DEATH OF JOHN ALDA

The many friends of John H. Alda of Wilber township learned with sincere regret of his death, which occurred at his home last Thursday evening, after a short illness with heart trouble, aged 58 years, 10 months and 27 days. The same year they opened a small store in connection with the postoffice and by industry and fair dealing have attained a considerable trade with the farming population of the township.

BUILDINGS AS WAR MEMORIALS
War memorials in England are to take the form largely of spacious buildings, if the plans so far made may be taken as an indication of the general program. The United States Department of Labor has just received information regarding it.

The most ambitious project yet proposed is that of the Veterans' Association, which is planning an "Imperial Memorial," to include erection and endowment of buildings for a "Veterans' Club," with at least 1,000 bed rooms, and a convalescent home for discharged men. It is estimated that at least $1,000,000 will be required to carry out the project on adequate preliminary lines.

Another important plan calls for the erection of an "Overseas Memorial," a vast hotel for the use of all men and women from the overseas possessions. It will be built in the heart of London.

Glasgow University purposes to erect a small chapel on the west side of the present buildings.

The Leys School Memorial Fund now exceeds £32,000, on which a first charge of £20,000 has been laid for the foundation of entrance and leaving scholarship in memory of those who have fallen in the war. It is intended now to secure additional support to provide for erection of a memorial hall in honor of the part played in the war by the old boys of Leys. Designs for the hall already have been drawn by Sir Aston Webb. It would front on the Trumpington Road and would be a striking architectural landmark on the entrance into Cambridge.

Such plans for war memorials have been endorsed by leading interests, including the Architects and Builders' Journal.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG JOB

Uncle Sam is preparing to ride rough shod over visionary schemes that offer Government ownership and ruthless experiments that may bring disaster to the greatest industrial interests of the nation. Among the lessons of the war that must have been impressed upon all thoughtful people is the effectiveness of sane public control and private initiative and operation, each performing their part in adding to the progress of the country and the comfort of the people.

HERE'S GERMAN SELF RE-PROACH

"We have only to beat our chests as we stand before the grave which we ourselves have dug." It is the Boche cry of impotent rage. What is remarkable about it is that the rage is against the Germans themselves.

It's the final sentence of an harangue of self-blame printed by a German newspaper called the "Gazette of the Cross."

Here is what the "Gazette of the Cross" says: "At the beginning of last year we were a proud, all-powerful people, crowned with the laurels of victory. Here we are now—disarmed and given up hand and foot, to the mercy of the enemy. Our invincible army has been beaten.

"The passage in Scripture which says, 'You will be despised among all nations,' has come true for us.

"Shame eats into our hearts. For that which is the most terrible for us is that we cannot accuse God or the world for what has become of us. We can accuse only ourselves. 'We have only to beat our chests before the grave which we ourselves dug.'"

WHAT DO YOU SAY?

"Hold 'em."

That's an American cry. You've heard it on the football field. Marines at Chateau Thierry heard it and held for civilization.

Whittlesey's "Lost Battalion" heard it and stuck.

Yanks in meeting innumerable merciless counter-attacks obeyed and never yielded a foot of French soil. And now the appeal goes out to twenty million Americans who have bought Liberty Bonds.

To sell those bonds is to weaken the line back of our uncompleted war program. Selling them nullifies a patriotic act as well as personal advantage.

It lowers the market price, shows ingratitude, increases the government's financial burden, enriches unscrupulous traders in Liberty Bonds, weakens your claim to patriotism, endangers the success of the Victory, and brands you a quitter.

"Hold 'em" is the government's appeal to you.

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM WILLIAM RAPP
Somewhere in France
Jan. 2, 1919.

Mrs. Geo. Youngs,
Tawas City, Mich.

Dear Sister:—
Just a few lines to let you know that I am well, hoping these few lines will find you all the same.

I received your letter just a few days ago, and sure was glad to hear from you. I got a letter from Mary Gates today, and she said that father was getting worse every day. I don't think that I will ever see him again, but hoping I will, for you know I am a long, long ways from home, and don't know when I will see the good old U. S. A. again. But hoping it will be soon.

I don't like France at all, for it rains every day, and it is so muddy. France is about one hundred years behind the states and then some.

Well Josie, I will tell you there will be a tickled boy when I reach good old New York again, as I want to cross the sea once more, and don't want to see "No Man's Land" again. I will tell you all about my trip when I come home. So tell George to be sure and have his work all done as it will take me about a week to tell my story. I was six days going across the water. Did not get sea sick, but felt a little drowsy when we got off the boat. We had to walk about six miles to a little camp called Camp Story. We stayed there for two days then left for France, that is where we are now. That is what I call "No Man's Land."

There were 8,000 soldiers on the boat that I was on.

When we got in France we stayed in a little town for ten days. Don't know what the name of the town was. We left that town on a Sunday night, walked 18 miles with 75 pounds on our back that same night. I tell you I will never forget my trip over here, and believe me I can tell you lots more when I come home. We were only one night crossing the English channel.

