FRANCE WANTS TOURISTS.
Information comes from France which involves one of the best of proofs that the war is over. France wants tourists. French regulations now permit American automobilists who bring their machines to France to travel all over the country on the payment of an additional fee of 20 francs. These regulations are new, and are intended to provide special facilities for Americans who want to tour France. And think of the result they are likely to produce! Where there was one American 20 years ago with the resources for foreign travel, there are ten today. And those who could travel today are many times the spenders they were then. Moreover, thousands of Americans who then didn't care a fig for France, and have little real regard for the country now, will have a curiosity, morbid or otherwise, to visit and gaze at the scenes of the battles of the great war, says Hartford Times. All in all, the prospects are good for the tourist crop and the tourist yield in France.

It is noticed that many auto accidents are ascribed by the chauffeurs to the fact that the machine got beyond their control. This may be a good excuse sometimes, but, as a rule, it is a poor one, and the public is getting tired of it, for behind the excuse is the fact that the chauffeur was violating the speed law. There would not be much chance of the chauffeur's losing control of his machine if he were running it according to law. Most of the accidents come from a disregard of the law. Many chauffeurs, when they get into a car, think they are a law unto themselves, and so drive their machines through all sorts of gais and all sorts of angles. If autos were driven deliberately and thoughtfully we wouldn't hear of so many accidents happening because they got beyond control. Let us hope the courts will treat with great caution this plea that the auto got beyond the control of the driver.

W. S. S.—BUY THEM!

There is to be a big toy exhibition in New York to show what the toy makers of America have accomplished. This is one of the industries for which Germany was famous and in which her superiority was acknowledged in the markets of the world, says Baltimore American. Since the war American enterprise has undertaken to supply the home demand, and thus a practical mint has been closed to the Germans to be thrown open for working by home industry.

Girls who want to look pretty in photographs must not powder their faces, says a camera expert, but we suppose the dear creatures would rather look pretty on the street and there fore will continue to visit the portrait artists in full war paint, regardless of consequences.

The word Boche as a term of contempt earned by the Germans in the war is to go in the new French dictionary, says the Baltimore American. The Germans will, doubtless, protest with feeling against this evidence of hate being passed on to rising generations.

The announced sale of three large army camps emphasizes the fact that the war is over and will bring with a sigh of relief all over the country the prayer that camps may be things of the past, at least, for some generations to come.

A religious leader chides society women for setting a bad example to working girls in extravagant dress. As a matter of fact, it is the working girl who fixes the fashions and society folks are mighty hard-pressed to keep up with her.

Physicians assembled in convention at Chicago expressed the opinion that America will not again be visited by an influenza epidemic like the last one. It is to be hoped the reliability of this prediction will equal its optimism.

We have sent $4,000,000,000 worth of relief to Europe and have declined to share in the spoils of the war. Hereafter our altruism cannot be questioned, since we have the figures to prove it.

If Wilhelm keeps on getting the allied demands modified he may wind up in the same position as the rabbit that was thrown into the bramble bush. It exclaimed, you remember, "Why, this is my home."

Alabama man, charged with having six wives, was arrested when he tried to marry a seventh. You can call seven his lucky or unlucky number, according to your point of view.

PATENT OFFICE BUSY PLACE

Last Year Broke All Records in the Number of Inventions That Were Filed.

Last year was a record year in volume if not quality of inventions. Applications for patents reaching the patent office during 1919 approached the unprecedented number of 70,000, more than any year's output. The increase grew with the year, Aaron Hardy Ulm writes in the Nation's Business. Those for the third quarter exceeded by 51 per cent receipts of the same quarter in 1918.

Invention, of course, did not suspend during the war, but, at least in volume of production, it diminished. And a great proportion of that which did function related to war objects. But at noon on November 11, 1918, the great war became as ancient to the inventor as the Peloponnesian conflicts of long ago.

In October, 1919, there reached the division of the patent office handling metallurgical inventions a total of 662 applications for patents. In one division handling chemical subjects—there are several chemical divisions—489 applications were filed; in the agricultural implement division, 354 applications arrived; and the division dealing with vehicle wheels and such apparatus received 720 applications, about one-half of which related to resilient tires. This last item discloses the fact that inventions for the automobile industry best reflect the current work of the patent office.

