$20828.56 COMES TO COUNTY FROM AUTO LICENSES

Today County Treasurer W. H. Grant received Isco county's apportionment of the state highway fund amounting to $20,828.56. This is the largest amount Isco county has ever received from this source. Last year the county received $19,674.35.

The total distribution from revenues collected in 1929 will be $10,810,406. The law provides that seven-eighths of this shall be apportioned to the counties in proportion to the collection from them for auto license plates. The remaining one-eighth, or $1,351,300, shall be distributed equally to all counties. Under the latter provision each county will get $16,280. The total amount returned to the counties is equal to one-half the total weight tax revenue for the year.

The greatest previous payment was for 1928 when the counties were paid $9,363,486.

Wayne county heads the list with $3,852,397 due as its share of the apportionment. This is in addition to the $16,280 to be paid alike to all counties.

WILLIAM LATTER BUYS THOROUGHbred SIRE

William Latter purchased a pure bred Aberdeen calf, Earl of Quality No. 428322 fourteen months old and weighing 1100 pounds, from W. E. Scrim, Wildwood farms, Lake Orion, last week.

This sire has excellent breeding. His sire was an International Grand champion in 1926, and his granddam was imported from Scotland at $2,500 when a calf.

Mr. Latter can justly feel proud of his new herd sire and anyone wishing to see this fine animal is welcome to come.

ROBERT GOLDEN

Robert Golden passed away at his farm near South Branch Tuesday morning, December 31. Although Mr. Golden had been in poor health for the past two years due to a complication of ailments, his sudden death came as a shock to the community at large.

The deceased was born in Canada on December 27, 1861, and came to Isoco county when a young man. He was employed by Mr. Prescott and Temple Emery for a number of years clearing and cleaning up the lands which are now known as the Prescott farm near Prescott, and the Emery farm near the Ausable river in Isoco county. Later he went to South Branch to live. In November, 1913, he was united in marriage to Lizzie Bowen, who survives him.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, January 2, from the Baptist church, South Branch, with Rev. Eyer officiating. Burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

ELKTON EDITOR, 23, SAID TO BE YOUNGEST IN MICHIGAN

Editor and publisher of his own weekly newspaper at the age of 23 is the record of E. Irving Steinhurst, who has directed the policies of the Elkton Advance for the last seven months.

Mr. Steinhurst is said to be the youngest newspaper editor and publisher in the state of Michigan.

The young editor came to Elkton seven months ago from Flushing, where he was employed for eighteen months as compositor on the weekly newspaper of that place, The Flushing Observer.

At that time, no newspaper was published in Elkton, as the Optimist, the newspaper formerly published there, had suspended publication several months before.

During the seven months, Mr. Steinhurst has managed the newspaper efficiently and has made it a success.

The columns of the paper are newsy and the advertising space has increased greatly.

Mr. Steinhurst was born in Tawas City and attended school there. He learned the trade of printer in the office of the Tawas City Herald.

While in the employ of the paper at Tawas City, he was machine man, compositor, and general utility man.

After leaving Tawas City he was employed by the Flushing Observer and came from Flushing to Elkton. —Port Huron Times-Herald.

"THE BISHOP MURDER CASE"

A CORKING GOOD MYSTERY

That S. S. VanDine's best seller, "The Bishop Murder Case," is fully as exciting on the screen as it is in book form will be proven when the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking thriller will be shown at the State Theatre Sunday and Monday.

This cleverly contrived tale of a madman who murders indiscriminately, leaving a black chess bishop and a sneering verse in "Mother Goose" rhyme beside each victim, has been effectively adapted to the screen by Lenore J. Coffee with the direction in the joint hands of Nick Grinde and David Burton.

The audience will go into ecstasies of shivering and gasping as four of the characters are done away with while conjecture as to the identity of the mysterious "bishop" runs rampant. However, true to mystery-film form, the solution of the puzzle is not revealed until the last few feet of the picture.

A capable cast helps make this picture the splendid entertainment it is. Basil Rathbone as Philo Vance, detective, handles his role with a convincing manner; Leila Hyams, more attractive than ever, has the principle feminine role, which she plays to perfection; Roland Young displays the same abilities which made him so popular in the "Unholy Night." Other fine performances are given by Alec B. Francis, George Marion, Zella Sears and the large supporting cast.

"The Bishop Murder Case" is a sure bet for those who like suspense, surprise, originality and finished acting.

SCHOOL NOTES

High School

Final examinations for the semester are being held this week in all grades above the fourth. A few are also being given in subjects in the lower grades.

Report cards in all departments will be given out next Wednesday. These cards will then contain the grade obtained by the pupil for each of the first five months of the school year, the grade obtained on the final examination (if an examination was taken) and the final grade for the semester. Parents should examine these reports carefully and cause their prompt return to the teacher. If the card is not presented to the parent, inquiry should be made, as there must be some cause for this neglect.

