GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT ENJOYED; 72 PRESENT

Annual Event of Twentieth Century Club Friday Evening Proves a Success

The Twentieth Century club of this city held their annual "Gentlemen's Night" at the Masonic temple last Friday evening. Club members and guests numbered seventy-two. It being "Michigan Day" the rooms were appropriately decorated and members of the committees were in special costume.

After an exceptionally fine dinner during which the diners were regaled with music from orchestras in various parts of the United States, via James Leslie's Neutrodyne, they repaired to the annex. A grand march, led by C. T. McCormick impersonating Uncle Sam, in which various Michigan celebrities took part, was followed by various games and dancing.

It is needless to say that the event was a success and that everyone present, especially the guests, had a very enjoyable evening.

MARY WILKINSON BELL

Mrs. E. J. Bell died in Hayden, Ariz., January 21, 1925, following an illness of about four years. Death was due to tuberculosis.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon, January 29, at the Curtisville Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. Wm. Byler, officiating. Burial was made in the Curtisville cemetery.

Mary Wilkinson was born in Wilber Iosco county, Michigan, January 6, 1884. She was a daughter of William and Martha Wilkinson.

In June, 1914, the deceased was married to E. J. Bell of Curtisville, Alcona county, Michigan, a well known resident of that township. About two and one-half years ago Mr. and Mrs. Bell and daughter, Nina, went to Hayden, Ariz., where they thought a change of climate might improve Mrs. Bell's health.

In early girlhood Mrs. Bell became a member of the Baptist church and remained steadfast in the faith. In her last hours she was sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust, and approached her grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams. Of magnanimous spirit Sister Mary filled the years of her life with the performance of kindly deeds for those about her. They who mourn her passing are assured that the blessings and joys received by those who give in Christ's name, are hers—for the master has said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto me" Even during her last hours when the body was racked with pain, her mind went out to others and the manner in which some little pleasure might be given them.

The surviving relatives are the husband, E. J. Bell, daughter, Nina, of Curtisville, mother, Martha Wilkinson, also of Curtisville, sister, Ellen Heilig of East Tawas, and brothers, James of Grand Rapids, John of Bay City, William of Wilber and Martin and Joseph of Toledo, Ohio.

Action a Plenty Marked West Branch Nimrod's Day's Hunt

The Daniel Boone stories of the Daniel Boone days in Kentucky and Missouri have nothing on present day hunting near West Branch.

Last Sunday, shortly after noon the populace of West Branch turned out to greet two of our local nimrods when they arrived in town with four black bear piled on their car. The two lucky, honored and perhaps frightened gentlemen were none other than E. M. Bucholz, alderman of the third ward and Harlow Gilling, deputy sheriff of Ogemaw county.

The bear story runs about as follows according to the version, as well as can be remembered, by the two boys. They were hunting rabbits near Loranger south of town with their trusty hound, Teddy, which they now claim has no equal in the county for both rabbits and bear, when the excitement started. The dog found the den where the bears were hibernating during the winter months and gave the alarm to his master. The alderman was the first man to locate the den and bear, and called to the sheriff to get ready to shoot as the mother bear was becoming vicious and about to charge. He no more than finished his alarm when old bruin charged them both, but dropped immediately after the crack of their Winchester guns loaded with No. 6 shot. It is claimed by old hunters that both might have lost their lives in the encounter, had it not been for the iron nerve of both men gained through their official experience.

The den also contained three cubs that were easily shot after being routed from their cozy winter home. The Chamber of Commerce have banqueted the past months on venison and rabbit and now comes a banquet of bear meat, as the carcasses have been donated for this purpose by the hunters.

It is said that one of these men is a direct descendant of Daniel Boone. Leave your orders for bear meat at the Schubert market.—Ogemaw County Herald.

