ALUMNI BANQUET

Last Saturday evening at the Hotel Iosco the alumni of the Tawas City high school entertained the graduates of 1923 at their annual alumni banquet. The dining room was tastefully decorated in pink and green, the school colors, and with pennants and cups won in former years by the school.

In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Robinson '91 acted as toast-mistress and every graduate present gave a few remarks relative to their school days. A score of letters from graduates who were unable to attend were read by the secretary. Miss Milver Hamilton '23 favored with a solo and the Knapsack was used unsparingly in the gang singing.

Mrs. Pearl Hurlburt Kohler '04 of Mt. Clemens, Willena Deacon '09 of Bay City, Dorothy Latta '18 of Whittemore and Beatrice Ruddock '19 of Marshall were out of town attendants.

In the election of officers for next year, J. F. Mark was chosen president, Harold Groff '22 vice-president, Anna Sands '09 secretary and Clarence Gates '23 treasurer.

LA BERGE—PICTON

Miss Aurora M. LaBerge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah LaBerge, was united in marriage to William Picton of Detroit on Monday morning, June 25, at 6:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Brogger officiated.

Miss Bess LaBerge, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and R. J. McDonald of Detroit attended the groom. The bride was attired in a beautiful sand colored point twill suit and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds. The bridesmaid wore a dress of tan flat figured crepe and wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Roy McMurray, another sister, played the wedding march and Mrs. L. Saue and Mrs. Ellis sang.

After the wedding a breakfast was served to the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents. The home was decorated with peonies and syringia.

The happy couple left on the morning train for a lake trip and on their return will reside in Detroit. The bride received many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Picton has lived all her life in East Tawas and has been connected with the D. & M. offices for 16 years. She has a host of friends here who extend best wishes to the couple for a long and happy wedded life.

FRITZ—HOSBACH

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday evening of last week in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Saginaw, when Miss Clara Fritz of Saginaw became the bride of Gerhard Hoshbach of Tawas City. Rev. A. Westendorf performed the ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father and was met at the altar by the groom, was charming in a gown of crepe back satin with Spanish lace. Her veil of tullé was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, swansonias and lilies of the valley.

The gowns of the attendants were of white canton crepe. The maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Fritz, carried an armful of pink roses and swansonias. The bridesmaids, Miss Alma Fritz, Miss Clara Hoshbach and Miss Louise Merz, carried arm bouquets of pink roses and sweet peas. The flower girl, Hilda Frank, was frocked in white organdie and carried a basket of white sweet peas. The attendants of the groom were William Leix, Carl Fritz and Henry Kreuzfeld.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, William Fritz, for about 125 guests. The house was prettily decorated with pink and white crepe paper streamers and white wedding bells. Pink roses and white peonies decorated the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoshbach spent a part of their honeymoon in Tawas City.

C., until the supply is exhausted.

BASEBALL

Oscoda took the lead in the D. & M. league last Sunday in the game played on their home grounds by trouncing East Tawas to the tune of 11 to 0.

East Tawas had men on bases in every inning but did not have the punch to bring them over the plate. Tate pitched a steady game for Oscoda, while East Tawas used Beede, Zink and Swales. Loose playing on the part of the East Tawas team gave Oscoda over half their runs.

Miss Frances Murray '21 acted as toastmistress and a number of graduates were called upon and gave interesting talks on their school days.

Mrs. Edinger, representing the faculty, addressed the class of 1923.

