THE COUNTY FAIR

From an agricultural standpoint the Iosco county fair, which was held last week, concluding Friday, was not the success that it has been in previous years. The scarcity of farm help and the necessity of improving the good weather to harvest the crop, prevented the farmers from bringing in their display of stock and produce, and had it not been for the exhibits by the country schools the amount of farm produce displayed would have been very small. However, the display made by the schools were very fine and completely filled the space allotted to them. District No. 2, Grant township was awarded first prize, District No. 1, Alabaster, second prize, and District No. 2, Tawas township, third prize.

Some good races were pulled off, the entries in all races being sufficiently numerous to furnish good sport, and the lovers of this amusement certainly received the worth of their money in this feature alone. There were also good ball games between various county teams and these also proven a good drawing card.

The exhibitions of horizontal bar work by the Byrne Trio were very good. These men are certainly masters of their tricks and their acts gave excellent satisfaction.

The new dining hall was a great convenience and was patronized freely by the people attending the fair.

DEATH OF JOHN LANSKI

John Lanski, a resident of Tawas City for nearly thirty-seven years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Hosbach, last Saturday morning, Sept. 28. Death was due to the infirmities incident to old age.

John Lanski was born in western Germany Dec. 12, 1829, and was therefore nearly 89 years of age at the time of his death. He came to the United States 37 years ago and a few months later to Tawas City, where he has since made his home.

The funeral services were held Monday morning, Sept. 30 at St. Joseph's Catholic church, East Tawas, Rev. Albin officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

Deceased leaves to mourn his loss six children, George Lanski, Mrs. John Hosbach and Mrs. Chris, Reinke of Tawas City, Mrs. Frank Berzhinski of East Tawas, Mrs. Frank Martin of Alpena and John Lanski of Standish. Also thirty grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

CHILD WELFARE WORK

The child welfare weighing and measuring test for Iosco County was begun at the fair on Thursday and Friday afternoon.

Miss Angelina Sands, a graduate nurse, and Miss Wood superintended the weighing and measuring of the infants, Miss Anderson and other teachers of the older children.

President Wilson has designated this as Children's Year. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. McAdoo are at the head of this work and it is hoped to have every child in the country weighed, measured and card indexed. The height and weight of children for any given age forms a rough, but useful index of their health.

It is a vitally necessary work if we are to avoid in this country the troubles that European nations did not avoid the first year of the war.

It has been a matter of public concern in these countries for three years. A system of care was organized, including clinics, child labor laws and recreation.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham.

In order to help harvest the potatoes, beans, corn, beets, fruit and other necessary food products, the men in the cities are willing to lend a hand. This week a number of men have dropped their business and have helped out where called for. If any farmer is short of help and there is any help available it can be secured through this office.

Michigan bean growers will meet in Saginaw October 10 and 11. The program will go into the bean question from seed to marketing. Representatives from state and national Food Administration are expected, also representatives from New York and California.

Farmers interested in the organization of a Farm Loan Association should get in touch with this office. Application blanks have been secured.

Everyone who has ripe corn of suitable quality for seed purposes should send in a sample ear and state the amount available. It cost the Government a good sum to secure seed last spring to supply the demand, and it is hoped enough local seed is available to supply the demand. If there is not enough it must be spoken for at once. Get your seed now.

Corn which will mature in ninety days in Delaware will not do it here as proven this season. Local adapted seed is best.

Iosco County has a record crop of apples. Let us use them. The orange crop is only half normal so prices will be prohibitive. Eat apples and save shipping space for things more necessary than luxuries.

Make syrup from sugar beets. Bulletins at the office on how to do it.

The extension division of the Michigan Agricultural College plans to put out a monthly list of livestock for sale in the state. The list will consist of pure bred animals except in the case of dairy cows, breeding ewes and carlots of feeding steers and lambs. The service will be free to both owner and purchaser and will be given distribution through county farm bureaus. The success of the plan depends on the co-operation of men having stock for sale. It will mean a great deal to organizations or communities wishing to get better live stock. What have you? And what will you need? Do you wish to secure the list when sent out?

LIBERTY DAY

Saturday, October 12, is the four hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the discovery of America. President Wilson has proclaimed it Liberty Day and requests the citizens of every community in the United States—city, town, and country-side—to celebrate the day.

The President, in his proclamation, says:

"Every day the great principles for which we are fighting take fresh hold upon our thought and purposes and make it clearer what the end must be and what we must do to achieve it."