Well Josie, just one thing more. How did you spend Christmas? We had a real good time. Plenty of games and lots of cigars and candy, and the best battery B. won all the games. That is my battery of course. We also got a dandy prize for the game, but we had to work awful hard to get it.

Well I guess I have told you about as much as I dare write. So will close for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon.

Tell the folks I send them my best love, and for them to write as I do like to get lots of mail. Tell all the girls and boys I said hello.

Will close now.

A Sensible Silo Talk With You
You as well as thousands of farmers know the value of good silage. You know that a silo produces good nourishing feed cheaper than any other known method. The silo is here to stay. It is the money maker on thousands of farms and ranches throughout the country. Let's talk over the silo proposition.
Whether you have bought a silo or not, you have read great deal about silos and silage. You have listened to one agent and another talk about the merits of their silos. You have read advertisements and catalogues about silos. You have endeavored to decide wisely what silo you should buy. This advertisement is written to help you choose the silo that will give you honest returns on your investment.
During the last ten years the sale of Saginaw Silos has been increasing every year until today we stand as leaders in the field of silo manufacturers. This is due to the fact that every year the Saginaw Silo has been ahead in improvements. Today the Saginaw Silo is as good a silo as can be made along sensible building lines. The construction of the Saginaw Silo is the result of a scientific application of accepted building principles.
In the Saginaw Silo Steel is used to strengthen and fortify the Saginaw against wind and storm. Tornadoes that have blown down other silos, have left the Saginaw un-touched. This we know from actual use. The steel features illustrated in this advertisement are absolutely necessary in the construction of a silo. The Saginaw Steel Built Silo is built around and surrounded by steel.
We recommend and urge the use of Redwood. Why? Because Redwood is the only wood that has all the requisites for perfect silo building. It does not rot or decay. It will not shrink nor swell and furthermore it is fire-resisting. No other wood possesses these qualities as Redwood does. If you could see the wonderful evidence we have as to the permanence of Redwood, you would lose no time in deciding on Redwood.

wood fence rails were shown that had been in use for 52 years. They were exposed to all sorts of weather conditions where there is 60 inches of rainfall annually. Yet today they are as sound and free from decay as the day they were cut—firm and compact from core to edge.
These statements give you some idea of the policy back of the Saginaw Silo. A strict and rigid adherence to scientific building principles and the use of material that has proven itself best for silo building.
It would be impossible for you to experiment with different forms of silo construction. We have done it for you. The answer has been the all around, thorough construction of the Saginaw Silo.
Our policy is proving itself every day. This year Saginaw Silos sales are so big that only those who order quickly will be sure of getting their silo in time for the filling season. Our five factories are working night and day to fill orders for Saginaw Silos.
Give the Saginaw Silo your earnest consideration before you buy. We are satisfied what your decision will be. See the Saginaw Agent in your locality. He will give you real silo information. Send for silo book No. 115.

Order a Saginaw Silo Today
Prices on all raw materials continue to advance and we will be forced to raise Silo prices soon. Fair minded farmers are getting orders in car. We are now making prompt deliveries, but scarcity of materials and possible car shortage may prevent us filling your order if you wait. Order now—today. Be ready for filling time—protect yourself against any advance—Silo prices will never be as low again—value never greater. Waiting will cost you real money—you will pay more for your silo area. You will lose the big profits of silage feeding. If you hold back your order. Get in touch with the McClure man at once.

Do You Want to Know Both Sides?

Swift & Company's 1919 Year Book, just out, tells you

- What Swift & Company's profits were in 1918,
The truth about the Federal Trade Commission's investigation,
Why the prices of butter and eggs are so high,
And many other vital facts.

Whether or not you agree with us after reading this Year Book, you will at least know both sides.

You will find it interesting; Americans like to hear about big things done in a big way.

You will also discover that we are merely human beings like yourself, doing in the best possible way a necessary service.

Legislation is pending in Washington; as a good American citizen you want to know both sides of this question. It concerns you, as well as one of the most important industries in the country.

Do not hesitate to send for a copy of this booklet. Your name and address are all we need.

Again would he speak those now famous words:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

This is the spirit which America has taken across the seas to the battle-field and to the conferences around the peace table.

THERE IS A REASON

We must raise $10,000.00 in the next two weeks and here is why: Mr. Blumenau of Detroit, (formerly Whittemore merchant) writes: You may have an extra 30 days time on your note, but must be paid then. You can see we must sell the goods in order to raise the money for Mr. Blumenau and other obligations following due. Bear in mind that our regular retail prices on Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing are as low and some even lower than the wholesale prices of today and still at this Forced Sale we are cutting very deep in our regular prices and some even lower than the cost of the goods in order to raise the money we must have.

Please read every word in this bill, compare our prices with any catalogue houses, then you will realize that buying at this Forced Sale means saving dollars to you and a big loss to us and still we greatly appreciate every dollar you spend with us.
