DEATH OF MATTHIAS SMITH
The many friends of Matthias Smith of Alabaster were shocked and grieved last Saturday afternoon to learn of his sudden and unexpected death. At noon of that day, he had been apparently in his usual good health, and had been playing with the children in the dining room while dinner was being prepared. When the meal was announced he sat down at the table and started to eat his dinner. Suddenly he apparently fainted which drew the attention of those about the table and he was helped to the bed, where he passed away almost instantly.

Matthias Smith was born in Alabaster township October 5, 1871 and spent his entire life in the community, being employed by the U. S. Gypsum Co. for many years. He is survived by four brothers, Joseph of Sherman township, John, Edward and William of Alabaster. His sister, Mrs. Anna Watts, preceded him in death by exactly four weeks to a day. There are also a large circle of other relatives and a host of friends who join with the family mourning his demise.

The funeral was held at East Tawas at St. Joseph's church on Monday, April 3, interment being made in the East Tawas Catholic cemetery.

AN APPRECIATION
I wish to express my appreciation to the voters of Tawas township for the loyal support they gave me at the election on Monday, April 3. I will try to merit your confidence by my conduct of the office of supervisor.

Edward Londo.

CARD OF THANKS
We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our sad bereavement. Signed,

Edward Smith
William Smith
Joseph Smith
John Smith.

THE ELECTIONS

The spring elections were unusually quiet this year, there being nothing except the regular city and township election of officers to draw out the voters. Several townships had only one ticket in the field and the same was true of the cities in the county. A number of slip candidates came out, however, in some precincts and the majority of them won out. In AuSable township Wm. Dickinson was elected on slips against the regular candidate for supervisor, and U. G. Colvin of Burleigh and Edw. Londo of Tawas were also successful slip candidates for supervisor.

W. J. Lorenzen, slip candidate for treasurer and F. W. Crum, slip candidate for treasurer in Sherman township were defeated by small majorities. Clark Tanner, slip candidate for mayor of Tawas City, also lost out.

Following are the officers elected in the city of Tawas City. Mayor, Jas. E. Ballard, clerk, W. C. Davidson; treasurer, Effie Graham; justice, Thos. Galbraith; supervisor 1st ward, Chas. Dixon, 2nd ward P. O. Colby, 3rd ward, I. D. Friedman; aldermen, 1st ward, Ernest Schriber, 2nd ward, Fred T. Luedtke, 3rd ward, Merton Barnes; constable, 1st ward Orville McDonald, 3rd ward, B. C. Bowen.

The representatives from the various precincts on the county board of supervisors for the coming year will be as follows: Alabaster, John Mielock; AuSable, Wm. Dickinson; AuSable city, J. A. Light; Baldwin, Geo. Westcott; Burleigh, U. G. Colvin; Grant, Leon Biggs; Oscoda, Frank G. Cowley; Plainfield, E. O. Putnam; Reno, John Degrow; Sherman, George Schroeder; Tawas, Edw. Londo; Tawas City, Chas. Dixon, P. O. Colby, I. D. Friedman; East Tawas, W. A. Evans, R. M. Small, W. B. Pipepr, Owen Hale; Whittemore, Hector Flynn.

AGED MAN ROBBED
While Carl Krueger of this city was acting as gatekeeper at the election last Monday, some unknown miscreant entered his house where he lives alone and obtained the sum of $295, which Mr. Krueger had hidden in the house.

When Mr. Krueger went home he found the shades drawn at the windows and the house had been turned topsy-turvy by the thief or thieves in their search for the money. They left no clues and to date have not been apprehended.

This is the second time Mr. Krueger has lost a considerable sum of money. Some years ago he secreted about $150 in the back of a stove and, forgetting that the money was there, started a fire in the stove and burned up the bills.

Mr. Krueger's loss should be a lesson to those who keep their money secreted in their houses. If they fear the banks they should deposit their savings with the United States government through the postoffice, and thereby save themselves from possible loss and much worry and distress of mind through the fear that their savings may be stolen.

PUBLISHERS PLAN APRIL MEETING AT EAST LANSING
Publishers of weekly newspapers in Michigan are being urged to attend the meeting, called to convene at the Michigan Agricultural College at East Lansing on the morning of Friday, April 14, which will continue over until Saturday noon of the next day.