"We now know more certainly than we ever knew before why free men brought the great Nation and Government we love into existence, because it grows clearer and clearer what supreme service it is to be America's privilege to render to the world."

FARMERS GET THE COIN

More than 51,000 farmers have obtained loans through the Federal loan system, and the amount they have received amounts to $117,249,000. The loans average $2,200 each. The Federal Farm Loan Board has done a lot of good, as most of its loans have been of a class that could not be obtained through local banks and other channels.

Representatives of local power and lighting companies who have been "up against the real thing" for money, have not been as successful as the farmers with the Federal machinery, since they have been told to "go see your local bankers." The local bankers have been referring them to the local court, who have been prolific in furnishing receiverships.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES

Sunday Oct. 6th, 1918.
10:00 a. m.—Morning service
11:00 a. m.—Bible school
7:30 p. m.—Evening service. Subject for evening service, "How we Get Our Bible". Illustrated with chart. Everybody welcome.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Splendid community gathering met in the high school room, Hale, Monday evening, September 30.

Mr. R. D. Brown explained to those present why this meeting was called.

The principal topic discussed was the shortage of labor, and just how the schools may help relieve the situation.

A labor bureau was established. The farmers signifying the number of school pupils each needed.

Representatives of the boys stated the wages they expected to receive.

Commissioner Campbell explained the workings of the Truant Law. After a lively discussion by nearly all present, it was decided to have a few days vacation.

A community organization was perfected, Lewis Nunn being chosen president, Supt. Bailey, secretary, and Hon. E. B. Follett, treasurer.

We hope to see similar organizations perfected in every school district. The United States needs our heartiest co-operation. This can be better given when we are thoroughly organized.

Teachers' Institute promises to be another of Iosco's good ones. Remember the place and time. High school room. Oct. 10 and 11, East Tawas.

Dr. Henderson's lecture: Dollars and Sense in Education, the evening of Oct. 10 in opera house, should be heard by all.

A community meeting will be held at No. 9 Tawas Thursday evening, Oct. 3. Attend.

School exhibits at the fair attracted much attention. The six schools entering showed commendable zeal. The articles were well chosen and tastefully arranged. No. 2 Grant won 1st, No. 1 Alabaster 2nd, No. 2 Tawas 3rd.

We hope to have an excellent school column. Use it.

STATE COUNCIL OF MOTOR CLUBS FORMED

Through the efforts of William E. Metzger, president of the Detroit Automobile club, organization of the Michigan State Council of Motor Clubs has been effected at a meeting in the Detroit Athletic club. Representatives from a score of cities in the upper and lower peninsulas attended the organization meeting.

The object of the new association is to initiate constructive and beneficial legislation for the improvement of roads, the protection of the motorists and owners of automobiles, as well as to safeguard the interests of the citizens of Michigan, wherein they come in touch with the automobilists and to present to its members, ideas as to the merits and demerits of any proposed legislation, as well as co-operate with the state and the government in the prosecution of federal activities, and take such action as may be necessary.

The council will consist of one delegate from each accredited automobile club in the various localities of Michigan. There will be fifteen members on the board of directors, including the officers and eight others. Fred Z. Pantlind, of Grand Rapids, has been named chairman of the state organization. Other officers are: Charles A. Mitchell, Bay City, first vice-chairman; E. A. Blakeslee, St. Joseph, second vice-chairman; Charles E. Chipley, Sault Ste. Marie, third vice-chairman; Captain W. S. Gilbreath, Detroit, secretary; William E. Metzger, Detroit, treasurer, and Mark T. McKee, Mt. Clemens, counsel.

Plans are being made to form automobile clubs in every community where this work has not already been accomplished. In some instances the new organization will be county clubs, and in other city clubs, depending on the size of the community. Enlargement of the state association by the formation of the new clubs will be pushed consistently.

The first annual meeting is to be held in June of next year in Detroit.

IOSCO COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE NOTICE

The Iosco county teachers' institute will be held in the high school room, East Tawas, Thursday and Friday, October 10th and 11th. Dr. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan will be the conductor, and Supt. Sell of Holland, Mich., will be instructor.

Dr. Henderson will deliver an extension lecture on the evening of the 19th. Subject: "Dollars and Sense in Education."

EAST TAWAS OVER THE TOP

East Tawas went over the top before noon the first day of the 4th Liberty Loan sale. There is now a record of over $30,000 sale of bonds—our quota being $11,725. DEATH OF ROBERT B. NASH

Robert Nash, for over thirty years a resident of this city, died in the Bay City hospital last Thursday evening, after undergoing an unsuccessful operation at noon of the same day.

