PRESCOTT HERD WINS AGAIN

At the state fair at Detroit this week the herd of Shorthorn cattle from the Prescott ranch carried off a large number of the prizes in their classes again this year. Following are the standings they won in the various classes:

First prize on produce of cow. First on four get of sire. Second on calf herd. Second on yearling herd. Second and third on junior heifer calves.

First and third on senior heifer calves. Second, third and sixth on junior yearling heifers. Second and third on senior yearling heifers.

First and second on junior bull calves. First and fourth on senior bull calves. Second on junior yearling bull. First on aged bull.

In this exhibition the Prescott herd came into competition with the best herds of Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the prizes won speak well for the standard of the cattle raised on the big ranch at Prescott.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Would you like to live in a town that didn't have any church bells? Of course you wouldn't. There is a worthy meaning in their chime that cannot be missed. They ring for a worthy cause. Their message is a message of good cheer, peace and progress. Who could wish to silence such music as this?

Who are they ringing for? For your neighbor—because he goes to church habitually? Yes, they are ringing for him; but they are ringing for you, too! They call YOU to worship. Their message is not for your neighbor and a few of your friends, but for all. And that includes YOU.

Don't wait for the church bells to awaken you next Sunday morning. Get up early enough to answer their message and invitation by your presence at the service of the church. Remember: It is all for YOU! Then, after you have formed the church-going habit, the pealing of the bells will have a new meaning for you.

Sunday morning, 10:00. Subject, "One Hundred Per Cent Christian." Sunday school, 11:15.

Sunday evening, 7:30. Assisted by "Good Cheer" chorus. Prayer service Wednesday, 7:30.

Homer W. Grimes, Pastor.

AN APPRECIATION

As it will be impossible to see every one personally, I take this opportunity to thank the voters of Iosco county for their loyal support at the primaries August 31.

adv W. J. Robinson.

TAWAS HERALD HAS NEW HOME

During the past week the Herald office and equipment has been moved into its new home in the building formerly occupied by the E. J. Moeller grocery store, recently purchased from C. H. Prescott & Sons.

The new location gives the business the needed room which was lacking in our former location, and will be much more convenient, besides allowing for anticipated expansion.

Among other things, at an early date a fine line of stationery and office supplies will be available to supply the trade in Tawas City and surrounding localities. Office supplies in a line which have never been carried, except in a limited quantity, in either of the Tawas, and the Herald will carry a line which is anticipated will supply every need of the business houses of Iosco county.

Our subscribers and friends are cordially invited to visit us in our new home, where they will be extended a hearty welcome.

FARM SALES

During the past two weeks a number of farms in this locality have changed hands through the medium of the Strout Farm Agency.

The one hundred and sixty acres on the Hemlock and Wilber roads, known as the Scheffler farm, has been purchased by J. H. Weber. The old Young estate on the Meadow road, owned by L. D. Bowker, has been sold to Joseph N. Pollander.

The August Blust farm has been sold to Fred A. Torrey. The farm of Samuel Hardesty in Wilber township, known as the Chas. Cornett farm, has been purchased by Guy H. Powell. Mr. Powell purchased a farm near Hale last fall through the Strout agency and has since put it up with them again to be sold.

THE AMERICAN MELTING POT

When the war broke out the American people became suddenly aware of the fact that a great deal of undesirable immigration had been permitted. Fortunately a lot of bad eggs who liked the big game of gun play went back to their native lands, where many of them became real heroes in the fight.

Immigration figures show that Italian and Polish re-servists are returning to this country in large numbers. One steamship recently brought 665 immigrants from Portugal. Certain editorial writers attempted to point out that the high steamship fares and the high wages paid to skilled workmen are producing a better class of immigrants than in the pre-war days. Just what the National Americanization Commission will say about this claim is uncertain, but there are many who will hope that the melting pot is actually getting a better supply than in the past.