Lincoln Wrote Autobiography In Form of Letter to a Friend

A few years before election to the presidency and about the time his friends were thinking seriously of his nomination, Lincoln wrote a brief autobiography in the form of a letter to his friend, Jesse W. Fell, of Bloomington, Illinois, under date of December 20, 1859.

Because of its style, as well as of its contents, we reprint what he himself said of himself and of his family history.

"I was born, February 12, 1809, in Hardin County, Kentucky. My parents were both born in Virginia, of undistinguished families—second and third families, perhaps. I should say. My mother, who died in my tenth year,

NOTED LECTURER AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT

Dr. Henderson, the extension lecturer of the University of Michigan, will give a lecture on "The Rediscovery of America" next Monday evening at the court house. Internal Revenue Collector Here Saturday, Feb. 17

Ford C. Rea, deputy collector of internal revenue will be at the Iosco hotel on February 17 to assist tax payers who bring their problems to him. Much time can be saved if figures are carefully classified as to receipts and expenses before visiting the deputy, Mr. Rea says. This special assistance without charge has been the policy of the internal revenue department for the past few years.

STOCKMAN HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

The H. W. Stockman residence on Adams Ave., was burned to the ground yesterday. The fire was reported before it had gained much headway but due to the fact that the water mains were frozen, water was not available until the fire had completely destroyed the house.—Osceda Press Boss—Now why on earth do you insist on sliding that roll of sandpaper along the floor? Can't you carry it on your shoulder?

Hardware Clerk—Aw, what difference does it make?

Boss—Never mind! I'll have no one pulling any rough stuff around this place.

'BRING CERTIFICATE OF TITLE' SAYS W. H. PRICE

Necessary in Order to Receive Automobile License for 1925

County Treasurer W. H. Price announces that 1925 licenses are now ready to be issued, under the new weight tax law. The blanks for licenses may be secured at the treasurer's office or any of the garages; but everyone applying must bring the title to their car with them. This is very important and the license cannot be issued without it.

The weight tax provides a 55c per cwt. for passenger cars. This means a decrease for the lighter makes, which is compensated for by the heavier cars.

Trucks less than 2,500 pounds will pay 65c a hundred pounds; trucks from 2,500 to 4,000 pounds pay 80c a hundred; trucks from 4,000 to 6,000 pounds pay $1.00 a hundred; trucks over 6,000 pounds pay $1.25 a hundred. Motorcycles will pay $4.00 each. Motor bicycles $2.00 each. Truck trailers under 1,000 pounds pay 50c a hundred; over 1,000 pounds $1.00 a hundred.

The gas tax provides a straight two cent levy with rebates for fishermen, motorboat operators, farmer's tractors not used on highways; dry-cleaners, stationary engines and such.

Board of Commerce Holds An Enthusiastic Meeting

Sunday at 2:00 p. m. the East Tawas Board of Commerce held one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in East Tawas. President Butler presided over the meeting and R. G. Schreck, secretary, made a short talk on membership and 25 new members were taken in. Mr. Butler took up the chances of getting a state normal in East Tawas. Also a fish hatchery and snake on our shore road and state nursery.

We have a beautiful site of 50 acres to offer for a state normal and if accepted East Tawas will be a lucky city. This site is one of the finest in the state for this purpose.

We want 100 members this year. Join now and don't forget the annual meeting at Holland Hotel on February 16. Live wire speakers.

PRESBYTERIAN BANQUET

The young people of the Presbyterian church enjoyed an elaborate banquet at the church on Tuesday evening. The Gang class, the C. I. C. class of young ladies, the Star class of girls and several of their guests were among those present.

The room was decorated in rose and white and the tables were prettily decorated in the same colors and the ladies carried out the color scheme in the tasty eatables that were served. Favors were rose pink baskets with white silk bows filled with sugared dainties and nuts.

Richard Hewson acted as toastmaster and toasts were given by Helen Applin, Mrs. Palmer Burrows, Milo Nielson, Mildred Hewson, Rev. L. G. MacAndrew, Rev. C. Kennedy, Miss Edna Otis and Rev. Dr. Fisher of Saginaw, who gave the principal address of the evening. Musical numbers were given by Arthur Johnson and Torrey Osgerby, both responding with encores.

