GAUL—MILKE

At the home of the bride's father, Gust E. Gaul, on Sunday afternoon, May 18, occurred the marriage of Miss Antonia Gaul and Mr. John Milke of Stratford, Ont.

The house was prettily decorated in blue and white colors and cherry blossoms, and the bride carried a bouquet of roses. The couple took their places to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by M. C. Grueber. They were attended by Victor Marzinski and Margaret Gaul, cousin of the bride, and were preceded by Lucille Grueber as flower girl, carrying a basket of sweet peas. Rev. H. Reithmeier was the officiating clergyman.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the guests present, numbering about forty. Outside guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morenz of Detroit and Albert Morenz of Stratford, Ont.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The bride was born in Tawas City and has lived here all her life, and has a great many friends and acquaintances here who extend to the young couple best wishes for a long and happy married life.

The bridal couple left Wednesday morning for their future home at Stratford, where Mr. Milke is employed.

QUICK—DEAN

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Colby on Monday evening, May 19, when Miss Selma Quick of East Tawas was united in marriage to Mr. William Dean of the Tawas Point life saving station.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, Rev. E. E. McMichael of the Tawas City M. E. church officiating, the ring ceremony being used. After the wedding a dainty luncheon was served and the happy couple left immediately for their home at the life saving station.

The many friends of the couple extend best wishes for a long and happy life.

WILL INCREASE PRODUCTION OF NURSERY STOCK

An increase in the production of nursery stock has recently been authorized whereby 700,000 trees are to be raised by the Forest Service in the Beal Nursery at East Tawas. This number of trees will provide for an annual planting of 1000 acres upon the Government land near East Tawas and a small annual Lighthouse Reservation in cooperation with the Bureau of Lighthouses, and will provide employment for a number of men each fall and spring. Under present methods this planting work is done very cheaply by the Forest Service and probably at as low a figure as any reforestation projects upon any National Forest in the United States. The plan followed is to plow furrows eighty feet apart and to plant the trees approximately eight feet apart in the rows. The trees or seedlings are set out when two years of age and although of small size, a greater survival is secured than if larger trees are used. The cost of production of the nursery stock is held to a low cost since only two years are required to produce the stock used. Anyone interested in reforestation or planting operations is invited to visit the area now being reforested near the Silver Creek Ranger Station. A survival of from 80 to 95 per cent of the trees is commonly secured, but even this large survival of stock will not guarantee success unless fires are kept out. The cooperation of the traveling public in the prevention of fires and the suppression of fires is very much desired and necessary. Last year fires burned over a portion of the area at Silver Creek and threatened the Buck Creek plantations. These fires were the result of carelessness upon the part of fishermen and settlers and can, of course, be prevented by proper care while traveling or the burning of brush by the settlers during damp weather.

Some people don't want all the money; they'll be perfectly satisfied so long as they have just a little more than their neighbors.

MEMORIAL DAY OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES

It was a lamentably small number of citizens who gathered at the city hall Monday evening in response to the call for a meeting to consider plans for the Memorial Day program in this city. Those who should be vitally interested in making this day one in which our patriotism and respect for those who have given their lives in defense of our liberties should be shown most conspicuously, were not present at the meeting, and as usual the arrangements were left to a faithful few. It is a sad commentary on the community spirit of Tawas City that so few people show a willingness to assume their share in movements in which the people should be unanimous.

The meeting was called to order by F. F. Taylor, president of the Memorial day committee, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President—F. F. Taylor
Vice-Pres.—Stephen Brabant
Sec.-Treas.—Frank R. Dease

In accordance with a motion made and passed, Mr. Taylor then appointed the following committees:

Program—Eugene Bing, Eugene Swen.

Flowers—John A. Mark, Mrs. Lida Stickney, Mrs. L. J. Patterson, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, Mrs. L. H. Braddock.

Conveyances—Reuben Wade
Finances—L. H. Emerson, A. A. Bigelow, Frank R. Dease.

The Memorial sermon will be delivered at the M. E. church next Sunday evening, at 7:30, by Rev. E. E. McMichael.

