One of the most disgraceful affairs that Tawas City has known for many years occurred last Saturday evening when a number of fellows became drunk on moonshine whiskey and engaged in a brawl which reminds one of the old lumber woods days. Harry Trainor was taken into custody by Sheriff Robinson charged with doing the biting, was taken before Justice Davidson and his hearing set for May 24. He is now out on $3,000 bail. TAWAS CITY LOSES FIRST GAME

Oscoda baseball team defeated the Tawas City team last Sunday in the opening game of the D. & M. league. The game was loosely played on the part of Tawas City, but air tight on the part of the opposing team. Of course there is always an "if" in a game of this kind and the home boys say that "if" Miller had not been injured in the first inning of the game the score would have been different.

There were a few bright spots in the game. Zink's home run hit on which he made second, Hank Sherman's two triples and Ed. Libka's fielding also should be mentioned. The team as a whole were hitting the ball hard, getting 13 hits.

Next Sunday the team meets East Tawas at the fair grounds and they promise a good game. Come out and back up the team. Game called at 2:30 sharp.

THE REIGNING CRAZE

Radio Fans to Have Department in the Herald Beginning this week

Radio has taken the country literally by the ears. Nothing like it ever has been known in the history of the world. Receiving sets are being placed in city homes, farm houses, business offices, theatres, on moving trains, even in limousines, to catch winged words and meandering music from the air, at the rate of a hundred thousand a month.

The Herald always on the lookout for the interest of its large circle of readers, begins this week a radio department which will contain brief articles covering something in the history of radio, the mechanics of radio and the broadcasting and utilization of radio.

Here is an opportunity for the fans of the Herald to keep up to date and obtain a good deal of practical information in the construction and operation of radio "sets."

The End of a Perfect Day

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION (By the Governor)

More than three score years have passed since our fathers took up arms in defense of the union. That was the primary purpose of the Civil War, to preserve the union; but as the war progressed, it became more and more apparent that slavery must be killed. It had fastened itself upon us, it grew with our growth; it strengthened with our strength; but when at last it lifted its mailed fist to strike a blow at the Nation's life, then the Nation armed itself to save itself, and for liberty as well; and when the four years of agony were over, a new witness to human brotherhood went forth from these shores and the light sped all around the globe. Some of those who took part in this great conflict are among us yet, though a fast diminishing company.

For many years it has been the custom of our people to go out on Memorial Day and place flowers on the graves of those veterans of the Civil War who have passed on, and with appropriate public exercises to show respect and honor to those who are still with us. May the Republic never cease to commemorate the heroic achievements of the men who freely offered their lives that the Nation might live.

In the Spanish-American War and in the recent World War, the sons and grandsons of those who fought at Shiloh and Gettysburg fully maintained the honor of America.

Therefore, in order that we pay a tribute of respect and affection to the surviving veterans of all these wars and do honor to their fallen comrades, I sincerely urge that Tuesday, the thirtieth day of May, 1922, be fittingly observed as Memorial Day, and I earnestly appeal to the people of Michigan for hearty cooperation in plans for the proper observation of the day in their respective communities. The comfort and convenience of the old soldiers will, I am sure, be the first care of those in charge of arrangements.

On Memorial Day flags should be displayed at half-mast until noon and then hoisted to the top of the staff.
Alex J. Grosbeck, Governor

TENTATIVE PROGRAM FOR 1922 CHAUTAUQUA

It gives us real pleasure to announce the following program for the Paramount Circuit for the Chautauqua season of 1922. We are convinced that a better, more artistic and more entertaining program has never been offered Chautauqua committees. Every attraction is a proven one of high quality. The Chautauqua dates for the Iosco County Chautauqua have been fixed for July 24 to 28.

First Day

The music for the first day will be furnished by the Allpress All-Star Co. A more appropriate name for this group of artists could not be conceived and the testimony of the committees on the four Community Chautauqua circuits which the company has covered, bears witness to the fact that each of the individuals is a star. Thomas Allpress, violinist, formerly of the University of Nebraska, music department; Amy Hanna Allpress, brilliant pianist and reader, and Miss Marcella Coyle, cello soloist, make up this artistic instrumental company which will furnish the full afternoon program and the evening prelude on the first day.

Following the prelude in the evening, A. C. Everingham, designated by the Chicago Tribune as "the thinking farmer," will speak on the subject of "The Balance Wheel of Democracy." Mr. Everingham is in constant demand as a speaker on farm subjects, before great agricultural gatherings of the middle west. He has a message of particular interest to the agricultural business man.

