COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham.

Office, Court House, Tawas City. Week days from 8 to 9, and all day Friday. Phone 28-F-21.

Threshing time is here. Care in threshing will save three per cent of grain usually wasted. Threshing machines should go into season in good repair, properly adjusted, and with ample power. Canvass or blankets should be placed beneath the machine to prevent loss. One bushel in a place means a thousand bushels in the county, valued at $2,000.00. Does it pay? Grain should not be threshed if damp, it means a loss both to the owner and to the nation.

Grain is turning out well in Iosco County. Next year there will be large acreages of spring wheat sown. Locate seed now. The southern part of the state is suffering severely from the lack of rain. Corn nearly ruined. They may come here for seed. Plan on saving all you can.

People wonder why no one buys apples. Take a look at those in store windows. Do you think that the California fruit growers would be in business if they sent out such quality of fruit. A good quality of goods will bring trade and better price.

A small acreage of winter wheat will be sown in the county this fall. It should be treated with formaldehyde. If treating saved only a bushel for an acre it would mean dollars for growers.

A SUCCESSFUL CHAUTAUQUA.

The fifth annual Iosco County Chautauqua, the closing number of which was given last Friday evening, was perhaps the most successful from the entertainment point of view that has been held.

The program started Monday afternoon with a concert by the Merrilies Entertainers, a company of four young ladies, who gave a pleasing program of duets, trios and quartets in costume. They also gave the prelude to the evening program. The lecture in the evening was given by Samuel Cranston Benson on the subject "Back From Hell." Mr. Benson recounted in an able manner his experience while with the armies on the western front and also within the German lines.

On Tuesday afternoon Dean R. G. McCutcheon of DePauw University gave a lecture and demonstration of community singing, assisted by Miss Freda Hiatt, pianist. Mr. McCutcheon covered his subject very interestingly, setting forth in a convincing manner the importance and benefit of community singing. A demonstration of community singing preceded the lecture in the evening by Dr. Frederic Poole on "The Birth of an Oriental Nation." Dr. Poole spent some years in China and his lecture dealt with the conditions, past and present, in that country, and with the part that China is expected to take in world matters in the future.

The program in the afternoon of the third day was given by the Imperial Russian Quartette, a company of master musicians whose music was of a high class. They gave the prelude in the evening to the lecture, "The City and the Soul," delivered by Dr. E. L. Williams. This lecture was considered by most people to be the strongest address given during the Chautauqua. Dr. Williams is known as the "fighting parson" in Chicago and his revelations of vice conditions and the tales of how he has striven to combat them were of intense interest.

The fourth day was almost entirely given over to music, Fischer's Exposition Orchestra giving the prelude in the afternoon to the dramatic and patriotic readings by Miss Marvel Miller, and in the evening giving a big double concert. Every member of this orchestra is a master of his instrument and the program rendered gave universal pleasure and satisfaction.

On the fifth day the program began a half hour earlier with the "Parcent of Joy" given by the junior Chautauqua boys and girls. This was a very pleasing feature and consisted of songs and drills by the little folks who had been trained by the junior Chautauqua superintendent and her assistants on the local committee of young ladies.

A musical prelude was then given by the Hugh Anderson Operatic Quintette, followed by a lecture "The Trenches in America," by Andrew H. Harnly. This was a patriotic lecture, as was also his lecture, "Carry On" in the evening. Mr. Harnly is of German descent, but he is an American patriot to the heart's core, and in the manner in which he revealed and condemned the German war methods, propaganda and intrigue, and also showed up the slanders in our own country, roused to a high pitch the patriotic sympathies of his audience and brought forth liberal applause.

In the evening the Hugh Anderson Operatic Quintette also gave parts of the operas "Il Trovatore" and "The Bohemian Girl," and their interpretation of these operas in costume gave much pleasure.

Altogether, the program this year was a very satisfactory one, each number having its own peculiar attraction and those who attended expressed themselves as well satisfied.

Financially the Chautauqua was not so successful, the signers of the contract being obliged to make up a deficit totaling each night the sum of $4. However, a large number of signatures have been obtained for next season's contract and it is hoped that with hearty cooperation the Chautauqua will be made more than self-sustaining.

IOSCO COUNTY AND THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

The committee in charge of the campaign for the Third Liberty Loan in the Seventh Federal Reserve District has recently sent out some very interesting figures in connection with that campaign and Chairman Len J. Patterson of the Iosco County committee furnishes us with the following statistics relative to the campaign in Iosco county.

