MRS. ALVORD SPEAKS AT COMMUNITY HOUSE

Mrs. W. R. Alvord, president of the Michigan state federation of women's clubs, addressed the club women of the county at the Community building on Wednesday afternoon. A luncheon was served at the Holland hotel at noon preceding the meeting at the Community building. The tables were tastefully decorated with spirea and yellow iris.

Mrs. L. G. McKay, president of the L. L. C. of East Tawas, acted as toastmistress. Addresses on the work of the clubs were given by Mrs. W. J. Robinson, president of the Twentieth Century club of Tawas City, Mrs. Hull of Oscoda and Mrs. McKay of East Tawas. Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Kane represented the Parent-Teachers association of St. Joseph's school. Mrs. Alvord gave an inspiring talk, as did also Mrs. Vowels, chairman of the education committee of the state federation.

The afternoon meeting was well attended and opened with singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic and reading of the club collect. Mrs. L. G. McKay presided.

Mrs. Alvord spoke of the beautiful new community building and of the advantages of a community gathering of the women of the county.

She contrasted the work of women of long ago with the modern women and spoke of the responsibility of women of today in world affairs on account of changed conditions in the world. She spoke of the early clubs organized in the 50's and 70's and of the work the women's clubs have accomplished—and how women who dared to be different stood as great powers for good in world affairs. She remarked that it was important what the women in this little community think, and that the work of the clubs is of great importance in the affairs of the state and nation. She stated that a club of women could be leaders for the community on important questions and affairs of the day, and that it is the people of a community who make the town. She said that some women have a great vision of the world's need and can see more from their own little yard than others who have traveled around the world.

She advised all women to study international relations and keep in touch with all the up-to-date problems, and to also help the women of the community to a better citizenship, and to interest themselves in Americanization and public health in our schools.

She spoke of the inference in the papers of today that women are playing an important part in the affairs of the nation and that men are watching anxiously the outcome of their vote on momentous questions, stating that women will swing this way or that, according to the justice of the cause.

Mrs. Alvord finished with the admonition to keep ones own ideal of individual advancement along some chosen line of education and work, even though engaged in community work.

Mrs. Vowels of Mt. Pleasant, chairman of the education committee of the state federation, also gave a short inspirational address, and Miss Anna Vaughn of the state board of Lansing, director of play and games in Michigan schools and communities, gave some remarks on the value of play.

Mrs. McKay also gave some remarks. The meeting closed with singing of "America", after which tea, wafers and cakes were served to the women present.

The hyacinth is like a balustrade placed upside down. A bed of hyacinths resembles a mass of balusters. Thus that great invention of the renaissance, the balustrade, allows us to gain through it a glimpse of nature. WATER THRUSH AND CHAT
 The Louisiana water thrush is a thrush in name only. It really belongs to the warbler family and, like all the rest of its family, it eats a large proportion of insect food. It nests in marshes or on large boulders near the water.
 If you wish to make the acquaintance of this bird, tramp along some river bank or the edge of some pond where the willows hang low over the water. Its call is a short, metallic "pit, pit."
 The yellow breasted chat is the largest of our warblers.
 Chats are great mimics and can imitate any kind of a whistle or squawk. When singing they jerk their tails up and down, making them appear extremely ludicrous.

Palm Tree of Scripture Nature's Gift.
 The palm tree of Scripture is understood to have been the date palm. For all the centuries that man has lived on earth the date palm has furnished food and shelter. Its timber and its foliage have their uses even now. Sugar, date sugar, is made from its sap just as maple sugar is made from the sap of the maple tree. Its sap has been fermented into wine for scores of centuries, and that sap for many ages has been distilled into a brandy that is as fiery and overwhelming as apple brandy, peach brandy and grape brandy.

You Don't Know Wallboard Unless You Know Upson Board
 by John L. Lewis, Contractor and Builder, Binghamton, N. Y.