For some time after reaching manhood he resided in Port Austin, Mich., and about thirty years ago he with his wife and family came to East Tawas, where he has ever since made his home. All of the children except Mrs. Elizabeth O'Flaherty and Mrs. Lucinda Hilton were in attendance at the funeral.

The many friends of the family of the deceased extend their sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

Iosco Does Its Duty

Subscribes Her Quota of $84,000 on the Three Voluntary Days

To the patriotic citizens of Iosco county who came forward voluntarily and subscribed for the full quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds assigned to our county on the first three (Voluntary) days of the drive, I wish to extend hearty congratulations. These are the 100 per cent Americans who have made the recent Allied successes possible.

To those people who were not among the voluntary subscribers, and who are able to subscribe, we wish to say they have not escaped their just contributions. The Local Committee of each City and Township will, during the next ten days, make a canvass of each person in their jurisdiction and receive a subscription or a valid excuse for not making one.

The fact that we have our quota subscribed is no excuse for anyone not doing their just share in this work. If you have not yet filed your application for a bond see the Local Committee of your town and do so before you are placed on the "Slacker List."

Every Local Committee of the County is directed to finish up their work at the earliest possible moment and report to the County Chairman.

Let Iosco County's message to "Our Boys" "Over There" be that we are all 100 per cent Americans and that our dollars are back of them.

THE PEACE OUR SOLDIERS WANT—THE PEACE OUR WAR MOTHERS WANT

The Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper published by the soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, says editorially about the enemy peace offensive:

"Let the weak hearted who are dreaming of a compromise; let the pacifists who are talking a peace by agreement; let the sideliners who have had enough of war; let the secretly inclined pro-Germans who think this war should end without a decision—let them one and all know once and for all that for the American Expeditionary Force there is no such word as 'Peace' with the Huns unbeaten. The man who talks of peace to-day, except through victory, is a traitor."

The enemy peace offensive is likened to the action of German machine-gun crews in the Vesle fighting, when they fought and killed Americans until they were surrounded, then shouted "Kamerad."

The mothers of the American soldiers in France want the same peace their sons demand. All the courage of the ancient Spartan mother is in the hearts of the women of America.

The object of the Fourth Liberty Loan is to bring that peace—a just peace, a righteous peace, an American peace.

MERCHANT SHIPPING AFTER THE WAR

Edward N. Hurley, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, says that there will be something like 25,000,000 tons of merchant shipping to be employed within the next two years, and the Shipping Board is already looking around for cargoes, both in this country and abroad. In order to enlighten the vague understanding of people who do not make measurements in ship tonnage, Mr. Hurley has very kindly explained that 25,000,000 tons of merchant shipping would represent in a single voyage all the livestock, dressed meats, packing house products, poultry, game, fish, wool, hides and leather carried on our railroads in one year. In less than five trips his ships would carry our whole yearly railroad haul of grain, flour, cotton, hay, fruit, vegetables and other farm products; and in three and one half trips, all our lumber; in seven trips all our manufactured goods; sixteen trips, all our coal and coke.

SOLDIERS LOVE THE RED CROSS

Washington, Sept. 30.—When a wounded soldier is dying, his last words are usually, "Tell Mother." A last message from a U. S. Marine who was killed in France has just come to Washington, for the "greatest mother in the world." Pvt. Edmund B. Rowe, of the 81st Co., Machine Gun Battalion, U. S. Marines, wrote from a little town in France on July 14th, Bastille Day, to an American Red Cross official, telling him that the soldier has learned to love that banner as well as he loves the Stars and Stripes.

"If you could see," he continued "the expressions of comfort and cheer which your generous donations bring to the dirty, weary countenances of recipients, you would feel highly remunerated for your outlay and especially all members of the Red Cross to know just how every soldier feels toward your great organization."

The letter bore this postscript from Lieut. Bower of the Marines:

"It is with great sorrow that I add these few words. Pvt. Rowe, a member of my section, was killed in action several days after he wrote this and before he had an opportunity to mail it. He was a fine soldier and a real man."

INDUSTRIAL AWAKENING

According to Secretary of Commerce Redfield, 30,000 factories in the United States have been turned over to war work. A great many things that it was once deemed impossible to secure outside of Germany are now in wholesale production in the United States. Among these commodities are dyes, and our factories have made such progress that Germany will never again be recognized in the industry. All our optical glass was imported from Germany before the war. Now there are two plants in the United States, and we are forever free of dependence from Germany for our lenses and other fine glass.

