E. B. Hill, assistant to the dean of agriculture, is directing the work, while individual exhibits are being assembled by the various departments.

Certain important farm practices will be particularly emphasized in the general exhibit, notably the value of alfalfa, the use of lime and phosphoric acid as fertilizers, reforestation, barberry eradication, the fertilization and spraying of fruit trees, and food and nutrition from the standpoint of home economics. NOW!!

THE IOSCO COUNTY FAIR

This year the fair will attract the farmer more than ever. There will be bigger and better exhibits along agricultural lines. If you are in doubt, just step over to the agricultural building and note what your neighbors has on display. The Oscoda-East Tawas-Tawas City bands will furnish the music. There will be snappy horse races on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and along with the above contests will come the speed motor cycle races, something new in this neck of the woods. The management will have the motor cycle racers start at 10:30 a. m. on the above mentioned days, so you are assured of a full day of speed program.

To mix in with this will come the aeroplanes, taking off and alighting inside the fair grounds. You have perhaps just itched to take a hop. Here's your chance.

Baseball will have a real place on the afternoon schedules. Oscoda, Alabaster, Tawas City, Hale, East Tawas and the Birmingham American Legion ball teams will participate.

Night fireworks and the midway every evening, also arrangements are under way for dancing. The supervisors have taken an active interest in our fair, so you can rest assured that it will be worth while.

The youngster has not been forgotten. A kite flying contest will be held on Friday morning for them with liberal prizes.

N. E. M. D. B. OFFICES MOVED

The offices of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau and the Huron Shore Tourist association are to be moved to the chamber of commerce building in Bay City, where the accommodations will be better and where the opportunity for displaying products of the district will be greater. In addition the bureau will be in closer touch with the Bay City Board of Commerce, which has always taken an active part in the development of Northeastern Michigan and also with the Bay City Motor club whose officers have been of great assistance to tourists passing through Bay City to northern Michigan. The change was authorized at a meeting of the executive committee of the bureau held at East Tawas.

W. H. Cunningham of Midland county has demonstrated that the light-sandy soils found in some parts of the state can be made to pay big dividends if the proper crops are raised. On a tract of four acres of raspberries, of which about two-thirds was in bearing this year, he picked 88 bushels of raspberries which brought him $508. The cost of picking, outside of the services of his own family, was $60, leaving a net return of $448, or $112 per acre. Few 40 acre farms devoted to general farming will bring in as large a cash return.

G. W. Dickinson Invites Everyone In Michigan
To See 73rd State Fair

To the Editor:

Will you please extend through the columns of your paper an invitation to all of your subscribers, which I would be happy to make personally were it possible, to visit the Seventy-third annual Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1-10.

The fair now is a part of the state government and this, I believe, has had a tendency to increase the interest of everyone in it, and to build for it respect as an educational institution.

For the farmer, the fair is not only a school but, a city of 10 days with 500,000 persons which will broadcast his plea of reasonable profit and, for the industrial worker, the fair is an educator and intended to relieve the monotony of constant toil.

G. W. DICKINSON,
Secretary-Manager.

BIG FIREWORKS DISPLAY TO BE FAIR FEATURE

Because he believes fireworks to be a clean and wholesome entertainment which thousands of fair visitors anticipate annually, G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, has arranged for the most pretentious fireworks spectacle ever attempted at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1 to 10.

Thearle-Duffield Co., of Chicago, pyrotechnical specialists, will present the display this year.

Six nights of "Mystic China," one of the most awe-inspiring spectacles ever witnessed, the "Chicago Fire," "Scrapping the Navy," and "Pioneer Days" will be presented.

To wash mirrors and windows rub over with chamolis skin wrung out of warm water then wipe with a piece of dry chamolis skin.

Cellar Is Safe.

Accident statistics show that the safest place to be to avoid the possibility of accident is in a bed in the cellar of your home. Next to that the safest place is a Pullman or other steel car on a railroad train. So say the accident insurance companies. A passenger in an ordinary railroad car is much safer than at home, because he is sitting still and few things can happen to him. If he is in a Pullman, and there is a collision, other cars may be smashed, but his own vehicle, being of steel and enormously heavy, will likely escape serious injury.

