Northeastern Michigan Baseball League Almost Ready to Go

A meeting of baseball enthusiasts was called by President Finet of the Northeastern Michigan Baseball league at the Holland Hotel last Saturday evening but because of the absence of delegates from Harrisville, Twining and Alabaster, no definite plans were made. Mr. Norton and Mr. Stoner of Prescott were on hand to inquire as to the machinery of the league and assured the men present that Prescott would join.

At the present writing it appears that Alabaster, Harrisville, Prescott Tawas and Twining will be represented on the diamond this year.

FOREST WEEK APRIL 27—MAY 3

The week heretofore annually set aside by presidential proclamation as Forest Protection Week will hereafter be designated as American Forest Week, and its program will be directed by a national citizen's committee instead of solely by the United States Forest Service. Frank Lowden, former governor of Illinois, has been elected permanent chairman of the directing committee. The week has been designated by President Coolidge as that of April 27—May 3.

The American Forestry Association, the General Federation of Women's clubs, the Isaac Walton League, the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, the United States Forest Service and Friends of the Forest have undertaken to act with Governor Lowden in forming a general committee of about 100 representatives of as many national societies and associations. Through these organizations it is expected that every community in the country will be deeply stirred during American Forest Week to an appreciation of the dimensions and urgency of the nation's forest problems, such as protection from fire and destructive taxation, reforestation, extension of forest areas, utilization of the forests for recreational and industrial purposes, and the creation of conditions promotive instead of deterrent of forest maintenance.

Six vice chairmen were named to assist Governor Lowden; viz., Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman of Colorado, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Frank G. Wisner, Mississippi, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association; Will Dilg, Chicago, president of the Isaac Walton league; William B. MR. AND MRS. JOS. ASKEY RECEIVE INTERESTING LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA

Covina, Calif., March 5.

Dear cousins:
I want to tell you more of South California, the dearest place on earth to me, and where I wish to live until I am ready to go to my home in Heaven.

The climate is delightful all the year around, except in places that are far inland, and of course, these localities would have some rather hot days during the summer, although their winter climate is extremely pleasant. Los Angeles, which is situated about twenty miles from the sea coast, has a temperature that is comfortable nearly all the time, as the summers are not very hot, or the winters very cold. There are very few nights, even in the orange belts, when one can sleep without blankets on the bed, so the experience of restlessly tossing on a sleepless couch all night long, is unknown in this favored land.

Our climate is not only comfortable, but also healthful, being free from malaria and most disease producing conditions, and full of pure, invigorating ozone, and radiant, life-giving sunshine. It is no wonder that our people are long-lived and healthy when they can spend the greater part of the year out of doors.

Another one of California's charms is the abundance of beautiful flowers and delicious fruits and vegetables, which we are privileged to enjoy during the greater part of the year. One can always buy fresh fruits and vegetables in the open market, so there is little need of the use of canned goods.

Living conditions are very good here, and freedom from the tyranny of labor-unionism makes the workman's life a happy one. He can buy a home on the installment plan paying for it like rent, without the fear of being thrown out of work by a strike, and thereby rendered unable to meet payments. Many laboring men own their own homes in attractive parts of the cities where they live.

Southern California's industries are numerous and more are coming all the time, so there will be a chance for every competent and industrious worker to earn a living here. Educational facilities are of the best. There are many colleges and private schools and a public school system that is second to none in the United States. Many schools of music and dancing have been established, and several for instruction in the various branches of art. Last, but not least, we have the southern branch of the University of California. There is also a college of high standard known as the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. Other equally fine institutions are the colleges located at Claremont, Whittier, Redlands and Eagle Rock.

Southern California is pre-eminently a place of joy and pleasure, as is shown by the number of theaters, parks, dancing halls and other places of diversion that are found here. It has been called the playground of the world, and this name is very appropriate for there seems to be gladness in the hearts of the people, and an atmosphere of happiness in the whole southern part of the state. There are no insect pests and very few poisonous reptiles. We see people from all parts of the world who come to see California. We have the richest agricultural county in the United States, Los Angeles county. We also have a very friendly class of people here. These are a few of the reasons why the people of Southern California are happy.

