It might be thought that cotton, the growing of which is usually connected with a warm climate, could not be brought to maturity this far north. W. J. Cameron of this city has demonstrated otherwise, as he has cotton plants in his garden 2 1/2 feet high in full blossom. It is well worth a walk to his residence on the west side to see the plants growing.

DEATH OF MRS CHARLES ZINK
Mrs. Charles Zink, sr., a pioneer resident of Tawas City, passed away at her home in this city last Friday, Sept. 22, after a month's illness, the effects of old age. Had Mrs. Zink lived until October 20 she would have been 83 years of age.

Hermine Balke was born in Se-laren district, Germany, Oct. 20, 1839. In 1865 she was united in marriage to Paul Moeller, and to this union three children were born, all of whom survive her. They are Ernest Moeller, senior of Tawas City, Albert Moeller of Petoskey and Mrs. Martha Bartlett of East Tawas. Mr. Moeller lived but a few years after their marriage, and in 1872 the widow was united in marriage to Charles Zink. To them two children were born, Charles junior of Tawas City and Mary, who died some years ago.

In November, 1872, the family came to America, settling first near Ionia, Mich. From there they moved to Caldwell, thence to Petoskey, and finally about 1879 to Tawas City, where they have since resided. Besides the children the aged husband survives.

On the Road of Good Intentions

LAND CLEARING SPECIAL TO VISIT IOSCO COUNTY

It's not so difficult to clear a piece of land when you have plenty of money and don't care how you spend it. But to remove the stumps from your farm when you must work like sixty just to get along—that's a different matter.

Larry Livingston and his crew of land clearing experts know what conditions farmers in the cutover lands of Michigan face and they are ready to show men who take the land clearing short course at Whittemore, Thursday, Oct. 5, and at Rose City, Saturday, Oct. 7, the best and cheapest methods as well. If a stump can be blown as effectively with one stick of dynamite, carefully placed, as it can be with half a dozen carelessly loaded, they use but one. And if it can be removed to advantage by horsepower, they leave the dynamite in the box.

Farmers who attend the one-day school held under Larry's direction will get no impractical, bookish ideas. Instead they will find demonstrated the best, safest, most economical methods of land clearing known anywhere in the northern lake states. Devices and equipment to carry out these methods have been assembled by specialists who have canvassed the whole north woods and have observed the men that are most efficient and successful at converting stump areas into farms.

The art of land clearing cannot be adequately described on paper. One cannot learn it from a book, nor can he learn it merely from watching others. He must take a hand in the operations and find out for himself. "Learn by doing" is the slogan of the Michigan Agricultural college short course as taught by Livingston and his crew.

The train consists of two box cars for explosive, two flat cars for motor trucks and equipment, a sleeping coach, and a private car used as an office and diner.

The lower peninsula tour began at Cheboygan on Monday, Sept. 18. Since that time schools have been held all along the Michigan Central at points between Cheboygan and Bay City. After visiting Gladwin and Midland, the train is scheduled to return to Cheboygan by way of the D. & M. railroad.

Besides ordinary land clearing, ditch blasting demonstrations are being made at some points. At Otsego lake on Monday, Sept. 25, the state park was much improved by cutting a channel between some mosquito breeding pools and causing a free flow of water. At another point in Otsego county near Quick a 200 foot ditch was blasted for the county road commission.

TAXES THEN AND TAXES NOW

During the past week the editor of the Herald had occasion to look up some matters relating to taxation in the year 1911, and the figures were so astonishing that he made a further investigation and comparison of the taxes paid in Tawas City and Iosco county in 1911 and 1921.

While everyone knows that taxes have increased to an extraordinary degree during the past few years, the average person has little idea of the exact percentage of increase and the following figures will therefore prove interesting to the taxpayers of the county.

Following are the figures on the state and county taxes raised in Iosco county in the two years above mentioned.

	1911	1921
State tax	$ 5,705.70	$27,096.68
County tax	18,010.60	35,997.44
County road tax	6,063.80	45,727.19
Total	$29,780.10	$108,821.11

These figures show that the gross tax raised in the county has increased 366 per cent in the ten year period. The greatest increase was in the county road tax, which increased over seven and one-half times. County taxes nearly doubled, while state taxes increased nearly five times.