Freak Memory of a German.

Herr Otto Schrader of Berlin is reputed to have the most marvelous memory in the world. The German Meteorological society tested it recently. "What was the weather the other day—say November 26, 1890?" the president of the society asked Schrader. Schrader never hesitated: "It was very clear before dawn," said Schrader. "In the afternoon it was cloudy, with snow flurries. The temperature was two or three degrees above freezing." And Schrader was right, the German scientists found out on checking up. Several American theatrical men are said to be after him to appear on the vaudeville stage in the United States this summer.

The Greatness of Peking.

Peking, the Chinese capital, about which the rival armies are now fighting, is in reality three cities in one. There is an inner or Manchu city, and an outer or Chinese city. The inner comprises the Imperial city, which, in turn, contains the "Forbidden City" or the "Purple Forbidden City" inside the walls of which, again, is the Imperial palace. Peking itself is one of the oldest cities in the world, being known to exist in the Twelfth century before Christ, but although it is of immense size, being 25 miles in circumference, much of the space within the walls is unoccupied.

Brains.

World-famous Dr. George W. Crile, who operates as skillfully with one hand as the other, compares the human body to a dry cell, with the liver the negative pole, brain the positive. Anything that affects the liver will also affect the brain, says Crile.

Indirectly, therefore, it appears that the intellect is partly in the liver. Sluggish liver frequently is the cause of stupidity. A course in calomel sometimes is worth more than a course in school.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

F. B. DEWITT

My name is on the ballot for re-nomination, second term, to the state legislature Sept. 12th.

I claim merit for services rendered in the last legislature in being largely responsible for the income tax measure which passed and will come squarely before the people in November. This measure when carried to completion will render about twenty millions in taxes to the state (this estimate based on Wisconsin and New York) which will cut down taxes on farms, all realty and personal property in the same amount.

This is the only real proposition for reduction of state taxes which has been before the people in the last twenty years I have been in the state.

Sincerely,
F. B. DeWitt.

73RD STATE FAIR TO BE GREATEST

G. W. DICKINSON LOOKS FOR LARGEST ATTENDANCE IN HISTORY OF EXPOSITION.

WORLD'S TALLEST MAN IS AMONG ENTERTAINERS

More than 500,000 persons are expected in Detroit from September 1-10 to witness the seventy-third annual Michigan State Fair. If a half million are drawn to the exposition, this will be an increase of approximately 50,000 over the attendance of 1921.

George W. Dickinson, secretary and manager, looks forward to the largest attendance in the history of the fair, because of the increased premiums, co-operation of the railroads, support of the state and national governments, and the many new features which have been incorporated in the 1922 fair.

These, of course, include the Coliseum building and the entertainment it will offer, the radio show, running race meet, historical pageant, and the proposed Better Babies parade.

Among the entertainments along the Midway this year, will be those of the Rubin and Cherry shows. This aggregation has been commonly referred to as "the aristocrat of the tented world."

Brought to Detroit by Rubin and Cherry, will be Jan Van Albert, the tallest giant in the world. He stands nine feet, five inches in height, is a clever conversationalist and entertainer. Van Albert, while in Washington, was received by the President, and his height had the effect of aweing the chief executive.

Also, there will be the auto drome, where feats will be performed by fearless autolists and cyclists; the freak animal show, exhibiting many strange and interesting specimens of peculiarly formed animals, and the Lucky Boy minstrels—an aggregation of 30 colored performers and musicians.

Other wholesome and clean entertainment features, too numerous to mention, have been arranged. While the farmer visits the fair primarily to see the livestock, Government agricultural exhibits, county-farm products, how bees are raised correctly, machinery and modern automobile equipment, the fair management believes also he comes and brings his family, to see these entertainments, and so, nothing has been left undone to make the attractions at the seventy-third annual fair better and greater than ever before.