The program closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" after which Rev. Mac Andrew offered prayer.

SLAT'S DIARY

Friday—Pa seems to be a lot of new birds since he has been wiring crossed word puzzles.

Just today I told him the good news that Ant Emmy had given me a nother pennie for shining her shoes up for a mishunary meeting she was going to this afternoon. She says she never asks no body to do nothing for her for nothing. When I told pa he sed I shud ought to call her my Penny Auntie. But not to her face however.

Saterday—We had Blisters up to are house for supper tonite and just as we was setting down to the table why he got sick awe full. And ma sed to him Why Blisters how did you come to get sick. And he replied and sed to her, that he didden cum to get sick he cum to get fed.

Sunday—Went out to Unkel Hens house today. Whenever we talk about going out there pa says we are going to the Hen House. It is ma's brother. After dinner Unkel Hen lets me ride on his gray horse. It was fun but I never seen a horse ride so hard when it was full of nice soft hay like this one was cause I seen him stuffing his sistum with it before we eat dinner.

Monday—Ma started to jaw me tonite when I cumr home frum skool. She seen me down town and ast me hows cum I kep my hands in my pockets all the time. Well I told her they was two reasons why I kep my hands in my pockets. The weather was cold and my suspenders was busted to.

Tuesday—Went to a party tonite and you never seen a girl look any prittiern Jane did. I was standing out on the porch with her and I told her she looked so good I was a going to steal a kiss. She sed if I done that she wood holler. Then I sed Little girls shud ought to be seen and not herd. So she walked back in the house and I dissided it was all off. For the time being.

Wensday—I was reading where Rockefeller only got 4 $ a week when he started out and now he has got tons of money. Pa sed thats exactly what he got when he started out to. But the likeness ended there he sed.

Thursay—The supintendent of are skool was here this evening. He don't look like he does down at the skool house when he calls us in to his office. He looks so much more smaller.

Pistols That Figured in Affairs of Honor

Appropos of the Nomad's dueling stories, a correspondent, says the Boston Transcript, sends the following:

"Dear Nomad—This regarding the duel between Hamilton and Burr may be of interest to you:
"Some years ago, in passing through Geneva, N. Y., I was guest of Mr. Richard Church, an old family friend. In talking on things of historic interest, Mr. Church paused and, stooping down, reached under the sofa and revealed to my expectant gaze a mahogany box. On opening the box, he showed me the original flintlock pistols used in the Hamilton-Burr duel. Mr. Church informed me that these same flintlocks had been used also in two other duels—the Wilkes-Burr duel and the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Richard Church was a descendant of the opponent (Church) of Burr in the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Church showed me that one of the flintlocks was broken and informed me this break had occurred while he was a lad in shooting while at play. Mr. Church has passed away and I do not know the present whereabouts of these historic flintlocks. Perhaps they fell to his daughter, who at the time of my visit was the wife of Rev. Dr. Hart of St. Mark's church, Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Hart's mother was one of the Schuylers, and was christened Angelica Schuyler Church. Perhaps some reader can give data as to the present owner of the flintlock. DAMON."

That the dueling pistols used in the Burr-Hamilton affair should also have served in two other encounters in which Burr was concerned is a pretty good indication that Burr kept himself supplied with weapons. But in the Church affair his pistols seem to have gone to his antagonist. The veritable weapon with which Burr killed Hamilton must be a valuable possession for a collector.

Wrens and Catbirds Had Nests Together

A very interesting and rather unusual incident, showing how neighborhood birds may be, happened last spring, writes Elizabeth Frederick in Our Dumb Animals. A friend of mine has a cottage, and there is a certain vine growing close to a window, which is a favorite nesting place with birds. This year two different families, a pair of wrens and a pair of catbirds, decided to nest here, and so they set about building their homes. Strange to say, there was no quarreling over this, but each pair minded its own business, and when their homes were finished, lo and behold! there, perched upon the edge of the good-sized nest of the catbird, was the dainty little nest of the wren.