Mr. James Mark, Sr. has again kindly secured a "Railroad Calendar" for all of the rooms in the central and ward buildings. One of the features of this calendar is the painting by Walter L. Greene. This painting portrays the eastward and westward Centuries meeting at the New York Central's new terminal at Buffalo, New York. Teachers and pupils should feel grateful for this yearly remembrance of Mr. Mark.

Two subjects will be offered in high school next semester that were not offered this semester. Advanced civics will take the place of economics, and advanced arithmetic will take the place of algebra.

We hear considerable favorable comment regarding the talk given by Professor M. L. Smith at the last meeting of the local Parent-Teacher Association. He certainly has spent much thought and effort in obtaining facts concerning the subject of the evening; that is, "School Consolidation."

Here are some more advantages of the consolidated school over the one-teacher rural school:

1. The pupil's wider circle of acquaintance improves manners, strengthens individuality, develops initiative, and self-reliance.
2. Quickens public interest in schools, broadens the social sphere of community life, and develops community spirit.
3. The satisfaction of parents in knowing their children are attending a well regulated school conducted in the most modern way, in a building where heat, light, ventilation, and hygienic conditions are given proper attention.
4. Better school room equipment and apparatus are secured at less cost because the needless duplication is eliminated.
5. The professional improvement of teachers through their daily association with other teachers.

Third and Fourth Grades

We received a large calendar from Mr. Mark. Several of the children also brought pretty calendars.

Arlene Leslie visited our room Tuesday.

Primary

Mrs. Henry Heldberg visited us Thursday morning.

Mr. James Mark gave us a nice new calendar for this year.

The second graders have each written a letter to Miss White, their last year's teacher.

Ward School

Grades 1A, 1B, two and three are reading in the Companion Readers, having finished their basal readers.

Ray Cox, Violet Bowen, Mina Brown and Mrs. P. N. Thornton visited us during the week.

Our perfect spellers last week were: Victor Girard, Bob Fitzhugh and Ellen and Norma Malcolm.

We wish to thank Miss Hardies and Miss Morel for sharing their library books with us.

HARD TIME PARTY HELD AT LAKESIDE TAVERN

About ninety people, who were apparently applicants for rooms at the county infirmary or at least in need of temporary relief from the county poor commission, gathered last Friday evening at the Lakeside Tavern and played progressive pedo for practical prizes. At midnight lunch was served and prizes awarded.

In making the awards there was diverse opinion among the judges in all except one case, that of the young lady who, that she might attend made herself a gown from burlap sugar sacks. Here the judges were unanimous and even the competing candidates felt that her sad plight deserved the prize.

The prizes were awarded as follows:

Highest number of points in pedo: Men—Burlay Wilson, sack of flour; Ladies—Mrs. Charles Beardslee, box of groceries. Low prizes—Raymond Smith, bottle of ketchup, and Mrs. C. F. Smith, bottle of vinegar.

Poorest dressed: Ladies—Miss Edna Hardies, one pound of butter; Men—Archie Colby, one pound of coffee.

Old fashioned dress—Mrs. M. C. Musolf, one pound of cocoa. Character—George A. Prescott, Jr., five pounds of sugar.

If President Hoover would have called a meeting of the big industrial leaders at the tavern Friday evening, he would have learned the effects of the great business depression and the Wall Street panic, too. Perhaps if he would have made a joint meeting with the crime commission, he could have solved his two major problems at once.

While this party should have been a sad spectacle, it proved a merry one, and those ladies who have been under a strict diet and exercise regime to procure lythe and willowy figures for the new spring wearing apparel, lost about six months' hard work, if it is true that "To laugh is to grow fat."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luedtke, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moeller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moeller and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Barnes were hosts and hostesses.

"THE COCK EYED WORLD" IS FIRST RATE ENTERTAINMENT

Raoul Walsh's most recent directorial effort "The Cock Eyed World," an all-talking Fox Movietone picture, offers first rate entertainment with special vocal and instrumental specialties. This picture emphasizes Walsh's versatility. In fact, it is one of the season's outstanding productions.

It's keynote is the continual battle between Flagg and Quirt of "What Price Glory" fame. Their love affairs provoke a series of laughs, in fact, some of the situations are so amusing that the audience howls. There is a consistent balance of pathos and well sustained tensely human situations. It plays at the State Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. You are advised to see it for it is an entertaining production one should not miss.

And of course our old friends Vic McLaglen and Ed Lowe are Flagg and Quirt, respectively. You will enjoy them more in this production than in "Glory" because everything is heard that this colorful pair of "leathernecks" say about each other in "The Cock Eyed World," and just leave it to a pair of hard-boiled marines to wisecrack.

Sna-kling Lily Damita is the charmer who intrigues them in the tropics; Lella Karmelly makes life sweet for them in Russia; and Jean Rary has the boys fighting over her in Coney Island.