Last Word in Pathos.

PLANTS GET OWN MOISTURE

Ingenious Device That Will Assurely Be Welcomed by All Absent-Minded Husbands.

Stay-at-home husbands are prone to forget to water the flowers that adorn the sitting room, even though specially charged to do so by absent wives. They will doubtless welcome a device just invented by a Frenchman, M. Pison, which enables plants literally to water themselves and to do so with efficiency, taking neither too much nor too little to drink. This device, which obtained a gold medal in France, consists of a flower pot of the usual shape, but having a double wall. The description runs, according to the Literary Digest:

The space between the two walls constitutes a reservoir of water. Into this there extends two to four curved tubes, according to the shape of the pot. Each of these tubes contains a wick. The lower end of the tube dips into the reservoir of water while the other end is bent so as to dip beneath the surface of the soil in the inner pot. Consequently we really have a set of siphons which are set in action by the capillary attraction which causes the water to rise in the wick. Thus there is a gentle but steady flow of moisture to the plant.

In order to adapt the apparatus to the needs of any individual plant it is only necessary to remove the inner pot after the end of 24 hours and note whether the outer pot still holds any water. If so, the plant is oversupplied, since the excess of water has been drawn by gravity to the bottom of the inner pot and escaped through the hole in the center into the outer pot.

'FOR LOVE, NOT BY PURCHASE'

New Attitude Toward Marriage Is Seen to Be Awakening Among the Women of China.

Closely related with the new home idea in China is the new idea on marriage; that is, individual choice rather than family choice; "for love, not by purchase."

Like the new home this will be a matter of slow evolution. For in China the individual is not thought of or looked upon as an entity; he is but a part of a family which is the unit, the entity and which at all costs must be preserved and perpetuated. Hence, individual desires must be subsidiary to the wishes or the benefit of the family.

The practice of this principle throughout the long centuries has instilled in children a submissiveness to parents, to family, that is engulfing of personality, though it is the steel that gives strength and form to the structure of the Chinese nation. The submissiveness is more than a conscious obedience; it is involuntary surrender.

Consequently, though the new young woman may advocate the theory of personal choice in marriage, only the most radical really desire it or would dare wholly to follow it, Emma Sarepta Yule writes in Scribner's. In matters touching the soul centers, inheritance and tradition are always stronger than imported ideas, no matter how forcible their appeal to reason. Miss China still feels that in the matter of a mate the parents' judgment is the better.

For Religion's Sake.

The confirmation class slowly filed into the pews. Angelic little faces of erstwhile mischievous youngsters bore rapt expressions, partly due to the serious occasion and partly to fright. Little gasps of pleasure and delight were uttered by fond parents and friends.

"My dear, I thought we were a half hour too early and here they are beginning the service! Something is amiss." My curious friend sought an usher.

"Yes, madame, the bishop was kind enough to come earlier to officiate. One of the youngsters being confirmed is due at the theater by eight. She is a mermaid."

"No, I was not perplexed," she told me afterward, "but 'The world do move.'"—Chicago Journal.

Pelican Ate Golf Ball.

A pelican, one of those huge, long-beaked marine birds that poise themselves a hundred feet above the water, close their wings and with beaks open dive head foremost into schools of small fish, finished a golf game in St. Petersburg, Fla., recently "one-down." The Coffee Pot course is along the shore of Tampa bay and on the eleventh hole is a small brackish lake forming a water hazard, which must be crossed to reach the green.

One member of a foursome drove from the tee and a strong wind carried the ball into the lake. A pelican flying lazily above the lake evidently took the ball bobbing on the surface for a new variety of fish, for he suddenly closed his wings, dropped with terrific speed and gobbled it.

What Counts.

There was a gleam of triumph in the young man's eyes as he gazed at the woman he loved.

"I'm going to write a great novel that will make me famous," he said.

The beautiful girl remained seated and made no reply.

"Then I have a scheme to bring peace and happiness to the world," he continued.

She still remained seated.