The primary purpose of the gathering will be the consideration of a state association of weekly newspaper publishers, a committee having been appointed at the January session to draft a tentative constitution and by-laws, and which will be ready to report at this meeting.

There has never been a satisfactory association in this state, limited to weekly publishers, and so imperative is the need at the present time, there is every indication that the convention next week will see a record attendance.

We have the assurance of S. R. Wilson of Saline, chairman of the entertainment committee, that G. L. Caswell, field secretary of the Iowa publishers' association, will be with us on Friday afternoon, April 14, to talk on the matter of national advertising and how to secure more of it for the weekly publisher. Mr. Caswell's talk alone will more than warrant a trip to Lansing, while the "round table" discussions to be interesting in the valuable information one can glean from them. By all means let every publisher in Michigan plan on attending this meeting.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The regular business meeting of the Twentieth Century club was held Saturday, April 1. This was an open meeting to give those who wished a chance to hear Miss Edith Thomas from the Library Extension department of the University of Michigan, who spoke on the subject of "How to Build a Program." There were twenty-eight members of the East Tawas club present and four from the Whittemore club.

Miss Thomas gave some very good points on the building of a program. She emphasized the point of not attempting to do too much. More than a year's work may be given to one subject with very good results. The successfully built program should have: definiteness of scope, unity of purpose, and definiteness of material. Pamphlets on current topics may be obtained from the Library Extension department of the University by paying the postage. They may be kept for four weeks.

Three splendid musical numbers were given as follows:

Piano solo Mrs. M. C. Musolf
Vocal solo Mrs. J. F. Mark
Piano solo Mrs. Earl Bartlett

Remarks by Mrs. Dillon, president of the East Tawas club and by Mrs. Earhart, president of the Whittemore club were given.

After the program the president, Mrs. Robinson, turned the guests and members over to the house committee, who, assisted by two other members, had prepared most appetizing refreshments. They had even remembered that it was the first of April.

CAPT. J. A. CARPENTER DEAD

Honored and Respected Citizen of East Tawas Passes Away

Capt. James A. Carpenter, who passed away at his home in this city last Thursday morning at 10:45, was buried last Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the Carpenter home Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. L. G. MacAndrew officiating. Members of the O. E. S. Chapter, the Masonic order and the Life Saving crew attended in a body. The Masonic funeral rites were given at Greenwood cemetery where the body was laid at rest.

Capt. Carpenter was stricken with an attack of apoplexy on Tuesday, March 21, and had been seriously ill for little more than a week before his death.

James A. Carpenter was born in Henderson county, New York, July 12, 1862, and was nearly sixty years of age at his death. He was married to Katherine Stackford in Sandusky, Ohio, and one daughter, Katherine, was born, who survives him. When Katherine was but an infant her mother passed away. Several years ago Mr. Carpenter was married to Mrs. Ocha of this city. She passed away in April 1918. On June 2, 1919, Capt. Mr. Carpenter lived at Battle Creek before moving to East Tawas. He had served in the life saving service for about thirty years, 17 years of which service he put in at Vermilion. Previous to his being stationed at Tawas Point as keeper he served at Deer Park station on Lake Superior. About four years ago Capt. Carpenter retired from service on account of physical disability.

Capt. Carpenter was prominent in Masonic work and was also a member of the Maccabees for many years. He was also prominent in the social and business life of the city and was always ready to serve the public and to assist in whatever meant the upbuilding of our city or the welfare of our people. He was a man of true worth, steadfast and firm in his convictions, always standing for what was right and just. He held the offices of street commissioner, superintendent of water works, marshal, alderman and supervisor during his life. At the time of his death he was a member of the board of education, treasurer of the Iosco County Agricultural society, and about a year ago he was appointed by Mayor Butler as city assessor.

Capt. Carpenter leaves a wife and daughter, Catherine, aged 14, of this city, two brothers, Oren of Au Gres and Jesse of Grant township, and two sisters, Mrs. Malcolm McLeod of Minkado and Mrs. Sybil Kirker of East Lansing.