The total amount of subscriptions asked from this county was $44226, which represented a sum of $4.53 per capita. How well we responded is shown by the report of the Federal Reserve Bank, which shows that 687 of our people subscribed for a total of $73,250 worth of bonds, which is an over subscription of our quota of 66 per cent. Seven per cent of our population are numbered among the subscribers. The average size of the subscriptions was $107 and represents a per capita subscription of $7.51 for each man, woman and child in the county.

Chairman Patterson further says that this does not show the full amount to which the county is entitled as he knows of between two and three thousand dollars worth of bonds which were subscribed for with the local committee that was handled by banks outside of the county which has not been credited to us, which would bring our total to $75,000 or better.

This record is one which our county may be proud of, and we confidently believe that when the record is written for the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign which will start September 28, we will have equal reason to be proud, notwithstanding the fact that we will be called upon to raise double the amount of money.

The next campaign will last but three weeks instead of four as in the previous drives. This means that the work will have to be done much more rapidly and responses to the committee appeals promptly met. The plans are now being formulated and when the drive starts every worker will be ready to begin action on the first day, and it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to be ready with his subscription when called upon.

Remember that the members of the committees are giving their time without compensation, and you should be willing to give them every assistance possible. Arguments and pressure should be unnecessary. The pressure of the government is not for contributions or gifts. It offers to its citizens the best possible investment—an investment which every one should be eager to make. Eager to make for two reasons: That they may save their money for the future, and because it is to be used for the support of our soldiers who are fighting for the greatest cause the world has ever known.

THE COUNTRY NEEDS MEN LIKE GILBERT A. CURRIE

The country demands to-day the service of its young, energetic men in both commercial activities and legislative halls.

Men who are anxious to serve, not men who seek honor and pleasant associations. Men of influence, of vision, men who are not only true Americans but who have the ability to make their patriotism useful to their country in this time of its great need.

The tenth congressional district has such a representative in congress, Gilbert A. Currie has accomplished more than his friends claimed that he would prior to his nomination and election two years ago. He has been fearless in his support of all measures before congress which he thought would further the cause of liberty and justice, regardless of whether they originated from his own party or from the administration. Gilbert A. Currie's fearlessness, frankness and good judgment have won for him an influential position that few congressmen attain during their first term.

At the Primary Election the republicans of this district will have the opportunity of voicing their appreciation of Mr. Currie's faithful services and the TIMES believes the vote will be overwhelmingly for him. A vote for Mr. Currie is a vote for Americanism, efficiency and a man who will be a representative in its broadest meaning.—Mt. Pleasant Times.

FARMERS AND WORKINGMEN.

Next Tuesday you will go to the polls and among other candidates you will nominate a candidate for the State Legislature to represent you at Lansing next winter.

If you want a man in the legislative halls who will best serve your interests and be looking out for you all the time, then cast your vote for Elwin B. Follett.

Mr. Follett is not a representative of any special interests, nor is he coached in his work in the legislature by any outside parties. His record when a member of that body was one which should recommend him to the earnest consideration of any man who has the best interests of the state and his district at heart. He is a man of and for the people, and is on the job all the time while the legislature is in session.

While a member of the legislature Mr. Follett commanded the attention of those interested in its doings by his progressive and energetic work along the lines of legislation of benefit to the people at large.

There are many important matters to come before the next session of the legislature and the Iosco district can do no better than to elect Mr. Follett, whose tireless energy and sterling integrity will be a guarantee that he will be found on the right side of every question that may come up for consideration.

TO SHIPPERS OF FRUIT AND VEGETABLES:

The Federal Food and Drugs Act states that food in package form shall be deemed misbranded if "the quantity of the contents be not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count." This provision of the law is applicable to products of the farm, such as fruit and vegetables, if shipped in package form, as well as to manufactured foods.

Shippers of these products should see that bags, crates, boxes, hampers, and packages of other kinds bear a true, plain and conspicuous statement of the quantity of food in the package before being shipped in interstate commerce, or otherwise brought within the jurisdiction of the Act.

Political Announcements

FOLLETT ENDORSED FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

WHEREAS, We the members of the Iosco District Republican Legislative Club, believe that in all public offices efficiency should be the watchword of the day, and especially at this time when our country is engaged in war; and that the district should be represented by some man whom we know is well qualified, has some experience and is well posted in state affairs; who is broad minded enough to be qualified to represent the various interests in our district; and who we know will be on the job at all times at our state capital when needed.