Second Day

For this day's program we are glad to announce a musical attraction extraordinary. The Ladies Rainbow Saxophone Band, under the personal management and direction of Sue Ernest Hewling, acknowledged as the best lady drummer in the United States. In addition to her proficiency with the traps and drums, Miss Hewling is a remarkable whistler and competent cornetist, trombonist and saxophonist. The afternoon program in addition to the excellent saxophone ensemble, will include brass trios, trumpet solos, vocal quartets, whistling solos, etc.

In the evening the band will appear in semi-uniform and will employ special lighting effects which will add unique distinction and pleasing variation to the program. Features of this evening program will be descriptive number "The Storm," specially arranged for the band, drum solos by the director, numbers with special electrical effects, southern songs with harmonica by the entire organization, a piano solo with orchestra accompaniment, comedy readings and novelty numbers.

Third Day

Ambrose Wyrick, nationally known tenor, supported by Ethel Murray famous English cellist, and Earl James Judie, concert pianist, will present on the third afternoon a truly remarkable artists' recital. Some of the towns of the circuit have heard Mr.

A large crowd was out to the D. & M. diamond last Sunday to see the opening game of the season between the East Tawas team and Harrisville.

Harrisville started out strong and aided by loose playing piled up a total of 7 runs in 4 innings. Our team kept right on trying and by clean hitting were able to score 5 runs in the 6th and 6th innings, but could not overcome the big lead taken by the Harrisville team. Bell was the heavy hitter for Harrisville, with Killmaster following him closely.

Herb Boldt was the leading hitter for the home team with two clean base hits. Olli pulled a hard one handed running catch, while Johnson on the mound pulled out of a bad place when he retired three of the visiting batters after the bases were filled, without allowing any scores.

The Man in the Moon.

Observations made from August, 1920, to February, 1921, by Prof. William Henry Pickering of Harvard, who is one of the world's leading astronomers and an authority on lunar and Martian phenomena, tend, he asserts, to prove beyond doubt that life exists on the surface of the moon. The professor bases his assertions on a series of telescopic photographs of a crater with a circumference of 37 miles. Hundreds of photographic reproductions have, it is stated, proved irrefutably the springing up at dawn, with an unbelievable rapidity, of vast fields of foliage, which come into full blossom just as rapidly, and which disappear in a maximum period of 11 days. The plates also show that great blizzards, snowstorms and volcanic eruptions are frequent. "We find," says the professor, "a living world at our very doors where life in some respects resembles that of Mars—a world which the astronomical profession has in past years utterly neglected and ignored."

Ship Has 18,000 Spoons.

We may be cutting down our warships. There is no reduction in our liners. This applies to size as well as to number.

Take the White Star liner, Majestic. The largest steamer in the world is aptly named! Its tonnage is 56,000 and it is to carry 14,000 knives, 10,000 forks, 18,000 spoons, 45,000 pieces of plate in all, 178,000 pieces of linen and 270,000 pieces of crystal and glassware.

When one adds its cargo, crew and passengers, one's brain almost staggers at the responsibility which will rest on the shoulders of the captain. —London Answers.

Shoved Off.

The Chasseurs Alpins, those classy French fighting men who helped train the marines who first went to France, could never quite get accustomed to some of the marine corps lingo. One of the Blue Devils had learned the meaning of the sea-going phrase "shove-off," but when he had his first chance to use it he was—as the saying is—not there.

"Hey, French," said a Leatherneck, "have you seen our lieutenant around?"

"Oul, monsieur, oul," said the polli, struggling to remember the elusive phrase, "he have—what you call—pushed over."—The Leatherneck.

Observing Other Planets.

On the moon, as well as on Mars, there are many varied shades and tints of color to be seen; greens and blues, browns, yellows and reddish browns, as well as black, white and grays. A study of the color effects produced by our own vegetation and vast seas when viewed from great elevations may aid in an interpretation of the splashes of color that are easily observable on Mars and the moon.

Helene Chadwick

Miss Helene Chadwick, the charming little "movie" star, has made quite a success of "vamp" parts in screen pictures and in order to secure first-hand color for some of her future work, recently attended a murder trial. She was so impressed with the court proceedings and the effect some of the evidence had on the audience that she has declared she will never again take the part of either the "vamp" or the woman who kills.

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

THE BOY'S MANNERS

EVERY age has its own peculiar bad manners. The self-satisfied mother is most apt to show one type of ill breeding; the pretty girl is prone to be rude in another. The business man errs in this direction and the college boy in another. So just because you don't transgress one set of rules for good manners don't imagine that you have not your own failings of another sort.

