A letter to Tawas City friends from G. G. Hood of Saginaw, formerly a resident here, announces the death of his son-in-law, James O'Day, which occurred last Saturday morning at 4:10. Mr. O'Day often visited Tawas City and will be remembered by many of our citizens, who extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

As will be seen by a notice elsewhere in this paper, the grocers of Tawas City will, beginning next Monday, cut down their deliveries to once a day. This arrangement was decided on at a meeting held Monday evening. The cost of delivery is a big item in the expense of a grocery store and adds in no small measure to the cost of our daily fare. A return to the old market basket and the cash and carry system would cause a noticeable reduction in living expenses. For it is certain that some one has to pay the expense of delivery and if the grocer does not add this item to his costs he will be the loser.

OBITUARY—MRS. HATTIE WARNER

Mrs. Hattie Warner was born April 15, 1897, at East Tawas. In her childhood days she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farrand, to Grant township, where she resided until her marriage. She was baptized in 1912 in the East Branch of the Au Gres river by Elder O. J. Hawn of Bay City and remained a firm believer in the principles of her religion until the end.

On May 20, 1918, she was united in marriage to Jesse Warner of Tawas City. Two children, twins, were born to this union, both of whom died in infancy.

She passed to the Great Beyond on Monday, March 1, the cause of death being influenza and pneumonia. Her last request was that Elder M. A. Sommerfield of Tawas City preach her funeral sermon, which as far as possible was complied with. The funeral was private from the home of her sister, Mrs. Orville McDonald, and her many friends were not permitted to attend on account of the nature of the disease from which she died. A memorial sermon will be preached at a later date. The remains were laid to rest in the East Tawas cemetery.

Deceased leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, one brother and two sisters, besides other relatives and a large circle of friends who join in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

'Tis said there are some people who would rather say nothing than to speak a kind word. And, then, there are those who are continually barking and still say nothing and never speak in kindness.

Mayor's Proclamation

To the Citizens of Tawas City:

Because it has an important bearing on the welfare of our city, both from a civic and individual standpoint, I feel it my duty to call attention to the plan for a Father and Son Banquet to be held in this city Wednesday, March 17.

The sons of today are the citizens of tomorrow and anything that will bring father and son together in a friendly spirit must necessarily be of benefit to both and to the community.

This is in harmony with a nation wide plan and also in accordance with the proclamation of the governor of the state.

I, therefore, call upon the fathers of this city and request their co-operation in this event by attending the meeting to be held next Wednesday night.

Signed JOHN A. MYLES,
Mayor

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

The American people never realized until the late war, what tremendous assets of patriotism and loyalty it possesses. Four million men quietly responded to the call of the government, gave up their business interests, and risked their lives as their duty to their country. Most of those who stayed at home gave loyal support and made many sacrifices.

Now all this patriotism and loyalty comes up against a new test and it finds a new duty to perform. The American people have accomplished marvelous in business development and scientific and technical achievement. But in conducting their public affairs they have been less successful. The local, state and national governments are for the most part inefficient and costly for the work done.

The principal cause for this partial failure has been civic neglect upon the part of the people. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. It is common to blame the politicians for failure of government. But politicians reflect the opinions and desires of their constituents. When the people demand efficient, businesslike, progressive government and insist upon it, and refuse to be diverted by side issues, they can always get it.

The American people ought in this presidential year, to have a new birth of good citizenship. The country that the boys died for in France is worth some effort here at home. People cannot expect to get efficient government state, local and national, unless they put personal effort and thought into it. Every man and woman should feel that they have a personal stake in elections and other political events of this fateful year. The entire concentrated thought of the nation should be given to the cause of good government.—Mio Telegram-News.

FARMING CONDITIONS DEMAND COST FIGURES

Constantly increasing demand for accurate figures on cost of producing farm products is brought out by the universal emphasis being placed on fair prices for the farmer. Agricultural leaders are agreed that the future welfare of the nation's food producers depends on an early determination of what constitutes a fair price.

"The basis for all this work must be the records kept by individual farmers throughout the country," declares C. H. Graves, farm management demonstrator at the Michigan Agricultural College, "but unfortunately the number of such accounts being kept in Michigan is not great enough to form a comprehensive background for cost estimates.

"If the agricultural organizations of Michigan are to aid in the establishment of fair prices for farm products, they must be supplied with a greatly increased number of accurately kept individual farm accounts. Every farmer in the state owes it to the agricultural industry to start keeping a farm account book this spring, for in no other way can this major farm problem be solved.

Farm account books designed to meet this demand are available through the county farm bureaus of the state, or may be had directly from the farm management department at the Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing.

