Fred S. Whittemore, first white child born here and grandson of Judge Gideon O. Whittemore founder of Tawas City, died at about five o'clock last Sunday evening. He was 77 years old and had been a resident of this city all of his life.

The Whittemores were prominent lumbermen in the Saginaw bay area. Members of the family were the first county officials of the newly organized county, filling nearly all of the offices for several years, and were active in various phases of the business life of the city. Gideon O. Whittemore and his sons came here in 1852 and purchased a large area of timber land, they erected mills on the bay and conducted a large lumbering business here.

In 1857 the Whittemores laid out a village on Tawas river which eventually became the city of Tawas City. The original plat contained a fine business district with a city market and public square. However, the bay was the front door of the city and business located where shipping was most convenient, rather than where directed by lines drawn on a plat book. Union square is now a vacant lot, and the proposed business sites are occupied by residences.

The Charles H. Whittemore home was at one time the finest residence in the city. It was torn down in 1924 and the site is now occupied by the city hall and residence of Mrs. Chas. Curry.

The deceased was the last descendant of this prominent family to remain a resident of this city. He was a son of Charles M. Whittemore, born February 14, 1861. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Oliver LaVack, of Oscoda, and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson of Beaver Falls, Pa.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Moffatt funeral home, Rev. Frank Metcalf officiated. Interment was in the family lot in the Tawas City cemetery.

Allen-McGirr

At 8 p. m. Wednesday, October 19, Miss Wilma Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, and Lyman McGirr, son of E. W. McGirr, were united in marriage at the Lutheran Church at Hale. Rev. Kenneth Vertz officiating.

A background of cedar banked with baskets of snapdragons and baby chrysanthemums formed a beautiful setting for the ceremony. The windows were lighted with tall white candles.

Little Glenda Johnson, dressed in a long gown of blue taffeta and carrying a basket of white baby mums, acted as flower girl, while Dorothy Streeter, with a gown of peach taffeta, carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Jane Kaiser, of Alpena. Stanley Shellenberger, also a cousin of the bride, was best man. Delos Allen and Thomas Thompson were ushers.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Clarence Van Wormer, the bride entered with her father, who gave her away. They were met by the groom and best man at the altar. Norman Van Wormer sang "Just For Today" and the wedding ceremony was performed.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white satin in princess style with a sweetheart neck line and long full sleeves narrowing to a point at the wrists. She wore a double finger-length veil held in place with a band of rhinestones and orange bossoms. White satin pumps and a bouquet of talismans roses and white baby mums tied with satin ribbon completed her costume.

The bridesmaid wore a pale blue taffeta gown made princess style, with a quilted jacket of the same material. A wreath of silver leaves and rose buds and matching silver colored slippers completed her costume. Her arm bouquet was of talismans roses and bronze colored mums.

A wedding supper was served to forty relatives and friends of the couple at the home of the bride's parents, after the ceremony.

A wedding cake decorated in pink and white, with white tapers and white ribbon streamers reaching from table to ceiling, formed the setting for the bride's table.

After the supper the young couple went to their new home on W. Main St. where they will be at home to their friends.

Guests from out of town included the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John McGirr, of Spratt; Mr. and Mrs. Clare McGirr and son, Harry McDonald, of Alpena; Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. Henry Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, of Whittemore; and Miss Eleanor Kocher, of Bay City.

Charles Pinkerton Goes on Two Year Trip For Chrysler Corp.

From autumn to spring, without the intervening ice and snow will have been Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkerton's experience when they disembark from the S. S. Mariposa at Wellington, New Zealand, late in November. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton leave Los Angeles today on the S. S. Lurine for Honolulu where they will remain for two weeks before continuing their journey to New Zealand.

Mr. Pinkerton is a son of Charles A. Pinkerton, vice-president and general manager of the Detroit and Mackinac railroad, and Mrs. Pinkerton, the Pinkerton's were former residents of Saginaw.

Mr. Pinkerton, who has been with the Chrysler Motor corporation since his graduation from college, has been appointed sales representative of the Australasian Division of the Chrysler corporation. During his stay in the Far East and South, Mr. Pinkerton's duty will be to visit the various Chrysler distributors in this sales division. His headquarters for the first six months will be at Wellington, New Zealand. From there he will go to Australia with headquarters at Adelaide. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton will be away for about two years.

Mr. Pinkerton is a graduate of the East Tawas high school, the Michigan State college and the Chrysler school of Engineering. His many friends here wish them a pleasant sojourn and congratulate him on the fine success which would give him this position of responsibility.

Audie Johnson Post Notes

Audie Johnson Post No. 211 American Legion has plans for the observance of Armistice Day, Friday, November 11, with a 20th anniversary dance at the Edgewater Gardens. Music will be furnished by the Rhythm Swingers. The net proceeds of this party will go towards defraying the expense of the improvements made on the legion hall during the past summer. All veterans and the dancing public are cordially invited to attend.

The membership committee has been busy the past week. All active Legionnaires should sign up for 1939 by November 11th, in order to maintain our record and retain the trophy.

The Legion Bridge Tournament will get under way in December. Comrades Arthur Dillon and Robert McKay will again be in charge.

Do not forget—The Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor the showing of a very interesting picture, "Sons of the Legion," at the Rivola Theatre, November 9 and 10. Wait for this film.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Henry L. Stoddard, one of the best of all American political reporters, friend of more Presidents and cabinet officers than any other living man, is the author of "It Costs to Be President," just published. Its mine of previously untold stories quickly transferred it from the book page to the news page. Having enjoyed a long acquaintance with Mr. Stoddard, I dropped in at his office, overlooking the Old Park Row which "formed his genius."

Close in nearly all his life with wing-collar statesmanship, he wanted to talk about shirt-sleeve newspapering. The latter allusion had to do with Hitchcock's Beanery, where shirt-sleeved waiters served ham and beans to printers, stereotypers, reporters, editors, and politicians, who mingled in a shirt-sleeve forum which Mr. Stoddard thinks helped to galvanize the New York newspapers of that day—from 40 to 50 years ago.