Therefore, believing that the voters want a man of these qualifications, and knowing as we do his past legislative record, we wish to place before the voters for their consideration the name of E. B. FOLLETT, for whom your support and votes are solicited.

TO THE VOTERS OF IOSCO COUNTY

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for the republican nomination for County Treasurer at the August primaries. I have been a tax payer in Iosco county for 42 years. I do not believe that this office should be held the time by one man, as it has been for 8 years. If I am nominated and elected, when my time is out I will say again pass it along. Your support will be appreciated.

An Endorsement of Truman H. Newberry for United States Senator from Michigan

BELIEVING as we do that Michigan should elect this fall a United States Senator who is, and has been, interested in and conversant with public affairs; a man of sound judgment, and continuity of purpose; a man whose one hundred per cent patriotism cannot be questioned; and a man who has given sufficient study and thought to the matter of national and international policies to enable him to determine for himself where he stands and what he stands for; and believing that Truman H. Newberry, of Detroit, conforms to this standard, we endorse his candidacy and agree to support him at the primaries and at the election.

Congressman Currie has established an enviable reputation as a statesman and challenged the attention of the President and Attorney General in his efforts to suppress disloyalty.

Congressman Currie in the interests of public policy introduced the bill preventing members of advisory commissions from recommending contracts between the corporations in which they were interested and the government.

TO THE VOTERS OF IOSCO COUNTY:

The report has gone out that I called meetings of the threshers of the county for the purpose of raising the price of threshing.

That is an absolute LIE.
The only meeting I had anything to do with was one called on the orders of the Food Administration for the purpose of urging the threshermen to repair their machines and handle the grain so as to save all the grain possible. The meeting had nothing to do with the price of threshing.

J. G. DIMMICK,
County Food Administrator.

There for Business

George A. Loud played no sightseer's part in the battle of Manila Bay. He was there for business. He was on the McCulloch when Dewey braved the mines and vanquished the Spanish fleet. Loud had charge of an ammunition magazine. The shots fell around, and they were not aimed at the other fellows. They were at Loud, because Loud was part of the main show.

Loud caught a vision on that day. To him the navy came to mean the strong right arm of Liberty. From that day his energies were devoted to strengthening the navy. For twelve years as a member of congress he served his country unwaveringly as a leading advocate of a navy with a punch. He voted for just as many battleships as there was the slightest hope of getting. He fought for torpedo boats and destroyers and cruisers. He fathered the collier fleet. No member of congress in recent years has a straighter, stronger record for an adequate navy than Loud. We can thank him only a little less than the farsighted Roosevelt for a fleet which was on its toes and away when the great war broke on the United States.

Loud belongs in congress. He is a naval specialist, an enthusiast on naval preparation. His talents and interests can there be utilized to the great good of our country. He will stand for no soft peace; no weakening of the military and naval arm until permanent world peace is insured by something more than a "scrap of paper."

Loud deserves your backing on other grounds. He is a real son of Michigan. He has chained and scaled; one winter he handled a dray for Billy Dolson. He bossed logging camps and saw mills. He helped get back from the Spanish war the weak and sick boys of Michigan. You will do yourself and the district and the state and the nation a good turn by supporting

DEATH OF MRS. TAMBLING

The many friends of Mrs. May Tambling were grieved to hear of her death, which occurred Saturday evening, August 17. She had been a patient sufferer for three years with diabetes.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE VOTERS OF IOSCO COUNTY:

I am a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of Iosco county on the republican ticket at the primaries next Tuesday, August 27. If you don't know me ask the man who does. I was born in Iosco county and have lived here all my life, and have been in business in Tawas City for a number of years.

If nominated and elected I will give the office of Sheriff a careful and efficient administration. I have not been able to see all the voters, but ask your support and votes at the primaries and will appreciate any assistance you may give me.

adv WILLARD J. ROBINSON
Tawas City, Mich.