Never were two families more sociable. Together the mothers sat on their eggs, and perhaps they chatted about different things to make the long hours of waiting less lonesome. Together the wrens and the catbirds fought the cat and bravely defended their homes, when the babies were hatched, and side by side they raised their families and taught them how to fly. Now there is nothing left but the two nests to show this unusual friendship between two bird families.

Huge Insect Collection

The British museum possesses by far the most comprehensive insect collection in the world, says London Tit-Bits. It has not until quite recently been possible to make an exact catalogue of all items, but after three years' work one has now been completed and published.

According to this, the collection contains 1,118,000 insects. There are 325,767 butterflies of 40,210 different kinds, 398,000 beetles of 67,300 different kinds. Of bees, wasps and winged ants there are 19,608 kinds. Of bugs, flies, gnats and mosquitoes there are 7,267 species represented; of grasshopper types 3,900, and of plant lice 21 species in 140 items.

Private donors have done most to swell the collection. One alone gave 280,000 insects, another 30,000, while one entire collection of butterflies which was presented consisted of 31,130 specimens.

Her Awful Mistake

Tim had met with the misfortune of falling from the fourteenth floor of the skyscraper on which he was working.

His fellow workmen picked up the remains and started with them to Tim's home, sending Terry ahead to break the sad news to Tim's wife. Terry thumped on the Malone door until Mrs. Malone appeared.

"Are you the Widow Malone, thin?" he asked.

"And I am not," she answered. "I'm Mrs. Malone, but not widow."
"And are ye not?" demanded the bearer of ill tidings. "Will ye tell me that and look what the byes are bringin' up the street?"—Capper's Weekly.

Ancient Juniper Tree

What is believed to be the oldest juniper tree in the world is now being protected by the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, according to word received from the Cache National forest in northern Utah. A careful examination of the tree by scientists from the Utah Agricultural college and by Forest Supervisor Carl B. Arentson shows the age of the tree to be not less than 8,000 years, thus placing this tree on a par with some of the big redwood trees in California which have so often been spoken of as the "oldest living things on earth."

JACK SAVED THE BIRDS

"WHO could have put it there?" chirped all of the birds from the trees around the yard where they had flown after their terrible fright.
"It does not look as if it could harm us," said Robin Redbreast, "and if my eyes do not deceive me there is something white and fluffy-looking on it that Mrs. Robin might like for our nest."
"Don't be inquisitive yet, Robin," chirped Mr. Blackbird. "It is probably a trap set by some wicked boys to catch us."

"But what I cannot understand is why Puss was so scared of it," spoke up another Robin. "She ran as if her mistress had caught her trying to catch one of us."
"There she is now," said Robin Redbreast, peaking around the side of the house. "She is pretty well scared or she would not let us see her so soon after she jumped at us."
But Puss did not notice the birds. She had her big yellow eyes fixed upon

SAY NORWAY SPRUCE BEST CHRISTMAS PLANTING

Norway spruce are the best trees for plantings to raise Christmas tree stocks commercially, according to B. F. Kroodama, forestry extension specialist at M. A. C. Great interest has been shown lately in evergreen nurseries to supply the Yule trade, as pressure is brought to bear to stop indiscriminate cutting of young trees.
That there is a chance for good profit in Christmas tree raising is shown by estimates of the M. A. C. forestry department. Figures based on their experimental plantings place the earnings at $111 an acre under good conditions, is claimed by per year. A profit of $200 an acre, a prominent grower in Pennsylvania. Triangular planting, three feet apart, gives 5,584 trees to the acre, four spacing would require 2,723 trees to the acre. Four year old transplants are said to cost about fifteen dollars a thousand.

Do Your Railroads Win This Reward?