In October, for instance, 441 applications went to the division that handles automobile engines and parts. That, considering frame work and gearing, received 550.

"MARK 'EM ALL QUARTERS"

Simple Method by Which Medical Sergeant Solved Monetary Complication Arising in Crap Game.

The international complications of the monetary system of the crap game were even more confusing than usual, for the players had but recently arrived in France via England. American silver, English shillings and French francs were scattered about the barracks floor, and the voices of the players were raised in angry protest over the financial differences between francs and shillings. Finally they decided to appeal to the only non-player present, a medical sergeant who lay half asleep on his bunk. "Sarge," they asked, "This here small change has got us all foxed. I win a shillin' off Bill and he gives me a franc and I say he still owes me two big clackers and he says he don't. Can't you suggest somethin' to simplify the darn thing?"

The medico, who had had a hard struggle with would-be invalids at sick call that day, rolled over sleepily. "Aw, mark 'em all quarters," he grunted.—Home Sector.

Britain Needs New Houses.

It has been estimated that 800,000 new houses are needed in the United Kingdom to properly house the population. All building was at a standstill throughout the war. Because of the enormous increase in building materials and the increased cost of labor these houses cannot be built for less than twice the amount they would have cost in 1914. Thousands of big houses in London are for sale, but these are of no use to newlyweds, who in most instances cannot afford to maintain them, nor can they get the servants necessary to keep up such establishments. It has been found too costly to try to convert many of these houses into apartments. They now are monuments to prewar and opulent family life in London, when servants were employed by the dozen.

Uncle Sam is the "Auto Boy."

America is the automobile center of the world. There were in all Christendom, on July 30, 1919, approximately 7,884,000 automobiles, and 6,500,000 were in the United States, according to a survey by the Alexander Hamilton Institute of New York. We have, therefore, nearly five times as many automobiles as all other countries combined. The 1,384,000 automobiles not in the United States when the survey was made, last July, were distributed as follows: Great Britain, 415,000; Canada, 300,000; France, 200,000; Germany, 75,000; Italy, 35,000; Argentina, 35,000; the Netherlands, 20,000; Russia, 15,000; Japan, 3,000; all other countries, 321,000.

Affluent Person.

"See here," said the manager of an automobile sales agency, "what did you mean by wasting your time showing that rough looking fellow a $8,000 car? A flivver would be about his size."

"I thought so, too, at first," replied the smart salesman, "but I noticed a great deal of grime under his fingernails and in his eyebrows and hair. I immediately sized him up as a wage earner and not a salaried man."
"Well?"
"He bought the car."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Hypodermic Vaccination.

Maj. J. R. Goodall of the Canadian army has vaccinated 6,000 soldiers and children by injecting the virus with a hypodermic syringe. There were no accidents and he claims for this method that the wound does not become infected; no dressings are needed. There are more "takes," the reaction of the system is slighter and the operation is done more quickly.

Peculiar Will Upheld.

An elderly Frenchman was found dead in his house at Doumely in the Ardennes. A search among his papers failed to reveal any will until, under his bed, a piece of sheetiron was discovered, with these words written on it in white chalk: "I bequeath all my property to the borough of Ardennes on condition that the mayor gives £12 to the local fire brigade for a bonfest. (Signed) —" The relatives disputed this queer and very brief will, but the local court decided that it was valid.

Sparing Grandma.
A little miss was clawing around in a forbidden box one day in the absence of her mother when her grandmother, who saw what was going on, accosted her rather sharply: "Gussie what are you rummaging around in that box for?" And little Miss Gussie answered: "Now, grandma, it will probably be just as well if you don't know what I am after."

