The newly constructed Tawas City Recreation hall will be opened tomorrow, (Saturday) evening, and with its opening this city will have one of the finest bowling alleys in Northern Michigan. Mayor John Coyle will roll the first ball to spill the pins in the official opening, announces Charles Mueller, Bowlers of this locality and every town in northern Michigan have been cordially invited to the event, and undoubtedly a large representation of pin spillers and fans will be present. A pair of women's and a pair of men's bowling shoes will be given the two high scores Saturday night.

The new recreation hall is 40 feet wide by 120 feet in length. It is air conditioned with modern cooling and heating equipment. The interior is pleasingly decorated, has opera chairs for a large number of spectators and special seats for the players. Lockers, rest rooms, lavatories and many other conveniences have been provided.

The alleys, however, are what appeal to the bowlers, and a number were so anxious to bowl on them that they tried them out before they were varnished. Six new 1940 Model Brunswick alleys have been installed. They were erected under the supervision of Richard Van Zanten and Frank Van Hoven of Grand Rapids, representatives of the Brunswick, Balke, Colendar company. Others to work on the alleys were Charles Rouillier, R. E. Ristow, Harold Moeller and Edward Sieloff. Harold Moeller, Clifford Boomer, Earl Davis, Arthur Ziehl, James Boomer and Harvey Abbott. Heating, air conditioning and plumbing was by Fred T. Luedtke and the elaborate electrical work was by the R. W. Tuttle Electric company.

Ground for the building was broken May 15 and was completed about July 20th. The construction of this handsome building was under the supervision of Alfred Boomer. The carpenter work was by Charles Rouillier. Others to work on the construction were Edward Sieloff, Harold Moeller, Clifford Boomer, Earl Davis, Arthur Ziehl, James Boomer and Harvey Abbott. Heating, air conditioning and plumbing was by Fred T. Luedtke and the elaborate electrical work was by the R. W. Tuttle Electric company.

The Tawas have been keenly interested in bowling for the past 25 years. In those days the stars at the I. O. O. F. Alley were Arthur Wyman, F. E. Pinkerton, Arthur Dillon, H. Eugene Hanson, H. E. Bigelow and Lloyd McKay. At Fred Force's Tawas City Recreation Hall Eugene Bing, Wm. Hatton, Carl Samue, Arthur Sieloff and George Hoshack were the top pin spillers. Eugene Bing's high score at that time was 260.

During the past two or three years the Tawas have produced several championship teams. Last year the top team won the championship at Alpena, Traverse City and West Branch. The various teams in the two cities were composed of such bowlers as Scott Shuman, Wm. Hatton, Mervin Lixey, Eddie Sieloff, Avid Carlson, Walter Laidlaw, Ed Carlson, Guy Lickfelt, Arthur Bartlett, Vernon Davis, Dutch Staudacher and Dr. John LeClair.

The Women's league last year consisted of four teams, each team under one of the following managers: Marjorie Morley Lickfelt, Rhea Yanka, Marian Eckrode and Belle Hammel. It developed that there were many excellent women bowlers in the two cities.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Moeller on his enterprise and progressiveness. He has given this city a fine recreation building—one to which we can point with pride.

Businessmen Warned

Merchants throughout the state were warned against bogus sales tax investigators today by Walter F. Reddy, managing director of the State Board of Tax Administration.

Reddy said that he has received numerous complaints that persons falsely representing themselves as tax administration field men are annoying business men and obtaining information to which they have no right.

"All bona fide representatives of the administration have been equipped with full credentials," Reddy said. "Our men have been ordered to show their authority before they request any records. If a man representing himself as an investigator cannot identify himself he is an impostor and the tax payer should notify the nearest sales tax office immediately."

The credentials of authorized investigators carry the state seal and are signed by Reddy or Orville E. Atwood, late managing director of the tax administration.

Will Dedicate County Garage Friday Night

The new county garage recently completed will be dedicated tonight (Friday) with appropriate ceremonies. The principal speaker is County Clerk, Russell H. McKenzie. The event ends with a free dance. Ice cream cones will be provided for the children.

The new garage which was built to house road machinery used on the west side of the county, is a handsome structure of brick and cement construction. The size is 30x40, ample to house the machinery required quickly in that locality. Arthur Popp and Wesley Brown were the contractors.

Arthur Buck, of Fostoria, Ohio, was the guest of his cousin, H. J. Keiser, and family the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Boughton of Lansing announce the birth of a son, Barry Dwight on August 1 at Sparrow Hospital. Mrs. Boughton was formerly Annabel Goodale.