Sixty-two years in newspapering, Mr. Stoddard is "up from the case," a printer on the New York Tribune, an ace political reporter and for 25 years owner and publisher of the New York Mail.

"It seems to me that every reporter ought to know the smell of printer's ink," he said. "The great newspaper of today, with all its marvelous efficiency, has lost something stimulating and vital in no longer having this mingling of the crafts. I remember that, at Hitchcock's, a slovenly reporter might be called down by one of those omniscient old-time printers, or perhaps it would be the other way about, with one of the news-men berating the press room foreman, and asking him why he couldn't manage a decent make-ready."

"Theodore Roosevelt used to go to Hitchcock's frequently, perhaps with Jake Riis or Eddie Riggs of the New York Sun, and I remember James Creelman, Julian Ralph and a score of then famous politicians and newspaper men, mingling with the men from the mechanical departments, arguing over the world war scare, local and national politics—everything under the sun. It was something like the free speech common in early colonial America, where you could step into the enclosure and say what you thought about the king or anybody or anything else."

"The gusto with which T. R. would dump a bottle of catsup and a slather of mustard on a plate of ham and beans, or corned beef and beans, was something worth seeing and remembering."

"Frequently, these sessions at Hitchcock's were a post-mortem on the paper, just after press time, in which any story of unusual distinction or a clean-cut news beat was sure to get a cheer, and quite as certainly any of us who had stubbed his toe was in for a raking over. My work has made me an observer of our efforts to establish true democracy in America. I have never attempted an exact definition of democracy, but, whatever it is, I am sure it was exemplified in this craft ideal of the old-time newspaper. The spirit seems lost in the highly departmentalized, mechanized and specialized character of modern large-scale enterprise, not only of newspapers, but of business in general."

Stoddard's family newspaper tradition goes way back into the flatbed days. His great-grandfather established the Hudson, N. Y., Register, in 1787. He learned the printer's trade in his grandfather's printing office at Hudson. A proforeader on the Tribune at 15, he read proof on the famous Tilden Cipher dispatches, a reporter soon thereafter, on the Tribune and the Philadelphia Press. He wrote the first daily telegraph letter ever sent out from New York city.

I ALWAYS thought the reason Alice Paul never stayed in jail long was that she was just a wraith and floated through the bars. The wan, fragile little feminist, locked up many times in days past, now fans up her National Woman's party to the World Woman's party, of which she becomes temporary chairman. Its objective is the abolition of all legal distinctions between men and women, to which goal she narrowed triumphant suffrage and to which she has held it ever since. A tiny wisp of a woman, she is the living refutation of Schopenhauer's contention that will and intelligence never go together.

One feature of the 1938 farm bill calls for U. S. loans on crops affected by falling prices. When crops are sold, loans must be repaid. Due November 1 are repayments on loans covering 48,000,000 bushels of corn. But by mid-October, with corn selling on the farm from 33 to 38 cents, and at market for 44 cents, disgusted farmers saw they would be money ahead to default on loans and give Uncle Sam their corn. Thus, overnight, the U. S. government became the world's largest corn broker.

This is but one phase of a Chinese puzzle known as the American farm problem. Since 1933 it has been the personal headache of Iowa's Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, who can remember the halcyon days when all surplus wheat and cotton—the two basic crops—were bought readily by foreign nations. But foreign markets are now glutted. American farm surpluses must either be dumped abroad at any price foreign buyers are willing to pay, or be left to rot in U. S. granaries. Most people have favored the latter policy, meanwhile deploring the economic imbalance that allows many U. S. citizens to go hungry despite bountiful crops.

The easiest remedy would be to let low prices drive American farmers off the land, but this is socially inhumane, politically unsound and economically foolhardy. When the New Deal started in 1933, AAA was formulated to pay farmers for limiting their acreage. Funds came from processing taxes levied against manufacturers, but ultimately paid by consumers. When the Supreme court ruled processing taxes invalid, a "soil conservation" program was sent up to pay farmers for retiring their land, ostensibly to give it a rest but actually to limit production. Thirty per cent of customs receipts were set aside to pay for it.

Last spring, with surpluses still piling up, congress passed a new farm law, too late to limit production this year, which partially accounted for its failure. Under it the government may (1) control production with consent of a majority of farmers; (2) make payments for retiring land; (3) make additional "parity" payments as a protection against less-than-production-cost prices; (4) loan money against crops. If compulsory control is enforced next year—as provided—wheat and cotton acreages must be reduced one half. Agricultural rebellion would result.

Still seeking the answer, Secretary Wallace recently tried export subsidies, which the state department's Undersecretary Francis B. Sayre condemns as "the uneconomic giving away of our substance to foreign nations." Though U. S. farmers are being subsidized the difference between export prices and the domestic market price, many observers consider it ridiculous to sell surplus foodstuffs abroad at a loss when several million Americans are going hungry. Consequently next winter's congress will be asked to adopt still another farm bill, the most far-reaching attempt yet made to kill two birds with one stone. The birds: farm problem and poor relief. The Wallace plan: surplus farm products would be distributed to U. S. low-income groups instead of being dumped abroad.

Though the federal surplus commodities corporation already distributes potatoes, prunes, milk and other minor products not affected by AAA, the new plan would include beef, pork, wheat, corn and cotton. Broadly, it would follow New York city's method of selling milk to relief families for eight cents a quart, the city paying the difference. If expanded to a national proposition, the U. S. would pay retailers the difference between standard price and cost price.

To pay for it, Secretary Wallace asks restoration of processing taxes, which theoretically fall on manufacturers but ultimately strike the consumer. Opponents argue that retail prices would rise, that consumption would drop and substitutes would be encouraged, thereby hurting the farmer. But since the government hopes to stabilize farm prices, its counter-argument is that producers would have steady income and increased purchasing power, thereby boosting U. S. prosperity. These are the arguments next winter's congress will hear.

