The adjourned annual school meeting will be held in the high school building in this city next Monday evening for the purpose of considering the proposition of building a house to be owned by the district and occupied by the superintendent of schools. Supt. Ousterhout and family have been compelled by the lack of houses to live in a portion of the schoolhouse this summer, and if some provision is not made for housing our superintendent of schools Tawas City will find it hard to get or keep a man for the position.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hartingh, Mrs. N. D. Murchison and Mrs. M. A. Crandall started last Saturday on a motor trip to Bay City. Their trip was started at Saginaw, from which place they went to Bayport and then by way of the Charity Islands to Point Lookout, thence to Tawas City. They were sailing a 16 foot Sponson canoe with 30 inch beam, rather a small vessel in which to make a long trip. However, Mr. Brott informed the Herald that with the same canoe they had made the trip to Florida and navigated the waters there without any mishaps.

An effort will be made at this meeting to have a history of Iosco county compiled for use in the public schools.

This will be a real gathering of pioneers. Come and have a good time.

Better babies for Michigan is the object of one of the most attractive features at the state fair to be held in Detroit, Sept. 2-11. The finest babies in the state will gather at the fair grounds as entrants in the "Better Babies' Contest," which will open at 10 a. m. Friday, Sept. 2, and conclude with the announcement of awards at 11 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 10.

In its general educational program the state fair gives first importance to the matter of better human beings, and so it starts with the babies. Dr. E. P. Mills of Highland Park will be the superintendent of the contest and will be assisted by an efficient staff of physicians and judges. Not only will they award prizes to the blue ribbon babies of the state, but to each one will be given a careful medical examination and scientific advice as to the needs of each.

Babies entered must be between the ages of 12 and 36 months. There will be five classes in the contest, one for babies from rural districts, one for babies from cities and towns of one thousand to ten thousand population, one for babies from cities of more than 10,000 population, one for twins and one for triplets. First, second and third ribbons will be awarded in each class to babies between 12 and 24 months and to those between 24 and 36 months. Except in the case of twins and triplets ribbons will be awarded to boys and girls separately in each class.

No child suffering from acute or constitutional disease may be entered and examinations of entrants by physicians will be made in the order of the receipt of entries. These may be made by mail or in person on specified blanks furnished by Secretary-Manager Dickinson of the fair, for that purpose. Entries will close Aug. 31.

Morning service, 10:00 a. m. Sunday school, 11:15 a. m. Evening service, 7:30 p. m. Prayer service, Thursday 7:30 p. m. Services are held every Sunday at 2:30 in the Townline M. E. church. Everybody welcome.

A League Record

Last Sunday saw Oxel Johnson as the big stumbling block to Tawas City's offensive and the error column as the set-back to their defensive. When they can't field they can't win games.

Not a safety was made by the home hopes. Only two reached third. Main Mark reached first on Brown's error in the third with two down, but Jack Johnson couldn't come through. Nelem got a free pass in the seventh, went to second on Siefloff's out and reached third when Klenow dropped Boldt's throw. In the second Nelem walked to start the inning and went to second on Siefloff's out. But two strike-outs happened in quick succession. In the fifth Lanski got the closest to a hit anyone when he hit straight into Klenow's hands. Hank dropped it and Lanski reached first from where he stole second but died there.

East Tawas didn't hit awfully hard but when twelve errors are mixed in with things runs can get across the plate easily, and our boys sure furnished the errors. There was some flashy fielding at times, especially by Ernie Moeller, but even Ernie "blew" at other critical times.

We go out to play Hemlock next Sunday and according to the dope we may have a time to beat them. They play us here the following Sunday. If we can win both games we may at least be even with Alabaster when we tackle East Tawas at the Beach on Sept. 4. And that will give us a chance at fourth place and a tie is the closest we have been to it as yet.

ANOTHER CHAUTAUQUA WEEK IS PAST

Last week from Monday afternoon until Friday evening the people of the Tawas and vicinity were again privileged to enjoy the excellent entertainment furnished at a nominal price by the Community Chautauqua. On account of the torn up condition of our streets and the consequent necessity of changing the location of the tent this year the attendance was not as large as last year, and the contract signers were assessed for a small amount to make up a deficit, but that did not deter the men who have backed the Chautauqua from the start from signing the contract for another year.

The Chautauqua has apparently become a fixture in this community and it is hoped that next year the conditions will be such that it will again become self-supporting.

