Last Saturday the county draft board entertained at a fish dinner at the Dease cottage at Tawas Point a party consisting of those who had assisted in recording the last registrants and sending out the questionnaires. The party consisted of Chairman Thos. H. Hill, Dr. F. C. Thompson, examining physician, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Dease, clerk and assistant clerk of the board, the teachers in the Tawas City schools, County Agent C. P. Milham, Mrs. F. B. Stickney and Mrs. Henry Novess. Despite the inclemency of the weather a pleasant day was enjoyed.

THE ELECTION

The election held in this state last Tuesday resulted, as was expected, in an overwhelming victory for the republican ticket. Latest reports show the election of the republican candidates in every district in the state except the First Congressional district, where Congressman Doremus, democrat, was re-elected Chief interest centered in the selection of United States senator, and while complete returns are not available up to the time the Herald goes to press, the Newberry forces claim a substantial majority, which they claim cannot be overturned by the districts not yet reported.
In Iosco county the complete republican ticket was elected by good majorities. The slip candidates polled very few votes from the regular tickets and in only a very few precincts did they command an appreciable vote.
The indications are that the suffrage amendment has carried in the state by a comfortable majority, and the amendment relative to printing all amendments on one ballot has also carried.
Complete returns from the county are not available at the time of going to press, but next week the Herald will publish a table showing the vote for each candidate in the various precincts of the county.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND DRIVE

Next Monday, November 11, will mark the opening of the big Patriotic Fund drive all over the United States, for the benefit of the various agencies who are devoting their effort to making army life more livable for our boys in the service.
This campaign will be participated in by seven organizations and the money raised for the war work will be divided among them as follows: Y. M. C. A. about 59 per cent; Y. W. C. A. 9 per cent; K. C. 18 per cent; Jewish Welfare Board 2 1/2 per cent; War Camp Community Service 9 per cent; American Library Association 2 1/2 per cent; Salvation Army 2 1/2 per cent. All the funds raised in the big campaign will be divided pro rata among these organizations on substantially the above basis.
The combining of the campaign of the several organizations was done by request of President Wilson, who suggested this manner of raising funds instead of several independent calls by the different agencies. The work has the backing of men and women of national reputation and importance, who are devoting their time and talent to making the campaign a success.
The total amount raised in this campaign is $250,000,000, and Iosco county's quota of this amount is $6,000, and besides this quota which must be turned over to the national committee, it is expected to raise a generous over-subscription to take care of future needs in this line of work.
Mr. L. H. Braddock is chairman of the committee for Iosco county and the work will be carried on through the same organization that handled the Liberty Loan campaigns, viz: the war board. Advertising matter, pledge cards, etc. have already been sent out and the plans for the campaign beginning next Monday are well under way.
There is no question in the minds of those in charge of the campaign but that Iosco county will uphold her reputation for going "over the top", and that the sum apportioned to this county will be raised and also a good surplus. A number of voluntary pledges have already been received by the chairman although the campaign has not yet started.
The work is such that every person who has the welfare of our boys in service at heart should be willing and glad to do their bit to help make life in the army and navy as easy and pleasant as it can be made under the circumstances. It should not be necessary to urge people to give to such a worthy cause, but all should step up and willingly make their pledge to give as much as they possibly can to help swell the fund. The pledges can be paid in installments through the coming year, so that none need limit their pledge to the amount that they can pay in cash at this time. Many people who could not pay more than $2 if asked for full payment at once, can afford to give $2 per month in installments, and can therefore sign a pledge for $24.
Don't scribble these organizations which are doing so much for the boys, but be as liberal as you can. Deny yourself some luxury, or even something you may consider a necessity, and devote the money to helping to keep up the spirits and morale of our boys "over there."

GERMANY SIGNS ALLIES' PEACE TERMS

Just as the Herald is going to press the news comes over the wires that Germany has signed the peace terms laid down by the Allies. This means that an armistice is declared and the representatives of the various governments involved will meet to discuss terms of a permanent peace.