Business

Even as U. S. business has been busy reporting declined profits during its third 1938 quarter, neighboring columns of the financial pages have chronicled what every manufacturer and banker knew was coming: A business upturn. At Detroit, General Motors led the way by placing 35,000 men back at work, meanwhile granting 10 per cent pay boosts to all employees making less than $300 a month. Chrysler was a close second, announcing recall of 34,000 men since August 1.

The reason was a double one. October, November and December are normal upturn months, especially in the automobile industry where new models begin coming off assembly lines. The other reason, one that made business hold its tongue in check, is that the full force of U. S. "pump priming" is just beginning to take force. Whether this combined natural-artificial stimulant will keep business going uphill after January 1 is anybody's guess. If it accomplishes nothing else, the upturn has brought a measure of industrial peace. Where a month ago new strike waves were sweeping the nation, sudden calm has now descended as industry's wheels again start turning.

Religion

Had October's national Eucharistic congress gone searching for a discussion theme, it could have found none better than that which Nazi Germany tossed into its lap a fortnight earlier. In Vienna, Theodore Cardinal Innitzer's St. Stephen's cathedral had been mobbed, his palace invaded in protest against the cardinal's strong anti-Nazi stand. By the time 100,000 U. S. Roman Catholics assembled in New Orleans, enough sentiment was crystallized to make the Eucharistic congress a stomping ground for democracy and an unpopular place for dictators.

Messaged Franklin Roosevelt: "We still remain true to the faith of our fathers who established religious liberty when the nation began . . . I doubt if there is any problem in the world today that would not find happy solution in the spirit of the Sermon on the Mount."

POPE PIUS XI
He slapped at Dictator Hitler.

But the keynote came from Pope Pius XI, whose six-minute broadcast from the Vatican was a direct slap at Dictator Adolf Hitler, whose lieutenants had tolerated the Vienna outrage. Said the pontiff: "We see many men who hold as valueless and reject and spurn those divine precepts of the gospel which alone can bring salvation to the human race. Scarcely can we refrain from a tear when we behold the eternal majesty of God himself set aside and outraged, or with unspeakable wickedness held up, as an enemy, to reviling and to execration."
Sharpest words of all came from Auxiliary Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of Chicago, who charged "isms" (fascism, communism, paganism, materialism and naturalism) were the sources of world woes. As delegates headed for home, it was clear that U. S. Catholics will line up vigorously behind German-Austrian Catholics in the inevitable battle between Nazism and the church.

Defense

Though the Munich agreement was aimed to preserve Europe's peace, its immediate result has been feverish rearmament. Great Britain has made plans for conscription and new airplane factories; France has appropriated 1,320,000,000 francs for military spending and 887,000,000 more for her navy; Germany is rushing fortification of her Belgian frontier; Italy speeds barriers in the Alps.

Few Americans have hoped that the U. S. can avoid similar preparations. Loudest persuasion of all has come from Britain's Winston Churchill, whose short wave broadcast urged the U. S. to take a commanding lead against dictators, to join Britain in stopping "isms" before it is too late. Added impetus has come from current U. S. espionage investigations (see DOMESTIC).

BERNARD BARUCH
He wanted billions for defense.

Growing louder, this voice finally reached White House ears, coincidentally bringing comment from Capitalist Bernard Baruch who chaired the war industries board in 1917.

Emerging from a White House conference, Mr. Baruch started observers thinking by warning that U. S. defenses were inadequate. Though most Americans regard "defense" as successful repulsion of a North American invasion, a broader conception calls for protection of the entire Western hemisphere. Mr. Baruch's defense program includes: (1) immediate construction of a "two ocean navy"; (2) increased air power; (3) better equipment for 400,000 regular soldiers and the national guard; (4) subsidies to protect U. S. trade interests in South America; (5) industrial and military mobilization law; (6) a special tax to pay for these expenses.

Though it lacks official confirmation, President Roosevelt plainly favors the Baruch program. The suggested tax boost comes dangerously near election time, but administration leaders minimize this political hazard because: (1) most Americans regard democracy's security as more important than financial security or political partisanship; (2) a speeded-up military and naval program, financed by special tax, would decrease relief rolls and possibly create what Germany has been facing, an actual shortage of labor. Thus WPA and PWA costs could be slashed and the budget balanced.

Domestic

Inescapably connected with the government's new emphasis on military defense against Nazi-Fascist world powers is President Roosevelt's interest in espionage. For 20 years the U. S. has disregarded spies, though the increasing frequency of arrests has made Americans fearful of Germany, Italy, Japan and Russia. Heightening the tension have been: (1) the Munich agreement which placed democracies on the defensive; (2) arrest in mid-October of four Germans taking photographs in the Canal Zone; (3) trial in New York of four alleged Nazi agents, with coincident efforts to prove indictments against 14 others who escaped the spy net and fled to Germany.

Greatest interest in the espionage trial lies in red-haired, 26-year-old Johanna Hoffman, who reportedly transported spy messages from New York to Germany while serving as hairdresser on the liner Europa. Second interest lies in Guenther Gustav Rumrich, former U. S. army sergeant who deserted and made a blundering attempt to secure 35 passport blanks last June. Legitimacy of U. S. fears was verified when Rumrich pleaded guilty and turned state's witness.

Though New York's spy trial appears commonplace, its significance is tremendous. Not only does it mark an emboldened U. S. defense attitude, but legal experts also explain it is the first time America has named a supposedly friendly power (Germany) in direct charges. Since indictments are filed against heads of the German secret service and naval intelligence, the trial is a potential international dynamite keg.

It may be predicted that next winter's congress will co-ordinate and tighten the government's outmoded anti-spy regulations, including the espionage act of 1917 which applies only to individuals and carries no teeth against spy-inspiring organizations. Although the U. S. has never indulged in peacetime spy activities there is speculation whether congress may adopt this activity which has been an important European governmental function for 300 years.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Describes Correct Diet for Cool Weather; Explains How to Keep Warm and Well

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

MANY people look upon fall weather with foreboding. They cannot observe leaves on the ground without a feeling of vague uneasiness—and the sight of brown and barren fields fills them with desolation.