Of a sudden the United States Immigration service has become a very important piece of government machinery. It functions under direction of the department of labor, and Assistant Secretary Post, who is the energetic head of many of the department's activities, has ordered a re-organization of the service, following an investigation, which he says disclosed conditions indicating "utter disorganization."

Mr. Post and Commissioner Caminetti locked horns months ago, and the latter's order deporting so-called "reds" was set aside by Post, who thereafter faced a Congressional investigation and got into a good-sized row with Attorney General Palmer.

For awhile Post was the storm center and then the clouds cleared away and the sun began to shine again.

Evidently the department of labor proposes to enforce a rigid system in handling immigration in the future, and the shake-up of Mr. Caminetti's bureau is no doubt intended to prevent the unassorted hoi polloi and the dregs of Europe walking unchallenged thru the gates at Ellis Island in the future years. Desirable immigrants will doubtless be welcomed in America, as in past years. So many mechanics are busy mending automobiles and repairing tires that the other useful occupations are suffering a shortage of "common labor" that can very well be replenished by a fresh bunch of immigrants that are still willing to do the menial labor needed by the country. In consequence all well-wishers of America and Americanization will say god-speed to every effort to put the government immigration work on an efficient basis.

Don't believe all you hear—especially when it is about yourself.

TAWAS CITY WINS ONE—LOSES ONE

On Sunday, Sept. 5, the Tawas City baseball team went to Hale to play a return game. This was expected to be a hard game for the local team, but turned out to be an easy victory.

McCrum, on the mound for Hale, was hit hard and often, Tawas getting 23 hits, of which E. Moeller and C. Moeller took four each, Nelem and Marzinski getting three apiece. Zink was there with the heavy stick and lack of speed was the only thing that kept him out of the home run column.

Nelem, throwing for the home team, held Hale in good style whenever they started a rally. Hale drove out eleven hits, of which McCrum got three.

Following is the box score:

One of the fastest games of the season was that played at Tawas Beach on Labor Day between East Tawas and Tawas City. The game was not without the scrap which always occurs at games between the two towns, but this time it occurred before the game to decide whether outside players whom East Tawas had brought in should be allowed to play. After a half hour's jangle it was decided in favor of East Tawas, though Tawas City did not think it a square deal.

In the first inning both sides scored, after which neither got a run until the sixth, when East Tawas got two, and the game remained 3 to 1 to the finish.

In the fifth it started to rain, making it hard to handle the ball, but in spite of this handicap the pegs to bases were good and the fielding of the best.

Pearsall's triple was the only long hit. Following is the box score:

McRAE THANKS VOTERS

I wish to thank my friends throughout Iosco county for the splendid support given me for State Senator, and if successful at the November election I shall do my part to transform our state departments and state institutions from a political to a more economic basis, and serve you honestly and faithfully.

Yours very truly, Duncan McRae. adv

Beauty is only skin deep—and most of the pretty girls haven't much depth.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

The Federated Crafts of the D. & M. Ry. and the Odd Fellows held a picnic and celebration at Tawas Beach on Labor Day. The weather was rather unpropitious, but nevertheless a good time was enjoyed.

At ten o'clock a. m. the parade was formed at the city hall in Tawas City and marched to the Holland hotel in East Tawas. The parade was led by a local band and was composed of a number of floats representing the various railroad crafts one by the Odd Fellows lodge and some very prettily decorated automobiles.

A goodly number ate picnic dinner at the park, after which a series of contests and races were pulled off as billed on the program.

At three o'clock one of the snappiest baseball games of the season was played between East Tawas and Tawas City, the score being 3 to 1 in favor of East Tawas.

FROM REV. T. W. ALBIN

The Herald received this week the following letter from Rev. T. W. Albin, who is in Europe with the party of K. C. members, who went to France to erect a statue to Gen. Lafayette:

Lucerne, Aug. 24, 1920.

The Herald Tawas City, Mich.

Sir:—A few words to the Herald and its readers will not be amiss.

The K. C. party has visited the devastated regions of France, it has knelt, prayed and placed flowers in all the American cemeteries.