The opening entertainment on Monday afternoon was given by the Theodore Knox Concert party, who also gave the prelude at night, followed by a lecture by Rev. Isaac Wood, pastor of the Euclid Ave. M. E. church in Cleveland, Ohio.

The second day's musical program was furnished by the Omar Wilson Singers, who gave a good program of vocal numbers, readings, etc. In the evening Louis Williams gave an interesting and instructive lecture entitled "The Wonders of Electricity."

However, his talk and experiments were not confined to electricity alone, but included numerous chemical experiments.

The Perry Concert company on the third day gave what was probably the weakest number on the program. Their shortcomings were compensated for in the evening, however, by the lecture by Denton C. Crowl on "The Spirit of Service."

The fourth day's program consisted of a lecture in the afternoon by Louise L. McIntyre on "Keeping in Trim" and in the evening the presentation of the four act play "Polly of the Circus," by a company of Broadway players. This was the big number on the program and gave even better satisfaction than did "The Chimes of Normandy" last year.

The afternoon program on the last day consisted of a pageant by the Junior Chautauqua kiddies and a musical program by the Philippine Quartet.

The children's pageant entitled "The Cruise of the Jolity," was pronounced by those who saw it the best that has been put on here. In fact the children this year had the best time ever, due to the sincere and earnest efforts of Miss Brown and her local assistants.

The Philippine Quartet gave universal satisfaction with their program of native melodies and popular airs. They were followed in the evening by Dr. C. W. Wassam with his lecture "The Secret of Power." Dr. Wassam is a forceful speaker and his lecture was well worth hearing. One thought which he brought out in a short poem, if universally adopted would make the world much more livable:

"In men whom men condemn as ill I find so much of goodness still; And in men whom men pronounce divine I find so much of sin and blot, That I hesitate to draw the line Between the two where God has not."

NORTHEASTERN MICHIGAN FAIR

The Northeastern Michigan Fair Association at Bay City report that every detail has been completed for the fair this year, to be held September 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, and it will be without doubt by far the biggest and best ever attempted by the society.

Splendid men who know their business are in charge of the departments and the entries are very satisfactory. Many entries are being received from the leading breeders of livestock in the state and several from Canada, and it is evident that the buildings will be filled with the finest specimens of livestock.

The Bay City auto dealers have been arranging a beautiful display of new models of automobiles and trucks and the farm implement concerns will have many new and novel exhibits. During the summer many improvements have been made in the grounds which will enable the crowds to be handled with ease. The automobile and horse races will be among the feature attractions.

AVOIDING CATARRH

A WOMAN wrote to me recently and said she had suffered from catarrh for many years and was getting gradually deaf. She wanted some remedy, and asked if catarrh was curable. I gave her all the advice I could, but such cases of course, become too serious to be handled by one whose specialty is general health and looks, and I told her to go to a physician.

For catarrh is curable, and anyone who suffers from the least trace of this annoying affliction should start at once to cure themselves. If possible, they should go to a high or dry climate and live where fir and pine trees

Keep the Throat, Nose and Mouth Clean and Antiseptic.

grow thick, since nothing is more effective than breathing the pine-scented air every day. If for any reason this is impossible, they should plant their yards full of pine trees, and put up window boxes filled with dwarf pines and firs, so the air coming through the windows bears the healing scent. For city dwellers this is especially good.

The nose and throat should be sprayed twice daily with some antiseptic solution, preferably one given by a doctor who understands the case.
Anything with pine in it is sure to be effective. This treatment will cure any mild case of catarrh, advanced cases need a different form of treatment. Though living among the pines will cure anyone, they say.

The principle is to keep the throat and nose clean, to kill the poisonous formations, and so, to build up a stronger throat.

STATE TO INSPECT HEAVY SCALES

Recognizing that reliable weighing and measuring devices are as necessary to good business as dependable currency, and that 75 per cent of the products of Michigan agriculture passes over heavy platform scales each year, the bureau of weights and measures of the state department of agriculture will add two enclosed trucks for inspection purposes to its heavy scale equipment. Funds for the purchase of the trucks were allowed in the budget by the 1921 legislature.

Each truck will be equipped with measures to test gasoline pumps used at filling stations, and one ton test weights for heavy scales. Correction of errors detected in scales will be made by the inspectors whenever possible. Frequently, it is said, the faults may be corrected by minor adjustments which the inspectors can easily make, obviating the necessity of merchants sending for scale experts.