Hemlock Farmer Has Record Oat Yield

There have been many fine oat crops grown in Isoco county during the past and some very fine fields of oats have been harvested this year. Several farmers have reported yields of as high as 60 bushels of oats per acre, which is a good yield in any county of the state, or perhaps any other state. The banner crop reported, however, was grown on the Waldo Curry farm on the Hemlock road. Mr. Curry harvested 12 acres of oats which threshed out 964 bushels, or 80 1-3 bushels per acre. The yield would have been better, but winds and rain had lodged some of the grain.

Hemlock Lack Full Team; Forfeit to Locals Last Sunday

Lack of a full team forced Hemlock to forfeit last Sunday's game to Tawas City, 9 to 0. With a large crowd on hand wanting to see a game, Tawas City loaned several of their reserves to Hemlock and a seven inning game was played. Tawas City winning the contest by the score of 10 to 3.

Herman Kussro and "Bill" Mallon divided the pitching assignment for the local team. Hemlock was represented with the veteran spit-ball artist Jack McArdle, his lack of control helped the Tawas City scoring considerable, he issued seven walks, four in the first inning coupled with two hits netted the Tawas Clan four runs. Nine hits were collected off his delivery including doubles by Katterman, M. Mallon and Zollweg, a triple by Moeller and a home run by "Lefty" Quick. The made-up Hemlock team was held to four hits by Kussro and Mallon, which included two base hits by Rapp and C. Libka. The fielding of both teams was exceptionally good, each team being charged with two errors. Johnny Katterman made a couple of fine catches of fly balls which he went well into the outfield to gather in. "Ki" Zollweg's diving shoe-string catch of Libka's low line drive in the fourth inning was the prize play of the afternoon. Scholtz's catch, at his shoe tops, off the bat of Quick in the second inning was one of the outstanding plays of the day.

Next Sunday Twining will cross bats with the local team at the Tawas City Athletic field. Twining has been a troublesome team all season, although but two games are shown in the won column, their losses have been by close scores. With three teams in the thick of the fight, Tawas City, Turner and Harrisville, it is any one of the three teams' race. Tawas City has a postponed game with Harrisville which will be played at the local athletic field Sunday, August 27. Let's get behind the team and help win these last two league games and win another championship. The team has been playing good ball the last several games and deserve your support. Let's all meet at the Tawas City Athletic field Sunday and cheer the boys on to victory.

This team has the reputation of producing a lot of comedy and mirth along with playing a snappy game of baseball. Don't miss it, this is a treat seen once in a lifetime which takes a lifetime to forget. In case of rain on Wednesday the game will be played on Thursday.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK—Having failed to talk to Mars as the planet made its nearest approach to the earth since 1924, Dr. Clyde Fisher has not abandoned hope that sometime and somehow less negative results will be obtained. And, at any rate, the honor is his for having been the conductor of the first interplanetary exploration ever attempted by the American Museum of Natural History, whose expeditions to various remote parts of the terrestrial sphere have been an important part of the service of this institution.

Dr. Fisher is better known to the Sioux as "afraid of bear," a soubriquet applied to him when he was adopted by that tribe. His wife, Te Ata (Bearer of Light), is a full-blooded Oklahoma Chickasaw Indian whom he met when she came to the museum in 1934 as a lecturer on Indian culture.

Lying in the astronomer's background is the little red school house whence so many eminent Americans have come to take significant part in the life of this nation. This particular seat of elementary learning was in Ohio, and there at 17 he had graduated from student to teacher. One summer during his career as a youthful pedagogue he registered for the summer course at Ohio Normal, and there an incident occurred destined to affect his life. He looked through a telescope. He just looked, that was all, and then returned to the more important task of getting an education. But even in later years, as a graduate student at Johns Hopkins, working for a doctor's degree, that peep through a telescope of no extraordinary power, yet larger than any glass he had ever before seen, lingered in his mind and intrigued him.

He became affiliated with the American Museum of Natural History in 1913, and while much of his work was concerned with this earth, its flora, fauna, fish and other manifestations of nature, he found time as president of the Amateur Astronomers association to search the heavens, and is credited with having done more than any fellow astronomer to popularize the science through presentation in terms of lay understanding.

His mundane expeditions have included many remote and mysterious regions. With Carveth Wells he twice traversed little-known Swedish and Norwegian Lapland, making valuable moving pictures. New Yorkers and untold thousands of visitors to the metropolis will know him best as curator of the Hayden planetarium.

WHEN Miss Lillian Spalding was a girl out in Michigan, she was not content with watching the boys play baseball. She got into the game herself, and won local sandlot fame as a first baseman who let nothing of importance in the way of thrown or batted balls get by her, and she poled out many a lusty drive.

When she came to long skirts, as the saying used to be, she had to give up baseball, but love for the sport was firmly established in her. As teacher in an elementary school in Three Rivers, she watched with pain and with cumulative repugnance the efforts of her boys to express the national pastime. But, herself being a sandlot product, there was nothing much she could do about it. Time then came when she was elevated to the post of principal, and last year she came to New York as a student in the summer season of teachers' college, Columbia university, working toward a master's degree in elementary education. Appearing again this year, she registered for the course in baseball which the faculty instituted last year for the first time.

