Curiosa Americana

Compact With the Dead
WHEN Francis Spies of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., a collector of names and epitaphs on gravestones, pushed aside the tall grass in front of a monument in an old cemetery near New Haven, Vt., he suddenly drew back with a startled exclamation. For he was looking straight into the face of a dead man! He looked again. No, it wasn't an optical illusion. There was the face clearly apparent through a thick slab of plate glass. Here's why: The man, a resident of New Haven long before the Civil war, had a horror of being buried alive. So he made arrangements to be buried in a hermetically sealed coffin with a plate glass window in the top. In his will he gave the town a small fund, the interest on which was to be used to employ a man to go to the graveyard twice a day and look through the plate glass to see if he was still dead and to rescue him if he came back to life.

For nearly half a century the town faithfully spent the income from this fund for hiring men to go to the grave. Eventually they decided that the man was safely dead and these men were just wasting their time making the twice-daily visits. But it was necessary to go to the state legislature and have a special act passed in order to permit the town to break its agreement with the dead man and spend the money from his fund on some much-needed public improvements.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
WHENEVER you sing Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" or "John Brown's Body Lies a-Mouldering in Its Grave" with its thundering chorus of "Glory, glory, hallelujah!" you unconsciously pay tribute to the memory of a forgotten American composer who deserves, but lacks, the recognition that has been given Stephen A. Foster. Also you perpetuate "a joke on a sanctimonious brother-in-law." Here's why: The composer was Thomas Brigham Bishop, a Maine farm boy whose fondness for strolling around strumming a banjo or guitar and "making up tunes" was a source of great annoyance to his serious-minded brother-in-law. One day the brother-in-law had an attack of religious fervor, slapped himself on the chest and shouted "I am bound to be a soldier in the army of the Lord! Glory, glory, hallelujah!" The swing of those lines kept running through Bishop's head and after a while he put a tune to them—the tune now so familiar to all Americans. Back in those days, just before the Civil war, this song, just two lines, verse and chorus, became the favorite at revival meetings "down East." Later, Bishop, taking the same air, adapted it to new words suggested by the Harpers Ferry raid and the famous "John Brown's Body" was the result.

It was a favorite marching tune for the soldiers of 1861-65 who sang it with variations—both sacred and very, very profane! Then Julia Ward Howe took the same music and used it in the "Glory, glory, Hallelujah" chorus in her magnificent "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Thus a song composed as a joke on a brother-in-law has become a part of a national hymn!

Racket Store
REMEMBER when many American towns had "Racket Stores"? The first one was in Leesville, La. Its proprietor, Simon West, started with a capital of $300 and became one of the wealthiest men in the state. He called it the "Rouss Racket Store" because he bought his goods from Charles Broadway Rous of New York, who was the originator of the term.

As a jobber of general merchandise, his trade was mainly with small-town storekeepers in the Middle West and Southwest. Twice a year these merchants went to New York to lay in their stocks. Rous bought most of his merchandise at auction and his warehouses and store were filled with bales, barrels and bundles of an odd assortment of goods.

As he conducted his customers through his store, he would point to some exceptionally good buy, and say "Now, here's something you can make a racket with in your town!" Soon the storekeepers adopted his phrase and when their business was dull they would write to him, saying: "What specials have you in prints or calico that I can make a racket with?"

A modern survival of the "racket" idea in merchandising is found in the catalogues of some of the big wholesalers who designate their "specials" as "Noise makers."

"BY JIMINY" EXPRESSION
The constellation Gemini is an interesting group of stars, and one which, strangely enough, was not known to the Chaldeans and other early eastern peoples as the twin brothers we know today, but rather as the two kids. The two bright stars in Gemini, Castor and Pollux, were believed by the ancients to be harbingers of fair weather when they appeared in the sky. The two gods, the twins Castor and Pollux, heroes of the Argonautic expedition, immortalized in the twin stars in the sky, were greatly revered by the Roman legions, whose soldiers swore a favorite oath, "by Gemini." That ancient oath has come down to us as the expression "By Jiminy."—Hayden Planetarium Bulletin.