This, I think, is a throwback to an earlier day when the advent of cool weather foretold long months of bitterly cold days in draughty, inadequately heated houses. And the lack of adequate heat was only one of many difficulties. The principal reason for fearing cold weather is another heritage from the past.

Limited Diet of an Earlier Day

There was a time within memory of many of us when the terms "cold-weather diet" and "warm-weather diet" had real meaning. Winter food differed a great deal from summer food, particularly in the absence of fresh fruits and vegetables, and in the restricted use of milk, and milk products.

The limited diet of winter was enforced by conditions of that period. Methods of production, transportation, refrigeration and storage of foods, which are commonplace today, were then unknown.

Fruits and vegetables were consumed when and where they were grown, and when cold weather prevented their growth, they were not available. The canning industry was young and the grocery store in cold weather presented a far different appearance from the modern food store in which the shelves are lined, row upon row, with shining cans of the finest fruits and vegetables to be found anywhere in the world, plus an amazing assortment of prepared milks.

It was an accepted fact that fruits, vegetables, and the generous use of milk belonged to the summer months, while in winter everyone ate an unbalanced diet. As a result of lacking these essential protective foods, health went down rapidly from late fall to early spring.

The winter diet was deficient in minerals and vitamins, which science has proven to be the protectors of health, barriers against disease, sustainers of life. But in those days, vitamins were unknown and very little had been learned about minerals. Therefore, when people became ill during cold weather, the natural conclusion was that sickness was inevitable during the winter season.

Cold Weather Really a Tonic

Times have changed. Scientific knowledge has increased. The genius of man has asserted itself in mechanical advancement. The expressions, "cold-weather diet" and "warm-weather diet" have lost their former meaning.

Almost without exception, the protective foods are available throughout the year, no matter where we live. It is therefore possible to protect the health by a balanced diet all the year 'round, and to benefit by the tonic effect of cold weather. For, contrary to popular belief, cold weather is beneficial, and not harmful, to healthy people.

Cold speeds up all the activities of the body. The circulation is improved, muscle tone is increased, and digestion, absorption and elimination are stimulated. Even prolonged cold is thus a tonic to health, provided we do not weaken our bodies by an unbalanced diet. It is partly because so many people continue to eat improperly, in spite of our newer knowledge of nutrition, that we still find an increasing amount of sickness in the fall, which mounts steadily until it reaches its peak in the months of January, February and March.

Dangers of an Improper Diet

Yet winter need have no terrors for the fit. Only the weak, the unfit, surrender and become its victims. That the number of victims is large each winter merely indicates how many people neglect their health through careless living, and especially through careless eating.

Measures to protect one's self against the attack of winter should be taken during the summer and early fall. A sturdy resistance against the ills of winter should be built up by means of a balanced diet which assures an abundant supply of the minerals and vitamins.

When a person is undernourished or improperly nourished, he is denied of every defense. He is chilled by the slightest drop in temperature. He offers fertile soil for every kind of disease germs.

He can neither resist their invasion, nor fight them off after they have attacked.

Thus, the first rule for keeping warm and well in winter is to live and eat in a manner that helps to maintain health and strength. The correct winter diet differs in one important respect—and one only—from the correct diet at other seasons.

More Fuel Foods Required

As a rule, people are more energetic in cold weather and it is therefore necessary to increase the amount of energy-producing foods. Nearly all children, and adults who spend much of their time out doors, should consume more high caloric foods which may be provided in the form of easily digested carbohydrates, such as rice, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, potatoes, cereals and breadstuffs.

In the case of adults, the amount of fats may also be increased and in some circumstances, more sweets may likewise be taken.

To summarize, the cold weather diet should include a quart of milk daily for every child, a pint for each adult; two fruits daily, or one fruit and one fruit juice—and while one serving may be a dried fruit, such as prunes, apricots or figs, there should be one serving of a citrus fruit, or tomatoes, to provide vitamin C; two vegetables besides potatoes, one of which should be of the green, leafy variety, either fresh or canned; an egg daily, or at least three or four weekly; one daily serving of meat, fish or chicken, and a second protein food such as cheese, dried peas or beans or nuts; and enough of the fuel foods including whole grain cereals, to keep the body warm and comfortable.

If you eat correctly and dress sensibly so that you are neither too warmly clad indoors nor too thinly clad out of doors, you can enjoy cold weather and benefit by it to the extent of increased health and happiness.

Your Health May Depend on Your Teeth

An Editorial by C. Houston Goudiss

The reason why some men and women in their middle years look and feel younger today than their parents did at the same age, is because they have learned something of the importance of caring properly for their teeth. In recent years, dentists have discovered that sound teeth are in truth a passport to good health, and that there is as close a relationship between healthy teeth and healthy bodies as between decayed teeth and sickly bodies.

Unfortunately, however, only a small percentage of our population is yet aware of the far-reaching effects of teeth upon health, and a distinguished scientist is so disturbed over our national ignorance in this respect that he has said that unless this trend is reversed, the course of human evolution will lead downward to extinction. That statement is no exaggeration. For it would be difficult to over-estimate the influence of the teeth on human health and happiness.

For many years I have endeavored to explain that a neglected tooth—which soon becomes a decayed tooth—is a poison factory, distributing its noxious products to every part of the body, and that it may lead indirectly to neuritis, rheumatic ailments, dyspepsia, and other obscure complaints.

In many of the "WHAT TO EAT AND WHY" articles, which have appeared in this newspaper over my signature, I have endeavored to point out the close relationship between diet and dental disease; between frequent and thorough brushing of the teeth with an efficient dentifrice so as to remove all food particles, and strong, beautiful teeth.

As a result of these articles, I have received many letters, showing that homemakers are eager for sound, authoritative advice on the proper care of the teeth. To help these and other readers how to properly care for their teeth, I have prepared a booklet on—"BUILDING AND PLANNING HEALTH" which I am offering FREE, because I feel so strongly that this information should be in every home, knowing as I do, that the salvation of the human race may lie in saving their teeth. ## HEALTH

Well compensated heart is favorable to long life despite actual damage to organ.