WHOLE STATE TO RAISE FUNDS ON WAR CHEST PLAN

MICHIGAN PATRIOTIC FUND
CREATED BY GOV. SLEEPER
TO STAGE UNION DRIVE
IN NOVEMBER.

7 AGENCIES REPRESENTED

Action in Accordance With Request of President Wilson; Organization is Perfected.

The Michigan Patriotic Fund, recently created by Governor Sleeper to combine all appeals for funds by war relief agencies in one yearly drive, embracing the whole state, will make its first campaign the week of November 11. The amount to be raised is approximately $10,000,000.

A number of counties are already raising funds through their own county war chest organizations and have their quotas in hand for this year. For that reason their participation in the first campaign will be passive and they will be credited with their respective quotas just as though they were taking an active part in the drive.

Different Agencies Essentially One

Establishment of the Michigan Patriotic Fund is in accord with the request of President Wilson, as voiced in a letter to Raymond D. Fosdick, Commissioner on Training Camp Activities. In this letter the president pointed out that the services rendered by the different agencies to our army and to our allies are essentially one and must of necessity be rendered in the closest co-operation. He asked that appeals for funds be united in order that the spirit of the country may be expressed without distinction of race or religious opinion.

Seven large national organizations engaged in war work will be represented in this drive. They are the Y. M. C. A. War Fund, the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish War Fund, the War Camp Community Service, the Y. W. C. A. War Fund, the Salvation Army and the American Library Association.

Each of these organizations had planned a campaign for funds for some period within the next six months. This would have meant a series of "drives" following one another in quick succession and even overlapping. By joining forces in a single campaign, conducted by the Michigan Patriotic Fund, they will save time and annoyance both for the public and the solicitors and promote a better feeling all around.

Giving on Efficient Business Basis

In other words, the object of the Michigan Patriotic Fund is to place Michigan's war time giving on an efficient business basis, and at the same time distribute the burden equitably among all the people. The people of Michigan have shown in the past that they are no shirkers when it comes to backing up the men who have gone to the front from within its borders. The Patriotic Fund will greatly simplify the task of collecting this money and save many precious hours for the real work of winning the war.

Organization of the fund was perfected at a recent meeting held in Detroit. Campaign headquarters have been established at 115-117 West Fort street, Detroit, and the work of organizing the counties is already begun under the direction of the executive committee. The war board in each county will be asked to head up the respective county organizations, and counties already operating on a war-chest basis will be asked to cooperate to the fullest extent.

Plan Copied After Detroit's Big Drive

The Michigan Patriotic Fund is an elaboration of the Detroit plan, which proved so popular that, with a goal of $7,000,000, Detroit and Wayne county raised $10,500,000 in a seven-day campaign last May. Executives of the state organization are confident that the people of Michigan will welcome the war chest idea, which affords them an opportunity to give once a year for all patriotic purposes and practically insures them against further solicitation in the meantime.

The Liberty loan campaigns, of course, are entirely separate, the purchase of a bond being in no sense a gift but a sound business investment. Officers of the Michigan Patriotic Fund are: Carroll F. Sweet, Grand Rapids, general chairman; David A. Brown, Detroit, general vice-chairman; Mark T. McKee, Detroit, general secretary, and State Treasurer Samuel O'Dell, treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of the officers and the following: E. J. Bullard, D. C. it, chairman of the state quota committee; H. H. Dow, Midland; Col. A. E. Kimball, Detroit; W. J. Norton, Detroit; Ernest A. O'Brien, Detroit; Helen Penrose, Detroit; Adam Strohm, Detroit.

Each of the organizations participating in the drive is represented on the committee. Mr. Brown will be in general charge of the publicity and of the campaign.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM LAWRENCE McIVOR

Somewhere in France, Aug. 25, 1918. Dear Father and Mother and All:— I suppose that you are all worrying over me because you have not received a letter from me since I left the good U. S. A., but I think that you must have received the card that I arrived safe in France.

We had a fine trip across the pond, because the weather was just fine. Some of the boys got sea sick, but it did not bother me in the least, but we were glad to see land, for it was a long ride and it sure was great to set foot on land once more.

I would like to tell you of some of the things that I have seen in this country it would make you sit up and take notice for every thing is so far behind the times.

Well how is everybody around there. I suppose all the boys have been drafted by this time.

Has Lester left Battle Creek yet? and do you know where Bert is? I wish you would get Art. Kinder and Charlie Miller's address and send them to me when you write, for I may be able to see them if I know what their address is.

