JACKSON CLUB WOMAN GIVES ADDRESS HERE

Twentieth Century Club Sponsors Roll Call In City

The Twentieth Century club of Tawas City entertained club women from East Tawas and Whittemore at the regular meeting held Saturday afternoon, October 30. Rev. Anne Pearse Bond of Jackson was the principal speaker. During the business session the club voted to sponsor the Red Cross roll call in Tawas City. Mrs. C. L. McLean was made chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Chaltman of Alpena, who is general federation director, brought greetings from the State and District Federations and told of some of their objectives for the present club year. Rev. Anne Pearse Bond gave her wonderful address, "Cathedrals in the Heart." The one great thought she tried to impress upon those present was that if one would try to possess and be used by some great idea, no matter how commonplace one might be, they could become immortal. She spoke of many people who were very ordinary and yet because they had a great idea in their mind and heart and were willing to work and make their idea live, had become famous in the history of all time. David, Florence Nightingale, and Abraham Lincoln were some she mentioned.

She urged each one to try to be usefully some great idea and to keep the ideas which are not so good out of their minds and hearts.

After the address, refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

There were about 80 ladies present and a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Campbell, chairman of the program committee, for bringing Mrs. Bond here to give her inspiring message.

The next regular club meeting will be held in the club rooms on Saturday, November 20. This will be a Thanksgiving meeting and every member is urged to attend.

F. O. Potter Explains

Tenant Farm Act

The Iosco County Farm Security Administration Office has been receiving numerous requests from tenant farmers to purchase farms under the farm tenant act, says F. O. Potter, Iosco County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor, at Harrisville, Mich. Applications for tenant loans cannot be accepted in the county offices until machinery has been set up for administering the program and the counties selected where the program will be initiated this year. Not more than ten nor less than five loans will be made in any county selected. Only farm tenants and farm laborers or those receiving most of their income from the farms will be eligible for a loan.

With the allotment for tenant purchase loans in Michigan based on farm population and percentage of tenancy set at $10,952, not more than 40 or 50 families in the state can be brought under this program this year, said Mr. Potter. The act calls for doubling the allotment next year and further increasing it the third year.

County supervisors have been advised that nominations to the state advisory committee have been forwarded to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for approval. After this state committee has been appointed they will select the counties where the program will be carried on. County committees will then be named by the secretary to consider applications. "However," Mr. Potter stated, "until the counties are picked, and local committees are named, there is little use in filing applications."

With the amount of funds available this year and considering land values in any part of the state for farms that would be desirable, it is doubtful if it will be possible to operate in more than four or five counties.

A loan made under the tenancy act provides for repayment of the principal in, not to exceed, forty years at three per cent. The act includes provisions for proper farming practices to protect the security of the loan, and forbids the sale or transfer of the farm without consent of the secretary of agriculture in the first five years after the loan is taken out.

Gordon Loud Exhibits Treasures of 1300 B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Loud, along with several hundred others, were guests of the Oriental Institute of Chicago on Sunday last, invited to meet Mr. Gordon Loud and the members of his staff and to attend a private first showing of the gold and ivory antiquities of the thirteenth century B. C., recently unearthed by its Megiddo expedition of which Mr. Loud was in charge.

The following account of the reception is taken from the Chicago Daily Tribune of November 1:
The days of Biblical song and story were reborn into glamorous reality yesterday when the treasures of Armageddon were displayed in a private showing at the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

Here for the first time in twenty centuries, was a record of the conquest of Canaan. It lay in some 200 pieces of Canaanite art, the gold fittings from a prince of Megiddo's dressing table, the carved ivories of his walls and the bags of broken silver jewelry, which the institute's Megiddo expedition headed by Dr. Gordon Loud unearthed in a subterranean treasury last March.

Dr. John A. Wilson, director of the institute, explained the importance of the collection as he led distinguished guests from one showcase to another. For Megiddo, or Armageddon, as it is known in the Bible, has been a battleground of the nations since the dawn of history. It lies at the strategic crossroads between Asia Minor and Egypt, not far from Nazareth in northern Palestine. Eight distinct civilizations have flourished there. The hoard now at the Oriental Institute was that of a prince of Megiddo of 1300 B. C., which he swept into a three room cellar when the Hebrews threatened Canaan.

Here, on exhibit, are the contents of his dressing table or that of his princess. A delicate, fluted bowl of white gold from which the cover is gone. Twelve beads, part of a necklace, each bead made up of tiny gold granules so small that they must have been soldered on beneath the microscope. Cosmetic jars of serpentine and hematite; cylinder seals of lapis lazuli. Delicate gold and ivory combs.

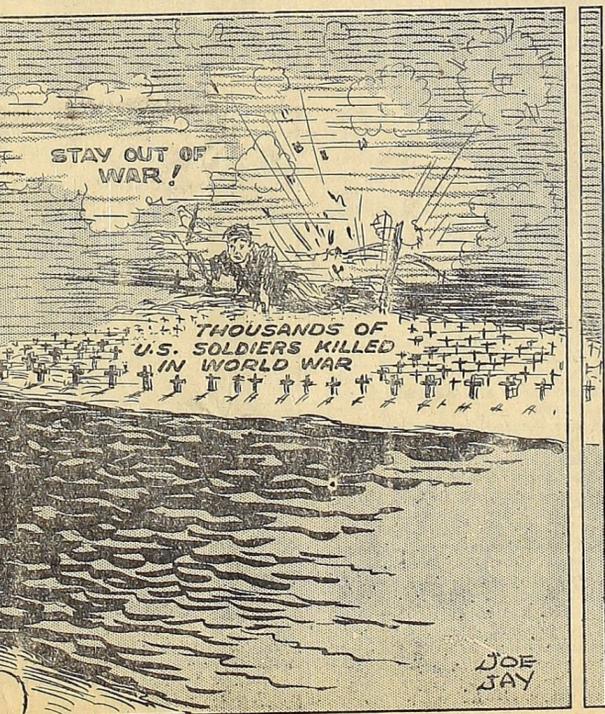

"But," said Dr. Wilson, "here is the most valuable collection," and he led the way to a case of bits of carved ivories, pointing to one long strip, which he said was either ivory or hippopotamus bone.

"Here," he said with a slow emphasis, "is the prince of Megiddo celebrating after a victory. See him there on his ancient winged griffin throne, see the body of a lion, the head of an eagle? His prime minister is giving him a lotus blossom, the symbol of peace, and a harpist is playing before him just as David played before Saul. And at the other end, you see him coming in his triumphant chariot, his captives before him."

Thus, while the unemployed are warned by the pamphlet that "registration on the report card is in no sense registration for a job," there is the implied intention of Congress to use the information obtained in this census, for development of constructive plan, aimed at improving the condition of the unemployed.

Analysis of the information sought through the 14 questions on the card shows that when the census has been completed, Congress and the Government.

WASHINGTON

To Every Worker:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not have it.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Every unemployed or partially unemployed person gains by registering during the National Unemployment Census to be taken November 16 in this and all other communities of the United States, according to the pamphlet, "General Information," issued by Administrator John D. Biggers, in charge of this progress.

It is also recalled that Congress directed the census to be taken "to aid in the formulation of a program for reemployment, social security, and unemployment relief for the people of the United States."

Thus, while the unemployed are warned by the pamphlet that "registration on the report card is in no sense registration for a job," there is the implied intention of Congress to use the information obtained in this census, for development of constructive plan, aimed at improving the condition of the unemployed.

RENO COUPLE OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seafert Celebrate Day With Many Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seafert, Sr., who have climbed life's rugged road together, sharing each other's joys and sorrows for the past 50 years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, November 6, at the Reno township hall.

The hall was decorated in gold and white. The table of the bride and groom was centered with a gorgeous wedding cake, weighing 39 pounds very beautifully decorated with a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch of lilies of the valley and artistically arranged with yellow rose buds of gold and white. Mrs. Schoff (sister of Mrs. Seafert, and only one living of the three bridesmaids who attended Mrs. Seafert 50 years ago) made the cake also the attractive place cards decorated with yellow rose buds and carrying a message of cheer and best wishes, in which the many Reno friends joined in extending to Mr. and Mrs. Seafert. Above the wedding cake hung a large bell of gold and white with gold and white streamers extending to each corner of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Seafert were the recipient of some very beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Seafert were married in the German Lutheran church at Lenox, Michigan. They are the parents of 16 children, nine of whom with their families helped them celebrate. (Their life was saddened by the loss of five children.) They have 30 grandchildren.

Between 85 and 90 guests were served a bountiful dinner. A number of the granddaughters and nieces, with white uniforms and gold aprons, did the serving.

The afternoon entertainment was very amusing to Mr. and Mrs. Seafert when each of the children related some incident of interest that had happened during their childhood. Some of the grandchildren played musical instruments, others sang songs.

In the evening they were greeted with a large crowd of relatives and friends who danced until the wee hours of morning. The relatives paid tribute with a golden jubilee dance, not withstanding some who had seen eighty odd years.

Relatives from out of town were Mrs. John Scott of Mt. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoff of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neuman, Jr. and son, Quinten, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wesenick, daughter, Phyllis, of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Wesenick of Flint, Joseph Street of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bemis of Montrose, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Anderson, daughters, Alice, Agnes, Marie, Ella May and Audrey, son, Hugh, Jr. of Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mason daughter, Opal and son Gerald of Tawas City, Albert Seafert, daughters, Margaret, Marjorie, and son, Ernest of Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marin and sons, Richard and David and daughter, Marlene.

TAMMANY HALL ROUTED

La Guardia and Dewey Winners in New York . . . Detroit Rejects Candidates Backed by the C.I.O.

