CHARLES FLYNN LOSES LIFE

The water was icy cold and when almost within reach of safety, Flynn let go his hold on the boat and sank. Charles Flynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Flynn, a former resident of this city.

NATHAN BARKMAN HAS INTERESTING TRIP TO LEGION CONVENTION

The delegates of the American Legion and Ladies Auxilliary for this state met at Grand Rapids on October 8th and were joined there by the Board of Commerce band of Alpena. A special train was made up to take us through to the National convention at San Francisco.

Chicago was the first stop on the trip and from there we were carried to Kansas City. There were about 200 in the party and it took several days to get acquainted. At Kansas City everyone paraded along with the band into the beautiful depot at that city and the band entertained with several selections while the rest danced. Several of the Alpena boys favored with vocal selections.

The special train made several other stops in Kansas and of course the band was the big attraction. That evening our train raced with the "Crack Flyer" of the Santa Fe but we lost the race after a run of five miles. We had a 66 foot baggage car and the band played for us in the evening while the volunteer dancers stepped out and moved to the tunes while the train was racing west at the rate of 50 miles per hour.

Two stops were made in New Mexico and we had a chance to see the adobe huts of the natives of that section. The country through which we were passing was very barren. At El Paso, Texas a large delegation of Legion Members met us and after marching through the streets we were taken across the Rio Grande river into Juarez, Mexico. We had the protection of the El Paso police force as well as Mexican officers as Juarez advertises that it is next to the only river that is wet on one side and dry on the other. We were served a real Mexican meal in the oasis cafe and after wards went sight seeing. There is a remarkable difference between every phase of life between the American and Mexican sides of the river.

After leaving El Pasco we next stopped at Douglas, Arizona. There was plenty of mountain scenery in this state. We stopped a half of a day at Tucson, Arizona and this city of 25,000 practically declared a holiday and gave us a royal welcome. First we drove out to a veteran hospital where 300 tubercular patients were being taken care of. From there we were taken out to a Mission that was built 200 years ago. It is in a very good state of preservation and is located in the hills about 20 miles from Tucson. We also had real cactus candy. The streets of the city were jammed as the crowds watched the Score Board and the fans were cheering for their respective favorites on New York teams.

We were taken through the University of Arizona and shown samples of the work of the Indian of the earli-

The funeral was held Saturday from the house and burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

THE BONUS BILL

The Legislative Committee of The American Legion is sure that the soldier's bonus bill will be passed in the first session of the Sixty-eighth Congress. The committee claims that the bill will pass the House with a majority of fifty in the Senate. If President Collidge, like President Harding, vetoes the bill, the Committee claims that Congress will not sustain him and that the measure will be passed over his veto.

The committee contends that the people are in favor of the bonus, basing this statement on the fact that ex-Senators Calder of New York, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey Du-Pont of Delaware and France of Maryland, who opposed the bonus, were defeated at the 1922 elections.

There are a total of ninety-six Senators: a poll of hold-over Senators, indicates according to the Legion men that only twenty of those Senators will oppose the bonus legislation. Of the twenty-one new Senators there are three who will probably fall in line with the twenty older men.

The Legion feels absolutely certain that the Adjusted Compensation bill will become a law, that those opposed to it realize it and are making plans to delay it.

NOTICE

Owing to Mr. Nelems serious illness we have decided to dispose of our farm. There is a fine start here for a younger couple and we will give any reliable parties a chance of a lifetime to buy a farm with or without the equipment.

There is a fine working herd of Holsteins, 10 cows and bull, 9 Hampshire pigs, 25 geese, 4 ducks, 50 or 60 chickens, good team, 35 tons of hay silage, a quantity of oats, buckwheat, potatoes and apples. All implements are practically new. This offer will not appear again and if we cannot sell within a few days, we will put on a sale and dispose of all personal property as I am not able to take care of it under the circumstances.

This 80 acre farm if worked right will take care of itself, we have done well on it and have been entirely satisfied.

World's Longest Poem.
The longest poem on record is Spenser's "Faerie Queens." It is only a quarter the length of the original plan, yet it is as long as Homer's "Iliad" and "Odyssey" and Virgil's "Aeneid" put together, and more than three times bigger than Milton's "Paradise Lost" and "Paradise Regained" in one.

Misunderstanding

By GRACE E. HALL

YOU'RE far away tonight, my dearie, dearie,
The sunshine has been mocking me all day;
I've strained my eyes 'til they are weary, weary,
Longing to see you passing by this way;
Within my heart a pain is growing, growing,
The truth insists that I shall heed and know
That further still you're ever going, going,
And oh, I love you dearie, love you so!

The world is very cold, my dearie, dearie,
Outside the magic circle of your arms;
My heart is pleading to be cheery, cheery,
Safe locked against your breast from all alarms;
The tears persist tonight in falling, falling,
The breezes whimper of an unknown woe,
And 'cross the silence I am calling, calling—
Come back to me, I love you, love you so!