We repeat, "The Cock Eyed World" is one picture you must see.

WILL TAKE NEWS REEL OF SPORTS AT GREENBUSH

A moving picture news reel will be taken of the winter sports party which will be held at Greenbush Saturday and Sunday. Hundreds from Detroit and Bay City will be in the Inn to take part in the winter sports. T. F. Marston of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau, will be among those present.

Carl E. Schmidt, who has been furthering this great winter sports project at Greenbush, has issued a special invitation to local people to take part in the activities at Greenbush Inn on those days.

Skiing, skating and tobogganing, surrounded by the gorgeous winter landscape, makes Greenbush one of the most popular of winter resorts, and as inspiring as anything the movies show you of eastern or European resorts.

The new return slide will make tobogganing more exciting than ever: for at the bottom, your toboggan is taken by a moving ramp up to the top of a second hill and raised slide, and you skoot up yourself, as easily as you shot down with that elevator-drop-breathlessness that makes children of us all. Which means that tobogganing at Greenbush Inn this season will be as much a center of winter sociability as the skating and iceboating.

The World's First postage Stamp

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

THE recent announcement from London that the world's first postage stamp had been placed on sale in that city attracted unusual attention not only from stamp collectors but from the public in general, because it emphasized the fact that this present-day common convenience, millions of which are used every day, is of comparatively recent adoption. For this stamp, an English one bearing the likeness of Queen Victoria, is still attached to the envelope on which it was used and bears the postmark "Bath, May 2, 1840." This means that the postage stamp in its present form is less than a hundred years old.

The first postage stamps in the United States were put on sale in New York on July 1, 1847. Previous to that time, postage stamps were issued by private companies doing a general express or local delivery service of letters. On January 1, 1842, the City Dispatch Post, otherwise known as Greig's Post, was established in New York city, and it is said that this Post issued the first adhesive stamp used in this country. But the use of these private stamps proved such an annoyance to the government that it was suppressed and in its place the United States City Dispatch Post was established.

In the early days of the United States postal system the receiver of a letter paid for its delivery according to the number of sheets of paper which the letter contained. In 1845 this system was discarded and the weight system was adopted with a lower rate. About the same time came the envelope to give secrecy to letters. Prepayment of postage and the use of gummed stamps were put into use in 1847. During the first fiscal year of their use postmasters were supplied with 890,380 postage stamps to be sold to the public. Now, 83 years later, the Post Office department is supplying some 14,000,000,000 stamps every year to the 50,000 postmasters in the United States!

Since the first gummed stamps were issued in 1847, there have been a dozen distinct series of regular postage stamps with additions to each after their issue. Only 16 of our Presidents have been honored by having their portraits appear on our stamps, while 19 other persons prominent in American history have been thus remembered.

Washington and Franklin have been honored in every regular series of stamps from the beginning and Jefferson and Lincoln have seldom been omitted. The other Presidents pictured on various issues are: Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Taylor, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Harding and Wilson. Memorial stamps also have been issued for Lincoln on his one hundredth birthday anniversary in 1909, for Harding shortly after his death, and for John Ericsson, the inventor, on the occasion of the unveiling of a statue to him in Washington in 1926.

The other men whose portraits have been selected for stamp issues are, besides Franklin, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Winfield Scott, Alexander Hamilton, O. H. Perry, Edwin M. Stanton, William T. Sherman, John Marshall, David G. Farragut, Robert B. Livingston, William H. Seward, Nathan Hale, Capt. John Smith, Christopher Columbus and Vasco Balboa.

Only three women have had that distinction. Martha Washington was the first, as was befitting the "First Lady of the Land," and the other two are Queen Isabella of Spain and Pocahontas, the Indian princess.

Most interesting of all the stamps issued by the government, perhaps, are the special series, issued from time to time, known as commemorative stamps. The first of these appeared in 1893 to commemorate Columbus' discovery of America. There were sixteen of these stamps, ranging in denomination from one cent to $5, each one telling a little of the story: Columbus in Sight of Land, the Landing of Columbus, the Flagship of Columbus, the Fleet of Columbus, Columbus Soliciting the Aid of Isabella, Columbus Welcomed at Barcelona, Columbus Restored to Favor, Columbus Presenting Natives, Columbus Announcing His Discovery, Columbus at La Rabida, Recall of Columbus, Isabella Pledging Her Jewels, Columbus in Chains, Columbus Describing His Third Voyage, Isabella and Columbus, and Columbus alone.

After five years another commemorative series followed, known as Transmississippi-Omaha stamps, issued during the Transmississippi and International exposition. The nine denominations, ranging from one cent to $2, were titled Marquette on the Mississippi, Farming in the West, Indian Hunting Buffalo, Fremont on Rocky Mountains, Troops Guarding Train, Hardships of Emigration, Western Mining Prospector, Western Cattle in Storm and Mississippi River Bridge.