Relatives from out of the city who were present at the funeral were Jesse Carpenter of Grant, two nephews, Floyd and Don Carpenter of East Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Carpenter of Au Gres, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCondra of the Soo, and Mrs. Sybil Kirker of Lansing.

No Proof of Race of Giants.
Buffon and other naturalists of his time believed that human beings from 10 to 15 feet in height had once inhabited the earth, but this idea is now entirely discredited.

High Cost of Dirt.
Tests made in England of men and women in factories working behind dirty windows and the same employees working behind clean windows, reveal an average of from 5 to 15 per cent more efficiency in the latter than in the former. This is because the dirty windows cut off a certain amount of sunlight.

MYSTERY IN STREET LAMP

One in London Apparently Has Power to Light Up and Extinguish Itself.

At Streatham, near London, that pretty suburb where Doctor Johnson spent many days at the house of his friends, the Thales, an experiment has lately been made that would have interested the controversialist and probably caused him to rattle his stick furiously and declare that lamps do not light themselves.

The people of Streatham nowadays take things more quietly and probably their only observation on this particular occasion was that the lamp had just had a new coat of paint, was making a curious ticking sound, and with that they ceased to think on the matter until at dusk, without further warning the streets leap into brilliant light. The ticking lamp-post continued its illumination until dawn appeared, when just as mysteriously as the light had burst forth it went out; self-lighting and self-extinguishing.

It is just as well that Boswell was not able to tackle the doctor upon the subject and record in his invaluable notebook the irate answers to his exasperating and in the case of the self-governing lamp endless questions.

DOLPHIN GIFTED BY NATURE

Rarely Beautiful in Coloring, and Believed to Be the Speediest of All Fishes.

Of the game fishes the dolphin must be mentioned in the front rank, says a writer in the National Geographic Magazine. There is probably no other citizen of the deep which travels so swiftly. It spends its entire life in the open seas. While idling, its movements are sluggish, but when in quest of its prey it moves with incredible rapidity, and to one observing its movements it appears like nothing so much as a dash of color in the sea—a yellow-blue-whitish streak that is almost lost in the green water.

Of all deep-water fishes, the dolphin possesses the greatest power to change its color. A dying dolphin affords a most beautiful and spectacular sight, when, with all the iridescence of an opal, it changes hue so rapidly that the brain can not grasp the beauty of one color before another comes into view. In life its general color is a blue or emerald green above, with brighter blue dots showing on the base; the under parts are silvery and the caudal and pectoral fins are a clear yellow.

Animals "Pretend to Die."

Some animals can pretend to be dead when they imagine they are going to be hurt or taken into captivity.

A good example of this is seen in the American hog-nosed snake. This is a small reptile about three and a half feet in length, which has a shovel-shaped snout.

It is perfectly harmless, but many people have thought it to be most dangerous, because, when it is alarmed it raises its head and expands the skin folds on its neck—in imitation of a cobra.

If, however, no notice is taken of this performance, it pretends to be dead, writhing its body about as in convulsions. Lastly, it rolls over on its back and remains perfectly motionless until the intruder is gone.

The Australian dingo dog is another expert at feigning death. Mr. W. S. Berridge, F. Z. S., in "Marvels of the Animal World," tells of a "dead" dingo dog that was taken into a hut to be skinned.

This dog kept up its pretense of death and allowed a portion of the skin to be taken off before it moved and gave the game away.

Caterpillar Parade.

One day over in France a soldier noticed a cord of soft brown chenille striped with red in the white road. He writes about it in the Christian Science Monitor. "I stopped to examine it, attracted by the color," he continues, "and found a living line of velvety caterpillars. There were fifty-two of them. Head to tail in a curving row they were all moving in one direction downhill.

"A cart passed by. The vibrations made by the wheels broke the linep into tiny zig-zags. Each caterpillar lost touch with his neighbor and moved aside in slantwise fashion. Quickly, however, they rejoined and took up their forward journey." The onlooker inquired, and was told that the march of the caterpillars was a common thing in France. "They build their nests in the pines, and when they have need of a new feeding ground they all move down the trees and march away."

Deadly Carbon Monoxide.

Warning against the deadly carbon monoxide gas, which is the most widely distributed and most frequent cause of industrial accidents and deaths in dwellings, has been issued by the federal bureau of mines.