Modern Railroad progress in Michigan began March 1, 1920.
On that day, Uncle Sam quit Railroad and returned the roads to their owners, to reorganize and restore.
That date found the 24 steam Railroads of Michigan deficient in almost every essential. Service had fallen to its lowest point of efficiency. In public esteem, the Railroads were on trial.
Your Railroads are not ashamed of their progress since that eventful date.
We have re-equipped our lines with locomotives and cars.
We have restored and improved our roadbeds.
We have made large investments in terminals, and have made every dollar count.
And we are giving you today the best railroad service Michigan has ever had.
Your Railroads gladly acknowledge their appreciation of your spirit of Fair Play. We are making good for you. We will continue to make good with all the means and effort within our power.
There are many improvements still to be made. We will make them as our means permit. For it is our steadfast desire to make you as proud of Michigan's system of steam Railroads as we are of the prosperity of the state we serve.
Your Railroads want to be your Friends. Do we deserve such classification? Write us, frankly and fully.

Vessel Construction Marvel of Ingenuity

An achievement like that of the ocean liner which met and survived a gale in which the waves ran 100 feet from trough to crest, represents for the layman an almost incredible triumph of design, says the New York Herald-Tribune. The unimaginable fury of seas which could break over a bridge 65 feet from the water-line, which could rip away rails and lifeboats, flood the rooms on the upper decks by coming down upon them from above, throw a man through a bulkhead and set the whole ship awash, would seem to be a thing which no human construction could possibly live through.

As a matter of fact, every modern steamship is a miracle, and almost all of them are successful ones. The loss of a sound vessel in the open sea is of astonishingly rare occurrence, and memory does not recall any Atlantic passenger liner which has been destroyed in a fair fight with the ocean alone. A ship is attacked in two ways. She must withstand the terrific pounding and crushing of the water and of her own weight, and she must be able to recover her balance no matter how long or violent the roll. Vessels have been rolled under in storms—sometimes through faulty designs, sometimes through the shifting of the cargo—but it is of rare occurrence. More often they founder through the weakness of the hull construction—their seams are opened or their backs broken. But that seldom happens to new ships; it seems never to happen to good ones.

"Prisons" May Yet Be Maintained in Open

Prison in the open air seems a contradiction in itself, for the very word "prison" calls up the idea of incarceration in locked and walled-up buildings.

However, there is such a thing, and it is in Holland that very successful experiments have been made with outdoor prisons.

Sixty persons were drafted to the town of Veenhuizen, to serve their term there. Their task was to convert moorland into cultivated field, and they showed themselves very industrious in the undertaking. They are divided into gangs, each containing a few persons, but are not supervised or watched by any sort of warder or official; these prisoners may live in common and advance their social sense, unsubjected to supervision.

The foreman of each gang is, however, not a prisoner, but a workman who joins voluntarily. It would not be difficult to escape under such conditions, but no one has hitherto attempted to do so. The environment is much more favorable than in an ordinary prison, and the Dutch government is considering setting up several centers of this sort.

What Your Eyes Tell

We are told that the eyes of the intellectual man are gray, and it is a fact that most men of genius have gray eyes. Brown eyes are said to express temperament rather than intellect.

Although brown eyes flash with anger, light up with joy, and change swiftly with jealousy, blue and gray eyes can express greater sadness. Green and black eyes are supposed to be the most wicked. Becky Sharp's green eyes played an important part in her various conquests.

The "vamp" in modern fiction usually possesses flashing eyes of either green or black. Actually, there are no black eyes; dark brown or dark gray eyes have the appearance of being black in certain lights.

Human Mind Beat Machine

A French lightning calculator, M. Inaudi, was recently pitted against twelve of the latest types of calculating machine. The human machine carried off all but one of the honors.

M. Inaudi easily beat his mechanical competitors in the speed with which he solved problems in addition, subtraction, division and finding the square or the cube, but in the first round—extracting the square root of a number—a machine came out first. In the third round, which consisted of complicated problems, the man won easily.