Nearly all lines of business are in a thriving condition, and real estate is very active. New subdivisions are continually being opened near Los Angeles and large firms are extending their operations to country places like Azusa and Covina which are about twenty-five miles from Los Angeles. Some of the orange groves are being cut up into lots, so great is the demand for home sites in this region. The time is not far distant when it will be hard to find and desirable land for sale in southern California, for those who are so fortunate as to own it will be wise enough to keep it.

Los Angeles leads nearly all the cities of the United States in building, here bank clearings reach a very high figure and her other industries total millions of dollars. The motion picture industry alone brings enormous wealth to the city and adjoining communities, and also serves as an attraction for visitors.

There are many attractive beach resorts within a distance of eighteen or twenty miles of the city of Los Angeles, where one can either take a bath in the ocean or a boat ride upon it. Redondo Beach is a good fishing place, also Catalina, which is a little farther away and situated on an island, now the property of Wm. Wrigley, Jr. Catalina is world famous as the fisherman's paradise and it attracts many from long distances who come to enjoy this sport.

In conclusion, I will say that southern California is a land of health, happiness and prosperity. We who are so fortunate as to be residents of this favored locality are full of the joy of life and feel that it is a blessing merely to be alive in such a country as this, where nature has been so bountiful in bestowing her gifts of fresh air, sunshine, song birds, flowers and delicious fruits. But there is so much to say in praise of Southern California that it would take me a long time to tell it all, so I will leave you to find out the rest for yourselves when you come to make your home in this wonderful land of sunshine.

Your affectionate cousin,
Edith C. Knight.
Covina, Calif., Box 37, Route 1.

Fundamental Transportation

Into the vast and complicated network of Transportation in Michigan have been knit several accessory types of carriers. Yet it is noteworthy that each of these accessory carriers exists only through service by certain of Michigan's 24 Steam Railroads.

Electric railroads get their power from coal. Steam Railroads bring it to them.

Motor cars, trucks and busses use gasoline for fuel. Steam Railroads bring it from far-away refineries—bring, too, the materials for the paved highways on which motor vehicles run.

Not even ships are self-sustaining. Their coal meets them at the railhead.

Steam Railroads are Fundamental Transportation.

On their faithful performance everything else depends.

This responsibility is ever before the Steam Railroad men of Michigan. And they feel they are meeting it today better than ever before.

Does your experience confirm this belief?

Do you appreciate the absolute need of protecting this Fundamental Transportation from further restrictions adding to the cost of service?

American Forestry Association; and A. J. Hager, Michigan, representing Friends of the Forest. Headquarters for the committee will be in Washington with Edgar P. Allen, managing director, and Miller Hamilton, secretary. At this time more than seventy-five great associations have entered into the plan of cooperation.

Governor Lowden explains that public interest in forest restoration and protection had now become so general and insistent that it is necessary to broaden the designation of what had been forest protection week. The interest of the people in the forests is far more than that of protecting them from fires, fundamental as such protection is. It is that of national welfare, resting on the indispensability of wood in industry and commerce; and the importance of forests in stream control, irrigation, general agriculture, prevention of erosion, recreation, and climatic effects. Viewed in this light Forest Week has an appeal in the treeless regions as well as in the forest country; and the changes in public policy that must be made if the forests are to be perpetuated must proceed from a universally formed public opinion. The governor further pointed out that now that economic changes are beginning to make forest perpetuation profitable and therefore possible to private owners, a public movement in the interests of forestry has become practicable. Such a movement, he said, was also necessary to formulate and apply a great, latent public opinion in favor of further extension of public forests both national and state.

"What is beginning now," says the governor, "should have started 25 years ago, but happily our forest reserves are such that the immediate adoption of constructive, forestry policies will go far toward restoring our forests and bridging the interval of a scarcity of forest products."
