MICHIGAN CONGRESSMEN OPPOSED TO SALES TAX

Farmer opposition to the sales tax for bonus finance or any other purpose finds support from six Michigan congressmen, who recently wrote the Michigan farm bureau that they are unalterably opposed to the sales tax.

The state farm bureau is vigorously opposed to a sales tax, charging that it would shift the tax burden to consumers least able to bear it, that it would exempt from taxation the surpluses of those with large incomes and that it would catch the farmer coming and going, making it a discriminatory tax upon him. Accordingly the bureau in behalf of its 97,000 membership wrote Michigan senators and congressmen, protesting the enactment of a sales tax for the foregoing reasons. Eight congressmen replied. Neither the farm bureau nor the congressmen oppose a bonus, only the sales tax as an unfair means of financing it, the farm bureau said.

Senator Townsend wrote that he had voted against the sales tax once, would again, and that he was unalterably opposed to it at present. Representative Roy C. Woodruff, 10th district, Louis Crampton, 7th district, John C. Ketcham, 4th district, J. M. C. Smith, 3rd district, and Frank D. Scott, 11th district voiced strong opposition to a sales tax for financing a bonus or any other purpose and declared they would vote against it. Senator Newberry and Representative Brennan said they would thoughtfully consider the farmers' sales tax point of view when the time came to vote.

WILL ASK COUNTIES TO SUPPORT NURSES

Supervisors of 26 counties will be asked by the Red Cross to take over their county nursing programs this fall.

Counties without any public health nursing agencies are now in the minority as 46 of the 83 counties are carrying on definite work, their service varying in size from 1 to 15 nurses. In 12 counties the boards of supervisors have taken over the public health nursing programs, while 4 others are partially supported by taxation. Twelve counties have requested the state department of health to secure public health nurses to start their programs.

In inducing supervisors to support the work, public health nurses will be able to cite many instances where nurses have helped to prevent disease and save lives.

John Smith, jr., for instance, one month old, obviously not well, was being fed on condensed milk, though the farm's Duroc-Jerseys were given 10 or 12 gallons of skim milk twice daily. The county health nurse called on the young mother, explained to her that the baby's diet was at fault and induced her to try breast feeding. Another child, three years old and several pounds underweight, was put on a whole milk diet. Today both children are well.

Mapleleaf school in another county was attended by 20 pupils from 12 different families. The morning the county nurse visited the school a new pupil, whose parents had just moved into the community, was being admitted. Throat swabs which the nurse took of all the children, revealed that the new scholar was a "carrier of virulent diphtheria organism." He was excluded from school and the possibility of diphtheria developing among the children—with its attendant toll of lives—was thus narrowly averted.

OBITUARY—MRS. DOW WATTS
Funeral services were held for Mrs. Dow Watts on Tuesday, March 7, at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church, East Tawas, Rev. Edward Brogger officiating. The remains were laid to rest beside those of her mother and father in St. Joseph's cemetery, East Tawas.

Mrs. Watts passed away on Saturday afternoon, March 4, at 5:30 after being in poor health for several years. She was confined to her bed for six weeks, death being due to pneumonia.

Anna Gertrude Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, was born in Alabaster, Mich., on March 26, 1878, and was 43 years, 11 months and 6 days old at the time of her death. On Sept. 4, 1905, she was united in marriage to L. D. Watts of Grant township, where they lived until the time of her death. To this union one son, John Henry, was born on Aug. 1, 1921. The little one only lived to be six weeks and three days old.

Those left to mourn her death are her husband, one adopted daughter, Katherine, and five brothers, John, Edward, William and Matthew Smith, all of Alabaster, and Joseph Smith of Sherman.

Friends extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in their grief for the loss of a dear and beloved wife, mother and sister.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

ADVISE FARMERS TO SECURE SEED BEANS EARLY
Michigan farmers should secure their seed beans at an early date in order to be sure of getting seed stock of the best quality. The present high bean market is resulting in a rapid movement out of the state, according to Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the Michigan Agricultural college farm crops department, who suggests that those farmers who wait until late spring to buy may have trouble in securing seed.

A large increased territory for Michigan beans has been opened up by increased freight rates, which work adversely for western beans, according to F. B. Dreese, secretary of the Michigan bean jobbers association. The Mississippi valley and westward has been included in the Michigan distributing section.

"The Michigan bean crop, now protected adequately by tariff from Japanese competition, can be considered very dependable, as compared with other crops, from the standpoint of future market conditions," says Professor Cox in discussing the question. "It is important that state growers lay in their supplies of high quality seed."

