Wine Temperamental Beverage
Wine is a temperamental beverage. Some kinds improve on long ocean voyages. Other kinds become "sick" on trains and ships and require months of rest to recover their tranquility. Others sometimes have temporary "sick spells," the cause of which baffles even expert wine doctors.—Collier's Weekly.

VACATIONISTS BRING MONEY
but what brings vacationists?

a sure answer—
CONCRETE ROADS

No matter what they like when they get there, vacationists never enjoy "roughing it" on the way. Of two attractive vacation centers, tourists choose the one that's on their favorite kind of road—concrete.

Everybody profits—directly or indirectly—from tourist trade. And everybody profits directly from concrete.

Concrete highways are always ready for travel. They cost less than other pavements of equal load-strength. Save a big share of road maintenance funds. Save on car operating costs. Reap these benefits—pave with concrete.

McClellan, Popular Soldier
George B. McClellan, who at the outbreak of the Civil war was commissioned a major general by the governor of Ohio, was a popular man among his soldiers despite the fact that Lincoln, after some friction between the two, relieved him of command of the army of the Potomac. In the same year that his command was taken, 1864, he was nominated for president on a platform that denounced war as a failure. Thus the same army of whose command he had been relieved was called upon to decide between Lincoln and McClellan. The vote: Lincoln, 250; McClellan, 226.

The Four Kinds of Excess Fat

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

There are some overweights who conscientiously follow their physician's strict reducing diet for a week or ten days and find that the amount of weight lost is practically nothing. If one of normal weight follows that same strict diet, gets the same amount of sleep, and takes the same amount of exercise, there would likely be a loss of from 2 to 5 pounds. If, however, the overweight were to continue on the strict diet for another two or three weeks there would likely be a loss of 4 to 5 pounds at the end of that time. This failure to lose weight during the first ten days was because while some fat was lost all right, the body had retained more than its usual amount of water and so kept up the weight. But by the end of about three weeks, less water is required in proportion to the amount of real fat now present, and with the loss of this "held" water, the weight goes down. It would be worth while, therefore, for all who are trying to lose weight by reducing their food intake, to persist for not less than three to four weeks.

However, it is possible that even after keeping to the strict diet for three of four weeks, the loss of weight is very small—one or two pounds. If such be the case the overweight is justified when reporting to his or her physician in asking for some other method as even his severe or strict reducing diet has failed to bring results.

Physicians who treat patients for overweight first explain that to obtain sure results safely from 9 to 18 months may be required; that a reduction of one and a half to two pounds each week is the utmost to be desired or expected.

Make Metabolism Test.
It is very likely then that the physician will suggest one more month on the prescribed reducing diet and if results are disappointing he will prescribe other measures to get rid of the excess fat.

If this excess fat is distributed evenly throughout the body, he will make or have made a metabolism test which shows the rate at which the body processes are working. If they are not working at the normal rate (that is they are working slower) he knows that the thyroid gland in the neck is not manufacturing enough juice, and if processes are working faster than normal he knows that the thyroid gland is manufacturing too much juice. Thus when the individual is greatly overweight and the test shows that the body processes are slower than normal, which happens in about 3 to 5 per cent of all overweights, the physician will prescribe thyroid extract because the overweight is justified in requesting it.

If the excess weight is not distributed evenly over the body but is across the shoulders, chest, abdomen, hips and thighs (no excess weight on forearms or lower legs) then instead of using thyroid extract, the physician will likely use pituitary extract, as the pituitary gland has much to do with growth, development and the handling of starch foods by the body.

Removing Local Deposits.
Thus when the excess fat is evenly distributed, thyroid extract is used in "stubborn" cases; when it is across shoulders, chest, abdomen, and hips pituitary extract is used.

However, there are cases where there are accumulations of fat in different parts of the body, maybe on chest, on hips, on back of neck, or elsewhere. What can be done to remove these "local" deposits of fat?
When the individual is in good health, heart and blood vessels sound, then exercising the parts is the best method of getting rid of this local fat deposit. Slow jogging or running on the spot, skipping, and dancing are excellent exercises.

The use of the electric vibrator, striking the part with the sides of the hands and vigorous massage of the part will stir up the circulation in the part and help to break up the fat globules. In these cases with the local fat deposits, if there is any tendency to overweight generally then cutting down on the food is helpful, but if the individual is of normal weight it is better to depend upon the exercise and massage to remove the fat than take any chances on too great a loss of weight throughout the body.

Remember then that while over 90 per cent of overweight is due to overeating and underexercising there are these other types of overweight where gland extracts and local exercise and massage are necessary.

Cynical Brutality
People were not only brutal but cynically brutal in the last century. The history of Italy recounts how, after a revolt, many Italians were executed and the bill of expenses presented to the nearest relations of the hanged men.

Judge Often Handed Down Humor "From the Bench"

Late Lord Darling Lived Drab Scenes With Pleasantries.

Many are the stories told about Lord Darling—better known as Mr. Justice Darling, "England's wittiest judge"—who died recently. He was a poet, with several published volumes to his credit. But it was his humor "from the bench" that made his name almost a household word.

