TAWAS CITY SCHOOLS

T. C. H. S. plays a game of baseball on the fair ground diamond with the Standish high school Friday, April 27. Let's start the season out right.

The boys' baseball team has been granted Wednesday night as practice night at fair grounds. The team has also decided not to enter the tri-county league, as they already have enough games scheduled.

The total score of the T. C. H. S. girls' basket ball team being 276 points and their opponents' totals being 237, gives the team good credit as their opponents were from larger and stronger schools.

The picture shown last Friday night by the T. C. H. S. A. proved to be a success. The receipts of which covered the total indebtedness of the association.

The senior class has chosen June 22nd as Commencement day and Sunday, June 27th for baccalaureate.

Several members of the class have been preparing to write the teachers' examination this Thursday and Friday.

One requirement of the physics class is that each individual be able to set up a radio, have it work, make a blue print of same, then destroy it so the next person will have the same work to do.

The ancient history class are studying the period of Caesar and the downfall of the Roman republic, which includes Catoine.

Miss Edna Wendt, a sophomore, entertained the class Monday by giving her declamation on "The Conspiracy of Catoine."

The general science class has begun to study agriculture in regard to soil and climate.

English I class is having composition work in description. The oral and written work both prove interesting.

English II gave oral expositions on simple science. After one was given the question was raised, "How is it that a red cow will eat green grass and give white milk that will make yellow butter?" No one seemed able for the task of explaining it.

The 8th grade are having a poster contest. The posters show the correct use of the word "Get."

Their reading has been made exceptionally interesting by impersonating the members of the fireside group at the Whittier home.

An arithmetic contest of the 7th grade was finished last week. The two captains being George Rouiller and Violet Brown. George won by only 3 points, this shows the good work of both sides.

The 6th grade is studying the "Golden Fleece" by Hawthorne.

Thomas and Clair Thompson entered school Monday.

TREE PLANTING WEEK

Tree Planting Week in Michigan this spring has been set for the week of April 27 to May 4. This is part of a national movement sponsored by the Tree Lovers Association of America. Governors of the various states have issued proclamations and every effort is being put forth by civic clubs, women's clubs and other societies to make tree planting week a nation-wide effort toward beautifying the country.

"To plant a tree, a shrub, a flower or a vine for every man, woman and child in America—to make each community a better place in which to live—to make America the garden of the world." This, in general, is the end and aim of the Plan to Plant Another Tree movement, now in vigorous swing all over America. Tree planting week is being promoted in every state.

There are many ways in which the movement can be made to beautify a community. School yards, highways, bare and unsightly places anywhere in the community may be made more pleasing to the eye by the planting of a few shrubs, trees or plants. Every citizen should join heartily in this work and help to make their community a better and more beautiful place in which to live.

TRI-COUNTY SPORTSMEN'S BANQUET

The Tri-County Sportsmen's Club, comprising the counties of Iosco, Alcona and Oscoda, held its annual meeting and banquet at the community building on Tuesday evening. About 250 were present and sat down at the tables. The hall was suitably decorated with fine trophies of the chase and a camp setting on the stage gave the proper atmosphere.

After the banquet the Kanotin club livened the meeting with a few songs, after which the business session was held. C. W. Luce was re-elected president for the ensuing year, R. G. Schreck secretary, and A. R. Miller of Harrisville treasurer. Directors for each county were also elected.

The next annual meeting will be held at Harrisville the latter part of April, 1924.

Carton, who is employed in the department of agriculture at Lansing, spoke of the important work the department is doing with regard to the value of products in this section of the state. T. F. Marston, secretary of the N. E. Michigan Development bureau, gave a short talk.

The next speaker introduced was W. B. Mershon of Saginaw. He took as his subject: "Outdoor Life," and gave a very interesting talk, comparing the conditions in Michigan during the period from 1877 to 1880 with the present time. He also gave some valuable suggestions to the hunters and anglers, showing the way in which they could assist the conservation department in protecting the game and fish. In response to the applause at the close of his address, Mr. Mershon told several admirable stories.

Albert Stoll, secretary of the conservation department, enlightened his listeners as to the work of his department, showing the diversity of his work in the various branches under competent supervisors. He showed the practical way in which his department was in position to offer advice and assistance and explained some of the proposed changes in the game laws which will be recommended to the legislature, to assist in conservation.

The last speaker on the program was Col. A. S. Peck of Denver, Colo., a district forester. His subject was "Forest Fires," and was very interesting and instructive, comparing conditions in Michigan and Colorado and showing how the forestry department and the conservation department in his state were trying to co-operate.

A number of musical numbers were given, including vocal numbers by Rev. Edinger and Norman Salisbury and Misses Neva and Evelyn Butler. Miss Gardner acted as accompanist. James McGillivray concluded the program by showing four reels of interesting pictures to the sportsmen. Several of these were scenes in Canada and the rest showed scenes and wild life in this state.