On Memorial day, Friday, May 30, the parade will form at the court house at nine o'clock a. m., sharp, and march to the cemetery. All soldiers of the Civil War, Spanish-American War and the Great War are requested to be present and join in this parade.

The flower committee and those who wish to help will meet in the court house basement at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

A STATEMENT

From Iosco County War Board relative to the Patriotic Fund and the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign now on in this and other States.

Last November your board asked you for $5000.00 for United War Work, and you responded with nearly $8000.00 in gifts for the war chest. At the present writing your board has paid to the United War Work Fund $4000.00, and for Relief in the Near East $150.00, fulfilling all obligations as fast as calls were made. When the call came for funds to reimburse the Salvation Army for moneys spent overseas and to provide a fund for home work, your board voted to pay from the War Chest $1500.00 the full allotment to Iosco county. To make payments as called for it is necessary for all subscribers to the War Fund to make their payments promptly, and we therefore urge you to go to the collection places indicated below and complete your payments as far as they may be due.

Here is where you pay:
Oscoda and AuSable, A. R. Weir; East Tawas, Jas. E. Dillon's Store; Tawas City, Baldwin, Wilber, Tawas Township, C. H. Prescott & Sons Hardware Store; Alabaster, A. Olson at Gypsum & Co. Office; Burleigh, Reno and Whittemore City, Iosco County Bank, Whittemore; Hale and Plainfield, Ealy McKay & Co. Bank.

We have not fallen down yet. Don't let's stub our toes now!

IOSCO COUNTY WAR BOARD

ANOTHER SPLENDID RECORD

During the Victory Loan campaign Iosco county again demonstrated its patriotism and readiness to perform its duty by over-subscribing the quota apportioned to the county by fifty per cent. Exact figures are not yet available, but Chairman Patterson advises the Herald that the subscriptions will total at least 150 per cent of the quota.

To the zeal and untiring efforts of Chairman L. J. Patterson and his corps of workers is due great credit for the showing made in this county in the last four loans.

Iosco county's showing in the first loan was small, owing to the fact that there was no organization and that many large subscriptions which originated in this county were credited to other counties. But in each of the succeeding four loans the county quota was liberally oversubscribed, and the chairman and workers have good reason to be proud of the record they have made.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

Each year as Memorial Day comes round, we are glad to pay homage to the brave men, living and dead, who, by their splendid achievements nearly six decades ago, saved this nation from disruption. Their heroic deeds will never die. Their memories will be cherished while the Republic lasts; for in the hour of their country's need they left their homes and loved ones and went forth to do battle for the life of the Union. Our debts to them can never be paid, but it is our high privilege to hold these men and their achievements in lasting remembrance and honor.

Again, two years ago, our free institutions and our national ideals were menaced by a fierce and powerful foe. Our young men betook themselves in thousands to the training camps and later crossed the seas to uphold on foreign soil the honor of the flag. With a fortitude and a valor befitting the sons and the grandsons of those patriots of an early day, they grandly bore their part in the struggle. Now they are coming back to us, but not all; and through our proud joy today, as we greet the returning hosts, there runs a note of sadness. We mourn with those who mourn for the noble fellows who will not come back to us. God help us all to live, so to keep and guard our birth-right of true freedom, that we may be worthy of the great sacrifice they made for us.

Therefore, that we may pay a tribute of respect and esteem to the surviving veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the recent World War, and honor the memory of the men who gave up their lives in all these wars, I ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby issue this my Proclamation, and sincerely urge the observance of

Friday, May 30th, 1919, as Memorial Day

And I earnestly appeal to the people of Michigan for hearty co-operation in plans for the observance of the day in their respective communities, and for special provision this year for the comfort and convenience of the old soldiers. Are is telling on them physically but the same undaunted spirit is there as of yore.

On that day flags should be displayed at half-staff until noon, and then hoisted to the top of the staff.

Seal of the State this nineteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-third.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

FOREIGN DISEASES OF WHEAT FOUND IN U. S.

East Lansing, Mich., May 20—The Australian wheat diseases, Take-all and Flag Smut, which have been found within the last two weeks near Granite City, Illinois, and in three places in Indiana, should be carefully looked for in Michigan, says G. H. Coons, plant pathologist at M. A. C. While no cases here of the diseases have been identified in Michigan, several suspicious cases have already been reported, and as a precautionary measure the farmers of the state, should be on the lookout for a possible appearance of the pests.

