When David W. Griffith was directing scenes just back of the trenches in France, shells fell and exploded within a hundred feet of him three different times, and at each explosion Lillian and Dorothy Gish promptly fainted. The lecture is free.

Captain McLean of the Canadian army, who has seen four years service on the Western Front, addressed the high school students at the high school last Friday morning. He spoke chiefly of the relations of England and the United States after the war and of the work of the "Y. M. C. A." in France. O. S. Nicholls of Long Lake was a visitor in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls left Tuesday for Powhatan Court House, Virginia, where they intend to make their home in the future, having disposed of most of their interests in Iosco county. They have been closely connected with the social and religious life in this part of the country for a number of years, and it is with great regret that their many friends see them leave. The Herald joins with these friends in wishing them all happiness and prosperity in their new home.

A splendid patriotic meeting was held at the court house Tuesday evening, the court room being filled to its capacity. The meeting was opened with the singing of popular and patriotic songs, music being furnished by the high school orchestra. Capt. McLean of the 110th Canadian Batt. was then introduced, and for over an hour kept his audience intensely interested in his descriptions of life on the battle front and experiences he had been through. Capt. McLean is a forceful speaker, though he is handicapped somewhat because of an experience with a German shell, which rendered him speechless for two weeks, and still interferes with his enunciation.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB
The Twentieth Century Club met at the home of Mrs. L. J. Patterson last Saturday afternoon.

After a patriotic opening the meeting was given over to a lecture by Miss Anna Cowles of the M. A. C. Extension bureau, who spoke in a very able manner on the relation of women to reconstruction, industrially and in the educational field.

She told of the need of giving the poorer children, rural or city, the same educational advantage as the more favored classes now enjoy. While not neglecting the liberal education she urged that the schools give the girls practical training to supplement and inspire that of the mother in the home, for the purpose of making wives and mothers of the future more capable. Miss Cowles has a most pleasing manner and is a fluent and entertaining speaker, and the club was fortunate in being privileged to hear her.

The next meeting of the club will be held Nov. 30 at the home of Miss Effie Graham.

DEATH OF BENJAMIN SLINGERLAND

In the death of Benjamin W. Slingerland, who passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Proper, last Friday morning, Nov. 15, 1918, Iosco county lost her oldest inhabitant and also one of her earliest pioneers. At the time of his death Mr. Slingerland was 99 years, one month and 28 days of age. Both he and his many friends had hoped that he might live to round out the century, but Providence decreed otherwise, and he missed the mark by a matter of some ten months.

Benjamin W. Slingerland was born in New York state Sept. 16, 1819. At the age of 12 he removed with his parents to Canada, where he remained until he came to Michigan. In 1842 he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Fairchild, and their record of over 75 years of married life was only broken by the death of Mrs. Slingerland, which occurred last March. This record probably stands unparalleled in Michigan, and seldom elsewhere.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Slingerland, four of whom survive. They are: Sylvester Slingerland of Grand Rapids, Agnes and Frank of Flint, and Mrs. Wm. Proper of the Townline. There are also 16 grandchildren and 33 great grandchildren.

In 1852 the family moved to Michigan and spent a few months at Saginaw and Bay City before coming to Alabaster, where their life has since been spent, with the exception of a few months which the old couple spent with their children in Flint last winter.

A good sized book could be written of the experience of these aged pioneers. When they first came to Iosco county it was a veritable wilderness, without a town or even a store, the nearest trading point being Bay City. There were no railroads, nor even a stage route on those days, and Mr. Slingerland made frequent trips to Bay City to secure supplies, in the summer going by team and wagon and in the winter making the trip on ice skates and dragging a heavily loaded hand sled behind him. It is related that on one of these trips he was returning with a big load, among which was a keg of nails. Mr. Slingerland skated into an air hole in the ice and went in up to his shoulder. Upon climbing out on the ice he found that his keg of nails had fallen from the sled into the hole. He thereupon jumped back in the water and seizing the keg hoisted it out, again climbed upon the ice and resumed his journey.

He was engaged in fishing for some time after coming here and also sailed a small boat making trips across the bay for trading purposes. He finally homesteaded a piece of land in Alabaster township and the balance of his days were spent in farming until he became too old for active work.

Mr. Slingerland retained his faculties up to the time of his death and was a great deal more spry and active than many a man of sixty. The past year or so his eyesight had failed him, but he was still able to see enough to walk around and make even quite extended trips. Since the death of his wife, however, he had seemed to fail more rapidly.