Well I will have to close for this time. Now be sure and answer soon do not wait to get a letter from me, but write every week. I will try to do the same, but some of my mail might get lost so don't wait for mail from me. And tell some of the rest of the folks to write once in a while for I would like to hear from all of them. Tell them to write all the news that they can think of and give my address to Stella and tell her that I will write as soon as I get time. My address is.

FROM A GIRL IN FRANCE.

The following letter is from Dr. Bertha Stewart, a graduate and former instructor in the University of Michigan and afterward a teacher in a college in Oregon. She went to France last winter for Red Cross work and is superintendent of an institution for taking care of the homeless children. We are privileged to publish this letter by the courtesy of the relatives to whom it was written: Blois, France, August 7th, 1918.

Dear Percy and Erma:—

You are angels of light, and I cannot tell you how grateful I am for the $100 that has just come. As soon as I use it I will write and tell you where it goes. I shall keep it until some use arises for which I do not feel like asking the Red Cross for money. There is much for which it can be used; it is difficult to decide where to place it, but I will try and spend it for something that I think will please you. Perhaps I will adopt you a little girl with it, as the American Army is doing. A darling youngster with light curls and big blue eyes was brought into the dispensary last week. She was so pretty we all fell for her at once; an old aunt nearly seventy and looking eighty was taking care of her and come to find out is her only relative, and when she dies she does not know what will become of her. Her father was killed in the war, the mother died soon after and this old aunt has been taking care of her for two years. She was in great distress because she has not been well and is afraid she will die and leave the child alone.

We have many wards; a fine boy and girl, brother and sister, are our latest, and we have them out at our country home. The father is at the front and that means that there is not much chance of his returning; the mother, only twenty-nine years old is dying of tuberculosis, and when we found them she was getting out of bed to cook the meals for the children and try and care for them. They are two of the nicest children we have had.

We have thirteen hundred children on our list now and there are so many sad stories to tell I could write all night and not finish. Few of them have fathers; the mothers work all day; the children are sent to school and then spend the rest of the time on the streets. The mothers have no time to cook them nourishing food, and no money to buy it if they could. A woman came and cried the other day because she could not nurse to her house with a pound of prunes so that she could give the baby prune juice. There is plenty of food in France if you have the money to buy it, but that if cuts most of our patients. Eggs are a dollar a dozen, and milk even we cannot get now, so that we have had to put our babies on condensed milk and try to combat rickets with prune juice and solid feeding as soon as possible. I put a six month baby on solid food not long ago and he is thriving beautifully.

I had one little boy whom I pulled through a bad pneumonia last winter whom I'm devoted to, and it is for a queer reason—it is because he is so queer. He is the only child I have seen since coming over that is full of mischief and full of spirits. He is so full he most busts all the time, and he makes me think of the American children, therefore I am devoted to him. The principal reason he is this way is because we have feed him six months and he is hale and fat and hearty.

Their sadness is what breaks my heart; thin, solemn little faces with great circles under the eyes. I never saw children with eyes so deeply circled before, and one of the chief joys of our country place is to see the circles disappear.

The awfulness of destruction and desolation over here is unthinkable until you see it, and now our own boys are being added to the mutilated and hate to think of the homes back there that are becoming as these French homes, though they can never become as bad. The refugees from the invaded countries are the saddest sights ever seen; chased from village and from town to town, all their belongings, even their children lost, they reach us broken and hopeless. A man came in with a fine boy of twelve the other day; he had lost his family three years ago and try as they might they could not find any trace of them; he was living with another refugee family whom he had picked up on the train coming here, and they are caring for him with apparent great affection although they themselves had four children.

Our boys are wonderful; I never dreamed we had it in us. I shall never lose faith in human nature after I have seen the way they behave over here. They are patient, cheerful, helpful, unselfish, and generous, always making light of their wounds. Their conduct on the battle field you undoubtedly read about, all the praises they get are more than true; it is only the experience they lack to make them the most wonderful soldiers in the world. That, every one is having to acknowledge, even the English.

Well it is getting dark and electricity is so scanty that we cannot see to do anything but undress and go to bed. We are a daylight working crew, the night is no good except to play.

We don't get much fun, and yet we are very contented and so absorbed in work that we do not have time to remember that we are a rather sober, hard working lot. Something very funny happened the other day and I sat down and laughed my head off, when my nurse exclaimed, "I haven't heard you laugh like that since we were on the boat coming over," and it suddenly came to me that I was not doing much of it, so I am going to try and turn over a new leaf, exercise my laughs a while. The tears get exercised over time; some weeks it seems my eyes are full of them; it is a tragic world.