Hugh Bradley Says

Grimm Full o' Hope Though 1936 Pennant Chase Is Plenty Tough

CHARLEY GRIMM—"What's that? No, I'm not thinking about becoming a pitcher just because I've got this big yellow-finger mitt on and because you've seen me warming up for ten minutes. I'm merely breaking it in for Larry French, who's got a lot of other things on his mind now besides new gloves, and asked me to do it for him. It's all in the day's work for a manager. Even when you're with the league champions, you've got to help out wherever you can, and— What's that?"

"You think from what you've seen that I'd be a lot more help if I did go in there and pitch? Well, that's where you're wrong. We've got a pretty fair staff just the same and getting Curt Davis will help us plenty. Maybe he'll start slow, but you can bet he'll win plenty of games for us. And don't let anybody kid you about Lon Warneke. He's got all his stuff and you can take my word, there's never been a thing wrong with his arm. Also you can believe some more of the same about Bill Lee. I'm telling you that we'll be going along smoothly before long, and—"

"Sure, I know Galan and Hack are not hitting as good as they did this time last year. But they're both fellows who're really good hitters and you can't keep them down. They're likely to snap out of it any day now and keep on going. Besides, we're getting some pretty fair power in there anyhow, aren't we? Sure, we are. Look at Billy Herman. He's slapped seventeen doubles so far and you now know that's the kind of smart belting that wins ball games, and—"

That Kid Cavaretta Is Okay at First Base

"How about first base? Well, what about it yourself? That young Cavaretta is coming along okay. He's fielding pretty and he's picked up plenty up there at the plate. So—"

"Yeah, maybe I could go out there because I honestly am feeling swell. But I tried it twice this spring and each time that ligament slipped in my back. So, isn't it better for me to be ready if necessary, and meanwhile give a kid who's going so well his due and— Don't believe a word of it. The fellow who started that swelled head yarn was dreaming.

"The rest of the race? It's going to be closer than it's been for years with those second-division boys giving the rest of us plenty to worry about. Pittsburgh's got all the power in the world and if those Pirates just had another good pitcher it might be that nobody could stop them.

"Brooklyn's no soft touch either. If they had one fence buster they'd be blamed hard to beat. Almost all of the guys in the race think they've got such a good chance that they just hate to give strength to get strength in some other spot and—Okay, go on over and interview Terry. I've got to get some hitting practice anyhow."

Terry Needs a Pitcher but Where's the Trade?

Bill Terry—"How do I know how long my leg's going to let me stay in there? It swells up big and is so sore at night that it's pretty tough sleeping, and what's worse there doesn't seem to be anything anybody can do for it. But I'll stick in there just as long as I can."

"Bartell? Don't believe everything you read. He's had a charleyhorse in his leg and that's naturally slowed him some, but he's coming along all right."

"Trade? Certainly I'd make one. I'm not saying we haven't looked bad a few times in the last couple of weeks, but we've got a pretty fair ball club. Give us another pitcher to go along with what we have and—"

"Why don't I get one then? Say, why don't you go on over there and interview Grimm. What? Okay, you can stay then, but don't ask any more questions like that. Haven't you ever met any other managers in this league? Don't you know that if you were to give up your right eye and a few other knickknacks such as that they'd probably still be asking how you expected that to—"

"What? You're right, it's a tough race. Maybe it won't be decided until three or four clubs are at the wire, which would suit us swell the way we're keeping close up now. Maybe the breaks will decide it. Anyhow, there's no soft spots."

PREAKNESS Pickings:
Bold Venture joined an illustrious company of ponies including Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Burgo King and Omaha that have won both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. Twenty Grand and Cavalcade, Derby winners, were second when they tried their luck at the Preakness.

Only two fillies have reached the winners' circle. They were Rhine Maiden in 1915 and Nellie Morse in 1924. . . . Tom Healey has been the most successful of the modern trainers in the $25,000 classic. He saddled four winners, Vigil, Pillory, Display and Dr. Freeland. The combination of Owner G. L. Lorillard and Trainer R. W. Walden was tops among the ancients. They had all five winners from 1878 to 1882. Walden also was the winning trainer in 1875 and was both owner and trainer of Refund, who romped home in front in 1888. . . .

Just to show that things were on the up and up in those days a horse named Welcher finished second in a field of two in 1884.