"In the past," says H. H. Halladay, commissioner of agriculture, "the bureau of weights and measures has not been able to look after any scale work except complaints on individual sales. Under the old system the test weight had to be shipped by freight, often taking weeks before the scales were examined. Systematic examinations can now be carried out by bringing the scales of every county in the state to higher degree of accuracy.

"The only parts of the state heretofore that have been getting scale inspection have been the more progressive communities having local sealers of weights. The new truck equipment will be at the disposal of the local officials wherever it is needed."

BURIED WITH THEIR HUSBAND

Wives of Members of the Barau Tribe of the Congo Are Interred With the Corpses.

The Barau tribe in the Congo district of Africa have a number of strange and horrible customs, but of them all their burial customs are the most terrible. When a man dies a large grave is dug. The corpse and his wives—these may be anywhere from two to twenty—are escorted to the hole with wild music and the interested attendance of the entire tribe.
The chief wife is thrust into the hole, and the corpse is then lowered. The second wife follows. The dead man's relatives then proceed to break the arms and legs of the two wives so they cannot get out of the hole. The head of the corpse is placed in the lap of the head wife, and the feet in the lap of the second wife.

The rest of the wives are then thrust into the hole, their limbs broken, and they are forced to sit in a circle about the corpse and its human supporters.
The priest chants a few words, and everyone falls to with rude shovels, dishing earth into the hole. They never stop until the grave is full and the corpse and the living wives buried far under the earth. The howls of the wives with their broken limbs and fear of the terrible death are drowned by the banging of drums and the yells of the delighted tribe.

IN THE NAME OF RELIGION!

Weird and Savage Rites Indulged In by the Khlysts, Sect of Russian Fanatics.

One of the queer religious sects of the world is the Christs or Khlysts of Russia. They hold their meetings in their churches with hundreds of men, women and children attending. After prayers and hymns that last until midnight they begin a wild dance amid sobs and groans. After this continues for a while they abandon their garments and put on white robes and white stockings. Candles are lighted, and a new dance begins that consists of rapidly revolving, the men to the right, the women to the left.

In a short time a sort of madness falls upon them. They leap, scream, beat themselves and each other, indulge in wild laughter and cries, and then begin to tear off the garments with shouts of "It is coming, the Holy Spirit is coming!" They begin to go about on all fours, riding on one another's backs, rolling about on the floor, biting and scratching one another, and at last go entirely insane and dash about until they fall exhausted. By dawn the church floor is covered with naked men, women and children, unconscious and blood-stained.

Weather's Effect on Birds.

Cold and hunger in England has driven armies of birds, even the wildest, into streets and gardens and un-walled places. Great flocks of green plover, which are singularly shy as a rule, appeared in the stackyards and paddockes of Hertfordshire villages. In Buckinghamshire several thousand rooks in a flock was no rarity; and old scouts came right up to the back doors and competed for their food with the poultry and the pigs. In London it was curious to see the pigeons feeding busily on the ice, to the obvious irritation of the gulls, whose bills are useless for securing fragments from a hard surface. It was hard to be defeated by a land bird in their own element. Starlings showed even greater ability in picking up morsels from the flocs and even the water of the river, a feat very foreign to their nature.

The Boy of It.

The three children were on the street car on their way to school—a boy and two younger sisters. The sisters disputed who was to push the button to notify the street car conductor to stop the car. The older sister won and held her finger on the button for more than a block. Then her brother rose, pulled her hand away arbitrarily and pushed the button. The older sister stepped into the vestibule, followed by her sister, to be the first to step off the car. As it stopped, the brother brushed them aside and led the way. The sisters having alighted, waited for the car to go on, but the boy rushed across the tracks, ignoring the warning clanging of the bell by the motorman.

Microbes in Sugar Bowl.

About one per cent of the Cuban sugar crop, valued at $1,500,000, is each year destroyed by greedy microorganisms too small to be seen except when congregated in crowds of millions. Molds and bacteria are the culprits. It is estimated that each person in the United States consumes 81.84 pounds of sugar each year. At this rate, 873,000 persons could be supplied with the sugar destroyed by germs. The sugar loses its sweetness when the molds consume the sucrose, its "sweetening" principle.

Marble Cheaper Than Wood.

