Armistice Terms Are Drastic

ENEMY ARMY COMPLETELY DISORGANIZED. AMERICA CELEBRATES IN MANNER FITTING TO GREAT OCCASION

KAISER FLEES TO HOLLAND

Events of Past Week Period End of Greatest War in all History

By the terms of an armistice signed by the Germans at six o'clock Monday morning (Washington time) the greatest war in all history, which has raged in Europe for over four years, and in which every major power in the world has been actively engaged, came to a tentative end. Hostilities ceased at that time and the drastic terms provided by the armistice for the conquered foe make the resumption of active warfare highly improbable.

Kaiser Wilhelm, the most hated man in the world today, signed a letter of abdication from the throne of German emperor on Saturday, Nov. 9, and Crown Prince Frederick William also signed a renunciation of his claims to succession to the throne. The whole imperial family and many of the leaders of the military junta have fled into Holland and Switzerland to escape the anger of the German people who have risen in revolt and are now in control of the German government.

The news of the signing of the armistice and the cessation of hostilities was naturally received with great rejoicing all over the world. In the United States, as soon as the news became known, every city and hamlet started a celebration. Stores, factories and schools were closed and every man, woman and child turned out to swell the joyous crowd of celebrants. Whistles, bells and anything that could be converted into a noise-making instrument were called into requisition, and in the cities the surging, joyous mobs blocked the streets and taxed the ability of the entire police force to maintain any kind of order.

In the Tawas celebration began about eight o'clock with the blowing of the fire whistles in both Tawas City and East Tawas and the ringing of the bells of all the churches.

In a short time the streets were black with the shouting, cheering population and automobiles decorated with the national colors and crowded to the limit were running up and down the streets. Drums, horns, cowbells, tin pans, boilers and every contrivance for making a noise were evident, and the crowd was fairly wild with joy. An effigy of the kaiser was hung in a tree near the depot and later another effigy was carried in a rude coffin about the streets and in the evening burned in the big fire which was built to celebrate the occasion.

Material for a big bonfire was secured from the old burned Bay Side hotel and was piled on the beach. About eight o'clock in the evening this was lighted and a big crowd gathered, singing patriotic songs and cheering for everyone they could think of who had had anything to do with winning the war. Altogether it was a holiday that will long be remembered.

WHAT GERMANY GIVES UP

German terms include cessation of hostilities, evacuation of invaded territories, including Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg, Surrender of large amounts of guns and equipment.

Evacuation of left bank of Rhine. Surrender of vast amounts of rolling stock in occupied territories. Abandonment of Bucharest and Brest Litovsk treaties.

Unconditional surrender of all German forces in East Africa. Reparation for damage done. Surrender of scores of submarines and larger warcraft.

Concentration of aircraft at stipulated points. Evacuation of all sea ports. Restoration of all Allied and United States merchant vessels.

Duration of the armistice to be 30 days.

With the signing of the armistice all draft calls and enlistments were stopped, except enlistments for the navy and marine corps. Those of the September registration who had not filled out their questionnaires were notified that it would not be necessary for them to do so. The personnel of the draft boards will, however, be kept intact in case that hostilities are resumed.

Once more American arms have won a notable fight for democracy and the freedom of nations and peoples, and the United States still stands as the one power in the world which has never suffered defeat. The events of the past few months have shown the kaiser, who said the Americans "wouldn't fight" that America is made of different stuff than he reckoned with, and that the wrath of an avenging nation is something to be feared, even though she may suffer long before drawing the sword in the protection of her own rights and the cause of weaker nations.

It is altogether likely that this will be the last war for hundreds of years, as the imperial idea of world domination has received a blow from which it will never recover. A league of nations to enforce peace will undoubtedly be consummated at an early date and the hydra-headed war monster will thereby receive its death blow.

WOMEN OF FRANCE HAVE HOME RULES

American women will read with interest the rules printed for French housewives.