The Pan-American exposition at Buffalo in 1901 was marked by another series, depicting means of transportation. A lake steamer was shown on the one-cent stamp, a railway train on the two-cent, a steel-arch bridge on the five-cent, ship canal lock on the eight-cent and an ocean steamship on the ten-cent stamp.

The next special series celebrated the purchase of Louisiana from France. The stamps bore severally the portraits of the men most responsible for accomplishing it—Robert R. Livingston, minister to France at the time; Thomas Jefferson, President, and James Monroe, special ambassador to France.

In 1919 a special three-cent stamp was issued to commemorate the successful outcome of the World war. It depicted a figure of Liberty victorious against a background of the flags of the United States, England, France, Italy and Belgium.

In 1920 the Pilgrim Tercentenary was celebrated with three stamps illustrated by the Mayflower, the landing of the Pilgrims and the signing of the Mayflower Compact aboard that historic ship. The coming of the Huguenot-Walloons to America was celebrated in a tercentenary series in 1924 and the arrival of the first immigrants to the United States from Norway in 1695 was also the inspiration for another series, known as the Norse-American series.

During the past five years the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of many of the stirring deeds of the Revolutionary war has given the impetus to a large number of patriotic issues. The first of these came out in 1925 with the issue of the three Lexington-Concord stamps. Then came the Sesquicentennial stamps with the Bell of Liberty in 1926, closely followed by the White Plains Battle stamp in the same year, the Green Mountain Boys of Vermont and the Burgoyne Surrender in 1927, Washington at Valley Forge, and Molly Pitcher in 1928 and the George Rogers Clark and the General Sullivan stamps in 1929.

During 1930 other events of the Revolution probably will be commemorated and a movement has already been started for a special series to celebrate the tercentenary of the Massachusetts Bay colony founding.

Two special stamps, honoring great Americans, have appeared in the last three years. In 1927 Lindbergh's epic flight across the Atlantic was honored in a special air-mail stamp and during the past year Thomas Edison was honored with a stamp commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp. In connection with the latter two, many persons wondered why portraits of Lindbergh and Edison did not appear on the stamps which bore the message of their fame. The reason was that the law of the land prohibits the use of the portrait of a living American on the postage stamps of our country. (And for a similar reason this article is not illustrated with reproductions of any American stamp. It is "agin the law" to illustrate United States stamps, the same as United States currency or coins!) So the Lindbergh stamp showed his famous plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, and the Edison Light Golden Jubilee stamp showed a picture of the first incandescent light.

Another interesting fact about the Lindbergh stamp is that 15,000,000 of this issue were printed. Virtually all of them have been bought up, giving Uncle Sam a net profit of $1,000,000, post office officials estimate. Since only a few of the stamps have been used, the officials estimate that at least 10,000,000 of them will be retained as souvenirs. The fact that these stamps contain an error will make them more valuable in later years, it is predicted. The error is that Newfoundland is shown as several islands instead of a large piece of land fringed with indentations.

About 10,000,000 postage stamps are printed for our Post Office department each year by the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington. Dies are made and stamps are printed in sheets of 400 each. After being printed and dried the sheets are taken to the gumming machines. Each machine is surmounted by a tank from which a carefully regulated stream of special gum is fed into a pan, at one end of which it comes into contact with an adjustable revolving roller. After being gummed the sheets pass into a tunnel where the temperature is kept at 130 degrees. This tunnel is 72 feet long and the stamps take a minute and a half to traverse it.

Although the postage stamp is a comparatively recent innovation in usage by mankind, the idea of a postal service conducted by the government for the carrying and distributing of the written messages between its people goes back to ancient times. The first "postal systems" were in Babylonia, Egypt and China, but they were little more than mere courier services to keep the kings and emperors and government officials in communication with their subordinates.

HOW TO LIVE LONGER

Saving Time Is No Life Saver

DESPITE the fact that another car was coming around the corner, a corpulent man of sixty-five was determined to catch the one ahead. So he ran and fell and died! Just what use he intended, to make of the three minutes he was trying to save will never be known. Dead men tell no tales!

What is going to happen when efficiency has been speeded up to the point where almost all time is saved, is a highly speculative problem. But it is quite certain that the time-saving mania will slay countless thousands before that mark has been even remotely reached. The basis of this prophecy is on the present-day facts.

Labor saving machines, dirigibles, airplanes, express trains, subways, the telegraph, the telephone and the radio are all great and useful inventions. But to employ such marvelous devices to crowd a former week's activity into one day, and then frantically rush for the five-fifteen train, is permitting business to interfere most dangerously with personal affairs.

Bodies, including hearts, were made in the Garden of Eden. And that spot was not noted for its killing strenuousness, if reports are to be credited. That there have been no new models constructed to meet today's devitalizing pace is the significant fact which is frequently and fatally overlooked by many.

