BOARD TURNS DOWN OIL WELL PROPOSITION

Plans to have the county father the drilling of experimental oil wells were turned down by the board of supervisors at the annual session held here last week under the advice of Prosecuting Attorney Stewart.

The proposition as submitted before the board at the April session was—two 40 acre tracts of land should be secured in the county on which to drill the proposed wells. The estimated cost and other expenses divided into stock units and sold to the public. The money received was to be paid into the county treasurer. The wells were to be drilled and necessary disbursements made under the supervision of the board. A committee was appointed at that session to investigate the matter consisting of W. H. Dickinson, E. O. Putnam and W. B. Piper. The committee made an investigation and reported at the last session.

A great portion of the work at the October session was by the finance and apportionment committee. The various items voted to be spread on the tax roll this year are: State tax, $19,079.11; county road tax, five mills on the 1924 assessed valuation, amounting to $42,700.00; $854 for the Iosco County Agricultural Society; $25,000.00 for county officers salaries and other expenses. At this session $100.00 was appropriated for the Children's hospital, $500.00 for the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau, $300.00 for the improvement of the athletic grounds at the fair grounds. The funds to complete this work are to be furnished by the Iosco County Athletic association.

The board authorized the county school commissioner to secure the necessary clerical help and supplies required in making the school census. Estimated cost $500.00.

Otto Rahl, superintendent of the Plainfield schools, was elected county school examiner. Wm. Elliott was re-elected poor commissioner.

An investigation of the fill on the new Hale-Long Lake road occupied some of the board's time Wednesday afternoon. The questioned fill is across a small lake and was declared by some to be a bottomless sink hole. Engineer Holliday and the county road commissioner assured the board that it is practical and the work would come within the estimated cost or at most, only a small increase.

On Wednesday the county poor commissioners invited the board and county officials to the infirmary where they enjoyed an excellent dinner.

UNIQUE FEATURES FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The 65th annual state-wide Sunday School convention, which convenes in Detroit, November 3, 4, 5, promises to bring several unique features into the program this year.

The general sessions of the convention will be held in the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, Woodward at Winder, while the sectional conferences occupy three additional churches, First Presbyterian, St. John's Episcopal and Central Methodist. The headquarters of convention speakers and many delegates will be at the Hotel Park Avenue, Park Avenue at Sproat, one of the new hotels in the Tuller system. Special rates have been secured for convention delegates. Those who have seen this new hotel are enthusiastic about its accommodations.

Delegates will be given lodging in Detroit homes if they request it before the opening of the convention. An excursion rate on all steam railroads in the state is available, requiring only that persons desiring the benefit of the rate, secure from the council a special certificate. The rate is available after October 30th and up to November 11th.

Persons interested in music, pageantry, religious art and drama will find an abundance of this material in the program of the convention. Professor H. Augustine Smith of Boston is being brought to conduct this part of the program. His temple of Fine Arts is being shipped to Detroit for inspection by delegates. His new pageant "The World at Prayer" will be given under his direction by Detroit talent.

TAWAS CITY SCHOOL NOTES

The following students in the Tawas City high school, who have maintained an average of B or over for the first five weeks of school are to be highly commended: Herbert Buch, Irma Kasischek, Walter Kasischek, Theodora Look, Margaret Osborne, Lucile Snyder.

The bi-monthly teachers meeting was held last Thursday. Discussion on "Dangers of Marking too High" caused much interest.

Mrs. Bagley called at the high school on business this week.

The annual state teachers meeting of District No. 2 is to be held next Monday and Tuesday at Saginaw. The fact that our registration is 100 per cent shows the loyalty of our teachers.

The members of the American Literature class are at present working out word study posters.

The tenth grade English class having finished five weeks of composition, will devote the next five weeks to readings.

The supervised study period of 3:30 to 4:00 for those who have fallen below the passing average in one or more subjects is being continued. The half hour after school is devoted to study, under supervision, of those subjects failed.

The high school is planning its annual sleigh ride party this year for October 31 instead of January 31.

We have begun to bring our Hallowe'en posters and find that we have some very original and well made ones among them.

In the seventh grade grammar class we have been studying stories to see how we can improve our own. As a result we have had some very well written stories.

The pupils of this room are getting a Palmer Method Overseer so that each one can tell where he makes his mistakes. We expect this to help improve our penmanship.

5th and 6th Grade

The Hallowe'en posters are finished and we have some very good ones. Some of the posters show a great deal of originality. Come in and look at our work.

The sixth grade arithmetic class is still struggling with decimals. Most of the pupils find that their main trouble lies in carelessness. They forget to apply the rules for using decimal numbers.

A marked improvement has been shown in spelling. The pupils who were in the habit of missing six and seven words do not miss more than one now. It doesn't take long to discover that a few minutes of hard study saves time in the long run. A few pupils can show improvements yet.