The economic and social section of the League of Patriots has distributed a leaflet urging the French to endure without complaint the restrictions imposed upon them in the interest of their country. The following is a copy.

"Do not forget that we are at war. In your smallest expenditures never lose sight of the interests of the native land. Economize on the products necessary for the life of the country: Coal, bread, meat, milk, sugar, wine, butter, beans, clothes, leather, oil. Accept rations. Ration yourself as to food, clothing, amusements. Save the products of French soil. Let some day you deprive your father, your son, your husband, who are shedding their blood to defend you. Save the products that France must buy from foreign countries. Do not drain reserves of gold which are indispensable to victory.

"Waste nothing. All waste is a crime which imperils the national defense—prolongs your needs. Do not hoard provisions; your selfishness raises prices and deprives those of smaller means of things indispensable to existence. Do not travel unnecessarily. Reflect that our trains are, before all, destined for the transportation of the troops, the feeding of the population, the needs of our national production. Do not remain idle. According to your age and your ability work for your country.

"Do not consume without producing. Idleness is desertion. Accept without murmuring the privations which are imposed upon you. Reflect upon the suffering of those who are fighting for you, upon the martyrdom of the population whose hearths have been devastated by the enemy. Remember that victory belongs to those who can hold out a quarter of an hour the longest. That France may live, she must be victorious."

WAR SAVINGS SALES NEAR BILLION MARK

Including cash received in the Treasury Department on October 21 from the sale of War Savings securities, the total Treasury receipts from this source amounted to $801,453,415.86. This represents the purchase of War Savings stamps to the total maturity value of approximately $950,824,474.10.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM CLARENCE EWING

Archangel, Sept. 23, 1918.

Dear Wife and Son—
 I will try and write you a few lines to let you know I am well and hope you are the same, and that I have not forgotten you at home. I don't think you will be alone much longer, by the way it looks now.

I am a lot farther away from home than I expected to be a year ago. I left the States. There ships coming in every few days so I am expecting about three weeks. I was over to London two different times. There are a lot of girls there and they all want to go to the States when we go back, but I think they will stay there for all of us for me any how. There are a few pretty girls, but they are few and scattering like a hens teeth.

I am in a pretty office writing this they give me the paper and some envelopes, I just got through writing one to Nito. I have not wrote to her since I left Camp Custer. She probably thinks I have forgotten her. I am going to write to Rosa some time soon. I don't know just when.

I expect you will get this letter about Christmas, no sooner anyhow. I have seen lot since Uncle Sam started to feed me and probably will see a lot more.

I expect to get back some time before long and that is all we can look for. Russia has all the places I ever seen beat, that is here. It is very low, swampy, and wet and cold. They raise a lot of vegetables here and also a lot of fishing and lumbering.

There is one street car line running through the main part of the town. Some of the streets are paved with stone and the rest with mud. Most of the buildings are log, a few of them brick. They don't have stores as we do at all. They have what they call market places. They take what they got to sell and buy what they want at the market. The market places are bunch of small buildings about eight by ten square. Some store don't you think? They have everything for sale here but tobacco. It seems to be very scarce here, they are giving us our cigarettes and tobacco, it is not quite enough, but it is a lot more than some people are getting. We can make it do us. Some of the fellows can't, but I do anyhow.

Oh, yes, my two cousins came over on the same boat with me. They are across the Rhine now. I do not know just where they are.

With lots of love to you, and son As ever your loving husband.

Archangel, Russia, Sept. 18, 1918

Dear Wife and Son—
 I now sit down to write you a few lines to let you know I am well, hope you are the same. I am writing this on some paper one of the printers gave me. Probably you can read the heading on it, so you can tell where I am at present. It is Heilde and I are on guard in this printing office. This is some place. It is so far behind the times, but busy just the same, and still they don't do anything I don't know how so many people put in their time. They are always doing something, but don't get ahead very fast.