WHY BOYS LEAVE THE FARM

Why did you leave the farm, my lad? Why did you bolt and leave your dad? Why did you beat it off to town And turn your poor old father down? Thinkers of platform, pulpit, press Are wallowing in deep distress; They seek to know the hidden cause Why farmer boys desert their pas. Some say they long to get a taste Of faster life and social waste; And some will say the silly chumps Must take their suit cards for their trumps

In waging fresh and germless air Against the stinky thoroughfare. We're all agreed the farm's the place, So free your mind and state your case.

Well, stranger, since you've been so frank,

I'll roll aside the hazy bank, And tell you where the trouble lies. I left my dad, his farm, the plow, Because my calf became his cow. I left my dad—'twas wrong of course— Because my colt became his horse. I left my dad to sow and reap Because my lamb became his sheep. I dropped my hoe and stuck my fork Because my pig became his pork. The garden stuff that I made grow, 'Twas his to sell, but mine to hoe.

It is not the smoke in the atmosphere, Nor the taste for life that brought me here.

Please tell the platform, pulpit, press, No fear of toil or love of dress Is driving off the farmer lads, But just the method of their dads.

—From Junior Post-Intelligencer

THE GET-TOGETHER SPIRIT

The Department of Agriculture figures it out that 50,000,000 Americans live in the country or in places of less than 2,500 inhabitants. In order to be happy all people must have human companionship, and the development of this has been taking place by means of better mail service, telephones, automobiles, good roads, and the movies.

As a result of the war the idea of club houses has been growing, and the department has been "keeping cases" on 300 of them. In consequence our staid old Agricultural Department has become enthusiastic over this innovation to rural and village life. It issues a statement expressing the opinion that there is a new era growing into existence about these community club houses. These structures are described as "the centers of a great variety of wholesome activities."

The building and maintenance of the institutions is pictured as rather easy for any community, and anyone who wants to work out the idea at home can get a lot of advance information by sending a dime to the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for a copy of the pamphlet called "Rural Community Buildings in the United States."

A good many of the community camps built for soldiers during the late war have been taken over by the local inhabitants, with splendid results in most cases.

The pendulum is nearly 14 feet in length and weighs about 250 pounds. Its operation is carried on by a system of weights suspended in the four corners of the tower. Cables connected to the clock cause the bells to ring by operating iron hammers which strike the outside of the lower rim. It requires two janitors two hours each week to wind the clock.

Occasionally some two by four Mexican peanut official cocks his head squints one eye and invites us Americans to come down and see how beautifully they run their government. Some day we will accept the invitation—with a gun in one hand and a hand grenade in the other.

Origin of "White Elephant."
The king of Siam in years gone by would send a white elephant to a courtier whom he disliked and whose fortune he wished to destroy. The man could not sell the elephant and the expense of keeping it eventually "broke him up." From that custom was handed down our present day saying, "He's got a white elephant on his hands."

The Wonders of America
By T. T. MAXEY

THE BIG TREES IN CALIFORNIA.

THE biggest trees in the world are found in California. They are of two varieties, both a species of evergreen, sequoia (in honor of a Cherokee Indian) redwood and sequoia gigantea. The former grows quite extensively in certain sections on the western slope of the coast range; the latter only on the western slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains, at an elevation of about one mile above sea level. The former is said to reproduce itself from the stump, the other from little seeds which grow in pods.

The best-known and most-frequently-visited grove of the redwood sequoias is near the little city of Santa Cruz, on the coast some seventy miles south of San Francisco. Some of these trees are more than 250 feet high and 20 feet in diameter at the base. The gigantea, however, is the real thing in big trees. Some are almost 400 feet high and 90 feet around at the base. The bark is of a reddish brown color, very thick and fluted up and down. The branches are very large, beginning 60 feet or more from the ground. The secret of their age is still one of the unexplained problems of the universe. Estimates range all the way from 4,000 to 10,000 years. But suppose it is only the former. Think of living a million and a half of days! Think of the changes which have been wrought in that time! That they are the tallest, stately and oldest living things in all this big world of ours is an undisputed fact.

Powerful Nitroglycerin.
The greater part of the world's output of glycerin is used for nitroglycerin, prepared by the action of a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids on glycerin, which forms the chief ingredient of many modern high explosives and smokeless powders, used for military, mining and agricultural purposes.

