Methodist Church Notes

In several ways the services of the past Sunday were unique in the history of our church. The day began with the children's day program in the morning. The decorations were unusually beautiful, pink and white being used as the color scheme. Evergreen arches interwoven with pink roses and a bank of greenery interspersed with pink and white geraniums surrounded the platform. In as far as possible the decorations will be left the same for next Sunday's service.

In the afternoon a sacred concert from the broadcasting station of the Detroit Free Press was enjoyed over the radio. The most interesting numbers of the program were the saxophone solos.

At 6:30 p. m. we gathered again at the church for the evening service by radio. Dr. Wm. H. Phelps, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, was the speaker. The Advocate readers were especially interested in hearing this beloved Methodist preacher.

Radio programs will be given at the church again next Sunday. For the hours of these services watch the church bulletin board.

DESPERADO IS PUT IN PRISON FOR LONG TERM

TONY YARNICK, HOLDUP MAN ESCAPED CONVICT, RETURNED FROM CANADA.

State Police Locate Him After He Had Fled From State and Bring Him Back.

Tony Yarnick, holdup man and desperado, was recently sentenced in Oakland county to serve a sentence of from 25 to 50 years in Jackson prison as a penalty for having shot Deputy Sheriff Schnell of Oakland county. The case is one which has aroused wide interest in Michigan as a result of the unusual circumstances attending the crime.

Yarnick is one of a gang of holdup men who were captured in 1920. He was sentenced to serve 15 to 30 years in Marquette prison but escaped last fall, together with Ed. Weisman, while the two were being transferred to Jackson prison. The convicts overpowered their guard, at Bay City, beat him and took his revolver. Stealing a car they started for Detroit but ran out of gasoline and abandoned the car. Deputy Sheriff Schnell offered the two men a ride and they repaid his kindness by shooting him and stealing his car.

Weisman was captured in Detroit but Yarnick got away.

State Police Pursue.

However the Michigan State Police kept on with the chase. All other clues failing, the pictures and description of Yarnick were advertised. By this means the picture was recognized by a man who had served as a mail guard on a railroad train on which Yarnick had stolen a ride. He stated that the fugitive had been kicked off the train at Belleville, Ontario, and arrested there.

Following up this clue, it was learned that Yarnick had been sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary at Kingston for having a revolver in his possession, this being the same weapon with which Schnell had been shot.

The Canadian authorities agreed to deport Yarnick and he was brought to Windsor, Ontario, and placed aboard a ferry boat. Capt. I. H. Marmon of the state police and Sheriff Butler of Oakland county were on the boat to receive him and they slipped the handcuffs on him as soon as the boat reached the middle of the Detroit River. Warden Hurlburt of Jackson prison had also been notified of the transfer of Yarnick, who was taken to Pontiac, where he pleaded guilty.

Prosecuting Attorney A. Floyd Blakeslee of Oakland county took occasion to write to Col. R. C. Vandercook of the Department of Public Safety commending the energy of the department in locating and bringing back this fugitive.

CIRCUS DAY IS UNLUCKY DATE

TWO PICKPOCKETS CAUGHT BY STATE POLICE IN ACT OF THIEVERY.

June 2 was circus day in Lansing and the people of the capital city flocked in crowds to see the show. They jammed into the street cars and some of them afterward found that in the jostling their pocketbooks had disappeared. That is often the way on circus day.

However the Michigan State Police had anticipated some such occurrence and Lieuts. Lyons and Cleghorn and Trooper Rankin were watching the crowds—and watching for pickpockets.

Charles Hart, 58 years of age, and Joe Benzon, 61 years of age, were arrested on a charge of picking pockets. Hart pretended to be very indignant and made as if to get into a big automobile which was standing nearby. When the state police told him they were quite willing to have him drive them to the jail, he lost all interest in the car.

Both men were held in $500 cash bail for trial.