Now, under instruction from a distinguished faculty consisting of Professors Gordon, Selkirk, Gomez, Pearson and Rolfe of the Yankee school of thought and Professors Gumbert, Danning, Jorges and Terry of the Giants, she expects to have learned enough by the time she returns home to take her boys in hand and teach them the iniquity of throwing to first when a runner is bound for second on an infield poke; the time and place for squeeze plays, and all sorts of inside stuff. She will not, she says, play herself; she will be quite content to be coach.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

President's Political Activity Since Congress' Adjournment Shows Heavy Interest in 1940

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

POLITICS: Rebuttal

Home in Hyde Park, Franklin Roosevelt probably reviewed editorial opinion on his recent seven-month debate with congress. The public thought congress had won, for it killed his lend-lease and housing bills, defeated his neutrality program and passed the Hatch "clean politics" bill. Not so evident were his victorious defense and relief programs and his retention of the $2,000,000 currency stabilization fund. On three successive days, therefore, he went before the people, first to boast, next to scold, last to warn.

Signing the Ashurst bill (creating an administrative officer to supervise federal court budgets) he announced that all goals of his 1937

UTAH'S SEN. KING
"I don't see how..."

court reorganization proposal had been realized, six of them by laws and the seventh (change in attitude) "through opinions of the Supreme Court itself."

Next day observers thought he let a cat from the bag. Discussing his neutrality and lend-lease defeats, he borrowed an analogy suggested by his wife—a precipice—to which he said congress is leading business, and over which it may plunge "next spring."

Placing it on a gambling basis, the President said a G. O. P.-Democratic coalition had made "two bets with the nation": (1) On continued peace, and (2) business' ability to absorb wage earners who lose WPA and PWA jobs "next spring."

Some thought it possible the President was gambling too, staking his 1940 candidacy on next spring's prospects. If there is a war and/or heavy unemployment, congress will be wrong and Mr. Roosevelt right, thus justifying a third term attempt.

Certain it was that no politician without interest in 1940 would have delivered the message President Roosevelt sent next day to young Democrats convening in Pittsburgh. Smoothly laying the groundwork for some action, perhaps a retirement from politics, possibly a coup to keep the Democratic party "liberal," or possibly for a new third party, he sent this warning: "If we nominate conservative candidates, or lip-service candidates, on a straddle platform, I personally for my own self-respect and because of my long service to, and belief in liberal democracy, will find it impossible to have an active part in such an unfortunate suicide of the old Democratic party."

Meanwhile, members of congress took exception to the precipice analogy and wondered if Mr. Roosevelt had the right man leading the right horse to doom. Said Michigan's Rep. Earl Michener: "The coalition... has stopped the American people just before they went over the financial precipice." Said Utah's Sen. William H. King: "I don't see how anyone can contend consistently that when we appropriated nearly $13,000,000,000 for next year, congress was not doing everything within its power, provided spending is the answer."

CONGRESS: How Much?

How much a so-called "$13,000,000,000 congress" actually appropriated and spent became the computation job of Budget Director Harold D. Smith. His decision: Congress appropriated more than $13,000,000,000 but included some funds spent before July 1 and some to be spent in future fiscal years. For the 1939-40 year he figured the total was $10,472,354,914, or $260,937,376 more than President Roosevelt's budget estimate. Previous year's record: $9,268,338,030, which exceeded treasury receipts by $3,600,514,404.

Meanwhile the matter of appropriations became a political football. Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley said it was less than $10,000,000,000 because several re-appropriations were included. New York's Rep. John Taber placed it at $14,061,596,619, with about $1,000,000,000 each being spent before and after the current fiscal year. Publicly denouncing a public debt he said had reached $53,895,100,000 (including $13,000,000,000 government corporation debts) and pointing to an alleged 60 per cent payroll increase since 1933, Mr. Taber probably helped speed President Roosevelt's appeal next day that departments and agencies slash their next year's budget requests.

Also in Washington: Social security stopped receiving claims for lump-sum old age insurance benefits, and prepared to inaugurate new monthly benefit payments to workers over 65 who have paid taxes on their incomes the past 18 months.

California's Rep. Frank Buck, after conferring with the President, predicted serious consideration of a plan to broaden the personal income tax base and increase the basic rate.

House Minority Leader Joseph Martin announced Republicans will have definite programs on at least three major topics—housing, agriculture and reciprocal trade agreements—to present at the next congress as alternatives to administration measures.

EUROPE: Tension Up

"Hostilities began at 8 p. m. The declaration of war between Eastland and Westland was quickly followed by a series of bombing raids by Eastland along the east coast of Westland from Wash. to points north of the Thames estuary. Eleven sudden raids were made on this territory during the first forty minutes... Two raids have been made on South London and anti-aircraft batteries have been heavily engaged..."

