

Poland Established as Nation to Reckon With

Taking Its Place in Spotlight of World Affairs.

Washington.—Poland's strategic position between Soviet Russia and militant Germany brings this aggressive European nation more and more into the spotlight of world affairs.

"Twenty years ago the name of Poland could not have been found on any map of Europe," says the National Geographic society. "Today it is the sixth largest nation in Europe, with a steadily increasing population that will soon reach 40,000,000."

"Once before Poland was a great power. In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries its territory extended from a point within fifty miles of Berlin to the meridian of the Sea of Azov, and from the Khanate of Crimea nearly to the Gulf of Finland. In those days Warsaw, next to Paris, was the most brilliant city in Europe.

Divided by Powers.

"Then came weak rulers and internal dissension that paved the way for Prussian, Russian, and Austrian expansion. In the three disastrous partitions of 1772, 1793, and 1795 these powers divided Poland between them, then legalized the proceedings by the congress of Vienna in 1815.

"The state had ceased to exist but the people never lost their fierce nationalism. After a century and a half of oppression came the proud day in November, 1918, when Marshal Pilsudski returned to Warsaw to be acclaimed as chief of the new, independent Polish state. The treaty of Versailles established the western boundaries of the new nation, and after a serious struggle with Russia, the eastern border was fixed by the Riga treaty of 1921.

"Under Pilsudski's leadership Poland has developed rapidly despite tremendous handicaps. Long years of fighting had devastated the land. Russia, Prussia, and Austria each left the stamp of its domination, different systems of government, education, and law.

"The Versailles treaty left Poland surrounded by nations jealous of land that had once been theirs. Today peaceful relations have been established, particularly with Germany and Russia. It is significant that last year these two nations, together with Great Britain, provided the best markets for Polish trade.

"Pilsudski remains the arbiter and hero of his country.

Economic Progress.

"Economic progress has kept step with political growth. Devastated areas have been reconstructed. From marshlands to mountains, agriculture has been brought back to pre-war levels. Factories idle or destroyed have been rehabilitated. The currency has been stabilized. Railway mileage has been increased, and a uniform gauge adopted so that rails bind Poland together instead of tearing it apart.

"The Pole, whose horsemanship is admired throughout the world, has taken to the air with dash and spirit. Captain Orlinski linked Warsaw with Tokyo. Colonel Rayski circled Europe in the air. Captain Skarzynski and Lieutenant Markiewicz made the tour of Africa in 1931. The Polish air line, Lot, covers the whole of eastern Europe from Tallinn to Salonika, and there is a regular internal service between Warsaw and all important cities. In 1934 direct service was opened between London and Warsaw, and Warsaw and Moscow.

"A new railway from Upper Silesia along the Polish Corridor to the new Baltic port of Gdynia assures Poland's economic freedom. In less than a decade a dowdy fishing village was turned into a modern city whose harbor can accommodate 50 vessels at a time.

"More densely populated than Pennsylvania, Poland is still an agricultural nation; and the consequent elasticity of its labor supply, the economic independence of its peasants, and the modesty of its needs give it social stability in spite of the rapid growth of urban and industrial life.

"Monotony is the keynote of Polish

Indian Gods Defied by Medicine Man

Omaha.—Denle-Chili-Betusa, youngest medicine man in the Navajo nation, dared the wrath of the gods of his fathers and allowed a photograph to be taken of his sacred sand-painting during a recent appearance.

According to Berton I. Staples, director of a tour in the interests of the Navajos, it was the first time in the history of the tours that such an act had been permitted.

To the Navajos, the mere action of taking a picture robs the subject of some mysterious substance. The taboo applied particularly to religious ceremonies.

The medicine man paints by dribbling brightly colored sand on a neutral background. Designs are conventionalized representations of spirits, natural forces and natural objects, each conveying a Navajo myth.

geography. Rolling plains that connect the lowlands of Germany with the Russian plains form the main part of the country. Through the central portion flows the sluggish Vistula. Yet in the south there are idyllic mountain retreats of rare beauty. Through the unusual Krakow Protocol, Poland and Czechoslovakia agreed to turn the whole Tatry mountain region into one splendid international park—a buffer park instead of a buffer state."

Children of American Revolution

While the Daughters of the American Revolution were in session in Washington the annual convention of their auxiliary, the Children of the American Revolution, was held there. The youngsters were taken to the White House and were received by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

U. S. Exposes Big Ring of Jewel Thieves

Most Extensive Racket Turned Up in Recent Years.

New York.—The Department of Justice is seeking to break up an organization of jewel thieves, whose operations were described by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the division of investigation, as the most extensive racket "turned up" by his men in recent years.

Rhea Whitley, chief of the New York bureau, announced that the Department of Justice is inquiring into the $185,000 gem robbery at the Miami (Fla.) Biltmore hotel, in which Mrs. Margaret Hawkesworth Bell, former dancer, was the principal victim.

The ring of jewel thieves, Hoover said, appeared to have operated all along the eastern seaboard, with members of many prominent families among their victims. The procedure of the ring, according to first reports to Washington officials, appeared to have been to steal jewels, which were later restored to the owners after payments of substantial rewards.

In the Miami development of the case, Mr. Hoover charged that the gems stolen from Mrs. Bell were recovered in a lock box in Miami. The earlier story that the jewels had been placed in a police automobile by an unknown person was branded a hoax. The key to the lock box, and directions how to reach it, according to Hoover, were supplied to the Miami police by Noel Scaffa, New York private detective who has figured in the recovery of the loot of other jewel thefts.