Edward W. Pickard
SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK
© Western Newspaper Union

La Guardia's Victory

TAMMANY HALL went down to inglorious defeat in the New York municipal election. Its mayoralty candidate, Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who was supported also by Jim Farley and Senator Wagner, was thoroughly whipped by Fiorello H. La Guardia, candidate of the fusionists, the Republicans and the young American Labor party. La Guardia, the first "reform" mayor ever re-elected in New York, piled up a majority of 454,425.

The Republicans hailed the result as a great victory for their party, and it was. But it also put the Labor party in the position of holding the balance of power in future elections in the metropolis.

Second in interest only to the mayoralty vote was the fact that Thomas E. Dewey, the young man who smashed organized crime and the rackets in New York, was elected district attorney, defeating Harold W. Hastings, the Tammany nominee. Dewey, who is only thirty-five years old, promises reform in the methods of the office, and his record gives assurance these will be carried out.

The Republicans regained control of the New York state assembly and of many upstate cities.

C.I.O. loses in Detroit

THE first important venture of the C. I. O. in politics turned out disastrously for the Lewis organization. Patrick H. O'Brien, its mayoralty candidate, declared on the stump that "labor must seize the reins of government in Detroit and every other American city." Whereupon the Detroit electors arose in their wrath and swept O'Brien and the C. I. O. out of the picture. Richard W. Reading, conservative candidate backed by the A. F. of L., won the office by a majority of 106,907 votes.

In addition, all the five C. I. O. backed candidates for the common council were decisively whipped.

In New Jersey Senator A. Harry Moore, Democrat, was elected governor over Lester H. Cleve, Republican, but only by virtue of a big majority in Hudson county. Moore has held the office twice before. It was the first time in the state's history that a governor has won a third term. The state constitution prohibits a consecutive re-election but Moore was elected in 1925 and again in 1931, each time for a three-year term.

James M. Curley, who has been three times mayor of Boston and once governor of Massachusetts, tried again for the mayoralty, but was defeated by Maurice J. Tobin, like Curley a Democrat.

Philadelphia went Democratic, as did Pittsburgh, which re-elected Mayor Cornelius Scully.

Borah Talks Plainly

WHILE Republican national committeemen were gathering in Chicago for an important meeting, Senator Borah of Idaho jumped into print with a vigorous denunciation of the plan, favored by Hoover and Chairman Hamilton, to hold a mid-term Republican convention next spring, for the formulation of party policies.

"We have heard a great deal about usurpation and dictatorship in recent years," said Borah. "There could be no greater exhibition of usurpation or dictatorship in politics than for a few accredited men undertaking to fix the principles and policies for 17 million voters without ever having consulted the voters or received their indorsement in any way."

"LITTLE FLOWER" WINS
Fiorello La Guardia, who licked Tammany and was re-elected mayor of New York in a striking pose as he addressed voters.

veloped by friendship, fair play, and reciprocal confidence. If Japan and China are to co-operate it must be as friends and not as enemies. The problems underlying Chinese-Japanese relations must be solved on a basis that is fair to each and acceptable to both."

Eden for England and Delbos for France seconded these sentiments. The Italian representatives made it clear Italy would not stand for any coercive measures against Japan.

China was represented by Dr. Wellington Koo who said: "We desire peace, but we know that we cannot obtain it in the presence of Japanese aggression. So long as aggression persists we are determined to continue our resistance. It is not peace at any price that will render justice to China or to the credit of civilization."

A committee was named to send an appeal to Japan to open peace negotiations with China, and Germany was asked to reconsider her refusal to take part in the conference.

Labor Hits Duke's Tour

RESOLUTIONS denouncing the American tour of the duke and duchess of Windsor as a "slumming trip professing to study labor" were adopted by the Baltimore Federation of Labor, and approved by President Green of the A. F. of L. They attacked Charles Bèdeaux, the duke's friend, as sponsor of the "stretch-out system."

Officials of the Committee for Industrial Organization, while refusing to be quoted, said the attitude of their organization on the Bèdeaux system was "well known."

Official and social Washington, which had been in doubt as to what to do about the distinguished visitors, was relieved when Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, announced he would give a state dinner for the royal couple, as he termed them, the day after their arrival. Immediately thereafter it was made known that President Roosevelt would entertain the duke and duchess at luncheon in the White House.

The duke's talk on arrival was to be broadcast over all major networks, but the British Broadcasting company announced it would not pick up Windsor's remarks for rebroadcasting in England.

Bèdeaux said the duke while in the United States would observe these sixteen heavy industries: Heavy machinery, light machinery, heavy chemical work, oil refining, textiles, tobacco, steel, rubber, either coal or metallic ore mining, automobile manufacturing, prepared foods, meat packing, logging, timber sorting plus lumber milling, pulp and paper production and vegetable and fruit packing.

Almost Recognition

GREAT BRITAIN decided to let Franco, Spanish insurgent chief, send consuls to England, and to send official agents to the part of Spain he controls. This, it was said in official circles, did not imply recognition of Franco, but British Laborites thought it did, and consequently assailed the government. Anyhow, it was apparent Britain believed Franco was right when he said in Burgos "the war is won."

British Are Enraged

JAPAN and Italy have been vigorously twisting the tail of the British lion, and if they keep it up, that mighty beast may be stirred to action. Within a few days five British soldiers were killed and a number wounded by Japanese shells in the fighting at Shanghai. The English there charged the killings were deliberate, in retaliation for the aid the British gave a "suicide battalion" of Chinese in escaping from a warehouse in Chapei, the native quarter, to the international settlement. The British and Japanese admirals had a hot dispute over the right of the former to prevent the passage of Japanese launches up Soochow creek.

Soon after the Japanese began shelling the residential area of the settlement and an outpost where English soldiers were quartered was destroyed. Continuous shelling of Shanghai by the invaders endangered the British and American lines on the border of the international settlement and shells fell close to the American warship Augusta, Admiral Yarnell's flagship.

Japan is angry over the alleged help Britain is giving China in the warfare and there is a movement in Tokio to break diplomatic relations with London. This is urged by the "council on the current situation," an unofficial body composed of high army officers, political leaders and other influential persons. The council adopted a resolution warning that unless Britain "reconsiders its improper attitude" Japan may be forced to take certain steps of "grave determination" against Britain, despite the "deep friendship existing between the two countries for the last sixty years."

Japanese troops invaded a part of the international settlement guarded by American marines and seized a Chinese junk loaded with rice. General Beaumont, commandant of marines, immediately entered a protest and the Japanese apologized but the marines did not consider the incident closed because the Japs didn't return the junk.

The British government was not expected to take any action that would further anger Japan lest it should endanger the success of the parley in Brussels. But wise observers do not believe the nine-power treaty conference will have any definite results.

More "Piracy"

ITALY'S latest twist of the lion's tail came in the form of the bombing and sinking of the British steamer Jean Weems in the Mediterranean by a "pirate" airplane. The London Daily Herald's Barcelona correspondent reported that the Spanish loyalist government asserted that the plane bore markings showing that it was piloted by Bruno Mussolini, son of the Italian premier. The pilot gave the freighter's crew only five minutes to take to lifeboats and then sank the Weems with bombs.

The British battle cruiser Hood was sent at full speed from Palma, Majorca, to Barcelona to investigate the attack.

In parliament the critics of the government, led by David Lloyd George, demanded a stronger British Mediterranean policy. Lloyd George flayed the government for bolstering up the international committee on nonintervention in Spain, whose history after 14 months he denounced as "discreditable and dishonorable."

Morocco Uprisings

NATIONALIST uprisings in French Morocco, which have been giving the French government a lot of trouble, are blamed on agents of "a foreign totalitarian power," meaning Italy. The disorders, mainly in Casablanca, Fez and Medina, were quelled by troops, mostly Senegalese legionnaires, and hundreds of arrests were made.

The nationalists plotted to set up an independent Arab state with Moulay Allal El Fassi as king.

Budget Conference

WHILE members of congress were beginning to move toward Washington for the extraordinary session, President Roosevelt in his Hyde Park home was busy planning means of carrying on the government program. Especially was he interested in the budget, and related financial matters, and to advise on this he called in Mariner S. Eccles, head of the federal reserve system. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Budget Director Bell already were there, and all listened closely to Mr. Eccles' talk concerning current business conditions and the stock market situation.

It was decided by the President that the Commodity Credit corporation should provide $85,000,000 for the corn loans, obtaining the money from the RFC and repaying the latter agency when congress makes the necessary appropriations.

Officials of the Agriculture department gave corn growers assurance that the government will loan 50 cents a bushel on the large 1937 crop. The loans will be made, according to current plans, on field corn testing 14.5 per cent moisture content or less. The 50 cent rate will be reduced on corn containing more moisture.

Squirrels as Forest Planters

Gray squirrels are natural forest planters. Ernest Thompson Seton estimates that a single squirrel may bury as many as 10,000 nuts in a season. Obviously they do not require nearly one-half of them for food. Hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts will not take root from the surface of the ground like acorns. They must be planted or they dry up before their shell can burst. For that reason it is almost safe to say that nearly every hickory tree was planted at one time by a squirrel. The squirrel meant to come back for the nut, but didn't.

"Killer Elephant" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO, EVERYBODY: This yarn stars Ike Rosen, our latest club member. But Ike would have given a couple of million dollars to have been left out of the cast.

First we go back to the early days of moving pictures—1915 to be exact—when Ike was employed as a technician at the Universal studios in Hollywood.

Animal pictures were going great in those days and there was a complete zoo on the lot. The king of that collection of beasts was Charlie, an elephant bought from a circus. Charlie was a good actor, but nobody could handle him except Curley, his personal trainer.