In London early-to-bedders were irked because Sir John Anderson, chief of air-raid precautions, made them stay up late to test effectiveness of their new dark shades. It was "blackout" night, the most comprehensive trial yet made of facilities with which England hopes to foil an invader from the continent. When morning came, Londoners read the above account of proceedings, also reading that nine army air pilots had been killed. What made the "war" news seem the more realistic was word from the continent that Albert Forster, the Nazi "fuhrer" of Danzig, had flown to Berchtesgaden for conferences with Adolf Hitler.

ALBERT FORSTER

German-Polish tension had previously been heightened when (1) a German airliner was fired upon while passing over Gdynia; (2) a Warsaw paper had warned Poland would bombard Danzig if political union with the Reich were proclaimed; and (3) Danzig's semi-official newspaper Vorposten, asserted the city was "prepared for defense against Poland's war threats."

All Europe watched Fuhrer Forster's return from Berchtesgaden. Interest heightened when he proclaimed a Danzig mass meeting. That night, while his mob cried "Pfui!" at every mention of Poland, shrewd Fuhrer Forster resorted to time-tested dictator tactics. On Poland's shoulders he heaped a charge of plotting to seize not only Danzig but East Prussia as well. No sooner had this untruth raised German-Danziger resentment to a fever pitch than Herr Forster made the simple announcement that his brown shirted followers have made full preparations to reunite the ancient free city with Germany.

AGRICULTURE: More Stamps

In Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace at last took out of the experimentation stage his latest—and one of his most successful—plans to get rid of food surpluses. For three months the food stamp plan was tested in Rochester, Dayton and Seattle, expanded to Birmingham and Des Moines, and finally to Shawnee, Okla. At all but the latter place, relief families were fed by sale of orange stamps (for buying regular foods) and free distribution of blue stamps (for buying surplus foods). At Shawnee, low-income families tried the plan.

Not until early August did Mr. Wallace uncross his fingers. Then, pronouncing the stamp plan successful, he announced it will be expanded on a national basis very soon. If it works nationally like it has at Rochester, farmers will be happy. In the three-month trial there, food sales were upped 8 per cent.

SECRETARY WALLACE
Uncrossed his fingers.

Forecast

Not until August 1 can any year's agricultural yield be accurately gauged. Simultaneously this August the U. S. department of agriculture and European sources released their predictions, the first on cotton, the latter on grains alone. Both looked bad:

Wheat. If big crops bode war, Europe must have war this autumn. Germany stored her surplus wheat in dance halls and gymnasiums. In the hot Danube basin, the Ukraine and the Vistula's valleys peasants brought in a crop that sold at the lowest price since 1929. In Rome, the International Institute of Agriculture forecast the largest wheat crop since the World war, excepting last year. With Soviet and Canadian production up, with devaluation of far eastern silver destroying purchasing power, the institute gloomily predicted a glutted market through 1940 and 1941.

Meanwhile U. S. farmers considered themselves lucky. Although Chicago wheat prices would normally be between 35 and 40 cents, and on the farm, 30 cents (customary differential over Liverpool prices), they are actually about 10 cents above Liverpool. Reasons: (1) U. S. loans to farmers on stored wheat keeps the supply down and the price up; (2) production this year was down 20 per cent, producing a crop about equal to the nation's need; (3) the U. S. pays a bounty to exporters of wheat, amounting to $28,000,000 on 118,000,000 bushels last season.

Cotton. Biggest cotton news was the Export-Import bank's credit sale of 250,000 bales to Spain, taken as a gesture to woo General Franco away from the Rome-Berlin axis. Meanwhile the International Cotton federation closed its Zurich meeting by cabling Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in protest against U. S. export subsidies. In Washington the August 1 forecast was released, pointing a somewhat brighter picture: Placed at 11,412,000 bales, the yield would be 531,000 bales under last year, and 2,388,000 bales less than the 10-year (1928-37) average. But there will still be a carryover of about 13,000,000 bales.

MEDICINE: Mary Heart

Into a little maternity hospital in the center of Manila's slums walked Mrs. Manuel Quezon, wife of the Philippine commonwealth's president. Like scores of others, she came to see a phenomenon recorded only once before in medical history. Sound asleep after feeding from an eye-dropper was a seven-pound baby, normal in every way except that her heart was completely outside her body. While physicians watched fascinated through a stemless cocktail glass placed over the heart, they wondered whether to operate. Having baptized her child Mary Heart, the devout mother said she believed her infant's condition was caused by her worship of a picture which showed Jesus Christ with his heart exposed.