Let machines do the hurrying for you. If they wear out under the stress and strain of modern demands others are obtainable. Bodies, on the other hand, are not replaceable.

It would appear to be the height of wisdom always, and under all circumstances, to save yourself first, and save time last. Saving time by unwise hurry-flurry is no life-saver.

Much Ado!

THERE is much ado just at present in the magazines relative to the arbitrary employment age limit. One is advised that men past forty years of age are automatically barred by some concerns, and past forty-five is the outside limit in many others. Rather hard luck on these poor chaps, it seems. But business is business!

Well, that may be so. On the other hand, a man's usefulness is not so much determined by the passage of time as it is by his physiology. Take Henry Ford for example. Not to mention nearly all the Presidents of the United States.

The real test of a man's fitness is not how long he has lived but in what manner he has lived his life. It is this fact that to a marked extent, determines physical fitness for the man of middle age or older.

One cannot escape the fact that life has been startlingly speeded up in the last decade. Bodily requirements as a result have been even more disregarded than formerly was the case. Consequence—premature old age!

It does not take a specialist to note that the old "young" men of today have respected nature's law and have in this manner conserved their strength and life. And while there is no law against the burning of the candle at both ends; and no one will be sent to jail for sleeping too little, eating too much, exercising not at all and otherwise outraging the physical economy, just the same a penalty will be exacted for such foolishness. And it is quite likely to be a severe one.

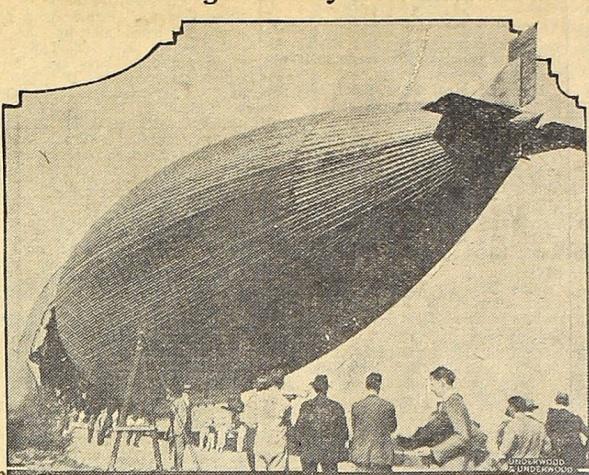

Life in the world of today is such a miraculous adventure in itself that to get out of it before it is absolutely necessary, or to be only half alive while in it, is positively pathetic and criminal.

Prudence, thought and right living habits can conserve vigor and vitality in many instances—with old age, and even death itself, thereby definitely deferred.

Let there be much ado, but you do the doing—for health, happiness and long life!

PLANE LANDED WITH A GIANT PARACHUTE

Safety Appliance May Be Standard Equipment.

San Diego, Calif.—Parachutes large enough to lower a crippled plane to the ground, several of which have proved successful in experiments, may soon become standard equipment for mail and passenger planes. One of the leading parachute companies will be ready to equip air lines with them in about six months.

Capt. Roscoe Turner, commercial aviator, landed a plane with one of the large parachutes at Santa Ana, Calif., last spring. His test was not wholly successful, as the landing gear of the Thunderbird plane was demolished when the ship struck the ground. On the other hand, when a pilot is forced to desert his plane and resort to the ordinary type of parachute it results in the wrecking of the ship.

The parachute used by Captain Turner, and by Carl Osle for an earlier test, is the invention of J. M. Russell. Has Series of Valves.

Working on a parachute that had to be fifty or sixty feet in diameter, Russell found that the greatest difficulty was in getting such a large piece of silk to open out after it was released. The device that he perfected to overcome this difficulty is a series of valves.

The parachute has three rings of valves, or vents, in the fabric, one in a circle around the top, another several feet below the first and a third about half way between the lower edge of the silk and the center of the parachute. When it is released the air forces the first series of vents to open. The parachute is filled, not from underneath as in the case of the small instrument, but through its sides.

As soon as enough air has accumulated in the top of the parachute it forces the valves shut from inside. When the second series opens, brings in more air which closes them, and the third series operates in a similar manner. The parachute requires about five seconds to fill with air.

Cheaper Than Separate 'Chutes.

A parachute fifty feet in diameter is large enough to support a plane that carries three or four persons. A thirty-passenger plane, Russell believes, can be supported in a parachute ninety feet in diameter. The plane is fastened to the parachute by four lines from different points in the fuselage, holding the plane steady.

The cost of a parachute large enough for a thirty-passenger plane would be about $3,500. This would be less expensive, however, than providing separate parachutes for each passenger. Most operators believe it unwise to provide individual parachutes, even aside from the question of expense, as they give rise to fear among passengers. The large parachute, which would not be seen by the passengers, would have no such effect upon them.