AMERICAN DYES

The recent Chemical Show in New York filled the Grand Central Palace, and it was perhaps the greatest exhibit of the achievements of American brains ever collected under a single roof. The show demonstrated to the entire satisfaction of the scientific world, which found its way to the place, that the things Germany has held as a mortal cinch for half a century or longer, belong to her no more—for Germany can choke on her own potash for all we care on this side of the waters. When it comes to the manufacture of dyes the Du Pont's have demonstrated that they have a newly established industry that will set us free forever from dependence upon German dyes.
The name Du Pont, and powder, are almost synonymous to the general public; but the Du Pont's have been making big inroads into American industry aside from munitions. It is mighty interesting to know that this tremendous enterprise is preparing to discount the reconstruction period by providing a way to utilize its great capital and the services of its 75,000 employees—65,000 of whom are engaged in war work—when the munitions of peace supplant the munitions of war.
It is only a step over the back fence from the bases from which most of the high explosives are obtained as by-products of the coking industry to the same sources from which are obtained the bases from which are manufactured the intermediates and finally the dyes so much needed to supply practically every other industry. And in the big show the biggest end of the exhibit was of American dyes. It was conclusively demonstrated that the question "what can be produced" belongs entirely in the past tense, and it is far more interesting to learn the truth as to what is produced. The answer to this latter phase of the situation within the industry shows that as good dyes are being produced in sufficient quantities right now to meet all industrial demands, as are needed and that they are made in America. The dye manufacturers have been having considerable trouble with textile manufacturers who have insisted on using the dyes made for wool on cotton, and dyes intended for silk on wool. This sort of bungling has reflected considerably upon American dyes, and has been responsible for most of the criticism that has been freely made. But the difficulty has been only temporary, and it has been practically remedied.
The great crowds that gathered to witness the victories of the American chemists had the satisfaction to behold the dye manufacturing processes in operation; and color for color, it was demonstrated that the home dyes exposed to sunlight and weather, are in every way equal to the foreign equivalent. It is an interesting coincidence that the same great firm of Du Pont that has shot our enemies full of holes in wartime has been the leader in perfecting on a big scale the dye-making industry, which is to continue to shoot disappointment into Germany long years after the struggle of battles are over. It has all along been claimed that Germany's dyestuff industry was to be a thing to bargain with for international commercial advantage, and it was to be an earnest that the world once more at peace must early resume business relations with her. Further, it was a source of large income and a source of still larger prestige. The duplication of this industry in America must prove very disquieting to the people over the Rhine.
American chemists and American manufacturers are winning big battles for their country, and our industrial independence has become assured for all time.

FIND MUCK MAKES SUPERIOR BEDDING

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 2.—A brief bulletin endorsing the use of muck as a substitute for straw in making a bedding for livestock, and for other purposes about the farm, has been issued by the extension department of the Michigan Agricultural college.
"If you are one of those farmers who are compelled to buy straw, the use of dried muck or peat, if you can obtain it, will save you from this expense," declares Ezra Levin, muck crops specialist for the college. "If you have straw, it is more economical to sell it at the prevailing high prices and substitute the dried muck or peat instead.
"Muck or peat is from three to seven times as great an absorbent of liquid as is straw, and will better save the valuable potash voided by your livestock better than will straw."

A precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The bloom his love had given,
And through the body molders here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
'Tis hard to break the tender cord,
When love has bound the heart,
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words
We must forever part.
Dearest loved one, we must lay thee
In the peaceful graves embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished,
Till we see thy heavenly face.
Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low,
Thou no more will join our number,

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

Office court house, Tawas City, 8 to 9 week days, all day Friday. Phone 28 F-21.