ASIA:

Hush Settlement

One month ago Russia and Japan were ready to wage war over oil and coal resources in Russia's half of Sakhalin island. Reason: Jap concessionaires refused to hike wages of Russian workers. Both nations reinforced border garrisons and Jap warships rushed to the scene. At both Moscow and Tokyo, there was no sign of surrender. Almost unnoticed in the press a few weeks later was the humiliating outcome for Japan: Concessionaires granted a 15 per cent wage increase.

QUESTION-OF-HOUR How Much Does College Cost?

WHAT will it cost to send your son or daughter to college? Last year 600 University of Minnesota students were asked to keep budget books by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company. Their findings may help if you add or deduct for climate, size of college and size of city. Outside tuition (which ran $11.07 per month for women, and $12.33 for men) average monthly costs were $59.70 for women and $56.54 for men. Out-of-town coeds spent $80.60 per month; out of town men, $84.90. Students living at home spent about half that much. Conclusion: Out-of-town students spend $18 to $21 a month more than students living at home.

Here is Sigma Chi horseplay at University of California. At Minnesota, out-of-town fraternity and sorority members spend $100.03 and $97.10 per month, respectively, exclusive of tuition. Out-of-town students who don't belong to fraternities and sororities, respectively, spend an average of $78.67 and $67.58, exclusive of tuition. A substantial saving.

At University of North Dakota, this student built his own home near the campus. At Minnesota, out-of-town men spend $11 per month for room; women, $15.47. Meals cost out-of-town men $25.80 a month; women, $25.90. Average beauty and barber shop costs per month: $2.34 for women; 98 cents for men whether fraternity or non-fraternity.

At North Carolina State college many women make their own clothes. Minnesota sorority coeds spend $19.59 per month for clothes; non-sorority, $13.13. Fraternity men: $12; non-fraternity, $7.25. One coed in three uses tobacco and the average cost is $1.58 per month compared to $2.41 per month for men (also one out of three).

Cecil and Carrol Lowe, father and son, share books at Illinois' McKendree college. Minnesota coeds spend $5.06 per month for books; men, $5.38. Men spend $6.85 for amusements and women, $1.14, proving the man still pays despite all this talk about Dutch treats. Dental and medical: $1.97 per month for women; $2.16 for men; low, thanks to student health service.

Care Needed In Exercising Weak Hearts

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

ONE of the points that was taught us as medical students was the use of exercise in weak or failing hearts. Today the first thought in treating an acute heart ailment—angina, coronary thrombosis, high blood pressure—is absolute rest in order to give the heart a chance to regain some of its strength or "reserve." And because rest is the proper treatment at this time, patients, and sometimes physicians, are likely to indulge in or prescribe rest when what the heart really needs to gain new strength is exercise.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

A popular treatment in former years was what was known as the Nauheim baths and the Schott method of "resistive" exercise in which the patient exercises his muscles against the resistance of the physician's or attendant's hands.

In speaking of exercise in the treatment of chronic (not recent) heart or blood vessel disease, Dr. Louis Faugeres Bishop Jr., New York, in Archives of Physical Therapy, X-ray, Radium, states that with bed patients, massage, breathing exercises, and "resistive" exercises are beneficial in that they help to force the used blood in the veins back to the heart.

Gradual Exercise Increase. What is known as the Oertel method of exercise consists of graded walks carried out until the patient begins to feel the effects of the exercise by very rapid breathing. Beginning on the level, the walks are increased gradually with regard to distance and incline or steepness. For less severe cases, where the patient is up and about most of the time, Dr. Bishop suggests that as it is difficult to know exactly how much exercise the patient can take safely, he should be allowed to tell how his everyday manner of life affects him.

The stair test or exercise has been much used. Some heart patients live entirely on the ground floor, but Dr. Bishop points out that if they climbed the stairs one step at a time, it might become a heart strengthening and safe exercise. The thought then is that after the heart has been rested in bed and by sitting around for some time, some form of exercise, as directed by the physician, strengthens the heart muscle and prevents patient from becoming an invalid.

Protection To the Body

During the flu epidemic a consulting physician-examining the chart of a young medical officer, sick with pneumonia (following the flu) shook his head as he pointed to the number of white corpuscles (the disease fighters) present in the blood. As the patient was very ill it was to be expected that the number of these white corpuscles would greatly increase from the normal number of 6,000 to 8,000 per cubic millimeter to perhaps 20,000 or 30,000, whereas there was only about 7,000.

The explanation of the consultant's feeling that there was no hope is that while a rise to 30,000 or 40,000 would show that the illness was very serious, it would show also that the resisting ability of the body was very great in being able to provide this large number of white corpuscles.

Similarly, when there is rapid but strong pulse, increased blood pressure, and a rise in temperature, it is direct evidence that there is infection or other trouble in the body, but just as direct evidence that the body is putting up a fight against the infection or other trouble.

