THE JACKIE BAND WILL BE HERE

The famous Jackie Band, from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, will give two concerts in the Tawas next week. This is a great worth hearing. A patriotic meeting will be held at East Tawas, Monday evening, Sept. 23, at which music will be furnished by this organization. Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Grand Rapids, than whom there is no better speaker, will also address the meeting.

Tuesday morning, Sept. 24, at 8 o'clock, another concert and address will be given at the court house, Tawas City.

These two meetings will be the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive and every person in Iosco county who can possibly arrange to do so should be present on one of these occasions. It is seldom the opportunity is offered the people of the smaller towns to hear this great marine band and all should take advantage of it.

RAILROAD MEN IN OFFICE MAY SERVE OUT TERM

Considerable discussion has been had during the past two weeks regarding the order of the director general of railroads that employees of the railroad should not hold office or engage in politics in any way.

Tawas City and East Tawas are both affected by this order, both cities having railroad men in official positions in the municipality, and to obtain a definite official ruling on the question as to whether these men could serve out their term, Jas. E. Ballard, city clerk of Tawas City, Ballarat, city clerk of Tawas City, wrote to Director General McAdoo for information. Monday evening the following telegram regarding the matter was received from Mr. McAdoo:

Tawas City, Mich. Your letter seventh. General order number forty-two does not require the men mentioned in your letter to resign the office to which they were elected before that order was promulgated. They will be permitted to complete their terms.

W. C. McADOO, Director General of Railroads. These men will therefore be able to serve until the next election, but the electors will need to pick out other than railroad men to fill the positions when their term expires.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham.

By the time the next issue of the papers comes out the Iosco County Fair for 1918 will be a thing of the past. What will our record be? You have the making or breaking of it in your own hands. There are going to be some good things there one should not miss.

The time is here when frosts may come unexpectedly. Watch that seed corn. Save enough for two or three years. If your corn is not ripe get some from your neighbor who has some, take proper care of it, and next spring there will be less worry about seed. If you have it you can test it. "Prove it" is a good thing to apply in any line of work.

Our president has asked us to be careful how we repeat statements, because no news spreads like a true one. American people are like others, great spreaders of both good and bad news. Yet we are learning to do things differently all the time, and it is hoped we can check ourselves in the spreading of all kinds of false reports. Our slogan should be to "prove it."

The fall of Russia, and the near fall of Italy were caused by the spreading of false reports and rumor. In America today we are facing the same condition. The only trouble seems to be that it is not always a foe sympathizer who starts them. Small criticisms of our government, heads of the various departments; criticism of men higher up, and also of men in the state, county and even neighborhood. Most of them are not only useless but harmful. Our business today is to win the war. We can not afford to hamper the work of anyone doing a good work at the present time. We owe it to our country, to our liberty to keep everything going smoothly until the articles of peace are signed. Anyone who starts or spreads a story or criticism without first finding out the facts is not wholly a patriotic citizen. In a certain Michigan city last fall, the night before Thanksgiving the story started that President Wilson had been shot. This spread like wildfire. Many people looked toward a gloomy Thanksgiving day. Later when the company of soldiers from that place were known to be on the water "somewhere" between the U. S. and France the story was started that the boat had been torpedoed and the boys lost. Depressing scenes followed and many fathers and mothers were weeping for their lost boys, unable to find the truth or facts.

In order to spare others these conditions and in order to make the county, state, and nation a better place in which to live, do this—When a story comes to you by word of mouth which seems in any way unusual and suspicious relating to any person or condition remember to apply this slogan, "prove it." If not proven completely, refrain from spreading it. Get the facts before passing judgment and see how much more confidence everyone will have in their friends.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

The Iosco county republican convention was held at the court house Tuesday, Sept. 10, to elect four delegates to the state convention.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman F. F. Taylor, who called Joseph G. Dimmick to the chair as temporary chairman. J. A. Stewart was chosen temporary secretary, after which a motion was carried to make the temporary officers permanent.