—By Dr. James W. Barton

YOU may be rejected for insurance because of heart disease, yet the examining physician states that there is no reason why you should not live for a number of years because your heart is well "compensated."

What is meant by "compensation," where actual heart disease is present, or has at some time in the past done permanent damage to the heart?

A heart with good compensation is when the heart is able to pump blood out of its chambers as fast as blood flows into them. Just as long as it doesn't get behind in pumping blood out as fast as it comes in it is considered a well compensated heart and there is no immediate danger.

We see individuals rejected for insurance who have enlarged hearts, hearts with leaking valves and some with a certain degree of irregularity, and yet there are no symptoms of heart disease present—shortness of breath, early fatigue, swelling of the feet.

What will happen to these individuals should they lose some of this "compensation" and begin to have breathlessness on slight exertion, and tire very easily? Does this mean that they may collapse and pass away within a short time?

No. These symptoms—breathlessness and early fatigue—are prompt warnings that the heart is unable to do the amount of work it has been doing and requires one of two methods of help. It may be stimulated to drive the blood out of its chambers by means of digitalis or other heart stimulant, or the individual by doing less work, resting more, does not ask the heart to do as much work and the heart is able to do this smaller amount of work without difficulty.

Compensation May Be Regained.

In the clinic of Drs. Burton E. Hamilton and Carl A. Schuck, Boston Lying In Hospital, as recorded in Medical Clinics of North America, the "double" method of regaining compensation for a heart that is beginning to fail is used. This means that the patient is put, at complete rest in bed (which is often all that is needed) and the use of heart stimulants. Excess water in the tissues and circulation is removed during the treatment. The clinic's advice, if followed, may mean many more years of life.

"The removal of undesirable burdens, keeping free from mouth infections—teeth, tonsils, sinuses—a measured amount of work or exercise daily, reporting for regular examinations, should prevent sudden or dangerous loss of compensation. These patients are getting the most out of life."

Cause of Migraine Difficult to Discover

Migraine is one of the ailments for which no special cause has been found. The pain, in the great majority of cases, is on just one side of the head. Together with this pain there is often nausea and vomiting. Another fact is that it appears to occur at regular intervals.

Research physicians in Great Britain and the United States now state that migraine may affect one or both sides of the head and that it is not a single disease but a group of symptoms due to various causes.

The clinic of Dr. Theodore J. C. von Storch, Boston City hospital, make some clear statements regarding migraine in "Medical Clinics of North America." The clinic finds, after examination of many cases, that there are usually four outstanding symptoms in a typical case of migraine.

1. Headache, usually but not always on one side, occurring at more or less frequent intervals.
2. Eye disturbances such as cloudy patches in front of the eyes, pain, tears and fear of light.
3. Stomach and intestinal disturbances, usually nausea and vomiting.
4. The family history usually reveals the presence of migraine, epilepsy, or allergy (sensitivity to foods or other substances) in the patient's immediate family.

Many Causes Possible.

When all four of the above symptoms are present it may safely be called migraine.

"Competent observers have considered the migraine syndrome (group of symptoms) to be due to disturbances of the eye, large intestine, liver, stomach, intestine, to poor mental adjustment to life, and other conditions."

The clinic, after observations of a large series of unselected cases, believes that some cases are due to eye conditions, others to disturbances of liver or other organ, and others to allergy.

Speed of Baseball

Ken says: According to Dr. Coleman R. Griffith of the University of Illinois, some pitchers are able to throw a baseball at an initial speed of 120 feet a second. An average fast ball travels about 88 feet a second, making the time from the pitcher's hand to the batter approximately a half second. Most out-curves are slow balls that travel not more than 60 feet a second.

Ample Precaution—Hence Little Concern

Adeline Genee, famous dancer, now retired, tells this story:

Two young ladies—nongolfers—who wandered over a golf course and, finding a nice smooth bit of turf with a little flag in the center, sat down to rest. A couple of men in the distance shouted "fore" and madly waved their arms, but not having been introduced, the ladies took no notice. Soon one of the men came striding up. "Don't you think it's very dangerous to sit here?" he asked gravely.

"Oh, no," replied one of the ladies, with a smile. "You see, we're sitting on a mackintosh."—Kansas City Star.

Hemlock
Mrs. Lucy Allen and mother, Mrs. Jessie Curry, were Caro visitors Wednesday, October 19, for the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Curry's aunt, Mrs. Angeline Tompkins. Mrs. Tompkins was one hundred and four years old. Open house was observed by many friends of the old lady, who at one time or another had made her home in several different states, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Colorado. However, she considers Michigan her home state, where she lived as a child and raised her children, and also, where her husband and part of her family are laid to rest.
The Young People's Class of the Hemlock Road Baptist Church held another one of their social evenings at Grant Town Hall on Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrister is spending some time in Tawas City with Mrs. Jane Chambers.
W. A. Evans Furniture Co.'s removal sale will be continued for another week.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burtzloff, of Tawas City, visited Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fahsel and family.
Mesdames Irene Lorenze, Lucy Allen, Beatrice Herriman, and Bernice Herriman attended the Home Extension Club meeting at the Court House. Two groups are now being formed to work on the Hemlock Road. Home furnishing is to be the subject taken up this season.
Mrs. Paul Bouchard, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is somewhat improved.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Earl and daughter, Beulah May, and son, Reed, visited in Caro with Mr. Earl's father and family, and also attended the birthday party of Mrs. Angeline Tompkins.
Miss Evelyn Latham, student at C. S. T. C. at Mt. Pleasant spent the week-end at home.
Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder, of Beaverton, who have been visiting here with their son, Delos, and family, have returned home.
Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Seaford, Ontario, and Mrs. Anna Engle, of Brussels, Ontario, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Menzie. The ladies are sisters of Mr. Menzie.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Earl accompanied Lucy Allen to Detroit to attend the funeral of Mrs. Allen's uncle, Dr. W. W. Currey. While there they called on Mrs. Roger Clark and Mrs. Frank Norton, mother and sister of Mrs. Earl.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reinke, of Kaw-kawlin, are the proud parents of a baby daughter. She has been named Elaine Ruth.
Mrs. Martin Fahsel, visited with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Pfeiffer, on Thursday. Mrs. Pfeiffer is a patient at General Hospital, Bay City.