This gas is a product of incomplete combustion. Because it is without color, odor or taste its presence is frequently unsuspected. It may be found in buildings having a leaky furnace or chimney and in buildings where a gas stove has improper fine connection, such as is often found in tenements, tailor shops and boarding houses.

This gas is formed in stoker rooms, in refineries, cement and brick plants, mines and tunnels. The exhaust from gasoline motors usually contains 5 to 7 per cent carbon monoxide and sometimes 13 per cent. Deaths from running an automobile engine in a closed garage are not infrequent.

TAWAS CITY SCHOOLS

Resolution
We, the students of the Tawas City high school, wish to tender our appreciation for the loyal support given the athletic association by you, our townsmen.

Your co-operation has made it possible for our basket ball teams to develop into splendid material and to compete with the best schools.

We want you to feel a pride in knowing that it is because of your support and efforts that our basket ball teams have accomplished so much. The basket ball players, the athletic association, and our whole school feel proud to know that we have the co-operation of our townsmen in maintaining our athletic activities, and a large portion of the honors gained will go to our loyal and steadfast supporters.

Consolidation in Tawas City (Student's Theme)

A consolidated school in our community would be an added expense in starting, but it would be a great addition to our town as well as giving the students from the country a chance to learn in an up-to-date school and from better educated teachers.

At present we have in the surrounding country about eight schools, which require from twelve to fourteen teachers. This number with the seven teachers now in our high school makes about twenty in all. With twenty teachers the county has to pay at least $2000 in salary every month and besides that the pupils of a country school seldom have well qualified teachers.

If a consolidated school were established, a larger building would have to be built, and, of course a gymnasium would be attached. This would be an added expense, but many of the present school buildings could be used in rebuilding and the rest would have to be paid by the city and the county in their school tax.

With a consolidated school about twelve teachers would be employed, thus saving money on their salaries. If an agriculture teacher were employed, the state would pay $1000 towards his salary.

The difficulty of transportation is another argument against consolidation, but it is not hard to overcome. The community will buy as many trucks as are necessary, and these will cover all the territory every day. The state will help pay for these and will also provide towards the upkeep of them. In this way a consolidated school will be a benefit to the community as well as to the town.

Last Friday night Tawas City and East Tawas basket ball teams played a very interesting game at East Tawas. After a very hard and fast game East Tawas succeeded in gaining the victory with a score of 25 to 19.

Tawas City high school girls' basket ball team administered another defeat to Onaway last Saturday evening, making two out of three that our girls have won from this team.

And Now the "Finale-Hopper."

That section of Manhattan called the Acropolis of America, extending from Riverside drive to Morningside park, has a new designation for ultra-modern girls—"finale-hoppers." They are the young women who are a year ahead of the present, or think they are doing now what the rest of their sex will be doing at some time in the future, Raymond G. Carroll writes in the Philadelphia Ledger.

A finale-hopper is never in style. She is a trail blazer, a pathfinder. She anticipates style. As soon as what she is doing is taken up and adopted by the crowd she drops it and turns to something else that is absolutely new. That applies to music, art, dancing, dress and even slang. She is ever on the still hunt for anything fresh that has never before been done or known.

Electrical Rubbing.

A motor-operated rubbing machine for wood surface finishing has been developed by an American concern. The device is operated by a fractional horse-power motor, which moves the rubbing blocks together and apart at an even speed. The speed is governed by a regulator which can be varied according to the class of work to be done. The machine is inclosed in a dust-proof aluminum case and weighs about thirty-five pounds, and, while this weight gives sufficient pressure for ordinary purposes, additional pressure can be applied by the operator if it is desired. The device is used for rubbing surfaces 15 inches in length and of practically any width.

He Wants to Know.

"Boss, just a word," said the bar-keep turned soda dispenser. "There's some things about this fountain business I don't understand."
"Nice work, Sam. Don't you like the job? Lots of pretty girls."
"That's the point. Don't the house ever treat?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mirrors on Doors.
Walls hung with figured paper welcome mirrors. Doors also afford an opportunity to combine decorative effect with practical utility, not only in the bathroom or dressing room, but in all other parts of the house, especially the hall and dining room. Dividing the glass into small panels or panes, like a window, gives it a decorative quality which may be enhanced by hanging at either side draperies of rich color and texture.

