Judge Widdis has notified the officials of Oscoda county that a grand jury will be called to convene at Mio next April. There has been no call on the part of the citizens of the county for a grand jury, and as the judge gives no reason for the action the notice has been the cause of much speculation.

Sergt. John Tkacik will be in Tawas City Monday mornin, Dec. 8, for the purpose of recruiting for the U. S. army, and will also have the Victory buttons for distribution to the ex-service men. Men entitled to the buttons who cannot call at the post-office at that time should apply for a blank form to obtain the button by mail. Chris. Goeckede, who recently sold his farm to E. W. Alexander of Ohio, left last Friday with his family for Ortonville, Mich., where he has purchased a 134 acre farm and where the family will make their home. Mr. Alexander and family came this week and are now occupying their new home.

The advent of real winter weather was heralded last Saturday night by the worst wind storm that has struck this section of the country in twenty-five years. It amounted to a veritable cyclone and the next morning its work was visible in the form of shade trees blown down, buildings unroofed and a great deal of other damage done. The front of the old Grise blacksmith shop, recently used by John Kruger as a garage, was blown completely out and the debris strewn across the street. In Detroit several deaths resulted from the storm and many people were injured, and the property damage was enormous. All parts of the state report great damage done. The wind storm was followed by snappy cold weather and on Wednesday Tawas Bay was frozen over.

I. C. M. A.

Thanksgiving Day is not necessarily confined to a one day celebration on some particular date. Two days later than the anniversary of the present year Mrs. G. A. Prescott, sr. added to the assets of this project the sum of $100.00.

This free offering should be an inducement for others of the 1199 in Tawas City who have not yet signified what such a building would be worth to them to announce their intentions, so when this building is completed it will be a satisfaction to feel that it was secured in part by their dollars and dimes.

Besides libera donations published before and the generous gift mentioned above, an I. C. M. A. account has been started at the Ealy, McKay & Co. bank with a credit of $50.00. No sum is assessed on any individual but any addition to it will mean an advance of just that much more toward a county community building.

BE KIND TO YOUR HORSE AND ALL DUMB CREATURES. IT SHOWS THE GENTLEMAN. adv

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

The Twentieth Century club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Baguley last Saturday afternoon.

The subject for the day was "Michigan." The program opened with the song, "Michigan, My Michigan," by the club. Roll call was responded to by names of some of our active Michigan women.

Two very interesting papers were given: "How do the Laws of Michigan Protect Women, their Property, etc.?" and "Songs and Flags of Michigan." A poem on Michigan, taken from Moderator-Topics and written by Mrs. Freda Valentine, a former member of the club, was read. Miss Preston of the state library gave a talk on libraries and their value to the community.

A vocal solo by Miss Effie Graham concluded the program.

Light refreshments were served.

DEATH OF G. E. GAUL.

Gustave E. Gaul, one of the pioneer residents of Tawas City, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Morenz, in Detroit last Saturday, Nov. 29, at 1:30 a. m., aged 69 years, eight months and twenty-six days. The cause of death was tuberculosis and old age.

Gustave Emmanuel Gaul was born in Germany March 3, 1850. In 1881 he was united in marriage with Adeline Ernestine, nee Gaul, which union was blessed with six children, three of whom are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father.

In 1881 the family emigrated to the United States, spending one year at Philadelphia and then moving to Iosco county, where they have since resided. Mrs. Gaul preceded her husband in death by about one year and three months.

Mr. Gaul had been in ill health for some years and last July he was forced to cease his work at the D. & M. shops where he was employed, and has since made his home with his daughters, Mrs. Antonia Mielke at Stratford, Ont. and Mrs. Alvina Morenz at Detroit. He was confined to his bed for only one week preceding his death.

The remains were brought to Tawas City last Monday and services were held from Zion Lutheran church, in which he had long been a member and a faithful worker. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery beside his deceased wife.

There are left to mourn his loss one son, Reno Gaul of the Panama Canal Zone, two daughters, Mrs. John Mielke of Stratford, Ont. and Mrs. Carl Morenz of Detroit, a son-in-law, Edw. Marzinski of this city, besides six grandchildren and a host of more distant relatives and friends.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Herald recently received notice of a forty per cent increase in the price of our ready to print service, same to take effect immediately. In view of this, together with other steadily increasing costs of making a newspaper, it becomes imperative that all subscriptions be paid promptly in advance. Some of our subscribers have been negligent in this matter, and those in arrears are hereby notified that on Jan. 1, 1920, and on the first of each month thereafter, the names of those who are not paid in advance will be removed from our mailing list. Better look at your label and see if you are paid in advance and if not remit at once, as no statement will be sent you.

