SUPERVISOR

A. W. SCHAAF DIES SUNDAY

Andrew W. Schaaf, Supervisor of Wilber township, died Sunday night at his home after an illness of two years. Mr. Schaaf was also a member of the school board of District No. 1, Wilber. During his long illness, all that medical skill and loving care could do was done, but all was of no avail.

Andrew W. Schaaf was born at Adrian, Mich., October 27, 1883, being 44 years, 11 months and 16 days old at the time of his death. He was united in marriage on June 24, 1903 to Miss Loretta Kirkendall at Wilber. Three children were born to this union, Floyd E. Schaaf and Russell A. Schaaf of Flint and Leona L. at home. He leaves to mourn besides his wife and children, an aged mother and a number of half brothers.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Wilber M. E. church, Rev. J. W. Le Van officiating. Burial was made in the Wilber cemetery.

In all his dealings, a more trusted and honest man would be hard to find. He held the office of Supervisor five years and was township treasurer four years. In all his public work he believed in justice and mercy to all, using enemies and friends alike.

The following lines describe the weary sufferer:

"He does well who does his best; Is he weary? Let him rest. Brothers, I have done my best, I am weary, let me rest."

TO GEORGE ALLEN PRESCOTT A TRIBUTE

The following memorial, written by Miss Edna Otis of East Tawas, was read at the recent convention of the Isoco County Council of Religious Education:

We cannot measure the fragrance of a beautiful flower, nor can we compute the influence of a life well-spent.

Since the last annual convention of Isoco county Sunday school workers, the all-wise Father has deemed it best to call home one of our co-workers—George Allen Prescott.

It is altogether fitting and proper, then, that we, at this time, pay a tribute to him, and for memory's sake, do him honor.

Mr. Prescott was my friend. How many of us, gathered here tonight, would use the same phrase to designate an acquaintanceship with him. How many of us, who counted him friend, find that a responsive chord is touched by the poet who penned the words:

"About the little chambers of my heart,
Friends have been coming—going—many a year.
The doors stand open there;
Some, lightly stepping, enter; some depart;
Freely they come, and freely go, at will;
The walls give back their laughter;
all day long
They fill the house with song—
One door is shut; one chamber still."

Mr. Prescott was a pioneer of Isoco county. We who bring in pioneer families know that his name is, as it were, a household word—standing for business integrity unquestioned; for a splendid manhood that exemplified the Christian principles of life.

An employer of labor in other years, when the length of a day's work was the limit of a man's strength, when questions on which employer and employe disagreed were usually settled by strikes or lawsuits, instead of by calm arbitration, Mr. Prescott and the firm he represented were singularly free from those entanglements that perplexed other large employers of labor engaged in work identical with their own.

No tribute to Mr. Prescott would be complete if it left untouched his political life. High political honors were his, yet he kept faith with his friends and acquaintances; his reputation was unswerving. The electorate of Michigan would have been proud to have given him their highest gift—the governorship—but this he declined, and for reasons that showed the ruling motive of his life—the high ideals that produced on last page

ORGANIZE EXTENSION CLASS FOR TEACHERS

An extension class for the teachers and those interested in the work was organized at East Tawas High School last Saturday by Dr. Harrold from Michigan State Teachers College. Two subjects in English will be given. The next meeting will be Saturday, October 27, 1:00 P. M., Central Standard time. The work will be given in the afternoon this year.

SCHOOL NOTES

High School
All departments of the school will be closed Monday and Tuesday of next week to enable the teachers to attend the annual convention of the Michigan Education Association. The session for this district will be held at Saginaw.

Miss Crosby was called to her home in Unionville last Thursday evening because of the serious illness of her sister. She returned to Tawas Monday.

The botany class is now studying the history, classes, and uses of some of the members of the grass family. One of the most interesting members of this family is the corn plant, a product which Columbus found being grown by the Indians. Barley is another member of the same family, and it has a particular significance because of its antiquity.

The baseball team crossed bats with the team from the East Tawas high school Thursday after school for a five inning game. While we are not exactly certain in regard to the score, we believe that it finally stood six to two. No Tawas City did not secure the six.

The Senior class furnished a short program last Friday afternoon. The feature was the report of the football trip to Ann Arbor by Howard Swartz.

The school building was entered Tuesday night, and several of the teachers' desks were sacked. It is evident that the purpose was to secure any money which might be found. A small amount was obtained from one desk. The matter has been reported to the sheriff.

Several of the high school students went to Oscoda Wednesday afternoon to witness the maneuvers at Camp Skeel.

Seventh and Eighth Grades
The seventh grade has a geography project book, containing maps and questions, which will be used as a supplement to the text book. Arthur Koepke's penmanship drills were chosen as the best in the seventh grade.

We were glad to have Albert Blust visit us during the week.

Fifth and Sixth Grades
Patricia Braddock brought a wasp's nest to school Monday. We became so interested in it that we spent our opening exercise period discussing the habits of these original paper makers.

We are delighted with our new "Geography Problem Projects" books which arrived last week. The first work done on our maps was not very successful but we feel sure that our second map will be a splendid accomplishment.

Fred Wright has been advised by a physician to leave school for a time because of ill health.

Third and Fourth Grades
Another new pupil, Alfred Larsen, enrolled in the third grade Monday morning.

The fourth grade is busy making maps for geography.