"In order to carry out this scheme I needed money," he went on, "so I played the market and won over a million."

She jumped up and fell into his arms.

Currey report a pleasant auto trip through the southern part of the state, going to Lake Orion to attend the reunion of the Currey family, where over one hundred of the clan met on the 12th inst. One of the things noticed on the way was the evidence of so much more state road building down that way than here. Apparently most mail routes and many side roads were state roads. Are we getting our share of the state help in Iosco county?

On Oculcation. We are reliably informed that the Society for the Suppression of Human Emotions has put an official ban on kissing. Kissing, says an advance tract, is dangerous. Infection lies in kissing; kissing is immoral; kissing is more frequently idiotic than not, and in any event kissing causes a lot of trouble. Yeah, brothers, yeah! ... But between us, for all the trouble kissing causes, we find it's worth it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

HALE AND VICINITY

Methodist Church Notes. Spend an hour with the Epworth League next Sunday evening and enjoy Institute Night. In so far as possible of the good things of the Albion gathering of 1000 young people will be brought to you. Remember the hour, 6:30 standard. The following officers were recently elected by the Ladies' Aid society: President, Mrs. Amy Bernard; vice-president, Mrs. Jennie Hughes; secretary, Mrs. Helen Shattuck; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Glendon; sec.-treas. of floral fund, Mrs. Hazel Frost. Don't miss hearing John H. Johnson's trombone selections at the Friday evening entertainment. "Spinner O' Dreams" is the photo drama to be given at that time. A certain good man has asked, "Shall our prayer meeting perish or prosper? Which?" He further adds "The trouble with small attendance at prayer meeting is not because of the automobile, nor money, nor work, nor pleasure; the trouble is within your own souls. What you love most you follow." Judging from the goodly number present last Wednesday evening, our folks desire the prayer service to prosper. Why not meet with us at the church at 7:30 next Wednesday evening for the weekly hour of public prayer. The Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. Rowland Keith Aug. 30. Autos will be at the home of Mrs. Colegrove at 9:45 a. m. to take those desiring to go. Next Sunday Rev. Hughes will deliver one of his famous dramatic book sermons, using as his subject "The Shepherd of the Hills." Special musical numbers will be given, including an anthem by the choir and also music by Misses Hazel and Ruth Brown of Flint. Thrills, sobs, tears are happily merged in "The Call from the Wild," a thrilling dramatic extravaganza, featuring Frankie Lee, the boy actor wonder, and "Highland Laddie," the world's most famous dog actor. This greatest scenic drama ever filmed, the players of which for three long weeks waited on the rim of the world in the high Sierras until the lights and shades should be just right for one of the entrancing scenes, will be presented here Sept. 1st. Remember the date. Do not miss seeing this dramatic masterpiece of the great outdoors. adv

Advice From a Master.

Begin to write always before the impression of novelty has worn off from your mind, else you will be apt to think that the peculiarities which at first attracted you are not worth recording; yet these slight peculiarities are the very things that make the most vivid impression upon the reader. Think nothing too trifling to set down, so it be in the smallest degree characteristic. You will be surprised to find on perusing your journal what an importance and graphic power these little particulars assume.—Hawthorne.

Tons of Flying Dust.

According to the estimates of an expert who has studied the remarkable phenomena of dust and sandstorms in the arid regions of the West, every cubic mile of the lower air during an ordinary "dry storm" contains at least 225 tons of dust, while in severe storms of this kind as much as 120,000 tons of dust and sand may be contained in a cubic mile of air. Dust storms sometimes last 20 or 30 hours.

