A SPLENDID PROGRAM

A crowd that overflowed the high school room gathered at the Tawas City school building last Saturday evening to witness the program put on under the auspices of the Twentieth Century Club in connection with the art exhibition which formed the basis of their regular program in the afternoon.

The program consisted of living pictures modeled after the paintings on exhibition, and the manner in which the pictures were posed with the children from lower grades as subjects, showed careful training and much thought on the part of the committee having same in charge.

Vocal and instrumental music was interspersed in the program and added to the pleasing effects of the whole.

At the conclusion of the program the audience was invited to visit the play room, where the exhibit of pictures was hung. The exhibit consisted of a large number of copies of the best work of noted painters together with a number of paintings loaned by local people, some of which were painted by a local artist. FIGHT WOODS FIRES

Forest destruction is quick—forest growth is slow.

Everybody loses when timber burns. The forest exerts an influence that modifies local extremes of heat and cold and benefits crops, live stock, and man.

Burned timber pays no wages—keep the forest productive.

Take no chances with lighted matches, burning cigarettes or pipe ashes, brush fires, or camp fires.

A tree will make a million trees—a match may waste a million trees.

When a fire is discovered, put it out if you can. Get help if you need it.

Are you practicing fire prevention and forest protection?

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham

The following meetings of farmers have been arranged for the farmers of the various parts of the county to plan demonstration work, to be given information and for the purpose of starting something in Iosco county which will result in the building up of the whole county. Every farmer should try and be present at one of these meetings.

May 14, Grant town hall, 8 p. m.
May 15, Alabaster town hall 8 p. m.
May 17, Hale town hall, 2 p. m.
May 19, Hottos school 8 p. m.
May 20, Sherman town hall 8 p. m.
May 21, Wilber town hall 8 p. m.
May 22, Baldwin No. 3 Dist. 8 p. m.

It is hoped to stir up something in these meetings, someone with all your fighting wits, and take on active part in the meeting. Every subject which will be handled is of great importance.

The county agent attended a conference of county agents in Flint on Tuesday. Subjects of great importance were covered. If information received at this meeting is put to good use there is no question that great good will result. The next conference will be held in Lansing July 21st at which the following subject will be given attention. "How can we, as county agents, bring the city people in close touch with the farmers."

WHAT IS "BREAD"?

Before the war the term "bread" was understood to mean bread made from ordinary wheat flour. During the war it might have meant almost anything on which to spread butter or its substitutes. But what does it mean now?

At the time the Food Administration called for the use of substitutes in the manufacture of bread, so much publicity was given the ruling that the chances of a purchaser being deceived into believing that the article he carried home from the bakery as bread was made wholly from wheat flour were slim; and no objection was made under the food and drugs act to the labeling and sale of the product, conforming to the Food Administration's rulings as bread.

The restrictions on the use of wheat flour in bread have recently been removed, and any product now sold under or labeled with the unmodified term "bread" should, if brought within the jurisdiction of the act, be prepared from wheat flour only, says the United States Department of Agriculture, which enforces the food and drugs act. If wheat flour substitutes are used, their presence should be clearly stated on the label. The same principle applies in the case of crackers.

ARMY AIRCRAFT TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Army airplanes and captive balloons will cover portions of the National Forests of California, Arizona, New Mexico, and other states this summer, to aid in detecting and suppressing forest fires. In compliance with an order from Secretary Baker directing the Air Service to cooperate with the Forest Service in this work, conferences are under way to determine where and to what extent the air scouts will supplement the Forest rangers.

That there is a distinct and important place for aircraft in fire protection of timberlands is regarded by the Forestry officials as beyond doubt, but experimental trial of methods and possibilities will have to be the first step. This is what is now being planned for the coming fire season. Existing airdromes and bases possessed by the army will be utilized for the experiments. Examples of such bases, near enough to National Forests to be used advantageously, are the flying fields at San Diego, Riverside and Arcadia in Southern California. Other points in the west and in the east are under consideration, including one near the White Mountains in New Hampshire.

One of the interesting possibilities to be tested is bombing fires to put them out. It is believed that bombs charged with suitable chemicals can be used with good results. Another plan to be tested is transporting fire fighters by dirigibles from which ladders can be lowered to the ground.

The chief use of the aircraft this summer, however, will doubtless be for fire detection. At present the Forest Service relies for this partly on patrol, usually by men on horses, motorcycles, or railroad speeders, and partly on watchers stationed at lookout points. Aircraft have many points of obvious superiority for both classes of detection work.

Lookouts in a very broken country, cut up by deep canyons or where mountain ridges obstruct the view, or in a flat country that affords no good points of vantage, are often unable to pick up all fires quickly by the rising smoke, or to locate them accurately. For precise location the system in use depends on triangulation through reports telephoned from separate observation points. Airplanes would use wireless in reporting fires, as they have done in communicating with the artillery, and would locate fires by coordinates in the same way that gunfire in war is directed to a particular spot or object.