Well, Ike stepped into the dramatic part of the picture when Director Smalley began staging the wedding procession of an Indian prince. It was comedy, and, for the parts of the Indian prince and his bride, two actors, weighing nearly 400 pounds each, were cast. Ike's job was to build a huge canopied chair in which the prince and princess were to ride in state on the back of Charlie, the elephant.

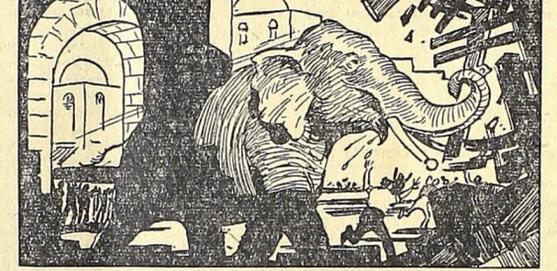

Charlie Didn't Like Ike. Ike finished the royal howdah. Workmen tried to budge it and found that it weighed nearly 2,000 pounds. Twelve men heaved and struggled to saddle Charlie with the gorgeous structure. Then, 700 pounds of prince and princess went up the ladder.

That's where Charlie took a dislike to Ike. And then, when the director called for more ornaments, Ike put a stepladder against Charlie's side and climbed up. There was Charlie's chance.

He whipped his trunk around, seized Ike by the leg, trumpeted in anger and lifted him for a dash to the ground. Curley, the trainer, sank his curved elephant hook into Charlie's forehead and Ike limped away. That was his first round with his monstrous enemy.

The trainer knew elephants. He knew what to expect in the future, so he warned Ike. "Charlie's going bad," he said. "He'll kill you the first chance he gets."

Ike did watch out. But one night a wild chimpanzee cleverly opened his cage and almost killed a keeper. Ike hurried over to devise a lock that the chimp couldn't open. Charlie's big stall was next door. He sensed Ike's presence and went berserk. He lifted his iron water tub

Charlie Reduced Jerusalem to a Wreck. and beat at his chains and bars around his enclosure. The whole zoo trembled on the elephant's fury. Curley, the trainer, again rushed to the rescue.

"For God's sake, Ike, leave this studio if you value your life," Curley said. "Charlie's turned killer. He's out for you. Lucky for you his chains held."

Ike took no more chances. He gave Charlie a wide berth. But one day, when his work called him to a remote part of the movie lot, he rounded a hill and ran smack into Charlie, tethered to an anchor of poles and railroad iron, driven into the ground.

The Elephant Really "Went Bad." Ike had no time to turn back. The bull elephant, ears flattened against his head, eyes blazing and his trumpeting echoing from the hills, charged.

Rosen was trapped. His only chance was to dive for a shallow gully that separated the movie lot from an Indian village. He flung himself into the gully and flattened himself against the side. The earth was vibrating under those plunging feet. Ike only hoped for a quick death.

Then, there was a clank of chains—the groanings of the heavy anchor poles set deep in the ground. Charlie had reached the end of his chain. His head was jerked down. He stumbled, plowed the earth.

The maddened beast was halted only a few feet from Ike's hiding place. Rosen could see those bloodshot eyes gleaming with hatred—a lust to kill.

The long trunk slashed out in fury. Ike felt a thud on the side of his head as Charlie's trunk grazed him and snatched off his cap.

For a moment big Charlie paused to hurl his enemy's cap beneath his feet and trample it to ribbons. That pause saved Rosen. He was on his feet, running, limping and ripping with cold sweat.

But Charlie bided his time. For days he worked quietly. And then, during the making of a spectacular film in a setting of old Jerusalem, Ike crossed the set and came face to face with his old foe.

Once more Charlie charged in an insane desire to crush the man who had tortured him with that huge, 2,000-pound saddle in the earlier picture. But this time Ike was in the clear. He ducked to safety. The baffled elephant, once more cheated of his vengeance, turned upon the set.

Jerusalem, with all its splendor—thousands of dollars worth of costly settings—crushed into a heap of dust and splinters.

This time Charlie did not quiet down. He was ready to kill anything in sight. Men with long, spiked poles, ripped his hide and jabbed him into helpless submission—but only for a moment.

How the Killer Was Killed. A few days later he saw Ike in the distance and went into another frenzy. Rosen scurried out of sight, but Charlie, thirsting for a kill, seized his trainer, Curley, lifted him high into the air, dashed him to earth and then, with his massive forehead, ground him into the dust. Curley was killed instantly.

"Killer elephant!" The words set Hollywood trembling. It was no longer a single foe. It was the life of any human being. Charlie must die, studio officials ruled. But how? Poison and dynamite were rejected as not sure enough. Ike Rosen's technical skill was enlisted. Despite his narrow escape, he hated to be Charlie's executioner, but many lives were at stake.

A heavy wire cable was rigged over pulleys, looped around Charlie's neck and lashed to two heavy trucks, headed in opposite directions. The trucks started. The loop tightened. Cables sang with the strain. Charlie looked sorrowfully and inquiringly at the men around him. His knees buckled, his head sank. His great bulk rolled over—dead from strangulation.

Canton Island

Canton island is the chief spot of land among the tiny dots which make up the Phoenix group, 2,700 miles north of New Zealand. The importance of this archipelago, which lies just south of the equator, is readily seen on any map of the South Pacific. The Phoenix group lies almost on a line between New Zealand and Honolulu, practically half way between the two. Canton island covers about eight and a half square miles, nourishes shrub vegetation and provides a salt-water lagoon navigable to boats which draw up to 5 feet.

Washington Digest
National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart
National Press Building Washington, D. C.

Washington.—The old mother hen, congress, has settled down, prepared to hatch something from the nest of crop control eggs. At this stage of the proceeding, no one can make a guess as to the brood that congress will produce any better than a farmer's wife can tell what will be hatched by a real hen in her chicken house.

About all that can be said for sure is that President Roosevelt called congress into special session to enact crop control legislation and, therefore, there is likely to be crop control legislation of some kind. It may not be hatched in the special session; the chances are that the many differences of opinion and the many demands cannot be reconciled in the six weeks which the special session may occupy before the regular session of congress convenes in January.

In addition to the lack of time in which to maturely examine crop control questions, a rivalry has developed between the house and the senate over the honor of drafting and putting through the law which will tell the farmers what they can and what they cannot do as farmers. Let me say just here that such a rivalry may work to the benefit of agriculture because it is bound to mean a compromise between the house and senate on the legislation that finally is enacted. In other words, extremists, for and against any proposal, will have to yield and this may possibly result in some workable program for crop control.

The main question before congress is the type of crop control law to be enacted. There are two kinds. Control may be compulsory or it may be voluntary. Most of the powers that be in the Department of Agriculture seem to favor the compulsory kind—a law that will tell the farmers they can or cannot do certain things and if they violate the decree, they can be punished. Many groups of farmers, however do not want that sort of thing. In consequence we find in congress now proponents of both the compulsory and the voluntary programs and each side appears to be determined in its position.

We have seen both types used. Potato growers will remember how the potato control law laid down the rule that a quota of production should be imposed upon every farmer and that he must pay 45 cents per bushel above the value of his potatoes for every bushel produced above his quota. These growers will remember also the agricultural adjustment administration requirement that all potatoes sold must be packaged in a certain way that was prescribed for the grower by the AAA. In this connection it will be recalled how there was a penalty in addition for those who failed to properly package the potatoes they sold.

Beyond these requirements, there was also a penalty prescribed to be invoked against any person who did not properly package his potatoes and place a government stamp thereon. Besides all this, there was an "informer" section in the potato control law. It provided something of a bounty for any person who relayed to the authorities any information he had respecting failure of any farmer to comply with the law and the regulations issued thereunder. It was reminiscent of prohibition days when informers were paid to squeal on bootleggers.

The compulsory cotton control law was less stringent but it had penalties attached so that any cotton farmer who failed to comply with the regulations had to pay a tax on cotton produced over and above his allotment. This tax was so high—50 per cent of the value—that it amounted to a fine as punishment. The other kind of cotton control law, the voluntary plan, had no penalty provisions. This control was exercised by issue of subsidies or payments to farmers for raising various crops provided they limited the amount to the dictation of the AAA. Thus, under the voluntary control, the farmer could take the government's money and limit his crop to what the AAA said was his quota and thus be paid for compliance. Or, he could refuse the government's subsidy and raise what he pleased.

Now, in addition to these propositions, Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture, is promoting what he calls his "ever normal granary" plan. This is to serve as supplemental to the crop control on the production side. The secretary has an idea that the federal government can take the surplus of good years off of the hands of farmers and hold them through the lean years when poor crops have failed to produce the amount required for American home consumption.

The secretary's "ever normal granary" plan is a red hot poker and there will be plenty of sparks flying off of the handle as well as the hot end when this thing is debated in congress. Opponents of the secretary's scheme contend that this program is straight out regimentation and that it goes as far in this effect as anything done by either the Fascist Mussolini or the Communist Stalin. It takes no stretch of the imagination, therefore, to see what is just ahead in the matter of a controversy for crop legislation for the reason that each of the programs that has been thus far advanced contains political dynamite.

Chairman Jones of the house agricultural committee began work on drafts of bills for crop control long before the session convened. Several weeks prior to the opening day of the special session, Mr. Jones appointed six sub-committees; each was charged with drafting legislation applicable to a specific commodity. In doing this, Mr. Jones threw the door wide open. He included six farm crops to share the alleged benefits of crop control legislation, including the "ever normal granary" surplus control program. The sub-committees were directed to work out legislation covering cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and dairy products. Inclusion of rice and dairy products came as a surprise. Heretofore, there had been little talk about including rice and none about dairy products. The information that filters into Washington is that a majority of the dairy people have no particular hankering for government dictation in their business. Chairman Smith of the senate agricultural committee likewise has been busy. Throughout the summer he has been attempting to get a line on farmer sentiment by a number of hearings in various parts of the country. From all indications, Chairman Smith, who comes from South Carolina and is a farmer in his own right, is not enthusiastic about too much government dictation in the field of agriculture.