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS HELD ON MONDAY EVENING

At the republican city caucus held in the city hall last Monday evening Arthur Evans was nominated for mayor, Joseph Barkman for city clerk, and Temple Tait for treasurer, Charles Conklin for alderman of 1st ward, John Moran alderman of 2nd ward, and George Lake alderman of 3rd ward.

No pressure could be brought to bear upon Mayor Butler to run again this year. East Tawas has seen many added improvements during his two years as mayor, in fact more building and improvements have been done the past year than has been done in the last twenty years. Twelve new and modern homes have been built, the beautiful Community house was erected mainly through his efforts in dealing with the state park commission. The bath house on the state park was also built and citizens who enjoyed the excellent bathing facilities last summer greatly appreciate the efforts of the past administration. To the visitor alone who has been away for two years and then returns, can these wonderful improvements be best appreciated. A large number of our citizens regret that Mr. Butler should leave our city council as mayor for a good share of his time he gave unselfishly of his time to make East Tawas a "Bigger and even Better City."

A citizens caucus was called for Monday night at the opera house, but failed to function when the time came for the call, although a large number had gathered, a big majority of the crowd coming from the republican caucus.

It appeared to the leaders that the ticket nominated at the republican caucus was hard to beat, so why waste the effort. Thus another bubble of the discontented citizens vanished as before.

TRI-COUNTY SPORTSMEN BANQUET, OSCODA, APRIL 7
Sportsmen of Iosco, Alcona and Oscoda counties will hold their inaugural banquet Friday evening, April 7, at the Auditorium, Oscoda, assuming the nomenclature, "Tri-County Sportsmen's Club." Tentative officers selected at a preliminary meeting are to be confirmed. A splendid program of speakers has been arranged for together with a presentation of the best wild life motion pictures ever shown in America. Twenty members of the Chase Benjamin club, Alpena, the oldest sportsmen's organization in the northwest, will take part.

The prime object of the organization will be the replenishing of the trout streams of this section, which are an important factor in holding the tourist trade which is said by expert authority to amount to more than $1,000,000 annually in Michigan and is already of much significance to local merchants and produce farmers.

The by-laws to be submitted for approval at a short business meeting will provide for a board of trustees from the several counties and district field agents. It is proposed to limit the number of plates to 300. The banquet and program fee is $1.50. The membership fee, which includes dues for 1922, is $1.00. Fish and fowl will be the dinner base, garnished with pleasing food features.

Tickets may be secured from C. A. Pinkerton or Richard Cuitar, East Tawas; Samuel Yockey, Harrisville. Norman Oliver, Lincoln; Collie Johnson, Tawas City; R. D. Brown, Hale; H. J. Markham, Mio; Robert Smith, Mikado. Dinner will begin at 8 o'clock central standard time.

ERROR COMMITTED BY MANY

Grave Mistake to Leave Business Position in a General Cloud of Unpleasant Feeling.

The man or woman of small ambition and smaller achievement feels that it is his privilege and pleasure always to leave a position he is "quitting" in a cloud of unpleasant feeling. So long as he remains in his position he puts up with unpleasantness, stifles his dislikes for the men over him and does his best to grin and bear things. When he realizes that he can take his destiny in his own hands, and ask to have his name stricken off the pay roll, he takes intense satisfaction in airing his prejudices and showing every one in the place just how he feels about things. He undoes in a day all that he has gained in the months or years that he has worked there.

The man or woman with ambition knows that the world of business is a small place. Merely from a selfish point of view it is essential to maintain pleasant relations even with those who, you feel, have treated you unjustly. If you have put up with their ill treatment while working for them surely you ought to be more willing to do so when you have the inner satisfaction of knowing that you are going. In fact, you can stretch a point and forgive and forget old rancors. It may be, you know, that in another shuffle up you will be placed in a position where one of the persons for whom you have the most spite will be placed in a position where his friendship will mean a great deal to you. So do the well-bred thing, which is to stifle your own petty animosities and exercise your self-control to the extent of leaving the old place with a handshake all-round.—Exchange

DAMAGE DONE BY ICE STORM

One of the most distressing consequences of an ice storm is the irreparable damage done to trees. The telephone and telegraph poles can be replaced. Wires can be restrung. Train and trolley schedules can be restored. One and all these are inanimate things. But trees are living things and can no more be restored without a lapse of time than any other living thing. It takes a generation to grow a fine tree, remarks a writer in the Worcester Telegram. It takes a decade to line a residential district street with shade, a second decade for that shade to increase and become an asset to the neighborhood; a third decade sees the trees which have grown up with the children become, instead of a subsidiary attraction, the principal one in the neighborhood.

Yet in a single night the careful solicitude, the care and nurture of the trees is destroyed. The great limbs which residents have watched grow for years, the towering tops which twenty years before barely came to the porch roof and which for the last ten years have given grateful shade through the summer and autumn are broken, split and sundered. The thirty years have gone for naught.