FORMER SALOON NOW CHURCH

Remarkable Transformation for Which the Congregation is Very Literally Responsible. The Bronx, New York's famous residential section, has a home-made church. It began life as a saloon in the period antedating the year 1, A. V. (ante Volstead). Then followed a spell as a billiard parlor. Rev. A. V. Vos, an Episcopal clergyman, next appeared upon the scene. He rented the ex-saloon, organized a congregation, and with a big shoe-case for an altar and a dozen rude benches for the accommodation of his flock, which included Germans, Italians, Hungarians, Irish and Americans, the initial service was held. In course of time the little congregation increased to about fifty, bought the place, paid off the debt in sums of $15 and $20 at a time and at length laid aside a reserve fund. And this is what they did with it: Including in their number carpenters, bricklayers, cement workers, electricians, etc. they had a church meeting, parceled out the work among themselves, and on the night of December 3 last they began tearing out the front of the building. Each night thereafter, as soon as supper was disposed of, the volunteer workers got back on the job and by working every night save Sunday—sometimes well into the morning—they have succeeded in making over the place into a pretty little concrete edifice of the old Spanish mission type. It includes not only the chapel proper, but a dining hall, social hall, kitchen, etc. Rev. Mr. Voss says: "It isn't an cathedral, but to us it is the finest church building in the world because we have reared it with our own hands." Plans are being formed for the consecration of the building by Bishop Manning at an early date.

MAN OF FAITH AND LEARNING

Origen Considered One of the Greatest of the Early Church Fathers—Upheld Christ's Faith. Origen, surnamed Adamantius, who lived from 185 to 254 A. D., is considered by some authorities as the greatest of the early church fathers. Alexandria, in Egypt, the great seat of learning of the time, is thought to have been his birthplace. He was a teacher and deep student of philosophy and of the Scriptures, and he became a great defender of the Christian faith. His literary productions were numerous and several have come down to the modern world, among them being a treatise on theology, a few sermons or discourses of that nature, parts of commentaries on the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. John and St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans. His greatest work is his defense of Christianity against the attacks in the writings of Celsus, an Epicurean philosopher of the Second century. Celsus' work is not extant, but the character of it is made clear in Origen's refutation, which contains many quotations, and Origen's line of argument indicates clearly the line of attack followed by Celsus. The attacks upon Christianity by many critics are simply repetitions of Celsus' objections, which Origen answered about seventeen hundred years ago.

Where Business Moves Slowly.

Business methods are invariably slow in the Near East, according to Miss Grace Willis who has returned recently from a period of service with the Y. W. C. A. in Constantinople, Stamboul and Beirut. "It takes at least a half a day to deposit a check and even longer to draw one out," says Miss Willis. "The general condition that exists in business houses is undoubtedly due to the fact that so many nationalities, each with their own way of doing things, are gathered under one roof. The girls of the Near East are particularly keen for business courses and there is a tremendous demand in the many commercial houses for well-trained clerical workers and stenographers. I consider that when, from the business courses given by the Y. W. C. A., efficient business women have been turned out after nine months' training, a remarkable piece of work has been accomplished."

Veteran.

After working 56 years in steel mills, Edward Quilty retired on pension. He was the oldest employee of the American Steel and Wire company. He started to work before the Bessemer converter and open-hearth process were invented. Looking backward over his life, Quilty is amazed most at the way traveling cranes and other machinery have relieved human muscles. He says: "The men have more brains than they used to." Average intelligence will steadily increase, as machinery gradually frees man from drudgery. Energy, now consumed by muscular effort, will flow into the brain, generating thought, developing a race of philosophers.

She Just Analyzed Him.

A colored woman hurried into the adult probation offices of the juvenile court at Chicago. "I tell you, I'm mad," she said to the adult probation officer. "It's my husband," she continued. "That man is drivin' me crazy." "What is he doing now?" she was asked. "What he doesn't do is easier to answer. We jus' can't seem to get along," she pouted. "But he says you don't love him." "Love him?" the woman replied, surprised. "Love him? Why, I jus' analyze that man."

