TWINING CHAMPIONS OF LEAGUE; SEASON ENDED

Tawas Only Team in League to Play Full Season Schedule

	W	L	Pct.

Tawas	8	4	667
Alabaster	6	5	545
Harrisville	0	12	000

Games Last Sunday
Alabaster 10, Tawas 8

The N. E. Michigan league season is over and Twining is again the champion. A game between Alabaster and Twining is now unnecessary as a loss by Twining would still leave the leaders on the top rung and Alabaster in third place.

Harrisville was a big disappointment this year, Tawas being the only team to play all four games with them, the failure of the Oscoda boys on their list to play with them leaving the lineup too weak to cope with the other teams.

Tawas was the only team to play her full schedule.

The finish of the season was all caused by Alabaster's win over Tawas last Sunday. None of the regular pitchers showed up so Otto Rahl was selected to attempt to stop Alabaster but Otto didn't have as good stuff as he did the Fourth of July and Alabaster smashed out sixteen singles and one double which with errors, counted ten runs.

Elmer Benson was batted out of the box in the fourth inning by the home boys and Tate took up the burden for the last five frames with no better success, eleven hits for a total of twenty-two bases being garnered off both men. But they were not bunched to as good advantage as Alabaster's so only eight runs resulted. For the fans who like to see hitting, the game was a complete success.

Art Dillon pulled the unusual feat of getting a home run inside the field.

The team, with some strengthening, will continue playing ball for a while, going to Alpena next Sunday and taking on the Schust Co. ball team for a second game the following Sunday, Aug. 30, at Tawas Beach.

Score by Innings:
First Inning, Tawas — Johnson walked and stole. Syze fouled to O'Keefe. Musolf fanned. Elmer Benson got Nelem at first. No run, no hit, no error.

Alabaster — O'Keefe singled to center. Bolen was safe on an attempted force at second. So was O'Keefe. Tate bunted a single filling the bases. Curtis singled O'Keefe and Bolen home and took second on the throw in. DeLosh doubled Tate and Curtis home. Syze got (Continued on last page)

"SEE AMERICA," JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD ADVISES

Says James Oliver Curwood, Owosso novelist, in an interview at Rome, Italy, where he had stopped in his European itinerary, wirelessly to America.

"Stay at home. That is my advice to the million prospective 'suckers' for the next year. See your own woods, lakes, mountains and beautiful cities, and you will see something you cannot find in flea-bitten, decaying, unprogressive Europe, where everyone is out to 'gyp' you."

He declared there were 150,000 American 'fish' in Paris when he was there, looking for something unusual with big, fishy, foolish eyes. They rave over paintings inferior to those in a dozen American museums, he added, and their eyes pop at the sight of mountains and lakes which in America would be ant hills and pools.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roach were among the leading spirits in the organization of the Johnstown-Windber Gun club several years ago and competition in the trap shooting contests of the organization were keenly enjoyed by Mrs. Roach as well as by her well known husband." IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of my dear husband, Peter Sawyer, who departed this life a year ago today, August 19, 1924.

This brings back the sad memories. Of one who has gone to rest, And those who think of him today, Are those who loved him best. Off and oft our thoughts do wonder, To a grave not far away, Where I layed my dear husband, One year ago today. More each day we miss you, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow, That lies within our hearts concealed. Peaceful be thy rest dear loved one, It is sweet to breath thy name, In life I loved you dearly, In death I do the same.
Mrs. Peter Sawyer.

Dr. G. Van Amber Brown, of the Woodward Clinic, who has been appointed superintendent of the new department, is going ahead with plans that indicate the new department will be one of the big features of the fair.

Mrs. Mary T. Watts, of Des Moines,
who is supervisor of the department,
is making plans to come on to Detroit
in ample time before the fair opening.

G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager,
speaking of the Fitter Families—Happier Homes contest, said: "This department is one that will fit in nicely with the other educational work the Fair has been carrying on for years and I am convinced that it is going to be a wonderful success."

Dr. Brown, who is taking a great interest in the work, has just returned from an extensive lecture tour in the upper peninsula, his lectures being along educational lines similar to the Fitter Families—Happier Homes contest. He is starting now to complete arrangements for the operation of the new department.

"We are going to use the model rural school house as a home for the new department, two floors being turned over for that purpose. The building is now being put in readiness. We look for the entry of several hundred Michigan families in this contest,
which will be in the future a permanent feature of the Fair."

Little by Little

The case was that of a street hold-up and as it neared the end the prosecutor said impressively: "You see how the rascal assaulted the plain folk. How could he go to such a length for the paltry sum of a half-dollar?" "Why not?" came from the back of the courtroom. "Half-dollars soon count up."

WORKERS PAID FOR DANGER THEY FACE

High Wages Earned in Hazardous Occupations.