Since we can buy things at the army commissary we get enough to eat, but we get so sick of French cooking that every once in a while we go to the Dispensary and cook us a real American meal.

Again thank you for the money, and in due course of time, I will send you an accounting.

Best love to you all; write to me. It is mighty good to get letters from home. I never hated in all my life as I hate Germany, Germans and everything connected with them. I never loved America as I love her since coming over here.

And I do not believe I ever appreciated my friends as I do now.
Good luck to all
Bertha

In Advance of His Age.

The name of Bacon has been surrounded in England by legendary tales of black magic and witchcraft. There are songs about him, and he has always been a figure of mystery, even to his modern interpreters. "Friar Wizard," as he was called, knew too much for his age. He wrote extensive studies on the construction of telescopes. The first mention of gunpowder is found in his books, and it was he who suggested its use for purposes of warfare.

Epilepsy Described in Bible.

In the New Testament there appears to be a very clear description of epilepsy in the case of a child cured by the Savior (St. Matthew, chapter 17, 14-8). Here the text says that the child "oft-times falleth into the fire and oft into the water."

The blankets we are offering in this sale were contracted for last year and were apportioned to a limited number of retailers among which we were fortunately included. When these goods are sold we cannot obtain more at any price. We offer these blankets now at the fair prices determined before the recent tremendous advances.

We cannot sell any of these blankets before the days specified, but if you wish to make your selection we will reserve them for you and you will then be sure of getting your share of these wonderful bargains. Blankets are going to be hard to get, as the government requires almost the entire product of the mills for the soldiers, so those in need of blankets for the coming winter will do well to buy from this stock.

Pistol and Revolver Cartridges for Shooting Right

FOR home defence, for hunting or for target shooting, buy the kind of cartridges the pistol and revolver experts demand and champions depend on to win—the Remington-UMC "Red Ball" brand.

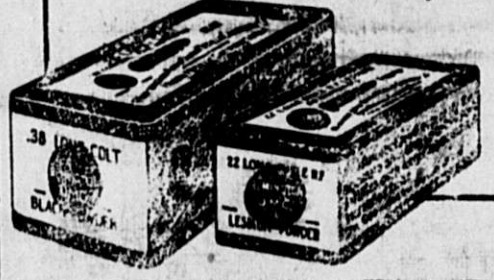

Knowing that a single "unaccountable" wild shot may cost him the match, one misfire in a hundred shots throw him out of his winning "form," the target champion chooses Remington-UMC Cartridges.

He knows that ever since he looked down the sights of his first pistol, he has found Remington-UMC Cartridges all right.

The old gentleman—who "packed a six-shooter till he was leoparded" and still delights in "making up" a shivering coyote when he gets a chance—says, "Give me Remington-UMC 'Red Ball' brand cartridges every time they shoot right."

HERE'S THE COST OF JUST A LITTLE BATTLE

Liberty Bonds Furnish Munitions and Supplies That Win Battles and Save Lives of Fighters.

French naval statisticians have carefully figured out the cost of a modest little naval battle. The sea fight at Jutland in 1916, when the Germans thought to prove the inferiority of the British war fleet, supplies plenty of material for such computations.

The battle in the Skagerrak lasted 45 minutes.

It cost England and Germany combined $300,000,000.

Each minute of fighting cost $6,666,666.

We have some new war financing in the fourth Liberty loan. The United States wants to borrow enough money to carry on the fighting. All our preparations up to the present time have been cared for by the first, second and third loans. The fourth is the "Fighting Loan."

The fourth loan may seem large when stated in terms of billions. The amount is not large when considered in terms of fighting. Just to illustrate: At the rate of expenditure shown during the naval battle of Jutland the United States wants to borrow on the fourth Liberty bonds enough to support only 16 hours and 40 minutes of fighting.

The question is, will you be one of 25,000,000 loyal Americans to "put up" your ratable share of fighting the Germans for 16 hours and 40 minutes? Will you lend the government your trivial part?

It is a small thing to ask. Let's look into the arithmetic of it.

Your personal share of the national wealth.....$2,140.00

Your personal share in the national annual income.....740.00

That is to say, you get a "dividend" of about 35 per cent on your "pro rata" of the national wealth.

You are asked to be one of 25,000,000 loyal Americans who will consent to lend about a third of that "dividend" to help fight the German for 16 hours and 40 minutes.

The United States isn't "passing the hat." The United States isn't asking anybody for a "hand-out." No more is the government asking you to "stand for a touch." Just the reverse of that.