The parachute is carried in a cylinder above the fuselage. It can be released instantly by the moving of a lever. In case of a fire the parachute could be released, freeing the pilot and other members of the crew from the controls so that they could fight the fire, which would be easier to control when the wind-stream from the propeller had stopped.

Length No Criterion of Size of Dirigible

Dirigibles being of such great length, the average person is inclined to compare them on the basis of the distance from the stem to the stern of the bag. A convincing illustration of the error of this is revealed in the comparison of measurements between the new metal dirigible and the Graf Zeppelin. The former is about one-fifth as long but only one-twentieth the size of the latter.

"Size" is a matter of cubic feet content of the bag which holds the lifting gas. The dirigibles being built for the navy at Akron, Ohio, are not much longer than the Graf Zeppelin, but their size fairly dwarfs the German ship.

WARNINGS OF ICE GIVEN BY A DEVICE

Most Serious Problem of Winter Being Solved.

Los Angeles, Calif.—King Winter is discovering that his assaults against the planes of a western air transport company are unavailing this season due to a little device that sets against the leading edge of one of the wings, which looks and performs a function similar to a thermometer.

It is called an ice-warning indicator and when a thin film of ice, which forms when the air temperature is about 32 degrees, begins to collect on the top wing surfaces, the pilot is notified and he sends the ship either up or down, to fly into warmer or colder air.

As a result, not one plane of the air transport company has been forced to descend because of ice particles which alter the curved surfaces of the wings. The small instrument which conveys this all-important information to the instrument board before the eyes of the pilot, has demonstrated its value several times between Albuquerque and Kansas City.

Everett Drinkwater, superintendent of maintenance, has announced that all the planes of the company are now equipped with the instruments, including mail and passenger ships.

The problem of preventing the ice from forcing ships down has long bothered aviation engineers. Efforts to heat the wings have failed. The greatest difficulty is that pilots are seldom warned until their ships start to settle and all the power of the motors fail to keep the plane in flight. The ice-warning indicator meets the problem.

German Firm's Rigid Blind Flying Course

Washington.—The Deutsche Lufthansa has established a course in blind flying at its Berlin-Staaken base in order to accustom traffic pilots to night flying or through fog by the aid of instruments alone, according to a report from Assistant Trade Commissioner A. Douglas Cook.

The Deutsche Lufthansa has equipped three different types of planes in such a manner that two pilots are seated side by side, one having an unobstructed view and the other sitting in a small cockpit in which frosted glass or shutters produce the effect of flying in fog or darkness. This latter pilot can see nothing but his illuminated instruments.

From the accompanying pilot he receives orders after the start to hold a certain course, change the course or carry out any maneuvers. Possible mistakes can always be corrected by the second set of controls.

Air Industry Employs Nearly 25,000 Workers

Washington.—Nearly 25,000 persons are now employed directly in the manufacture of airplanes and airplane motors in the United States, a survey made by the Department of Labor reveals.

Aside from manufacturing, the industry also gives employment to much labor both directly and indirectly. Factories and hangars must be built; pilots both for mail and commercial work must be employed; schools of instruction are coming into existence; and many mechanics and other ground employees are needed at air fields.

Employment also is given to persons engaged in the manufacture of material used in planes. Airplanes also have their effect on the production, distribution and consumption of gasoline.

Plants manufacturing airplanes are found in 29 states, New York being the most important with 4,396 employees. This is followed by California with 1,605 employees.

Other states with more than 1,000 persons employed in the making of airplanes are Michigan, Washington, Kansas and Ohio.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

Airship Expected to Lower Record

Atlanta, Ga.—Some time next spring when the elements between Los Angeles and New York return to normalcy, Doug Davis, crack Atlanta pilot, expects to fly the distance in about twelve hours.

The record, now held by Capt. Frank Hawks, is close to seventeen hours. But that fact apparently offers little obstacle to the man who recently clipped three hours from the record of the trip from New York to Atlanta.

He used a Travelair "Mystery" ship—a bullet-like monoplane which looks like a bumble bee upside down but which functions with unprecedented efficiency.

Davis won the cup for America's most meritorious flyer of 1929 in the same projectilelike craft at the Cleveland air races. He was in New York early in November and wanted to enter it in an air race in Atlanta.

So he took breakfast in Gotham and lunch in Georgia, actually flying the 800 miles in four hours and thirty minutes through rain and fog. The entire trip required five hours, with two stops of fifteen minutes each for fuel.

Davis believes his "Mystery" ship has greater possibilities than any similar craft extant, believes its highly developed maneuver ability and excessive speed would make it an invulnerable fighting unit in time of war.

He recently said that shortly he expected to open its throttle somewhere in the vicinity of the ground, point its nose "absolutely straight up," and cut swiftly heavenward for one solid mile at an angle of 180 degrees.

Already he has climbed to 3,000 feet in that manner after a 250-mile-an-hour start. Present equipment of the plane, he said, does not permit more altitude because of gas tank adjustment, which he expects to alter.