TEACHING CHILDREN TO APPRECIATE BLESSINGS

By Edith Lochridge Reid. Mothers often get discouraged because the children seem thankless and unappreciative of their blessings, when with a little thought and effort on the mother's part she could train them to a better sense of appreciation. "I bought some lead pencils when I was down town today so they would be on hand, and I hope I won't hear any more about lead pencils when you are starting to school at the last minute." Will Johnny appreciate one of those pencils when he takes it from the shelf, do you think? He certainly will not. He will grab one and off with it without even a thought of thanks, to say nothing of voicing his appreciation. "Here's your collection money all ready for you," says mother when the children are scurrying off to Sunday school. Now not for anything would the tots go without their pennies, for the collection is an event in the primary classes. But when mother hands it out this way they take it as a matter of course and not as one of the blessings for which they should say "Thank you." Now it would be splendid discipline to let the children ask for a few things once in a while. This gives them a sense of obligation to mother because she has done a favor, and nearly always a well-mannered child will say "Thank you" for something which he himself has requested. Don't feel, mothers, as if you were shirking your duty if you make Mary ask you to sew on a button or mend the pocket of her sweater. She will be impressed with what the little task means if she has to wait for you to get your thimble and thread and button and yarn. If she sits and watches you for the ten minutes that this duty requires she will say "Thank you." But if the clothes are mended and tucked away in her bureau or closet always, she will take the blessing of mended clothes as a matter of course. Naturally we are not grateful to a marked degree for things that we get on schedule. But let something go wrong at the electric light plant and we fuss about using candles and exclaim "I am certainly thankful they have the wires fixed," when once more the power is restored. So if you feel that the children are showing ingratitude, do not blame them—look for the trouble in the training system. Turn the power off and let them use candles, and you'll be surprised how thankful they'll be for blessings that they are in the habit of receiving with no show of appreciation.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGES USE OF TOXIN-ANTITOXIN

With the opening of schools about two weeks distant the shipment of diphtheria toxin-antitoxin by the Michigan Department of Health is increasing materially daily. The department is aiming to have every school child immunized against diphtheria when classes resume and as a result many demands for toxin-antitoxin have reached the state laboratory in the past month. Since the beginning of the year when the state began to furnish free toxin-antitoxin it is estimated that more than 40,000 doses have been sent out. Up to July 1 when the last figures were compiled 35,700 doses had been shipped. In that time 3767 cases of diphtheria have been reported to the department. The health department recently recommended immunization of all school children, pre-school children, and babies over one year old without administering the Schick test. It was held that the Schick test was valuable and a good test to determine a person's immunity, but that inoculation without the test was a quicker and surer process. Toxin-antitoxin is used as a prophylaxis against diphtheria, its action taking some time to complete immunization against the disease, but when completed rendering permanent immunity. Antitoxin is administered to persons who have been diagnosed as having diphtheria or to persons who have come in actual contact with a diphtheria patient. Antitoxin renders immediate immunity but for a short time only. Its action is temporary. "Much of the prevalence of diphtheria is due to negligence," says Dr. Olin, state health commissioner. Under no circumstances should a child be permitted to go near a case of diphtheria. Besides being much more susceptible to the disease than adults, children are in greater danger of death from it than are grown persons who may contract it. Mild cases in adults may cause fatal cases in children. "Have the children immunized before the school bell calls thousands of them together two weeks hence," says Dr. Olin.

Real Genius.

The man who can make a mountain out of a mole hill and then sell it as sand is a genius.

Violent Criticism Resented.

A man takes contradiction and advice much more easily than people think, only he will not bear it when violently given, even though it be well founded. Hearts are flowers; they remain open to the soft-falling dew, but shut up in the violent downpour of rain.—Richter.

His Next Anniversary.

Bobby was four years old and so he had a birthday party. About a week later some friends called on us. One of them asked Bobby how old he was, and he replied: "When I have another party I'll be five."—Chicago Tribune.

Putting It Politely.

"He is a man of strong convictions" is a polite way of saying that the gent is bull-headed.—Atchison Globe.

Genius Not Success Requisite.

There are two kinds of success. One is the very rare kind that comes to the man who has the power to do. That is genius. Only a very limited amount of the success of life comes to persons possessing genius. The average man who is successful—the average statesman, the average public servant, the average soldier, who wins what he calls great success—is not a genius. He is a man who has merely the ordinary qualities.—Theodore Roosevelt.
