Hon. Horatio S. Karcher, of Rose City, has announced that he is a candidate on the republican ticket for the office of State Senator from the twenty-eighth district, comprising the counties of Arenac, Alcona, Clare, Crawford, Gladwin, Isosco, Ogemaw, Osceola, Oscoda and Roscommon, to succeed Senator McRae.
Mr. Karcher has been a resident of Ogemaw county for the past 35 years and during that time has held many positions of trust in the county. He held the office of judge of probate for twelve years, was mayor of Rose City for a period of eight years, besides having held various township offices. STATE FAIR CUTS ADMISSION RATE

ONE-THIRD REDUCTION IN PRICE TO EXPOSITION ANNOUNCED BY FAIR MANAGER.

DROP IN WAGES BRINGS SLASH, SAYS G. W. DICKINSON

A slash of one-third in the admission prices to the Seventy-third annual Michigan State Fair, September 1 to 10, was announced by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the exposition in Detroit this week.
The reduction means general admission to the exposition, now under the jurisdiction of the state of Michigan, will be fifty cents this year, compared to seventy-five cents a year ago. The board of managers of the fair made the cut on the recommendation of the fair manager.
"Believing the gradual drop of wages everywhere must be made up in a reduction in living and entertainment expenses, the fair management has slashed the admission prices one third," Mr. Dickinson announced.
"This reduction, however, does not mean the exposition will suffer in quality. It will not. It will be better. I feel we are going to make up the reductions in the attendance. Last year, nearly 400,000 persons attended the fair. Since, there has been a new understanding of what the Michigan State Fair represents and I believe we are going to have better than a half million people at the exposition."
The premium list for the 1922 fair rapidly is nearing completion and will be published sometime in July. It contains complete instructions concerning entries and carries full information about premiums and other features of the fair.

BARNES NAMED TO HEAD STATE FAIR DOG SHOW

Frank W. Barnes, of New York City, has been named secretary and superintendent of the all-breed dog show to be given by the Michigan State Fair dog club at the seventy-third annual exposition, Detroit, September 1 to 10.
A plan to have specialty dog clubs co-operate with the fair organization in presenting a specialty show Sunday, September 3, preceding the regular three-day dog show of September 4, 5 and 6, is now under way.
Cash prizes will be given to winners this year instead of the percentage prize awarded at the last fair. Prizes for handlers also will be offered, announcement of which will be made at a later date.

NOVEL BUTTER STATUARY PROMISED AT STATE FAIR

Visitors to the fair who have been drawn to the butter sculptor's work in the dairy department will surely return to see this work at the Seventy-third annual exposition, Detroit, September 1 to 10.
A boy, pushing a wheelbarrow, containing a huge pumpkin, selected by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, as the official fair trademark this year, will be reproduced by J. E. Wallace, sculptor. Mr. Wallace already has started a study of the drawing and intends to bring out every minute detail of it in his work.
Other features, of course, in butter statuary will be made by the sculptor.

Black Diamond Turns Green.

A black diamond of five and one-half carats was recently found in the Bloemhof district of South Africa, which on cutting, proved to be almost emerald in color. The stone now weighs one and one-half carats and is believed to be most valuable, owing to the rarity of green diamonds.

JAP GIRLS GET INTO LINE

Increasing Physical Activity and Independence Are Regarded as of Particular Significance.

A new freedom in physical movement is discernible if not obvious in feminine Japan. It can be noted on the street in the little girls' play. Always they have had the most varied line of games and were fairly active, but nothing so unladylke as jumping over a stick, a sort of pole vault without the pole. Now this is not unusual in the larger towns, and surprisingly high do these wooden clogged, kimonoed, pig-tailed youngsters jump, and with much abandon.
In the girls' schools there is much more activity than even three years ago of the kind that past generations of American mothers called tomboyishness, and increasing interest in tennis and basketball. Also it is not uncommon now for maiden or matron to hold up her head in line with her spine, and frankly look on at this world and all its incumbrances. Formerly it was almost the great unpardonable not to carry the head slightly forward, with eyes downcast. This attitude of humiliation is now becoming fearfully old-fashioned.
Foreign teachers of long experience say that the change in this respect is striking in the classroom. Students when reciting now look up squarely at the instructor instead of at their knees as formerly. As this is not a taught thing, but the reflex of a change within, vital enough to overcome teaching and inherited tendency, it is significant.

TRUE DA VINCI IN LOUVRE?

Museum Director Scoffs at Theory That Famous Painting Has Been Brought to America.

Artists and friends of the Louvre museum may reassure themselves. The original of Leonardo da Vinci's painting, "La Belle Ferroniere," hangs in the museum and is not in America. This is the authority of D'Estournelles de Constant, director of national museums.
"This is an old story," said the director. "It is not the first time that the authenticity of our masterpieces has been questioned by foreign collectors. There seems to be no way of putting a stop to the habit."
"The painting entered among our collections under the title of 'La Belle Ferroniere' was certainly from the brush of Leonardo da Vinci himself. It was among the art treasures of Francis I and, in 1642, Pere Dan, the king's minister of finances, identified it as the portrait of the duchess of Mantua. Certain historians, on the other hand, have maintained that it was that of Lucrezia Crivelli. It is generally conceded today that the picture represents La Belle Ferroniere, one of Francis I's favorites.
"Whoever it may represent, however, the painting had always hung in the private apartments of the king until it was transferred to the Louvre. Its authenticity might possibly have been questioned had it been stolen at any time. But no such misadventure ever occurred to it."—From Le Petit Paris. (Translated for the Kansas City Star.)