In the city of Tawas City the tax rate did not increase quite so fast in ratio to the increased valuation as in the county at large. The assessed valuation of the city in 1911 was $138,595 and in 1921 it was $497,450, or nearly three and one-half times as large. The total tax raised in 1911 was $6,051.57, while in 1921 it was $20,273.83, or a about three and one-third times as large.

Following are the amounts raised in the several funds of the city for the two years:

	1911	1921
State tax	$ 429.00	$1,414.66
County tax	1,422.00	1,864.94
County road tax	456.00	2,368.33
Contingent tax	1,000.00	1,000.00
General street tax	438.00	1,000.00
Light fund tax	550.00
Public debt tax	100.00
Bridge fund tax		1,000.00
Interest and sinking fund		1,492.50
School tax	1,611.57	7,127.37
Total	$6,051.57	$20,273.83

In the city the school tax and the contingent tax increased in the greatest proportion, the former being nearly four and one-half and the latter four times as much in 1921 as in 1911.

Taken merely at their face value as figures, these increases appear out of all proportion. But when increased costs of material, labor and the other incidentals of running the government of the state, county and city are taken into consideration, the increases do not look so large. For instance, the amount raised for county road taxes in 1911 would hardly build a single mile of gravel road today. The school tax raised in Tawas City in 1911 would not quite pay for the salary of the janitor and the coal purchased last year. The amount raised for street fund in 1911 would not more than pay for the street fund in 1921.

Special winter short courses in agriculture, which draw an annual enrollment of 500 students, will open at M. A. C. later in the year. The sixteen-weeks course in general agriculture, which runs for a two years term will start on October 30 this year.

Other courses which will open later include an eight-weeks course in general agriculture, starting January 1; a series of truck and tractor courses, the first of which starts on Nov. 27, and various various twelve, eight, four and two weeks courses in special phases of agriculture which start at different times during the fall and winter.

Catalog and full information regarding the short courses may be had from E. B. Hill, director of short courses, M. A. C., East Lansing.

amount raised for street fund in 1911 would not more than pay for the lighting of them in 1921. And so it is all along the line. We are paying much higher taxes than we did a few years ago, but in spite of increased costs of labor and materials we are getting something in return for our money.

Who wants to go back ten years? If taxes are higher, there is more money to pay them with, except possibly in case of the farmer whose crop failures this year will make tax time a period of worry for him. The laboring man who owns his home is receiving more for his labor, the business man is receiving more for his goods, and it is a question if the percentage of money in circulation at the present time is not greater in proportion than the increased taxes.

Taxes are high, undoubtedly too high in many instances, but at least we can see where improvement has been made with the tax money we have paid.

M. A. C. OPENS DOORS FOR SIXTY-SIXTH YEAR
When classes met at the Michigan Agricultural college on Wednesday, Sept. 27, the state institution opened its doors to the young men and women of the state for the sixty-sixth consecutive year. Early enrollment figures were large, and it is expected that when the late registrations are all checked the attendance figures will equal or surpass last year's record breaking total of more than 1,600 regular, or four-year students.

As in former years, agricultural and engineering divisions continue to lead in the number of students enrolled, while home economics, applied science, forestry and veterinary medicine follow with a generous share of the total registration.

This fall marks the opening of the first full year under the administration of President Friday and Secretary Halladay, new executives of the college, under whose guidance the traditions of M. A. C., the oldest agricultural college in the world, are expected to be broadened and expanded into a new era of achievement.

Special winter short courses in agriculture, which draw an annual enrollment of 500 students, will open at M. A. C. later in the year. The sixteen-weeks course in general agriculture, which runs for a two years term will start on October 30 this year.

Other courses which will open later include an eight-weeks course in general agriculture, starting January 1; a series of truck and tractor courses, the first of which starts on Nov. 27, and various various twelve, eight, four and two weeks courses in special phases of agriculture which start at different times during the fall and winter.

WILL DILLON DROWNED IN LAKE HURON
Last Sunday morning about seven o'clock Will Dillon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dillon, and Carl Misener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Misener left East Tawas in a small motor boat belonging to Will Dillon, intending to go to Detroit and lay the boat up for the winter.