TO THE VOTERS OF IOSCO COUNTY:

On August 27th next you will nominate a candidate for prosecuting attorney who undoubtedly if elected will serve the county for two years. I am a candidate for said office and will appreciate any support you might give me. It has been impossible for me to make a canvass, owing to being busy, and also believing that farmers are busy likewise and during these war times do not wish to be bothered. To me anyway, I believe the office should seek the man and look very unprofessional for one who claims to be an attorney to go begging for votes consequently I have confined myself to a few notices in the paper, etc. During the ten years that I've been more or less connected with county affairs, six years as prosecuting attorney, during which time I tried 146 jury cases and was successful in 124 of the same. I've been connected with nearly every criminal case tried in this county since coming here, so you see my experience is different, from those who seldom appear in the court room. You want a prosecuting attorney who will be fair and get convictions through due process of law and not by coaxing a man to plead guilty when innocent, just because it might be cheaper to him.

If elected I will use everyone fair and square and be free from all prejudices whatever. If you can vote for me do so, if not there will be no hard feelings on my part.

Very truly yours,
adv JOHN A. STEWART

Acknowledging a Service

The editorial below appears in the Big Rapids Pioneer, which is edited by Wells F. Harvey, formerly Washington correspondent of a group of Michigan newspapers.

To the politically wise this editorial may at first seem foolish. It is the province occasionally of a newspaper politically independent to speak editorially upon grounds other than those which appeal to first impressions or to the apparent immediate advantage. To be popular at first blush is one thing; to be sound is quite often another.

The Pioneer is of the judgment that it would be downright ingratitude to let this primary campaign slip into history without a frank statement, coming from the personal knowledge of the writer, of the service rendered to the country by George A. Loud. During a considerable part of Mr. Loud's experience in congress the writer was a correspondent in Washington for newspapers in Michigan. It was his duty to follow congressional affairs and to report them. He knew many members of congress; he intimately knew the work of Michigan members of congress.

In those days almost everyone regarded George Loud as just a little batty about the navy. He talked navy and wrote navy and it may be believed that he dreamed navy much of the time. His greatest delight was to get an extra battleship, and when he helped to gather up the votes for Roosevelt's battleship programs, he was in his element. Nor did he neglect to look after colliers and all the other auxiliary craft which put vitality into the battle fleet.

It was a proud day for him when Roosevelt named a battleship "Michigan" because Mr. Loud had helped put the battleship program through the house.

In those times most of us did not take the navy as seriously as we take it now. Mr. Loud's membership on the naval committee and his service there were not looked upon as tremendously important for his district, and there was no indication that the navy would be called upon to be there with the punch. Occasionally some of us, including the writer, even made light of Mr. Loud's participation in the battle of Manila bay, which was on a revenue cutter rather than upon a battleship or cruiser. Mr. Loud was not a gifted speaker, lacking thus the opportunity to explain with full satisfaction the motives which urged his course. And yet he received at Manila Bay the inspiration for his greatest usefulness.

And now it develops that Mr. Loud in those days had a clearer vision than those who gave him little heed. While most of us went blithely on our merry way, careless of the menace beyond the seas, Mr. Loud, with little appreciation from the rest, was working away against the catastrophe. He knew, as few of us knew, that a navy cannot be built while war is on; that the battleships which constitute the bulwark of the fleet must be planned and constructed before even the diplomats catch the first rumblings of the coming storm.

The battleships which Mr. Loud, with little oratory and less commendation, was helping to make are now the first line of our defense against a fearful enemy. The colliers which he chiefly helped to get are supplying the vital need of these huge engines of naval war. The swift destroyers are there because he helped put them there. Our boys are carried with safety across the dangerous waters because Mr. Loud shared the vision of Col. Roosevelt and the other few.

Under such circumstances, The Pioneer does not hesitate to abandon political wisdom, if this be political folly. As this campaign approaches its end, we believe it to be just simple fairness to pause here and pay respect. Mr. Loud deserves our gratitude and he shall have it.

Mr. Loud is not happy away from congressional duties and from a watchful interest in the navy. He is sixty-six years of age. His age would be against him if he were to be hired for ditching or log running, though he is not lacking in vitality, at that. But the job in congress is not for the physical athlete. It is for the man of vision and purpose and enthusiasm, the man who can hunt out his little corner in the great scheme of things, and can there plug away to work his vision into solid fact.

It were inconsistent with the tone of this statement to enter a plea for political support. That is a matter for individual judgment, and what is said here is said for Mr. Loud and against no other man. But as for us we consider it a plain duty and a real opportunity to acknowledge belatedly a conspicuous public service, which passed almost unnoticed when rendered, and which deserves the highest recognition today from a people who have reason now to appreciate.