"What shall I do to teach my boy of fifteen good manners?" writes a mother who seems to have had rather bad luck in this respect so far.

First of all try and give him the point of view that the really manly, grown-up thing to do is to be courteous to women, especially to women older than himself. Show him that it is the man's man who doesn't forget to offer his seat to a woman on the car, to stand aside when a woman passes, and generally to be considerate where women are concerned. If your son meets you in the street and you are carrying packages, don't say, "Bob, I want you to carry these things for me, do you hear?" Instead tell him that now that he is getting to be a grown man he must act as a man would act and that a man would of his own accord offer to take packages from a woman he met in the street.

It is especially hard to teach a boy good manners if his father is lax in this regard, for usually a boy thinks of his father as the embodiment of all that is thoroughly manly. In fact, usually a father has better luck in instilling a fondness for good manners in a boy than does a mother.

Perhaps we don't realize fully the importance of teaching boys the superficialities of good breeding. It is important because it is so difficult for a man to master these things once they have been neglected in boyhood.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"TARIFF"

OFF the coast of Spain, just outside the straits of Gibraltar, is the Promontory of Tariffa. When the Moors had possession of Spain they established a customs house upon this cape and the taxes and payments were fixed, not by law, but by the collector himself.

Every vessel passing through the straits in either direction was brought in and held up for as much as the collector of customs thought should be paid. If the captain delivered up about 15 per cent of his cargo, or paid its equivalent in money, he was allowed to go in peace, but if he proved stubborn, both his vessel and his cargo were confiscated. Generally, though, no resistance was offered, for the strength of the Moors was well known and it was part of discretion to pay the ransom and charge it up to the perils of the Journey.

In time, the custom came to be recognized just as the "right of the feudal barons" to demand a portion of the caravans passing through their domains was admitted and it is because of the place where the custom was first started that all taxes collected on cargoes are now known as the "tariff."

Wyrick before. These towns will welcome him enthusiastically and the other towns have in store a rare musical treat.

Following the musical prelude by this art trio in the evening, Frank Dilnot, former editor of the London Globe, president of the Foreign Press Correspondents of America during the war, will lecture on the subject, "Lloyd George and America," in which the relationship and common problems of the two great English speaking nations of the world are freely discussed. The lecture is built around the vivid and dramatic life story of Lloyd George and is told in a most interesting manner by Mr. Dilnot, who has as a close personal friend of the English premier, as well as his biographer, knows the story of this remarkable man.

Fourth Day

The LeClere Concert Co., with a primary instrumentation of violin, flute, harp and piano, will provide a musical program on the fourth afternoon. Soprano solos, costumed readings, harp solos, saxophone solos, violin solos, flute solos with harp accompaniment and other numbers make up a program of pleasing variety. This organization which plays classical music popularly, and popular music classically will delight and entertain the most critical of Chautauqua audiences.

Dr. Alexander Cairns, the Cheer-up-ologist, has a lecture of optimism and thoughtfulness to present on the fourth night, under the title "The Goose That Lays the Golden Egg."

Fifth Day

The afternoon program on this day will consist of a vocal recital and entertainment by the members of the opera company scheduled to appear in the evening, and the Junior Chautauqua pageant entitled "The Conquests of Peace"—a history of the accomplishments of the peaceful efforts of modern America and the world from the time of William Penn and his Indians down to the present.

In recent years no opera company has quite achieved the high standard and excellent reputation established and maintained by the Davies Light Opera Co., hence the towns on this circuit are to be congratulated upon the opportunity of having presented by this cast of professional opera singers, the justly popular Gilbert and Sullivan masterpiece, "The Mikado." This rhythmic and highly humorous story of the misadventures of Nanki-Poo, the son of the Emperor of Japan, is depicted in the midst of an elaborately decorated Japanese garden of the Flowery Kingdom.

The Junior Chautauqua

The Junior Chautauqua, or Children's Department, will meet at the tent each morning for a session of the Junior Community, and under the direction of a competent and experienced playleader, they will have stories, games and other features. Special plans are being made for a play festival on the night before the Chautauqua opens at which novel and interesting features will be introduced. Complete announcement of these plans will be made later.

SIEGFRIED'S SWORD IN BERLIN

Weapon Had Long Been in German Capital, Though the Hero Was Really a Belgian.

The theft of the sword from the statue of Siegfried in Berlin raises the question. What has Berlin to do with Siegfried's sword or with Siegfried himself? That hero was not Prussian, but rather a Belgian—at any rate, a Netherlander—and it was a Burgundian princess that he married. In his day the Burgundians were an obscure tribe and scarcely heard of in Burgundy and along the Rhine.