The musical program was excellent, and included piano solos by Miss Marian Murray and Miss Grace Richards and vocal numbers by Miss Ola Hiller, Miss Clara Bolen, Roy Applin and Miss Neva Butler.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS

The girl who was declared to have the most beautiful hands in New York—as determined at a contest at the perfume and cosmetic show—developed and trained them by washing dishes and playing the piano. The one made them soft and pink and the other left them delicate and sensitive. It was quite a shock when the judges learned that the girl had never visited a manicure or beauty parlor in her life. For a number of years daughter has escaped dishwashing and other kitchen sports on the plea that it left her hands red, knotted and shapeless. Now a girl who is said to have the most beautiful hands in the great metropolis brazenly boasts that dishwashing did it, says the Los Angeles Times. If mother will give her testimony in corroboration, it will have a wonderful effect in giving dishwashing that standing as a social accomplishment to which it is evidently entitled. We may yet find our daughters fighting for their turn at the dishpan.

The peasants and farmers are making definite progress in Russia and the Balkan countries. As the green international they are opposing bolshevism and the commune. They believe in property, and they want to own their own farms. Breaking up the former vast estates into small tracts gives them life and aspiration. They do not urge confiscation, but they want to acquire absolute title to their little farms on terms that can be met without hardship. If all the peasants of Russia could be lined up on this proposition, the rule of the commune would terminate instantly, says the Los Angeles Times. When property rights are recognized and respected, government is reasonably safe and substantial.

The Four Pillars of a Home

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THERE are four pillars of a home: The first of these is Love. However glorious the dome, What turrets rise above, With that foundation you must start, The firm foundation of the heart.

And Truth. Love must not be deceived, Or love itself will fail. You must believe and be believed; The house without is frail. For happiness alone abides Where common confidence resides.

You must have Thrift. Extravagance The proudest house decays. To plan and not to leave to chance Assures the future days. You must have sense ahead to see Beyond today's prosperity.

You must have God. To meet the shock, Temptation to withstand, Your house must rest upon the rock And not upon the sand. No house is strong enough to bear The load of life without His care.

These are the pillars straight and strong From which your roof must rise; For such a house will smile with song, Yea, touch the very skies. You must have each, you must have all: Without these four your house will fall.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE LEADING PART

WHEN youth packs up its text books, turns its back on the friendly old university with visible signs of relief, and faces the real world, there is in the heart of every man and woman that he and she have been cast for the leading part in life's great drama.

The curtain is slowly rising. Expectancy is on tip-toe.

The orchestra is playing a lively air, each tripping note being full of promise.

It is an ancient scene set with new faces, contrasting in some particulars with the fresh verdure, the blooming flowers, the chirping birds making love and building nests, guided not by college lore, but by an innate instinct which keeps every bird in its place, contented with its lot, and happy in performing its humble part.

With Nature there is no chance of anything going wrong, but with Nature's proudest handwork, man and woman, there is grave doubt as to whether this rule in the majority of cases would apply.

Imagination carries the young in one swift ascent to the heights, which the old and experienced know cannot be reached except by patient, persistent work and self denial, the price exacted from all regardless of condition.

And here is a lesson which cannot be learned except by rubbing against the practical world.

It is easy to sit in a cushioned chair and dream of conquest, so difficult when in action.

It is something else to face the world bare-handed and demand that it shall give up its choicest gifts.

No victory can be won except by hard fighting.

Life is not a resting place, but a field of battle from the first cry of the infant to the last sigh of the departing spirit.

To play the leading role one must prove one's ability to lead in little things as well as in big things, by holding fast to courage and honor; by keeping constantly at work and steadily driving ahead with so deep-seated a purpose that neither weariness nor discouragement shall be permitted to block the road. There is no other safe course to pursue, not even by those who in their imagination think they are cast for the leading part.

Leslie Fraser narrowly escaped being killed last Saturday night while coming home from Tawas. On the Mason hill he met a young fellow named Erickson from Alabaster, who was driving at a fast rate and on the wrong side of the road. He smashed into Fraser's car, knocking it into the ditch and breaking it up beyond repair. Fraser was thrown out and rendered unconscious. He also had three teeth knocked out and was cut up rather badly. Another car went into the ditch on the Sand Lake road late Saturday night. It seems as though something should be done to stop the moonshine business, as it is hardly safe for anyone to be out. The booze seems to be as plentiful as water and one can hardly go into a crowd without encountering it. It's time it was cleaned up before someone is killed.

