewings
Will do the best that they can do.

Grant Shattuck was our banker
And did our business fine,
Now he's in Camp Custer,
Marching right in line.

John Webb was our mail man kind,
But he wanted to be wiser,
And now he's learning very fast,
Just how to kill the Kaiser.

Charles Shotwell, is on Long Island
Hoping soon to sail away,
And he'll make the whole camp
Brighter.

With his merry whistle, all the way,
Claud Vosburg is an officer,
With his men well in hand,
He'll guard them well on the seas.
As well as on the land.

Tobias Londo is still in camp
Along with Merrill Bills
And the way they make the trenches
Would give a body chills.

Away out west in far Vancouver
Robert and Glenwood work with a will Planning out boards from the tall timber.

For Uncle Sam needs ships and air-craft still.

The Hutchen brothers, too have gone
In answer to the call
We hope they'll fight with all their might.

And never have to fall.
Edwin Rehl will make a soldier,
That will make his parents proud,
And Albert Gardner would be taken
For a brave boy, in any crowd.

There's Harry Morgret and Wiley
Pearsall,
And William Deanstead too
And Richard Olmstead and G. P.
Gilson

Are sons of Plainfield true.
Jas. Hicks, Glen Stealey and Jud
White

Are all upon the trail
And when they get to France they'll fight

With hearts that never fail.
These are the boys we've given
And given with a smile
We sent them off with cheers
"Tho our hearts were breaking all the while.

And so upon our Service flag,
We'll place for each a star of blue
And pray that God will send them home again
With hearts both pure and true.
Annabel McLean.

During the program at times people were applauding with their eyes filled with tears and their hearts with sorrow, yet no one present could go home not feeling that a more strenuous duty had devolved upon them.

We're Proud of our Navy

No regrets about our ships and those who man them! No weakness there; no lack of preparation. How they scour the Atlantic, scotching the dread submarine! They hold safe hundreds of thousands of our boys who go across to fight for freedom. The navy was strong and ready.

Who gets the credit? Not the pacifist, who fought a naval program, nor the shortsighted who stood in the way until the danger broke. Every man of us knows that the credit belongs to the few men like George A. Loud, who had a clear vision of the nation's need and steadfastly struggled to realize that vision.

Loud did a work which can only be appreciated in the light of the great world struggle. He was the father of the naval collier fleet. The very colliers which are making the fleet efficient today are ready in no small part because Loud fought to get them. The battleships, the torpedo boats, the destroyers—for nearly all these in service today Loud worked and voted. Twelve years he was one of the half dozen leading naval advocates of the house of representatives. For eleven years he held a strategic position upon the naval committee. No one public man save Roosevelt has done more for the navy than Loud.

Col. Loud did something in congress. You know what it was. You know that he is a safe man there and useful man. He ought to go back there because in these trying days the experience of a man who saw things straight ought not to be lost to our country. He can be trusted to stand steadfastly for continued readiness until that longed-for time when a league of nations shall make disarmament more substantial than a dream.