AFFILIATION IN MARKETING

It is an easy matter for any person or any organization to start something. It is a comparatively easy matter to stir the people up into a frenzy temporarily as far as marketing is concerned. Organization without any follow up system does more damage than good. This county needs an organization which does more than organize. It needs an organization to market the produce to better advantage. There is an organization in the state known as the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, which markets the products of ninety-three associations at the present time. In 1918 there were a number of cooperative associations in the northwest part of the state. Each had a manager whose duty was to take in and market to the best advantage the farmers' produce. Each organization was a unit by themselves, working as separate organizations, and therefore were working against the interests of each other. Competing against one another.

RENO RUMBLINGS

R. A. Bentley returned home from Marshall, Friday.

The most of the farmers who have been threshing clover of late are well pleased at the results.

Mrs. Chas. Harsch entertained her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Green, and her brother, Will, Sunday.

Earl Daugharty is sick with diphtheria at the home of Charles Thompson. He is reported better at this writing.

The boys that Mr. Beuschen and Mr. Wolf received from Coldwater were new pupils at the Taft school Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frockins had the pleasure of entertaining most of their children and their families on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Boulder and son spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. B's brother, Bert Papple, on the Hemlock.

The terrific wind Saturday evening did considerable damage in this locality to small buildings, also tore the woodshed from the Kane house and blew over Will Vance's silo.

Mr. Pierce's sister came up from Detroit and stayed over Sunday with them. They have also been entertaining Mrs. McLean of New York state for a short time. She returned home Monday.

The community meeting at the Gleaner hall last Wednesday evening was a decided success. The county agent accompanied Mr. Gold, and Miss Bradley, the county school commissioner, and another lady whose name we did not learn, were there from Tawas, also several from the Hemlock road. A fine program was rendered. Mr. Gold entertained the crowd in royal style with comic sketches and songs. Mr. Milham put forth his best efforts in instructing the farmers for their best interests. Further than this we have not been informed.

HEMLOCK SLIVERS

Master Ralph Burt visited his uncle, Mr. Smith, Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Smith and family spent Sunday at the home of John Burt.

Miss Florence Latta of Reno spent last Thursday visiting Grant and penwood schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Dease of Tawas City, also Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cox, spent Thursday on the Hemlock.

A little son, named Raymond Glen, came November 21, to make his home at Leon Biggs. Also a little son, named Gerald Gordon, came to Mr. and Mrs. P. Olsen, November 23.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy and daughter, Miss Leona, were at Tawas City last Friday, and with a number of out-of-town guests, helped Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wade celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

A very enjoyable day was spent by those who attended the Thanksgiving dinner at the Grange hall last Thursday. Over $20.00 was realized from the bazaar and $14.00 from the dinner.

HAVE YOU SOLVED THE CIRCLE PUZZLE?

The Circle Puzzle Contest conducted by the Tawas Herald appears to be creating a great deal of interest among the people of Iosco county. Many solutions have been sent in and many others have signified their intention of doing so.

Many and varied are the methods used to arrive at the correct number of circles on the chart. Some place a dot in the center of each circle, some place a check mark in the outer edge, some number each circle and some trace the circles with pen or pencil. One of the most original plans of which we have learned is that of sticking a pin in the center of each circle and when all have been thus marked, pull out and count the pins.

This contest offers an opportunity for the winning of some substantial cash rewards for a little time and patience, and the good feature about it is that it does not cost you anything to try it. You get full value for the money you send in on subscription and the prizes are an extra inducement for you to try your skill.

The contest has yet five weeks to run, but you should get your solution in as early as possible and then if you are not absolutely sure that your count is right you still have time to try again. It makes no difference when your solution is received, for the later ones have just as good a show as the earlier ones. It is not a matter of the time when your solution is filed, but the correctness of it that counts in the Circle Puzzle Contest.

If you wish additional sheets of the chart and conditions of the contest same may be secured at the Herald office or will be sent on receipt of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

LETTING "UNCLE" DO IT.

The habit of "following the President" has been rudely shattered by the action of the senate with reference to the treaty. And the manner in which the government has been disappointing soldiers and citizens who have flopped over onto it in absolute faith that it would look after all their affairs, including insurance, farms, jobs, etc., has been shocking indeed.

No matter what has turned up—be it a lynching in Illinois, attempts to free a bomb thrower in California, or protection for the stock gamblers in the exchanges, the interested parties have all held the thought that the government would do the thing needed to make the world's affairs exactly according to their liking. The old problem of the cost of living has been subject to many forms of correction, and most of the branches of the Federal government have produced men and schemes for experimenting. But there have been as a rule, indifferent results.