How Body Fights Disease. Thus Dr. F. M. Pottenger in Endocrinology (science of the ductless glands—thyroid, pituitary, and others) states: "It would seem to me that the conception or idea that the combination of symptoms—pain, increased heart rate, increased blood pressure, increased number of white blood corpuscles, rise in body temperature—which we call disease represents really the condition which the body must assume in order to protect itself against the disease elements which are causing trouble in the body, is most reasonable. With this idea—that the symptoms really show that the body is fighting the disease—we can recognize inflammation and other reactions in the body to toxic or poison products as really a 'protective' process."

You can readily understand then why your physician is more concerned about the strength of the heart and the general condition of the body than he is about the temperature being high or the blood pressure increased.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

From 20,000 to 40,000 persons, scattered all over the country, contribute about a million dollars a year to operators of the song publishing racket. The gyp publishers conduct their racket through the mails. They get reluctant though useful co-operation from Uncle Sam. The government can't do anything about the matter. The sharks are careful to keep within the letter of the law. Discreetly worded promises yield full immunity from prosecution since those promises, however badly they may turn out for the song writer, are kept. Occasionally a shark steps over the thin dividing line. That's bad for him. It doesn't do the song writer much good, however, as there are more parasites to take his place and add to the number of broken hearts. The business is so profitable that there are always those ready to prey on the ambitious.

The song writing urge seems to be strongly implanted here in the United States. Many of the hopefuls send their brain children to publishing firms familiar to sheet-music purchasers. It is safe to say that all are returned to the writers, in most cases unopened and unexamined, publishers being exceedingly wary about dealing with unknowns. Picture then the joy when an ad such as the following is encountered: "Song writer wanted. Famous composer needs more material from new talent. Send your song poems at once. Fame and fortune can be yours." Nine times out of ten, one or more manuscripts go into the mail. The embryo song writer is ready for a skyrocket flight to glory. But instead, usually a trimming awaits him.

His letter gets a speedy reply. The "exceptional song" has met immediate approval. A great future is predicted. The song of course must have excellent music composed for it. That and a few slight revisions and other costs, such as copy-righting the completed song, require a "small fee." The "small fee" may range from $50 to $100. The song writer isn't permitted to dwell too long on the sordid thoughts of money. The letter makes a point of relating the success attained by former unknown writers. He, too, is soon to taste the sweet glory of fame. And so the song shark gets his fees.

The next letter excites emotions still further. The finished song has been declared ready for "big time." The "famous composer" would like to write more music for his "sparkling lyrics." A beautifully engraved contract calls for only a modest commission on "movie, radio and sheet music revenues." In this way, a world of benefits are intimated. But quite tactfully the mention of a guarantee of the sale of the song has been omitted. "Offering for sale" is quite another matter.

A hundred copies of the song submitted may eventually find their way into print. Those copies, a United States copyright and music by a "famous composer" are all the shark is obligated to provide. To further protect himself he may arrange for a single radio broadcast from some insignificant station. Hundreds of complaints are received each week by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and the Music Publishers Protective association. But nothing can be done about it. The sharks stay within the letter of the law. The only remedy seems to be exposure.

Strangely enough it is ridiculously simple to detect the song shark. The first rule for amateurs to keep in mind is that the legitimate publisher asks no investment from the writer. Accredited firms assume all responsibility and expense for publication, distribution and exploitation. Legitimate publishers do not advertise for "song poems," "hit lyrics," or "verses" so that they can furnish appropriate music. Publishers do not accept songs from "song writers' agents," or other middlemen. And so, six letters recently received are answered.

Duck Affair Costly
SEATTLE. — Vernon Poirier, 23-year-old sailor, found it impossible to duck a duck fine for shooting a duck out of season. The duck was only a two-pound affair and the fine was at the rate of $50 a pound. Worse yet, he did not even get the duck.

New British Warships Are Launched Weekly

LONDON.—Warships for the British navy are being launched by shipyards at an average of more than one a week. This month the big new aircraft-carrier Victorious, and the cruisers Hermione, Fiji, Kenya, Nigeria and some other small craft will be put into the water. During the year, 60 ships of all sizes, with a total tonnage of 346,200 will be launched. Gun factories are delivering 60 anti-aircraft guns a month for the equipment of the new ships.

Chinese Women To Fight Japan

3,000 of Them Drop Tools Of Peace and Take Up Tools of War.

HONGKONG.—About 3,000 of Kwangsi's hardy womenfolk have laid aside the sickle and hoe for the big sword and Mauser rifle and joined their men in resisting the Japanese penetration in the southwest.

For the 22 months of the war China's New Life movement has carried extensive propagation of the significance of China's unity to the rural districts. China's womanhood has been mobilized under Mme. Chiang Kai-shek's banner in all phases of war work—but in Kwangsi, a province famed for its fighting men and national spirit, it has been the peasant women who have taken the initiative in rallying for the salvation of their country. Not content with performing domestic services in connection with Kwangsi's armies, they have become soldiers of the line, under the leadership of Mme. Pai Chug-hsi, wife of Kwangsi's No. 2 general.