Scaffa, against whom no charges of wrongdoing were made, spent four hours recently before the federal grand jury here, and his attorney, Isidor Bregoff, commented that it was strange that the private detective, who frequently represents insurance companies in their search for stolen jewels, "should have been called just before the Miami trial."

This referred to the trial of Nicholas Montone, alias Nick Marlowe, and Charles Call, both of whom were said by police to have confessed to the robbery of Mrs. Bell and a friend, Harry Content, after they had returned to their hotel from the race track. A jury was chosen in this case, and some testimony taken from Mrs. Bell and Content.

C. F. Russell of Duluth can't keep his eye on the ball because he is blind. Despite that fact he plays a par 63 course in from 75 to 80 strokes, with the aid of a trained caddy. Russell played golf before he lost his sight about eight years ago. He has a powerful swing and a fine sense of direction on putts.

Nebraska Camel Skeleton Joins Museum's Exhibit

Lincoln, Neb.—A fossilized skeleton of a Nebraska camel, one of thousands of such animals which roved Nebraska's prairies in prehistoric days, has been mounted and placed on exhibition in the camel gallery of Morrill hall at the University of Nebraska.

The skeleton was found in a side canyon of the Nebraska river in northwestern Nebraska. More than a week was spent in digging out the sandstone slab which contained the skeleton. The slab weighed 200 pounds and had to be lowered from the canyon wall down an improvised ladder.

Ex-Football Star Wins Fight With Two Gunmen

Cleveland.—His knowledge of football, particularly the "quick kick," was worth $150 to James Stone, thirty-three, proprietor of a drug store. Stone, former gridiron star at Kenyon college, went into scrimmage with a two-man holdup team.

"Stick 'em up," said the holdup men, calling the signals. Stone dropped back behind the line of scrimmage, which happened to be the soda fountain, and around end and produced the "quick kick," flooring one of the gunmen.

Slugging and shooting were not barred in this game. So one of the robbers struck Stone on the head with a gun butt and fired one shot, which missed. The game ended as the gunmen fled, leaving behind $150 in the cash register.

TYPE OF DRESS ALWAYS CORRECT

AA

Here is a dress with real character. Its nice simple lines are made interesting by an original jabot, cut in one with the soft shoulders. Gathers relieve any tendency toward severity while vertical seams, released into pleats below the knees, define the skirt and give an illusion of slenderness. It's the type of dress you can wear and wear—every place. So, for a smart spring season, select a matelasse crepe—or one with definite surface interest, of which the shops are full—and choose a lovely new color. Gray and greige are important now, as are navy blues and shades of brown. Sleeves may be made long.

Pattern 2029 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 30, 36, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address, and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Around the County

By CLARK KERR

May time! Means vacation time for the boys and girls. No matter how interesting the school year has been these youngsters are always glad when the school year comes to a close. And we find them just as anxious to return this fall. At the close of the school year this little poem seems rather appropriate—
We feel both glad and sad today
And scarce can hide the rising tear;
We're glad for changes on life's way,
Yet sad to part from schoolmates dear.

What is a boy He is the person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is to sit right where you are sitting and to attend to those things you think are important, when you are gone. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends on him. Even if you make leagues and treaties he will have to manage them. He is going to move in and take over your prisons, churches, schools, universities and corporations. He is going to sit at your desk in the senate and occupy your place on the supreme bench. Your reputation and your future are in his hands. All your work is for him and the fate of the nation and of humanity is in his hands. So it might be well to pay some attention to him.

The sun has set and the day is done;
The farmer homeward goes.
The plowing horse's smell sweet of earth
And soon with greening rows
A line of living things will lift
Their heads to skies of blue.

Night time comes on and stars shine
Through azure depths and far
Away the night birds call.
A homing song is sung, and sleep
Will give rest and peace to laboring hands

When dawn shall burst forth again
To another day of toil.

National Safety Week is at hand. Preceding this event seven tragic deaths mark a warning finger at us recalling the need for safe driving.

Our community and neighboring counties are filled with grief due to traffic deaths. Why not make National Safety Week a year around program?

All the Ford V-8 body types on display . . . including the new Tudor and Fordor Touring Sedans and the new Convertible Sedan. Nothing else like it in the low-price field. Discover how you can own a truly fine car in every detail at a price you can afford.

SEE NEW FEATURES

Learn how the new directed-flow crankcase ventilation reduces oil dilution and permits 2000 miles between oil changes. See how the springbase has been increased to 123 inches without increasing the wheelbase. Note the big new low-pressure tires, welded one-piece steel-spoke wheels, safety glass all around at no extra cost, and many other safety features.

SEE THE FREE MOVIES

Take a "Trip Through the Rouge Plant," and see "Rhapsody in Steel," which critics have called the most interesting industrial picture ever filmed. Other motion pictures are "Ford and a Century of Progress," filmed at the Chicago World's Fair, "Forward with Ford" and "The Gilmore Road Race." Interesting entertainment for the whole family.

Don't miss the many other instructive and entertaining features of this exhibit. The new Ford Laboratory Test Set, a "mechanical doctor" which scientifically diagnoses motor ailments for Ford mechanics. The "expanded" chassis which was one of the most popular displays at all the big auto shows this year. This shows the simplicity of the Ford V-8 engine and the strong construction of all parts.