When I return it will be a duty incumbent upon me to give all necessary information to my fellow citizens of Iosco County.

With best wishes, I am Yours truly, T. W. Albin.

WHY DRUGGISTS DIE YOUNG

Customers Like This Very Particular Lady Must Be Great Strain on the Nerves.

The drug store was filled with worried looks—prescription faces. All were eager for quick action and the druggist was doing his best to meet all the demands. A woman, the only one without a prescription in her hand, shifted back and forth until she got directly in the path of the druggist.

"Wait on me, please," she said snappily. "I'm in a hurry."

"What did you wish?"

"Some birdseed—canary bird. And I want the real stuff, none of this camouflaged birdseed—sand, cornmeal, sawdust and a lot of other stuff."

"But, lady, we—"

"Oh, you can't fool me. I've been reading up on this birdseed graft. I read in a magazine where they were jamming all sorts of junk into this stuff we're feeding our poor little fanaries. Think of cheating a poor little canary."

"But, lady, you don't understand—"

"Oh, yes, I do understand. I want birdseed that has a glaze on it—the kind that shows it is fresh by its bright color. I don't want this gritty stuff. I know what I'm talking about. I've been reading up and—"

"How much did you want, lady?"

"Oh, about a nickel's worth."

And the poor, unhappy prescriptioneers fell in a faint.—Indianapolis News.

DAYS OF CHIVALRY ARE GONE

This Hustling Age Seems to Have Little Time for the Merest Elementary Courtesy.

It was the hottest and most uncomfortable day of the summer and the car was even more crowded than usual, says the Indianapolis News. Two young women who had done their full share of work for eight long hours managed to squeeze into the car with the rest of the passengers. Of course, all the seats were taken. Even a suggestion that some one offer the girls a seat was far from their minds. They stood in the aisle, as good-naturedly as they had done nearly every day in months past. One can imagine their surprise when an elderly man rose to proffer one of the girls a seat.

"Take my seat, lady," he said, "you look lots more tired than I."

Gratefully, one of the girls started for the seat. A tall broad-shouldered man was just ahead of her.

"Naw, yuh don't," he snarled, "I guess I'm nearer the seat than you are," and he started to sit down.

"Well, I guess if you are going to take the seat I may as well keep it until I am ready to get off," the first man said, and with that he sat down again.

Two blocks later he got off the car. The tall broad-shouldered man rushed to the seat, and the young woman held on to the straps.

More Than Her Mouth.

Although the groundhogs at the "Zoo" did their best to keep the spring day away from that fine park and playground for the people, time will bring spring within a few weeks now, at the worst. There has a way of making things move.

Although crowds at the National Zoological park have fallen off materially during these cold winter Sundays, nevertheless many visit the park every Sunday. Much attention is given the animals kept indoors, naturally.

Thus the mother hippopotamus has her admirers. Recently two small boys, that good sort that shy rocks at cats and sparrows, were standing in front of the hippopotamus cage, watching Mrs. Hippo eat hay.

"Look at 'er open 'er mouth!" said one boy, lost in admiration.

"Mouth nothin'!" exclaimed the other. "That ain't 'er mouth—it's 'er whole head she's openin'!"—Washington Star.

Tomb Was Tramp's Home.

A tramp who had solved the present day problem of where to live by taking up his abode in one of the old Roman tombs at Arles, on the Rhone, gave two Dutch tourists the fright of their lives.

They had gone out to see the remains by moonlight, when suddenly out of a tomb, emerged a human form, which the moon caused to appear exceedingly ghostlike. The tourists fled at top speed for the town, declaring that they had seen a resurrection. The "ghost" was interrogated by the police and will be prosecuted for the French equivalent of wandering without visible means of subsistence.—From the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

How Many Rats Are You Feeding?

The value of the food material eaten and destroyed each year by one rat is said to amount to two dollars.