Not in the Box Score:
There is an unwritten baseball law that there shall be no "throwing" at night. The lights and shadows make it so difficult for a batter to dodge that even the hardest-hearted pitchers prefer to aim at the outside corners rather than be charged with manslaughter. . . . Balcazar Sanchez, recognized in Europe as the world's bantamweight champion, says he started boxing because he didn't want to go to work. . . . The Meusels, Irish and Bob, are playing semi-pro baseball in Los Angeles. . . . Pa Stribbling now peddles automobiles in Hattiesburg, Miss. . . . Elmer Layden, the Notre Dame football mentor, is flooding the mails with circulars advertising his forthcoming Olympic tour. . . . Jack Kearns now operates a tavern on Randolph street in Chicago. . . . Vaughan Williams, long one of the most capable soccer referees, now is vice president of the Brookhattan A. C.

Bill Tilden Fading as Box Office Magnet

A sports idol seems to be fading at last. Although the Lott-Stoefen-Vines unit continues to do very well at the box office, Pro Tennis Promoter Bill O'Brien is losing money on his Bill Tilden troupe. . . . Tickets for the Louis-Schmeling affair cost four cents each. That is, Mike Jacobs pays $40 a thousand for the cardboard and the printing on them. This, incidentally, is a high class job, since fight duets ordinarily are prepared for $6 a thousand. . . . The Evans brothers, who run the Loch Sheldrake resort where Jim Braddock trained to win his world championship, continue to bet that the luck of their spot will hold good when the title finally is defended. . . . Nasty mens say that the real head of the opposition wrestling trust is Billy Sandow.

Tilden

Mike Jacobs, the sports impresario who probably knows more about Broadway than any living man, continues an old-fashioned way under his modish haberdashery. He wears long underwear the year around. . . . There are big-time players who will bet you that the average annual salary of the Athletics is less than $2,000 a year although the average among other clubs is double that amount. . . . The Children's Aid Society Sandlot league, which provided recreation for 3,998 baseball playing youngsters last year, is continuing the good work this summer with the able assistance of Col. Jacob Ruppert. . . . Willie Herkert, secretary of the German-American Football association, once starred with the Brooklyn Wanderers and was a member of the G. A. F. team which toured Germany in 1930. . . . Left-handed golfers no longer are bound by the belief that no southpaw can succeed at the game.

Racetrack touts are gents who keep up with the times. In states where there are laws against the hopping of horses they start work on a prospect by flashing a badge and hinting that they are narcotic agents. The rest of the sales talk is to the effect that they have spotted several gee-gees which are hopheads and are letting them run so as to gather conclusive evidence against the owners. Thereupon three out of five prospects fall in with the idea of getting down a sizable bet on his sure thing. . . . If you have been wondering where wrestlers come from take a look at Oklahoma. Mat performers from that state won 18 of the 23 amateur and collegiate titles, including six of the seven Olympic team spots this year.

The Giants might like to know that several Western opponents hint they quit when the going gets tough. The athletes say that when a Dean or a Warneke is rifling the ball across, the Polo Grounds performers seem all too anxious to get away from the plate as quickly as possible, so they (Joe Moore) is excluded by the scoundalmongers) hit feebly at bad balls instead of waiting out the speed hurlers. . . . Bookmakers are happy to discover that even the parimutuel machines have a bit of larceny in them and that a totalizer once welched in England. This was a movable device that was carted from track to track and one day it left before the races were over.

TIPS ON TURF TERMS:
BILL DALY—A horse which takes the track and is never headed. Hardly ever a favorite.

SHORT—A horse (sometimes a player) which tails off after making most of the pace—also favorite players all wind up short.

GUMBO—When the track's muddy

Where Sun Never Sets
Great Britain, France and Holland are the only nations on whose dominions the sun never sets, writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. The British possessions are by far the greatest in total area and are so scattered in the two hemispheres that while the sun is setting in one it is rising in another. France, which ranks second, likewise possesses dominions so scattered that the sun is always above the horizon of some of them. Holland, third colonial empire of importance in the world, similarly keeps always untried in the sunlight the flag of the Netherlands.

Far above other low priced cars in all but cost!

TERRAPLANE

Yes, different from other low priced cars—and far ahead of the rest—in style and everything else that counts! Can we prove this? Just look at a few facts about Terraplane.