There is one sweet consolation in all this price soaring. A fellow has a heap of exercise in trying to keep up.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Only a Limited Number of Ford Cars
There are mighty good reasons why you should buy your Ford car now. But the biggest one is that there are only so many Ford cars—just a specified limited number—alotted to this territory. Those who buy their cars now will be wise.
Don't put it off. Get your name on an order. We must have signed bona-fide orders before our monthly allotment is shipped us. So the only way for you to be sure of getting a Ford car, is to order it now. It is your protection.
Again we tell you, the allotment for this territory is limited and you must buy now while deliveries are possible. As ever, the demand for Ford cars is away in advance of production. So it's first come, first served. Spring, summer, autumn and winter are all the same to Ford car. It is a valuable servant every day of the year. Rain or shine, it is ready for your demands. Buy now and get prompt delivery. Buy now while the buying is possible.

Attention Farmers

Those of you who waited until the last moment to get your timothy and clover seed last year will remember that you had a lot of trouble to find it. It's going to be the same this year. You can avoid all that trouble by getting your seed now and probably save money at the same time. Seed is high now, but it looks like higher prices still.

We have the famous PINE TREE Timothy Seed, 99.5 per cent pure. You can't beat it. It pays to buy the best seed. Don't buy the cheap grades. You get enough weed seed without buying it.

Also have a full line of Feeds, Winter Wheat Bran and Middlings. When in need of Building Material get our lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors, Mouldings, Etc.

TAKE PRIDE IN UMBRELLAS

Indo-Chinese Workers in France Never Fail to Carry Them on Sundays, Rain or Shine.

Riding along through France on a Sunday in these times, one is reasonably certain to meet many Chinamen under umbrellas.

They mostly hail from Indo-China. The French imported them by thousands for service in the labor battalions behind the lines. During the week, dressed in nondescript mixtures of native garb and cast-off uniforms, they work at road mending or at ditch digging or at truck loading jobs.

On Sundays they dress themselves up in their best clothes and stroll about the countryside. And, rain or shine, each one brings along with him his treasured umbrella and carries it unfurled above his proud head.

It never is a Chinese umbrella, either, but invariably a cheap black affair of local manufacture.

Go into one of the barracks where these yellow men are housed, and at the head of each bunk there hangs a black umbrella, which the owner guards as his most darling possession. If he dies I suppose it is buried with him.

Nobody knows why every Sunday the Chinaman sports an umbrella, unless it be that in his Oriental mind he has figured it out that possession of such a thing stamps him as a person of travel and culture, who, like any true cosmopolitan, is desirous of conforming to the custom of the country to which he has been transported. A Frenchman, if careless, may leave his umbrella behind when he goes forth for a promenade; a Chinaman never does.—Irvin S. Cobb in Saturday Evening Post

Your committee on claims and accounts No. 1 respectfully submit the following as their report, recommending the allowance of the several amounts given below, and that the clerk be authorized to draw orders for the same:

Wedding Custom.
The custom of throwing an old shoe after a bride is quite misapprehended when it is done by her companions for luck. According to the spirit of the ceremony, which is of very ancient origin, it should be done by the parent or guardian of the bride as indicating a renunciation of all authority over her.

INCOME TAX IS DUE MARCH 15

Penalties for Delay and Failure to Make Returns—Early Compliance Urged.

All income tax returns covering the year 1919 must be filed by Monday, March 15. Each taxable return must be accompanied by check or money order for the full amount or at least one-quarter of the amount of tax due.

Cash payments are accepted only at the collector's main office; if sent by mail, they are at the sender's risk.

Residents of Michigan should send returns and payments to John A. Gagan, Collector of Internal Revenue, Detroit, or E. J. Doyle, Collector of Internal Revenue, Grand Rapids.

Those who must file returns but have not done so are warned that the revenue law imposes heavy penalties for failure to get returns in on time or to make payments on time.

Early filing and early payments are urged, in order to relieve the Internal Revenue offices as much as possible of an overload on the final day, March 15.

Birds With Brains.

Naturalists have arrived at the conclusion that the brain in birds is large in proportion to the body. If it is admitted that intelligence depends upon the weight of brain, then the goldfinch must be placed at the top of the list of birds; the brain weighs one-fourteenth of its whole body.

Beware of the Flatterer.

"Flattery," said Uncle Eben, "is generally a scheme for easy money makin', wifout even goin' to de trouble of fixin' up a gold brick or a satchel of green goods."

The village was aroused at about 6:30 Monday morning by the cry of fire from the elevator. A crowd quickly gathered, but the fire spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to save the building. James Ferris had built a fire in the office and had gone upstairs to build a fire in the bean picking department. When he came back down a few minutes later the building was filled with smoke and flames. It is not known exactly how the fire caught. There were 2,000 bushels of beans, 1,400 bushels of rye and about $2,000 worth of clover seed in the building and all were destroyed.