Bans the Merry-Go-Round.

Verily the most captious of music critics must confess that when the overture of "Poet and Peasant" is hooted out by the steam callope of a merry-go-round it carries to the juvenile ear a more vital inspiration than could a Philharmonic feast in Carnegie hall or a whole opera at the Metropolitan. Imagine, then, the grief of Mayor Scott of New Rochelle to license him to operate a $30,000 merry-go-round on a lot that he and his two brothers have bought at the entrance to Hudson park.
Supreme Court Justice Platt of White Plains will decide whether the gorgeous merry-go-round planned by the Polycrone brothers shall be sanctioned or not, for the indignant trio have applied to him for a writ of mandamus to compel Mayor Scott to issue a license.—New York Sun.

Fishing Fleet Reduced One-Half.

Heavy toll exacted by storms threatens to ruin the fishing industry of Newfoundland. A movement now is on foot to induce the legislature to offer heavy bounties for the building of schooners, it is reported.
During 1921 42 stout fishing schooners dropped into Davy Jones' locker, and 1922 already has a lengthy list of losses. The entire Newfoundland fleet today is not more than half that of 1900. The number of schooners between 80 and 65 tons in service today is about 500, as against from 1,000 to 1,500 in the closing days of the Nineteenth century.

Triumph for Old-Timer.

The little red schoolhouse won a victory over the present day educational institution, with its domestic science and vocational training courses, during an old-fashioned spelling bee held in Bucyrus, Ohio, when Mrs. E. B. Finley, eighty-seven, spelled down 25 graduates of high schools and colleges in a contest lasting over three hours. Renaissance, vertiginous, rendezvous and fortissimo were the words that spelled defeat to her opponents, and then Mrs. Finley became so excited she dropped out with "tuberculosis."

Many rivers flow north for part of their course, but because most of the rivers of the central part of the United States are tributaries of the Mississippi, and because of the wedge shape of the continent, not many rivers have a general northerly course. "FAIRY PRINCE" VERY HUMAN

Once More Illustrating the Wide Gulf Sometimes Existing Between Romance and Reality.

As the crowded elevator car swooped down from eighteen to ten she became aware that there was a man just behind her left elbow. Her consciousness of him was somewhat intensified by the exhilaration of the moment. Curiosity counseled looking around. Pride forbade it. She felt a burning sensation in the part of her left cheek which was visible beneath her hat trim. Elizabeth Houghton writes in the New York World.
Bump, slam, swoop! the car inched its way down. Ten floors are not too few for the creation of a fairy prince. At the eighth floor he was tall and slender with a lock of hair falling over his forehead, at the seventh he had rather deep-set eyes and stern, straight brows.
As they passed the fifth she decided that he wore a necktie of grayish blue which undoubtedly matched the peculiar blue of his eyes. Just then a fat man pushed his way in and forced her against the wall. But she hardly noticed this.
She was planning the encounter. Dimly she would step from the car, adjusting her fur collar so that the worn lining should be hidden—he would follow closely, and in well-modulated tones ask if he might take her home.

ENGLISH ARCHERS LOSE HOME

Ancient Organization Puzzled as to the Disposition of Its Relics of Days Long Past.
There is a Royal Toxophilite society in England, which has had its headquarters in Regent's park for many years. Now, however, the society has to move, and is concerned as to the future resting place of the wonderful treasury of archery relics now in Archers' hall.
One bow and set of arrows are more than 4,000 years old. These were taken from the tombs at Sakkarah, in Egypt, and are believed to have been in use about 2500 B. C.
Another bow was given to the society by Mahomet Effendi, "ambassador from the Sublime Porte," in 1794, when he came to England for the first time, bringing his bow and arrows with him. When this Turkish official saw the ground at Regent's park he said it was much too small, so he went into a street outside the park and shot his arrows into a field. The distance was measured and found to be a quarter of a mile. Mahmoud was so pleased with this shot that he presented his bow and arrows to the society. The bow is beautifully carved and is of immense strength.

Victory Made a Difference.

During the allied occupation of Germany, an amusing encounter took place between a British soldier and a German baroness.
The baroness, writes Miss Violet H. Markham in "Watching on the Rhine," told a British officer that one of his men insulted her. Indeed, she declared, she had never been so insulted in her life. The officer at once began inquiries and finally learned that the lady had found two British soldiers whistling and sliding down the banisters of her back stairs. She had told them sharply that whistling and sliding on the banisters were verboten. Whereupon Thomas Atkins, genial and undefeated, had turned to her and remarked pleasantly, "Aye, missus, but yer should have won the war, and then yer could have come and sild down our back stairs and whistled."

Reading With a Purpose.

But having decided that a book is worth reading, you must cease to judge it while you read it; you must let it happen to you, or your opinion of it will not be worth having nor will you make any progress in the experience of literature or of any kind of art.—A. Clutton-Brock.