Mahogany.
Sir William Raleigh introduced mahogany into England in 1597. He had used the timber to repair one of his ships. While the wood found many admirers at that time, it did not become of commercial value until 150 years later. Different varieties of mahogany are found in Africa, Japan, United States, Philippine islands, India and Australia.

Found Excuse for Him.
William, looking out of the window one day, was much scandalized to see a man walk up to a woman and kiss her. He evidently thought it over, however, for he said presently: "Well, perhaps he is one of her ancestors."

When Harvard Ran a Lottery.
Does it make you shudder to recall that in 1772 Harvard college, instead of asking for subscriptions from the alumni for a fund, raised £2000 by lottery "for building another hall for the students of Harvard college to dwell in?"—Boston Globe.

Food Values of Potatoes.
That potatoes differ widely in food value is shown by a report of the government's scientific committee. It is laid down that the most useful potato for food is one which contains the largest amount of dry matter. Where two varieties are practically equal in this respect, the nitrogen they contain enters into the estimation of their feeding quality.

BOTH CHRISTIAN AND PAGAN

Rites of Mexican Festival Constitute
One of the Strangest Mixtures Known to History.

Probably the strangest mixture of the ancient and the modern, and of Christian and pagan rites, which can be seen in the world today, is the annual Mexican festival of the "Matachines."

No white man can tell exactly what is the significance of this festival, which is celebrated in all parts of the Mexican republic every spring.
Those who take part in it are typical Mexicans of Indian and Spanish blood, with some purebred Indians among them. The dances are much like the war and harvest dances of the Apaches, Comanches and other southwestern Indians, except that many of the dancers flourish swords, and wear by way of decoration, the tin tops of beer bottles.

The dancing is kept up for two or three days, and the ceremony ends with a dance about a great wooden cross which is set on a high hill near the town. This would seem to show a Christian influence, and it probably does, but the cross is known to have been sacred to ancient Aztecs. Indeed, this whole ceremony is undoubtedly one of Aztec origin, with Christian elements added.

This bewildering mixture of pagan and Christian religion is seen throughout the Southwest. The "Penitentes Hermanos" of Mexico and New Mexico are another example. On every Good Friday they whip themselves until the blood comes, as a penance, and crucify one of their number with ropes. These fanatics claim to be Christians, but their practices have been condemned by the church, and like the Matachines can be traced back to Aztec times.

NEWSPAPER HAD SHORT LIFE

"Publick Occurrences" in 1690, Got Out One Issue, and Then the Authorities Suppressed It.

America's first newspaper, the Boston News-Letter, first published in 1704, on exhibition at the Massachusetts Historical society, marked the beginning of continuous journalism in the British colonies. Until 1704 the nearest approach to a newspaper in the everyday life of the colonies was the manuscript "news-letter," which was usually addressed by the writer
to a governor or a leading clergyman, and was presumably shown around and the "news" further circulated by word of mouth.

An earlier effort than that of the Boston News-Letter to publish a newspaper in the colonies is on record in the attempt to publish Publick Occurrences, in 1689. The introductory paragraph announced that "it is designed that the country shall be furnished once a month (or if any Glut of Occurrences happen, oftener) with an Account of such considerable things as have arrived unto our Notice." The "legislative authorities" of the time, however, found some "reflections of a very high nature" in its columns, and the Publick Occurrences made no second appearance.

Trace Pedigree for Centuries.
Speaking of old families and family trees, English and Americans who pride themselves on ancestry have reason to envy the Arabs, many of whom can trace their family line back through many centuries by means of authentic documents. Prof. Talcott Williams, an American who was born and spent his youth in Turkey and has traveled much since in oriental countries, says the descendants of Mohammed are numerous all over the Moslem world—in Arabia, Somaliland and East Africa—and that they prove their line by these records, which they value highly. There are also many descendants of Abu Bekr, the immediate successor of Mohammed. The leading Moslem family in Jerusalem are the Khalidi, descendants of Kakled, who conquered Syria 1,300 years ago and whose descendants have kept their genealogical records intact for all that period.