Two more pupils entered the fifth grade this week, making a total enrollment of 35.

We are losing in the attendance contest. The same pupils have the habit of staying out of school. We hope that those pupils will take a little of the responsibility of winning this contest. Everyone must help.

EUGENE HANSON ELECTED GRAND MASTER I.O.O.F.

H. Eugene Hanson of East Tawas was elected Grand Master of the Michigan I. O. O. F. at the eighty-first annual session of Grand Lodge held at Grand Rapids, Michigan this week. Mr. Hanson succeeds Charles F. Haight.

H. Eugene Hanson, who by diligence and faithful service in minor offices, has after 15 years hard struggle, been awarded the highest office which Michigan Oddfellows can confer on a Michigan Oddfellow, that of Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, having jurisdiction over 100,000 Oddfellows. It is very gratifying to know a boy from our county has made good by clean, conscientious service.

We can heartily say everything Gene undertakes to do he is on the job all the time. He takes a great interest in his own city also, as he is assistant chief of the East Tawas fire department and alderman of the second ward. He is a member of the Kanotih club, a band of boosters for the betterment of our county. He is also a member of the Tri County Hunting club whose object is to protect what game we have left in the three counties. Gene is not a one track minded man but is broad enough to grasp every opportunity for the betterment of the community.

We wish to extend our congratulations to him and also to Mrs. Anna Hanson, who was appointed to the

LEGION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING TUESDAY

Jesse C. Hodder Post, American Legion held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening at the billet.

While this meeting was for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, much time was spent in perfecting plans to secure subscriptions from the citizens for the disabled veterans and orphans endowment fund. It was decided that each member should make personal solicitations. During the next few days every person in the district will be asked to contribute to this fund. The use made of the money raised by this drive has been explained in an earlier issue of the Herald.

The following officers were elected: Ernest Burtzloff—Commander; Wm. Fitzhugh—Vice Commander; M. C. Musolf—Adjutant; N. R. Roberts—Finance officer; P. N. Thornton—Sgt. at Arms.

REDPATH ENTERTAINERS WELLED RECEIVED BY TAWAS PEOPLE

Last Friday evening's entertainment, given by the American Entertainers of the Redpath Entertaining company, was well received by Tawas people. The two young ladies, Misses Corine Jessop and Helen Portune, were pronounced as being the best ever.

Owing to the rainy weather, there was not the crowd that was expected, but as several good entertainments are in store for the people of the Tawas and vicinity, better audiences are looked for.

The Twentieth Century club are the back of the course and they put forth every effort in getting the Lyceum here and making it a success. Any surplus funds from the course goes to play ground equipment for the park. The club appreciates very much the interest displayed by the local business men and people of the town.

Millie Impolito

To the number of exotic creatures, "vampish" and otherwise, who fill across the celluloid sheet, may be added the name of Millie Impolito, who recently sailed from Spain for this country to play "vamp" parts in the "movies." Miss Impolito is of the typical Spanish type, with petulant mouth, flashing black eyes and vivid personality.

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

MULLEN-STALKS

ANXIOUS lovers in the rural districts of this country twist a mullen-stalk nearly off after naming it for the loved one. If the mullen lives your affections are reciprocated. If it dies they are not. In some sections if the mullen lives after this rite the new shoots (if any) which spring up are counted to see how many children will result from the marriage. From most ancient times mullen has been regarded as having a close affinity with the sun and being, therefore, a powerful plant to conjure with. The bright yellow flowers, clustering about the long, conical head of the mullen-stalk, gives it the fancied appearance of a candle glowing with yellow light caught from the sun, and the name itself comes, by a circuitous process, from a Latin word connecting it with a candle.

In England the mullen is still called "high taper" and in Germany "king's candle." Its relation to the sun is further shown by the custom of the Prussian peasants of bending down a mullen-stalk after dark toward the point where the sun will arise, praying at the same time for the recovery of a sick person or sick beast. Thuringian peasants dig up mullen-root at mid-night on midsummer eve—the sun's especial time of power—with a golden coin (a miniature sun) and wear it next their bodies to keep off disease. German peasant girls pick mullen-stalks at midsummer and hang them over their beds as a charm, and their fathers pass mullen-stalks over the midsummer fires and hang them over their cattle sheds to keep off disease and witches.

Snakes That Burrow

There is a class of snakes known as burrowing snakes which live underground. They have a cylindrical rigid body covered with generally smooth and polished scales; a short, strong tail; a short rounded or pointed head with narrow mouth. Some species of snakes bury themselves in the ground and hibernate throughout the winter.

RED CROSS FINANCES SHOW WIDE SERVICES

Past Year Cost $10,321,679.80; Duty to Ex-Service Men Paramount.

