remaining three numbers of the Lyceum course has been reduced to $1.00 for adults and 75c for children. Get a season ticket and save money and also help the ladies to come out whole on the course.

Some of the sidewalks in the city are in very bad condition and should have been repaired the past season.
A few dollars spent in repairs might save the city a damage suit. One lady was severely hurt one day this week when she fell on a bad piece of walk while going home a dark night.

Emil Buchholz, who for the past three years has been an employe of the Herald, left last Saturday for Gladwin, where he has accepted a position on the Gladwin Record, desiring to obtain a wider experience in his chosen trade. Emil is a good worker and the Herald wishes him the best of success wherever he may go.

Mr. Stephen Ferguson adds to the material for the building enough brick for the chimneys and in addition to this gift will do as much more as he possibly can

As the proposition stands at this time, four men have pledged a desirable site, 100 barrels of cement, and all the brick needed in the erection of a memorial hall and the creation of a park surrounding. Just four out Tawas City citizens. The open question remains to be answered: "What are the remaining 1200 inhabitants going to do?" It seems impossible that the answer is conversational assistance. Dimes and many dollars will be needed and should require no pleading solicitor to secure.

When the civic pride of Tawas City has shown the people of Iosco county that it intends to be a worthy representative, we believe help will be given to a considerable extent in making this community park and building at the county seat a joyful, helpful reality

MODERN HEALTH CRUSADE Great interest is being shown in all parts of the county in the Modern Health Crusade movement. This is a nation wide movement for the purpose of improving the health of the children and forming proper health habits through the element of play and romance.

Children from 6 to 16 years of age may become Modern Health Crusaders with the rank of Page by doing the official health chores for two weeks and agreeing to the pledge on the certificate of enrollment. By continuing the chores for several weeks longer the ranks of Squire, Knight, and Knight Banneret are secured.
Each rank has its appropriate din.

The results of the Crusade are physical improvement and prevention of disease among children and their families, moral discipline and the awakening of community responsibility.

COUNTY AGENT COLUMN C. P. Milham

The county agent will be in Chicago attending the International Livestock Exposition and grain show until Dec 5th, when he will return in time for a meeting at the Reno town hall.

COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

The county agent is going to hammer away on the subject of organizing cooperative associations in Iosco county until the proposition is put across, because he knows from what he has learned during the week he was in Cadillac that these associations are the life savers of the farmers of Northern Michigan. Of the sixteen counties represented at the conference in Cadillac, every county but Iosco has cooperative associations which are affiliated with the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange for the purpose of marketing the produce of the members and of purchasing needed supplies.

Ogemaw county now has three associations. One at West Branch which was organized last September with 56 members and now has about 150. This proved such a success that the people of Rose City clamored for an organization, so one was organized there about four weeks ago with 53 members, and now they have 115 members.
Last Friday night the county agent had occasion to be in Lupton, a little community between Hale and Rose City. They had heard of the success of these associations and demanded that an association be formed there, so they organized with 43 members.
Doubtless they will have 75 members within two weeks. They start business as soon as they are organized.

Wake up! Iosco county farmers.
Your opportunity is at hand. It is possible to profitably maintain an association wherever there is business enough to support an elevator or a warehouse. The county agent thinks it wise to have three good strong associations; one at Hale with sub-stations or loading stations at Long Lake and Silcam. Another organization at Whittemore with a loading station at McVoor. Another association at Tawas City with a sub-station at Alabaster. It can be worked out easily. Ask your county agent to come and explain the proposition to you. Think of all the questions you can stick him, and he will prove to your satisfaction that it will be a good policy to join with the other ninety-three cooperative associations in the state to market our produce.

Are you interested? Now is your opportunity. Keep the county agent busy until this thing is put across.
There is absolutely nothing which will benefit this county as much as to get the farmers properly organized. The agent is here to help you do it right.
Now it's up to you to get behind him and put it across. If cannot force this upon the people, but he would like might well to have the opportunity of presenting the matter for the approval not alone of the farmers but of the business men of the county.