Other ephemeral things, such as telephone service, trolley schedules and trains will resume their accustomed routine within a day or two after the skies clear.

Only the shattered trunk of the trees untimely cut down by the ice will remain as a reminder. It takes a generation of man to grow a fine tree.

Greatest Pleasure in Life.

The wearing of a beautiful kimono was stated to be the greatest pleasure of 980 women of Tokyo, in response to a questionnaire sent out by the Hochi, a Tokyo daily. Attending the theater came next with 720 women calling it their greatest joy. One hundred and fifty women answered "visiting friends" as the greatest satisfaction of life. The more simple-minded 100 maidens replied that "good things to eat" are the greatest sources of their heart's delight. The more sophisticated 50 answered "beauty of nature" as affording them the maximum of pleasure. Only 30 women confessed their greed for wealth.

HOW CHARCOAL IS MADE

Method of Burning Is Much the Same, No Matter Where the Process is Carried On.

The usual method of making or "burning" charcoal is to build up a cone-shaped pile of wood, about twelve feet in height and ten to forty feet in diameter—leaving a central hole or chimney; then to burn it from above downward, and from the outside inward. The trees are cut down in winter and should be fairly dry. The wood is built up with the bark outward, the largest pieces being placed furthest inside, and a covering of turf, or of charcoal dust and soil, is placed over the whole, leaving holes at the sides of the bottom for air. The first three or four days bring out the moisture onto the cover. The openings around the base are then covered, and holes are made about halfway up. When the smoke ceases to issue from these, they are closed and other holes are made below. Tar products, which collect when the charcoal is nearly burned, are removed by means of pipes or gutters. When the air-holes cease to emit flame and smoke they are covered and the pile is allowed to cool for two or three days. Then the charcoal is "drawn," and any pieces still burning are quenched with water or sand.

Seem Larger Near Horizon.

The United States naval observatory says: "The sun and moon seem larger near the horizon because of an optical illusion. The horizon appears to be more distant than the zenith because the eye, in looking toward the horizon, rests upon many objects by the way. The sun or moon near the horizon and at the zenith is seen to be the same object in both positions; but when near the horizon, it seems larger because the distance is apparently greater, the mind unconsciously reasoning that being so much farther away, the sun or moon must be larger in order to look the same." "The moon at the horizon is really about 4,000 miles more distant from the observer than when nearly overhead: and its apparent diameter, as measured by an astronomical instrument, is actually less by about one-sixtieth."

Old Friends.

The bride's mother had her doubts about the feasibility of letting Pickie, the South Carolina cook, wait on the door during the arrival of wedding guests. True, she made the best sweet potato pies ever, but she knew so little of formal northern customs. However, there seemed no alternative. Pickie ushered the guests quite solemnly and wordlessly in. However, near the last there came a family friend who was a frequent visitor. On opening the door and seeing of all the throng the first familiar face, Pickie broke into a loud pean of welcome. "Come right in, Missus Brown, Ah knows you," "deed, Ah does. You jes' walk right in. Ah'se mighty glad to see you, Missus Brown, deed Ah is." And Mrs. Brown walked in, the observed of all observers.—Chicago Journal.

Frogs in Rocks and Trees.

Attention may be invited to the astonishing longevity of the popular delusion, to which even educated persons at the present day give credence, that living frogs, toads and other animals are sometimes discovered in hermetically sealed cavities in tree trunks and rocks.

A little reflection shows, from the very nature of things, that such tales are incredible, and that those who vouch for them must be mistaken in their observations, as the most sharp-sighted persons are deceived by the feats of a prestidigitator.

Rainbow in Summer and Winter.

Why is the rainbow so frequently seen during the summer and so seldom during winter? Its formation, we are told by Prof. W. J. Humphreys, the eminent meteorological physicist, requires the coexistence of rain and sunshine, a condition that often occurs during local convectional showers but rarely during a general cyclonic storm, and as the former is characteristic of summer and the latter of winter it follows that the occurrence of the rainbow correspondingly varies with the seasons.

NOT REALLY WOMAN'S FAULT

Time-Honored Joke That She Is Always Late for an Appointment Is Explained.

"The Woman's Side of the Story" this should be called. From time in the beginning the haughty male has inveighed against the once so much meeker half, and above all for her habit of being late. She was never late occasionally or off and on, or even most of the time. You could always count upon her being late. Some said it depended on the promptness with which you arrived, her tardiness being proportioned thereto.

But these were slanders ever. No, she was late without exception. And she had her reasons.