Over on the house side of the Capitol, Secretary Wallace has many followers. Obviously, he will co-operate with them very closely. Indeed, some of the house members who do not like Mr. Wallace or his "ever normal granary" scheme are referring to the Wallace supporters in the house as "Henry Wallace's boys." That indicates better than anything I can say how deep-seated the feelings are.

To add to the complexity of the job facing congress, President Roosevelt has said definitely that if there are subsidies paid to farmers in connection with crop control legislation, that legislation must carry additional taxes to take care of the bounty payments authorized. Simmered down, therefore, what Mr. Roosevelt has said is that if the farmers want that kind of crop control legislation, they and all consumers must pay for it with added taxes.

I have heard general commendation of the President's position. It surely represents a straightforward policy by the Chief Executive in this regard. He has told the country now that he is willing to support agricultural subsidies through control of the crops if the whole country which has to pay the bill is willing to bear the extra taxes that are required.

Having presented the picture as I see it, it seems almost unnecessary to add that there will be two enormous lobbies bearing down on congress in the special session as well as probably in the regular session that convenes in January. I think I foresee now how Secretary Wallace and those who believe with him are going to operate both within and without the administration. That is to say, there will be administration pressure and when anyone says that there is administration pressure, they are saying nothing more or less than that the administration is lobbying. It has always been that way and it is no exception that the Roosevelt administration does the same sort of thing.

The other lobby will embrace a considerable representation of farmer sentiment that is opposed to Washington dictation and which feels that additional taxes will have to be absorbed in part at least by agriculture. This happened in the case of a processing tax which was thrown out as unconstitutional. It will happen in every case for the reason that no one is going to absorb taxes when they can be passed on. When they are passed on to the farmers, that is the end because the farmer has no place to send them. The consumer is in the same fix.

In addition to this farm sentiment, the lobby in opposition to the Wallace program likely will find certain phases of other industry aligned with it. It will in all probability find a certain share or segment of consumer opposition because the consumers will have to pay in higher prices.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

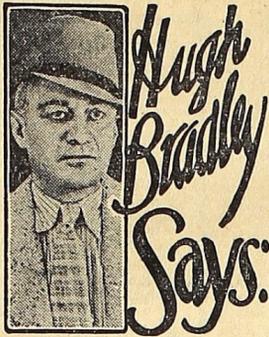

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wise when these symptoms are present. Doan's Pills, Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

This Game Called Football Has Many Confusing Angles

THIS game called football: Notre Dame and Marquette tied for three consecutive games from 1909 to 1911. In 1912 the Irish won, 69 to 0.

Year after year Pittsburgh has one of the nation's superior teams. But it has been seventeen years since the Panthers have had an undefeated team, nineteen years since they have had an undefeated and untied team, and twenty-seven years since they have had an undefeated, untied and unscored upon team.

So you're a football expert, eh? Then:

- 1.—Name the coach at Iowa university.
  - 2.—What is the "Coffin Corner"?
  - 3.—What time out is permitted between the first and second quarters of a game, between the third and fourth quarters, between the second and third quarters?
  - 4.—What college team is nicknamed "The Friars"?
  - 5.—Name the "Four Horsemen" and what they are doing now.
- Sure, you knew them all along, but here are the answers, anyhow:
- 1—Irl Tubbs of William Jewell college.
  - 2—The angle formed by the side line and the goal line.
  - 3—One minute between the first and second periods and the third and fourth periods. Fifteen minutes between the halves.
  - 4—Providence college of Providence, R. I.
  - 5—Elmer Layden, head coach at Notre Dame; Jim Crowley, head coach at Fordham; Harry Stuhldreher, head coach at Wisconsin; Don Miller, practicing law.

From a Pennsylvania gentleman who so often makes this weekly football piece so easy to write: "Football is some game! It lasts but three months, yet symbolizes college activity for the whole year. It's just an amateur sport, yet puts hundreds of boys through colleges, supplies employment to thousands and provides a good living for hundreds of coaches. It supports the athletic programs for other games, yet is played by but twenty-five to fifty boys per school. It builds stadiums, but pays no cash to the participants (theoretically, at least).

"Its 'All-America' teams are dominated by foreign-sounding names. It's the roughest game in America, but girls love it. It's witnessed by millions each week, yet only a few hundred really understand it. It reaches its apex in the picking of 'All-America' teams when every honest fan knows one team can't honor all the best players.

"Football is some game!—for contradiction."

There has been considerable misunderstanding of the Graham plan by which the president of the University of North Carolina has been seeking to remove some of the hypocrisy from college sports. Perhaps a letter from a member of the North Carolina faculty best explains the university head's aims: "President Graham is anxious to see to it that scholarships and other help to athletes shall be granted on the same terms as those on which similar favors are granted to other students. Under the Graham plan the student is required to submit a sworn statement of all monies and other help received by him together with the names of the donors. ## Velvet Is Smart for Daytime Wear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

MORE velvet and more and more and still fashion keeps calling for more. All signs point to a record breaking season for the wearing of velvet. In the majority of couturier collections velvet predominates. Everything is being made of velvet, hats, shoes, gloves, bags, blouses, daytime suits, coats and street ensembles, evening dresses and wraps, hostess gowns, lounging robes, pajamas and negligees—all is velvet. Yes, and "nighties" if you are wanting to know, for there are velvets that wash easily as a pocket handkerchief.

Why do women make velvet a first choice? Answering by asking another question—is there any material more flattering, more kind to maid and matron than velvet? Then, too, velvet has that luxurious look that fits especially into the scheme of things this season, for the whole trend of fashion is toward greater elegance such as has not been equalled for years.

However, it is not merely feminine vanity that is inspiring the present vogue for velvet, back of it all there is an intensely practical explanation that can be told in two brief words with a hyphen between—crush-resistant!

It is an age of scientific discoveries and crush-resistant velvet is one of them. Heretofore the one great barrier to wearing velvet for other than important dress occasion was that it would crush and wrinkle easily. To maintain it without blemish entailed an upkeep program of repeated steamings and coaxings which was both costly and wearing upon the nerves. The advent of crush-resistant velvet gives promise, to a reasonable degree, of doing away with this anxiety to keep velvet spick-and-span.

The velvet day fashions here pictured are to be recommended from both the practical and esthetic point of view. Wearing any one of these handsome types you are sure to look properly costumed the whole day through. Dashing and very Spanish-fashion is the youthful daytime dress posed to the left with its gayly striped velvet blouse and simple straight skirt. The Spanish sailor is the type young girls delight in wearing this season. The velvet gloves are tres chic. The plaque of the exotic looking bracelet simulates old coin. Which reminds us to remind you to look to your costume jewelry! Bracelets are huge, necklaces have big pendants, clips are gorgeous and so on and on.

A handsome all-day suit of brown velvet centers the illustration. It has the slim sheath skirt which is the correct thing for day wear. The loose straight coat bespeaks the newest silhouette—no flare, just straight. Its collar of sumptuous fur adds yet another luxurious note. An up-and-off the face quilted and shirred velvet hat is worn. There's a scrumptious metal cloth blouse ready to blaze forth when the coat is removed.

The all-important daytime dress of crush-resistant velvet shown to the right makes a perfect background for dramatic accessories. Note the bracelet. It is of two-tone gold, modern and heavy. And the gloves! They are the newest thing by Aris, being velvet with leather palms, with white stitchings for color contrast.

A few postscript items, namely plaid velvet for an extra blouse, all the fur you care to pile on your day velvet suit, a separate glittering sequin bolero to wear with your decollete evening gown, a bizarre jewelled belt to give accent for dressy afternoon wear, a gold embroidered velvet bolero.

ERMINE BOLERO

Queenly in its rich magnificence is this formal ensemble of black velvet with ermine bolero jacket. And you should see the gown with the bolero removed! It is perfectly stunning in that it has ermine short sleeves and looks adorable without hint of any trimming other than the superb ermine. The full skirt shows the new "up-in-front and down-in-back" hemline—as exquisite as ever a "portrait of a lady" might be. This is one of the hundreds of stunning costumes, all original designs, shown by the Style Creators of Chicago in the wholesale district.

ZIPPERS ON SHOES LATEST CREATION

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Anticipating the tremendous vogue for zippers now sweeping two continents, Newton Elkin, designer of shoes, has cleverly employed the slide fastener to create the sleekest shoe of the season.

In a talk at a recent fashion meeting, Mr. Elkin said, "Women are zipping themselves into their dresses, their coats, their suits. Now, with so much emphasis on molded, sculptured lines, it is more important than ever that shoes have that neat, uncluttered look. I decided that if a zipper could be used as an ornament and practical closing device on some of the smartest, most expensive dresses and coats coming out of the Paris ateliers, fashion-conscious women would welcome the convenience of the zipper in their shoes, if it could be used in an attractive way. I tried out dozens of patterns with variations on the zipper theme, and finally created what I think is the perfect shoe—a high-cut sheath of suede, sculptural in line, with a slide fastener streaking up the instep."

Fur Is Now Important on New Winter Fabric Coats

Embroideries combine with furs for winter, running alongside them. White ermine makes a scarf that is tied in a bow to front a black detyne suit. An ermine muff accompanies it. Both fur pieces are trimmed with black ermine tails.

Many a fabric coat has sleeves made entirely of fur—in beaver or seal. Some have backs of fur and fronts of fabric.