The government asks to borrow one-third of the "dividend" that comes in to your bank account annually as your "dividend" from the business operations that are possible only because the United States protects your life and property on land and sea. And in evidence of its borrowing the government merely takes the kind of money you have in your pocket and gives you another kind of money as security for the loan.

To make it clearer: The United States issues "promises-to-pay-on-demand"—without interest—and that's the kind of money you have in your purse. When you lend that kind of money to the government you receive as security Liberty bonds, which are United States "promises-to-pay-at-maturity"—with interest. In other words, you only swap one kind of money for another kind that is better—$4.25 better on each $100.

However, the upshot of the matter is this:

We are fighting a war—and it is a real, bona fide war, without any "stage business" or imitation. It is known (on the authority of President Wilson) that the war is to a finish—no "draw," "stalemate" or "lie down." It may run into a cost as heavy as $6,666,000 a minute if it gets to the scale of the little battle of Jutland. The United States must be ready for anything and everything.

Therefore you and everybody else must lend the government every free dollar that has been saved or can be saved as we go along. We must take all the fourth Liberty bonds that we possibly can pay for.

CAPT. KIDD WAS A HOARDER

Hoarding Money and Hiding It Does Nobody Any Good—Buy Bonds.

It takes very little ingenuity to "cache" money where the government can't find it. Captain Kidd buried a lot of his pirate "swag" somewhere along the Spanish main, where no one ever did find it—where it never did a living soul any good—never built a hospital—never alleviated human suffering—never helped along the works of civilization and humanity—just dead money; absolutely dead, like the soul of the pirate who hid it.

The brave thing now isn't hiding money.

The only thing that counts in this terrible time is service.

Service with the colors, or service backing up the fighters who have offered their lives for the righteous cause.

Hiding and hoarding money is not service. It is the opposite; it is taking money out of service. It is a species of desertion.

A deserter in the army stands up before a firing squad and pays the proper penalty.

A hoarder is a money deserter who is entitled to the same penalty. Sometimes he is merely thoughtless. Sometimes he is just selfish.

But anyway he is doing a great wrong to the United States and a deadly wrong to the world and civilization.

The world does not need Captain Kidds. Nor does America.

But America does need 20,000,000 more Liberty Bond buyers.

If you have any money stowed away out of sight bring it out and have it changed into the most useful of all forms—fourth Liberty bonds.

THE WESTERN FRONT AT HOME

Earn and give. For a year the young people of America have been coached in thrift. Instead of the old problem in the arithmetic book, "If Mary's mother gave her three apples, Jane gave her two, and she ate one, how many would she have?" the third grade girl is now sent to the blackboard to solve, "How many Thrift stamps at 25 cents apiece will Mary own at the end of 12 months if she saves 10 cents a week?"

The girl in the grade above her is learning in her arithmetic lesson how many Thrift stamps it takes to buy the yarn for 500 helmets for the soldiers in France. Still further on the eighth grader is told to figure in terms of War Savings stamps how much it costs to supply a regiment of Uncle Sam's men with shelter tents.

And now the Earn and Give club of the younger girls of the Young Women's Christian association is organized to turn those Thrift lessons into giving. The children of America have been turning in pennies and nickels and pasting a green stamp on their Thrift card. The Earn and Give club can now use some of those cards and War Savings stamps in their campaign among the younger people for the united war fund.

This fall when the war council of the Y. W. C. A. made plans for the 1918 war drive, it included in its program the rule that no young girls under eighteen can do any soliciting, on the streets or otherwise. They can give, but they can only give by earning. Consequently in order to coordinate the efforts of the girls in all the districts over the country, the Earn and Give club is enrolling members and has given out an estimate of $5 apiece to be earned for the war fund campaign by the American girls who still count their age in 'teens. Five dollars apiece from the younger girls of the country will mean that the nation as a whole will fill its charitable organizations' war chest.

Some high school girl in New York city is going to earn her $5 by shining her own shoes instead of stopping at the Greek stand on her way to school and by making her own sandwiches for her noon lunch. Out in Iowa the girl who has been spending 15 cents plus war tax for a movie three nights a week is going to draw a line through the movie habit except when there is an especially good bill. More than one girl plans to clean all her own gloves this winter and to salvage all the paper and collections of junk about the house which should be sold to the junk man to be worked over into some productive industry. The girls in their 'teens are going to earn instead of ask others for the money. They are to sacrifice and give in their own names and older women will make the public requests for money elsewhere.