What this prominent contractor and builder says—
FOR years I did not recommend wall board. I would not let my customers use it except for attics where quality did not matter.
 "I believe that all wall board was alike but I did not know Upson Board. I had tried it because I said 'What's the use?' Upson Board is no different from all the rest!"
How my eyes were opened
 "And then one day a salesman asked me to try some Upson Board. I placed a trial order but even at that I was almost afraid to try it on a real good job."
 "My first surprise came when I unloaded the big panels. I expected breakage. There was none. Surprise No. 2 came when we commenced to cut the board. Instead of breaking like a graham cracker and fraying at the edges, we found that it cut and sawed like lumber.
 "We finished a whole room without breaking a single piece. You know what that means if you have had experience with ordinary wall board."
A wonderful painting surface
 "The biggest surprise of all was the finishing. I have seen all kinds of wall board painted. Some boards drink paint like a sponge, others have a waxy coating which is the ruin of a good job of painting."
 "But with Upson Board the first coat covered perfectly and two is all that is ever needed. I understand that big paint companies use Upson Board for making up their samples of paint."
 "I have used it in my own home as well as in the finest homes and buildings."
 "If you are in doubt as I was, I suggest that you get some samples of Upson Board and learn the truth for yourself."

M. E. Church Notes

On Memorial Sunday a large congregation gathered at the church to honor the veterans. The church was made beautiful with flags and flowers. In addition to the splendid selections of the choir, the children sang "America the Beautiful" and Kipling's recessional was rendered by a group of the young ladies. Eight veterans of the World war were present and three veterans of the Civil war, John Y. Armstrong, E. V. Esmond and B. Frost, sr., also Mrs. L. C. Colegrove, widow of a Civil war veteran. Protest Against Washing Ears.

The recent stories in the Companion about the difficulties that mothers have had in persuading their children to have their ears washed has led a contributor to tell what happened when her small boy was asked whether he should prefer to go to a picture show or to a concert. The boy really wanted to go to the concert, but he chose the picture show instead. When asked why, he said that going to a dark room would make washing his ears unnecessary.—Youth's Companion.

PICTURE HUNG BY "SPOOKS"

Rejected Portrait Appears Mysteriously on Walls of Salon in Big New York Hotel.

A phenomenon, as startling and mysterious to the officers and directors of the Society of Independent Artists as were the recent ghostly manifestations in Antigonish to the MacDonalds and Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, was revealed at the artists' exhibition on the top floor of the Waldorf.

The New York spirit nalled a rejected drawing to a wall, and above it hammered four tacks in a card which told that the picture was the work of Mrs. Emma Mabel Field of Chicago, and was called "Impressionistic Personality Portrait of Miss Edith Bennett."

"Spooks or no spooks," said A. S. Baylison, a director and secretary of the society, "that picture has got to come down. No one gave Mrs. Field permission to have it exhibited, and our walls aren't open for spirits." A special delivery letter from the artist to Mr. Baylison, arrived a few days later.

"I am starting for home now," her letter says, "and will be under way before this letter is mailed. And I beg to inform you that I have left the matter entirely in the hands of my guide, who has assured me that my poor little picture will be exhibited there whether you wish it or not."—New York Times.

Very Painful Dentistry.

Dwight Crittenden claims the distinction of being the first white man to have a tooth drawn by one of the colored doctors of the African Transvaal. The father of this well-known actor was a mining engineer in Kimberley. While a boy in South Africa shooting pains indicated that a molar must be extracted, and as Dwight Crittenden's father's mines were situated far from medical aid, one of the medicine men was summoned, and after performing a fantastic war dance to the tom-tom, this gentleman extracted the offending molar with the aid of a pair of engineer's pliers. An anesthetic was administered in the form of native incense, but Dwight contends that it only served to intensify the agony.

Discoverer of Rubber Tree.

The rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Father Mancele Esperanza. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambelas Indians of South America, and gave it the singular name of the seringueira, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.