Take-all is a root and stem rot affecting wheat, rye, barley, and other grasses. The affected plants either die or remain stunted. The roots and diseased stems become a mahogany brown color, and the inner, undeveloped leaves are soft and flabby.

Diseased plants are a darker green than normal wheat plants and usually fail to send up stalks bearing heads. Instead they produce a quantity of short, narrow-leaved, spindly shoots which die off. The disease may show in spots in a field or it may be more widely distributed. Eighty acre fields in Illinois have been ruined.

Any stunting of wheat plants where water logging or soil conditions are not apparently at fault should be watched. Samples sent to the college will be examined by the botany department, and all suspicious cases will be investigated.

Flag smut is the most serious smut of wheat in Australia and has never before been found in this country. Wheat attacked by it produces no heads. The smut shows up in black streaks or lines on the leaves and shoots.

POTATOES

POTATOES—Farmers, I will contract to take all marketable potatoes that you can grow in Iosco county, at 75 cents per bushel. Delivery to be made by October 1st, at any loading station in Iosco county where 20 or more acres can be contracted. If you wish to contract then write or call and see me. Yours for more potatoes.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Claudia Tebo died at her home here about two o'clock on Tuesday morning, she having been stricken with paralysis on Sunday while visiting at the home of Mrs. Ealy on the Hemlock road.

Claudia Carmond was born in Canada, Oct. 22, 1848 and on January 9, 1876 was married to David Tebo at Isle Verte, Canada. Her husband died in this city July 3, 1915.

Four children survive their mother. They are: Fred, of Detroit; Joseph, of AuSable; Mrs. Julia Mather, of Flint; and Robert, with whom the deceased made her home in this city.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Josephs Catholic church and interment as made in the Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Mather and the Messrs. Fred and Joseph Tebo were in the city to attend the funeral of their mother.

During their eight years residence of the deceased in this city she made many friends who extend their sympathy to the bereaved sons and daughters and to the many other relatives in the city.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our gratitude for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness of our beloved mother.

Fred, Robert, and Joseph Tebo and Mrs. Julia Mather.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson will make their home in this city, the groom being an employe of the D. & M. railroad. Friends of the newly wedded pair extend best wishes and congratulations.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN

C. P. Milham

If present weather conditions continue long the outlook for the farmers for a good year will go glimmering. Even if the reports show that there will be the largest crop of wheat and rye in the nations' history, the chances are that other crops will be so much below normal that there will be need of every bit of grain produced. Farming is the greatest gambling business in the world. Many times when the outlook is very bright, something happens to spoil everything. High winds, dry weather at planting time, wet weather at harvesting time, frosts, animal and insect pests all take their toll from the farmer, and therefore from humanity.

Many stories have gone the rounds this spring concerning crop prospects. The cold, wet, backward spring to start with, information that locusts are coming this season, and many other conditions indicate that we may have need of all grain, seed and forage crops, and livestock this year.

The following meetings have been held since May 14. Grant town hall, Alabaster school house, Hale town hall, and Hottis school house. In every meeting there have been lively discussions, and a profitable, time has been enjoyed by those present. A large number of demonstrations have been arranged, and it is hoped weather conditions will be favorable to results.

Following are meetings still to be held:

Wilber town hall, May 21, 8 p. m.
Baldwin Dist. No. 3, May 22, 8 p. m.
Tawas town hall, May 24, 8 p. m.
Long Lake, May 24, 2 p. m.
Reno town hall, May 27, 8 p. m.
Sherman town hall, May 29, 8 p. m.

If weather conditions are favorable it is expected that people will work as long as they can see, so meetings do not begin on time, but this is a poor practice. Lets get started on time if possible.

NEWLY HATCHED CHICKS NEEDS LITTLE FOOD

East Lansing, Mich., April 28—Newly hatched chicks need little or no food for the first two days, according to the poultry department at M. A. C. Just before emerging from the shell, chicks absorb the yolk of the eggs into their bodies and then use it for nourishment during their first 60 to 72 hours.