GOOD THINGS FOR OCCASIONS

THE Olive is such an appetizer and adds so much zest and flavor to many dishes that it should always be found on the shelf.

For garnishing dishes one may cut into a queen olive with a sharp knife and keeping close to the stone, pare in a spiral fashion. This will leave the olive still shapely without the stone.

For canapes olives are indispensable. Cut eight rounds of bread and spread with softened butter. The rounds should be about two inches in diameter. Toast them lightly before spreading with butter. Prepare a paste, using six shrimps chopped fine and then mashed with three tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise. Have ready one-fourth of a cupful of stuffed olives, chopped with eight capers. Over the toasted rounds spread the shrimp paste, then the chopped olive mixture. Garnish with a slice of stuffed olive and serve at once.

Cheese Salad.
Break a cake of cream cheese into pieces and mash to a paste with two tablespoonfuls of cream and one of softened butter. Season well with salt, cayenne, and add eight large olives, pitted and chopped, one pimento rubbed to a smooth paste and one tablespoonful of parsley chopped. Add a pinch of thyme and mix all together. Press into a wet mold and chill thoroughly. Serve unmolded on a bed of lettuce or sliced as an individual serving.

Zwieback.
Zwieback is often not obtainable and a recipe for it will be cherished by many.
Take a yeast cake softened in one-half cupful of warm water, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and mix well. Add flour to make a thin batter, about half a cupful. Set aside to rise in a warm place, covering well with a cloth. An hour later, when bubbles form on top, add two more tablespoonfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted lard, two well-beaten eggs, cinnamon and salt to taste and two cupfuls of flour or a bit more. Beat well, cover and let rise again in a warm place. When light make into two small loaves and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes. Take from the oven, cool, cut in half-inch slices and bake until brown on both sides, in a hot oven. Keep air tight. Fine for babies and convalescents.

RED CROSS MET TEST IN JAPAN FUND DRIVE

Spirit of Service Demonstrated in Readiness for Nationwide Activity.

When President Coolidge by proclamation designated the American Red Cross as the medium through which contributions for relief of the Japanese earthquake sufferers should flow, the President's desire came as an order to the Red Cross. Immediately the entire machinery of the organization was put in motion and within 24 hours the fund campaign was moving with vigor in every part of the country.

This emergency test demonstrated the peacetime readiness of the Red Cross to cope with stupendous tasks in behalf of humanity. Within a month it had collected upwards of $10,250,000 in contributions, landed ten cargoes of supplies at Japanese ports and was keeping pace with relief requirements—all without a single dollar of the fund being spent for administration.

President Coolidge, in expressing his thanks to the people, said: "When the news of the tragedy in Japan first reached us, the American Red Cross, pursuant to a proclamation, asked the country for $5,000,000 to meet the great emergency. The answer to this appeal was prompt and generous; in less than two weeks a sum far in excess of the original goal was given."

The work of the Red Cross for Japan is expected to influence a very large enrollment of new recruits during the Roll Call, which starts Armistice Day.

Red Cross First Aid Standards Adopted in Great Industries

First aid in an emergency which assures the injured competent attention until the doctor arrives is making marked headway through the work of the Chapters of the American Red Cross. In populous centers 314 chapters conduct first aid classes and last year awarded 9,500 certificates to students. Eight big telephone companies have enlisted their workers in first aid classes, police and fire departments in large cities are making the course compulsory in their training schools, and through colleges and high schools large groups of students receive instruction. The Red Cross also gives this course through Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations, and its standard methods have been adopted by railroads, electric and gas companies, mines and in the metal industries. The aim of this Red Cross service is to cut down radically the average of 60,000 accidental deaths per year in the United States.

"Our country could secure no higher commendation, no greater place in history, than to have it correctly said that the Red Cross is truly American."
—President Coolidge.

Every day is a better one to the man and woman stimulated by the Red Cross spirit. Join now for happiness.

Effect of Vines on Walls.
Stone and brick buildings are not injured by clinging vines. These may keep the building cool somewhat later in the spring, but are otherwise harmless. On wooden buildings damage may be done, since many vines which climb by twining force their way through any joint which is not perfect and then by continued growth force the woodwork apart.

One morning while down in the basement I heard someone playing the piano. Knowing my daughter had left for school, I did not know what to think of it. COMMUNITY INTERESTED IN EDUCATION WEEK

Most of our readers have noted that American Education Week is to be observed this year from Sunday, Nov. 18, to Saturday, November 24, somewhat earlier than in former years. The program emphasizes the importance of the country schools by devoting the exercises of two days mainly to the consideration of rural problems.

Sunday, Nov. 18, is designated, "For God and Country;" Monday, "American Constitution Day;" Tuesday, "Patriotism Day;" Wednesday "School and Teachers Day;" Thursday, "Literacy Day;" Friday, "Community Day;" Saturday, "Physical Education Day."