He preached it with this single, short but virile and heartrending sentence "Have faith in God." Later in his ministry, in fact just shortly before his death, he delivered himself of another short, concise, yet equally dynamic and significant statement: "Ye believe in God, believe also in me." "Of 12,000 prominent men in the United States, 1,000 are sons of preachers. Of 2,145 notable men of England, 1,270 are sons of preachers. In 1910, 10 out of every 51 persons in the Hall of Fame were sons of preachers. Five of our presidents were sons of preachers." Honestly, now, haven't you been of the opinion that preachers' sons never amounted to anything? Nearly every time we check up an offhand opinion we find that we've been wrong. We may not have control of the sources of our opinions, but we can refuse to let them lead us astray, says Collier's. One of the most dangerous things in the world is an untested opinion.

HOMING PIGEONS

"This is to be an interesting race,"
said one Homing Pigeon to another.
"I'm going to do the best I can for my owner."

"So am I," said the second Homing Pigeon. "Well, I hope we will all do well. For it is fine, I think, to have the Homing Pigeons all famous for their powers of racing, and of delivering messages and of being brave and of being clever and always knowing where their homes are."

"That's the idea," said the first Hom-ing Pigeon. "I think it is splendid that we are so far-sighted. We can see such great distances."

"We can see further than people can see, and so we are of great assistance to them."

"What does assistance mean?" asked the second Homing Pigeon.

"It would have meant the same if I had said that we were a great help to people, or that we were very useful to them, or that we aided them well,"
said the first Homing Pigeon.

"I see," said the second Homing Pigeon.

"Of course you do," chuckled the first Homing Pigeon.

"We can see all the old familiar places," said the first Homing Pigeon.

"We Are Faithful Creatures."

"and it is partly because of that that we do not lose our way, but then, too, we just somehow know where we are going, and where our home is."

"This is my first race. I'm not quite a year old. I was only hatched last January."

"It's my second race," said the second Homing Pigeon. "How well I remember when I first began to fly around my home. Then I took trips with the family, and then at last I was allowed to go off for a little flying trip
by myself."

"Everyone knew it wouldn't be for a long flying trip! Of course I was nervous and yet I was proud. It made me feel really grown-up and as though I could look after myself."

"It made me so very proud even with all my nervousness, that I think the pride was stronger than the nervousness."

"We will be going into these races for quite a number of years to come, I believe," said the first Homing Pigeon.

"Soon you'll be at your best," he added, "for homing pigeons are splendid in races when they're a little over two years old. It's a splendid age in Homing Pigeon circles."

"Yes," said the second Homing Pigeon, "but Mrs. Horace Homing Pigeon was the winner last year. She said she had been resting."

"We like to fly during the daytime.
There are many creatures who like to fly at night. I'm thankful to say that my master wouldn't let me go in the great long race that is held."

"He says these shorter races are nice but that the long, long one is cruel because we would only be worn out afterward. This kind of a race makes us pleasantly tired like any good sport will."

"And if the owners are kind like mine, I believe there are only a few who would let their pigeons go in the great long race."

"They have made sure that the weather is nice, too, so that no harm will come to us."

"Ah," said the first Homing Pigeon,
"we are faithful creatures and our families have done a great deal of work."

"All we ask is that we are treated well, and that we may not be disturbed at night when we want to sleep —and when we need the sleep—and, most important of all, that we are not separated from our beloved mates. For the Homing Pigeons are very devoted."

"But there was no more talking after this for the race was about to commence and there was great excitement."

Daddy's Protector.

A bright little girl, aged four, and her brother, aged six, were spending the night with their aunt. When bedtime came, the aunt asked them how they said their prayers. The little girl answered, "Sometimes I say them to muddle's knee and sometimes to the side of the bed."

"And how about you, little boy?"
asked the aunt.

"Oh, I don't need to pray; I sleep with daddy."

time has been seen in some of the Condensed Milk Preferred.

Sweetened condensed milk, diluted with hot water, has won a place as a highly esteemed drink among the Chinese of the Swatow district. They prefer this mixture to the excellent fresh milk, containing a high percentage of butterfat, available from the water buffaloes and other cattle maintained in considerable numbers by the farmers.

Drove Through Ghost.

One dark night when I was driving along a lonely road, my horse became frightened and refused to proceed. In looking ahead to discover the cause, I saw a ghostlike figure standing in the middle of the road. Believing that someone was trying to frighten me, I whipped the horse and attempted to run the joker down. I was very much surprised when I ran my horse completely through the ghost—a dense pillar of fog rising from a mud puddle.—Chicago Journal.

HALE AND VICINITY

A temporary bridge was built across Hale creek on the new stone road this week by the highway commissioner, Thomas LeClair. This bridge has been out several weeks, causing much criticism and dissatisfaction, as the detour road was impassable and our village cut off entirely from the outer world. The road was completed last fall and owing to delay caused by an alleged quicksand bottom in the creek the bridge was not built and the road rendered useless to us at the time of the year when needed most.