Chairman Dimmick then appointed the various committees and a short recess was taken. After reassembling, the following resolutions were presented by the committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention:

"Whereas, We believe implicitly in the principles upon which our National government is founded and believe that those principles should be the basic law of all people of the world; and we also believe in the principles of the republican party and the work of said party in national and state affairs; and we believe that the efforts of every American citizen should be devoted to bringing the present world war to a speedy and successful conclusion. Therefore,

"Be it Resolved, That the republican party of Iosco county, Michigan in convention assembled, pledge its undivided support to our government in the present war. We declare that it is the supreme task of the civilized world to crush the insolent attempt of a military dictatorship for self-government and the right of independent thought. The world must be made safe for democracy by the defeat of German militarism. We want no peace without victory, and we demand victory so complete and conclusive that military ambition will be forever silenced and a peace secured that will make an end of war. The world must be kept safe by the co-operation of the major force of mankind, and that force should be organized by a league of nations to keep the peace of the world. And we favor the entrance of the United States, after the war, into such a league of nations as may be adequate to safeguard the peace that must be won by the joint military forces of the Allied nations.

"Be it Further Resolved, That we pledge our support to Truman H. Newberry, whose patriotism and qualifications have demonstrated him to be an ideal candidate for U. S. senator, and we believe that he should have the undivided support of the electors of the state.

We also pledge our support to our congressional, state and county candidates. "Be it Further Resolved, That we believe the present primary system to be inadequate and subject to misuse, and we recommend that the next state legislature amend said primary law, making it compulsory for each elector to declare his party affiliations when registering and voting.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Signed, JAS. E. BALLARD, JAMES E. DILLON, ALBERT DRAEGER, Committee

The convention then proceeded to elect delegates and the following were chosen to attend the state convention at Grand Rapids Sept. 26: Jas. E. Dillon, H. M. Belknap, W. L. M. Blakeley and Jos. G. Dimmick.

At a meeting of the candidates held Wednesday Frank F. Taylor was chosen as chairman of the county committee, and H. N. Butler as secretary.

NEED OF SAVING STILL HERE

The recent wheat crisis is past, but the need of saving is still here. Reserves must be built up. America's bread should not be whiter than that of the allies. We must share and share alike.

It has been agreed that the wheat bread of the allies shall contain 20% of other grain than wheat. To meet this and to build up a reserve stock against any forthcoming emergency, at home or abroad, the following wheat regulations have been formulated by the U. S. Food Administration:

Where straight wheat flour is sold by retailers 20% of other cereal flour must be sold at the same time.

All baker's bread shall contain 20% of other cereals.

Millers and dealers are encouraged to sell "Victory Mixed Flour," which is to be labeled with the ingredients in the order of their proportion. These mixed flours may be sold without substitutes, but at no advance in price over wheat flour.

The housewife is relied on to use only "Victory Bread," and in home baking to mix at least 20% of the substitute cereals into the wheat flour. She is expected to continue to serve corn bread and other wheat saving quick breads frequently. Corn meal for the use of corn bread should be purchased separately from combination flour sales.

This program conscientiously and patriotically carried out will insure a common loaf for all and a safe and sane conservation of wheat.

EAST TAWAS DEPARTMENT

Devoted to the General and Personal News of the Week From Our Neighboring City on the East

DEATH OF HENRY HANSON

Last Thursday evening death entered the home of one of our oldest and best known residents, removing therefrom the husband and father, Henry Hanson. Mr. Hanson had been suffering for nine weeks from neuritis with complications, and although every possible means was employed to relieve his sufferings they were of no avail.

Henry Hanson was born in Shean, Norway, September 15, 1849, and had lived until Sunday—the day of his burial—would have been 69 years old. He came from his native land at the age of twenty, arriving in East Tawas on July 4. For a short time he resided with a sister in the Thumb, but soon returned to East Tawas, where he was employed in the general stores of Wm. Locke and Joseph Dimmick, sr., in which latter place he was bookkeeper for ten years.

In October 1876 he was united in marriage to Miss Georgia Osborn, and she with the five children born to them survive. The children are: Ivor, of Portland, Oregon; Claude, of Colorado; Eugene, of this city; Mrs. Gladys Lundy of this city; and Mrs. Zillah Bigelow of this city. All were here in attendance at the funeral with the exception of the oldest son, Ivor, who was unable to leave his government position in a cement construction plant in Portland.

In 1883, Mr. Hanson went into business for himself, in the building now occupied by Dr. Moss. In two years his business had outgrown the building, and he removed to the present location, which he occupied continuously for thirty-three years.