The slogans for Friday, Nov. 23 are, "An Equal Chance for All Children;" "A Square Deal for the Country Boy and Girl." The suggested program emphasizes the plea for "Equality of opportunity for every American boy and girl" and urges the importance of a public library in every community. It is expected that every rural community will assemble at its schoolhouse on that day. On Saturday will be featured, "The Great Out-of-doors" and the "Conservation and Development of Forests, Soil, Roads and other Resources."

Meaning Clear.
Richard had been ill, and although better now, was still in bed and required constant amusing. He called to his mother, but she happened to be busy and could not come, whereupon the lad began to sob as if his heart would break, wailing over and over again, "Nobody loves me but myself; nobody loves me but myself."

er days. A very interesting sight was the sand paintings made by an Indian Medicine Man.

From Tuscon we went through to Los Angeles and spent a day in that city. The Board of Commerce had arranged a sight seeing trip and we were driven first through the business section and then through the residential. We were taken through Hollywood and of course everyone was anxious to go. We had the chance to go through the Douglas Fairbanks-Mary Pickford studio and watch the workmen tearing down the beautiful sets that were used in Robin Hood while preparing Fairbanks next picture, "The Thief of Bagdad" We were next taken to the bathing beaches including Santa Monica and from there to Venice, then along the ocean and back into the city. In the afternoon part of the crowd went to Pasadena. The Board of Commerce building has a wonderful exhibit of everything grown in their section of the state.

After leaving Los Angeles we stopped at Santa Barbara and part of our crowd went bathing in the Pacific. We rode along the ocean from Santa Barbara into San Francisco and just missed seeing where the Destroyers went on the rock as it became foggy and we could not see the shore line. A beautiful auto road ran alongside of the track while we sat on the observation platform and called to the autoists to "Step on it."

San Francisco was filled with visitors from every state, each one with something to show where they hailed from. Every hotel was crowded and the business section beautifully decorated. The parade was a colorful affair and was the largest ever held in that city since 1918. The Convention hall that seated 10,000 was filled daily and in the evening special entertainment was furnished. The business of the convention was carried on in very able manner. Michigan was well represented and had four Department Commanders present besides all of the other delegates.

We had a chance to hear Senator Hiram Johnson, Samuel Gompers, and Secretary of Labor Davis give some very good addresses to those present. Luther Burbank of Southern California also gave us a chance to see him on the platform.

In San Francisco the crowd separated as each one had some place of particular interest to them. No one missed Fleet Day though as our largest battleships were at anchor in San Francisco bay and on open day thousands of visitors went out to the fleet while their bands furnished the music and the mess cooks furnished the feed. Oakland and Berkeley across the bay were both of especial interest.

We still had our special train on the return trip and going through western California the scenery was wonderful. However the ladies were all interested in knowing when we would pass through Reno, Nevada. We stopped at Salt Lake City for a day and heard an organ recital at the Mormon Tabernacle. No visitors are allowed in the temple, a beautiful building adjoining. We were shown all points of interest and were in the capitol building. The Governor's reception room cost $65,000 to furnish so we did not stay long. The salt beds are also of especial interest. We met the Massachusetts train and Texas train at Salt Lake and there was some reunion when the three bands started to play while the crowd sang, "Hail, Hail the Gangs All Here."

From Salt Lake City we made our next stop at Colorado Springs. Climbing the mountains we had two engines on our train and it is a wonderful sight to look down and see another following you at a lower level and then up to see another still higher in the mountains. The highest point at Tennessee Pass is over 10,000 feet above sea level. The biggest thrill on the entire trip was when we hooked on an observation car with no roof and we sat in it while passing through the Royal gorge. On the one side other side you could reach out and touch the rock or look up and see the rock in a straight line for thousands of feet above you and wonder what would happen to your train if mother earth ever divorced two or three pieces of that gigantic rock formation. It is impossible to describe the coloring as well as the reflection.

Our band played in the Ball Room at Colorado Springs but we were disappointed in not being in that city long enough to see Pikes Peak. Stops were made at Lincoln, Neb. and Des Moines, Iowa. There was a large crowd out at Des Moines to join the dancing at the depot. Chicago and home were next and after a trip of over 6,000 miles we all felt that it was worth while and everyone wants to go to the next convention at St. Paul.

October in Michigan railroading is always the month of peak load. Coal is coming in; crops are rolling out. Our personnel is at its highest point of efficiency.

Our rolling stock is in virtually 95% perfect repair condition.

Our road beds are in better shape than at any time since the disaster of Government operation. We have bought 620 miles of new rail this year.

Despite restrictions such as handicap no other business, Michigan railroads are solving—not their problem—but the problem of transportation that naturally follows the industrial, social and economic expansion of a prosperous state.

Do you notice and experience this improvement in your transportation? Tell us frankly and fully.

Upon the attitude of you people of Michigan towards your railroad system rests much of the future prosperity of your state.