Waterspout in the Pacific.
A waterspout formed Sunday afternoon off the Haiku coast. The surface of the ocean was agitated until spray and mist formed into a cuplike smoke.
Then a fingerlike extension gradually reached down from the cloud, until the two connected in midair. For several minutes the spout must have been from 10 to 15 feet in diameter. It swayed irregularly back and forth, as though unable to support its own weight fully. Also, it was not solid, but a tube of mist and spray, whirling rapidly. Next to the water it was like smoke or dark spray, at the top dark and less transparent, while most of the length was glassy and plainly showed the hollow center. It formed quite slowly and disappeared the same way. This scene was much the same as the dust whirlwinds on the land, only much higher and made of water.
—Walluku Times.

Beliefs Concerning Friday.
Americans haven't got around to the point of view of the ancient Scandinavians, who called "Frigid deag" the day of the Goddess Friga, or Frejja, the luckiest day of the week; but they are getting more like the Moslems, whose conviction that the sixth day of the week is a pretty average day, after all, is expressed in their belief that it was on Friday that Adam was created, entered paradise, was expelled, repented and died, and that on Friday will come the day of resurrection.

Prepare Your Boy
for the Battle of Life

"Dad what does it mean to own a share of stock?" — a boy asked the other day.

Does your boy know what it means? Have you ever told him anything about this character of property, and desirability of its possession?

That information is just as necessary to him as is the knowledge of how to work, and of what working for a living means. Most young men know how to earn money; few know how to accumulate property. Their fathers never told them.

Why not give your boy a piece of property to be proud of? Buy him one or more shares of Consumers Power Company Preferred Stock. As he grows older, tell him what these shares of Preferred Stock mean. Tell him that this money is usefully employed in creating a Public Utility—whose service everyone needs. And tell him how this money which he has invested is earning an income for him.

Consumers Power Company
Preferred Stock Yields in Dividends
7.37% Interest on Your Investment

The price of this stock is but $95 a share on par value of $100. We are confining this offer to the people of communities we serve, because we want those who pay the bills to draw the Company's dividends.

You can buy on the installment plan—$10 down per share, and the balance monthly. Surely it is worth that small investment to educate your boy in the value of thrift; to give him a sense of proprietorship and responsibility. He'll feel like a real financier when the dividend checks come in.

local representative, Mr. Oscar Whitman—

The ELECTRIC POWER Plant With Surplus Power

THE Litscher Lite Electric Power Plant for farm use is a lighting plant that has been designed by electrical experts who are thoroughly acquainted with the conditions under which a farm lighting plant is run. The plant is simply designed, strongly constructed, and well-balanced. It requires very little attention, and needs only kerosene, oil and water to keep it in perfect running order.

The batteries of the Litscher Lite Plant vary in size from 130 to 330 ampere hours, depending on the number of lights you wish to run. Once charged, Litscher Lite batteries will light your home for a week without recharging.

The Litscher Lite Plant has two full H. P. in excess of its dynamo requirements. When the dynamo is idle, four H. P. are at your command for running any belt-driven farm machinery. In other words the Litscher Lite Plant is an electric lighting and power plant combined.

Litscher Lite will operate electrically or by belt transmission any labor-saving device in house or barn. See a Litscher Lite Plant in operation at my store.

Litscher Lite is quiet running, and can be installed in the basement of the home or in a convenient place where belt power is to be used. 19x32 inches is the floor space required for mounting a Litscher Lite plant.

The "Bigger and Better" Fair

September 22, 23 and 24

The officers and directors of the Iosco County Fair are putting forth every effort to make the 1920 fair one of the best in Northeastern Michigan. Liberal premiums are offered for exhibits and stockmen and agriculturalists are asked to do their bit by bringing in liberal displays of livestock and farm produce.

The amusement portion of the fair will be the best ever. Races, ball games, and other features will make every minute full of pleasure and entertainment.

The biggest attraction ever offered at a county fair in Iosco County will be
