AUGUST, 1921, WEATHER REPORT

In spite of a few very oppressive warm days August proved a very delightful month in that the weather was reasonably moderate. Good showers occurred throughout the month which appeared to be quite general for the entire region in the vicinity of the Michigan national forest. August, as a rule, is generally very warm and dry but nevertheless the rainfall during month totalled 4.28 inches. In addition many heavy night dews were experienced which in connection with the rains has caused vegetation of every description to become fresh and green in appearance after a summer of extreme dryness. Only two forest fires occurred on the forest during this month that covered any considerable portion of land. Both of these occurred in the northern peninsula and several hundred acres were involved requiring a large number of men and a large expenditure of money to subdue them. The fire hazard at present on the entire forest is low due to the recent heavy rains. In the vicinity of the forest the oat crop is light, corn generally is not appearing at its best and in many instances the potato crop is almost a failure. For comparison the weather records for 1921 and for the same month for 1920 are given, which appears quite interesting in noting temperature and rainfall:

A Win

In a game filled with both good and bad baseball our boys won from East Tawas last Sunday at Tawas Beach to the tune of ten to six.

Tawas City started right out in the first inning to get rid of the jinx that Oxel Johnson put on them when they last met. Three singles were poked, but not a run was scored. In the last half of the second a dropped fly and two doubles put two runs over for East Tawas. In the third two almost inexcusable errors of commission and one of omission coupled with three singles gave East Tawas four more and things looked blue for our hopes. However, when by Mark saw that the team depended more on pitching than they did on fielding he forthwith showed a sample of throwing that kept the East Tawas boys from scoring and in fact left only one man on base.

Tawas City started scoring in the fifth when E. Moelled singled, was sacrificed to second by B. Mark and scored on Sieloff's double.

In the sixth A. Mark was safe when Whitman could not get a good hold on his liner to right. Mark singled him to third from where he scored on Lanski's single.

In the seventh B. Mark singled. Sieloff also got a safe one. They advanced on a passed ball. Swartz poked one into left center that Bolen barely touched, scoring Mark and Sieloff.

The eighth was the comedy inning that disgusted Oxel lost his game. Lanski walked to start. Zink then went in and slammed one against the right field fence which got him to second when J. Johnson threw home to keep Lanski from scoring. B. Mark then lifted a long sacrifice to Bolen, scoring Lanski. Then the balloon went up. Six errors were mixed with a single by M. Mark and a triple by Atlee Mark to run up a total of six runs, during which time Joe Bygden took up the burden in the box. Nothing more was done by either side after that and the game ended 10 to 6.

In the seventh Bolen poked one over the right fence and in accordance with custom Main Mark went after the ball to try to get him. It happened that a board was off the fence and the ball was relayed back to the plate in time to get the runner. On Monday Dr. Klump asked Umpire Hatton and the management of the Tawas City team for permission to call the hit a home run if the fence was found by him to be the regulation distance away. The request was granted as a matter of courtesy, it making no difference in the result of the game. Up to this time Dr. Klump has not reported. It seems peculiar that the distance has never been measured and it is well that the question will at last be settled.

Every effort is being made to have as strong a team against Hale as we had against East Tawas last Sunday. We are going into the game to win and the fans can be assured that there will be peppy baseball every minute. It will be the last game of the season and will be the last chance this year to see Hale and Tawas City in action. Come out and root for the home team to lick the league leaders.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION A BIG SUCCESS

The Labor day celebration put on by the Federated Shop, Crafts of the D. & M. Ry. at the fair grounds last Monday was very successful both as an entertainment feature and financially.

The celebration started with a big parade at 9:00 a. m. starting from the court house in Tawas City and proceeding to the bank corner in East Tawas and thence to the fair grounds. This parade consisted of a number of handsomely decorated automobiles, several novel and humorous floats and a delegation of marchers from the federated unions. The Tawas City fire department with the new engines also participated in the parade.

At the fair grounds an extensive program of sports and games was conducted, including baseball games between teams from the shops crafts and between Harrisville and East Tawas. The former was won by the machinists and the latter by Harrisville by a score of 4 to 1.

A large crowd from city and country was in attendance and though only a nominal admission was charged the boys realized enough to pay all expenses. For the past two years the Odd Fellows have joined in this celebration, but this year it was conducted exclusively by the shops crafts.

"TO WHAT BASE USES . . . ?"
People have often tried to imagine the aspect of the world when, at last, the mighty fabric of the Roman empire cracked and fell and the barbarians—Huns and Vandals and Goths—swarmed over the ruined walls. Any one who is curious in this matter should go to the Russia of today. There ancient history is being re-enacted. A peasant woman living near Moscow has got an odd bit of a rag as a knife cleaner. That bit of rag is a torn fragment of Rembrandt's painting, "Head of a Woman." The picture was looted, with a couple of dozen other paintings by Rembrandt and Taniers, from the Hermitage gallery at Petrograd during the Kerensky pretense at government which preceded the Bolshevik government by assassination. Fifteen hundred years or so ago, no doubt, many a Hun, or Vandal or Goth pig wallowed in the rare and exquisite mosaic of the Roman bath; many beautiful things were put to the basest uses, says London News. All that old unhappy story is being told again in the Russia of today.