The funeral services were held at the Alabaster Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17, and the remains of the old pioneer were laid to rest beside those of his wife, that those who had been comrades for so many years in life might not be parted even in death.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

"Now, therefore, our God, we thank Thee and praise Thy glorious name." We, the people of Michigan, have many reasons for thankfulness.

We are thankful that our fertile fields have yielded abundantly of their fruits.

We are thankful that a dread epidemic has been stayed, through the prompt measures taken by the public health authorities the State and the intelligent cooperation of the whole people.

We are thankful that we are Americans, and that no part of our land has been laid waste by the cruel ravages of war.

We are thankful that our Michigan soldiers and sailors, by their deeds of valor, have written a glorious chapter in the annals of the Great War; and that the indomitable spirit of our people has manifested itself to the end.

But, most of all, are we thankful that this terrible, devastating war, which for more than nineteen months has dominated our thoughts and dictated our action, is at last practically ended and soon we shall be free to devote our energies and activities to the constructive arts of peace. The long night of darkness and sorrow and travail and tears and blood is over and the day of blessed peace has dawned upon the world—peace with victory.

Therefore, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the president of the United States in designating "Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer."

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.
ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor

IOSCO COUNTY SCHOOLS

Commissioner will have a supply of patterns for "Junior Red Cross" work in several schools. He expects to be able to supply our county demands.

Our Community meetings are beginning to take on a new lease of life. Last week an excellent instructive rally was held in No. 1, Wilber. After the program a permanent organization was perfected.

To night (Nov. 20) A meeting will be held in No. 3, Baldwin, Friday evening No. 2, Grant. These meetings will do much to make life rich for us all.

A splendid feature is the Community Singing. A singing people is always a live progressive citizenship. Our boys go over the top singing, let us in the line behind the line do like wise.

Vine School Notes

A community meeting will be held at the school house Tuesday evening, Nov. 27th. A patriotic program will be given by the pupils.

The following essay "Why We Should Buy War Savings Stamps", was written by Vernon St. Martin, a member of the 6th grade class.

Commissioner Campbell and Captain McLean visited school Tuesday afternoon. Captain McLean gave a short talk which was enjoyed by all. Our government expects each person in Michigan to buy twenty dollars worth of War Savings Stamps. We should save all we can to help Uncle Sam by buying War Savings Stamps, because we cannot afford to be slackers. Can we?

We should buy War Savings Stamps to help our government buy ammunition and supplies for our soldiers, to buy ships to take our soldiers to France, to buy provisions to feed our soldiers and Allies, to help our government buy guns and fighting equipment for our soldiers, and to help furnish our government with money, so that it might lend money to our Allies. We should buy War Savings Stamps to help our government buy clothing and pay our soldiers wages and their allotments to their beneficiaries in case of death or accident, and to help Uncle Sam win the war.

Does Uncle Sam do what he promises? Yes. Uncle Sam always does what he promises, so every one should buy as many War Savings Stamps as possible. If we have not four dollars and twenty-two cents, is there any other way in which we can help Uncle Sam? We can save our pennies until we get twenty-five cents and then we can get a Thrift Stamp and when we get sixteen Thrift Stamps, we can get a War Savings Stamp by adding Twenty-two cents this month and then lend it to Uncle Sam and in 1923 Uncle Sam will give us a five dollar bill.

Grant No. 2
Little Alta Warner visited school last Friday.

The boys are helping with the sewing in Red Cross.

The eighth grade are studying the Revolutionary War.

Our boys and girls are enrolling as Victory Boys and Victory Girls.
The attendance was lowered the first of the week because of the muddy roads.

The third and fourth grades are studying the use of is and are, and was and were.

The second and third grade are very proud of having their arithmetic papers hanging on the wall.
Some in our History class were surprised this week when they learned that the Battle of Bunker Hill was fought on Breed's Hill.

Mr. Campbell and Captain McLean visited school Tuesday afternoon. We always like to have Mr. Campbell with us, and we especially enjoyed hearing a real Captain tell of some of his experience "over there."

A community meeting will be held at Grant No. 2 Friday evening, Nov. 22. Mr. John A. Campbell, commissioner of schools, and Mr. C. P. Milham, County agent for Iosco county will be with us at this meeting. Everybody welcomed. Come prepared to sing.