Wheelbase, over-all length, inside leg room, head room, shoulder room—unmatched by any low priced car. Untouched by some costing $125 and $145 more.

"Extras" At No Extra Cost

Of all low priced cars only Terraplane gives you—at no extra cost—a rear opening baggage compartment with more room than the average trunk model, with spare tire lying flat inside.

Power—the same story. Terraplane is ahead of other cars in its price class by as much as 18 horsepower. And no vibration at any speed! Terraplanes with 125,000, 150,000 miles and more to their credit show you what that smoothness means in long life.

23.95 Miles per Gallon

Interested in economy? Here is Terraplane's latest—23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over 352 miles of mountain roads, with three passengers and baggage, in the recent Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run.

More... Terraplane is the only leading low priced car with body all of steel and seamless steel roof. And no other car in its whole price range has Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for) . . . Radial Safety Control (patent applied for) . . . Tru-Line Steering . . . or The Electric Hand, optional at small extra cost.

The most amazing car in the low price field—this 1936 Terraplane. And right down with the lowest in cost for the model and features you want. Come in and see for yourself.

The Penny Post
The Penny Post was an institution transplanted from London by Benjamin Franklin soon after he was appointed one of the two deputy postmasters for the Colonies in 1753, and, like its London counterpart, had grown up in the post office but, strictly speaking, was not a government function. The main difference between the two was that in London the profits from the local post were assigned to a court favorite, while in America they were the perquisites of the individual postmasters or the carriers whom the latter might appoint.

Life of Wild Game
Wild game thrive better, says a naturalist, if they are permitted to remain primitive than if they are provided with artificial feeding grounds.

Your Automobile
Your spark plugs fire over 10,000 "shots" in every mile. Worn or dirty spark plugs misfire and unburned gas discharges in the exhaust pipe without producing power. This wastes gasoline—usually one out of every ten gallons. Spark plugs should be properly cleaned and the firing points readjusted at least twice a year. This will save gasoline and give better pick-up.

Ordinance No. 94

An ordinance to determine the Annual Appropriation Bill, making provisions for appropriating the several amounts required to defray the expenditures and the liabilities of the City of Tawas City for the ensuing year. The City of Tawas City ordains:
Sec. I. That there shall be raised upon the taxable property of the City of Tawas City the sum of Four Thousand Dollars ($4000.00), which amount so raised shall be placed in and constitute the Contingent Fund; the sum of Ten Hundred Seventy-five Dollars ($1075.00), which amount so raised will be placed in and constitute the General Street Fund; the sum of Ten Hundred Seventy-five Dollars ($1075.00), which amount so raised will be placed in and constitute the Cemetery Fund; the sum of Twenty-five Hundred Dollars ($2500.00), which amount so raised will be placed in and constitute the Indebtedness Fund; the sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1500.00), which amount so raised will be placed in and constitute the Interest and Sinking Fund.
Sec. II. The foregoing appropriations and provisions are made and required to defray the expenditures and liabilities of the City of Tawas City for the ensuing year, payable from the several funds heretofore mentioned and set forth, that the above stated amounts are necessary to be raised by levy and taxation upon the tax rolls of the City of Tawas City for the year A. D. 1936, and be paid into the several funds, the object and purpose of each general fund. This ordinance is in conformity to Section 30 of the Compiled Laws of the year 1915.
Sec. III. This ordinance is enacted and ordered to take immediate effect.

School Notes

High School
Initiatory petitions proposing at least two constitutional amendments that will affect the schools are now being circulated. To be placed on the ballot in November, each petition must contain 125,833 signatures of voters and filed with the secretary of state on or before July 3. One of the proposed amendments would eliminate all local financial support for the schools, and the other would exempt from the state's retail tax of the sale of many articles. As one of the main sources of school support comes from the sales tax, anything that causes this tax to be less is apt to affect the educational institution.

The commencement exercises will be held at the Latter Day Saint church on Thursday evening, June 11, at 8:15.
The high school library has been increased recently with several new fiction books.