YOUR BEST CHRISTMAS GIFT
If you want to make a Christmas gift that will keep you in mind the year 'round, why not give a year's subscription to some good magazine?
It will give more pleasure than almost anything of equal value that you can buy.

We can make the following offers for a limited time:
The Woman's Home Companion, two subscriptions for one year each to different addresses for $3.00

The American Magazine, two subscriptions for one year, each to different addresses for $3.00.

The Woman's Home Companion and the American Magazine each to a different address for one year for $3.00.

Additional gift subscriptions to either magazine $1.50 each. If you so request a handsome gift announcement bearing your name will be mailed to reach your friend on Christmas morning.

The Youth's Companion, all remaining issues of 1919 and one full year from Jan. 1, 1920, together with the Companion's handsome Home Calendar, will be sent for $2.50. This is an especially appropriate gift for young people.

Subscriptions for these magazines may be sent or brought to the Herald office and will be promptly forwarded.

LOOK AT YOUR LABEL
The label on your copy of the Herald shows the date to which your subscription is paid. If it isn't up to date please send in your remittance at once. The soaring costs of print paper and other items of the publishing business make it imperative that all subscriptions be paid promptly or we will be forced to discontinue the paper to those in arrears.

ALFALFA ACREAGE ON IN- CREASE IN STATE

East Lansing, Nov. 25—The acreage of alfalfa has increased more rapidly in Michigan during the past year than ever before, according to Prof. J. F.
Cox, farm crops department, Michigan Agricultural College. This increase in production comes at an extremely fortunate time because of the fact that a general shortage of clover has brought the state face to face with the greatest need for dependable forage crops it has ever known.

The marked increase in alfalfa production is due to the fact that more is now known about how to grow the crop, the seed supply is safer, and more lime is used. In the early days of alfalfa growing in Michigan great waves of "alfalfa enthusiasm" swept over the state, but many of these efforts failed because of wrong cultural methods. At the present time, however, alfalfa is held as a dependable crop. In fact during the past year the percentage of successes with alfalfa has been greater in many Michigan localities than with clover.

The following points are set forth by Prof. Cox regarding alfalfa growth in Michigan:

1. Apply ground limestone, marl, or other form of lime as soon as possible this fall or early winter on land to receive alfalfa.

2. Order northern grown seed immediately, preferably Grimm, Baltic and Cossack.

3. Select well drained field which carried cultivated crop during past year.

4. Apply dressing of manure or rotted straw on very light soils.

5. In spring prepare firm, clean seed bed.

6. Plant alfalfa seed alone during spring on clean land for best results.
If companion crop is used make lighter seeding than usual per acre of barley or oats. On land in proper condition alfalfa will often catch well with wheat or rye.

Special bulletin No. 97 of the Michigan Agricultural College sets forth in detail methods of handling alfalfa and results of experiments at the periment station.

NEW DAIRY COURSE TO OPEN AT M. A. C.

East Lansing, Nov. 25—A special course in cow testing and barn management, which will run from Dec. 1 to Dec. 12, will be included this year for the first time among the winter courses in agriculture at the Michigan Agricultural College. Inquiries from all over the state indicate that the practical nature of the course is proving popular with Michigan farm boys.

The course is planned primarily to meet the ever increasing demand for men and women who are adequately trained for cow testing work, and for those who are engaged in the production of A. R. O. dairy animals. The work of the course will include a special study of animal breeding, feeding, Babcock test, livestock judging, dairy barn management, and advanced registry and cow testing.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

It requires many people to make up a community, and in that community are many shades of religious and material beliefs. It stands to reason that there is and always will be much variance of opinion.

Never are two people found whose views are identical on every subject, nor even on any subject. Somewhere the dividing line is found, and there the community trouble begins.

Each of us is prone to think himself right and all others wrong. It is human nature and will always be so.