According to announcement recently made in London, men who do roof work in that city will, in future, receive an extra payment of from one penny to three-pence (from two to six cents) an hour, according to the height from the street at which they work.

This payment, which has long been usual in the north of England, applies to work done where no scaffolding is provided, and to men working upon any outside roof with gutters less than a foot wide.

The equivalent of height money is paid in the United States to the men who work at bridge-building. The risks which the bridge builder takes can be gathered from the fact that the Quebec bridge cost 67 lives and the Blackwell's Island bridge 60.

You see the bridge builder walking quietly along a six-inch girder, hundreds of feet in the air, or balanced on a steel beam, catfiling in a pall of white-hot rivet fumes from a flaming forge 50 feet above him.

Divers are paid according to the depth at which they work—usually by special bonuses.

Lambert, one of the most famous men in the profession, once received a bonus of $22,500 for recovering $35,000 from a vessel deeply sunk and in a difficult position.

The average professional diver greatly prefers sea to land work. By land work is meant such a task as entering a flooded mine or tunnel, going to the bottom of a deep well, or doing such work as the underpinning of Winchester cathedral. The cathedral foundations are in peat, and when the peat was dug out water flooded in.

Divers were engaged to put in new cement foundations. They were six years at their work, and earned a very high rate of pay.

A mountain guide's fees are proportioned not so much to the height of the mountain to be climbed as to its difficulty. Some years ago a Philadelphia lady—Miss Maria Stoll—made a night ascent of the Winkelturm, in the southern Tyrol. The mountain is only just over nine thousand feet in height, yet the climb is considered one of the most difficult in Europe. It is said that the guide received a fee of $5,000 for the ascent.

English Fear Dirty Fruit

Dirty and even diseased Asiatics, working in filthy sheds in squalid lanes, are handling today the fruit we shall be eating next month, says the London Daily Mail in an editorial on "The Right to Clean Food." Continuing the paper says:

"That is the disagreeable fact revealed by Dr. Leslie Haden Guest, M. P., who has just investigated the conditions under which fruit and other food are prepared in the Near East. Doctor Guest found that in Smyrna figs, sultanas, and currants are packed on dirty floors, trodden by bare feet coming unwashed from the streets and gutters, and tainted by all the indescribable filth of the East. In theory the consumer is protected by certain safeguards. In practice, the rules are completely disregarded and the medical examination is the merest formality."

Five Years

Mrs. T. G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, said in Minneapolis the other day:

"Women are now more careful, even more reluctant about marrying, because they can now go out in the world and earn splendid salaries. Marriage is, in a financial way, a great sacrifice to some women."

"Two women met the other day in a department store. One, a spinster, wore a skintail coat. The other, a matron, wore a threadbare blue serge."

"Why, Mabel?" said the spinster. "How glad I am to see you. And they tell me you're married. How long have you been married, dear?"

"Let me see," said Mabel. "I bought this blue serge five years ago."

Altogether Too Late

A misanthropic young man was raving about the emptiness of life.

"The sooner the world ends the better," he said. "We all ought to be annihilated."

"My dear fellow," his friend replied, "the world's packed with interesting things. They've just discovered that human life began on this earth about a million years ago—and you talk of wiping us all out."

"A million years ago?"

"The papers are full of it."

"Oh, well," said the morbid man miserably. "It's too late to do anything about it, then."

Prove Safety in Flight

Persons who still are fearful of traveling in airplanes might well examine recently issued statistics of the army air service, says Popular Science Monthly. Between the fall of 1922 and the spring of this year army flyers have covered almost 700,000 miles over the model airways system without a single death. About 700 passengers have been carried and 60,000 pounds of express matter. There have been fifteen crashes in this period, but only one man has been injured.

LEAPS OFF FAST TRAIN TO CATCH ESCAPING MAN

Michigan State Detective Ricks Life To Capture and Bring Back Giant Negro.

This true story is just as good as fiction. It hinges around a policeman, jumping off a fast moving train right on the heels of a prisoner who had gotten away, how he chased him down the track, caught him and safely put him in irons for the remainder of the journey.

Arthur Trease, a detective of the Michigan State Police, whose duty is to transfer prisoners, is the hero, and Clarence Hicks, a parole violator from Jackson prison is the villain, as it were.

Hicks was arrested by the police at Reno, Nev., being identified as the Michigan parole violator from photographs and fingerprints mailed to all police departments by the bureau of identification of the Michigan State Police. Trease was sent after him.

Hicks is a big negro, much larger than Trease. Trease took the Southern Pacific route from Reno to Chicago. He had handcuffs on Hicks at all times except when they were in the dining car, when he took them off so that his prisoner could eat. After a meal just before the train reached Chicago, Trease was just in the business of replacing the cuffs on his prisoner's wrists when in one jump Hicks left the train through a door that had been left open.