The weather when they started was calm and the water smooth, but about eight o'clock a northeast gale swept down the lake and Capt. Small of the life saving station put up the storm signals. The boat was too far out, however, to see the signals and kept on its way. When about ten miles this side of Port Austin the boys tried to anchor the boat, but the rope broke and they had great difficulty in handling the boat. When about two miles off shore the little craft was swept by a big wave which carried Dillon overboard. Misener, clinging to the steering wheel, managed to save himself from a like fate, but was unable to save his companion. He managed to get the boat to shore and walked to Port Austin, where he reported the accident and telephoned his father what had happened.

Searching parties were at once organized under the direction of the coast guards and an extensive search made for the body of Mr. Dillon, but up to this time it has not been discovered. The father, James E. Dillon, accompanied by John Dillon, C. A. Pinkerton and H. N. Butler motored to Port Austin Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Misener and Will Schill also motored through, but both cars returned Monday, leaving Carl Misener at Port Austin to assist in continuing the search.

Will Dillon was born in East Tawas in September 1881, and was 41 years of age. He graduated from the East Tawas high school and later from the pharmacy school of the University of Michigan. For the past few years he has been assisting his father in the Dillon drug store in East Tawas.

Besides his father and mother he leaves one sister, Mrs. Robert Lynd of Birmingham to mourn his loss.

Mr. Dillon was of a quiet and unassuming disposition and had a host of friends in the Tawas who join with the bereaved family in mourning his tragic and untimely death.

ROBINSON-MASON
Miss Bertha Mason and Lester Robinson, both of Reno township, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 27, at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. A. Mitchell.

Mr. Farber of Santiago is busy threshing for the farmers here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crum left Sunday for Flint, where they were called by the illness of his mother.

We wish to compliment G. A. Pringle on the writing of the pioneer days of Sherman township. Mr. Pringle was well known as a business man while a resident here.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Robert Dillenbeck at Whittemore last Saturday. Mrs. Dillenbeck was well known here, she having taught several terms of school in this township.

Jim Driskell suffered the loss of his shanty by fire while he was absent last Saturday evening. A defective stovepipe caused the fire. Although the loss was not very heavy, Jim says he left 50c worth of tobacco at the shanty and that was his biggest worry.

Signs Rule Country Life, City Too.

"It's gotten so you can't go where you want to around this town—or in it," complained the man.

"What's wrong now?" asked his friend.
"Signs! Eternal signs! 'This way out.' 'Keep to the right.' 'East bound traffic only.' 'Use other stairs going out.' Then the cop stops you when you think you see a fine opening in traffic, and again you stop and go with the mob."

"Last Saturday I went out to the country thinking that I would at least be free from the confines of traffic rules and get away from signs for one day. 'No automobiles allowed.' 'No trespassing.' 'Beware of the dogs.' 'Private property—keep out.' 'No vehicular traffic.' 'Keep on the paths.' All those signs slapped me in the face. More personal liberty gone."—New York Sun.

Golf Ball Retriever.

The golf enthusiast may save energy for the next drive by the use of a new golf ball retriever, fastened to the putter handle, by which he can pick the ball out of the cup or from the green without stooping, says Popular Science Monthly.

The novelty consists of a small nickel plated brass cup, the inside diameter of which is exactly the same as that of a golf ball, the handle of the putter with the retriever in place is inserted, and pressed over the ball, which is caught in the cup and withdrawn. The inventor of the retriever claims that the extra weight at the end of the club will enable the player to putt more accurately.

Real Power.

Every one turned to admire the tall man with the fine physique. His hair had a natural wave, his chin was cleft, his eye was icy blue, he had a skin any woman might envy and he wore his clothes well.

No one noticed the small boy by his side. He was wizened and old, he looked like a withered apple, his eyes were small and shifty, his chin was weak, he was bald and sallow, and his clothes hung loosely about his thin form.

The small man had never done anything much except make about $10,000,000, while the tall man was the traffic man who had just told him to come along to the station house for speeding.—Judge.

Eliminating Danger From Fumes.

Fumes from chemical plants have been one source of many damage suits. Chemical engineers today are making many successful experiments which will ultimately lead to the elimination of all such fumes. Smelter fumes are being recovered and made into sulphuric acid.

Seed Sown in Peculiar Manner.

Steppe grass, which grows in Russia, has a curious way of sowing its seed. It forms a coil of fiber which twists on wet days, thus working its way into the ground. When the weather is dry the coil untwists, but remains fixed in position owing to a barb at the end under the soil.