Mr. Hanson held positions of trust in the city, being treasurer and deputy treasurer for seven consecutive years. It is also interesting to note that he was the last supervisor for Baldwin township before the village of East Tawas was set off from the township. He was instrumental in obtaining many advantages to the township he represented. He also was for a time city clerk.

Mr. Hanson was a man of unwavering integrity and uprightness. The principles he believed in, he upheld unwaveringly. His life was always unblemished. He was always unyielding in his place of business and knew and was known by every school child in the city since schools were established here, for from him were purchased their school supplies.

Mr. Hanson was a member of the Masonic order since 1875, and the burial service at the cemetery was in charge of that order. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the family home, Dr. Goodrich of the Episcopal church being in charge.

At the request of Mr. Hanson, all music was dispensed with the rector evening and church services, which reciting in its stead portions of that beautiful poem, "Thanatopsis," which expressed so well the life principles of the deceased. The pall bearers were: Joseph Dimmick, Charles Dimmick, John Sullivan, Asa Rodman, John Preston and John Tait. Beside the five children mentioned heretofore there are five grandchildren left to mourn the loss of a loving grandfather. To all the sorrowing family the many friends of the deceased extend deepest sympathy.

"Be it Resolved, That the republican party of Iosco county, Michigan in convention assembled, pledge its undivided support to our government in the present war. We declare that it is the supreme task of the civilized world to crush the insolent attempt of a military dictatorship for self-government and the right of independent thought. A TRIP FOR LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS

Remember that success in selling Liberty Loan Bonds is very largely a matter of overcoming the stinginess of some people, the rapacity of others and the squirrel instinct in those who have seen hard winters and are afraid of seeing more.

A man who is stingy must be shown that tight wad-ism is the sure way to have no friends in times of peace, but in war like this one its logical result is defeat and ruin. If everyone turns tight-wad, the United States will have to knuckle to Mr. Hohenzollern. So Buy Liberty Bonds.

A grasping man, who wants to keep every red copper he has and get more, must be shown that the only safety there is for what he has now is in upholding the credit and armed force of the United States. As for increasing his possessions the "one best bet" is to invest in some security that carries no risk and pays a generous rate of return. Buy Liberty Bonds.

A natural hoarder must be shown that it is foolishness to deprive money of the only property it has that is worth while--its use in exchange. A squirrel can eat the nuts it buries, but the miser cannot possibly eat specie. The best possible way to have money safely hidden in time of war is to have it hidden in Uncle Sam's pocket. The last thing the robber can loot is Uncle Sam's strong box; and if any foreign robber loots that cash box he will have all the private hoards corraled into the bargain.

Be stingy in your own selfish indulgences and Buy Liberty Loan Bonds.

Be rapacious for income-earning investments and Buy Liberty Loan Bonds.

Be a hoarder in the U. S. Treasury by buying Liberty Loan Bonds.

THE STUDENTS' ARMY TRAINING CORPS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

A unit of the Students' Army Training Corps will be established at the University of Michigan about October 1. This unit has been approved by the War Department and will be in charge of Army officers detailed for the purpose.

Men now included in the draft for the first time, who meet the requirements for admission to any of the Schools or Colleges of the University, are to present their credentials and register in the regular way for the work of the next session, which begins October 1, 1918. Registration should be completed before that date; and admission should be arranged for by mail in advance. On October 1st, or as soon after as possible, students who are physically fit and who so elect, will be inducted into Students' Army Training Corps. They will thereupon be under military discipline, will be housed and fed and uniformed and equipped by the Government and will receive $30.00 a month, the regular pay of a private. Their tuition, including all laboratory and other fees, will also be paid by the Government.

In addition to the military work above outlined, professional students may continue their course of study.

In a circular by the Committee on Education and Special Training of the War Department of which Colonel M. I. Ress, of the General Staff Corps is Chairman, the following advice is given.

"All young men, who were planning to go to school this fall, should carry out their plans and do so. Each should go to the college of his choice, matriculate, and enter as a regular student.

The following is from the official statement of the War Department: "The student soldiers, while receiving military instruction will be kept under observation and test, to determine their qualifications as officer-candidates and technical experts such as engineers, chemists or doctors. After a certain period, the men will be selected according to their performance and assigned to military duty in one of the following ways:

(a) They may be transferred to a central officers' training camp.

(b) They may be transferred to a non-commissioned officers' training school.

(c) They may be assigned to the school where they are enrolled for further intensive work in a specified line for a limited specified time.