Big Profit in Milk and Butter

Small Investment Brings Big Return—Mr. Weaver's Plan is Simple

"I bought a package of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders from my local dealer and after feeding it to my Jersey cow, she increased from 6 to 12 quarts of milk per day, and after continuing the powders for 30 days longer she increased in butter fat from 5 to 10 pounds per week, and at the end of 5 months, she was making 12 pounds of butter fat per week."—L. B. Weaver, Grand Rapids, Mich.
Mr. Weaver followed the advice of Dr. LeGear, and is money ahead. You can get the same results. Get Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders from your dealer; feed it to your horses, milk cows, steers, hogs and sheep as directed. Satisfaction or money back.—Dr. L. D. LeGear Med. Co., St. Louis, Mo. adv

Assisting the "Hired Man"

Has the "hired man" quit? Is he going to quit? Has he been lured by the big wages of industrial plants? Don't worry! A LITSCHER LITE PLANT will keep him satisfied.

LITSCHER LITE

In these days when the cry is for increased production and the farmer finds himself face to face with help shortage, it is up to him to find a means by which the greatest amount of work may be done for the least amount of money. The Litscher Lite plant does this in addition to supplying electric current for incandescent lights and every modern electrical labor saving appliance.

The Litscher Lite plant is a complete, compact power plant supplying engine power and storing electric current at the same time. It operates with a minimum amount of attention on the same amount of kerosene needed to light your house with old-fashioned lamps. By the most simple operation it will develop belt power for farm machinery and will supply current for such modern appliances as electric vacuum sweepers, irons, washing machines, fans, toasters, percolators, modern bathrooms—in short, all the conveniences.

Mr. Farmer, don't you owe this to your wife and yourself? With the increasing shortage of help a Litscher Lite plant is necessary to your business and comfort.

The Litscher Lite plant gives complete satisfaction, but to further assure every owner of this modern mechanism that he is the possessor of light and power service, the Litscher Lite expert service man will supervise installations and make inspections from time to time.

To see a Litscher Lite plant in operation is to be convinced of its labor saving and comfort giving qualities. As soon as possible see a Litscher Lite plant at—

Champion Meanest Man.
A peculiar case which recently came before a London magistrate was that of a woman who applied for a separation from her husband, whom she denounced as the champion mean man of all England. She complained that her husband during the sugar famine kept his supply in a separate bowl, in which he imprisoned a fly. If the fly was still there when he returned home nobody had tampered with his hoard; if it was not, a lump or two had been taken.

Tag Your Books.
Many book lovers with large and precious libraries keep a small book with the name of each book lent, the date and the borrower. After a reasonable time, when the book has been lent, it is no discourtesy to write and remind the borrower that you miss your book friend and are waiting to welcome it home. Get a bookplate. That is the very best way to tag your books. And don't forget that the golden rule applies in books as in other phases of life, and return the ones you borrow yourself.

Dangers to Be Avoided.
Wrong eating brings disease and premature aging. This is obvious to all unprejudiced minds. And there are two principal styles of eating which must be avoided to secure delectable health—namely, eating badly prepared food and eating too much of food properly prepared.—J. M. Tilden, M. D.

If it becomes necessary to change the center line from the hubs, the change will become part of these specifications and the right is reserved to make any such changes.

Station stakes and grade hubs shall remain in their original positions during the cleaning of said drain, and shall not be moved nor covered with excavations.

All loose stumps, timber, brushwood, logs and driftwood shall be removed from the entire width and berm of said drain and shall not be covered with excavations.

All water courses, either natural or artificial, entering said drain shall be left open and unobstructed for the free passage of water into same when the work of cleaning said drain is completed.

The said work of cleaning is divided into sections as follows: No. 1, from the Augres river to the section line between sections 32 and 33, distance 123 rods; No. 2, from said section line to the north and south 1/4 line of section 32, distance 160 rods; No. 3, from said 1/4 line to the west 1/4 line of section 32, distance 80 rods; No. 4, from said 1/4 line to the section line between sections 31 and 32, distance 80 rods; No. 5, from said section line, then along the south boundary of section 31 to the terminal of the clean out at Station 71, distance 125 rods. Bridges will be constructed where required by law.

Said job will be let by sections. The section at the outlet of said drain will be let first, and the remaining sections in their order up stream, in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioners of the Counties of Arenac and Iosco, to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly. Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids. The date for the completion of such contract, and the terms of payment therefor, shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting.