Did You Ever Stop to Think—

- THAT every city should have such a boosting spirit that no visitor could escape its influence.
- THAT you should think how your city happened.
- THAT it is a story of progress and development.
- THAT it reveals a story of action and achievement.
- THAT no boom has furnished the formula of success.
- THAT constructive work, plus faith and action have made your city what it is to-day.
- THAT there has not been a broken link in the steady growth of your city.
- THAT it was first started by men with a vision.
- THAT you have the same class of men in your city to-day.
- THAT the real growth of a city broadens with the development of business for the city business men and that of the surrounding country.
- THAT the opportunity for your city to become a bigger, brighter and better city is here now.
- THAT it is time that every citizen make a personal investigation of his city and its resources.
- THAT he should join the live citizens that are putting his city forward and do his share.
- THAT the cities that act are the cities that prosper.
- THAT every city should be progressive and have a forward vision.

1922 STATE FAIR CALLED GREATEST

375,000 SEE MICHIGAN EXPOSITION—EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS HOLD VISITORS INTEREST.

G. W. DICKINSON ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR NEW BUILDING

Establishing new attendance records that may stand for years—including a wider range of exhibitions than ever before and successful from the viewpoint of diversified entertainment, the seventy-third annual Michigan State Fair which recently came to an end at Detroit marks the beginning of a new era of fairs in this state.

The fair accomplished the purpose outlined for it by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, that of being of some educational value to the farmer, for whom fairs originally were created and for whom the present fair administration seeks to do some everlasting good.

Modern Buildings to Replace Sheds.

With the close of the fair which saw the new coliseum building, erected at a cost of $300,000, put into use, Mr. Dickinson announced the plans for a new sheep and swine pavilion to cost, when completed, $80,000. Construction of this is to be started almost immediately.

The necessity of modern buildings to replace the run down wooden sheds and barns which still are to be found on certain portions of the fair's 169 acres will be recommended by Mr. Dickinson in his annual report to the board of managers.

Handicapped by the rail strike and the threatened outcome of the coal situation, the fair horse department established a new record for entries—355 of the finest draft and light horses in the middle west going on exhibition, 120 more than the previous year. This disproves that the horse has given way to machine power.

In the cattle department more than 1000 animals were exhibited. Before the fair got under way, 709 of these animals taxed the capacity of the enlarged cattle barns and several hundred more were brought in by the boys and girls clubs from various sections of Michigan.

There were approximately 1280 sheep and 1100 swine on exhibition and about 2100 chickens. Few grain, potato, fruit and flower exhibitions in this section of the country have been as complete as the Michigan Fair's. In the flower shows, amateur displays predominated.

Machinery of 1949 and 1922 Shown.

There probably never was assembled such a display of modern machinery as housed in the machinery hall and individual tents on the fair grounds.

Thousands were drawn into Henry Ford's exhibition which occupied more than 12,000 square feet of space outside. There, the motor king had on display not only all of his own products but farm machinery from as far back as 1849, the year of the original Michigan fair.

Besides the broad exhibits by the United States department of agriculture, American Jersey Cattle club and hundreds of independent exhibitors, the dairy building drew visitors with its butter sculpture work. Baking of pies, cakes and instruction in canning, etc., brought many to the domestic department.

A federal government exhibit, the Michigan Agricultural college work which embodied lectures, the state department of agriculture's display and exhibitions by counties and individuals made up the show in the Agricultural building. Garment making, judging of poultry, canning and cooking were other educational features.

An important adjunct of the fair was the work carried on by the boys and girls clubs and the Boys State Fair school. All of the boys were quartered in tents in front of the administration building while the girls were housed in a bungalow on the grounds.

Clean Entertainments Afforded.

The egg laying and milking contests probably drew more attention than any of the competing novelties at the fair. The Better Babies contest was much bigger, 47 babies being examined the first day of the fair compared to seven for the corresponding day in 1921. Next year the entire east end of the Woman's building will be devoted to this affair.

The Dog show, with more than 350 canine aristocrats competing drew 20,000 visitors in three days and was followed by a three-day cat show equally interesting. The wild life exhibit near the educational building held the interest of the children. In the educational building were the aero exhibits and aquarium. The Woman's Work department with its hundreds of fancy articles and pieces of needlework was also a center of interest.