Washington.—The national and international services of the American Red Cross are portrayed graphically in a statement of the Red Cross finances for the past fiscal year ended June 30, 1925. Expenditures by the Red Cross (including both the National Organization and the Chapters) during this period aggregated $10,321,679.80.

The obligation of the American Red Cross to the ex-service and service men is represented in this sum by a total expenditure of $4,225,292.61. In the interests of disabled veterans, the Red Cross expended $3,577,916.42, of which $1,677,916.42 came from the National Organization, and $1,900,000 from the more than 3,000 Chapters and local branches of the society. Red Cross services to the men of the Regular Army and Navy the past year called for $647,376.19, of which the National Organization furnished $310,376.19, and the Chapters, $337,000.

Sharing in importance with this responsibility was the Red Cross work of disaster relief during the year. In these operations there was absorbed a total of $1,922,782.90 up to June 30, this year. This represented $1,622,782.90 of National Organization funds and $300,000 from the Chapters. Relief in foreign disasters amounted to $285,579.35. This sum was appropriated altogether by the National Organization.

Insular and foreign operations of the American Red Cross during the year included relief in foreign disasters, the League of Red Cross Societies, Junior Red Cross Foreign Projects, assistance to insular Chapters and similar functions. Besides its disaster relief, the National Organization financed these other branches of foreign work also, including $110,238.72 for assistance to insular chapters, $177,450 for the League of Red Cross Societies, $34,384.43 for Junior projects abroad, and $80,057.62 for other insular and foreign operations.

In addition to its paramount duty to assist veterans and other service men and their families, and its disaster relief, the Red Cross expended at home through its national and chapter funds, a total of $1,029,616.05 for its Public Health Nursing Service; $154,135.09 for nutrition instruction; $314,422.76 for First Aid and Life Saving; $446,707.34 for Junior Red Cross; $132,759.88 for instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; and carried on similarly important home duties. Included in the latter were such valuable services as the Enrolled Nurses' Reserve, for which the National Organization expended $45,562.64; while other national operations at home amounted to $302,957.64. The chapters, in addition to the large part they played in all Red Cross activity, spent $678,000 of their own funds on general chapter services.

The broad humanity of the American Red Cross can never be measured by the money it costs, but even in bare terms of dollars and cents, the scope of its work is indicated. A study of these facts also shows the necessity for the largest possible enrollment, since Red Cross service is maintained almost entirely by its membership. The annual invitation to participate in this work through membership in the American Red Cross, is extended from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving, November 26.

Red Cross First Aid Popular in America As Accidents Gain

The rapidly mounting toll from traffic accidents has brought home to the public the necessity of being prepared to render prompt assistance while awaiting the doctor. During the past year 355 chapters of the American Red Cross were instructing classes in First Aid, and in the same period certificates were issued to 26,601 persons qualified by Red Cross experts.

Many cities throughout the United States are showing interest in securing first aid instruction for their police and fire department personnel, and through the work of local chapters, practical results have been obtained in such cities as Washington, D. C.; Toledo, O.; Boston, Mass.; South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind.; Port Arthur, Texas, and other communities. In co-operation with the State authorities, intensive training in first aid and rescue methods has been given to State police and constabulary members at four State training schools.

Instruction in these subjects in public and private schools, colleges and universities has increased during the year. Attention has been given to training teachers at institutes and summer schools.

The Red Cross first aid railroad car has been in continuous operation throughout the year. It covered 10,840 miles, visiting 137 cities, where 1,200 meetings were conducted by the surgeons, with a total of 146,227 people.

Industries particularly have availed themselves of the instruction afforded by the Red Cross. The Western Electric Company, for example, reports a reduction of the accident rate per 1,000 employees.

TAKE OFF YOUR "MISTER"

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I CALL him "Mister" when we meet Who never met before. About the third time on the street, Or the second in the store, If he's the sort of man I like, I drop the "Mister"—now it's "Mike" Or "Bill" or "Bob" or "Jake" or "Jim" Or anything they christened him.

There's some folks who are "Mister" when You meet and when you part, And "Mister" when you meet again— You never seem to start To get acquainted, or to kid, Or act familiar—if you did You very soon would likely find That they're the well, the "Mister" kind.

This "Mister"—here's what "Mister" is: It's like the hat you wear. Who ever wore that hat of his Inside and up the stair And at the dining table, too? What would you think of folks who do? Yet there are people full of style Who wear their "Misters" all the while.

Take off your "Mister" when you call At any house of mine!— And hang your "Mister" in the hall When you come here to dine. You're "Mister" maybe on the street But here you're "Frank" or "John" or "Pete." So, when your overcoat you doff, Please also take your "Mister" off. (© 1925, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