Retarded or limited feeding should be practiced during this period, the following method being advised: First day, leave chicks in incubator for 24 hours, supplying air by slight opening of the incubator door. Second day, provide plenty of sour milk in shallow pans for drinking purposes. It helps prevent contagious white diarrhea and stimulates growth. (Provide chick grit also.) Third, give first solid food. For each 100 chicks give a mash of one raw egg, three small handfuls of rolled oats, and three small handfuls of bran. This mash should be thoroughly mixed by rubbing and fed every three hours for four feedings.

From the fourth to the fourteenth day, two feeds of commercial chick feed, two feeds of egg, oat and bran mixture, and one of green food should be given daily. After the second week the ration can be cheapened and simplified, the size of the grain feed increasing as the chick grows older.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. ADVANCED INDUSTRIAL LEGISLATION

Lansing, Michigan—Michigan took two advanced steps in industrial legislation at the recent session in the passage of the Miles bill "to prohibit discrimination a between sexes in the payment of wages of males and females engaged in the manufacture or production of any article" and the Fitzgerald bill defining the crime of criminal syndicalism. The Miles bill grants to women, by legislation, what the male voters granted them through the medium of the ballot box, viz., wage equality with men for equal service.

The Fitzgerald bill initiates new matter into the Michigan statutes, in fact one word is put into law for the first time in the history of the state. The word is "sabotage" and is of French origin, and means the wilful injury or destruction of machinery or materials by workmen through apparent accidental means. Tradition has it that a French workman in a rage one day threw his wooden shoes (Sabot) into some machinery crippling the equipment and handicapping production. Others, seeing the results, adopted similar means and from this incident comes the word sabotage.

In addition to making sabotage a crime the Fitzgerald bill also provides that "any person who by word of mouth or writing, advocates or teaches the duty, necessity or propriety of crime, violence or other unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing industrial or political reform, or prints, publishes, edits, issues or knowingly circulates, sells, distributes, or publicly displays any book, paper, document, or writing matter in any form, containing or advocating, advising or teaching the doctrine that industrial or political reform should be brought about by crime, violence or other unlawful methods of terrorism, or openly, wilfully and deliberately justifies by word of mouth or writing, the commission of the attempt to commit crime violence or other unlawful methods of terrorism with intent to exemplify, spread or advocate the propriety of the doctrines of criminal syndicalism; or organizes or helps to organize, or becomes a member of or voluntarily assembles with any society, group or assemblage of persons formed to teach or advocate the doctrines of criminal syndicalism is guilty of a felony and punishment by imprisonment in the State Prison for not less than ten years or by a fine of not less than $5000 or both at the discretion of the court."

Both of these bills while initiating new subject matter into law for the first time had little if any opposition. The Miles bill to prohibit discrimination between sexes was amended in the Senate to exempt agriculture and the further provision was added: "That no female shall be given any task disproportionate to her strength, nor shall she be employed in any place detrimental to her morals, her health, or her potential capacity for motherhood" and with these changes, designed to strengthen the law, the bill was passed. Under this bill which becomes effective August 15th, it will be against the law for any employer "to discriminate in any way in the payment of wages as between sex or to pay any female engaged in the manufacture or production of any article of like value, workmanship and production a less wage, by time or piece work, than is being paid to males similarly employed in such manufacture, production or in any employment formerly performed by males."

Torch of One's Own.
As Plutarch tells us, "It is well to go for a light to another man's fire but not to tarry by it, instead of lighting a torch of one's own." A torch of one's own! That is a possession worth having, whether it be a flaming beacon on the hilltop or a tiny taper in the window. We cannot tell how far a little candle throws its beams nor who is laying his course by its flickering light. The most that we can do—and it is also the least that we should do—is to tend the flame carefully and to keep it steady.—Brandis Matthews.

Imitation Elks' Teeth.
Imitation elks' teeth in large quantities recently have made their appearance in the local market to the alarm of jewelers who deal in the genuine article. Some of the bogus teeth are easily detected. Others made of bone or walrus tusks are fair imitations of the genuine. A sure test, the jewelers say, is to immerse the teeth in muriatic acid. The acid will bleach and roughen the better imitations and almost disintegrate the poorer ones.