From the army standpoint, the use of aircraft in protecting the National Forests affords a valuable opportunity for training fliers and developing further the possibilities of aircraft and the art of flying.

WHY THE GOVERNMENT IS PRACTICING REFORESTATION

The question is often asked as to why the Government and the State of Michigan should expend large sums of money for reforestation work. The present plan for the Government work in Michigan covers an acreage of 1000 acres a year. The work is, of course, done upon the plains lands which are unsuited for agriculture but which will produce Norway pine timber. The Government is following out the same policy in other states where land has been set aside in National Forests. The Forests in the western or Rocky Mountain states contain one-fifth of the standing timber of the United States. The Government is protecting them from fire, regulating the cutting to insure future crops of timber and replanting those areas which will not restock naturally to valuable Forest trees.

France has followed intensive scientific management of her Forests for many years. England has not done this, but relied entirely upon imports. During the war, however, her imports were shut off and she had to resort to the cutting of the estate and park timber in order that the war might be successfully carried on and finally had to depend upon France for the necessary timber. The forests of France were called upon to supply the needs of all the armies with the result that her Forests are now largely depleted and she must again resort to reforestation. It is planned to reforest one and one quarter million acres in France. England does not again expect to be caught without home supplies and will plant over a million acres in the next forty years and expects to spend $17,000,000 in this work during the next ten years.

The Forests of France furnished employment to 700,000 persons and because the Forests were handled in such a way as to maintain a constant production of timber, this employment was permanent. The small industries supported from local forests furnished employment to these people. The Forests of Michigan were once as wonderful in extent as any in the United States and probably more valuable than any because of the white pine having been handled in quite the opposite way. It is estimated that the Lake states, which only a few years ago were the greatest producers of timber, are today paying a freight bill of $6,000,000 to bring in timber from outside sources. The paper mills of Michigan will soon follow in the way of the saw-mills or be forced to import timber from great distances. Many paper mills have already moved to Canada or have bought up large acreage of timber there.

The comparatively small amount of reforestation work in Michigan being carried on by the State and Federal Government cannot hope, of course, to affect in the years to come but a small part of the working population of Michigan, but the work is only a forerunner of that to come and it is certain that the United States will eventually follow the way of France and England and with Government assistance provide for the protection of the young timber, the regulation of cutting to insure a future timber crop and reforestation of those areas which are suitable only for the production of timber in the several states.

FROM NELSON ULMAN

Dear brother, Sister and Nephew: Just a few lines to let you know I am O. K. and hope this will find you all the same.

I haven't heard from you for a long time. I know there is a lot of mail which I sent to you which you don't get, but I hope you get this letter.

Well how is everything in Tawas and out home. When were you out home? When you write to me let me know how they are. I have written home a lot of times, but I don't think they get the mail. I hope you will get this one. I know that you all like to know how I am, just as well as I like to hear how you all are. I want you to tell my friends in Tawas that I am O. K. and you can tell them to write for they have more time than I have.

How is Mabel and the boy? I hope well. Tell the boys I said hello and when I come home I will bring them some Russian money. They call it money, but it looks like coupons to me. When you write to me let me know how everything is on the Town-line. When I get a letter from home they never tell me anything about the Line, and I would like to hear how everything is out there.

I can't write very much, and I think you know why, but I will write often. So I will say good by for this time.

With love and good luck to one and all.

THE FARMERS' ELEVATOR SITUATION

Owing to the many inquiries received by your directors and a number of propagandist stories coming to our notice, we deem it wise to publish a full statement of the elevator situation as it stands today.

At the mass meeting held early in the season, a considerable interest was manifested in the acquiring of elevators at Tawas City and Whittemore and $20,000 was pledged to bring about the formation of a community elevator company.

It is being absolutely necessary that this capital stock be actually paid in before the company can be legally incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan, your board of directors issued a call, through advertisements in the local papers, for all subscriptions to be paid in on or before April 15, 1919. Many promptly redeemed their pledges while committees from your directors canvassed their respective townships securing the payment of a substantial amount. However, the total sum paid in to date is approximately $14,000, leaving $6,000, yet to be raised before we can lawfully incorporate for $40,000, this sum being considered the absolute minimum at which a business of this magnitude can be safely launched.

The question is frequently asked and doubtless some are holding back their subscriptions, fearing that the required amount will not be raised and that their money will be used for promotion purposes and in the end they will get neither stock in the elevator company nor their money which has been paid in. Such fears are absolutely groundless as every director is working without compensation and bearing his own expense so that until such time as we are ready to incorporate, there will be no expense to the subscribers and every dollar will be returned to its rightful owner in case this project can not be brought to a successful issue. Your money is as safe as the bank in which it is deposited.