The United States will have a population of 197,000,000 by 2100, says a Johns Hopkins professor. "Fine," we think, until it occurs to us to wonder why the calculator thinks our numbers are going to increase at a so much lower rate than they have. But the professor doesn't think it's fine. To support that population he says, about half its food would have to be imported. Inevitably we answer, "We should worry." We have always said that when some one wanted to cut down all the trees in a hurry, for example, and on similar occasions, says Milwaukee Journal. The year 2100 seems a long way off, even to men who have watched a third of that time go by. The calculations of most of us most of the time do not go beyond the year '21.

One advantage of intersectional athletic meetings, either amateur or professional in the United States, is the effect likely to be had upon the opposing contestants. A football team in one part of the country, for example, often follows a style of play differing essentially from that employed by an "eleven" elsewhere, and, when two come together, each team is apt to learn much to its advantage. With the game between Harvard university and Centre college gone down into athletic history, it remains to be seen to how great an extent Harvard will take up the open offensive of its southern opponents, and Centre absorb the tremendous defensive power of the great "Crimson."

Here's an institution peculiarly American. Every shop, factory, office or other going concern has one—foreman, superintendent or manager; seldom proprietor, who is "Mister" to the hands. Mostly he has grown among them, or in like place elsewhere, and they all know him and depend on him for the square deal and give him the same. "The Old Man" does not essentially number his years as many; older men are under him, have seen him grow with the concern and hope he outlasts them. The title is one of affectionate loyalty and the business that possesses "The Old Man" has an asset that will keep it abiding upon its foundation of rock.

About one-fifth of a billion acres of the cut-over land and woodland in the United States might be cleared up and the stumps removed so that the land would be available for productive farming. If all this agriculturally suitable forest and cut-over land could be made into farms averaging 160 acres, it would provide 1,250,000 farms, an increase of about 20 per cent over the present number. It is believed unlikely that more than 50,000,000 acres, or enough for perhaps 300,000 farms, will be made available unless the government assumes responsibility.

PUT ONE OVER ON BUTCHER

Incident Proves That Art of Shopping Has Not Been Altogether Thrown in Discard.

A dignified-looking woman stepped up to a showcase in the meat market, and after she had bought several pieces of meat, she asked:
"Have you any shinbone that I could use for soup stock?"
"Just the thing," responded the obliging clerk as he took up a long shinbone and knuckle and balanced it on his left hand.

"What is it worth?" asked the woman.
"Just a half-dollar," said he.
"It is such a large piece, would you mind cutting it at the joint?"
"Sure, I will," he replied.
After cutting off the large knuckle he again balanced the long, slim shinbone on his hand and said:
"You may have this for 40 cents."
The woman looked at the piece for a moment, then at the knuckle and said:
"Is that piece you cut off worth only 10 cents?"
The clerk hesitatingly replied:
"Yes, madam."
"All right," said the woman, "I'll take that knuckle."
The clerk waited a moment, looked at the woman, then actually laughed aloud. But he was game and willingly wrapped up the 10-cent soup bone.

NO WONDER THEY LAUGHED

American Soldier in Paris Had Made a Small Mistake in Copying the Street Name.

During the war, while I was on leave of absence in Paris, relates a returned soldier, I decided to take a walk alone. I thought it advisable to copy down the name of the street in which I was staying, so I wrote down some words printed on the sidewalk.
When I was ready to return I found that I could not locate the street where my hotel was, so I approached a woman, showed her what I had written in my book, and tried to learn from her where the place was. She laughed and said something in French, which, of course, I did not understand, and passed on. A number of times I did the same thing, and every one I stopped laughed, and passed on until a man said in English, "What is it you want?"
Delighted to find that I had discovered one person who spoke English, I said, "That is the name of the street where I am staying, and I am lost. Will you please direct me?"
"You haven't written down a street name," said the man, "but 'post no bills.'"

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

FOREST SERVICE NOTES

W. N. Sparhawk of the Forest Service, Washington, D. C., is spending some time on the Michigan National Forest and plans on studying economic and sociological conditions of the cut-over lands of northern Michigan. Mr. Sparhawk plans on spending some time in the state of Michigan and on traveling extensively over the northern portion in order to make a very complete record of actual existing conditions.

R. M. Harper, who has recently been added to the Forest force, returned to his home in Middleville because of illness. Mr. Harper is recovering quite rapidly, however, and expects to return to East Tawas this week.

Considerable improvement has been made at the Beal nursery in East Tawas during the past month. All the fences have received a new coat of whitewash and considerable painting has been done. Lawns have been repaired and the nursery as a whole has been put in neat and orderly condition. Numerous visitors have spent considerable time at the nursery and have expressed surprise that the Michigan highway M-10 does not go past the nursery so that more people will have the opportunity to see what the government is doing in reforestation work and informing more people what the nursery consists of. Work has been done by the nursery force in repairing the road from the pavement on M-10 to the nursery gate. It is impossible, however, due to limited funds, to put in the stone road as many people desire. It is hoped that next year something will arise that will enable the state to extend the state highway M-10 so it will go on each side of the nursery.

Work is now under way on the Tawas district in charge of Ranger Johnson, in preparation for the large planting program which is under way for the fall's work. Five miles of fire lines are being built, camps are being constructed for 35 men, four teams are employed plowing furrows for the small trees that will be set out this fall. It is the plan to plant 1000 acres of government land to norway pine during the month of October.