The Ladies' Aid met at the Hall last Thursday and in spite of the high temperature, enjoyed a very fine time. They had the honor of Mrs. Fall as an all day visitor and Leslie Belknap as a dinner guest. About 12 of the regular members were present. Mrs. Larsen, who has been absent for some time, was there and donated a sewing machine to the society. With the hum of the machine and click of the shears it was easy to see they were an industrious party. Even the pastor was pressed into service and washed the dishes. Because the date of the next regular meeting being July 5, they decided on meeting again Thursday of this week. We have work now for the most fastidious minds and would be glad to see a good crowd out if possible. Remember the date of the next regular meeting, July 19.

At an early hour Sunday morning they left Flint for Reno, but had only come a short distance when some bearings burned out and Arthur had to return to Flint on the interurban from Clio for repairs. Mrs. Robinson and Ed came home from there with some friends who were accompanying them enroute to Sage Lake, where Mr. and Mrs. White will join them for a two weeks vacation after a short visit with relatives.

Little Emerson Wickert, who with two other little crippled children was taken to Detroit to the children's hospital a few weeks ago by Miss Marie Wolf, the county nurse, has had one operation and is now in the convalescents home at Farmington. It is thought that at least two more operations will be necessary, but the doctors have hope of the little boy using his limbs in three months time.

Emerson writes that he is well taken care of and when the pain comes he thinks of how fine it will be to have his feet straight and well. This keeps him patient and cheerful through the treatments.

Friends of the bride, Miss Orah Putnam, will be interested to know of her marriage in Lansing, Saturday, June 23, to Bert Van De Marker of that city. Mrs. Van De Marker has been teaching near Alpena during the past year and when school closed went direct to Lansing, the marriage taking place at the home of friends. Methodist Church Notes

Almost before we know where we are the preachers' summer school at Albion is on us. On the coming Monday your pastor goes to this school by order of conference. Two Sundays will be taken up by his absence. Keep praying, keep working that the kingdom of God may be established. Next Sunday is our full day.

Sunday morning 10:00 o'clock standard we have our preaching service. Our subject will be "Abnormal Childhood." A timely subject for Christian consideration.

Then we heartily invite you to Sunday school. Our number has been increasing of late. Will you help us make it 100? A new quarter's studies in New Testament characters begins this Sunday.

Remember at 6:30 p. m. standard is the league meeting. Be on hand and make it successful. Have you heard of our P. P. H.? That is the name of Sunday evening meeting—People's Popular Hour. Our subject this week is "Could the Crucifixion Happen Again?" On the basis of the saying, "History repeats itself" would this awful event be repeated? Good hearty congregational singing encouraged and a service compressed into one hour.

Insurance Figures Concerning Weight and Mortality.

Accumulation of Surplus Flesh Rather Puts One in the Undesirable Class, According to Experts.

The average build in man is not the best as regards longevity according to a statistical report. Overweight in youth and underweight in middle and later life will cheat "the grim reaper" out of some years. Overweight is a serious impairment among insured lives, for these persons more often succumb at an earlier age to the diseases of the heart or kidneys, to pneumonia and to disorders which reflect the worn-out machinery of the body. Overweight in younger years is an advantage, for such persons have uniformly a lower death rate from tuberculosis. It is after the age of thirty-five that overweight, even in relatively small amounts, begins to be dangerous. The seriousness increases with advancing age and with the amount of overweight, according to the insurance authorities.

"Among short men," continues the report, "that is, those below five feet seven inches in height, at the age period 40 to 44 years, an excess of 20 per cent in weight involves an added mortality of 30 per cent above the normal. A 40 per cent increase in weight in such individuals involved an increased mortality of nearly 80 per cent. Among tall men, that is, those over five feet ten inches in height, the adverse situation is even more marked. For, among them, at ages 40 to 44, a 20 per cent excess in weight carries a 40 per cent increase in mortality, and a 40 per cent excess in weight doubles the mortality.

