The Reaper and the Flower Death.

And with his sickle keen, He reaps the bearded grain at the flower that grows

"Shall I have naught that is fair?" said he.

"Have naught but the bearded grain?

Though the breath of the flowers is I will give them all back again.

He kissed their dropping leaves; It was the Lord of Paradise He bound them in his sheaves.

"My Lord has need of these flowerets The Reaper said and smiled; Dear tokens of the earth are they, Where He was once a child. "They shall all bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care, And saints, upon their garments white, These sacred blossoms wear." And the mother gave, in tears and

The flowers she most did love; She knew she should find them all In the fields of light above.

O, not in cruelty, not in wrath, The Reaper came that day; 'Twas an angel visited the green earth, And took the flower away.

The White Way Electric and Power Washing Machine

The White Way Electric and Power Washing Machine permits you to complete a washing without having to move out of your tracks. It is so constructed that it does practically all the work of washing, and with bench attached has many advantages over all types of sliding or swinging wringer machines. All the gearing on the White Way types is underneath the tub, leaving the lid clean and forming a table for the clothes. Using the White Way bench, place two tubs containing rinsing and bluing weter on the revolving top, with therinsing water nearest the machine. When through sing water nearest the machine. When through with the washing, wring into the rinse water, fill up the machine again and start it to washing. When through rinsing the clothes wring them on to the table or lid of the machine. Then revolve the bench, reversing the tubs, take the clothes from the lid, shake them up as they should be and place them in the bluing water. Then wring them back on the lid and they are ready for the line.

Consider how simple and easy this method is, compared with the ordinary. You have no water to lift, very little room is needed and there is no gearing on the top of the machine to carry grease into the machine. When the bench is folded up the machine occupies only about eight inches more room than an ordinary machine.

The White Way Electric Power Washing Machine is built from the ground up for power purposes. It is not a hand machine fitted with cheap attachments. It is a stronger built machine in every way than a hand machine.

It is the most simple thing imaginable to operate these machines. All working parts are under complete control of the operator at all times. The convenient levers instantly stop or start the washer or wringer. This is true whether the machine is being run with electricity, gasoline or other power. All metal parts of this machine, where there is any strain, are made of malleable castings, and all metal parts on the inside of the machine are made from aluminum. A washer like the White Way will last a life time, with ordinary care, and always give the best of service. The tub is made of selected Louisiana Red Cypress, seasoned to withstand all conditions, while every part entering into its construction is selected for long life and service.

When you purchase this machine you are assured of getting the most highly developed washer

The Mission of Swift & Company

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs-and the men have the right to answer:

To promote the production of live stock and perishables and increase the food supply;

To reach more people with more and better meat;

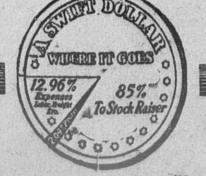

To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their capital, and to provide for the future development of the business;

To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;

To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

These are the purposes and motives of the men who direct the policies and practices of Swift & Company.