Wilber, District No. 1 High room

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION CALENDAR 1919

The publishers of The Youths Companion will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription is paid for 1919, a Calendar for the new year. It is a gem of calendar-making. The decorative mounting is rich, but the main purpose has been to produce a calendar that is useful, and that purpose has been achieved.

The Herald was misinformed as to the memorial services in honor of Walter Sylvester. They were to have been held Sunday evening, Nov. 10, but because of illness in the family of relatives they are postponed until Sunday evening, Nov. 24.

Mr. A. Stonehouse who cut his knee badly some three weeks ago, had just begun to recover the use of it when he fell Saturday and injured it again so seriously that he will probably be confined to his bed for some time. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Nichols, who have been Iosco county residents for the past fourteen years have sold out all their holdings in this vicinity and left Tuesday for Virginia, where they have extensive real estate interests. Prettyman, and F. F. French, being the speakers. Rev. Edwin Stevens closed the meeting by reciting a poem of his own composition written at the time of the dedication of the service flag at his former charge. While it was mostly prophecy then it has now become history.

Mrs. Clarke was in Brussels when the Germans entered the city and related some horrible details of the scenes she witnessed. The large audience who gathered at St. Joseph's church Sunday afternoon to hear her, were disappointed, as she found it necessary to cancel that engagement in order to reach other appointments.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham.

Thanksgiving is approaching. Let everyone who helped raise or save the food which won the war be thankful for the part played. Let all be thankful for the opportunities the future will bring, and take advantage of those opportunities which will be of the greatest service in days to come.

Community meetings are well attended, and everyone enjoys the "get together" times at those meetings. That their future will be bright is assured from the interest taken in them.

The International Livestock Exposition will be held in Chicago Nov. 30 to Dec. 7. The best horses, cattle, sheep, and swine in the world will be exhibited. Livestock on every farm is necessary to maintain fertility at its best. The International shows what can be raised by good breeding and good feeding methods. It will be well worth attending.

A National conference of county agents will be held in Chicago at the International Livestock building in the afternoon and evening of December first. The Iosco county agent is planning on attending. Will return by Friday, December sixth.

ANOTHER LIBERTY LOAN COMING

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has announced that, no matter what the result of the pending overtures for peace may be, there will be another Liberty loan. To use his expression, "We are going to have to finance peace for a while just as we have had to finance war."

There are over 2,000,000 United States soldiers abroad. If we transport these men back to the United States at the rate of 300,000 a month, it will be over half a year before they are all returned. Our Army, therefore, must be maintained, victualled, and clothed for many months after peace is an actuality.

The American people, therefore, having supported the Liberty loan with a patriotism that future historians will love to extol, will have an opportunity to show the same patriotism in financing the just and conclusive victorious peace whenever it comes.

Not for a moment, however, is the Treasury acting on any assumption that peace is to come soon. Until peace is actually assured the attitude of the Treasury and the attitude of the whole United States Government is for the most vigorous prosecution of the war, and the motto of force against Germany without stint or limit will be acted up to until peace is an absolute accomplished fact.

One more Liberty loan, at least, is certain. The fourth loan was popularly called the "Fighting Loan"; the next loan may be fighting loan, too, the conditions, the loan must be prepared for and its success rendered certain and absolute. Begin now to prepare to support it.

BOY WANTED

EMBLEMS OF DEATH FOR TOYS

Reprinted by Request from the Editorial Section of Popular Mechanics Magazine December Issue, 1918

New York, Oct. 23.—Several thousand cases of German made toys arrived here today.—Associated Press.

Toys? For whom? For the innocents carried down when the "Lusitania" sank? For those tear-eyed Belgian children who stretch forth little arms from which the hands were struck off by the swords of German officers? For those French boys and girls with pitiful sightless eyes? For those whose little bodies rest in the churchyards of Italy, that died in pain from poisoned Hun candy? For those other children slowly starved to death in Poland or massacred in Armenia?

Toys? Toys made by Huns to whom innocence and childhood are but toys to be played with and then crushed and broken? Toys whose very contact contaminates and leaves upon the touch of babyhood invisible clots of blood? As well bring a deadly serpent into the home to spew its venom on the cradle. Why shall we be foul and taint the purity of American childhood with a reminder of the fiendish treatment the Huns have gloried in ever since that fateful August of 1914? Can one even look upon a Noah's Ark "Made in Germany" and put from his mind those hundreds of helpless innocents whose silken locks are twined with seaweed? Can one hold a German doll in her arm and forget the thousand dead from famine who once made glad a mother's arms? Can a boy find delight in the contortions of mechanical Hun clown and forget those brave young men who writhed in agony when crucified on castle walls by these same Huns? Can a ball colored with the red of Huns fail to suggest the flame from busting grenades hurled by arms uplifted in the attitude of "kamerad"?