Wage labor disputes which were formerly capable of adjustment between employers and employees are now all brought to the capital; and the cabinet, the administrators, the prosecutors, the courts, and committees of Congress all offer their forms of solution. As if there were not cooks enough to spoil the broth, there is occasionally added in lengthy telegrams the voluntary advice of ex-treasurers, and the opinions of other exes of lesser importance. The habit of letting Uncle Sam do it all has not been fruitful of expected results. So many people have been disappointed in their expectations that they have turned to the study of Jefferson's observation that people are governed best who are governed least.

Making it a Family Affair.

Junior was much interested in his mother's approaching marriage. A short time before the date set for the wedding his mother was ill with tonsillitis. Junior was in distress and going to his mother he said: "Mother, hurry up and get well, for it won't do for you to be sick when we marry Richard."

Relief for the Nervous.

The treatment for nervous disorders is diversion. Attention transferred and directed into new channels, new friends, new faces, new scenes, new habits, changed sleeping rooms, new rations, everything radically altered and wholly different will in time relieve almost all such conditions.

Outclassed.

To speak fluently in public is a rare gift, but to say the correct thing at the right time is one of the most precious of all heritages.

MIRACLE OF THE THORN STAFF

Pretty Legend of Ancient Britain That is Often Repeated in England at Christmas Time.

It is one of the prettiest legends of ancient Britain—the old Christmas story of the thorn of Glastonbury. William of Malmesbury, the chronicler, told it hundreds of years ago in his "Antiques of Glastonbury." It is repeated often at Christmas time in England.

The legend tells how Joseph of Arimathea, was so persecuted by Pontius Pilate, because he had laid away the body of Christ in his sepulcher, that he fled to Gaul, carrying with him under a cloth of mystical white samite, the Holy Grail. In Gaul he found the Apostle Philip, preaching to the heathen, and he rested with him a few days.

One night a radiant light awakened him, and an angel bade him go to Britain and preach the glad tidings to King Arvirgatus; and, where a Christmas miracle should come to pass, there to build a church.

He and a band of followers followed the instructions of the angel, and Arvirgatus gave them the Isle of Avalon, and bade them erect an altar there to the new God. It was a beautiful gift. The tiny isle lay warm in a verdant valley. Sparkling waves softly lapped its shore. Soft breezes played in its trees, and nowhere was the sky so blue as over Avalon.

When they reached the top of the hill called Weary All, Joseph planted his thorn staff he had carried with him on his long journeys over land and sea, deep into the ground, and lo it took root, and immediately there blossomed a bush of beautiful white flowers.

"This is where we will build our church," the good man said, and so, at Glastonbury Abbey—for so Avalon is known today—the thorn bushes bloom white at each Christmas time, lend their fragrance to the frosty air, and remind all who see them of the Christmas miracle.

THE CURIOUS MISTLETOE

Something Like 300 Varieties in the World—Pink Berries Found Only on Cedar Trees.

There are about 300 kinds of mistletoe in the world, and each variety grows on the branches of trees and has little white or pink berries, says St. Nicholas. But the pink berries are found on only the cedar trees. The mistletoe, unlike other plants, gets no food directly from the ground. Instead, it gets its nourishment from the trees on which it grows.

Another curious thing about the mistletoe is that though it blossoms earlier in the year than the tree on which it grows, yet the little berries do not ripen before December. Maybe that is because it has to steal its food from the trees, and therefore cannot ripen early. The very name "mistletoe" gives some idea of its insignificance. In the Anglo-Saxon language "mist" means gloom, and it comes in mid-winter, the gloomiest time of the year.

The gathering of mistletoe was a very important ceremony among the ancient Druids. About five days after the new moon they marched in stately procession to the forest and raised an altar of straw beneath the finest mistletoe-bearing oak they could find. The arch-Druid would ascend the oak, and, with a jeweled knife, remove the sacred mistletoe. The others stood beneath the tree and caught the plant upon a white cloth, for, if a portion of it touched the earth, it was an omen of misfortune to the land.

And this is doubtless the reason why it is still the custom to hang it from the ceiling and why it is supposed to lose its charm if it touches the floor.

World's Record Skimming on twelve billion gallons of milk

IF ALL of America's twelve-billion-gallon 1918 milk crop had been run through the world's-record skimmer—the UNITED STATES Cream Separator—the saving to the dairymen of the country would have gone far toward supplying this year's butter-fat shortage in Europe.

—Not merely a high-sounding claim, but based on the world's record won by the UNITED STATES in open competition with the pick of the world's cream separators.

The same world's-record skimming results are available to you right now.