Flowers Important

The gorgeously colored tropical flowers that bloom so luxuriantly in Miami throughout the year are being repeated in chiffon and silk for fall wear.

Lesson for November 14 THE CHRISTIAN MINISTER

LESSON TEXT—I Timothy 4:6-16; II Timothy 2:1-4. GOLDEN TEXT—Neglect not the gift that is in thee.—I Timothy 4:14. PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Brave Preachers. JUNIOR TOPIC—Two Brave Preachers. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why and How Ministers Are Trained. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Minister in the Modern World.

"The Christian Minister"—there is no greater calling among men, but none is more often the target for misrepresentation and abuse by those outside, and all too often the victim of the carelessness, weakness, and sin of those within its own circle. On the other hand it has had, and continues to have to this day, within its ranks such a noble army of faithful and sacrificial men as would probably be impossible to duplicate in any other calling.

The study of today's lesson should arouse in the hearts of Christian people a high regard for the ministry as a calling, and a kindly purpose to aid their minister to live up to its glorious possibilities. Every true minister who studies it will find his spirit humbled before God in thanksgiving for the privilege of service, and in prayer that he may be forgiven for his failures and empowered for the work of the future.

The need for such a study is indicated in the verses just preceding our lesson, namely, I Timothy 4:1-5, where we read of the express warning of the Spirit of God that in the latter times there should be teaching and preaching which departed from the faith, substituting men's wisdom for God's Word. One who looks around him cannot but feel that we have fallen upon that evil day.

I. What to Preach (I Tim. 4:6-9). The "good minister of Jesus Christ" preaches the words of God. To do this he must himself be "nourished" by them. Spare your preacher the necessity of running errands, serving on boards and committees, and encourage him to study his Bible.

Preacher, are you studying God's Book, learning and teaching "good doctrine"? If so you will have no interest in or time for "profane and old wives fables."

II. How to Preach (I Tim. 4:10-12).

1. Sacrificially (v. 10). The man who regards the ministry as a nice, easy, respectable occupation is not in the same calling as was the apostle Paul. In fact, there is nothing to indicate that he is in the Christian ministry at all, for in that calling there is labor and suffering of reproach. This is not something to be borne in a spirit of resigned submission. The minister knows and "trusts in the living God," and gladly bears every responsibility with which God may entrust him.

2. Authoritatively (v. 11). The minister of Christ speaks for God. In doing so he teaches with assurance and is to "command" men in the Lord's name. All too often the servants of the Lord feel and act like "grasshoppers" (see Numbers 13:33), and everybody else regards them as feeble and impotent, when they should be "strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 2:1).

3. Actively (v. 12). Whether young or old, the minister is to be an example, a pattern in his active daily life. Note how discriminating is the scripture. He is to be a pattern for others in speech, manner of living, in love, in spirit, in faith, and in purity of life.

III. Who is to Preach (I Tim. 4:13-16).

1. The man who is divinely called (v. 14). God called Timothy; men recognized that call and ordained him to give his life to the exercise of his God-presented gift. This is the right order for our day.

2. The man who is properly prepared (vv. 13, 15-16). The ministry calls for the best preparation that a man can possibly obtain. He must know how to read God's Word, both publicly and privately. He is to be skilled in exhortation, and in teaching Christian doctrine.

In conclusion, let us consider the portion from II Timothy 2 which properly presents the work of the minister as that of a soldier at war against the world, the flesh, and the devil. He must be prepared to bear hardness, and he must not yield to the temptation to get into "side-lines," no matter how dignified and profitable they may be. His sole business is to serve and to please God.

What Education Means

The real object of education is to give children resources that will endure as long as life endures; habits that time will ameliorate, not destroy; occupation that will render sickness tolerable, solitude pleasant, age venerable, life more dignified and useful, and death less terrible.—Sydney Smith.

A Happy Man

Happy the man who sees a God employed in all the good and ill that checker life.—Gowper.

Jiffy Blouse and Skirt Done in Plain Knitting

Here's simplicity itself—a jiffy knit that not only goes fast but is only plain knitting, no purling, throughout. What's more, it's made in two identical pieces (not counting the sleeves), seamed up front and back—no side seams.

Pattern 1568.

Make the blouse with long or short sleeves and a plain skirt. Pattern 1568 contains directions for making this blouse and a plain knitted skirt in sizes 16-18 and 38-40 (all given in one pattern); illustrations of blouse and stitches used; material requirements.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Blue Moons

Once in a blue moon is supposed to mean never, or hardly ever. But we learn from a high meteorological authority that blue moons are seen.

There was a blue moon reported at Santa Barbara, Calif., last year, colored as brightly as the blue of a rainbow and seen through a thin veil of magenta-hued cloud.

A blue moon was noted by the astronomers in Ireland during the eclipse of 1927, and after the explosion at Krakatoa, when volcanic dust floated all over the world, blue moons and green were reported.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Only Newspapers bring the news of vital interest to you. Headlines may scream of death and disaster without causing you to raise an eyebrow. But if your son gets his name in the paper—that's real news!

It isn't by accident that this paper prints so many stories which vitally interest you and your neighbors. News of remote places is stated briefly and interpreted. Local news is covered fully, because all good editors know that the news which interests the readers most is news about themselves.

Now is a good time to learn more about this newspaper which is made especially for you. Just for fun ask yourself this question: How could we get along without newspapers?

The Three R's AND TELEPHONE TAXES

Approximately $29,000,000 of the money which the people of Michigan have paid for telephone service over the past ten years has come back to them in the form of primary school education for the boys and girls of the state.

That is because taxes assessed by the state against certain utilities, including the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, are paid into the primary school fund. From there the money is distributed among the 83 counties of the state, and helps support the elementary, grammar and high schools.

Money alone could not account for Michigan's high standards of public education. Our state has been fortunate in the men and women entrusted with this work—the superintendents of public instruction, state, county, city; the local school boards, Parent-Teacher associations, and the individual teachers.

This Company makes the largest individual payment into the primary school fund. During the past ten years the Company has paid into the fund $28,978,000, this year's payment alone amounting to $2,624,092.47. This is an important contribution to a school system to which is entrusted the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow. These taxes are in addition to the Company's Federal and miscellaneous taxes.

RED CROSS OBSERVES NURSING ANNIVERSARY

1937 Marks 25th Year Of Public Health Nursing In Rural Areas

"Prior to inauguration of the Red Cross Town and Country nursing service in 1912, no national effort was made to bring nursing skill to the rural sickbed," James L. Fleser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations for the American Red Cross, said today in commenting on the silver anniversary of Red Cross public health nursing.

In a plea for an increased membership during the coming Red Cross annual Roll Call held from November 11 to the 25th, Mr. Fleser pointed out that Red Cross rural nursing rounds out 25 years of continuous service this year. "It is essential activities such as this which the American people support through membership," he said.

In 1910 Lillian Wald, then head resident of the Henry Street Settlement in New York City, proposed that the American Red Cross pioneer in the field of rural nursing. Public health nurses were active in urban districts but no similar provision had been made to guard the health of the rural dweller. Miss Wald felt that the Red Cross was best qualified for the undertaking through its long experience in converting humanitarian ideals into practical accomplishment.

Two years later the first Red Cross rural nurse set forth upon her rounds in a county in Massachusetts. Jacob Schiff, member of the Red Cross Board of Incorporators, and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid each contributed funds to start the project. Special courses of training for nurses resulted in young women who thoroughly knew the mechanics of this new job.

By 1918 there were 100 rural nursing services conducted by Red Cross chapters; and 18 months later the number of services had skyrocketed to 2,000, as the signing of the Armistice released a flood of War nurses for peace-time duty.

"Reorganization and consolidation eventually cut the number of public health nurses serving under the Red Cross flag," Mr. Fleser stated. "But as a group their efficiency increased."

Mr. Fleser called attention to a study of Red Cross public health nursing accomplishments since the service was begun. "Statistics show that in all nearly 3,000 services were established by the Red Cross," he said. "During the past 15 years 6,800 public health nurses were assigned to chapters, and a total of 18,000,000 visits were made to or in behalf of patients."

"Each year during the past 11, more than 440,000 rural school children have been found to have physical defects. Each year 189,000 of these children were helped through treatment."

At the present time there are 666 Red Cross public health nurses engaged in health work in rural communities, and last year more than 1,000,000 visits were made on behalf of the sick.

"It has been our purpose from the first," Mr. Fleser emphasized, "to demonstrate that rural nursing was needed and could be organized. In many instances we have turned established community nursing services over to local health authorities. When this was done, we turned our effort toward opening up additional virgin territory."

Other Red Cross services supported by Roll Call memberships are life saving; first aid; disaster relief and the work of organized Red Cross volunteers.

"No fooling, I certainly am."
 "Very well, when? Couldn't we—" he looked at his watch—"no, it's too late to go to City hall today. How about tomorrow morning? Then we'd take an airplane and along about teatime we could walk in on my mother and say: 'Here we are. Now go your wanton way, we'll take over the house and the paper and—'"

"Nothing doing with this mad rush stuff. You're forgetting about my mother. I wouldn't be married without her, I couldn't, Curt."
 "No, I suppose not." He drooped pathetically.

"And I ought to finish up a lot more work for Vinco. And I certainly want some new clothes."
 "I'll tell you—in ten years or so, when you're quite ready, send me a telegram, I'd like to know about it. But honestly, darling, do I have to wait very long? I've already marked time for nearly six months, remember."

"Oh tush, it hasn't been six months since you dashed down to Rockboro to snatch me from Bob Eddis."
 "But I've known you six months and been in love with you all the time."
 "Have you really, Curt?"
 "The first day you came into Vinco's with that strange fellow—who was he, by the way? You've never told me."