Rubin & Cherry shows afforded clean entertainment, a big program of vaudeville was offered before the grandstand and in the coliseum building each afternoon and evening. There were six days of running races, three days of auto racing and nine nights of fireworks. The air mail service maintained between Chicago and Detroit and Cleveland and Detroit and the tourist camp where 140 tourists were quartered also proved interesting.

The official attendance was near $75,000 and stands as a record.

The Palace Pigeons.

One of the favorite roosting places of the ringdove or wood pigeon is in the grounds of Buckingham palace. Soon after three o'clock in the afternoon now they may be observed gathering in the upper branches of the tallest trees. On one of the stormy days, such as we had recently, when the western sky is aflame, the delicate outline of the boughs and twigs against the setting sun is blotted with the forms of scores of roosting birds, huddling with fluffed-up feathers upon their windy perch.

Fine Medieval Buildings.

There are many remains of Roman buildings in different parts of Europe. Their bricks are much smaller than ours, more like the modern tiles in shape. The workers in England called them (we have all heard of Wat Tyler) were probably brickmakers. Two fine examples of brick architecture in the England of medieval days are Hampton court and Lambeth palace London.

Enjoyment in Chasing Knowledge.

A Little Difference.
President Ethel Enders Ellison of the Housewives' league said at a mothers' meeting in Denver:
"No marriage is complete without offspring. No young wife knows true happiness till she holds her firstborn to her breast.
"But never let maternal love usurp your marital love. A good many young wives, after baby comes, are like the one who said to me:
"Dear, dear baby! I love him so. He's learned to coo now, and he just lies and talks to me by the hour."
"Then her lip curled and she added:
"Different from my husband. He just talks and lies to me by the hour."

Historic Sword Found in River.
A sword which has been recovered from the Tweed at Berwick, Scotland, in a salmon net has been identified as one presented by the city of Aberdeen to Col. Alexander Tower of Ferryhill and Logie, in recognition of his service in raising the Aberdeen pikemen, whom he commanded, in 1803. He became member of parliament for Berwick in 1806. The sword was stolen from a house in Tweedmouth 51 years ago, and the burglar afterward admitted having thrown it and other booty into the river from Berwick bridge.

"I understand you are going to take a vacation."
"A vacation is what they call it," replied Senator Sorghum. "But what I am going to do is to get to some secluded spot where I can worry about a whole lot of things without being observed."

A French transatlantic steamship company was the first to experiment with the radiogoniometer invented by Bellini and Tosi. By means of this apparatus the direction of an invisible vessel, sailing along a coast and emitting wireless signals, can be determined from two stations on the shore and its course can be accurately mapped. Conversely, a vessel furnished with a radiogoniometer can determine its place near a coast by observing the directions of the waves coming from two wireless stations on the shore, and can thus make its way in a fog when the coast lights are invisible.

AUTO CLUB HEAD FIGHTS GAS TAX

CALLS PROPOSED PLAN TO MULCT CAR OWNERS FOR FUEL THEY USE UNJUST.

PAY ENOUGH NOW IN TAXES

If Additional Money is Needed to Run State Affairs Conference Should Be Called to Work Out Plan.

BY COL. SIDNEY D. WALDON
President Detroit Automobile Club
Certain interests in the State of Michigan are advocating a tax on all gasoline used within the borders of the State. They have been openly working for the measure for some months to develop sentiment in favor of additional taxation for the man who owns a motor car. It is their intention, they intimate, to go before the Legislature in January, 1923, and ask that body to enact a law that will require every user of gasoline to pay a tax of one cent or more per gallon on all they purchase.

As is usually the case in tax matters the proponents of the plan are proceeding under the assumption that anything used in connection with an automobile is readily taxable. They seem to feel it is the duty of the more than 500,000 motor car owners in Michigan to dig into their purses just because somebody happens to think this a good way to raise money.

Auto Made Michigan.

If there is one State in the Union where unjust taxes should not be saddled on to the motor car it is Michigan. The motor car has been the making of the Wolverine State industrially. Had not this wonder industry of the 20th century developed in Michigan the State would be industrially where it was two decades back. We all know Michigan was not among the industrial leaders, though she is today, and the motor car is to be thanked for the progress made.