Recent reports from the southwestern front state that the Women's regiment is participating in an effort to prevent the Japanese drive on Toishan, Yanping and Hoiping, rich towns in the West river delta.

Corps Speedily Formed.
When their men first rallied to Kwangsi's commander in chief, Gen. Li Tsung-jen and followed him to central and northern China at the outbreak of hostilities, the more prominent among Kwangsi's women, as in most other provinces, organized a Women's corps. They were recruited for service behind the lines and in carrying on agriculture and industry at home.

But as the months rolled on, the war assumed a new significance for Kwangsi women. The battles of Taiherchwang and Hsueh, in which General Li's Fifth Group army won fame, swelled the number of widows and bereaved mothers and sisters in Kwangsi. In increasing numbers bands of sturdy women land workers presented themselves at the Group army headquarters in Kweilin, demanding to be allowed to join their men in the ranks or to be permitted to fight the enemy to avenge the death of a male relative.

It was in the latter part of 1937 that the first really militant section of the Women's corps was formed. At first it numbered about 700, composed mainly of land workers with muscles as hardened as those of their men through years of toil in their mountainous province; but as the spirit spread the ranks of the Women's regiment swelled with enlistments from all walks of life—teachers, nurses, store assistants and even housewives.

Regiment Has 3,000.
Now the Women's regiment is reliably estimated to number 3,000. "No streamlined beauties these," said an executive of an American oil company when he returned from a tour of the southwest during which he came into contact with the women soldiers. "Amazons," is a rather overused term, but it is the only one which describes them. "Most of them are short and of sturdy build. In appearance they are not unlike the Japanese soldiers.

"They wear a uniform which is the exact counterpart of the men's and they can handle their rifles and throw a hand grenade with the best of men.

"To tell the truth, I had no idea they were women until I saw them at close quarters."

Now You Can Make Hay While Sun Doesn't Shine

AMHERST, MASS.—Modern farmers no longer need worry about making hay while the sun shines. C. H. Parsons and J. G. Archibald, of Massachusetts State college, report that haymaking in the rain not only is possible, but actually is being done by New England farmers.

Instead of drying the grass into hay, it is stored as ensilage after molasses or certain acids are added.

However, there are three minor disadvantages to the new method. They are the necessity of handling three times as much weight as if the grass were made into hay, the possible purchase of a new type loader and some cash outlay for preservative.

Charting of Gulf Stream By Franklin Is Revealed

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—Benjamin Franklin didn't spend all his spare time flying kites. He also made maps. University of Minnesota geology students have discovered it was Franklin who first solved the troublesome problem of how to get around the Atlantic's gulf stream. That was once a serious problem for sailing ships bound to the colonies from England, because the strong ocean current greatly reduced their speed. The old Quaker consulted an old Nantucket whaler who knew "every ripple in the Atlantic," and then made maps under the whaler's supervision.

Mitchell Field Celebrates 30th Air Corps Birthday

Sergt. C. L. Birch took on the job of guide and informant for a group of youngsters who helped the army celebrate the thirtieth birthday of its air corps at Mitchell field in New York recently. The sergeant is showing the youngsters use of the tools used in air fighting, including a machine gun which shoots pictures instead of bullets. It is used in air target practice, and its pictures show whether the gunner scored a hit or miss. The machine gun-camera takes rapid-fire pictures, and the "gunner's" aim must be just as accurate to get pictures as it is in actual aerial combat to score a direct hit.

Busy Londoners Find Time to Read Open Air Bible

Busy though they may be, rare are the pedestrians who fail to stop at least for a moment outside St. Paul's church in London to read the Bible which lies open in a glass-topped stand. Each day the Bible is turned to a different page. Here is pictured a window-cleaner, a porter, a page boy, and a mother and her child, attracted by the open volume. Each day hundreds of people stop in front of the famous church, read for a few moments, and go on about their duties. Many of the pedestrians admit that it's about the only time they read the Bible.

Children? Dictators Just Love Them

Though grim "military necessity" causes Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, left, and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy to build huge bombing planes in order to wipe out cities and their populations, the two dictators never fail to show their love for children—at least when they face a camera. Here Hitler playfully pats one of his youthful supporters who was singled out for the honor during a special celebration in Berlin's famous Olympic stadium. Mussolini proudly accepts a bouquet of flowers from a little Albanian child during his recent visit to Riccione.

New Chinese Stamp Honors U. S. Flag

An unprecedented compliment was paid the United States by China recently when a new stamp was issued to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence by the United States. The stamp bears the flags of China and the U. S. to symbolize the traditional friendship that has existed for so many years between the two nations. As far as is known, this is the first time that an independent nation has so signally honored the flag of another.