Sherman
Jack Rhodes was in Detroit one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dedrick were at Flint and Toledo the first part of the week.
Tom Revers, of Detroit, was in town Saturday and Sunday looking after his farm here.
Mrs. Joe Schneider motored to Bay City Wednesday.
Mrs. Frank Schneider left for Toledo, Ohio, where she expects to visit relatives for a week.
W. A. Evans Furniture Co.'s removal sale will be continued for another week.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mark, of Bay City, spent the week-end with relatives here.
Ray Tuttle, of Tawas City, is doing some electrical work here this week.
Bob Kavanaugh, of Bay City, visited relatives here Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ross and children were at Grayling Sunday.
Mrs. James Brigham was at Tawas City Tuesday.
A. B. Schneider was at Bay City on business Wednesday.

A telephone construction crew of 1898
THE Equipment HAS CHANGED... BUT THE Spirit OF SERVICE REMAINS

The threescore years since the Michigan Bell Telephone Company was founded have completely revolutionized telephone tools and equipment. Steadily the old was discarded, replaced by something better. And time has but served to intensify the Michigan telephone worker's feeling of responsibility to the public. The diligence of these men and women... both in routine duty and during the emergencies of flood, fire and storm... is a vital factor in keeping good telephone service at your command twenty-four hours a day.

HALE P. T. A.

The October meeting of P. T. A. was held at the school house Thursday evening with the President, John Webb, presiding. Following the secretary's report, Mr. Lamont, sanitary inspector from West Branch, gave a short talk on providing sanitary water supply for schools. A. E. Greve and E. O. Putnam gave a short report on their trip to the Mio, Fairview and Harrisville schools. A short play "When Father was a Boy" followed. Mrs. Aldrich, on behalf of the executive board, presented two beautiful pictures to the school. After much discussion, it was decided to give the pictures to the room with the largest representation of parents and friends attending P. T. A. hoping in this manner to increase interest in P. T. A. work. The grammar room, Mr. Feldman teacher, won the large picture, the high room, Mr. Taylor teacher, have the small picture for this month. Doughnuts and cider provided refreshments.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements . . . a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies . . . and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser. We have not cut quality to reduce costs. We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is pushed unmercifully. Thea our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

SYNOPSIS

Barbara Sentry, seeking to sober up her escort, Johnnie Boyd, on the way home from a party, slaps him, and attracts the attention of a policeman, whom the boy knocks down.

Barbara's eyes were wide with shapeless fears; but she did not speak. Only she put her arm around her mother's waist, half-supported her as they moved away.

I broke it open myself. You know how you do lie, when you're scared.

"Mr. Loran and Mr. Hare Will Help You, Though."

never so bad when they really happen," she said. "He's dodging shadows."

"He was sensible!" "I don't call it that."

She smiled a little. "Women can always find reasons to justify doing what they really want to do."

He pounded fist into palm with a slow vehemence, curiously eloquent, he muttered, "Gosh, Linda, what are we going to do?"

He whispered pitifully: "Poor Mary. Marrying Jimmy Endle. He's rotten, isn't he? And he must be forty. Gosh, why did she do it?"

And he said, as though to speak were somehow comforting: "Mary's right. Father—did it, you know, I've known that since the day they came here to search the house."

"Who was that? I thought it was Mary? Where is she?"

He looked at her squarely. "Honest, cross your heart, don't you think father did it?"

She tried to speak, said then honestly: "I suppose I do, Phil. I suppose I was just trying to find some way to—comfort you."

He nodded. "I don't know how much the police know," he reflected. His eyes clouded. "They didn't know about the money in the furnace till after they arrested him, nor about the gun."

South Is Treasury for U. S. Chemists; Raw Material Wealth Cited in Survey

Physical frontiers are gone, but chemical frontiers remain to challenge the United States, Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, dean of the school of chemistry and physics at the Pennsylvania State college, believes, writes a State College (Pa.) United Press correspondent.

"The South will be the chemical frontier of the country for the next quarter century, at least," he said after a tour through the southern states to visit sections of the American Chemical Society.

"Its chemical raw materials, especially the new ones such as cellulose, starch and vegetable oils, have hardly been touched. They are ready for the chemical pioneers who are going south and the additional ones trained in southern institutions."

Considering the United States as a whole, Dr. Whitmore believes it has limitless supplies of cellulose in cotton, the purest form, in the slightly less pure form of cotton linters and in the rapid-growing pine.

job on your hands. Your mother has always been so proud. This is terrible for her, even when she's sure that he's innocent!

"I see what you mean. I guess it's up to me, all right."

He nodded soberly, and Linda went on: "At least, that's the way it looks to me, Phil. You've all got to have something to hold on to, and the best thing for you to do is just set your teeth into the job of taking care of your mother and Barbara."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Lesson for October 30

PERSONAL RIGHTS AND WHERE THEY END

LESSON TEXT—Ecclesiastes 2:1-3, 10, 11; Romans 6:17-23; 14:21.

"Personal liberty"—what endless misuse was made of that expression in the days when men seeking the right to again flood this country with intoxicating liquors were attacking prohibition.

My liberty ends, as someone has well said, where yours begins. I have the personal liberty to swing my arms as far as the tip of your nose, but there my liberty ends.

Our Scripture portions for today present a sharp contrast. Man without God, but with every earthly advantage is pictured in Ecclesiastes in his fruitless search for real joy.