Train Was Held

The train was going 40 miles an hour, but that did not stop Trease, who jumped right after his man. He took a spill upon hitting the ground, but suffered no more injury than to tear a heel from his shoe. He chased Hicks down the track for a mile before he was close enough to grab hold of his shirt and stop him. A fight followed, but the negro received much the worst of it. The conductor stopped the train for 30 minutes until Trease returned with his man, who is now safely behind the bars in Jackson prison. Most of the passengers on the train knew what was going on and were witnesses to the escape, the chase and capture.

Hicks was the first man to ever even nearly get away from Trease, who has had a lot of police experience, serving with the Pennsylvania State Police before coming to Michigan.

EXPRESSES THANKS FOR SOLVING MURDER

"The aid received from the Michigan Department of Public Safety saved Iron county thousands of dollars, which would have been required to bring this prosecution to a successful termination," said Prosecutor A. J. Waffan, following the conviction of Axel Nygard for the murder of 7-year-old Zyskowski, Iron River pool room proprietor.

The Michigan State Police, under the direction of Lieut. Fred Bedard, took an active part in the investigation which resulted in Nygard's arrest and subsequent confession.

The murder case was one of the most eventful and spectacular in the annals of Iron county circuit court. It was 13 months after the pool room was entered, five men held up, and the proprietor shot, before the slayer was caught.

Proof of the old saying that a gully ty conscience will betray itself was present in the trial, for Nygard contributed heavily to his own conviction. When cross-examined over crucial matters by the prosecution he collapsed and was assisted from the stand, a development, that in the minds of the jurors, was translated into the result of the burden of guilt.

LOCAL OFFICERS USE FINGERPRINT EXPERTS

Sheriffs and other local officials are using the services of the state's fingerprint experts from the Department of Public Safety at Lansing more and more. In June there were 25 requests for men to be sent out to assist criminal investigations.

An unusual case was one where burglars had entered a clergyman's residence, stolen the communion wine and drank it in the yard. Their finger prints were found on the bottles.

An average of more than 300 identifications a month is made by the identification bureau at Lansing. Under a new law all local officials making requests are required to send fingerprints to the state bureau. It often develops that persons arrested in one county are wanted for crime in another.

PRESIDENT GIVES PRAISE

President Coolidge has expressed his commendation of the work of the Maryland State Police who have formed his escort on several occasions while traversing that state. It will be recalled that President Roosevelt was also an active friend of the State Police idea.

TO BROADCAST FEATURES OF LEGION CONVENTION

Headquarters for the state convention of the American Legion have been opened at the Armory in Bay City. The convention committee of American Legion Post, No. 189, of Tawas City is ready to work for the big meeting, according to Commander Fred T. Leudtke, who reports splendid progress on plans.

At Bay City additional committee chairmen are announced as follows: Labor day program, E. Guy Ferris; Bay county war board, James E. Davidson; home guard committee, A. B. Radigan; Michigan patriotic fund committee, James E. Duffy; war industries committee, Harold Perry; war relief work, Mrs. C. J. Smith.

It is the purpose of these annual reunions of World War veterans to show their appreciation to all the various civil agencies that contributed so much to the winning and early ending of the war.

The state made a contribution of $3,000, and Bay City is matching that amount. Music, fire works, pageants, speaking by national notables, community dancing and singing and all other entertainment will be provided.

Chairman L. P. Keffer reported progress on the entertainment program and already it surpasses anything yet shown at a state Legion convention. Chairman Oscar Anderson reported a most ready response by the motor bus, motor truck and motor car owners of the city, so that the Legion visitors will find their transportation problems made easy.

Through the courtesy of L. M. Nims, station WSKC has been placed at the service of the American Legion of Michigan, both in arousing interest in the coming convention and in putting on the air special musical and other features during the convention. Amplifiers and loud speakers will be a novelty at this state convention.

To Tell Silver Fox

It is almost as important to be able to recognize a silver fox scarf as to own one. From a distance, a pointed fox with the white hairs inserted amidst the black looks the same, but in a real silver fox each white hair has a head of black at the tip, then a band of white and at the base another touch of black.

Fish That Climbs

Scientific investigation into the habits of fishes has shown that many of them are by no means helpless when out of water. There is, for instance, a tropical fish known as the climbing perch, which has the very curious habit of scrambling by means of its fins, up stones, roots, and even the trunks of trees, in search of the insects on which it feeds.

First to Foresee Eclipse

The first man, so far as historical records show, to calculate the time of an eclipse in advance was Thales of Miletus, who lived 640 to 563 B. C. He prophesied an eclipse which, according to modern reckoning, took place March 28, 585 B. C.

Ended Sunday Pastimes

Due to the collapse of a large theater on the Sabbath day in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, a general prohibition of all Sunday public pastimes followed.