Moreover, the difference in character makes it hopelessly incongruous for the Prussians of today to exploit Siegfried as one of their national heroes. Hagen of Tronje would be more fit, chosen at the moment when he treacherously murders Siegfried, when he steals Kriemhilde's fortune or when he brutally slays the infant Ortlieb. But Siegfried was honorable. Siegfried was brave. Siegfried was chivalric. Siegfried was not a Hohenzollern. To exploit Siegfried and his Bal-mung as emblematic of Prussia, or indeed of the Germany of today, is gross impertinence perhaps. It is well that the sword is gone. The statue itself should follow it into retirement from a place where it does not belong. —New York Tribune.

Now Believe London Is Dead.

The Danes are at last convinced that Jack London is dead. A rumor had been widely circulated among them to the effect that the American author was living a secluded life on a South sea island and would not emerge until he had finished a momentous novel. A young Dane returned to Copenhagen the other day, fresh from San Francisco. He said he had taken a walk with Mrs. Jack London, near the London's California home. Coming to a boulder, he leaped over it. Mrs. London said: "Do you know what you have just done?" The Dane confessed his ignorance. "You have jumped over my husband's grave," she said. The Dane apologized for his seeming lack of respect, took the next train for South Brooklyn, and embarked on the Oscar II for the Danish capital, where he related his experiences. Jack London's Danish publisher, Herr Martin, said: "I never did quite believe that rumor." —New York Evening Post.

And Now the "Finale-Hopper."

That section of Manhattan called the Acropolis of America, extending from Riverside drive to Morningside Park, has a new designation for ultra-modern girls—"finale-hoppers." They are the young women who are a year ahead of the present or think they are doing now what the rest of their sex will be doing at some time in the future.

A finale-hopper is never in style. She is a trailblazer, a pathfinder. She anticipates style. As soon as what she is doing is taken up and adopted by the crowd she drops it and turns to something else that is absolutely new. That applies to music, art, dancing, dress and even slang. She is ever on the still hunt for anything fresh that has never before been done or known.—Raymond G. Carroll, in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Improving on Nature.

I plucked an autumn leaf in the park and took it to the studio. Showing it to the man with the wonderful relatives, I said: "How's that for an imitation leaf made out of a very fine grade of leather?" "Le'seeit!" asked the man with the wonderful relatives. Passing his fingers over the tinted surface, he remarked: "My uncle used to make imitation leaves." "I suppose," I queried, "that they were much better than this one?" He looked at me in pity and sneeringly said: "I'll say they was!" —Exchange.

Valuable Weather Predictions.

Forecasts recently issued by the British meteorological office predicted ten days of fair weather, probably a record for long distance weather prediction in England. No doubt wireless figured largely in this innovation, which, if found to be tolerably reliable, promises much for the agriculturist and others.—Scientific American.

COME TO EAST TAWAS HIGH SCHOOL NEXT YEAR

If you are looking about for a first class place to go to school, the East Tawas High School greets you and will welcome you to its classes. You will find in this high school a full corps of trained, able and efficient teachers, specialists in their respective subjects, in charge of the classes.

The East Tawas High School is well equipped for class instruction in Mathematics, English, History, Manual Arts and Sciences, including a radio outfit which gives you an opportunity to listen to concerts, orchestras, news, sermons, etc. as well as to learn how to operate a radio station yourself. Visual instruction is also provided through the use of stereopticon and a moving picture machine.

One of the most important features of the East Tawas High School is its organization; it is no autocratic or police system, but one which makes each student a citizen in a civic community where honor, integrity and personal worth is cultivated.

Graduates of the East Tawas High

School are found in the University of Michigan and in the Normal Schools and Colleges throughout the state, where the merits of this high school are recognized. The Michigan University Inspector was here this month to look over the work of the school and he was pronounced in his praise of the East Tawas High School. We are continued on the approved list, not only by the U. of M., but by the State Superintendent as well.

Our athletic organization is one of the strongest on the Huron shore. We belong to the M. I. A. A. and we assure our students its protection and its benefits.

The Iosco County Normal Training School is located in the East Tawas High School building and its work and influence is a valuable adjunct to the school life in the place.

Living expenses here are not high. Many boys and girls earn their room and board by services of various kinds and thus reduce greatly the expense.

You Don't Know Wallboard Unless You Know Upson Board

by John L. Lewis, Contractor and Builder, Binghamton, N. Y.

What this prominent contractor and builder says—

FOR years I did not recommend wall board. I would not let my customers use it except for attics where quality did not matter.