THE FARMERS' ELEVATOR SITUATION
Last week an article under this heading contained the statement that the owners of the Tawas City elevator had made a proposition to sell but it was not acceptable in its present form. Its form was a perfect square in which no price appeared. The squarest proposition possible to make, namely: The Wilson Grain Co. would choose an appraiser, the directors one and the two place a price upon all the property. A square deal is not square when either party declines to do what they request of the other. Will any one of the directors sell their property at assessed value? Their personal at double? After putting their farm into a money making proposition sell a patch here and a patch there at the whim of any buyer? Every machine and bin is useful and the farmers of the community have made them so. They can become the farmers' by the fairest and squarest deal mentioned above. Assessment value and pick out what we want, have been propositions talked in our office and not "heard" from outside. Neither has one straight line to form a square.

Elevator conditions have their good and bad sides, but many have gone to a financial graveyard unmourned by the farmers. Community spirit is the upbuilding force and smooths out troubles without calling bad names. Meetings in which farmers and elevator men met to compare notes and work out the best interests of all have not been held in the past. The farmers choose to meet and resolute and resolute and put zeal and imaginary wrongs under the old multiplication hen to hatch more sobs. And the elevator men have not been angels. No farmer ever accused them of that. Raising money is no "Boys" job, selling an elevator is not a "Boys" job, buying an elevator and running one is not, so as men with a community spirit, discard all pretense and with sincerity of purpose make the community spirit a reality. Your organization admits distrust of the farmer to sell to your elevator as he agrees by a very doubtful penalty of enforcement of the forfeiture of his stock holdings. You confess by allowing your members to sell elsewhere at more than you are paying and giving the difference in, that you will not always pay as much as others. Where is the community spirit shown in which a share of your directors would not sell beans at ten to twelve dollars a hundred. What is your conception of the word "greedy" as applied to the elevator man? What to these members and your organization? It was stated in this office by your President that "we know what we can do. Experience teaches that such great comprehension is often a failure. With the best interests of the community in view, come out of your childish mood and tell in business tone where in our proposition is not acceptable and wherein it has a tinge of greediness."

FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

FROM ROBERT TATE
 Illerich Rhineland, Germany
 Sunday, Feb. 9, 1919

Dear Friend Will:
 I expect this will be a surprise, but hope you will excuse me for not writing more promptly. I have received several letters from you and was very glad to hear from you and hope you will write more often.
 How is your health this winter? I am well and happy at this writing, and truly hope these few lines find you the same. I have not heard from mother or any of my folks for some time, but I have written them all and hope they are getting my mail. Well Bill since the armistice was signed they are not so particular about the censorship of the mail, so I can tell you a little more about army life and my experience on the front line. Of course you know I am with the 4th Ammunition Train of the 4th Division. An Am. train consists of several companies four of them have motor trucks and three have horses. There are two battalions in the regiment, one is the motor battalion and the other the horse battalion. Well I had my choice when I came to the train of either battalion, so I took the horse battalion. You know I always did like horses.

I came to France in May. We sailed from Hoboken N. Y. May 22nd and landed at Brest, France. I came over on the Northern Pacific transport. We were eight days coming over and laid one day in each port, so we were on the ship ten days all together. We had a very pleasant trip. I did not get sick at all, but the second day out about half of the boys did.

saw a couple of whales but no submarines, although they say they sighted one and got it all out one morning just at the break of day. There were about four thousand aboard the ship.

We unloaded about three o'clock in the afternoon and hiked about six miles to an old camp that Napoleon built and stayed there two days and were sent away down near Bordeaux in the south end of France to a camp named DeSouge. We trained there till some time in July and then went on the Chateau Thierry front. The 4th Infantry were in that drive from the start. Of course you know that was July 18th, but the Artillery was a little later going in action. You probably know that an Am. train duty is to haul ammunition to the guns and to the dough boys and wherever it is needed and you know that is one of the enemy's main objects to blow up an Am. Tn. whenever it can. Aeroplanes and shell fire was our biggest danger. We seldom got up close enough for machine gun or rifle fire, although we sometimes did. Any way we followed the Chateau Thierry drive through to the Vesle river and was relieved by the 77th National Army Division on August 16th, and went back to the rear as we supposed for a rest, but we only got five days rest and took over a sector on the 54th Mehel front. We opened that drive and followed it about ten days and was released again. Then we went over on the Northwest Verdun front or I guess it is better known as the Argonne Meuse sector. We took over a sector on that front September 24th, and the drive opened the 26th, and we followed that drive till the armistice was signed and the guns quit firing Nov. 11th 11 a. m.