But there is a common ground upon which all may meet, a forum from which the community spirit may be developed to the highest degree. That is the arena of free speech and public discussion of community affairs.

Where many are gathered together and each gives his views as he sees them, the majority is reasonably sure to arrive at a proper conclusion on any subject concerning our local welfare.

Such a course might be employed to good advantage in this community.

The craniums of our local people are filled with excellent ideas for our collective advancement. All that is required is an opportunity for them to be heard.

Shall we supply the opportunity?

TRI-COUNTY Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A. R. Gold, Secretary

Poultry Exhibit at the Carl Schmidt Farm

Boys and girls of the Tri-County Poultry club will be interested to hear that an exhibition of their chickens is planned for some time in December at the Walhalla farm of Mr. Carl E. Schmidt. It might be well for those who cannot attend to arrange to have someone from their neighborhood take charge of their birds so that each one who cannot go can exhibit and be represented there. If all the birds cannot be sent the best should go and the sender should state whether the birds are for sale or not.

The Agricultural College did not recognize this club as a standard club because of some technicality, and so failed to supply the promised report blanks. This, however did not keep the eggs from hatching, nor hinder the growth of the birds. All who have kept reports will please mail them to the secretary, and a short story of the project with your opinion of this breed of chickens will be welcome.

State Annual Boys' Conference at Flint

Four boys from the Tri-County district will attend the Boys' conference which will be held in Flint from Friday till Sunday night of this week. A strong program has been prepared and speakers of national reputation will contribute to the inspiration of each session. The war was won by boys in their teens and early twenties and the great reconstruction problems which already loom so large ahead of us will have to be settled by the boys of today.

A Song Barrage

Plans are being made to put down a song barrage at East Tawas that will make old Major Gloom and his division of the Blues evacuate the town. Details of the plan cannot be made public at this time.

Scouts

Troop No. 1, East Tawas, held their first meeting in the school house last Thursday under the leadership of Mr. W. Anderson. They will meet every week after this and a number will soon be ready to pass their first tests.

BIGGEST CONVENTION THAT EVER CAME TO DETROIT

A. R. Gold

What the Detroit Journal characterized as the biggest convention that days with an attendance of 4,500 evening after being in session five days with an attendance of 4,500 persons representing over twenty nations. It is fifty years since the last International convention of the Y. M. C. A. came to Detroit, and both Detroit and the Association have grown in the meantime.

The convention was looked forward to with great interest by large numbers of people because it marked the closing of the war period of the Y. work and considered the problems of reconstruction. Reports were brought in by special commissions appointed to investigate the war work and other phases of Y. activities, and to prepare programs for the peace time needs.

Interesting sidelights were turned upon the Y. work overseas by different speakers. Mr. E. C. Carter, who had the general supervision of the overseas work, told of one of the little rich who somehow got across and who pleaded not to be sent back. "Can you drive a car?" he was asked, and "Did you ever work?" To both these questions he replied "No." In reply to the questions "Do you use tobacco, intoxicating liquors, or play cards?" he replied "Yes." He also admitted that he seldom went to church. "This softly bred and unpromising worker?" afterward wrote to Mr. Carter. "I was never so wet, nor so cold, so hungry, nor so HAPPY in all my life. I have learned to help my fellow men."

"We sometimes failed," said Mr. Carter, "and then we wished that we could 'go west' and give our all. I wanted a German shell to come over with my name on it. I wanted to 'keep a rendezvous with death' and not come back when so many had made the supreme sacrifice."

The Secretary of the Navy, in an address to the convention, gave unstinted praise to the work of the Y. with the navy. Pleasantly jollying General C. P. Sumnerall, who also spoke, he said "The navy and the Y. M. C. A. were the only two organizations ready when the war came on." Speaking of our nearness to Europe now he said "I once had the honor to be captain of a ferry plying between Brooklyn and Brest. We took 200,000 men across without losing one."