"On the other hand, underweight, which is common enough, presents a different picture. In general, underweight is an advantage, provided, of course, the proportion is not too great. It is a serious impairment in early adult life, especially among taller men. Those who are over five feet ten inches, and who are 20 per cent below the average weight for their height, show an increased mortality of 30 per cent. Those having 30 per cent underweight have a 50 per cent excess of mortality at these early ages. But, from age 40 onward, there are apparently no such penalties for underweight and this condition, in fact, becomes a distinct advantage; for these are the people who have the best mortality rates.

"The important lesson taught by these proportions is that there is an optimum build with reference to mortality. The average build is not the best. Those who weigh between 10 and 20 per cent below the average show the optimum condition of longevity at the most of the ages after early adult life. These few facts which have been derived from analysis of the insurance records must be supplemented by intensive physiological research. A promising field of investigation is opened up for the physiologist to determine why the body mechanism functions better in those who are of lighter build than in heavier set persons. Common observation confirms these statistical findings. The large majority of people we see around who have reached a ripe old age are of slight build.

"A promising field for investigation is the suggestion that among overweight persons having a large chest capacity the conditions of mortality are more favorable than among those not so protected. It may be well that overweight persons who have large trunks and must be distinguished from those of small chest capacity and correspondingly large abdominal girth. The significance of these differences is for the future to determine."

Dangerous Age.

Mr. Robert Rogers wanted to insure his life and so he called upon the local agent of the insurance company. After looking at him for some time the agent remarked: "I'm sorry I can't insure you; you're too tall." The applicant looked astonished. "What?" he exclaimed. "Too tall? What's the matter with that? Anyhow, I'm not as tall as my father was, and he had no trouble getting insured." "Ah!" the agent explained, "but your father was insured years ago, when there was no danger of a fellow having his head knocked off by a skidding airplane." "It's a dangerous age," said the applicant.

Not Literally.

It is not a safe policy to accept what elevator operators say too literally. A story from the recent conference of state governors in White Sulphur Springs, Va., concerns an outspoken colored elevator operator at the hotel.

Governor McCray, George Ade and Thomas Meighan, motion picture actor, were riding in an elevator at a hotel.

"There are a lot of governors here," said one member of the party. "Oh, yassuh," replied the colored operator, "they mus' be sixty-five or 'eventy here already."

Unpopular Cuss.

One of the characters in a play recently produced in New York is Mr. Shrdlu. The critics in their reviews of the play failed to give him a single line, possibly because of prejudice, for Mr. Eaton Shrdlu is a most unpopular type with writing folk, often butting in and spoiling their finest work.—Boston Evening Transcript.

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

"Who was at the school meeting last night and what did they do?" "Nobody but the school board and Ted and me. Ted was elected treasurer. They voted a seven months' term and a fifteen mill levy."

This is all that two farmers, each with children of school age, had to say about the annual school meeting. Such indifference toward this meeting is general. In States in which the small school district is the unit of school administration the voters are almost wholly responsible for the kind of school that the district provides because the laws give them such extended powers. Not only may they elect school officers, decide upon the length of the school term, and vote a levy for maintenance, but they may vote a tax for the purchase of a school site, for the erection of a building, and for such other improvements as they see fit. Do the children have a square deal when the term is only seven months? Should not the rate of taxation be high enough to provide sufficient money for a good teacher? Is it fair to handicap the work of a good teacher because of poor equipment and insufficient supplies? Is it wise to vote bonds for a new school house when better advantages could be had by consolidating? These questions are too important to go by default.

NOTICE

The Grange Elevator Co. of Isosco county will hold their annual meeting at Sand Lake on Saturday, June 30, 1923, to transact such business as may come before said meeting. All the stockholders of said company and non-stockholders are cordially invited.