Men and Instincts

Writers of the last century regarded instinct as almost non-existent in man, whereas reason was denied to animals. Later scientists hold differently, among them having been Prof. William James, who maintained that man has as many instincts as animals. He further maintained that instinct played a leading part in the determination of all human conduct. McDougall, the eminent philosopher, goes still further and says that man's organisms would become incapable of activity of any kind if instinctive dispositions with their powerful impulses, were taken away.

Chivalry

It was this which, without confounding ranks, had produced a noble equality, and handed it down through all the gradations of social life. It was this opinion which mitigated kings into companions, and raised private men to the fellows with kings. Without force, or opposition, it subdued the fiercest of pride and power; it obliged sovereigns to submit to the soft collar of social esteem, compelled stern authority to submit to elegance, and gave a dominating yankisher of laws to be subdued by manners.—Edmund Burke.

The Churches

TAWAS CITY BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday morning H. Z. Davis will speak on the topic, "What about the bride; who is driving?"

The Sunday School session at 11.15. A class for every age. A lesson suitable for every age. A teacher inspired to teach every class. These are the standards of this school. We welcome the new faces that are becoming members, and do not forget the familiar faces that have kept the ball a rolling in the days gone by and whose loyalty makes the present possible and who are boosters for a bigger and better school. Come and see how much you can do to make our evening service a fitting service to close the church's special day.

Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., will be held our Mid-week service, meeting with Mrs. Lucy Brown. If you want a real treat take your part in making it the best and you will not be disappointed.

Put your soul into these services and they will be a bulwark to save you from going wrong. "Going wrong" is a reality that is in the world.

H. Z. Davis, Pastor.

HEMLOCK CHURCH

Come to the friendly church on the Hemlock at 2:00 p. m. and see for yourself what a good Sunday School we have for a country side; stay for the preaching service and share in the singing with the choir and congregation. Hear what the minister has to say on the topic, "What about the bride; who is the driver?" See if you will not go home feeling better and wiser. H. Z. Davis, Pastor.

M. E. CHURCH

"The House of Happiness"
Sunday morning, 10:30 a. m., Os-coda. Subject: "The Priesthood of Christ."

Sunday morning, 11:30 a. m., Os-coda. Sunday School.

Sunday morning, 11:15 a. m., Tawas City. Sunday School.

Sunday evening, 7:30 p. m. Tawas City. Subject: "The Woman of Samaria."

Wednesday evening, 7:00 p. m., Tawas City. Bible study and training class.

Wednesday evening, 8:00 p. m., Tawas City. Epworth League.

People without church homes are invited to come with us and help us serve this community. We need your help. We can help you.

Helpful, happy service every Sunday and our Bible Training class cannot be beaten, and we would like you to come and take part in it.

On Friday night we are having our Valentine party to be held in the church at 7:30. Admission, a Valentine. The young people of our church gives all the many friends of our congregation an invitation to come and join with them in the evening's entertainment. You cannot do better than spend the evening with us.

L. D. S. CHURCH

10:00 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—Preaching, by Elder G. A. Pringle.

7:30 p. m.—Preaching, by Elder M. A. Sommerfeld. Subject in the evening, "Authority from God." Is it essential?

Isaiah the prophet says, "Come now and let us reason together, saith the Lord, though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."
Again Isaiah says, "Put me in remembrance. Let us plead together, declare thou that thou mayest be justified."

The Apostle Paul, writing to the Romans says, "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scripture might have hope."
We wish to present before the audience the testimonies of Moses and Aaron and Jesus Christ and also the Apostle Paul, the silver tongue prophet. They are considered very good authority.
A welcome to all.
M. A. Sommerfeld, Pastor.

