WELL KNOWN GUIDE TAKEN BY DEATH

The death of Richard Crego at his home near Boonville, Thursday, marked the passing of one of the best known guides and woodsmen in the central Adirondack region. Mr. Crego had been in poor health for over a year.

Deceased was well and favorably known in Boonville and vicinity. He was one of the oldest guides in the Adirondacks. For more than fifty years he spent most of his time in the big woods. Mr. Crego was at one time president of the Brown's Tract Guides' association and over 20 years superintendent of the estate of the late Thomas Page at Big Moose.

Mr. Crego was respected by all who knew him. Always of a jovial and kindly disposition, he made many friends who will miss his happy smile and pleasing personality. He was a man of strong character, ever devoted to his wife and family, who sadly mourn his loss.

Mr. Crego was born at Turin, May 25, 1855, the son of the late Paul and Eliza Crego. Fifty-three years ago in Boonville he married Alzina Joslin. To them were born six children, three of whom are living, Mrs. Mabel Williams and Erve D. Crego of Boonville, and Roy G. Crego of Utica. Besides the widow and children there survive two brothers, Ernest and Judson Crego of Hale, Mich., and five grandchildren, Clarice and Marjory Williams of Boonville, F. Taylor, Lewis and Richard Crego, Jr., of Utica.

The funeral was largely attended from the home of his son, Erve D. Crego, this village, Monday at 1 p. m. Rev. C. G. Roop of the Methodist church officiating. — Boonville (N. Y.) Herald.

$2,000,000,000 BROUGHT INTO STATE MY TOURISTS

According to statistics compiled by the East Michigan Pike Association the tourists and resorters visiting Michigan have left a golden stream of cash totalling $2,000,000,000.

Bases for the figures are a report from Secretary of State Charles J. DeLand, a statement from Superintendent of State Parks P. J. Hoemaker, the report of State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers and traffic on the state ferries, a statement from the Michigan Central railroad, a comparison of the telephone toll traffic made by the Michigan Bell Telephone company, a report of non-resident anglers licenses from John Baird, director of the Michigan department of conservation and definite reports of increased business from resort hotels, commercial hotels, chambers of commerce, wholesale dealers, etc.

T. F. Marston, secretary-treasurer of the East Michigan Tourist association, said:

"The estimates of the tourist and resort business of the state for 1925 season are interesting because of previous difficulty in securing figures from which a computation could be made. One of the great aids in getting basic figures this year was the gas tax. Mr. DeLand estimates that during the three months of summer the out-of-state tourist left $200,000,000 in the state through this agency alone.

Reports show that the attendance at the state parks were in excess of 2,000,000, an increase of 200 per cent over the 67,000 who stayed at the parks last year. Alpena estimates that the resort business alone meant $1,000,000 to the city this summer. State ferries carried more cars during the month of July this year than during the months of May, June and July last year. An aid in securing figures were the reports which the association receiver from its inquiry list. Five hundred inquiries were queried by mail and interesting data were received. These data showed that 35.9 of the visitors stayed at hotels, 36.1 stayed at cottages, and 27 per cent used the camps. Each party averaged 4.6 persons and the averaged stay of each party was 15.5 days.

"Previous estimates of the tourist and resort business have ranged from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000. We believe that the estimates of $200,000,000 for the 1925 season is fairly conservative for this third industry of the state."

One of them, Tuccia, was falsely accused of a want of chastity, but the goddess Vesta permitted her to carry water in a sieve as a sign of her innocence. Leroux' picture depicts that episode.

Better Buick operating costs are very low. This car is thrifty—both in purchase price and in ownership.

Buick design protects all operating parts from dust and wear—barricades them with iron or steel housings in the famous Buick "Sealed Chassis" and "Triple Sealed Engine".

The famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine develops more power from a given quantity of gasoline than other types of engines.

And now, the Buick oil filter makes it necessary to change crankcase oil only at rare intervals.

Even smaller, less powerful cars do not match the Better Buick in low cost of operation and maintenance. You add to your power to economize when you buy a Better Buick!

Who has heard of the "church in the wood" in the village of Hollington? Regarded as one of the quaintest churches in England, it is situated in the heart of a wood. SAVE CHILDREN FROM INJURIES BY SAFETY PLAN

STATE POLICE VISIT RURAL SCHOOLS TO ORGANIZE JUNIOR PATROL AMONG SCHOLARS

Hope to Cut Down Total of Deaths From Auto Accidents.

To diminish the tragic number of fatalities and severe injuries to children through traffic accidents is the aim of a state-wide campaign undertaken by the Michigan Department of Public Safety, of which the State Police is the principal unit. During the winter, when the troopers are not so much needed for highway patrol work, they will visit the rural schools in furtherance of this campaign.

There were nearly 14,000 children killed in traffic accidents last year in the United States and of this total Michigan furnished a large quota. A very large proportion of the accidents were outside the larger cities.

This safety campaign is a natural adjunct to the patrol work of the State Police in seeking to make the highways safe through arrest of reckless and careless drivers. It is being personally directed by Alan G. Straight, Commissioner of Public Safety, who has seen many instances of the sorrowful result of reckless driving.