That sure was a happy day for the boys. So you see I was on the front lines about four months and under heavy shell fire most of the time. There was no account kept of how many prisoners, guns, machine guns, or anything that our division captured in the Chateau Thierry drive, but in the other two drives we captured about four thousand men, sixty officers, sixty pieces of artillery, one hundred and seventy machine guns and piles of ammunition and other war material and advanced about thirty six kilometers on the front. So you can see that even if our division wasn't in France as long as some of the others, it took as great a part and done as much toward winning the war as any of them. I have been under drop bombs all around me, but I guess the Lord was with me. I pulled through without a scratch. I have seen some that I would like to forget, and have gone without many a meal and slept out many a cold wet night, but we never mind anything like that as long as we had the Huns on the run, and the job is done and done right, and I am sure there are not any of the boys who regret what hardships they went through with.

November 11th, after the guns ceased firing we started to the rear and hiked five days and stopped in a small town and rested five days and got more horses, men and all new clothing and were assigned to the Army of Occupation and on Nov. 21st we started for Germany. We hiked five days and stopped till after Thanksgiving. That was in Lorraine sector. The Germans had held this place for over forty years. We rested there five days and started again. We followed the retreating German Army right up. We came through Luxembourg and Trier. Trier is the oldest city in Germany. Then we followed the Moselle river down most of the way. We hiked about twenty days the last hitch, sometimes we would stop over night in a town and sleep in the houses and other times we would sleep out doors.

We arrived in this town about December 20th, and have been here ever since. We stay in the houses with the people and have our horses in their barns. We are quite comfortable here. The German people are good to us. The weather is awful cold here now. It was 18 below zero Friday night, and about that cold tonight. There is about six inches of snow on the ground.

This town of Illerich is about four miles from Clotton on the Moselle river and Clotton is about twenty miles from Clotton on the Moselle miles up the Moselle from the Rhine. The Moselle river empties into the Rhine at Coblez. I was in Coblez one day last week. It is a pretty place, and there are a lot of American soldiers there. I walked across the river just to have it to say, I crossed the Rhine.

I have a quite a few souvenirs of the war, I hope I can take them all home with me. I haven't any idea when we will start for home, but hope it will be soon. We are not drilling very much. It takes most of our time to take care of our horses. The evenings are awful long and it is hard to get anything to read or anything to pass the time away and I have only had one letter in about a month. Are you still working at the car shops? Give mother and all the rest my love and tell them to write. Well Bill are you getting tired reading. I guess I had better close for this time. Now Will, please write often and I hope it will not be long till I will be back in the good old U. S. A. so I can have a good talk with you. Hoping to hear from you soon and to see you in the near future. I remain as ever

SHELLS THAT REVEAL THE AGES OF ROCKS

The little jelly-like animal which the scientist calls Foraminifera swarm so abundantly in the sea that their tiny cast-off shells in some places make up a considerable part of the sediments which are laid down on the sea bottom and which in time may become beds of rock in a land area. The small size and the compactness of these shells protect them from some of the accidents that befall the remains of larger animals, so that in many samples of well borings the Foraminifera are the only shells that have survived in recognizable form the vicissitudes of drilling. In the hands of specialists trained to identify fossils the Foraminifera may furnish the only available clue to the age of the rock enclosing them and consequently to the existence of strata or structure favorable or unfavorable to the accumulation of oil, gas, or water. Thus the "spectacle scientist," who may really look like an alert business man, becomes the helpful adviser of the "practical" oil geologist or the well driller. The United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, has recently issued a report that may be of great value in the search for underground water, oil, and gas. This report, prepared by Joseph A. Cushman and issued as Survey Bulletin 676, contains descriptions of some species of Foraminifera from the Miocene and Pliocene formations of the Coastal Plain of the United States and is abundantly illustrated with figures, many times magnified, of these minute organisms.