This matter is vital to the interests of every farmer and consumer in Isosco county, and every man should do all in his power to put it "over the top". The time is not far distant when the farmers of America will control the produce of their farms from field to consumer kitchen and the community owned elevator is a first step in that direction. The propagandist tells you that community owned elevators fail. Quite true, so do other lines of business. But the records show that where one fails, many succeed and if the causes of failure are traced to their origin it is invariably found that lack of cooperation and mismanagement are responsible. Would you be frightened out of engaging in your present line of business because you "heard" that some one in Texas in the same line had failed to make good?

Your directors will meet at the Grant township hall on May 31st to take final action in this matter. Each feels that he has given all the time and thought to be reasonably expected of him unless we can receive the active support of all interested, then it is useless to "carry on". Let every man in Isosco county constitute himself a committee of one to see that the required funds are raised before the above named date. Subscribe to the limit yourself, interest your neighbors if you can. We are out to win, let us forget there is such a word as fail.

Propositions have been received from the owners of the Tawas City and Whittemore elevators but neither is acceptable in its present form and the indications are that we shall be obliged to build, it therefore behooves us to act promptly if we are to be in a position to handle the harvest of 1919.

This is no matter of "boy play". A big principle is at stake. Shall we always pay tribute to greedy commission men? Shall we always take what is offered us and pay what is asked? Always remain the under dog? God forbid.

One of our loyal merchants placed $500 at our disposal and told our committee he would go the limit ($1,000) rather than see this fail. Another subscribed liberally and advised us to call again before dropping the matter. These men have the right spirit, the community spirit. Can we do less for ourselves than these men have offered to do for us? This is a busy season. Your directors have not time to call on all personally. Then let us all put our shoulders to the wheel. Get in touch with your director. Cash, Liberty Bonds at market value, or bankable notes will be accepted.

Pay up if you have not already done so, increase your subscriptions if you can, come in if you are still on the outside. Your directors will welcome any constructive suggestions or criticism you may care to make.

Drive Your Ensilage Cutter With a Case Kerosene Tractor

Thus you increase the use of your tractor and make it a greater earner and at the same time, if you also use a Case Silo Filler you can do better work in less time.

A Case Kerosene Tractor is as efficient for belt work as it is for drawbar jobs. It will drive small threshers, baling presses, silo fillers, feed mills, corn huskers or shredders, etc. In small or large fields it is handy for plowing, disking, seeding, and other drawbar operations. It is a time and money saver.

Case Kerosene Tractors are built in four sizes—there is one for your farm, which will increase your production and decrease hard work.

Case Silo Fillers are built in three sizes. They are built to stand the strain. They require the least power to operate and can elevate to any reasonable height without choking the blower.

Whether you are considering a tractor or a silo filler, or both, be sure to investigate the Case offerings first. Then make comparisons, if you wish. We will be glad to show you the Case Line.

Thousands of Chronic Disease Cases

Offer Services Free of Charge

Licensed by the State of Michigan

The United Doctors is an organization of reputable, licensed, physicians for the treatment of certain diseases.

They are all specialists. The United Doctors treat, without Surgical Operations or hypodermic injections, diseases of the blood, skin, and all internal organs, rheumatism, sciatica, tape-worm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and all long standing, deep seated diseases.

Thirty-five years' experience and the complete records of thousands of cases successfully treated prove that the methods of the United Doctors are right. They were among the first to be called "Bloodless Surgeons."

Each member of the United Doctors staff has at his command the knowledge and resources of the whole organization.

Many people go on suffering from diseases that can be alleviated just because they cannot afford to go to high priced specialists at a distance from home.

No community has sufficient number of sufferers from the diseases mentioned to support special hospitals for their treatment and cure.

The United Doctors have solved the problem. Their highly trained specialists travel from place to place. They diagnose and prescribe a course of treatment for the sufferers in each community and teach them how to take care of themselves at home.

Never So Important as Now

Take Advantage of the High Price of Butter Fat

Butter fat is worth more today than it has been for many years, because millions of people in Europe whom we have never had to feed before are now looking to us for nearly everything they eat. Don't allow any butter fat that you can save to get away from you, for every drop represents money.

See the Primrose Before You Buy

The Primrose is built for close skimming and long life. There is no skimming of material or workmanship in building. Here are some of the features of the machine.

Substantial Supply Can

Large and substantial—reinforced top and bottom.

Low and easy to pour into.

Faucet inside of can—cannot be bent by dropping.

Faucet has two openings—bottom slopes toward faucet permitting complete drainage.

Heavy Tinware

All tinware formed from heavy steel—thoroughly tinned.

Fits snugly in place.

Milk and cream spouts cannot be turned so that the crank will strike them.

Close-Skimming Bowl

Shell pressed from one piece of heavy steel.

Disks unusually heavy and thoroughly tinned.

Tubular shaft is one steel forging—no crevices to collect sour milk.

Cream regulating screw in skim milk outlet prevents loss of cream by interference with its free flow.

Two cream outlets prevent breaking of butter fat globules and insures smooth butter.

Come in and let us demonstrate the Primrose to you, or telephone us and we will come to see you.