Let those who would invite fearsome ghosts into the home to hover round the Christmas tree buy German toys. If one would hang the boughs with evil omens, and bid the wail of agonized spirits float through the branches and fan the flickering flame of candles, let him buy German toys. Let those who can, make merry with the product of those very hands which so recently were eagerly filling shells with poison gases and deadly flames and hurling them against our own flesh and blood.

And what of the merchant who for sordid gain would barter these sordid gain would barter these souvenirs of a loathsome nation and insult the loyalty of lipping lips? What could more delight the cunning Hun, what more quickly bring the sneering smile to cruel faces, or gladden heartless hearts, or encourage him to hope that even now we tolerate his brutality and welcome what he wants to sell? If now, when as a nation we are in universal condemnation of Hunism, yet do we hold out our hands to accept his works, what will he think and with what measure shall he estimate the sincerity of our expression of repugnance and horror at what he has done since the sun rose this morning? What mitigation can we claim in the thought that America was not yet overseas when these trinkets were fashioned? Even while the gaudy paint was yet fresh upon these trinkets were Belgian girls being dragged into slavery worse than death.

We do not lack for toys; toys by trainloads made in American factories, by hands which are clean; toys also by carloads made by our ally in Japan where childhood is sacred, and love, not hate, is taught at mothers' breast. Even were there none, far better our boys and girls should go without than find pleasure in the handiwork of a nation which made a public holiday to celebrate the loss of the "Lusitania," and which in these latter days is steeped in the "glory" of monstrosities. Could our little men who sacrifice many a childish pleasure to buy war stamps and contribute pennies to the Red Cross, and our little mothers who knit so patiently with hands that can barely hold the needles, would one of these knowingly find any pleasure in any toy "Made in Germany"?

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM CLAYTON BAGULEY

With the American Army at the Front. France, Oct. 7, 1918
Dear Mother and All:—
I received two letters from you this noon, and decided to try and take the chance of answering as soon as I could, for those chances don't come very often, for as you will see by the papers we are hard at it again, and goodness alone knows when we will again get a real rest, but some of these days are long we are going to get the "Boches" all over on our side and then we'll all go back to the good old U. S. A. and get that rest. Believe me mother if it were not for the dear folks "over there" there are times when us boys wouldn't care what hapened to us, but it helps to keep our courage up, when we know that you are backing us up in every possible way. We were just going to eat dinner to day when a couple of good sized "souvenirs" came sailing over from the enemy, landing near enough to us to make us sit up and take notice. I don't know why it is but there is something in that six-iz-iz bang that makes one feel a trifle uneasy, though of course we are quite used to it now and don't notice it so much as we used to do. I noticed in the front sheet of the Herald you sent some time ago that I had been under shell fire a couple of times, and I had to laugh when I thought of how many times I have been in it since, in fact I have been in range of the big ones practically ever since.

There are plenty of things happening to keep us quite interested here. I am about 8 miles back of the front lines just now, but our guns are in it, and when we hear a good barrage being sent over to Fritz, we know that our battery is sending them over just as fast as any of the rest and doing their limit to keep the Hun on the run. Our regiment has as good a reputation as any over here, and that means a lot to us.

Mother, we are sleeping in pup-tents here now. Although some of the fellows are lucky enough to have dugouts. Just at present I am sitting in a dugout occupied by my old chum Redford, of Lansing writing this letter by aid of two candles, just enough light to see by and a little fire burning to keep us warm. It is a good 40 feet under ground and of course altogether a very comfortable place.

It is fascinating to watch the battles in the air here, darting at one another like so many birds, with their machine guns spitting fire, and then one or two will go crashing to the ground. The anti-aircraft guns usually keep the enemy planes busy if any of our battle planes are not around at the time. The little puffs of smoke show where the shells are bursting, black for the high explosive and white for the shrapnel and so a person can tell how near they are coming to the plane. If things get too hot for him, he will change his course, or drive to try to get out of range, for it takes some time for the projectile to travel up so high. The main object of the anti-aircraft guns is to throw a barrage up and so make the plane turn back and go through the barrage which is a pretty dangerous proposition. Sometimes we will see a couple of planes up so high they are but mere specks and then one will swoop down suddenly and sweeping at full speed past an observation balloon, and with a few shots from his machine gun set it on fire. Of course the observer in the basket of the balloon is informed by telephone from the ground if he hasn't already noticed the approach of the plane, and will jump with a parachute, usually landing safely. When the plane comes down low in pursuit of a balloon there will perhaps be 25 or more machine guns put-putting away at him, and one wonders how he ever gets away. The Germans lose more balloons by far than we do, and their aviators often pay the penalty of their life by being so daring.