A tennis court is being prepared for high school use. The equipment has been purchased and the boys and girls are anxious to get into the games.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson died on Saturday of last week. The little one had not been able to rally from an attack of flu. Funeral services were held at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Wilson, on Tuesday, Rev. Fox officiating, and the little flower that had blossomed to gladden the hearts of the young parents for so short a time, was laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery. We extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Stewart White is in the Samaritan hospital in Bay City for medical treatment.

Frank Buck, who has had a serious illness from pneumonia, is able to be out again.

Methodist Church Notes

Please notice that our week day children's meetings have recommenced under the name of the "Children's Church." Parents, please note that we hold these immediately after school on Tuesday evenings. A devotional meeting is held in which the children themselves take the greater part for one-half hour. Following this games and recreation claim the attention, also useful things are taught to both boys and girls. Send your children, it will do them good in soul and body.

On Sunday morning we have one public service at 10:00 standard. Subject, "The Ordinary Man and the Understanding of the Bible."

MANY VARIETIES OF HATBAND

History Shows That Particular Ornamentation Has Been Worn Since Long Before Christian Era.

From the descriptions discovered on the walls of ancient temples it is apparent that, as far back as 3500 B. C., Egyptian women used a band with streamers to fasten their hair, tying this in a bow at the back or side. This style was retained by many people, through many centuries, and in the fourteenth century it was used as a "flet"—merely a straight band without streamers, which held the hair away from the forehead and the eyes.

It was this flet which gave rise to the streamer headdresses which were much in vogue during the reign of James I, when, one reads, "Endymion Porter wore his wife's diamond necklace on his hat during a tour in Spain, but it appeared like paste beside the gorgeousness of the duke of Buckingham, who wore the 'Mirror of France' (the finest diamond in England) with a little black feather on the side of his hat."

This passion for expensive headgear passed with the waning of the styles of bright colors in men's clothing—but the hatband was retained because of its decorative quality, and because men have become accustomed, through thousands of years, to seeing it worn in one form or another.

LEAVE HOLE IN VEST POCKET

Rent Should Never Be Darned, Says Jeweler, and Gives Good Reason for His Advice.

Here is joyous news for wives who must mend their husbands' socks and thousand-and-one other articles of apparel. Madam, meet Mr. Hole-in-the-Vest Pocket, who has been decreed a blessing in disguise, and who must never, never under any circumstances, be sewn up or mended.

Here's the dope, remarks a New York Sun writer.

If you knew anything about men's vest pockets you would know that dust, such as settles on the top of the mantle where you never dust, accumulates in the corners of the lining of the pockets. Such dust does no harm, except in the one in which the watch is carried, says a jeweler.

"You have a fine watch," says the jeweler. "You put it in a pocketful of dust, and what happens? After awhile some of the dust works its way into the works and the timekeeping ability of the watch is ruined. So, what can we do to overcome this? It is simple. Punch a little hole in the pocket, then the dust will all sift down into the interlining of the vest, and your watch will have a clean pocket to lie in. You will be surprised how it will help your watch."

So you see, madam, such holes must not be darned.

Deafness No Bar to Composition.

The piano, once Beethoven's, and of extra heavy tone because of the composer's deafness, which was recently discovered in Vienna, will doubtless be acquired for the Beethoven museum in the royal library at Berlin—one of the most pathetic collections of the kind in the world. When the first symptoms of deafness became apparent in 1797, the great master became the prey of anxiety bordering on despair, consulting doctors and quacks alike in hope of relief, and the Berlin collection bears witness to the variety of ear trumpets and such-like devices which he tried in the vain hope of assisting his weakening sense.

Yet it was after he was dead to all sense of sound without that Beethoven wrote some of his grandest music.

New British Parliament.

When a new parliament in Great Britain comes into being a quaint ritual is performed with unchanging solemnity. For instance, on the second day of the assembling of a new parliament the speaker-elect receives at the bar of the house of lords from the five lord commissioners, as representatives of the sovereign, in the presence of the members of both houses, the royal approval of his election to the chair of the house of commons.

In accordance with an ancient ceremony, that dates from the reign of Henry VIII, he claims the rights and privileges of the representatives of the people, and receives an assurance from the lord chancellor that all such rights are "readily confirmed" by his majesty.

Moving Among the Stars.

The poetry of motion is a phrase much in use, and to enjoy the epic form of that gratification it is necessary to stand on a hill at a small hour of the night, and, having first expanded with a sense of difference from the mass of civilized mankind, who are horizontal and disregardful of all such proceedings at this time, long and quietly watch your stately progress through the stars. After such a nocturnal reconnoiter among these astral clusters, aloft from the customary haunts of thought and vision, some men may feel raised to a capability for eternity at once.—Thomas Hardy.

To Each Man His Part.

To shape the whole future, is not our problem; but only to shape faithfully a small part of it, according to rules already known. It is perhaps possible for each of us, who will with due earnestness inquire, to ascertain clearly what he, for his own part, ought to do; this let him, with true heart, do, and continue doing.—Thomas Carlyle.
