

Ink Stains.
Dip the ink spot in pure melted talow, says a correspondent, then wash out the tallow and the ink will come out with it. Milk will remove ink from linen or colored muslins, where acids would be ruinous, by soaking the goods until the spot is very faint and then rubbing and rinsing in cold water.

Topsy Turvy Bird.
The flamingo because of the shape of its bill, is obliged, in feeding, to turn its head upside down, in order to take in a fish.

Danger in Overweight.
Overweight, within ten pounds, under thirty years of age is considered a favorable sign and indicates resistance against tuberculosis. After thirty years it is an unfavorable sign, signifying over-eating, auto-intoxication and danger of hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, heart failure, and Bright's disease.

Cost of Producing a Diamond.
To produce a diamond in the rough costs approximately $7 a karat, according to estimates of various students of the diamond industry. If this diamond property cut were sold at $30, it would net a good profit. In the South African mines it is said the diamonds are distributed so evenly that 100 tons of the bluish clay yields about 100 karats of diamonds. The production cost of a five-karat diamond is $35. If it is flawless and of good water it will easily net $3,500. The supply of diamonds is unlimited. Almost all of the world's supply comes from South Africa and complete control of it is in the hands of one British concern.

Sea Serpents Really Exist.
Although many of us may have in idea that sea serpents exist nowhere but in fiction, that is not the case, and of all snakes they are the most venomous. In tropical waters they are vastly numerous, especially in the Indian ocean where they are often seen literally by hundreds swimming at the surface of the water. They are six to eight feet long, very fierce and will commonly attack human beings. Their bodies are flat and almost wholly fitted by the lungs.

THE CITY BOY

(Composed by Roy Colby, 11 yrs. old)

I love to go to grampa's
There's fun for everyone,
For you can chase the chickens,
And have all sorts of fun.

I've got the bestest grandmaw,
Oh, say, but she can bake
The lovely fried potatoes
And the nicest kinds of cake.

I like to go with grampa
And help him load the hay;
But even if it is work,
I seem to think it's play.

It's fun to hunt the eggs
That the hens lay in the hay;
If there was nothing else to do
I could hunt the eggs all day.

And then there's feeding chickens,
Of course that's lots of fun;
And when you throw the chicken
feed
Those chickens sure do run.

But then when school begins,
You have to say good-by
To dear old grampa and grama
It nearly makes you cry.

Nature and Workers.
Nature offers no reward to mental Indolence. It hates an idler in any field.—David Swing.

BIGGEST OF EARTH'S VALLEYS

Giant Crack in Surface Extends Over One-Sixth of the Circumference of the World.

The Great Rift valley, as it is called by Prof. J. W. Gregory, extends over one-sixth of the circumference of the earth, remarks the London Times.

It begins in Lebanon, follows the canyon of the Jordan and the Dead sea and crosses a high "divide" to become the deep fjord of the Gulf of Akaba between the highland of Edom and Sinai. The Red sea, a great trough 11,000 feet deep, measured from the summit of its rocky wall to the sea bottom, continues it between the high deserts of Nubia and Arabia to the narrow neck of Bab-el-Mandeb. It strikes across Abyssinia to Lake Rudolph, runs almost due south through British East Africa and traverses a range 7,000 feet high to Lake Natron, in what was German East Africa. Where it crosses the Uganda railway its walls are so steep that the trains used to be hauled up or lowered by cables. It is continued by the rift which holds Lake Nyasa, an inland ocean, whose surface is 1,630 feet above sea level, with a depth of 700 feet below sea level.

From Nyasa it runs down the Shir valley, crosses the Zambesi and ends in the Indian ocean at the Sabi river in Gazaland. A minor branch forms the lower end and a gigantic arm stretches from the upper end of Nyasa through Tanganyika, the second deepest lake in the world, its bottom 1,000 feet below sea level, to the upper Nile.

We are accustomed to think of valleys as having been formed by erosion, but the Rift valley is clearly the result of some more catastrophic agency. There have been differences of opinion as to the mode of its formation within the historical period. But the discovery of fossil mammals, of types long extinct, makes it possible to regard the founding of the Dead sea as coincident with the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

ARABS SKILLED IN AVIATION

Their Mechanicians Said to Have Been Pioneers in the Art in the Second Century.

The Arab race has some interesting sidelights on the early history of aviation, so far as it concerns the Arab race. According to this paper, it was at the end of the second century, and the beginning of the third, that the Arab race began to be influenced by the Greeks and Indians. It was in Bagdad that the mathematical and mechanical arts first began to make their appearance. With the coming of these different studies the horizon of the Arabs became enlarged. It was about this period that the grand Caliph Haroun al-Raschid sent his famous clock to Charlemagne, emperor of the Franks.

Amongst the various crafts from which the Arabs drew their culture was, strange as it may seem today, that of aviation. At the head of this section was the celebrated Arab mechanic Abbas Ben Farnas, the first known pioneer of the art which Bleriot, Farman and Gypnemer have since made famous, unless one should include in such the young Icarus of Greek legend.

Insect Life in Winter.

In the dead wood of the old snags are many insects that live through the winter regardless of how cold it gets; creatures whose weak bodies seem to defy the frigid temperature. Pull off a bit of old bark from a snag and note that there is life beneath it; little people that try to scurry for cover when their home is wrecked. They are not so agile as when the weather is warm, but they are not in a state of torpor. The fish do not hibernate during the winter. Some species find homes in holes or beneath rocks and roots and get along very well without food during the cold weather, but they are not torpid like the bears and groundhogs that hibernate. Most of the fish swim about in the cold water and gather a living in winter just as they do in summer, but none of them require so much food when the water is cold.

Resignation Benefits.

True resignation, which always brings with it confidence that an changeable goodness will make even the disappointment of our hopes and the contradictions of life conducive to some benefit, casts a grave but tranquil light over the prospect of even a toilsome and troubled life.—Hannboldt.

All of the Sterner Sex.

Johnny has three sisters, but no brothers, which is a constant source of regret to the little man. When new neighbors, with two boys, moved in next door he was delighted and rushed in to his mother with, "Oh mother, there's two brothers and even their goat's a boy, 'cause they call him Billy."

Oils and Their Uses.

Crushing seeds to extract oils has been employed in Japan for centuries. Rape seed oil has long been used for frying fish and lobsters, and is today the principal fat in the Japanese diet. Cottonseed oil was used as a substitute for rapeseed oil and for lighting purposes. The ancient Japanese also understood the extraction of oil.