A copy of Bulletin 676, which is purely technical, may be obtained without cost by applying to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

BURNING UP AMERICA

Cold shins and quivering goose-flesh is in store for our grandchildren, for in 56 years the Eastern District, which includes the most accessible and best coal in the country, will be finished. The Eastern Central and Southern Districts will be exhausted in 64 years; and the entire United States and Alaska will be without coal in 83 years. These figures are based on estimates from the United States Geological Survey. Wasteful America, which frittered away its wealth of timber in the East and Middle West, is raiding its coal mines. Coal consumption during the last three years has been increasing at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

In the face of these stern facts the coal barons respond: "I should worry!" But the public should concern itself with the problem. It is a matter of vital importance to the country that 2,300,000 railroad employees are consuming more time and using more railroad facilities in the transportation of coal than any other commodity. The industrial cost is further emphasized by the fact that 720,971 people were employed in coal production in the normal year of 1916.

Less than one year ago the the Fuel Administration in an appeal to the American people declared: "The solution of the world's war problem must depend upon the solution of America's fuel problem." Even "lightless nights" and "fool Mondays" did not have much effect upon the shortage but fortunately we have never reached the point experienced in parts of Europe, where coal actually sold at from twenty to ninety dollars a ton.

GREAT INCREASE IN SPELTZ ACREAGE SHOWN

East Lansing, Mich., May 12— Nearly 10,000 acres of speltz were grown in Michigan last year, according to figures given out by the farm crops department at M. A. C., which indicates a tremendous increase in the use of the crop. The popularity of the cereal is thought by Prof. J. F. Cox of the college to be due to its ability to produce a profitable yield under unfavorable conditions. The term "speltz" is used for both true speltz and for emmer, most of the grain called speltz in Michigan being white emmer, in fact.

Speltz has proved to be better adapted than oats, barley or wheat for production under adverse conditions. On light, infertile or poorly prepared soils, or under conditions where preparation of the land for seeding has been delayed, speltz is the more profitable crop. On soils in condition to produce average of good crops of oats, barley or wheat, speltz is of little value, however.

While speltz should usually be planted in April or early May, being handled as oats are handled, it is possible to plant in late May with assurance of a crop. Two bushels of seed to the acre is advised. Clover may be planted along with speltz, as in the case of oats or barley. The seed should be treated for smut as oats or wheat is treated.

The average yield in the state last year was 27.25 bushels, while large yields of 60 to 80 bushels are frequently reported.

MORTGAGE SALE

WHEREAS, Cary H. Mark and Edna E. Mark, his wife, of the Township of Sherman, Iosco County, Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage bearing date the 17th day of September A. D. 1915, to the State Savings Bank of Turner, Arenac County, Michigan, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Iosco on the 18th day of September A. D. 1915, at Nine o'clock in the forenoon, in Liber 20 of mortgages on page 124; and

WHEREAS, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage for principal and interest, at date hereof is the sum of Two thousand nine hundred ninety-five dollars and 50 cents ($2995.55) and no suit or proceedings have been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured thereby or any part thereof; and

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained therein has become operative;

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and in pursuance thereof and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public vendue to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in the city of Tawas City, Iosco county, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco is held,) on the 18th day of August, A. YOUR FACE.
The face of a man or a woman is an unflattering mirror of what is in the heart of that man or that woman. If you will study faces you will study life. The face cannot deceive you if you study it. If the face tries to disguise you look through it into the heart of a more or less pathetic hypocrite.

EMPLOYEES OF THE U. S. FOREST SERVICE ARE APPOINTED DEPUTY STATE GAME AND FISH WARDENS
A recently authorized regulation of the Secretary of Agriculture provides that anyone entering upon Government land, within an area set aside as a National Forest with intent to violate any of the State game laws will be considered in trespass. The regulation provides that "The going or being upon any land of the United States, or in or on the waters thereof, within a National Forest, with intent to hunt, catch, trap, willfully disturb or kill any kind of game animal, game or non-game bird, or fish, or to take the eggs of any such bird, in violation of the laws of the State in which such land or waters are situated, is hereby prohibited."
The appointment of the local Forest officers as deputy game and fish wardens will enable them to better carry out this regulation and is also desirable in connection with other game and fish protection and propagation work to be carried on by the Forest Service. These activities will include the stocking of lakes and streams with lake fish and trout fry furnished by the Bureau of Fisheries and State Fish Commission as in the past and also the liberation in cooperation with the State Game Department of a number of Ring Neck Pheasants in the vicinity of the Silver Creek Ranger Station.