Many of the girls who are waiting to join the Earn and Give club are already Patriotic Leaguers, and they have learned several practical lessons in the thrift that will make them effective members of the new club by their conservation of fruits and vegetables. They have canned and pickled. Now when the end of summer brings the beginning of school they will change their thrift into winter thrift and begin saving their $5 for the Y. W. C. A. war fund.

"Wherever You Are Is the Western Front" is the slogan which the Earn and Give club has adopted. Anna, one of the thirteen-year-old daughters of New York's East side, who was one of the first and youngest members to join the campaign at a New York settlement house, had to have it explained to her that instead of western front meaning fight and fight meaning fists, the western front means work and work means save in order to give.

The girl who joins the Earn and Give club will discover that in conjunction with her working and saving in order that her club will furnish its quota of the money that is going to help the girls like herself in France and Belgium, she will also find numerous ways in the community to help the war that she had never dreamed of. She will see that all the fruit pits and stones that can be saved from her own dining table and from those of her neighbors, are dropped into the little red barrel at the corner, in order that the carbon which the seeds contain can be used in making charcoal for the American soldiers' gas masks. She will save all the tin foil that she sees for the Red Cross. She will help collect clothing for the French and Belgium orphans and perhaps send them some of her own.

School girls in India, children from squalid, dingy homes, with absolutely no spending money, gave last year to Belgian and Armenian relief when they themselves were not getting enough to eat. They gave up their meat once a week for the Belgians, though they only had it twice a week themselves, and for the Armenians they set aside the handful of fresh grain that otherwise each girl would have ground in her own little stone mill. Both contributions, from all the girls in one missionary's school, amounted only to $5 a month. "But it was a tremendous sacrifice," their teacher writes, "although a joyous one. It actually meant less bread each day, and once a week a meal of dry bread and water. This was done by 80 girls from the meanest homes in the world—children between the ages of five and fifteen."

Four hundred thousand girls in 47 states have become Patriotic Leaguers since America declared war. If as many school girls and working girls from all classes pledge to earn and give, the united war fund campaigners will have $2,000,000 of their $170,500,000.

FARMERS HAVE BECOME FIGHTERS AT M. A. C.

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 1.—With the commencement of the fall term at the Michigan Agricultural college this week, M. A. C. has turned almost overnight from its sixty-year old business of producing farmers, foresters and engineers to training fighters.

Almost without exception the 600 freshmen who enrolled on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday have become enlisted in the student army training corps and are now wearing the regulation khaki of U. S. privates. All are being held under strict military discipline, just as they would be in any training camp. With the 540 men in the vocational truck and tractor unit, and others in the engineering and veterinary reserves, the college now is housing and training more than 1200 men. Many other boys who sought entrance had to be turned away.

Some of the usual college work is being offered this fall (this is entirely true in the case of the several hundred young women students) but most of the courses have been changed over for war purposes as the war department has requested. This is true of the agricultural, engineering, veterinary medicine and forestry courses without distinction. About 550 members of the training corps are being lodged in new barracks. The others are being housed in the dormitories of the college.

"MAN WANTED"

Man power, we are told, is winning the war for the Allies. The new draft law will naturally make a big hole in the available number of men in the United States. The "man wanted" advertisements in the daily newspapers tell many interesting stories. Statistics available in Washington are, however, more specific. From these it appears that the war industries of the United States are at the moment short between 300,000 and 400,000 common laborers. The shortage in skilled labor is almost as acute, and the war plants of Connecticut and Maryland alone are undermanned by 35,000 skilled workmen. One of the largest munition plants, turning out heavy caliber guns, is short 2,000 machinists. The employment service of the Labor Department is trying to solve some of the problems occasioned by the above conditions; and one of the above conditions; more labor is to declare certain vocations as non-essential. Undoubtedly if all the "non-essentials" could be put into the productive class it would go a long way towards solving labor troubles; but in such an event a whole lot of gentlemen with soft hands and polished finger nails would get mugged up considerably. Special attention is being given by the new employment service conducted by the Government to cities of over 20,000 population, although the rural districts will be covered as exhaustively as possible.

Matter of Emphasis.

If a man wishes to give absolute emphasis to a negative he is quite likely to say, "No, a thousand times no." What he really means is that his negative resolution is so firm that he would be willing to repeat it an indefinite number of times. So far as his meaning is concerned he might as well say, "a million times, no." But only a man of some habitual violence of speech would say this. It gives an impression of wild extravagance. "Thousand," while being comparatively moderate, somehow seems more forceful.