The United States Government has completed the registration of the fighting power of the nation, and the War Department knows the man power available for war purposes. It is just as important that the farmers of Iosco county register the fighting power of their farms. Few can tell the food strength of their farms in terms of crop acres per man, or tell the pounds of milk or cream they can produce per dollars worth of feed. Some farmers can tell these things and as a result find that more food can be produced by making some changes.
The necessity of farm accounts is greater now than in the past. When the government wishes to set a price on any product, the first question raised is how much does it cost you to produce the crop, and unless one knows how much it costs to produce the crop, the person can not tell whether or not they are making a profit or are paying for the privilege of farming.
This draft will take away a large number of farm workers and will mean, in a good many cases, that some readjustment in the routine followed will be necessary and the value of farm records at such a time is apparent. The first of January should be the time to start records, on account of the continual change that is necessary with shifting conditions.
There are two simple systems of farm accounting. One a No. 1 farmers' account book to keep a cash record only, and one a complete system of labor, cash and crop record. They are both sent out at cost from M. A. C. through the county agents.

O. G. PRETTYMAN TELLS OF TRIP WITH BOYS.

Thinking of the relatives of the boys that left in the last call of drafted men may like to know something from some one that went through with the boys, I am taking the privilege of letting you know.
I left East Tawas Thursday morning, Oct. 24th, with the boys from Alpena, Alpena and Iosco counties. The weather was bad, rained nearly all the way to Lee Hall, Va.
At Bay City, during the five hours we had to wait, we sang songs and I taught the boys seven new games, which were played with a lot of interest.
We received a fine meal at Bay City and the M. C. also furnished a box lunch that was the best I ever ate and the coffee was rich with cream and sugar.
We arrived in Detroit where eight more coaches were put on our train, making in all a twelve coach train. We left Detroit two hours late and arrived in Columbus four hours late, where the boys had their breakfast. It was not very appetizing and the lunch they put up was less so.
We left Charleston twelve hours late. I might state here that we took off six boys that had come down with Spanish influenza and left them at the hospital there. We also left two in Detroit. The rest however arrived in camp feeling fine with two exceptions, and they were not real bad. The captain or special police of Alpena county was one to be left at Charleston.
I mailed 1018 pieces of mail and sent five telegrams for the boys enroute.
I had two sets of dominos and seventeen sets of checkers that were used most of the time.
I found one man on the train that was familiar with the route and he pointed out the historic and other places of interest to the boys along the route.
The boys were very much dissatisfied with the way they were used the last end of the trip. We were let set on side tracks and passed by freight and cattle trains, getting into camp 22 hours late or arriving there at six a. m. Sunday morning.
On Saturday the boys received only one meal and that was about two forty-five in the afternoon and they got nothing more until they arrived in camp.

THE COST OF LIVING

Official statistics based upon data obtained from forty-two large cities in different parts of the United States, indicate that the increase in the cost of living will average: Food 52 per cent; rent, 19 per cent; clothing, 41 per cent; fuel and light, 31 per cent; sundries, 35 per cent. The percentage of increases, graduated according to income, is as follows: Families with incomes up to $600, 40 per cent; with incomes from $600 to $1,000, 38 per cent; families with incomes from $1,000 to $2,000, 37 per cent. These figures show how much it cost to live January 1, 1918, than on January 1, 1916 provided the standards of living remained the same. They probably fall short of the true increase, because when prices are rapidly rising, cheaper articles are substituted by the producer as well as the consumer. It is indicated that the rate of increase at the present time over that of January would be obtained if about 6 per cent is added to all of the above figures. The actual statistics fail to bear out the generally accepted remark: "It costs twice as much to live now as it used to."
That people as a whole have accepted a lower standard of living is proven by the official figures showing that the actual increase in annual expense runs from twenty-three to thirty-one per cent in different sections of the country.