Star Dust

- ★ Disecting a Comedian
- ★ John Hubbard Zooms
- ★ Orson in Tough Spot

By Virginia Vale

IF YOU'RE interested in taking a comedian apart and seeing what makes him funny on the screen, consider Stan Laurel's shoes. Of course, shoes have always been an important part of a comedian's wardrobe—Charlie Chaplin's, for instance—but Laurel makes use of them in such a way that the audience isn't conscious of the shoes they play.

The shoes he wears when making pictures have no heels—that's all there is to it. They give him that strange, rolling gait, and you laugh at the way he walks without knowing why. They also help in giving him the woe-begone appearance that contributes so much to his performances.

Watch him in his latest picture, "A Chump at Oxford," and you'll realize how much those trick shoes do for him.

It took John Hubbard just two years to a day, after he reached Hollywood, to climb to the top—the top being the leading role in "The Housekeeper's Daughter," Joan Bennett's new Hal Roach picture.

Hubbard was discovered by Oliver Hissdell, Paramount talent coach, in one of the Goodman theater plays in Chicago. Paramount gave him some small roles, and then he went to Metro, where Mervyn LeRoy named him "Anthony Allen"—perhaps you remember seeing him in "Dramatic School," with Louise Rainer.

Hal Roach liked his work and personality so much that he persuaded Metro to let him assume the rest of Hubbard's contract, and once more our hero became John Hubbard. Keep your eye on him—he may turn out to be one of the screen's top-flight leading men.

Mickey Rooney thought it would be an excellent plan if, when he went to England to do "A Yank at Eton," he went alone. Unfortunately for him, nobody else thought so—the studio felt that everything would work out better if several guardians, including his mother, went along.

Orson Welles, the actor who became famous all over the country when he unintentionally spread terror with that Mars broadcast, is in a spot where he's going to be greatly envied, and, later, greatly panned by many of those who envy him at present.

For he has done what nobody else ever has. He's never made a picture, but the contract he signed with RKO permits him to produce and direct his first one, and star in it as well. The picture will be based on Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness," and if it is good Welles will practically have the motion picture industry in his pocket.

Don Ameche and his wife named their first son Ronald, and their second, Donald; nicknamed "Ronnie" and "Donnie," they seemed to have started something in the way of names. When the third son came he was named Thomas Anthony—he'll be "Tommy," of course, which doesn't quite rhyme. But the senior Ameches didn't care for "Connie" or "Johnnie" and couldn't think of any other names that would do.

Rudy Vallee felt that he'd sung "My Time-Is Your Time" to the same sponsor long enough, and that's why he's leaving them in September. It's a 10-year relationship that is ending, the longest of its kind in radio history. Vallee has been responsible for uncovering a great deal of radio talent, and in developing the vaudeville type of radio program that has been so widely imitated. But it seems likely that the one thing he'll be remembered for is introducing Charlie McCarthy to the radio public, and keeping him on the air until he was well enough known to find a place of his own.

ODDS AND ENDS—After a year's absence Wayne King and his orchestra will return to the air in October; King has been on a personal appearance tour since last fall... Beryl Merber's death leaves a vacancy that will be hard for the movie makers to fill... Johnny Green's new piano concerto, "Music for Elizabeth," will be played by Jose Iturbi at Carnegie Hall this autumn; the "Elizabeth" is Johnny's wife, formerly Betty Furness of the movies. Beauty Aimed to Give Comprehensive Report

Such beauty and personality as a strange girl applying for a job in a small mid-town store possessed!

The boss could not resist. Even though she was entirely without experience he believed that she would be a good business getter.

Carefully, he instructed her, and as he showed her how to operate her cash register, he added:

"Remember now to ring up the result of every sale."

He watched her for a while and was astonished to see her go so often to the cash register. He noted that she went there once for every customer or prospective customer.

He found that she was ringing up, time after time, "No Sale."

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

SUPERVISORS' PROCEEDINGS

JUNE SESSION—JUNE 19, 1939
The Board of Supervisors of the County of Isosco met at the Court-house in the city of Tawas City on Monday, the nineteenth day of June, A. D. 1939 in June Session, which was advanced to open June 19, 1939 by consent of the Supervisors.

Crisp Fried Fish.—The secret of frying fish crisp, and brown, without either egg or bread crumbs, is to dry the fish well, sprinkle both sides with plenty of flour and plunge it into boiling fat. Be sure the fat is boiling and have plenty of it, as upon that depends the crispness and brownness.

The Way of Providence
From an ancient book of sermons
we glean that among the many proofs of the wisdom and benevolence of Providence is the fact that the world was not created in the midst of winter, when Adam and Eve could have found nothing to eat, but in harvest time, when there was fruit on every tree.