Form Junior Patrol.
The work has been divided up between the various posts of the State Police and, as their duties permit, the troopers will be assigned to visit the schools, talk on safety matters and organize the "Safety Patrol." This patrol is to consist of pupils in the schools, designated by the principals, these being among the older children.

It will be the duty of the Safety Patrol to watch over the other children when at play and when coming to or going from school. Each pupil so designated will be furnished with an arm band in green.

Any member of the Safety Patrol who performs a meritorious act, such as saving another child from death or injury, will be awarded a distinguished service medal supplied by an automobile club. These will be similar to medals awarded soldiers for war time service.

The Safety Campaign.
The school talks will deal with dangers to be avoided by the children. They will be told of the perils incident to roller-skating on the concrete roads, coasting down hills which cross highways and other acts which imperil life and limb. Advice will be given to walk on the left side of the road so as to face oncoming vehicles and be in position to step off the road out of danger.

Enrollment cards, pledging the children to practice safety on the highways, will be distributed.

Captain C. J. Scavarda, in command of the uniformed division, recently broadcasted a highway safety talk from the radio station at Michigan State College.

TOURIST BODIES TO ERECT NEW HOME

Officers of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau and the East Michigan Tourist association, following their annual meeting, announced plans for the erection at Bay City of a new office building to house the business administration of the two bodies. The site is a small park, centrally located and owned by the Pere Marquette Railroad company which has been leased to the two bodies at a nominal price.

The building will be rustic structure of logs and stone typifying the pioneer period and reminiscent in architectural design of East Michigan's recreational resources. While logs and stone will be dominating constructive materials, the rustic atmosphere will be emphasized throughout even to interior decorations, furniture, finishing and fixtures.

A huge fireplace built of stone will accent the hospitable spirit of Michigan residents toward the visitor from other states. Herman Lundén, of Lewiston, president of the Bureau, brought to the annual meeting a large stone slab, which will be used as the keystone for the fireplace. Lumber mills, stone quarries and allied industries in East Michigan, it is expected, will volunteer the contribution of basic materials. One concern has already offered to supply interior work in which the enterprise specializes, gratis. Virtually every material used in the construction of the building will be the product of East Michigan soil and factory.

An inlay map of East Michigan over the portal will meet the eyes of the visitor traversing the street.

Some idea of the interest already manifested in the proposed building is gained from the fact that the Bay county board of supervisors which subscribes $2,000 annually to the work of the organization has also voted $1,000 toward the expense of constructing the building. Many other boards of supervisors in the district are expected to follow the example of Bay's supervisors.

It is possible that tickets of admission to forthcoming meeting of the two organizations will be a stone which members from different localities in which 37 counties of the district will contribute for the fireplace to be situated at one end of the building.

Tree Surgeons Advance
Tree surgery is making marked advances. Many of the professionals in the business are discarding the concrete and cement filler and use a material made from baked cork, put under high pressure. This new filling is both permanent and flexible. Being lighter than the wood it replaces, it is conducive to quick healing of the wound by the pressure.

Best Months for Savings
January and October are the banner months for savings accounts. After New Year's money gifts received at Christmas are put in savings funds banks for summer vacations, and in October salaried people begin to save for the holidays.

Book Borrowers

All of us suffer from people who borrow our books and then forget to return them. In time we cannot remember what has become of the missing volumes. Keep a card or small notebook at hand near the bookshelves and each time a book is borrowed jot down the title, the borrower and the date. Then when a reasonable length of time has elapsed do not hesitate to ask for the return of the book.

Measure of the Great

Great men are the ambassadors of Providence sent to reveal to their fellow men their unknown selves. There is something about them better than they do or say. If measured at all, they are to be measured in the responsive action of what others do or say. They come and go in part a mystery, in part the simplest of all experience, the compelling influence of truth. They leave no successor. The heritage of greatness descends to the people.—Cassius M. Coolidge

FINGERPRINT LAW MADE EFFECTIVE

Detective Lyle W. Morse, a fingerprint expert attached to the head quarters of the Michigan State Police at Lansing, is now on a speaking trip which is taking him to every city, village and hamlet in the low part of the state, explaining the provisions of the new state law relative to fingerprints.

Lieutenant H. B. Erickson, who is in charge of the department, recently made a similar tour of the upper peninsula.

The new fingerprint law which was enacted by the 1925 state legislature and which became effective the latter part of August, provides that all law-enforcing officers shall have fingerprints taken of every one arrested for a felony, and that they shall send copies of the prints to the State Police headquarters. There are a number of technicalities which the two officers also are explaining for the benefit of the local law-enforcing officers.

The new law has the endorsement of the Michigan Police Chiefs' association and they aided in obtaining its passage.

LAWLESS ELEMENT ORGANIZES

Because of the achievements of the new Rhode Island State Police in closing up gambling places and disorderly road houses, as well as breaking up the whisky-smuggling business, strong opposition to continuance of the force is predicted at the coming session of the legislature. Strong political forces are reported as against the troopers.