To Tell If She Loves You.

Some one has invented an instrument by which the quality of love may be measured by observing the exaggerated effect of the lover's presence on the heart action of his lady.

Such was the announcement of the Society for Electrical Development in describing the workings of the "telegophone," an instrument by the use of which, its inventor declared, unhappy marriages would be prevented.

All that is necessary to insure results, the inventor explained, is for the doubt-torn swain to adjust the device over the heart of his intended, whisper a well-calculated word into her ear and watch the indicator. If it flutters violently, then all is well and the banns may be published, but if not, beware!

Improved Pumping Machine.

On Little Isle, the municipal playground of Detroit, there is a peculiar pumping machine which was improvised for the purpose of draining the water from the canals on the island. These canals are drained and cleared of refuse each year in preparation for the skating season. The machine, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, is a box, three feet wide and twenty feet long, open at the ends and mounted on two wagon wheels at the center. At each end are two sprocket wheels. Endless chains pass over these sprockets and through the box. On the chains, at intervals of 14 inches, paddles are attached.

Amber.

Amber is a fossil resin, arising from the exudation of coniferous trees, as is shown by its composition and physical properties, by its occurring in drops and globular masses, which resemble the resin seen exuding from the bark of pine trees, and by its common association with fossil woods. It is of a clear brownish-yellow color, varying in shade, and is often clouded with irregular streaks. It is usually transparent and brittle, and burns readily, giving off dense fumes.

Obituary—Will Bemis

Our community was shocked last Friday by the sudden death of William Bemis, who passed away after a 24 hour illness with uric poisoning. He had complained of not feeling very well for a short time, but his condition was not considered serious until 11 p. m. Thursday, and he died at 11 a. m. Friday before medical aid could reach him, at the home of his brother, Charles.

William Bemis, son of Wm. and Katherine Bemis, was born at Birch Run, Saginaw county, Sept. 26, 1872, and died March 31, 1922, aged 49 years, 6 months and 5 days.

He moved to Reno Jan. 1, 1903, and since that time has made his home here. He made many friends who will remember him for his quiet and reserved disposition.

CUTTING ROADSIDE TREES ILLEGAL

Many people are not aware that they cannot cut trees within the public highways without making themselves liable to fine or imprisonment. In the extra session of the legislature of 1921, a law was passed making it a misdemeanor to cut trees or shrubs within the limits of the public highways in the state of Michigan without a permit from the authorities having jurisdiction over such roads. The state highway commissioner has jurisdiction in the case of state trunk line and federal aided roads, and Commissioner Rogers is determined that the law shall be strictly enforced as far as such roads are concerned in which he has the co-operation of the state department of public safety and the county highway authorities.

Some violations of this act have been noticed, due to land owners cutting trees along their frontage in ignorance of this law. It should be understood, however, that the law makes no exceptions and any land owner who cuts trees in the highway along his land is liable to arrest, fine or imprisonment.

Somewhat similar laws have been passed in other states consistent with a progressive conservation policy. The people, not only in Michigan but of the whole country, are beginning to realize that the conservation of our tree growth is a vital necessity and there is a strong sentiment for the planting and preservation of trees along the highways. While trees add greatly to the beauty of a region, they are valuable to the land owners and to the public at large for many other reasons. Trees temper the climate and protect the land from washing; they give shelter to birds, the farmers' best friends; they serve as windbreaks to protect his crops; they furnish nuts and other food products and when properly conserved furnish a perpetual supply of timber. They shade and add beauty to the highway and add value to the adjoining farm lands by making farm homes more attractive. This may be a sentimental value it is none the less real for it is a well known fact that land with trees is more desirable for a home than land lacking this natural attraction.

Michigan derives a large revenue from the summer tourist traffic and the conservation of her tree growth is absolutely essential to retain and increase this tourist and resort business.

It is expected that this new law, which not only protects existing roadside trees but also authorizes the planting of desirable trees and shrubs will materially increase the beauty of the highways and benefit the public at large as well as the abutting property owners by making the state more attractive to its residents and to the ever increasing number of people who spend their summer here.

The boundaries of the area covered by the London county council have not been changed since 1855.