It has been raining for the last couple of days and the roads are not very good a lot of mud. We are expecting it to freeze up pretty soon.

Well I suppose you folks are all done threshing by this time. I miss some of the meals we use to get when we were threshing, although, we get potatoes to eat here, we don't get the kind we did there, of course we can't expect it you know. The natives here don't get hardly enough to live on. When we first landed here the people thought we were going to take their government away from them. They stopped everything, shut up stores and everything. They have everything going again.

I am writing this letter and I have another ready to mail. The mail only goes when a ship leaves here, and nobody know, when one is coming in or going to leave so we all have two or three ready when it does leave. I don't know when I will get mail. I expected some with the next ship that comes in and it is likely to come in anytime at least I am hoping so. It is likely to be Christmas when you get this so I expect this will have to be your Christmas present.

I suppose the boys are thinking about going hunting. I sure do miss my hunting trip. I will make up for it when I get back and I don't think it will take long now the way the Yanks are wading into them dam Germans do you. There is a lot of them here, but they don't cause much trouble and more I guess they are sick of it.

Oh! yes, there is a big fur dealer here. I was over to see his furs the other day and he had some white bear skin, one of them was six or seven feet wide and ten or eleven feet long, sorry to say. The head was mounted on the skin, the claws were on it too. He only wanted two thousand rubles and a ruble is ten cents in our money. Some nice price too I claim. I would like to have one to make a coat with.

How is Claude and Mabel. Is she going to teach school this year. I suppose Jim is still on the ranch. I hardly know any more to write, so will close with love to you, and son and best regards to all. Hoping you folks are all well and keep well.

Ever your loving husband

FROM LEONARD BOUCHARD

Sept, 1918.

Dear Mother—
 I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know that I am well, hoping these few lines will find you all the same. Write and let me know how everybody is at home and in Tawas.

The war will soon be over, for we will soon have them to a finish. The American boys on the Westfront are giving them a good deal now. We will be home in a year. They'll get that old Kaiser yet.

Hoping I hear from you soon I am as ever, your true son and soldier boy.

Sept 1, 1918

Dear Mother—
 Just a few lines to let you know that I am in a different place now. I am in Russia now.

It has been a very long time since I heard from you. I have wrote a good many letters and postals but I have never heard or got any answer from you.

I have seen good many different places, I don't know whether my letters reach you or not. I wish you would get this one, and that I get an answer from you. It takes a very long time for letters to travel for it is such a long ways from here where I am to get a letter home, and an answer back again.

When the war is over we will all be back again. I only wish I could see the old place now, but soon will for we will get that Kaiser soon.

Well mother my address is different now it is like this now

Oct. 4, 1918.

Dear Mother—
 I received your letter, and also Margarets. They were wrote on July 23. I received them in October. They went clear through to France and then they came back to Russia, where we are. I also got a letter from aunt Vina and from Renie Beaucage to, but they were all letters dated in July, and I got them in Oct. I also got two of the Herald's. It seems good to read it. I expect to get more mail any day now. Riene Beaucage sent me a pin of the Sacred Heart. It's very nice.

The letters I got, were one that you sent me when I was in Camp Mills that was when I was in the states, but I have had trouble since I crossed the ocean and went to England and then from there to Archangel Russia that is in northern Russia.

I like it fine. I had to laugh when I read that it was very hot home, and you were in haying time. They were old, but nevertheless it was very nice to read them.

Mother I may have letters from you by the time you get this one.

Hoping these few lines will reach you, and answer soon. The mail will travel faster now, as soon as you get my address in Russia, for this mail I got had to go through France and return again to Russia.

Well I will bring these few lines to a close. Hoping to hear from you soon.

FROM JAMES EARL WEBB

Oct. 19, 1918

Dear Mother and All—
 Just a few lines to let you know that I am all O. K. am feeling pretty good. Was up to the disability board yesterday. I do not know what they are going to do with me, but I expect to be sent to replacement camp soon.

