COUNTY TREASURERS OF STATE TO MEET AT EAST TAWAS

The invitation sent out by County Treasurer W. H. Price to the various county treasurers of the state in which they were asked to meet at East Tawas during July or August has met with a hearty response. Over 30 county treasurers have favorably commended the action of Mr. Price and accepted the invitation. A majority of these officials will undoubtedly be present at the meeting.

The object of the meeting will be to give the county treasurers an organization similar to those of the other county officials. In the past the term of office of county treasurers being limited, no organization could be formed, but with the removal of the term limit it will now be possible for them to form a permanent organization.

The first meeting, to be held at East Tawas, will be a two day affair. Headquarters will be established at the Hotel Holland and the meetings will be held in the Community building.

PARK ASSOCIATION WILL MEET MONDAY, MARCH 9

There will be a meeting of the Tawas City Park association Monday evening, March 9 at the American Legion billet. Business of importance will be taken up at this meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

WHO SHOULD TURN THE GRINDSTONE?

Shrewd politicians have succeeded in luring the people into the idea that they must turn the public grindstone to sharpen their dull axes. Repeatedly the people are charged and blamed as the cause of high taxes, by continuing to vote the use of money for various purposes which may not be needed at the time. This charge is partly true, but must not be applied to all voters. Who misleads the voters? The politicians and their handy men, certain manufacturers seeking an outlet for their products, contractors looking for public jobs to profiteer on the public pocketbook. They overflow with praise of the great benefit that will be enjoyed from such public improvements and the big returns that are sure to come.

Recently the highway department made public that 1925 will be a record breaking year in constructing state highways. The average citizen assumes that the state highway funds are overflowing. The fiscal year ending July 1, 1924, the public debt amounted to four hundred seventeen million seven hundred and sixty-one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven dollars. Interest on same: Twenty million seven hundred eighty-one thousand one hundred ninety-two dollars. Divide this amount and there will be a handsome bundle for all.

You will see a record breaking debt, but I cannot see how to break the record building road!

Will the gas tax help us? No, that will be consumed for interest. How about the automobile tax? That probably will be consumed for road repair. Where is the state highway reward coming from—resort to dirt?

LOCAL FISHERMEN PROTEST AT CLOSING BAY FOR FISHING

Local fishermen and many other Tawas people are vigorously protesting the proposed act of the legislature to close a portion of Saginaw bay for commercial fishing purposes. The proposed legislation was introduced Monday in the senate by Senator H. S. Karcher.

The portion of the bay which would be closed if this legislation should be passed would be "inside a line drawn from the lighthouse at Tawas Point to the township line between the present organized townships of Tawas and Alabaster." It is contended by those protesting that only Tawas bay should be closed. This is included inside a line drawn from Tawas Point to the old Prescott dock.

THOUSANDS TO ATTEND M. A. C. RADIO SCHOOL

That thousands of Michigan farm people, in addition to other thousands from states scattered all over the country, will "attend" the special radio extension courses which started at M. A. C. on March 2 was indicated by enrollment this week for the first of the courses.

The idea of sitting at home in comfort and "taking in" educational programs along the technical lines of their business seems to appeal to the state's rural population. An actual count of those who listen to the lectures is an impossibility, according to college authorities in charge of the radio school, only a relatively small percentage actually registering. It is certain, however, that the number will run well into the thousands for each of the courses to be given.

The five agricultural extension courses, registration in which is open to anybody in the state, are listed as follows: March 2-13; farm machinery and home conveniences; March 16-27, farm crops and soils; March 30-April 10, poultry and livestock; April 13-24, home gardens; and April 27-May 8, homemakers' course.

The Why of Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING

BLACK CAT'S TAIL

IN ONE section they put three hairs from the tip of a black cat's tail upon a felon to cure it; in another they cure a sty by rubbing it with the tail of a black cat; in still another the tip of the tail of a black cat drawn nine times across the eye will cure a sty; and so on. A black cat's tail is a favorite curative agent in many parts of the land.