Our artillery throws over an awful barrage when the infantry is going over the top, and the cannonading is fierce, even if our men are getting shelled pretty hard, they will be cheerful and say "Thank God we are not on the other side."

The Boches send over a good number of "duds" (shells that don't explode) and when you hear one coming pretty close to you and only hear the thud as it strikes the ground you breathe a good bit easier and hope the next one won't be so close. I remember one day when the men were carrying dinner to the gun position, that it was real funny, at least to us. The road was being shelled pretty hard and one came over and struck about 6 feet to the side of one of the men; it didn't explode, but shook the ground from the force. The poor fellow just looked at the hole for a moment and then dropped the gravy he was carrying and started going across the field. Luckily the gravy didn't spill and so the boys were not out of that part of the meal.

We haven't come across any of the boys from Camp Custer yet. Cousin Ethel from Wales writes often and says she is sending me some cookies over, so of course I shall be looking out for them.

We are getting very damp and rainy weather now, and living in a pup tent is not the best life there is. I have a slight cold, but hope I will come out O. K. I hope the peace rumors that we hear frequently will soon be the real thing for we are all ready to come back home again.

It is about supper time, and so I must close. Write as often as you can and I will try and do the same. With love to all, and remember me to all the old friends at Tawas and East Tawas.

FROM EDWARD J. KARZISKI

France, Oct. 18, 1918.
Mr. William Karziski,
Tawas City, Mich., R. D. 1.

Dear Father:—
I thought it was about time to write and let you know how I am getting along.

I don't know whether you have written me any letters or not, but I have not received any from home for about two months.

Dad, I am in the hospital in France. I got wounded in a battle on Oct. 13, and had an operation on the 16th. I got hit with shrapnel in several places, just below my right shoulder blade in the back, right arm in the muscle and slight wounds, in front below the collar bone and in my right leg below the hip. The last two in the front are only small, but the wounds in my back and arm will take some time to heal. However, everything is coming O. K. I am getting so I feel pretty good and the people take good care of us here.

The Red Cross gives us tobacco, chewing gum and candy all free of charge.

How are all you folks at home? Suppose you are busy getting in the crops. Well my arm is getting awful sore and tired. I will close for this time. Good Bye.

France, Oct. 14, 1918

Mrs. Wm. H. Rahl
Hale, Michigan
Dear Madam:—

This morning as I was dressing for a mission that required flying at an altitude of about three thousand meters, I hunted through my kit bag for an extra warm pair of socks and finally chose a pair of heavy olive drab ones that were given to me by the Red Cross at Camp Custer before I started over seas that until now I had never had occasion to wear. But when I started to put them on I found the little card which you see pinned at the head of my letter attached to them.

Believe me we do appreciate these warm things that you women of America have made for us and the work of the Red Cross in getting them to us. And further I think that we who are in the air service appreciate them more than the others for up there we have two enemies to fight, the cold and the Hun, and it is sometimes hard to decide which is the worst, and as the machine gun is the weapon for the Hun so those home knit woolen things are the weapon for our other foe.

It may interest you to know that now when the air is so full of German peace that the men over here, while they are anxious to get home to their own hand and their loved ones are more anxious that they be allowed to bring this job of ours to a finish that will be so conclusive that a repetition of this war will be forever impossible. The answer to that is let us go on through Germany.

Thanking you for your part in the loyal backing that the women of America, our women, are giving us.

I am
Very truly yours,
Lieut. Phil F. Helmer

What an Exporter Must Know.
A needs factory had sent to Aleppo, Turkey, needles that were tied up with green twine. The Mahometan merchant who had ordered them returned the package, for the reason that the use of the green, the color consecrated to the prophet, for such a purpose was a derision of religion. Another consignment of the same factory to China wrapped up in white paper was returned because the Chinese recipient would not accept goods packed in "paper of mourning." White is the mourning color of the Chinese.

Some Grievance!