Well I still have my first letter read in France. I do not know what the matter is, maybe you are not getting my letters, so you do not know what my address is, but I have written to you most every week since I landed here.

The weather is getting pretty cold here now, do not know what I will do if it gets much colder. Ha ha. There is not much news to write, staying around the hospital. I got tired of staying in town so another fellow and I took a walk out into the country. We had a good time. It is odd to see how the French people farm. We had all the apples we could eat, also some English walnuts. We climbed a hill and we could look across the country for a long ways. In the distance we could see mountain peaks extending to the clouds. Some sight.

Well what do you people think of the Kaiser's peace proposals. He cannot fool the people of the good old U. S. A. as easy as he thought. I see German prisoners every day and I tell you they are a batty looking bunch. Lots of kids that do not look over sixteen.

We do not get very much money here. I got forty-five francs the other day, that is worth about seven dollars and a half in U. S. money. Well I will have to hurry for it is nearly dinner time and if we are late we have to wait until the last table and do not like to do that. Ha ha.

Now dear mother do not worry for I am all right and I do not think the war will last much longer. So will close with love to all from your loving son and brother.

Mary had a little cold,
 It started in her head.
 And everywhere that Mary went
 That cold was sure to spread.
 It followed her to school one day,
 There wasn't any rule.
 It made the children cough and sneeze
 To have that cold in school.
 The teachers tried to drive it out,
 She tried hard, but—kerchoo-oo!
 It didn't do a bit of good
 For teachers caught it too.

HERALD ADVERTISING GETS RESULTS

PEACE!

The coming of peace means the defeat of the German and the cessation of all fighting—it does not mean that our work is finished.

Our sons and brothers and neighbors are in Europe and they must have your backing every minute of the time until they get back home. Do not forget that it has taken eighteen months to get two million American Soldiers to France, and it will take perhaps two years to get them back.

When fighting ceases, there will be for them a monotonous round of guard duty and drill—the excitement and exultation of their splendid fight for democracy will be gone. During that period they will need your support for healthy recreation and mental inspiration even more than during the fighting days.

The splendid work of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Salvation Army and the other Institutions that are backing our boys up in France will continue until the last soldier leaves for home. They will need your financial help up to the minute the last soldier sails.

When our boys have done their duty so splendidly you must not fail them now. Make your contribution to the United War Work Campaign—make it generously and fully, with the firm avowal that you are with the American soldier until he has returned to his family and is a soldier no longer.

Many farmers fail to realize that their dairy cattle are the best money makers on the farm, care and expense considered. Many families find that a few cows take care of all their living expenses and often leave a balance on the credit side of the ledger besides at the close of the year.