EAST TAWAS WINS N. E. M. CHAMPIONSHIP

The East Tawas baseball team is now perched on the throne of Northeastern Michigan, for which honor the Pinconning team fought so gallantly last Sunday but was disappointed by a score of 3 to 1.

Krueger, Pinny hurler who made a splendid record in the southern league this season, and Halligan, an likewise brilliant performer in the central section, were the opposing pitchers, and performed in excellent fashion, Krueger allowing only five hits, while Halligan allowed one less. Krueger, however, had a considerable edge over Halligan in the strikeout line, getting six to Halligan's two.

Pinconning scored its lone run in the first inning when Groat singled, stole second, and took third and home on two successive overthrows. Stan Noel pushed one over the right field fence in the second inning to tie the score. The remaining two East Tawas runs were scored in the seventh inning when S. Noel singled, H. Lixey grounded out, catcher to first, Noel going to second, J. Noel singled, scoring S. Noel, and going second on the play home. J. Noel scored when Mathieson dropped M. Lixey's fly to center.

Last Sunday's game marked the close of a very eventful season for East Tawas. It included in its list of victories such teams as Alpena, Alabaster, Essexville Aetnas, and others, bringing up the end of the season by winning two games and dropping one to Pinconning, winning the deciding game with a strictly East Tawas team to clinch the North Eastern Michigan championship.

BUSTER KEATON WAS ANXIOUS TO FIGHT

Did you know that one of Buster's boyhood ambitions was to be a professional prize-fighter? While touring the world as a member of his parents' vaudeville act, "The Three Keatons," Buster met all the great and near great in fistiana. John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Tom Sharkey, James J. Jeffries and other stars of the prize ring patted little Buster on the head and predicted he would be famous some day. The youth outgrew his professional pugilistic ambitions, and became instead an amateur boxer of note. He is still enthusiastic and numbers among his thousands of friends practically all the ring champions of today. When he is not making a picture he rarely misses a championship bout.

Buster's latest picture, "Steamboat Bill, Jr.," which comes to the State Theatre Sunday and Monday, shows his proficiency with his fists.

Relative to Fixing legislative territory and districts.

Amendment to Section 3 of Article V of the Constitution relative to fixing legislative territory and districts.

Sec. 3 The house of representatives shall consist of not less than sixty-four nor more than one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines.

And provided, That in the case of cities heretofore organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. Each county, with such territory as may be attached thereto, shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of representation.

In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof according to the last preceding enumeration.

Relative to Acquiring land and property for boulevards, streets and alleys.

Sec. 5 In exercising the powers of eminent domain and in taking the fee of land and property that is needed for the acquiring, opening and widening of boulevards, streets and alleys, municipalities shall not be limited to the acquisition of the land to be covered by the proposed improvement, but may take such other land and property adjacent to the proposed improvement as may be appropriate to secure the greatest degree of public advantage from such improvement.

After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such needed public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

Relative to Compensation of members of the legislature.

Sec. 9. Henry Seafort had the misfortune to get his left leg broken last Thursday while working on the road. He was driving a tractor grading the road, when the tractor reared and fell back on him. He suffered a broken leg and a badly bruised arm. He was taken to West Branch Sunday, where an X-Ray showed the large bone below the knee broken in two places and the small bone in one place. His many friends are wishing him a speedy recovery.

Frank Bronson, a pioneer of Iosco county, and a resident of Reno for nearly 30 years, died very suddenly of heart trouble at his home here Friday. He had been ill for about a week, but had been about aiding what he could. His condition was not considered serious. His wife, who was in the next room when he suffered the attack on his heart, heard him fall from his chair and rushed to him, but he passed away before she could get any assistance.

TO GEORGE ALLEN PRESCOTT A TRIBUTE

claim the Christian gentleman. He felt that the responsibilities of the office would mean the sacrificing of ideals, in some instances, or the estranging of friends, in other instances. To him, a political preference could not compensate for the loss of either.

As a man is, the people of his home town know him. Thus it is that we know Mr. Prescott as a man who stood behind every movement that made for civic betterment. Thus it is that we know all great humanitarian enterprises could rely on him for moral and financial support. And we are proud to know that when Herbert Hoover looked to Michigan for a man to carry out his food conservation policies when the World War was exacting its toll of human life, he chose George Allen Prescott.

Mr. Prescott as the wise counselor of adults, as the fatherly advisor of young people, as the friend of boys and girls—this is the man whom the home folks knew. He was never too busy to give a word of greeting to all whom he met. He was never too engrossed with business affairs that he had no time to spread good cheer. He was never so satisfied with his own personal comforts that he failed to remember those whose larder might be depleted, or whose coal bin might be empty. He was never so lacking in time that he had none to give as a laborer in the Master's vineyard. He gave of all unstintingly, without ostentation, without expectation of earthly reward.

I recall that, at our last convention, when Mr. Prescott spoke on adult work, he opened his heart to us. He had been ill for several weeks during the winter months, and his physicians had warned him that at any time the call might come. Unafraid, he prayed—not for more time to set his house in order, but that he might be spared a little while longer to win for the Master's kingdom the few in his Sunday school class whose hearts were untouched by Divine Love.

It is a source of rare comfort to know that Mr. Prescott's wish was that his last resting place might be among the friends in the humbler walks of life, whom he had known and loved so long.
