HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises for the Tawas City high school were held at the Auditorium on Wednesday evening before a large and appreciative audience. The stage was nicely decorated for the occasion and a splendid program was given. Ray K. Immel, director of public speaking of the University of Michigan, who gave the address of the evening, stated that the program was the best he had heard by high school pupils for five years. This is a high compliment to the Tawas City schools, but is not surprising in view of the record made by our students in the oratorical contests this spring. Mr. Immel gave a splendid and inspiring address, taking for his subject "Eldorado."

Dr. McCandliss has had wide experience in the treatment of diseases particularly prevalent in the Orient—especially with leprosy, in the treatment of which some real advance has been made. He is a firm believer in the power of the gospel for the salvation of all races and finds that by his services as a physician he is not only able to help the suffering but to establish a confidence in the missionaries of the gospel.

The family to which Dr. McCandliss belongs has already given a total service of 196 years to China, and he expects to return soon to continue his work. His son, Robert McCandliss, has just been graduated from the medical college of the University of Michigan and after an internship in the Harper hospital, Detroit, will also go to China to work.

Twice Told Tale

The former game with Alabaster was lost on errors. Sunday's game included the inability to hit Benson. Tawas City made eleven errors and Alabaster one. However, that one error was the cause of our boys getting three runs in the sixth, so our hopes earned but one run. Alabaster earned three.

Merle Nelem pitched for Tawas City and twirled a very good game. He fielded his position in good shape, handling nine chances without error.

For the first five innings the fans were treated to as fine a game as they ever saw. Our boys were unable to glean a single off M. Benson and Merle Nelem distributed three hits in as many innings. There was never more than one man on the sacks and at times it took sharp fielding to keep it that way. But with the sixth inning came disaster and thereafter the home boys went all to pieces.

What really seemed wrong Sunday was lack of knowledge of the principles of baseball. Many chances to retire Alabaster easily were thrown away without effort to stop them.

Skull practice seems to have been neglected with a number of the boys. However, a majority need mechanical practice only to put them in shape to play good baseball.

Erickson's catch of W. Groff's line drive in the ninth was a good play, while Curtis' one handed catch of Nelem's hard liner in the seventh was probably the star play of the day.

Omer comes here Sunday. The boys are just as liable to play good baseball as bad, so why not come out and take a chance on seeing a good game. The time is ripe for them to play good baseball next Sunday.

Y., where she remained until September, 1904, when she returned to Detroit. She was married in that city on April 27, 1908 to Thomas Carolan, and she made her home in Detroit until the time of her death, June 8, 1921.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Thomas Carolan, her aged father, William Phelan of this city, two sisters, two brothers and many other relatives.

MEMORY

In loving memory of Ernest C. Brown, who died June 23, 1920. Just one year ago today since he left us. As time goes on we miss him more and more. One of the dearest, one of the best, God in mercy hath given him rest. Oh, when we think of you, dear Ernest, and our heart is filled with pain: Oh, this earth would be a heaven could we hear your voice once more.

We think of you in silence and your name we often call, though there's nothing left to answer but his vacant chair.

His Father and Mother,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown.

OMER DEFEATS EAST TAWAS

East Tawas journeyed to Omer last Sunday and received their first defeat of the season from the fast going Omer team. East Tawas played very loose ball, making eleven errors before the game was over, thus handing the game to Omer. The errors were all very costly ones and they were generally made with men on bases.

Halligan pitched a very nice game and with any backing would have won the game with ease, as he had the Omer batters eating out of his hand.

Clayton was in wonderful form all through the game, holding East Tawas hitless until the 6th inning, and did not loosen up much after that until the ninth. With two singles, a hit batsman and one out East Tawas scored one run and had two men left on bases when the last two batters struck out.

O. Johnson got the only extra base hit for East Tawas during the game, getting a three base hit in the 8th inning when he hit between center and right fielders.

East Tawas plays at Hale next Sunday and hope to reverse the decision against them.

L. D. S. CHURCH

If an entrance into the kingdom of God is possible today, the baptism of the spirit is possible, for: "Except a man be born of water and the Spirit he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." The same kind of reasoning that establishes baptism of water as part of the gospel of Christ establishes the baptism of the Holy Spirit as essential to salvation. Peter said in reference to the pouring out of the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost: "For these are not drunken as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day. But this is that (spirit) which was spoken by the prophet, Joel and it shall come to pass in the last days saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall dream dreams; and on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out my Spirit; and they shall prophesy; and I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood and fire and vapor of smoke; the sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood before that great and notable day of the Lord come; and it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.—Acts 2:15-21.