I. The Way of Emptiness and Disappointment (Eccles. 2:1-3, 10, 11).

1. Physical pleasures do not satisfy (Eccles. 2:1-3). Men who have tasted the distress and disappointment of life are prone to think that if they only had all the money they wanted, and an opportunity to partake of life's "thrills" they would be happy.

What is true of wine is also true of the attempt to satisfy oneself by the gratification of any physical appetite.

2. Pleasures of the mind do not satisfy (Eccles. 2:10, 11). Solomon sought real joy in labor, in accomplishing worthy ends.

II. The Way of Victory, Peace, and True Joy (Rom. 6:17-23; 14:21).

We say with Paul "God be thanked" that there is a way for men to find freedom from the sin and disappointment of life. It comes by

1. Personal allegiance to God (Rom. 6:17-23). Clear thinking on spiritual matters recognizes that the man who boasts of his personal liberty, his freedom from God's control over his life is in reality the slave of sin (vv. 17-19; Titus 3:3).

The principle stated in Romans 14:21 should govern all of our actions. Paul was speaking of meat offered to idols, which he could have eaten with a clear conscience.

Pretty Clothes That You Can Work In

SHOWN here is a house dress designed for large women. Every line of this simple dress is made for comfort and good looks.

A diagram design, to be finished in a few hours. Make it of gingham, percale or calico.

Jumper Dress for School Girls.

This is an unusually good version of the always-smart jumper. It has such a nice, tiny waist, the skirt flares bee-yu-tifully, and the straps are so fixed that they won't fall off at the shoulders.

The Patterns.

No. 1623 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52.

No. 1520 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Fall and Winter Fashion Book.

The new 32-page Fall and Winter Pattern Book which shows photographs of the dresses being worn is now out.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained.

Lights of New York
by L. L. STEVENSON

The more I go down to the tip end of Manhattan, the more Battery park intrigues my interest and excites my fancy. The marine panorama is never the same. It varies with every hour of the day or night. It is a truly moving picture. The harbor is never still. Along in the thin hours of the morning, the passing of lights here and there on the dark waters may be only occasional. But the harbor is not still. It is not still at dawn, at high noon or when the lights of the office buildings of Manhattan go out or shine only for scrubwomen and porters. The work of the harbor never is done. It continues 24 hours a day. And so far as I have learned, there is never an hour but that it is worth observing.

Dawn is greeted with whistles. Tugs come out in fleets. They always seem to be in a hurry, churning along with a white bone in their teeth. The big ferries begin bringing over Staten Island residents along with loads of fresh vegetables from the gardens of the borough of Richmond. Or perhaps from New Jersey by the way of the Kill von Kull bridge. Coast guard sailors start polishing up the government cutters that take customs men, immigration officials, newspaper men and others down the bay to meet liners. Smoke curls lazily from the stack of the Ellis island ferry. The funny little Governor's island ferry starts its trips between the military reservation and the mainland. Dredges, pile drivers and other work boats go into action. The harbor comes to life with a rush.

Along about 9 a. m., liners start coming up the bay. As they leave the Narrows, they look like stately white clouds. Suddenly they change to ships. Ships with white sides and glittering brass; with huge funnels spouting smoke streamers. Almost always the rails are lined with passengers. Home-comers and visitors. All eager for the Statue of Liberty and a close-up view of the famous skyline of New York. There is much whistling, for a big liner doesn't have a great deal of room in the harbor traffic. Smaller craft scurry out of the way and the liner passes slowly with all the majesty of a monarch. Watching the incoming liners from Battery park to me is better than any stage production. It isn't a one-way picture either. Hardly have the incoming liners docked then those outbound leave their piers and creep down the Hudson into the bay and then speed out to sea.

Every kind of craft that will float passes Battery park. Every kind of ship from the humble cargo carrier to the queens of the sea. Every private boat from extremely small ones propelled by the strength of human arms to the big yachts of Morgan or Astor, craft that can go around the world without refueling. As for the work boats, they range from scows to floating factories and from barges to grain elevators. There is even the suggestion of Noah's ark in some of the barges. Animals of various kinds form the cargo. Animals on their way to slaughter. Animals that let their presence be known by moos, baas, squeals and grunts.

Saturday night is the busy time at the Battery during the summer months. Various excursion boats depart from there. The Sandy Hook and Atlantic Highland boats. The excursion steamers that go up the Hudson. The boats for Rye and other beaches. The crowds are gay and colorful. The competition of the ticket sellers is hot. Venders do a heavy business. But whether Saturday night, or any other time, the Battery to me is attractive. So attractive, I think I'll sneak down there right away.

Houses of Glass Are Now Rapidly Nearing Reality

TOLEDO.—The glass house, a few years ago a dream of the distant future, today is almost a reality, according to an architectural survey made under the direction of John D. Biggers, Toledo glass manufacturer, who also conducted the national unemployment census for the federal government.

Houses built during 1938 are estimated to contain double the window area of those erected a generation ago, the survey reveals. One company alone produced 10 square miles of flat glass last year, more than two square feet for every man, woman and child in the country.

The increased use of glass has made the art of "bringing the outdoors in" a dominating note in modern architecture. "Picture windows"—windows of plate glass built especially to frame a desired view—are component parts of homes being designed today, the report says. Recent perfection of structural glasses like vitrolite is extending the interior use of glass too. This new type of glass is being used to make gleaming, cheerful all-glass kitchens, the report continues.

Woman Runs Circus
ADELAIDE.—Australia's biggest circus, the Wirth circus, is managed by Miss Doris Wirth.

Socialite Talks Ranch Language

Speaks to Cowboys in Their Own Tongue; Assumes Foreman's Job.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Perfection in the use of ranch language and in a manner to make a real rancher sit up has enabled Mrs. Roma Ware, New York, Paris, Pebble Beach and Del Monte socialite, to make a success of a 3,000-acre sheep ranch in Nevada, she admitted in a recent visit here.

Furthermore, Mrs. Ware, formerly Mrs. Henry H. Wehrname of New York, declared she was getting the "kick" of her life out of it.