On one occasion, a talesman claimed exemption from jury duty on the ground that he was completely deaf in the left ear.

"You can go," said Judge Darling, gravely; "I cannot have anyone in the jury box who cannot hear both sides."

A lawyer who had the misfortune never to have acquired the ability to use the letter "h" (relates Silvain Mayer in his "legal" reminiscences), was engaged before Justice Darling in a case which had relation to a horse. For some time the lawyer kept referring to the animal as "an orse."

After a while, Darling looked down and said: "Was the animal a large horse or a little one?" "Oh, a little one." "Then," said the judge, "may we, for the remainder of the case, call it a pony?"

In another case before Justice Darling—in which a Cockney caterer was suing to recover the cost of a picnic luncheon he had provided for a large number of people—the plaintiff waxed highly indignant, under cross-examination, when it was suggested that his sandwiches were mostly "bread and bread," with the ham conspicuous only by its absence.

"I h'am amazed; I h'am surprised; I h'am—" he sputtered. "That will do!" interrupted Darling. "I suggest that had you been more generous with your hams on another occasion and a little less liberal with them here, you might not have found yourself in this situation!"—Kansas City Star.

Identifying Houses

Before houses were numbered, London's business streets were lined on both sides by a succession of gay signboards exhibiting an almost infinite variety of blue boards, black swans, red lions, flying pigs and the like. Even with these signs it was often hard to find one's destination, for the signs were often so badly painted that it would have puzzled a naturalist to make out the animal meant.

Think It Over

BY THE street of Bye-and-Bye one arrives at the house of Never.—German proverb.
People who have half an hour to spare usually spend it with somebody who hasn't.
Dignity is one thing that can't be preserved in alcohol.
Epitaph: He walked on the suicide of the road.
Many have made up their minds what they are going to do if temptation comes their way. They are going to fall.
When one is important, he can attract attention in many noisy ways.

Mongols! Madam, Barked Sir Howorth

Sir Henry Howorth was taken aback one day when introduced to a gushing lady who declared that she was so charmed to meet him because she wished to talk to him about her little dog.
"But I know nothing about dogs," he protested.
"Oh, how can you say so," she said, "when you have written books about them?"
"Never, madam, never!"
"But surely," she persisted, "you have written a history of the mongrels?"
"Mongols, madam, mongols!" he barked. "Not mongrels!"—London Answers.

HERE'S WHY FIRESTONE ALWAYS GIVES YOU SO MUCH

More for your Money

Higher Quality Raw Materials!
More Efficient Manufacturing!
Lower Distribution Cost!
These All Combine to Give You Extra Values at No Extra Cost

FROM the day of its introduction, the Firestone Standard Tire has more than lived up to its name by setting a new high standard of tire values. Hundreds of thousands of car owners have already bought it because they saw in it more value for their money.

"How does Firestone do it? How can they build so many extra value features into Firestone Standard Tires and yet sell them at such low prices?" The answer is simple—Firestone controls better-quality rubber and cotton supplies at their source, keeps manufacturing costs low by efficient factory methods and sells in such huge volume that distribution costs are held to a minimum. That is why Firestone has been able to give you such extra value features as Gum-Dipping and two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

Make no mistake about this! The Firestone Standard Tire gives you the blowout protection of Firestone's patented Gum-Dipping process. Its scientifically designed tread gives greater non-skid protection and longer wear. And those two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread guard against punctures.

Before you buy ANY tire at ANY price, see today's top tire value—the Firestone Standard Tire. Don't risk your life with thin, worn tires on your Fourth of July trip. Mongoose, Snake Killer
The mongoose is India's snake killer. It destroys not only the eggs and young but kills venomous adult reptiles as well. However, the mongoose, if bitten, dies like any other animal. Its secret lies in agility and quickness of eye. First it gets the snake to strike, dodges swiftly and, before the reptile can recover, sinks its own fangs into its opponent's neck.

Table Mountain
Table mountain, a vast mauve mass, jutting up from the ocean's brilliant blue, generally is the first landmark sighted by the traveler who approaches South Africa by water. So completely do its colossal dimensions hide the hinterland that the Table appears at first sight as an ocean-girt land.
Strawberries as a Dentifrice
The following information is taken from a book of prescriptions published more than 100 years ago: "The common strawberry is a natural dentifrice and its juice without any previous preparations whatever dissolves the tartareous encrustation on the teeth and makes the breath sweet and agreeable."
Fireflies, Living Lanterns
Huge fireflies in South America are held by natives as living lanterns through the jungle night, and the women often use glowing beetles as ornaments for their hair.

"Sweetest Story Ever Told"
In 1884 Robert Morrison Stults resigned as musical instructor in the Long Branch, N. J., high school and moved to Baltimore, Md., where he opened a piano and sheet music business. For some time he had been obsessed with the idea of writing a popular sentimental ballad. Mira Mirella, a comic opera star, was in search of such a song and Stults promised to write one for her. Going home one evening his wife, who had been reading "The Birds' Christmas Carol," remarked, "Well, that's the sweetest story ever!" He immediately supplied the word "told" and in two hours the song was finished.