Here we see again our old friend the mystic black cat, sacred in the Egypt of the Pharaohs for her relation to the moon-goddess, Isis, both because of her moon-like eyes and because of her faculty of catching rats in the "granary of the world" and thus helping in the perpetuation of the work of Isis as the inventor of agriculture. In the black cat cure we have a remnant, then, of moon worship—an appeal to Isis. Why the tail of the cat? Because the tail of a cat is like a brush; with it we can brush away things. Here comes in homeopathic of imitative magic. We brush the eye nine times with a black cat's tail and we not only appeal for relief to Isis but we brush away the sty. Like produces like.

During the Ashantee war the women of the coast towns whose husbands had gone as carriers with the British forces assembled and waved horses' tails that the enemies their men were to encounter might be swept away. Three hairs from a cat's tail upon a felon to cure it is a mild dose of the same magic. The brushing away qualities of the tail are communicated by the hairs thereof. It is not as far-fetched as it may at first appear to go back to Egypt for the origin of current superstitions; for Greece borrowed from Egypt, Rome borrowed from Greece and from Rome of the world.

Everyone Says It—Sales Prove It

Hudson is not called "the World's Greatest Buy" for today alone. That is acknowledgment of ten years' constant refinement of a great car around the famous patented Super-Six principle. The largest production of 6-cylinder closed cars in the world give it unequalled value advantages.

All now know that higher price can buy no smoother performance than Hudson's. It cannot buy more brilliant results in pick-up, power or speed. It cannot buy greater reliability or endurance. At today's prices need you own a lesser car? Can a costlier car satisfy you more?

BURY DOG IN SAME GRAVE AS MASTER

Animal Drops Dead Near Vacant Chair of Owner.

Lexington, Ky.—Have animals a sense of personal bereavement? An instance in proof of this comes from Calhoun, Ky., where there were two burials in one grave, a master and his faithful dog, which died of grief, it is believed, when it discovered its master was dead.

The master was Louis Rowan, fifty-six years old. For some time Rowan's only companion was his dog, which followed him everywhere he went and slept on the floor, near his bed, at night. A few days ago Rowan died. His last request was that the undertaker permit the dog to accompany his remains to the cemetery. This request was granted and after the burial of Rowan, the undertaker took the dog back to the Rowan home. On entering the house the dog began to whine mournfully, and, after making three rounds of the house as if to take a last farewell of his accustomed haunts, the dog halted by the fireplace, suddenly reeled and fell dead. Members of the household made a tiny coffin and carried it to the cemetery, where the faithful dog was interred in the same grave with his master.

"Jim" Marshall, Former "Dead Shot," Is Dead

Denver, Colo.—"Three-fingered Jim" Marshall, who won his title by quick trigger work in the gold camps in the stage-coach days of the West, died in the General hospital here after having served the last ten years of his checked career as a deputy sheriff.

In the booming days of the famous Cripple creek mining camps, whose only law was that which stern-faced men carried in leather holsters, conveniently swung on cartridge belts at their hips, "Three-fingered Jim" won and lost several fortunes in gold across the green-cushioned gambling tables. In those days, when men risked sacks of gold dust on the turn of a card, Marshall was at his best. Frequently, after a successful night at gambling tables, he would go into the streets and give away a small fortune to those less fortunate than himself. Later Marshall is said practically to have controlled the gambling enterprises in El Paso, Texas, and in Del Norte, New Juarez, N. M.

Still later, when the West was dropping some of its frontier habits, Marshall bought a string of race horses and invaded the tracks of the East. He was a familiar figure for several years in Louisville and in Eastern track circles.

Wills Her Big Home as Animal Hospital

Bridgeport, Conn.—A big, old-fashioned house, set in spacious grounds in the heart of this city's most exclusive residential district, is destined to become the Dodea Animal hospital, a memorial to the two pet dogs of its late owner, Mrs. Marietta W. Crowley, by whose will ultimate disposition of the property is thus provided.

The instrument also requires that portraits of the pets Dodea and Dodo are to occupy places of honor in the hospital.