"It's a hard life," she admitted, "but I love it. And the natives are marvelous. I have the deepest sympathy for these ranchers who gamble year after year with the harsh elements of Nevada. They are real people."

Ranch Talk a Necessity.
But to make a ranch succeed, Mrs. Ware asserted that you have got to learn to talk "ranch talk" and talk it in a manner that will make things hum.

"I'm learning to talk rough enough now to make the ranch go," she admitted. "You know that it's the language that counts."

"I used to be a lady and say, 'Henry, what are you doing?' But now I stand back and shout, 'Henry, what the — are you doing?'"

"Then, too, I am beginning to know the difference between a cow and a steer."

Mrs. Ware bought her ranch just after winning a divorce at Reno.

The ranch is 32 miles from civilization, "if that is what you call Reno," she said, "and is located near Lake Pyramid. 'I couldn't even spell 'alfalfa' when I bought the ranch," Mrs. Ware declared.

"However, I had a San Francisco architect build me a house of pink-tinted canyon rock, the finest house he has ever built, and with a veranda all around it. From there I can watch the boys work in all the corrals. They hate it because I have binoculars and can watch them all the time to see if they work properly. They call me 'old battle ax.'"

Is Her Own Foreman.
"I am thinking even of installing a loud-speaker so that I can scare the life out of them by suddenly bellowing to some loafing worker."

Mrs. Ware is her own foreman. "I couldn't find a competent foreman," she said. "I found I was paying men to learn. So I decided I'd take over the job myself."

Mrs. Ware boasts of the fact that she has a police badge from the Reno police force, a deputy game warden's badge to keep people from shooting sage hens and possesses an amazing collection of gadgets, including spring tooth harrows, tractors, graders and angle dozers.

"I'm a first-rate 'cat skinner,'" she said, "and every time I see a new government road equipment I look it over for a new gadget for my ranch. I grease my own tractor and I planned my own irrigation system."

"There is only one thing left for me to learn, and that is how to roll my own cigarettes."

Violins Oust Pencils in Ontario Kindergartens

LONDON, ONT.—Pupils in seven city kindergartens will learn to handle a violin before they become well acquainted with a lead pencil, it was revealed in the announcement that the London board of education has increased the number of its "quarter-sized" instruments to 33.

The addition of the "baby violins" is part of the program to extend musical activities in the primary schools of London. Mindful that more than 1,800 persons attended the minor recitals given by school children last year the musical department will double the number of recitals, E. W. Quantz, music director, has announced.

Indications are that the number studying in instrumental classes will be increased almost as much as they were last year when 569 students took lessons. This was a 25 per cent increase in the number registered the preceding year.

The board of education owns more than 300 musical instruments and gives courses in vocal music as well. Little children practice their violin lessons on the quarter-sized instruments. Last year courses were given for the kindergartens at Ryerson, Lady Beck and Ealing schools. The names of the schools which will be added to the list this year have not yet been announced.

Fraternity House Dog Has Own Meal Ticket
AMHERST, MASS.—Tony, the silken-eared spaniel mascot of Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Amherst college, has his own meal ticket entitling him to 10 hamburger sandwiches a week at Cramer's diner.

Regularly Tony saunters into the diner and makes known his craving to the short-order cook. The hamburgers are charged to his meal card—which usually is exhausted by the middle of the week. Each Saturday fraternity members renew it.

MUSIC

The band members gave a good account of themselves when they played for the P. T. A. meeting last week. We hope you noticed our snap and the general discipline of the band. This is highly important in any organization of this nature.

The band members are all excited over our trip to Ann Arbor next week to witness the Michigan-Illinois game. We hope to see two of the best college bands in the United States at this game.

We are planning on giving a concert the early part of November so plan on being with us very soon now.

The Girls' Glee Club is doing quite a bit of hard work, and we hope to have an extra-ordinary group before the year is over.

HIGH SCHOOL

Mention has been made of a series of six bulletins which Mr. Hamilton, of Bay City, will send the Seniors during the school year. The second bulletin, "How to Choose Occupation," recently arrived. Mr. Hamilton taught Guidance at Northern State Teachers College in the summer season of 1934 and in the same course in the summer session of 1935 at the Michigan State College.

The Latin I class recently studied about the foods and elaborate dinners of the Romans. It is interesting to compare the Roman habits of eating with those of the present day. In the Latin grammar, we have learned how to form the vocative case.

In English I we are studying the greater effectiveness gained by using inverted sentence order.

The English II class is using the dictionary frequently these days to such words as "bedam" and "stogan" having interesting histories.

The English IV class enjoyed George Milburn's short story, "A Student in Economics" which appears in an October issue of the "Scholastic" magazine. Most of George Milburn's stories are written about his native Oklahoma. "A Student in Economics" which is a story because it is true to life.

In English IV we sang Ben Johnson's lyric "To Celia." This lyric is more commonly known by the title "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes." Marguerite McLean played the piano.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The camp fire girls and their guardians wish to thank again all who helped to make the tea last Saturday such a pleasant event. We enjoy the warm spirit of cooperation and good will which we felt very evident Saturday afternoon.

The "Rich Port"
Porto Rico, one of the earliest of Spanish American colonies, has endured since its settlement by Ponce de Leon more than four centuries ago, as the "Rich Port," the name that Christopher Columbus gave it on its discovery. Its history in the development of the Americas is shared only by the Dominican Republic, where the early Spanish settlers established their first governmental base.

OF CROWN TESTED RAYON
"Krepe-Tone"
$1.29
Patented by a dressmaker whose slips fit like magic... made by a manufacturer famous for fine workmanship... Kustom-Fit is not just another slip—it is an entirely different type of garment.
It fits as if made to your measure! Cut straight, yet it drapes bias when put on. Sit—it won't ride up over your knees. Sloop—no strap strain.
"What is KREPE-TONE?"
Krepe-Tone is a new rayon of the same quality found in the season's loveliest frocks. Its rich dull texture, its soft, supple finish and drapiness make it perfect for this particular type of slip. And it washes beautifully!