(d) They may be assigned to the vocational training section of the Corps for technical training of military value.

(e) They may be transferred to a cantonment for duty with troops as privates.

It cannot be now definitely stated how long a particular student will remain at college. This will depend on the requirements of the mobilization and the age group to which he belongs.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM TEMPLE HARRIS

Somewhere in France, Aug. 11, 1918.
Dear Mother:—
This is Sunday morning and it has been some time since I wrote to you and also has been a great deal longer since I have received a letter from you or any one else. I received your letter at Camp Upton.
We had a very pleasant trip, considering the circumstances. It was calm all the way across and very few were sick. In fact none at all to speak of. I was dizzy for a few days, but not sick. It stormed a couple of days, but nothing to speak of. It never got so bad that we had to stay below. There was about twenty boats besides our convoy. A couple of days off of this side a larger convoy met us of about sixteen destroyers and mostly American, and then it was when we felt good. It just seemed you could tell they were American boats without ever seeing flag or name for they seemed to have the snap and pep and we found out they did. They were some of our latest destroyers and the fastest and heaviest armed of any nation and what I mean they all take their hat off to them.
We landed at England and disembarked about eight p. m. on July 31st and hiked about five miles to a rest camp. Getting there at about one thirty a. m. and boarded a train about six that morning. We practically traveled the whole length of England. The scenery was great. It is mostly hills and they are all under cultivation. Their fences are mostly all stone and looks more like fortifications. Their streets are very narrow in comparison to ours, but the roads are wonderful. Just as smooth as can be and I mean by roads that is all of them through the whole country. You ought to see the trains. Their coaches are only about one-third the size of ours and narrow gage tracks. Their engines are like the little ones of the D. M. and in fact are more like a play thing. Their houses are built of stone or brick and all look alike. They are regular tenant houses, but generally not over two stories high. They have no modern conveniences such as our houses in the states. None of their buildings are high such as those in our large cities. In fact a four or five story building is high.
We got one great welcome at every place we stopped. The people of England are very much different in every respect than the Americans. Their speech is a great deal different and one has to pay strict attention to understand them. Their ways of dressing are also considerably different.
You very seldom see an auto or motor cycle and most everyone rides a wheel, old and young. Their street cars are double deckers and short in fact they are very old fashion according to my way of living. They do not use wagons as we do, but two wheeled carts.
From England we crossed to France and were there two days. The only place I remember in France was Angers. Do not worry if this is cut, but I hardly think so or I chance considerable for the names are very hard to remember that is a place of about fifty thousand population. There is is not much talking with the people here for we can't understand them. The French are very funny. Nearly all the women and girls wear no stockings.
Well must close. I am feeling fine so please do not worry and will be home next summer. Give my love to all and kiss the babies for Bud.
Ever your loving son,
Temple

Dear Friend:—
Landed in England some weeks ago and about to leave for another destination which I am not permitted to disclose this time, Nelson Ulman and Leo Waack are in my company and several other boys from the Tawas and vicinity belong to the same battalion.
Was to London on an 18 hour pass and saw many places of interest while there, also had the pleasure to meet Young Harth of East Tawas, who is an enlisted man in the Canadian army.
The English people treat us fine, they gave us a hearty welcome that made us feel very much at home.
Kindly give my regards to the folks.

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

DOUBLE your duck hunting luck in rough weather with the right shotshells—Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells," made to stay dry and firm as a bullet no matter how wet the pocket that contains them, and shoot right.

With the right shells in your Remington UMC Pump Gun or Autoloading Shotgun there will be no hitch at the critical moment—no gun jammed with a water-soaked and swelled shell—no fizzled shots from mushy turn-overs of the shell ends.

Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are completely proofed against wet by a wonderful and exclusive process, which it took three years to perfect. This improvement costs you nothing.

Just buy the same favorite "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" brand, as usual, at the regular price. You will get the Wetproof improvement extra, without charge. You will not be able to see this improvement but you will know it is there when you put it to the test of shooting under conditions which only Wetproof shells can stand.

They will stay hard and smooth as usual, with the turned-over end entirely firm and top wad flat. If you can detect any difference in the results in shooting when they "ought to" be good and wet, you will be the first to succeed in doing so. The same highest dependability and performance qualities as always.

In black powder shells, buy the old reliable "New Club," now Wetproof sealed at turnover and top wad.