A report to Washington from the American commercial attaché in Rome is to the effect that American lumber has gone to such price heights in the Italian market that builders find it cheaper to put in marble staircases than to build them of wood. Such is the combined effect of mill cost, plus freight rates, multiplied by the exchange premium of four to one that Italian buyers have to pay to translate our money into theirs.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Something to Think About THE JOB AND THE MAN

By F. A. Walker

IN ALL history, sacred and profane, there is no more interesting figure than that of King Solomon. Wise beyond the other rulers of his time, his reputation stretches over from the days of the Old Testament into the records inscribed by the writers of the Christian era and he stands as the type of magnificence and wisdom.

You will find much to interest you in reading the story of Bethsheba, the mother of Solomon. Many a modern "best seller" has filled in that ancient story with modern characters. You will be interested in how Solomon came to be king and what he did after his rule began. You will be interested in the fact that although he was a wise man he had his weaknesses and died at the age of sixty from a worn-out body.

The most interesting event in Solomon's life is recorded in I Kings, third chapter, beginning with the fifth verse. Somewhat condensed it reads as follows:

In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Solomon and God said, ask what I shall give thee. And Solomon said . . . Thou hast made Thy servant king instead of David my father, and I am but a little child. I know not how to go out or come in. . .
Give therefore Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad, for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people? . . . And God said unto him, because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life, neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; . . . Behold I have done according to thy words; lo, I have given thee a wise and understanding heart . . . and I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches and honor, so that there shall not be any like unto thee.

The great trouble with the most of us is that we lack an understanding heart. Parents do not have an understanding heart in the consideration of their children and children lack it regarding their parents.

If our public officials could have an understanding heart when they consider the problems of the people how much more wisely they would govern.

If the heads of nations could have understanding hearts how completely the faculty would take the places of armies and battlefields, bloodshed and destruction, in the solution of the world's problems.

We should all cultivate a viewpoint outside ourselves.

Selfishness, envy and covetousness are responsible for more evil than all the other human characteristics.

The golden rule has in all ages been the basis of religion. Confucius wrote it down before the Christian era began. Mohammed made it a part of his creed, and as far back as there is a trace of any code for human conduct "Do unto others as you would be done by" has been a foundation stone.

It is the understanding heart that establishes the basis for that reciprocity of action. It is the understanding heart that tells us when we have put our neighbor on an equality with ourselves and made due allowance for whatever difference there may be in wealth, in position, in intelligence and in opportunity.

We pray for a good many things we do not need. We seek for what we think would be blessings, not knowing that we are better off without them.
How few of us have and how many fewer of us seek to have, that broad view of life, that generous attitude of mind, that charity of vision and liberality of thought which constitute the thing which Solomon asked above all other things and which choice received so thorough commendation.

It is a short prayer, easily learned and quickly said: "Give me, O Lord, an understanding heart."

FOREST SERVICE NOTES

The past month has been one of the most trying for the officers of the U.
S. Forest Service on the Michigan National Forest for many years. Due to the continued drought throughout the month vegetation dried up to such an extent as to make fires susceptible and all lines of work on the Forest were suspended and the entire force put entirely on protection. We were very fortunate, however, to have only one fire of importance, which occured in the upper peninsula. This fire started on July 21 and continued until August 3. Approximately $100,000 worth of mature timber was destroyed on private lands and about $50,000 worth of young reproduction. Due to the prompt action of the U. S. Forest Service in co-operation with state officials the fire was brought under control on July 29 and was reported out on August 3.

Only one small fire occurred on the Tawas district, which was handled by Ranger Johnson. Due to the large number of tourists traveling through the Forest at this time, extreme precautions are necessary if severe fires are to be averted. We hope that everyone will assist us in keeping fires out of the Forest, and please remember when out on camping trips not to build large camp fires and to build all camp fires in good safe places away from any inflammable material.

On August 3 a fire occurred at the south end of Tawas Lake on lands owned by Charles and Joseph Dim-mick. It was impossible to get in touch with state officials, so the U. S. Forest Service sent a crew from the Beal nursery and the fire was put under control. Thirty acres of green timber was burned over and the resulting damage cannot be determined at this time. Mr. Provost's summer home was in extreme danger for a time, but the men on the job succeeded in saving all cottages in the vicinity of the fire.