The State is following the policy of liberating young pheasants in suitable areas where they can be protected in order to build up the supply of game birds in Michigan and to supplement the partridge, quail and spruce hens which are now protected and quite scarce over the greater part of Michigan.
All Forest rangers, Forest guards, and other officers employed by the Forest Service will be made special deputy State game and fish wardens without compensation with authority to enforce all State laws relating to the protection and propagation of illegal fishing or hunting of game or fish, and especially to cooperate with the regular game wardens of the region.

REVENUE TAX ON TOILET ARTICLES
On and after May 1st, purchasers of all sorts of patent medicines will have to pay druggists or dealers a tax of one cent for each 25 cents or fraction of the retail price of the articles. The revenue act of 1918, according to Collector of Internal Revenue, James J. Brady of Detroit, requires the dealer to collect the tax from the purchaser at the time of the sale. To facilitate the collection of this tax adhesive stamps have been prepared and may be procured by dealers from the revenue office. On selling any preparation subject to tax, the dealer will attach a revenue stamp of appropriate value before handing the goods to the customer.
Perfumes, toilet waters, cosmetics, tooth washes, hair dressings, aromatic cauchous, toilet powders, etc., are also subject to a similar tax beginning May 1. Toilet soaps and soap powders are not subject to the stamp tax, but the manufacturers will pay a tax to the Government of 3 per cent of the price for which they sell the goods.
The collector is advised that the tax on admissions under the revenue act of 1918 applies to charges for rides on roller coasters, merry-go-rounds and other like amusement, there being no exemption as under the revenue act of 1917. Proprietors of these amusements are required to collect one cent tax for each ten cents or fraction of the price of admission to the ride or other amusement machine.

SAVE WHILE SAVING MEANS MOST

There never was a time when it was as important to have every drop of butter fat as now. First, because our soldier boys and nations unable to feed themselves need it. Second, because it brings the top price on the market.

Don't Risk Using an Unreliable Cream Separator

If you are not sure that your cream separator is skimming clean, or if you are still trying to get along without one

Come in and Buy a Primrose

It is not the lowest priced cream separator made, neither is it the highest priced one, but it is one of the best. It skims down to the last drop of butter fat, and it gives the same good service year after year. These are things you want in a cream separator because they are the only things that make a separator pay.

The Primrose supply can is pressed from one piece of metal, heavily reinforced top and bottom. You can pour milk into it without splashing. The faucet is located inside the can so that the outside is smooth. You can set the can on a bench or table without pushing the faucet out of place. If you accidentally drop the can, you will not bend the faucet and throw it out of line as when the faucet is located on the outside. The faucet has two openings and drains the bowl completely. There are so many other things to tell about the Primrose that the only way you can get it all is to come in and see the machine. Do this at your first opportunity.

Harvest With a Case Kerosene Tractor

This is the new and better way. It means more work, easier work and done exactly when you want it.

The Case 10-18 Kerosene Tractor pictured above is especially recommended for haying and harvesting. It is the smallest of our four sizes.

It is the simplest, most powerful tractor built. It will pull two 14-inch plows under all reasonable conditions, two 6-foot binders, a 22-shoe grain drill, a 5-section spike-tooth harrow, an 8-foot double action disc harrow or a large manure spreader.

For belt work it is very practical. It will easily drive a Case 20x28 Thresher with feeder and wind stacker, a No. 12 Case Silo Filler with 40-foot blower, Baling Press, Feed Mill, Small Corn Husker or Sheller.

This tractor is used by progressive farmers all over the land. It is made by the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company, famous for 77 years among farmers. No tractor is its equal. No finer can be built.

We will be glad to tell you all about this and other Case Tractors if you will give us the opportunity.