The plane can take off at an angle greater than 45 degrees and hold it

"all the way to the ceiling," Davis said. "I believe it is unquestionably the fastest climbing plane ever built."

It is an open cockpit affair and responds so swiftly to the controls that a sudden change of direction will produce temporary blindness for the pilot. That happened in the Cleveland races, Davis said, when he rounded a pylon too abruptly.

A nine-cylinder motor of 300 horse power twirls the plane's 22 degree pitch propeller 2,300 revolutions per minute and propels the whole craft more than 250 miles an hour.

"A novice is out of place at its controls, but it is perfectly safe in the hands of an experienced pilot," he said.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Deafness in Insects

The sense of hearing was the last of the five senses to be developed in the great scheme of evolution. Few insects can hear. Even the highest types of insects, such as ants and bees, are deaf although the senses of sight, smell and touch are very keen. Flies are also deaf.

Westminster Loses Favorite "Cop"

London.—This is a story about a big man with a big record, about weights, lengths, measures, parliamentary procedure and dignified physical scuffles in the house of commons. In brief, about George Fulcher, weight 294 pounds, twenty years a policeman in the palace of Westminster.

Fulcher has retired. Fulcher not only was the most popular member of the parliamentary police staff, but also the most impressive. When he trod down the long medieval, dimly lighted corridors the whole British empire, with the possible exception of Australia, knew about it.

He was particularly useful in the event of an occasional row within the sacred precincts of the house. All Fulcher had to do was walk right into the dozen or so rioters and it was then only a question of the old irresistible force against whatever object stood in the way.

Fulcher knew hundreds, thousands, even, of M. P.s. for it must be recalled that Fulcher was a fixture in the house of commons while M. P.s are not. But Stanley Baldwin probably could tell you more about it.

House of commons police have a bigger beat to cover than many of the metropolitan police out on the streets. They have two miles of corridors to cover on each floor. In some respects the house is like the Grand Central station. There are shops where one may buy postal cards. There are innumerable restaurants for all manner of folk. There are visitors' restaurants, members' restaurants and employees' restaurants.

Then there are innumerable tea-rooms, and, in the words of a prominent lady M. P., all bad.

All these things tend to make Fulcher yearn for his old job. So much so that according to recent reports the former big man of the house has become a mere shadow of his former self and is said to weigh but a mere 280 pounds, having lost a full stone since he left the dignified portals of Westminster palace.

Death for Eskimo "Purifier"

Winnipeg.—Believed by the Northwest Mounted Police authorities to have been a victim of a recurrence of the wave of religious mania which swept over this lonely land about ten years ago, a young Eskimo inhabitant of the interior of the southern portion of Baffin land became demented and shot and killed his parents and a young woman relation.

He shot at but missed his brother. The Eskimo tribe of which he was formerly a law abiding member kept him in close confinement through a long winter, but in the spring, after he had twice escaped their vigilance, they pushed him through a hole and drowned him beneath the ice of the antarctic.

Sergt. J. E. F. Wight, in charge of the detachment at Lake Harbor, reported that last winter, accompanied by Constable P. Dersch, he made a long patrol through a section of southern Baffin island, where white men were unknown before the great war. He learned the story from the tribe in which the tragedy occurred.

The report stated that Mako Glik, a young man, became obsessed with the idea he was a purifier of his race. He told his relatives he had heard a voice from heaven telling him to kill all his people. He promptly proceeded to put his mission into operation.

As Mako was obviously under a spell the Eskimos did not know what to do with him. The nearest post,

Lake Harbor, was 500 miles away, and they had no means of making such a long journey with a madman.

They bound him up with thongs of sealskin and kept him under guard in an igloo all winter. About March of the following year members of the tribe decided that they could not keep him any longer. They told police that the men of the tribe were all worn out by this time in maintaining a sharp vigilance lest Mako should escape and continue his crazy plan.

They summoned him before a meeting of the whole family one day and told him he had to die. They gave him his choice of the manner of death. He could be shot, stabbed or drowned—whichever he preferred.

But Mako did not wish to die, they told police. However, his end was decided upon, and a hole was made in the ice. He was pushed through this and river currents carried him to his death.