THE PROPER SENTIMENT

Until Heaven offers Peace to unrepentant Hell, until the Almighty invites Satan to a peace parley and to sit beside Him on the throne and rule the universe, we would be traitors to civilization and to God Himself to grant peace to an uncrushed, unrepentant, unpunished Germany. Peace for Germany without full punishment would be a premium upon crime and an endorsement of all Germany's fearful shedding of blood. It would moreover prove that we are pitiless and towards and lack the moral force to punish criminals, if they are criminals of high degree. Democracy is a failure if it should let royal criminals go unhung or unshot because they are of royal blood, and it would deserve to be destroyed by autocracy.—Ex.

HOLD YOUR BONDS

Practically all the victories of the Allies from the first stand on the Marne in 1914 to the surrender of Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria may be condensed into the word "Hold!" Marshall Joffre's order of Sept. 5, 1914 commanded the French troops to hold every inch of ground occupied and die in their tracks rather than yield. At Chateau Thierry last July the same principle governed the American Marines and infantry. "Hold!" That is the word for Liberty bond subscribers.

F. O. Wetmore, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, sums up the case in this way.

"The people responded most loyally and liberally in their subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Unless the purchasers now hold and pay for their bonds their action in buying has been of little benefit. Every purchaser, therefore, to make his loyalty and liberality one hundred per cent must save and pay for his bonds, when he or she will have in addition that grand and glorious feeling of being the owner outright of the most choice investment in the world."

A subscriber who keeps his payment pledge wins a real Marne victory over temptation to "quit." A subscriber who fails, needlessly, suffers a terrible moral defeat.

SEED CORN UNSAFE UNLESS WELL DRIED M. A. C. DECLARES

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 28—If seed corn is not well dried during the coming winter, much of it will be unfit for use next spring, a statement of farm crops of the Michigan Agricultural College declares. The department, in support of its declaration, is submitting to farmers a report of tests made with corn of varying moisture content.

It was found that corn dried so that it does not contain more than 10 or 12 per cent of water is uninjured by freezing weather; in the case of corn containing 65 to 75 per cent of moisture only one per cent germinated after it had been exposed to freezing weather; of corn with 45 to 55 per cent moisture, only 33 per cent germinated, while of corn with 25 to 35 per cent, only 80 per cent grew. Of corn with 25 per cent of moisture or less, 100 per cent germinated.

Careful drying and storing of all corn intended to be used as seed is accordingly being urged by the farm crops men of the college, particularly as the supply of seed corn is reported to be dangerously low this season.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM ANDREW KLINGER
U. S. Navy Hospital, New York.
Nov. 1, 1918.

Mr. Wm. Karziske,
Tawas City, Mich.
Dear Father—

I thought it was about time I would write you a few lines and let you know I am well and hoping you all are the same.

I arrived in New York safely, and I am able to get around on crutches.

I am coming home on a furlough for a month. I think I will wait a week or two as I am able to put a little weight on my leg, but I won't be able to walk on it for some time yet. I think I am lucky getting out of it as I did most of the boys are pushing up diseases.

I don't want any more of France for me.

Well father I get good food here and all the broth I want so I can't kick. I will tell you more when I get home. It is supper time now so good bye to all.

yours,
Andrew P. Klinger

FROM ALLEN GARDNER
Oct. 3, 1918.

Received your letter of Sept. 8 last Monday. I am feeling fine thought not in active service yet.

I have not met any boys from Isoco yet, but Chas. Shotwell's outfit is a short distance from here. He is in the same division, and came over the same time we did.

I get the Herald regularly and like to read it. I had a letter from Genevieve the other day, she says she can swim a little. Have been in a few times myself since we came over.

Well Chas. I would like to have been to your corn roast we don't see corn here, and little wheat. I don't call it much of a farming place. The fields are very small, some only one half acre, and not many over three. There are apple trees in nearly every field, but are not taken care of and the apples are small and bitter. I was watching a farmer thresh, they have an odd looking engine, and separator that looks like silage cutter. They carry the straw away and gather up the chaff and run it through a fanner to get the grain. In some places they use horse power instead of an engine.