The railroad official invited the stern citizen to communicate his troubles. "I want you to give orders," demanded the visitor, "that the engineer of the express which passes through Elm Grove at about 11:55 be restrained from blowing his whistle on Sunday mornings."

"Impossible!" exploded the official. "What prompts you to make such a ridiculous request?"
"Well, you see," explained the citizen, "in an undertone, 'our pastor preaches until he hears the whistle blow, and that confounded express was 20 minutes late last Sunday.'"—Lamb.

We met at Hale Sept 28, to inspect the county roads and bridges. We found that the Esmond road in Plainfield township in fair condition, but needs some repairing. We found the Hemlock stone road in need of repairs in many places and we would recommend that the road be made wider from the AuGres river, west 80 rods as the road is too narrow for safety. We inspected the road north of Whittemore and found the same to be in good condition, the bridges on said road are in good condition. We then inspected the Grand Sherman road and found that to be in fair condition. We then went to Hemlock sand and clay road and found the same to be in a rough and badly cut up condition. We found the Indian lake road in good condition. We then went to Alabaster and found it to be in very poor condition and should be repaired. We then inspected the Wilber road, the gravel part is in good condition, but the sand and clay part in very poor condition, and badly cut up, and need repairing. We then inspected the new Hemlock, which has recently been built and found that in good condition. We then went to Oscoda to inspect the VanEttan lake road and found the same to be in fine condition, the sand and clay part of VanEttan lake road we found to be in bad condition. A PLEASANT REUNION.

The party at the Town Hall last Friday evening in honor of Will Degrow was attended by 54 guests and was an evening enjoyed by old and young. The time was spent in music, singing and games until a late hour when lunch was served, after which was a song service of the nation's popular anthems. A few remarks of welcome were rendered by William Waters.

Will Degrow was prevailed upon to relate some of his experiences over there, during which time perfect quiet reigned in the hall. He was among the first to be sent out to help the French, who were retreating, and to stem the tide of the on rushing Germans who outnumbered them 10 to 1. At one time he was 52 hours without water and the weather warmer than our warmest days of summer. On one occasion he was one of the lucky 5 out of 250 that got back. Another time he and 2 others were sent out sniping. They were watching the Huns as they crossed from one piece of woods to another and he said if one of them succeeded in getting across they were going some, but few succeeded. They were lying close enough to touch each other. One of them was killed, the other wounded 17 times, and he came out O. K. His wounded comrade returned home with him.

On July 18 we are sorry to relate our hero was wounded in the side with a bullet which is still there; just back of one ear with shrapnel, and had his left hand badly shattered. This is why we had the privilege of his presence. Unlike other parties we have held for our boys going into service, you could note on so many faces an expression of appreciation instead of a heartfelt sorrow and our hearts mingle with those of the father and mother in their feeling of gratitude that their son was spared to return to them, notwithstanding he was one to endure the hardships in the world's greatest struggle.

Words seem to fail us at this time to express to him our innermost feelings, but we hope when opportunity permits we will never fail to show our appreciation for what he and others have done to make the world free for Democracy.

At the close of our meeting three cheers were given our soldier boy and as we extended to him a parting hand there was a feeling of pride, also of joy that those days of horror were ended. Although he will be absent from us we are trusting his mission will be a bright and prosperous one.

WOULD NOT TOLERATE SEDITION.

By the act of the New York legislature of March 30, 1781, provision was made to punish more effectually adherents to the king. It enacted that anyone who preached, taught, spoke, wrote, or printed that the king of Great Britain had dominion in New York or who seduced the allegiance of anyone in the state was guilty of a felony without benefit of clergy, though the court could commute the sentence from death to service for three years in the navy of the United States.

Unlike Topsy— Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Grown"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

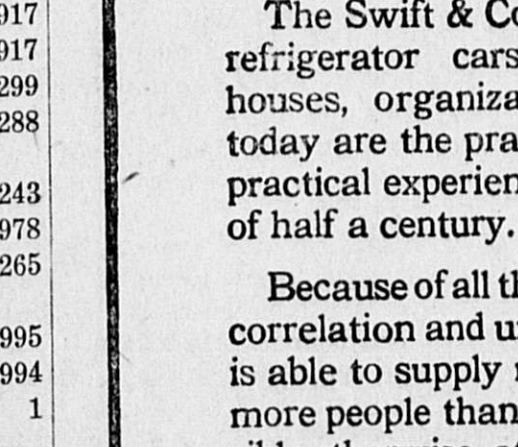

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of half a century.

Because of all these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.