ENDURANCE TESTS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

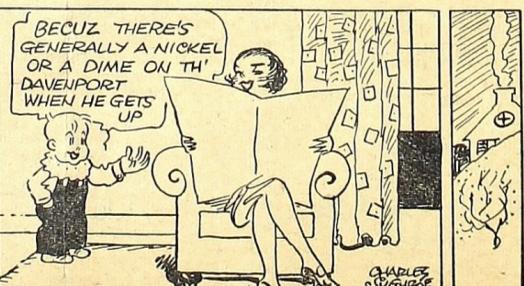

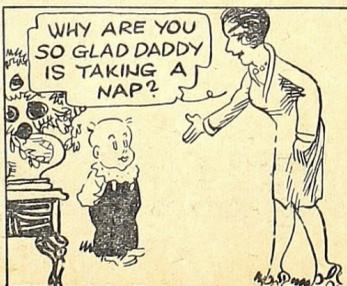

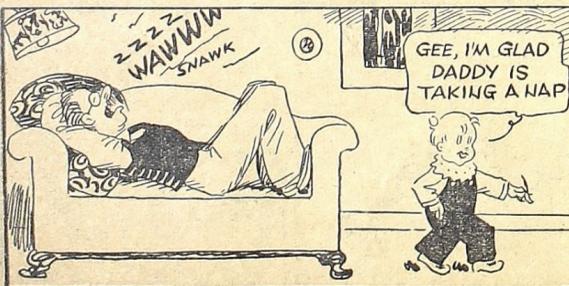

I suppose that even in pre-historic and pre-civilization times human beings vied with each other to see which could endure certain physical or mental strains though never more so than now. Sometimes, possibly, there was virtue and progress in such contests; some times there was only the satisfaction of vanity or the winning of a prize contributed by those who are willing to give prizes to see some one else suffer, or make a fool of himself in testing his endurance. The athletic contest of today is often little more than an endurance test.

When I was a boy we used often to see who could hold his breath the longest under water. So far as I could see then or even now with the widened perspective of intervening years, there was no advantage to anyone either then or later, in one's holding his breath an unbelievable period of time, excepting as one could boast about doing without oxygen longer than the other boys.

I have just read in the evening pa-

The upsets of Children

All children are subject to little upsets. They come at unexpected times. They seem twice as serious in the dead of night. But there's one form of comfort on which a mother can always rely; good old Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation can't harm the tiniest infant. Yet mild as it is, it soothes a restless, fretful baby like nothing else. Its quick relief soon sees the youngster comfortable once more, back to sleep. Even an attack of colic, or diarrhea, yields to the soothing influence of Castoria.

Keep Castoria in mind, and keep a bottle in the house—always. Give a few drops to any child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is bad. Continue with Castoria until the child is grown! Every drugstore has Castoria; the genuine has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

It sometimes happens that a man doesn't get in bad because he is a coward.

Nature has its "headaches next day" as well as man. A storm is its headache.

How A College Athlete Keeps Himself Well

BOB DEMING of Colgate, claims that a sensible method of health has really made life a pleasure for him. Mr. Deming writes that at first he could not believe this simple thing was the cause of his buoyant spirits. Finally, however, he had to admit that it was Nujol which was keeping him, well, besides giving him, as he says, "five times the vitality."

Robert O. Deming fancy diver on Colgate University Swimming Team.

the whole story. He is right in believing that Nujol contains no drugs, no medicines of any kind. It is tasteless and colorless as pure water. It is simply harmless internal lubrication, which your body needs as much as any other machine. Regularly as clock work, Nujol cleans out of your body those poisons which we all have, and which make us low in our minds, tired, headachy, and below par.

"Believe me," he says "having free and regular bodily elimination makes all the difference in the world to a diver as well as to any other athlete. I can't afford to be nervous, sluggish, or depressed while diving. It just isn't done! I would like to urge any one, whether they think they are in good health or not, to give Nujol a try-out. It certainly can't do any harm, and I'll bet it would make them feel a hundred per cent better. It's worth trying!"

Mr. Deming has just about told

The way for you to find out how much better Nujol will make you feel is to try it for a few days. You can get a bottle in a sealed package at any drug store. It costs only a few cents, but it makes you feel like a million dollars. Do you know how many thousands of people keep themselves well and happy just by using Nujol? Why shouldn't you feel well all the time? You can! Get yourself a bottle of Nujol today!

When money has been in the family for three generations the family finally learns how not to waste it.

It is unfortunate that a youth has to sow wild oats before he can learn how worthless the crop is.

Any COLD

That cold may lead to something serious, if neglected. The time to do something for it is now. Don't wait until it develops into bronchitis. Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Or as soon as possible after it starts. Bayer Aspirin will head off or relieve the aching and feverish feeling—will stop the headache. And if your throat is affected, dissolve two or three tablets in a quarter-glassful of warm water, and gargle. This quickly soothes a sore throat and reduces inflammation and infection. Read proven directions for neuralgia, for rheumatism and other aches and pains. Genuine Bayer Aspirin is harmless to the heart.

50 horsepower six cylinder engine

Not until you drive the new Chevrolet Six can you appreciate what a wonderful improvement has been made in its famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. With its capacity increased to 50 horsepower, it has great reserve energy for sweeping up the steepest hills—for swift acceleration —and for sustained high speeds. Its power flows evenly and smoothly. And it is extremely flexible in traffic. In fact—it does everything you could possibly want a motor to do. Yet it is remarkably economical in its use of gasoline and oil. Come in today for a demonstration.