Two men have been added to the force on the Michigan national forest the first of the month. M. L. Oliver Alpena, Mich., who is now studying forestry at the forestry school at Lansing, is spending his summer in the forest service gaining experience from the forest practices on this forest. Mr. Oliver was with the 125th infantry of the famous 32nd Division and saw service one year in France and during this one year was in five different engagements on the Alsace, Lorraine, Marne, Argonne and Verdun fronts. Mr. Oliver was wounded in the engagement on the Argonne and for that reason is now under the vocational department of the United States and is receiving his training in the forestry school at East Lansing.

R. M. Harper of Middleville, Mich., saw service in France in the 217th Supply Company which was finally broken up as casuals and distributed at various hospital bases. Mr. Harper was in France seven months and is now attending the forestry school at Lansing and is obtaining a practical experience at this forest this summer.

Dreaming of Banishment.
To dream of banishment signifies that you will have sorrowful news, but it will be of short duration; for a woman to dream that she is banished is a very lucky omen and denotes that she will speedily attain her most sanguine desires.

L. D. S. CHURCH
God did not, in blessing through the laying on of hands, indorse a meaningless ceremony. His ministry were not practitioners of an empty, hollow form. The laying on of hands was one of the "principles of the doctrine of Christ"—such was the ordinance that was practiced by Christ, Peter, John, Paul, Ananias, et al. And such was the ordinance after the practice of which followed an authoritative administration of the gospel, the healing of the sick, patriarchal blessings and the reception of the Holy Ghost.

God has not changed. The gospel is still the "power of God unto salvation." To receive the blessings enjoyed and accomplish the works performed in the days of primitive Christianity the ordinances then employed should now be obeyed. It is not consistent to practice the laying on of hands for one purpose and not for all the purposes for which it was observed by the New Testament church. In case of doubt in religion as in all other matters, one should take the safe side. God's unchangeable and is no respecter of persons—the work of Christ in its entirety is for men today.

Insect With Spring-Board Nose.
Among the curious insects of the Malay peninsula studied by a member of the London Zoological society is one called the lantern-fly, which is remarkable for its spidren leaps, made without the aid of its wings. It was only after the observer had carried a specimen to London and carefully examined it that he discovered that a curious projection on the front of its head, a kind of nose with a crease in it, was the spring organ. When bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released it sent the insect flying.

"True Blue" and the "Blue Ribbon."
The expression true blue is handed down from the Scotch Covenanters of the Seventeenth century, who chose blue as their emblem in opposition to the royal red. The Covenanters were a group bound by a series of covenants to uphold the Presbyterian forms and doctrines of faith. Thus true blue was applied originally to a loyal Presbyterian. The blue ribbon, always the reward of the winner in a race or contest, originated in the use of a blue ribbon as the distinguishing badge of the Knights of the Garter, an order founded by Edward III.

BAPTIST CHURCH

When you return to your old home town after years of absence many new things come to view. The homes of your childhood friends have grown old and have been replaced by modern one where you meet new faces. Your friends of yesterday have grown old, even as you have, and many have passed on. You are suddenly aware that things are constantly undergoing change.
Every mortal thing is changing. Mother Earth is constantly changing her face. The body changes; the skin when it becomes too old peels off and gives place to new skin. Our manner of living changes. The customs and modes of dress of ten years ago are entirely out of date now. These changes are unavoidable. They are the products of time.
Man, by his own powers can change his environment, like a pioneer who sets his cabin in the wilds and then starts to clear around it. He may improve his mentality and his physical condition and enjoy a happy transition from failure to success, from sickness to health.
There is one thing that time or man cannot change. That is—the soul. The leopard can "sooner change his spots." The soul is born into a sinful inheritance, for the human race still bears the marks of ancient sin. It is not created with power to resist every subtle influence, and often persists in sinful pursuits.
Is there not a ray of light, a way out of this? There is! There is a God—a Christ! This is the Way! What human wisdom and power cannot change the divine power of God and His Son can.
Do the things that are in your power to do and do them well. But put into God's hands the infinite task of protecting and building up your soul.

"See that picture on the outside of my paint box?" said Gertrude, the student artist. "Well, that's my introduction to any other student who's trying to become famous along the lines of Rosa Bonheur and happens to know about the idea. There's no special picture painted on the box, if you know what I mean, but just something that will let the fellow toilers in oils know the other is striving also to reach artistic heights. In this way many acquaintances are made and a helpful exchange of ideas results. We meet students who know of the idea almost everywhere."