"Oh, he's named Oliver Land and I met him at the Steeles' and he told me about Vinco's and took me there." Even now while she was so happy, there was a little sharp spot when she remembered Oliver, not of regret but of anger.

Curt seemed to find Oliver sufficiently explained. He returned to more important matters. "But when are we going to get married, that's what I want to know? D'you think your mother will object to me?"

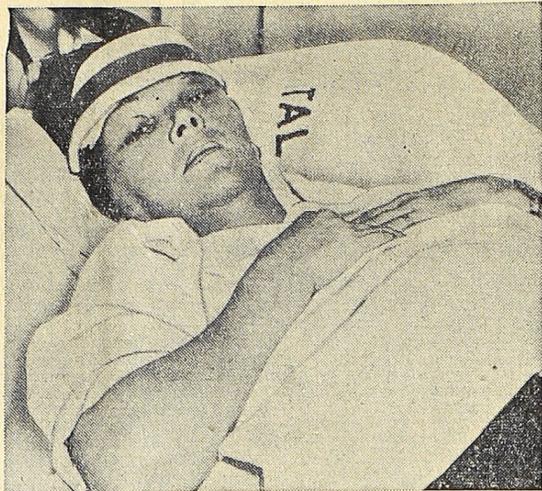

"No, I don't believe she will. Darling Anne, she's the most wonderful, the grandest—she didn't want me to marry Bob Eddis, Curt."
 "That rates her a million per cent with me. But I haven't got much to offer you, Rachel. I'll never be rich or distinguished or even notorious. How about sending your mother a nice long cable, sort of breaking the subject gently?"

"I might do that. I wonder—what's your mother going to say?"
 "That woman's been abusing me something shameful for being so slow. She said that you sounded exactly like the kind of girl she always wanted me to marry and if I didn't propose to you pretty soon she'd come and do it for me. By the way, what kind of an engagement ring would you like best? I can get that on you even if you won't be married for an eon or two. Would you like an emerald, or a sapphire?"
 "Anything but a sapphire," said Rachel.

"No, sapphires don't suit you. You ought to have something tawny and brilliant, an orange-colored diamond or a beautiful bronzy pearl. I saw one once."

"And, Curt," said Rachel, "Let's be very honest with each other, don't let's have any secrets or evasions or hidden feelings. They're bad—for any kind of love. There are some things I must tell you about myself—and Anne—nothing that matters specially. I want you to know. And after that—no more. While you were telling me about your mother I wanted to tell you about mine."
 It was a long time before the story of Anne Vincent and Elinor Cayne was done. Curt asked many questions. Rachel must tell all that had happened and what it had done to her. At the end she asked him, with terrible earnestness: "Was it wrong not to tell Elinor? Hadn't I the right to choose, then, who was my mother? Because I knew it was Anne, it must be Anne, everything turned me back to Anne, even not letting Elinor know was what Anne would have wanted, I'm sure of that. And yet, it troubles me, to have been so near Elinor and not said a word."
 "Darling, look at the facts. No earthly good could have come from telling her you were her child—even if she'd have believed it, which I greatly doubt. It would only have stirred everything up into a far worse mess than it was—and it was sad enough. And you ought to forget the whole thing. I don't think you ought to tell Anne that you ever went near Elinor."
 "You don't?"
 "No, I certainly don't. It'll only be painful for both of you and then, when she gets to thinking it over, she might feel that she could never count on you again, that there was some want, some deficiency in your love for her. It might trouble her beyond anything you can imagine."
 Rachel slipped her arm through Curt's arm as they walked along. "There's a Postal Telegraph on Fifty-second street," she said, "and that's only two blocks down."
 Curt hung over her shoulder as she wrote:
 To Madame Henry Vincent, care La Comtesse Helene de Besnard, Castillon-sur-Dordogne, Gironde, France.
 Darling mother please take the next boat and come home stop Curt Elinor and I are by way of getting engaged and I must know whether he suits you for a son-in-law stop besides you have been away too long and I have missed you too much stop I want to see you, I need you and I love you as much as you deserve which is entirely, completely all stop hurry, hurry, hurry home to
 Your neglected child
 Rachel Vincent
 The precise little clerk read the message twice and counted the words.
 "You could cut this down a lot. It's going to cost a lot of money," he said.
 "It's worth it," said Curt and Rachel in chorus.
 The little man glanced at the two of them and back again at the cable. "I guess so," he said shyly. "One mother's all we ever got."
 [THE END.]

Physicians say Mrs. Arrington has an excellent chance for recovery after her unusual ordeal.

Frontiers Are Wiped Out by Great Advance in Air

Aviation Service Shows Remarkable Development.

Montreal, Que.—Canadian transport planes have set new records for amounts of express-freight and airmail carried, according to statistics specially compiled from the results of exhaustive inquiry among many companies engaged in diverse forms of commercial air operation throughout the country.

Freight carriage in 1936 increased by 43 per cent over the 1935 aggregate to approximately 25,250,000 pounds—11,272 tons—while airmail reached a new high level of 1,153,812 pounds. Forty-three freight carriers returned figures included in the year's aggregate. The eight largest operators among them accounted for 19,500,000 pounds.

Commercial aviation in Canada provides perhaps the world's best provision made for reassembly at the new site. Each piece weighed half a ton. Two tractors weighed respectively 6,250 and 5,700 pounds. They were taken apart, the heaviest single pieces carried in the planes being the motors, which weighed 1,800 and 1,230 pounds. The contract was completed within scheduled time.

Used to Ship Fish.

An interesting form of air freighting enterprise which is peculiar to Canada is the transport of fish from lakes inaccessible by surface vehicles. One company alone reports the carriage of more than 1,000,000 pounds of fish during the last winter.

During the last seven years air freighting in Canada has grown from a few isolated operations to become an industry engaging more than 40 operating concerns, serving vast regions in what is commonly called the "Northland," where other forms of transport are for the most part impracticable and are always more expensive.

Mining and air freighting have developed together in recent years, while the application of air services to problems of everyday transport and communications is bringing profound changes to the social and economic life of "frontier" areas from Aklavik on the extreme westerly Arctic coast of Canada to the little Magdalen islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

"PERFECT WAITRESS"

Meet the nation's "perfect waitress," Miss Ruth Gierke, of Cleveland, Ohio, who received her title from the National Restaurant Association at its recent convention which was held in Chicago. A twenty-two-year-old brunette, Miss Gierke is employed by a Cleveland restaurant.

example of the benefits conferred on mankind by the airplane. The dominion's immense territory and lack of adequate ground communications make it ideal for the proper development of civil flying enterprise, and Canadian air transport companies have done much to make possible the exploitation of areas that are inaccessible except by air, thereby adding greatly to the national wealth.

Mining Plant Transported.

Far the larger part of the aerial freighting is associated with mining. Typical of the kind of contract that mining brings to the air transport concern was that fulfilled by Wings, Ltd. It called for transportation of an entire mining plant a distance of 145 miles, from a terminal 325 miles east of Lake Winnipeg to a new mining site just over the Ontario boundary. The total weight of cargo involved was more than 600,000 pounds, and included a mine hoist, a mine cage, sinking buckets, rock drills and steel, steel rail, eight ore cars, 60,000 pounds of dynamite, 70 workmen and their belongings and foodstuffs weighing more than 80,000 pounds.

Special air bases, with radio stations, were established at both ends of the run. Some of the machinery to be moved raised difficult problems because of its great weight and bulkiness. The ore compressors weighed, when assembled, 14,000 pounds, and the hoist 4,800 pounds. The sub-base of the compressor was 15 feet long. It was cut in two and Somersworth, N. H.—George F. Berry's hen is just "ducky." The hen has short legs, webbed feet and walks with a waddle. It has, however, the head and comb of a hen.

Trailer Homes Increase Tenfold in Two Years

Denver, Colo.—The automobile trailer soon may carry new relief problems for the nation in humbler editions than the present de luxe models, according to Earl M. Kouns, director of the state welfare department.
 Kouns has urged county welfare workers to study trends in the "growth" of trailer migration on the theory that the trailers may soon be a definite factor in adding to the Colorado relief problem.

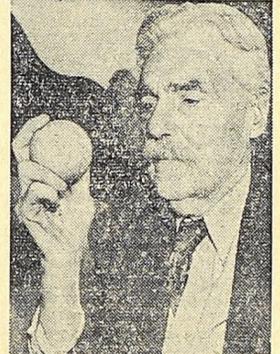

"America is taking to trailers, and while most of those listed in surveys at the present time are owned by vacationers who are in the higher economic bracket, the indigent or near indigent soon may be on trailer wheels," Kouns said.

He cited statistics showing the increase in the number of trailers in the nation from 20,000 in 1935 to more than 200,000 this year.

"It is estimated that a million persons are living in trailers the year round. Two expert observers have estimated that within twenty years the trailer will be housing from 30 to 50 per cent of the population of the country."

While indigent trailer families are not a problem to Colorado at present, Kouns said there is a definite threat that they may become a serious problem in the future unless care is exerted in guarding against a wholesale influx.

THREW FIRST CURVE

Fred Goldsmith, a real veteran of the diamond, is shown as he demonstrated how he threw the first curve ball, originated by him. This "roundhouse" surprised the batter by coming in wide and breaking right across the plate. Goldsmith, as a member of the Chicago White Stockings, pitched the first world series game held between his team and the Cincinnati Red Stockings in 1882.

Judge Removes Hat in Court; Better to Think

London.—Do women think better when not wearing a hat?

This problem has arisen following the appearance of Mrs. Duncan Harris, newly appointed woman magistrate, on the bench of a police court at Croydon, southeast of London, without a hat.