They grind their grain by a large wind mill, which is built on a hill. I think they use the old mill stones, but have not had a chance to go in one yet. Yesterday I went through an old water mill they used years ago. The mill stream has dried up, but the wheel and machinery inside are still there, the mill stones are about 5 feet in diameter, and the water wheel about 12 feet.

The wagons have only two wheels, and are generally drawn by one horse or a span of oxen. And on market day women run around carrying pigs under their arms, or leading them with a string. A hog that dresses 200 pounds sells for about $125.00.

Now mother guess I'll tell you about the old fashioned wash day. Madame puts her washing on a wheel barrow and hikes to the nearest water, sometimes a canal or pond or creek and runs the wheelbarrow into the water and gets on her knees. Maybe she will have a little straw to kneel on. She then soaps the clothes and lays them on the water and strikes them with a paddle and rubs them against a stone and then they hang over a hedge to dry. I really think you had better keep your 1900.

We are beginning to get our mail oftener now, though have not heard from Al and Helen since I left New York. They likely got my letter after Al left for camp. I hope Genevieve will like her job and get more money. Though I bet its lonesome home without her.

Dear Sister—
Well Mae I just seen Gordon. We have been in the same neighborhood for a long time, but I never could find him. Today he was sent on an errand, and was asking his way. Gee it was good to see him the first time in France and almost in the front line.

Tomorrow morning we go over the top again, and he is going too, so if we get back out of this we will not get a better chance. I will not get a chance to mail this, but if anything should happen maybe some one will take it out of my pocket and mail it. It is raining now and my paper is getting wet. We have not had any dugouts lately, sleeping in the open rolled in two blankets and working at night.

I was up to "No Mans Land" last night, but did not see any Fritzies and guess he did not see us. I sure do wish the next days were over for it is going to be hell for us and the trenches are full of mud. It is awful to see the Infantry men sleeping on the sides of those trenches.

Well I am well and can hike as far as the next fellow so I guess I am all right. Don't worry for it sure is a happy bunch. When they are going to the front they are singing and fooling all the way.

Tell Hattie I have not heard anything of Clifford's regiment. Will close for this time and may be maybe add a little on the end later.

With love to all,
Sergt. Roy C. White.

P. S. Well this is Sunday morning, 29th. Have had breakfast and are waiting to go out to work so may not get this finished.

We got back without a scratch only waded in water nearly to the waist. I seen every horror of war, everything I ever heard or read about. I was going 72 hours on bread hard-tack and water and only three hours sleep. But had a fine night's sleep last night and have a fire in our dug-out now, but suppose we will have to leave it soon.

In the Chicago Tribunt, Sept. 11, is an interesting piece. That shows a chip of the old block.

Somewhere in France, Oct. 4, 1918.

Dearest Mother—
Just a few lines to let you know I received your very welcome letter and very glad to know you are all well at home for these few lines leave me in the very best of spirit and in the best of health, and I am getting along fine.

I had another letter from Earl Bushaw today they are all well everything is just fine over here except the nights are quite chilly, but we don't mind that at all after being down in hot Texas so long.

Dear Mother I was very glad to get your picture I will always carry that picture with me where ever I go and whatever I go through, it will be with me.

So David Lang and Eddie Walters are over here. I would like to meet some of the Tawas boys. Could you send me some of the boys addresses? I would like to write to them.

I would love to see Ethel's babies give them a big hug and kiss for me. I suppose there are lots of Tawas boys over here.

If you see Eino Haglund tell him to write to me. Tell him everything is coming fine over here. How is Hughe and the children, give them my best wishes.

Now dear mother, I am very glad to know you look on the bright side of this great cause, and I thank you very much for the good wishes. So be a brave little mother, and everything will come out fine, and it won't be long before we will all be coming home, and then we will be all together again. Give my love to grandpa, and all at home.

Now my love and best wishes mother. Hoping to see you all soon. I remain your loving son,

"Spokes"— and the Swift
"Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it, his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?