The motorists of Michigan and the United States are already paying their fair share and perhaps more, of the taxes. Take, for instance, the main tax levies, of which there are five. They may be listed as follows:

1. National income taxes common on all individuals.
2. Sales tax paid by the manufacturer and passed on by him to the owner, and limited to the automobile and a few other industries.
3. Taxes on repair parts; a permanent charge on the life of all automobiles whether passenger or truck, a tax specific to the auto owner.
4. State license and registration fees, a virtual monopoly to the automobilist.
5. Scattering taxes, such as driver's license, chauffeur's license, certificate of title, etc.

Motorists Pay Millions!

Bureau of Internal Revenue figures for 1920, the last available in Governmental reports, show that the public treasury collected in round figures $257,000,000 in special and discriminatory taxes on automobiles in the year. The Federal Government took $149,000,000, the States $107,000,000, and Municipalities $11,000,000.

A study of tax figures in Michigan is interesting. It reveals that personal and real property pay only 2.90 percent on assessed valuation, while motor cars pay 5.12 percent, almost 100 percent more. These figures are based on State figures for 1921, personal and real property value being $5,483,535,114, while cars are worth $131,814,863. The real and personal property pays $158,388,566.57, and the automobiles $6,761,924.51.

When a Michigan man buys a Ford car he must pay taxes equalling approximately 7 percent of the cost of the car. The United States takes part and Michigan the rest. Is any other property as heavily taxed?

Many people have tentatively assented to a tax of one or more cents per gallon because they have been told it is a small item and because they do not realize how much the motor car owner is already paying in taxes on his vehicle.

Would Cost $4,000,000.

Figures supplied the Detroit Automobile Club by the Standard Oil Co. and Sinclair Refining Co., the largest gasoline dealers in Michigan, show that motorists of Michigan will be forced to pay approximately $4,000,000 per annum if they accept the gasoline tax. This sum is based on gasoline sales in 1921. Are the motor car owners of Michigan ready to hand over this amount just to satisfy the whim of some group of tax proponents?

The idea seems to be to tax the automobile when in doubt. It is assumed that the motorist is "easy" and will not object to a little more taxation. Even if more money is needed to operate the State Government no tax of any kind should be founded on reasons of expediency such as ease of collection or ability to pay. Every tax should be based on rules of justice and equality.

The gasoline tax is not just, inasmuch as motorists are already paying a fair share of Michigan's taxes. If more money is needed to conduct the State's affairs some equitable way of assessing the additional tax should be worked out. It cannot be found in the present plan as promoted and advocated by certain citizens of Michigan who seem ready to tax the automobile at every turn.

Extinguishing Burning Oil.
An easy way to extinguish burning oil has been discovered by varnish factories, who use fine-meshed wire net for this purpose. As soon as the net covers the burning surface, the iron wires conduct the heat so rapidly that the gas can no longer flame. This is the principle of the Davy safety lamp.

Device Measures Breathing.
Oxygen breathed in by any person can be measured by a newly designed apparatus.

Find Ore Deposit.
Unlimited supplies of iron ore have been reported by a government geologist to exist in the Transvaal.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Year by year, the national destruction of life and property by fire has been mounting until the total annual loss of material wealth now approximates the enormous sum $485,000,000. This means the wiping out of needed resources at the rate of about $1,370,000 a day, in addition to the destruction of 48 lives daily.

In our own state, during the five years ended with 1920, our fire waste came to the great total of $53,102,397 a sum that would build 10,620 five thousand dollar homes or many miles of good roads. Thus it is evident that we have been paying our full share of the tax levied by carelessness and ignorance in handling fire hazards.

Since most fires are preventable, the regrettable devastation by burning that takes place day by day, is largely unnecessary. It goes without saying that every effort should be made to relieve the people of the self imposed burden represented by preventable fire.

Therefore, I, R. C. Vandercrook, state fire marshal, state of Michigan, by the authority in me vested, do designate and proclaim the period from October 2 to 9, 1922, as Fire Prevention Week and I earnestly request that the proper city departments cooperating with chambers of commerce and other civic organizations, shall arrange interesting and educational exercises that will impress the importance of the occasion upon the public mind. I hope that every resident of the state will actively take part in the observance and that they will remove rubbish and litter and other hazards about their homes and places of business; that they will inaugurate the personal habit of carefulness. I ask that the churches by means of sermons and addresses and the newspapers by editorial mention, shall help to spread the doctrine of carefulness; that our schools adopt systematic instruction in fire prevention to the end that our state be made a safer and better place in which to live.