LOCAL OFFICIALS TO TAKE "PRINTS"

H. C. Ulrey, one of the finger print experts of the Michigan Department of Public Safety, has been detailed to visit the sheriffs and chiefs of police forces in the state to secure their cooperation in the taking of fingerprints for identification purposes in connection with the bureau maintained by the Michigan State Police at Lansing. Uniform cards are supplied to all local officers for the purpose.

During May, 14 identifications of criminals were achieved through the work of this bureau. With a wider co-operation it is anticipated that the number each month will grow and that it will become almost impossible for a criminal who has once been arrested to escape identification when arrested again in this state.

SPECIALIZE ON CHINCH BUGS

Particular Reason Why Farmer Should Act to Protect the Bobwhite Quail From Hunters.

Every shot fired this season at the bobwhites that are wintering in your fields is a shot at your pocketbook, says Farm and Ranch. Quails destroy millions of hibernating bugs that would otherwise awake in the spring to fall hungrily upon the product of field and garden.

"While you fight the chinch bug, redouble your efforts to increase bobwhite quails," says A. C. Burill of the Missouri College of Agriculture. "They are said to eat from 500 to 1,000 chinch bugs at a meal, and their stomachs crave another meal every two hours. At least, this is the usual rate of digestion in most insect-eating birds. Quails are the only wild birds which specialize on chinch bugs in the winter season."

To protect the bobwhite the most effective plan is for several farmers co-operatively to publish a notice in the county papers forbidding hunters to shoot quails on their premises. This has been done successfully in several Missouri communities. Many county papers are running such notices properly drawn up by a lawyer and kept standing in the paper throughout the hunting season. In such cases the publishers will add the name of any farmer in the county and keep it there for, say, 50 cents for the season.

Protect the quails; they will fight your bug battles for you—winter and summer.—Our Dumb Animals.

OPPORTUNITY WAS TOO GOOD

How Justice Story Got a Laugh at the Expense of Two Highly Distinguished Americans.

President John Quincy Adams was one of those uncomfortable persons who are up at work by some ungodly hour of the morning, and he was just a bit vain about it—that is, as vain as a good Puritan ever allowed himself to get. But still everybody knew that the President got up at five and worked straight through to eleven. He was paying a visit to Harvard college one time when Justice Story of the Supreme court was delivering a series of lectures to the newly organized law school, and President Willard of Harvard, another early riser, took him over to hear the justice.

Now, Story was a notorious bon vivant; he got up late and in other ways acted like a civilized person. He began his lecture with the President of the United States seated at his right and the president of Harvard at his left. It was a drowsy afternoon along in May. Pretty soon he heard a titter from the audience and, looking out of the corner of his eye, what did he see but the President of the United States sound asleep. Then he looked over to the other side. Sure enough, Willard had also succumbed and was nodding away.

With a twinkle in his eye Story turned to the boys and remarked: "Gentlemen, behold the ghastly results of intemperate rising!"

"Army" Tests for Collegians.

That the results of regular academic tests do not clash with the results of psychological tests, but accord with them, is shown by comparison of the grades made by Penn state college students in both kinds of examinations. For the last two years freshmen have been given the army, Thurstone and Binet-Simon tests and these results compared later with their academic ratings. Invariably those students who made low averages in the psychological tests were low in their college work. Of 87 students dismissed on account of poor scholarship last year the average for the army "alpha" test was 118, while the general average of the students is 181. Of the three types of psychological tests tried the results of the army test have proved to be the best indication of the grade of work a student will do in college.

Brazilian Air Lines.

Brazilian senators have reported favorably upon a bill proposing the establishment of two aviation lines between Rio de Janeiro and Porto Alegre, which are to be started before September of 1922. According to the United States naval attache in Rio de Janeiro, one of the routes will be laid along the coast, carried out by hydroplanes and maintained and directed by the ministry of marine; the other will traverse the interior of the country to the west of the coast range of mountains and will be continued by airplanes under the direction of the ministry of war. The routes will pass through the most important political, industrial and commercial centers, wherever possible.