Croydon has had women magistrates since 1920, each of whom, when in court, has worn her hat. On taking her seat for the first time on her appointment to the bench, Mrs. Duncan Harris caused a sensation. She was hatless.

"No," said Mrs. Duncan Harris afterwards, "it is not a protest, a conscientious objection, or anything of that sort. I always do my public work without a hat. It is simply that I find I can think more clearly without one."

Pasteurization Removes Wallop From Hard Cider

Holland, Mich.—The vice—or virtue—that enables innocent apple cider to acquire a wallop has been eliminated by successful experiments at Michigan college.

A feasible plan for pasteurizing cider to retain its freshness and rosy color will be employed by Michigan farmers this year, according to Ottawa county's agricultural agent, L. R. Arnold.

Arnold said the new process would prevent cider from becoming hard for several months.

"Nuts to You, Willie Squirrel"

Life for Willie, pet squirrel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Britten of Greenville, Tenn., is just one dentist chair after another. Willie's front teeth began to curve backward toward the roof of his mouth and his owner carted him off to the dentist to have them ground off. The dentist opined that Willie eats too much prepared food. "Nuts to you, Willie," says the dentist.

Pride in Perfection

A GREAT deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything which he attempts to do.

There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride in surveying such a work—a work which is rounded, full, exact, complete in all its parts—which the superficial man, who leaves his work in a slovenly, slipshod, half-finished condition, can never know.

It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, be it well done, becomes artistic.—William Matthews.

Old Masters

The question arises as to what percentage of the paintings called "old masters" are fakes. No compilation of statistics is available. By way of illustration, however, of the volume of the business done in spurious "old masters" it is said that 2,000 paintings attributed to Van Dyck have been sold to art collectors and galleries, whereas the artist actually produced only 70 paintings during his lifetime.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

We miss so much of life, somehow. As we pursue our selfish ends, We'd really have more fun, I think, If we would all be better friends.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Whipping of Cream.—If whipped cream will not stand up, it is often due to the fact that the cream is not sufficiently chilled. It is important, too, to have a heavy cream of the right butter fat (20 to 30 per cent) and 12 to 24 hours old. The cream must be cold, and is best beaten in a cold container.

Inexpensive Stew.—Chop two onions and a large carrot finely, and cut a pound of neck lamb into small pieces. Put into a saucepan with one cup macaroni broken into small lengths, cover with warm water and season. Let it simmer gently for one and a half hours.

Removing Blueing Spots.—Blueing spots on white clothing can be removed by boiling in clear water.

Serving Omelets.—Omelets should be placed on hot platters to keep them from falling.

Save Table Surface.—If you will place a folded cloth under a dish which contains foods to be beaten you'll find the table surface will be saved many marks and the dish will be kept steady.

Scaling Fish.—Fish may be scaled easily by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

Ox-Tail Pie.—Wash ox tail in salted water and joint; put into pan, cover with water, and simmer until almost cooked. Line bottom and sides of pie dish with slices of raw potato sprinkled with pepper and salt. Cover with strips of bacon, then place ox tail in center and pour in stock; season and cover with more slices of potato. Cover with pastry and bake in a quick oven.

Built on Air Lots

The Merchandise Mart is built over tracks of the Chicago & North Western railway. The railroad retains ownership of the area on which its tracks operate. It sold air lots, representing possession of the space above ground occupied by the entire building, and numerous miniature ground lots necessary to sink caissons. The air was actually subdivided into lots and the diagram of the aerial real estate filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of Cook county, Ill.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Species of Candidates. SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—It takes all kinds of candidates to make up this world. Maybe that's why the world seems so overcrowded.

There's the candidate who belongs to all the secret orders; if he left off his emblems, he'd catch cold; knows every grand hailing sign there is; hasn't missed a lodge brother's funeral in years; can hardly wait for the next one to die. No campaign complete without him.

Candidate specializing in the hearty handshake, the neck-embrace, the shoulder-slap, the bear-hug, the gift of remembering every voter by his first name, and the affectionate inquiry regarding the wife and kiddies. When he kisses a baby, it sounds like somebody taking off a pair of wet overshoes. Usually has a weather-beaten wife needing a new hat.

Strutty candidate who's constantly leading an imaginary parade of 50,000 faithful followers. Loves to poke his chest away out and then follows it majestically down the street. A common or standardized species.

Biblical Wisdom.

IN THE Book of Nahum, Chapter II, I came upon this verse:

"The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings."

Those Old Testament prophets certainly peered a long way into the future. Because I traveled by night through a main thoroughfare leading from Los Angeles to the sea and vice versa, and I knew what Nahum was describing.

But not even an inspired seer of the Bible could imagine a record of traffic mortality so ghastly as the one we've already compiled in this year of grace 1937 A. D. (automobile destruction)—or a people so speed-mad.

How to Fight Japs.

WHENEVER we have a Japanese war scare, I think of Uncle Lum Whittemore, back in west Kentucky, who loved to dispense wisdom as he hitched one practiced instep on a brass rail and with his free hand fought the resident flies for the tidbit of free lunch which he held in his grip.

One day a fellow asked Uncle Lum, who had served gallantly in the Southern Confederacy until a very hard rainstorm came up, what he'd do if the yellow peril boys invaded America.

"I'd hunt me a hollow tree in the deep woods," he said, "Yes, son, the owls would have to fetch me my mail. I been readin' up on them Japs. They're fatalists."

"What's a fatalist?" demanded someone.

"Near ez I kin make out," stated the veteran, "a fatalist is a party that thinks you're doin' him a deep pussional favor when you kill him."

Hollywood Fashions.

SOME envious style expert says Hollywood fashions are too garish. If he's talking about Hollywood males, I say they're just garish enough. If they were any more garish than they are, visitors would have to wear blinders, and if they were any less garish, Italian sunsets would stand a chance in the competition. And I want the championship to stay in America.

Billy Gaxton picks out something suitable for a vest to be worn to a fancy dress party and then has a whole suit made out of it. Bob Montgomery's ties are the kind that I buy in moments of weakness and then keep in a bureau drawer because I'm not so brave as Bob is; and also I keep the drawer closed because I can't stand those sudden dazzling glares. And Bing Crosby is either color-blind or thinks everybody else is. But his crooning is mighty soothing. And so it goes—red, pink, green, purple, orange, sky-blue and here and there a dash of lavender.

Our local boys gladden the landscape with the sort of clothes I'd wear, too—only my wife won't let me. Stop, look, listen! That's our sartorial motto, and these jealous designers back east can kindly go jump in a dye-pot.

Home of the Celt

Little reference is made to Britany in the ancient classics, save that Pliny speaks of it as the "Looking-on Peninsula," with its eye and vision set upon the Atlantic, and Caesar tells something of the fighting qualities of the Veneti who inhabited the southwestern seacoast. As is well known, it is the home of the Celt, and neither the highlands of Scotland nor the west of Ireland, nor Wales can produce a finer type of that ancient race that dowered Europe with a civilization long before Homer sang of the Greek gods.

"WOLF!" CRIES SOUND ONCE MORE

The calamity howlers have predicted many dire reckonings for us all, but here we are, hale and hearty. The end of the world has not come as predicted by Wilbur Glenn Voliva (upper left) or Robert Reid (lower right).

By WILLIAM C. UTLEY

WITH news of catastrophes and wars reflected in the headlines often enough to give the nation the jitters, the 1937 "calamity howlers" are emerging from their hiding places like groundhogs from their burrows with a new batch of fearful predictions.

Suicidal war, man-made deserts, plagues and blights which will surely bring devastation to all farm lands—these have always been among the favorite topics of the skilled and unskilled prophets. Today, the bombing raids and the uncertainties of a new institution in human affairs—undeclared war—are giving an added note of terror to the old familiar war songs.

It is yet too soon to tell whether the optimists or the pessimists in the war scare controversy are correct, but only the booming of cannon and the whine of shells could out-shout the other calamity-howlers who are raising their voices in lecture halls and before microphones.

According to some prognosticators, the fertility of the soil in the United States is being reduced at such a rapid rate that the country will some day reach the status of China, and instead of $90 worth of food being available for every person in the country, there will be only about $15 worth.

Most widely spread of all the present-day calamity-howling is the ominous prediction that the "dust bowl" will emerge as an American Sahara where only one-fifth of the present population of 127,000,000 could possibly exist.

Few, today, raise the cry that the end of the world is coming, as they frequently used to.

The end of the world! That cry that once struck terror into the hearts of men, and which is still remembered when bombs and shells go screaming through the air, calls to mind the fear-stricken days of Mother Shipton.

Calamity-Howlers Still Walk.

Even Columbus, who had to contend with his share of scoffers, did not envision the day when ships with a net tonnage of 130,717,015 would cross between the Old World and the New, as they did in 1936. Nor did the Wright brothers foresee the time when glistening liners of the airlines would chalk up a record of 439,000,000 passenger miles in one year, as they are doing now.

There are still many calamity-howlers who defy history with predictions of dire happenings about to occur.

In 1934 Professor Gustave Meyer said that there would be an epidemic of scarlet fever of terrible proportions in the United States navy. Nothing to confirm this can be found in navy medical records, however, and the 103,000 men in the navy rolls are ample evidence of another prediction that went wrong.

A modern pioneer in the prediction of calamitous events was R. P. Hearne, noted British economist. Writing for the London pictorial magazine, The Sphere, he said in the issue of October 10, 1920:

"Within ten years the power monopoly of coal will be broken and it will be broken not by political and economic methods but by the arrival of a new fuel which will replace coal! Long before our coal measures are exhausted, coal mining as we know it today will have ceased, and the coal strike will become as obsolete as coal itself."