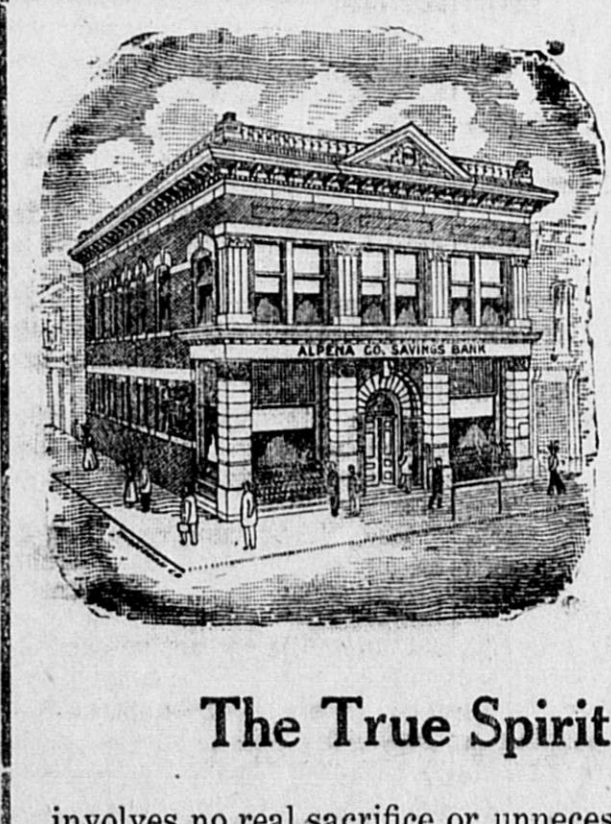

Are your cows paying a dividend? If not there is something wrong. Give them good care, use a good cream separator, and bring your cream to us, where you get the highest market price, and you will find your cows a mighty valuable asset.

He is survived by his wife, father, mother, seven brothers and sisters, one of whom, Mrs. N. J. Getso lives in Lansing at 1410 Reo. ave.—Lansing Exchange.

Corporal Staley was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Staley of Hale. He was born near Big Rapids, Mecosta county, October 25, 1894. He came to Hale with his parents about 10 years ago, where he made his home until his marriage.

He was married in December 1917 to Miss Alma Lindsay of Whittemore, and the young couple made their home in Lansing, where Glenn was employed.

Besides the bereaved wife he leaves to mourn his death his father and mother, two brothers and five sisters.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MICHIGAN

"For nineteen months America has been at war—nineteen months of tension, anxiety, and sorrow.

"With bowed heads we stand beside those of our own and of our allies whose loved ones have made the supreme sacrifice. With loving sympathy we honor them whose greatest pride lies in the fact that "he gave his life for the cause of Freedom."

For those who returned scarred by the elements of conflict, we can but pray that the privilege of assisting will be ours, and that we may grasp every opportunity for practical expression of our gratitude.

To that vast majority who have offered their all and yet come back unscratched, we extend the hand of welcome and the heart of thankfulness.

Many months will yet pass before these can join once more their family group—many tedious months of loneliness and waiting. Patience must be ours, and always the will to serve them.

Compared with our glorious allies, our people have been spared the hardships and sacrifice of war.

Let us, People of Michigan, seize the opportunity now providentially presented to us through this Michigan Patriotic campaign—seize the opportunity to send in doubled measure "the ties of home" to comfort and keep safe our boys during this soul-trying period of demobilization—seize the opportunity, not by lip service, but by an unparalleled demonstration of generous thank-offerings, to express our heartfelt gratitude to Almighty God for the Victory that is ours and the Peace that will shine upon a world of Freedom."

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor of Michigan

Although an armistice has been signed, and fighting stopped, it does not necessarily mean that all our troubles are over. Many changes have taken place in this world during the past year; few can realize what the changes mean, and how far reaching they will be. But everyone knows that in union there is strength. None of the Nations at war against Germany could stand against her alone. They were compelled to unite under competent leadership in order to accomplish results. Our own part in the war has demonstrated that united efforts, of a united people, have placed a large army on foreign soil fed and clothed many of the allied people. This was done by a united people behind a united government. Not only men, but women, children, yes, nearly everyone united their efforts, and see what has been accomplished. We are now facing greater problems than we had during the war. Reconstruction takes more thought and planning. If during war a united people can accomplish things, it stands to reason that a united people can do much more during the reconstruction period.

The school house is the logical meeting place of the people in every community. Meetings should be held under proper supervision to discuss the great problems of the day, and the best methods of overcoming these problems. This winter when conditions permit it is planned to hold meetings in every school house. Exhibits by students of their work, and exhibits by farmers of the results of their work, along with music and good times, will unite the people of this county. When once united great good should result.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham.

Ship Built of Mahogany.
There is a vessel built of mahogany. Her name is Matchless and she is now used by the coast and geodetic survey. She was built by pirates near Key West in 1859, of mahogany stolen from a stranded merchant vessel. It is said she was the last vessel to bring slaves from the West Indies to the United States.