Only by arousing the public to the appalling situation created by our excessive fire waste can the evil be corrected.

Witness my signature at Lansing, Michigan, this twenty-fifth day of September, A. D. 1922.

Roy C. Vandercrook,
State Fire Marshal.

Curious Arizona Cactus.

In the Rincon valley, 18 miles from Tucson, Ark., is a giant cactus, the summit of which has been so deformed as to make it an object of curiosity to visitors. The inhabitants of the valley are proud of their freak cactus and refuse to allow botanists to cut the head to determine the cause of the deformation. The botanists think it is due to the work of insects, but the country people believe that a stroke of lightning was the determining cause. This species of cactus, the Cereus, not infrequently develops strange forms. In this case the head has assumed the appearance of a gigantic cauliflower.

Friends an Expensive Luxury.

Friends are an expensive luxury; and when a man's whole capital is invested in a calling and a mission in life, he cannot afford to keep them. The costliness of keeping friends does not lie in what one does for them, but in what one, out of consideration for them refrains from doing. This means the crushing of many an intellectual germ.—Letter. Ibsen to Brandes, 1870.

Horse Rode on Cowcatcher.

A tall story was brought into New Westminster, B. C., by the crew of an electric railway train, Fraser Valley branch. They said that as they waited at the "Y" for a westbound C. N. R. freight to get on to the bridge they saw a horse jump off the cowcatcher of the C. N. R. locomotive. It ran down the B. C. electric railway track toward their train, halted until the C. N. R. train went past, then turned and galloped back to the south shore; stumbled once on the ties, then regained its footing and vanished. The story goes on to say that the freight had run through a band of horses at Hope and this one had been riding on the cowcatcher for several miles.

Red-Beaked Sparrows Pets.

A dab of rouge on the beak makes all the difference in the world in the value of sparrows. Without it the bird must forage for food and be rated as a low caste resident of any feathered community. But when its bill is a high shade of vermilion, a lipstick red that won't come off, a sparrow is a house pet so desirable that 4,000 of them have just been imported.

They are Java sparrows, but they are just sparrows, in size and in twitter, usually slaty gray in color. Occasionally they are pure white.

Hardened.

"You wrofe me," protested the summer boarder, "that mosquitoes never bothered you."

"They don't," said Mr. Cobbles. "I've been living here more than 30 years. In that length of time a man can get used to anything."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

For Russia's Starving.

Samara university hopes, through its discovery of the edible qualities of "awsan," a swamp root, to reduce the suffering in Russia by one-half, says the Scientific American. Awsan contains 70 per cent starch, considerable albumen and some fats.

Virtue In Rising From Defeat.

There is something solid and doughty in the man that can rise from defeat, the stuff of which victories are made in due time, when we are able to choose our position better and the sun is at our back.—Lowell.

First Successful Time Locks.

The time lock was first suggested in 1831 by an Englishman, William Rutherford; in 1857 Holbrook and Fish of the United States devised another, but the first successful time locks put on the market were the Sergeant and Yale locks, brought out in 1875.

At an Early Date.

Jud Tunkins says the house problem started when Adam and Eve left the garden of Eden; also the report that the fruit crop was a failure.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Happy Phrase.

I remember an old woodsman in the Adirondack forest who used to say that he wanted to go to the top of a certain mountain as often as possible, because it gave him such a feeling of "heaven-up-histedness." That is an uncouth, humble, eloquent phrase to describe the function of a great literature.—Henry Van Dyke.

Old Age Not Always Joyless.

Remember that some of the brightest drops in the chalice of life may still remain for us in old age. The last draught which a kind Providence gives us to drink, though near the bottom of the cup, may, as it is said of the draught of the Roman of old, have at the very bottom, instead of dregs, costly pearls.—Cardinal Newman.

Portuguese Named Japan.

The English name Japan seems to have originated with the Portuguese, who spelled the Chinese Yih-pen Japan, the letter J being silent or similar to H according to their language. This is the way the Spanish and the Portuguese still pronounce Japan.