As originally drawn, the will bequeathed the property immediately upon Mrs. Crowley's death to the Animal Rescue league, which will conduct the institution, but by a codicil added October 7, about a month before Mrs. Crowley died, her companion, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Fell, is to have the use of the house during her life. Then it will revert to the league.

The house is valued at about $20,000, and comprises a fifth of Mrs. Crowley's estate. With the exception of $25,000 for the mausoleum to be built on a $5,000 lot in Mountain Grove cemetery, $1,000 to the Cleveland Animal Rescue league and three minor charitable bequests, the balance of the estate is divided among relatives.

Screw Taken From Man's Lung After 28 Years

Pittsburgh, Pa.—A one-inch brass screw, swallowed 28 years ago, was removed from the right lung of Frank Crawford by Dr. J. Homer McCready at the Francis Memorial hospital here recently. A tube equipped with a small electric light bulb was inserted through the mouth, and after the screw had been located a long forceps was used in its removal. The patient's condition is reported as being "good."

Fortune in Pails

Montreal, Que.—An old woman, dressed in shabby black, carrying two battered tin pails, shuffled into the Royal Bank of Canada recently and inquired about a safety deposit box. On being told $5 to $50, she raised her pails to the counter and produced $15,000 worth of bonds and about $3,000 in cash.

"Would it be possible to place these in a $5 box," she asked timidly.

The amazed official said he thought it would be a tight squeeze, whereupon the old lady sighed and walked away.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

TUNELESS LIVES

OUR weak human hearts are prone to beat out of tune at the flash of an eye or the snarl of an unexpected angry word.

When our moods and tempers are wrong we lack the divine power to make music for ourselves and others, perhaps those who are very near and dear to us.

We fall to strike the responsive strings that fill life with beauty and love, the reason being that we are deficient of these exalted things ourselves.

We cannot hope to find grapes on bayberry trees, yet we are often years in learning the basic principles of this little fact which has so much to do with our destiny, and even then we do not quite understand it until we have been rudely shaken from our stubborn opinions and had the scales torn from our half-blind eyes.

It frequently happens that the more learned we imagine we are, the more difficult do we find it to take up our lute and play ourselves into good humor, and if by chance we play when the days are sultry and we are filled with care, we fall naturally into producing disquieting notes to the annoyance of our intimates.

We cannot make ourselves agreeable. We sally forth with a chip upon our shoulder and dare any one to knock it off.

When we find that no one inclines to accept our challenge, we become so thoroughly abashed that we pack up our lute, if by this time we have one, and seek the solacing solitude of the hills.

So we call up our courage, and with the experience we have had in a very small field we start off again in pursuit of the sweetness in the world we have so long overlooked.

And when we get it we shall pass it out with liberal hand to all we meet.

From the birth of this resolution our horizon widens and brightens, for have we not reached out and become a part of the sphere?

We have put forth our hands to the sky and caught some grand periods of music intended for man's comfort and content, of which he takes too small account for his own good and the good of his freside.

Before the good roads amendment was submitted to the people, I called the attention of the voters in the Michigan Business Farmer to the "Pay as You go Plan," warning the people that the time will come when they will buy their farms and their little homes in taxes each year. I was howled down by the politicians as being disloyal and unpatriotic. In 1923 I called to the attention of the state authorities that investigation would be warranted in the state highway department. Governor Groesbeck proceeded with an investigation at once and Mr. Rogers said he welcomed an investigation. It proved most needed, but when they struck one item of $600,000 that was drawn from the highway funds with no showing of what it was drawn for, the investigation was dropped, and the governor told the people that some irregularity had occurred, but he vouched that Mr. Rogels was not to blame. I hold that Mr. Rogers, or his bondmen must be able to show and give account of such money.

Isoco county had $369,964 of debt July 1, 1924, and will keep the farmers busy turning the grindstone to grind out their taxes for years to come. Now, Mr. Taxpayer, it is for you to say whether the public bandwagon shall remain in the same old rut.

The federal government counts their debts by the billions, and the county by the hundreds of thousands and we assume this paltry sum must be considered small change only.

Yours respectfully,
Henry Anschuetz,
Supervisor of Tawas township.