Origin of Familiar Words

Some of our words owe their present form to the mistakes of our forefathers. A belfry, which originally had nothing to do with a bell, is correctly a beffy, i. e., a watch tower. A certain kind of apple used to be known as a costard, and a dealer in this fruit as a costardmonger, and later on as a costermonger. Similarly, a grocer was originally an engrosser, or a dealer in gross, while a butcher was a bocher or killer of goats.—London Mail.

Great Men

There is nothing strange about great men; they are like us, only deeper, higher, broader; they think as we do, but with more intensity; they suffer as we do, more keenly; they love as we do, more tenderly.—David Grayson.

LINCOLN WROTE AUTOBIOGRAPHY IN FORM OF A LETTER TO A FRIEND

Continued from first page) names of both families, such as Enoch, Levi, Mordecai, Solomon, Abraham, and the like.

"My father, at the death of his father, was but six years of age, and he grew up literally without education. He removed from Kentucky to what is now Spencer County, Indiana, in my eighth year. We reached our new home about the time the State came into the Union (1816). It was a wild region, with many bears and other wild animals still in the woods. There I grew up. There were some schools, so called, but no qualification was ever required of a teacher beyond 'reading,' 'writin' and 'cipherin' to the Rule of Three. If a stragler, supposed to understand Latin, happened to sojourn in the neighborhood, he was looked upon as a wizard. There was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education. Of course, when I came of age, I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write and cipher to the Rule of Three, but that was all. I have not been to school since. The little advance I now have upon this store of education, I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity.

"I was raised to farm-work, which I continued until I was twenty-two. At twenty-one I came to Illinois and passed the first year in Macon County. Then I got to New Salem, at that time in Sangamon, now in Menard County, where I remained a year as a sort of clerk in a store. Then came the Black Hawk war, and I was elected a captain of volunteers—a success which gave me more pleasure than any I have had since. I went through the campaign, was elected, ran for the Legislature in the same year (1832) and was beaten—the only time I have ever been beaten by the people. The next, and three succeeding biennial elections, I was elected to the Legislature. I was not a candidate afterwards. During the legislative period, I had studied law and removed to Springfield to practice it. In 1846, I was once elected to the lower House of Congress, but was not a candidate for re-election. From 1849 to 1854, both inclusive, practiced law more assiduously than ever before. Always a Whig in politics, and generally on the Whig electoral ticket, making active canvasses. I was losing interest in politics when the repeal of the Missouri Compromise aroused me again. What I have done since then is pretty well known.

"If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said, I am, in height, six feet four inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing, on an average, one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair, and gray eyes. No other marks or brands recollected.

Yours truly,
A. Lincoln."

One Author's Feat

The creator of "Nick Carter," Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey, holds perhaps the record for speed in literary production. He once accomplished the prodigious task of finishing a novella of 40,000 words in just two days.

Removing Tattoo Marks

Although tattoo marks generally are asserted to be indelible if produced by the insertion of some carbonaceous matter, it is said they will disappear if first well rubbed with a salve of pure acetic acid and lard, then with a solution of potash and finally with a solution of hydrochloric acid. It would be advisable to consult a skin specialist.

Keeps Tools From Rusting

Dissolve one-half ounce of camphor in one pound of melted lard, remove scum, add enough fine black lead (graphite) to give an iron color. Clean the tools and smear with this mixture. After twenty-four hours rub clean with soft linen cloth. In ordinary circumstances the tools will not rust for months.

LINCOLN SAID— "YOU CAN FOOL SOME OF THE PEOPLE ALL OF THE TIME"

Best under the sun and a square ton.

OUR coal won't fool you even part of the time. It keeps right on the job delivering to you the heat you pay for. If Honest Abe himself weighed out our coal you couldn't get a fairer, squarer ton. Order us around.

Gasoline Tax In Effect

The Michigan State Legislature has passed the gasoline tax law and has made it effective immediately.

As required by that law this Company will, beginning February 1, 1925, collect the Michigan tax of two cents per gallon on all gasoline sales made by it at service stations or through tank wagons.