Greetings were brought from the Prince of Wales and cablegrams read from Lloyd George, from the Prince of Sweden, and from prominent men in France, Italy, Switzerland, India, Japan and China.

In the labor conferences at Washington men got together to argue and disagree. Last Friday night three men representing totally different viewpoints fully agreed in spirit as they discussed the serious if not eternal triangle of capital, labor and the public, which doesn't interfit to be damned if it can be prevented. Warren Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Rt. Rev. Chas. Williams, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Detroit, and Homer Ferguson, President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, were the three men who presented their views to the convention. Bolshevism would have no chance to flourish if these men could have their way. Mr. Stone impressed his audience with the fact that labor will not be ignored nor denied the right to organize. Bishop Williams showed that the church could champion the cause of justice and give labor a square deal. Mr. Ferguson, speaking for the employer and the public, insisted that each state should settle its own labor disputes and not make the Federal government the board of arbitration for every local disturbance.

"Will you have another cup of coffee?" the landlady asked the boarder. He shook his head. "The spirit is willing, but the coffee is weak."

Interesting Old Bible.
One of the original owners of the Treacle Bible, living in the eighteenth century, had made notations on the fly leaf concerning "John, who was born on Friday the 10th of February 1769, at a quarter after eight at night, was baptized at Crossgate church on March 16 following, by the Reverend Mr. Wheeler, who died of smallpox 12th April, 1769, and was buried the next day at Crossgate church, aged eight weeks and five days." Other deaths, marriages and births were dated as far back as 1701-1702.

Optimistic Thought.
A man of any honest trade may make himself respectable if he will.

Jason Whitford Buried With Military Honors

Military services were held at the Latter Day Saints church on Nov. 19, 1919, for Private Jason Whitford, whose body was brought home Tuesday night for interment here. Private Whitford made the supreme sacrifice at Archangel, Russia in September, 1918.
Deep appreciation and high esteem was shown by the large gathering which filled the church to overflowing long before the hour for the services arrived. Beautiful floral tributes sent by the local Red Cross and others covered Old Glory, which was draped around the casket.
Twenty or more comrades, dressed in uniform, attended the services in a body and followed the remains to the Latter Day Saints cemetery, where interment was made.
Private W. P. Allen from Fort Wayne acted as aid in escorting the body from Detroit.

Does it tire you?
If running the separator tires you, you are wearing yourself out on a machine that is either naturally hard-running or one that requires a high crank speed.
The UNITED STATES Disc Separator is so easy to turn that the weight of the crank starts it. Can't be very tiresome to run, can it?
The larger UNITED STATES farm sizes require but 42 turns of the crank per minute.
The simple and positive UNITED STATES bell for speed indication tells you when you are turning fast enough. And remember, the UNITED STATES holds the world's record for close skimming.

This Thanksgiving---and Next?
If you are the proud possessor of a growing bank account that spurs you on to bigger things—be glad: you have just cause for thanksgiving.
If you cannot count this among your blessings, NOW is an opportune time to begin an account in this institution.
Add to it, not spasmodically with large sums necessarily, but systematically with regular even though small deposits.
And next Thanksgiving you'll rejoice that you started when you did, and be thankful for the benefits which will inevitably have followed your action.

Is Every Animal At Its Best?

Don't let your stock lose their Summer's gain through November neglect. Your animals are now going on dry feed—hay and grain.

It's a big change from the succulent, nutritious grasses of summer pastures which supply the needed laxatives and tonics.

Keep your animals' bowels open and regular—drive out the worms—keep their blood rich and keep their digestion good by feeding regularly

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic
A Conditioner and Worm Expeller

Don't allow your stock to "get off feed" and in a run-down condition.

Condition your cows for calving by feeding Dr. Hess Stock Tonic before freshing. Then feed it regularly to increase the flow of milk. It lengthens the milking period.

Buy Stock Tonic according to the size of your herd. Get from your dealer two pounds for each average hog, five pounds for each horse, cow or steer, to start with, feed as directed and then watch results.