Herbert Ziehl, Roy DePotty, Vernon Hill, Nona Rapp, and Marie Ulman haven't been absent or tardy this semester.
Lloyd Hughes, Barry McGuire, Martin Musolf, Arthur Cadorette, Arlene Monroe, Robert McLeod and Wanda Fowler visited in our room during the week.

carried them to the title last year, either at bat or in the field, but hope to do better too much ground is lost in the present campaign. Next Sunday they will engage the Pin-conning team at the Tawas City athletic field.

ferred by the group, a rhythm orchestra number was given by the primary grades of the school, accompanied by Marjorie Soderquist, and the program ended with a song, "Good Night," by the entire cast, accompanied by Bobby Benson.
On Thursday evening, May 28, the senior members of the music class presented a recital in which the following students took part: Piano solos by Arlene Leaf, James Martin, James Lixey, Shirley Mitton, Phyllis Michalski, Clara Jean Benson, Frances Denin, Evaline Hill, Fidelis Bergeron, Virginia St. Aubin; violon solos by Junior Seifert, James Fisher, Clarence Michalski, and Edward Martin; saxophone solos by Mrs. H. Behn and Herbert Cox; piano duets by Lawrence Hahn, Virginia St. Aubin, and Eveline Hill and Alice Latta; vocal selections by Virginia St. Aubin; a reading, "Music as a Potent Factor in Developing the Aesthetic in the Child," by Jane McCray; and a guitar duo by Leon Shimko and George Malfant. The Junior Glee Club and Senior Glee Club sang selections and the school orchestra opened the recital with a selection.

pitched the tenth inning. Tawas used two pitchers. Brown started and was quite successful in staying the Hemlock bats for the six frames he was on the mound, allowing only three hits and two runs. He has not rounded into shape, however, to carry the burden of a full game, and Elmer Burden did the hurling for the remaining four innings. Elmer went along in a big way until the disastrous tenth. A bad break in the ninth which tied the score proved to cost him the game.
Cunningham's catch of Long's fly in the second inning was another highlight of the contest. It robbed Long of what was apparently tagged for a sure hit.
The local boys have thus far not shown anything like the form that

No. 3 Continued from the First Page

In the summer of 1880 the first Sunday school was established and was held in the Vine school house, then a small building on the site now occupied by McArde's gas station. Myron D. Orr was chosen as superintendent, and Mrs. Wm. Perry, Miss Laura Haskell (who later became Mrs. L. Colby) and others to assist in the undertaking. There was very little material to work with. All were interested regardless of creed or belief and the Sunday school grew and thrived. Occasionally a minister came out from town and preached for the people.
From this small beginning the need of a church began to be felt and talked of. On March 25, 1885, a meeting was held at the home of Wm. Routley (now the Clyde Haire farm) to organize for the purpose of making arrangements for building a church. F. W. Latham was chosen as secretary of the meeting, with Wm. Routley, Henry Wade, John Scarlett, John Curry and Wm. Allen as building committee, and F. W. Latham as permanent secretary of the committee. Wm. Routley donated the ground where the church now stands. On April 17, 1885, another meeting was held and it was found that the sum of $342.51 was raised by subscription, the petitions having been circulated by John Conover and others. Material was donated by those who had it, and the church was erected by labor that was donated. The building was not finished in 1885 but was made comfortable by a large stove and meetings were held during the winter. The following year, 1886, saw the building completed and a pastor engaged. The work prospered. There was a large Sunday school and church full of members. As the church was not yet set apart from the Tawas City church the membership was all in the Tawas City Baptist church. Not until the year of 1889 was the church separated from the Tawas City Baptist church and became a regular dedicated church.
The church became the center of the social as well as the religious life of the community. People came for miles to attend the services. A few had carriages, but the more common means of transportation was the light democrat wagon and the heavy farm wagon which accommodated all who could get in. The time came when the church was not large enough to meet the needs of the growing community and the west wing was added, also a belfry, and a bell was installed.
In this year of 1936 falls the fiftieth anniversary of the Hemlock road Baptist church and of those pioneers who gave so generously of what they had for the fulfillment of their desire for the better things in life for themselves and their community. Very few are left. They have passed on to the Great Beyond. The old church has been a silent witness to the passing of a great many of them. Today the church, like them, has fallen into a state of old age and decay. We, who are here today, mostly descendants of those hardy folk who by their efforts made possible the comforts we enjoy today, should not allow the work of their hands and hearts to crumble and fall into ruin, but do our part to reestablish the church and make of it a monument to the memory of our fathers, mothers and friends.