Some calamity-howlers arouse the country with forecasts of slow and horrible annihilation.

A moderate warning, which was taken up and distorted with fearful results, was issued by Dr.

Jacob G. Lipman. After exhaustive studies with the aid of a corps of 30 WPA engineers and statisticians, Dr. Lipman submitted a report last June, which said, in part:

Warns of Soil Destruction.

"We have about 200 years to go unless we start seriously conserving our soil and renewing it where it has been destroyed or impoverished. The six most vital elements of the soil, essential for our food supply, are nitrogen, phosphorus, potash, calcium, magnesium and sulphur. Nearly all of them are being used up at the rate of many million tons a year."

Granted that the American farmer has dissipated his resources, that is not to say that behind the scenes science is not perpetually on guard to offset mankind's carelessness. On the debit side, floods and droughts have magnified the devastation, but means of restoring the soil are being constantly developed and improved.

Dr. P. D. Peterson, agricultural expert for the Freeport Sulphur company, is one of those who debunk the terror of the dying soil. "History, if nothing else, should teach that dire predictions of soil exhaustion are risky," he says, "because the same acres have been farmed and reformed for centuries in Europe and are still producing abundant crops."

He declares that American acres should be more productive rather than less, pointing out that scientific prescriptions in the form of balanced fertilizers and chemical compounds which enrich the soil are being added to the century-old practice of crop rotation. Sulphur, like nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, is required by all growing plants and animals, Dr. Peterson explains; soils deficient in sulphur will not support normal plant growth, but such deficiencies are being met by adding sulphur to the soil, either alone or in fertilizer mixtures.

Fungicides and insecticides, to which sulphur is also important, are conquering other menaces against which older generations were powerless, and have completely altered the situation, he says.

Still other modern "wolf" criers point out that in 1936 nearly 100,000,000 bushels of wheat were "burned away" as great, stifling clouds arose from the Dust Bowl.

Farmers of the great wheat belt, however, have refused to yield to panic, and they are giving the most effective answer yet devised to the calamity-howlers, by taking the steps necessary to overcome the difficulties in their path. They are using such simple and logical defenses as picket windbreaks and ranks of trees. They are plowing furrows at right angles to the prevailing winds, so that the sweep of the storms will be broken up.

Incidents such as these may combine to prove that calamity-howlers do have a value in dramatizing the menaces which threaten mankind. While whole countries are mentally thrown off balance by their fulminations, enough heat is generated to weld together the constructive elements in the community. This was seen in large-scale enterprises for reclaiming the soil, and may be repeated if the howl becomes loud enough, so that new measures for healing other ills will be forthcoming.

Fashion's Triple-Threat

HERE'S something new in the way of triple-threats, Milady: This trio of smart contestants in the thrilling game of Sew-Your-Own! With all three in your wardrobe you'll know stadium style, classroom coquetry, and sorority chic. Best of all, you won't spend a king's ransom nor a "long stretch" in their making, thanks to the economy and simplicity of these modern Sew-Your-Owns!

Sorority Chic. Sorority chic begins and ends in the boudoirs on the third floor. This highly tasteful smock (above left) is a sorority requirement of the first order. You may choose either the short length to work in or the long length to be lazy in. Use percale, gingham or silk print.

Classroom Coquetry. What if your knowledge of bugs or battles, or what have you, is limited? You can count on a certain coquettish smile and a certain smooth-lined frock (above center) to take you through any inquisition. It will put the stamp of approval on your appearance indelibly. Try your version in dull crepe or sheer wool.

Stadium Style. Big moments come fast and furious when you're rooting for dear old Alma Mater, but you have to look the part to be one with that glamour and fun. Sew-Your-Own suggests its newest spectator dress just for this purpose—that you may look the part, feel the part and be on the winning side, no matter when or where the competition takes place.

The Patterns. Pattern 1997 is designed in sizes 14 to 20; 32 to 44 bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material. In full length 3 1/2 yards (short sleeves). Pattern 1353 is designed in sizes

Succotash Chowder.

3 slices bacon 1 No. 2 can succotash
2 onions Salt and pepper
2 potatoes 2 cups medium white sauce
3 carrots Chopped parsley

Cut the bacon into small pieces and fry until crisp. Chop the onion, dice the potatoes and carrots and add to the bacon fat, and fry until the onion is a light brown. Add the succotash and about a cupful of water. Cover the pan and simmer until the potatoes and carrots are tender. Season with salt and pepper. Meantime, make the medium white sauce and add it to the cooked vegetable mixture. Allow the mixture to heat through thoroughly to blend the flavors. Serve hot with a sprinkling of chopped parsley over the top. This is hearty. If you prefer a thinner chowder, add extra milk.

Are Women Better Shoppers than Men?

GRANTING a woman's reputation for wise buying, let's trace the methods by which she has earned it. Where does she find out about the advantages and details of electrical refrigeration? What tells her how to keep the whole household clean—rugs, floors, bathroom tiling—and have energy left over for golf and parties? How does she learn about new and delicious entrees and desserts that surprise and delight her family? Where does she discover those subtleties of dress and make-up that a man appreciates but never understands?

Why, she reads the advertisements. She is a consistent, thoughtful reader of advertisements, because she has found that she can believe them—and profit thereby. Overlooking the advertisements would be depriving herself of data continuously useful in her job of Purchasing Agent to the Family.

For that matter, watch a wise man buy a car or a suit or an insurance policy. Not a bad shopper himself! He reads advertisements, too!

School Notes

High School

The first preliminary league debate for Tawas was held at the high school Friday night, November 5th. The opposing team was from Oscoda. The local team consisted of Bud Leslie, Harold Ross and Frieda Witzke, upholding the affirmative side. The Oscoda team consisted of Genevieve Lovelace, Howard Fulsher and Arnold Cummings. Bill Prescott acted as chairman and Gerald Roekle, of the local team and Helen Mead, of Oscoda, acted as timekeepers. The judges were Mrs. Osgerby of East Tawas, Mr. Medler of Prescott, and Mr. Loughlin of Alabaster.

Before the debate began Phillip Mark gave a baritone solo, and the girl's trio sang "My Curly-Headed Baby" and "Night."

The debaters then gave their constructive speeches. Then a five minute intermission was declared after which the debaters gave their rebuttal speeches. Each team deserves much credit for the manner in which they delivered their speeches.

Are we proud of our debaters? Sure we are. But very little support is given them at the debates when they are right at home. This certainly doesn't encourage them very much, do you think? Let's have more support next time.

This month's honor roll—only 12 students being able to make the "grade." Norma Burtzloff is the only new name to be added to the list while Otto Ross missed by only one point. Ten of the twelve are girls. The seniors and Freshmen each placed four while the juniors and sophomores each had two.

The following are the students who received no mark lower than a "B" for the past month: Norma Burtzloff, Janet McLean, Marguerite McLean, Marion Musolf, Norma Musolf, Emma Lou Pfahl, Frieda Ross and Harold Ross.

A benefit show will be given at the Rivola theatre on the 17th and 18th of this month. The proceeds will go for the general fund for Tawas City High School.

The Freshmen are pleased to hear that their class treasurer is to have some real work to do this year. The class of 1937 gave them five dollars which they have voted to save until they become worrying seniors.

We are grateful to Mrs. Charles Prescott for a gift of Margaret Mitchell's popular novel, "Gone With The Wind."

The seniors are sponsoring an Armistice supper to raise money for their class. The supper will be held at the Baptist church and the price is 50 cents for Adults, 35 cents for students over 8 years old and 25 cents for children under 8 years.

The scholastic averages for the month of October were lower than those for September. The average for the high school dropped from 2.160 to 2.100. The freshmen had the highest average for the month, although they dropped from 2.438 to 2.193. The seniors and juniors also had lower averages this month while the sophomores raised their average.

Grade	October	September
9	2.193	2.438
12	2.113	2.164
11	2.110	2.113
10	1.969	1.918

Thirty three students have been neither absent nor tardy during the present school year. This is fourteen less than at the end of last month. Twelve are freshmen, eight are sophomores, seven are juniors, and six are seniors.

The freshmen class also have the highest percentage of attendance for the month of October, while the sophomores lead for the year. The following are the attendance records of the several classes for the month of October and also the year:

Grade	October	Year
9	98.0%	96.8%
12	97.8%	97.5%
10	97.6%	98.3%
11	96.7%	97.6%

An effort is being made in the Commercial department to develop those personality traits most desired of employees by the business men of this country. These traits are, honesty, promptness, courtesy, personal neatness, neatness in work, pleasing voice, tactfulness, friendliness, and self control. We feel that these are as important as skill.

5th and 6th Grades

The Hygiene classes have been studying about the benefits of hot cereals. The Ralston Purina Company sent us some grains of wheat and a wheat growing tray for each pupil. We have planted the wheat grains. Each pupil was given a sample package of Ralston also. Many pupils are planning on winning the cereal bowl if their mothers will cooperate.

The third and fourth grade room helped us put on an Armistice Day program. The program consisted of the following:

Songs—Pack Up Your Troubles, Keep The Home Fires Burning, Over There, and The Long, Long Trail. The Americans Creed. Reading of the President's Armistice Day Proclamation by Junior Ogden. Song by six third and fourth graders. In Flanders Fields by Harold Burtzloff. A Reply to Flanders Fields by Maxine DePotty. Information will now be available showing the age groups in which the employable unemployed or partially unemployed are found. The answers obtained from the cards will show in what trades there is the most enforced idleness, and the parts of the country in which unemployment most prevails.

The authorities will have data to show which industries are lagging in reemployment, and thus will know which would contribute the most jobs by their revival. The cards will reveal what new industries are needed to augment available work in all parts of the country.