"I believe that all wall board was alike but I did not know Upson Board, I had not tried it because I said 'What's the use?' Upson Board is no different from all the rest!"

How my eyes were opened

"And then one day a salesman asked me to try some Upson Board. I placed a trial order but even at that I was almost afraid to try it on a real good job.

"My first surprise came when I unloaded the big panels. I expected breakage. There was none. Surprise No. 2 came when we commenced to cut the board. Instead of breaking like a graham cracker and fraying at the edges, we found that it cut and sawed like lumber.

"We finished a whole room without breaking a single piece. You know what that means if you have had experience with ordinary wall board.

A wonderful painting surface

"The biggest surprise of all was the finishing. I have seen all kinds of wall board painted. Some boards drink paint like a sponge, others have a waxy coating which is the ruin of a good job of painting.

"But with Upson Board the first coat covered perfectly and two is all that is ever needed. I understand that big paint companies use Upson Board for making up their samples of paint.

"I have used it in my own home as well as in the finest homes and buildings.

"If you are in doubt as I was, I suggest that you get some samples of Upson Board and learn the truth for yourself."

U. S. FOREST SERVICE NOTES

The fire season appeared very suddenly on the Michigan National forest on Saturday, April 29, when a fire occurred near the Thompson farm just west of the High Rollways. The origin of the fire is not known. When the fire was located by the Silver Creek lookout observer it only covered a very small area but when reached by forest officers immediately after the fire was spreading at remarkable rate. Four teams and plows were employed in building fire lines around the burned area and many men were used in suppressing the flames. The fire was brought under control at 6 p. m. after it had covered 300 acres. The cause of the fire was probably due to a careless smoker throwing away smoking material along the road to West Branch. Forest rangers are working on the case endeavoring to locate the party responsible.

A forest fire also occurred in the Marquette district in the upper peninsula a short time ago. Forest Ranger Wolben got on the job immediately and detected the guilty party whose case is now pending.

Another fire occurred inside the forest just south of Silver creek ranger station two weeks ago. At the time, Mr. and Mrs. Don Leach and Mr. and Mrs. Brocker of East Tawas were spending the day at the Joe Flint cabin at Silver creek. The men folks had gone down the stream to fish and the women folks were at the cabin. They very suddenly noticed a forest fire burning dangerously near. The men were called and valiant work was done to save the cabin and automobile which belonged to Mr. Leach. When the ladies noticed the fire, a man was close at hand and he was asked to start the car for Mrs. Leach so they could move it to a point of safety. This the man refused to do and made all haste to leave the ladies and property without any protection. In order to suppress this fire 25 men were employed and it was only through very hard work on their part that the fire was held down to an area of less than 25 acres. Both private and government land was involved in this fire. Forest rangers are also working on this case to endeavor to find the cause of the fire.

Forest Ranger Bennett S. Azer, who has been with the forest service for the past two years in charge of the Mio district, resigned from the service on May 4. Ranger Roy Wood has been placed in charge of the Mio district until the new officer is chosen.

Twenty per cent of all the fires occurring in the United States during the season of 1921 were caused by smokers. We would like to ask all visitors to the forest during the summer season of 1922 to use extraordinary care with burning matches and smoking material. Always break your match in two before throwing it away. Smoking material should never be thrown away until you are absolutely sure it is safe. Cigarette stubs, burning cigars and pipe heels should not be thrown away promiscuously. If we are to grow wood, protect the game, keep the streams pure and provide green areas instead of barren sand plains, we must have the co-operation of the people using the forest.

FRUIT GROWERS ELECT MICHIGAN LEADER

President James Nicol of the Michigan State Farm bureau has been elected temporary president of the Federated Fruit Growers, a Farm Bureau sponsored national agency for fruit, created at Chicago, April 28 as the results of the labors of the Farm Bureau's national fruit marketing committee of 21, says the Michigan organization.

The Federated Fruit Growers is said to be the result of an exhaustive analysis of the various factors affecting co-operative fruit marketing. It is intended to unite local fruit co-operatives the nation over into one big sales organization. National standardization of fruit grades and a carefully worked out advertising campaign to increase fruit consumption, are aims of the new association. It is to establish a sales department at Chicago at once, which will be under the direction of J. S. Edwards of California, president of the Gold Buckle association, one of the largest growers associations in California. He is also a director of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, which mar-

After a man by dint of living a virtuous and industrious life has worked up to a position of a little influence in the community he has to use it all getting jobs for some of his friends and getting others out of trouble with the police court.—Ohio State Journal.