"Man's natural habit," says Genevieve, "is the street corner, the curbstone club. Woman's is the home. Man stares. Woman is stared at. Man blunders. Woman blushes. A man can stand on the curb for an hour or more without embarrassment. But a woman is conspicuous, no matter where she is and a veritable cynosure when alone. In fact, I don't think it's too much to say that nothing is noticed so quickly as an attractive and unaccompanied woman. That is why, when she makes an engagement to meet you at a stated place, she is sure to be at least fifteen minutes late. It is all due to her dread of being compelled to wait—and to be stared at. Oh, of course, we love to be admired. But that's different. And safer."

FEW WALKERS IN AUSTRALIA

In That Respect Country is Much Like Our Own West of Some Years Ago.

There was once a gay French humorist, Max O'Rell, who arrived in Australia on a hot day and straightway declared that the chief occupation of the people was holding up lamp posts. The abhorrence which pursued that Parisian would pale beside the indignation which would overwhelm the man who dared to declare that the Australian is conservative, and this in spite of the persistence of the galvanized iron roofs of early Queensland, the determination with which the black bowler hat still clings to progressive heads in Pitt or George street, Sydney, and the universal rule from Cooktown to Kalgoolie of the good old roast beef.

All of which is intended to prepare us for the story retold in the Sydney Morning Herald, the widest read and most conservative journal in all Australasia, of the young Englishman in Rolf Bolderwood's novel who was invited to visit a New South Wales station seventy years ago, and innocently resolved to walk part of the way and see the country. After many unhappy misunderstandings reflecting on his right to be at large, the visitor borrows a horse and becomes respectable. That story would be in keeping today, with the exception that the motorcar and the airplane would have partly replaced the horse.

How Black Cats Got Bad Repute.

The origin of the superstitious aversion to black cats is believed to date back 900 years to the Seveennes mountain district of France. At that time one William, abbot of a monastery beside the river Herault, and before then a warrior in the Crusades, decided to build a bridge across the swift, mountain stream. But as fast as the foundations for the piers were put down they were swept away by the torrent. He persisted for a long time and finally decided that his lack of success was due to interference by the devil.

He is supposed then to have invoked the Evil One and made a compact with him by the terms of which the abbot would complete the bridge, but the first animal to cross it would belong thereafter to the devil. So it came about, and the first animal to cross the bridge was a black cat.

TOWNLINE

Mrs. A. V. Loop is on the sick list.

John Buckner is busy sawing wood on the Townline this week.

Mrs. Joe Freel visited at Alabaster last week with her brother, Robert Webb, and family.

Miss Ola Peck returned to Detroit last Saturday after spending two weeks visiting with her parents here.

Don't forget the M. E. church services Sunday, March 19. Everybody invited to come and bring their friends.

Mrs. Geo. Freel brought her daughter, Edys home Monday from Bay City, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. We are all glad to hear that she is improving rapidly.

It doesn't seem as though some people have much religion when they go to other churches to raise a rumpus. Everyone will be glad when they hear that the trouble maker has left the Townline for good.

THE HOOVER

It Beats — as it Sweeps — as it Cleans

The Hoover is Beneficial to Your Rugs

The Hartford Carpet Corporation say: "We believe that the cleaning of a Hartford-Saxony rug with your cleaner is really beneficial. It seems to liven up the fabric and clean it of the grit and dirt, thus taking out the element that tends to cut the threads and wear out the carpet if allowed to remain in the goods."

The American Rug and Carpet Company of Chicago write: "As dealers in fine imported Chenille, Oriental and Domestic Rugs we realize the value of thorough cleaning and a thorough cleaning of them adds to their life and beauty, and in our search for a practical cleaning device which will thoroughly and at the same time not injure the fabric, we have selected the Hoover Suction Sweeper."

Candy From Sweet Potato.

By a roundabout process the sweet potato is to be turned into an important raw material for the candy-maker. The succulent southern tuber is, of course, first turned into sirup, and the candy follows in due course; for, contrary to the usual belief, not all candy is made from sugar, sirups forming an appreciable part of the supplies. The increased use of the sweet potato will be a boon to the not too prosperous southern farmer, as it will enable him to diversify and rotate his crops, and if the cotton or tobacco crop is had will tend to equalize the losses, for sweet potatoes are easily grown. The molasses factory will take the "sweets" and turn them into sirup, giving the farmer a much higher profit from his crop. The factories will be located in sections where the sweet potato is most easily grown, and this will give the farmers of those sections a new line of profitable agricultural endeavor.

Without Fear.

A little girl was reproached by her mother for ironing her doll's clothes on Sunday. "It's very wicked," said the mother, "to do that on Sunday—and you may be sure the Lord sees you." "Oh, then I'm sure He knows this iron is cold, so it's all right," answered the little girl.
