

Boom and Collapse in Farm Land Foreseen

High Incomes, Boom Psychology Are Causes

(Editorial From The Chicago Daily News)
The boom in farm lands is under way, following almost precisely the pattern of the World War I boom that ran from 1914 to 1920 and collapsed with disastrous repercussions. Unless controls are set up to curb the boom, it may get out of hand at any moment, in the opinion of William G. Murray, professor of agricultural economics at Iowa State college, whose pamphlet, "Land Boom Controls," has just been published by the Iowa State College Press.

Three factors are responsible, according to Professor Murray. They are: (1) the record-breaking incomes received by farmers since 1939; (2) interest rates and loan charges at an all-time low, making it easy to buy on credit; (3) a land boom psychology in which the same farm may be sold several times during the year, each time at an advanced price. A high percentage of sales are to absentee owners.

This absentee owner feature might warrant the listing of a fourth reason for the boom—a "fear" psychology coexistent with the boom psychology. Professor Murray notes that many of those who are buying land for investment are doing so as a hedge against inflation. To what extent this fear may figure in the national picture cannot be determined; but certainly it is a considerable factor in inducing many city folk to invest in farm lands as insurance against the evils of inflation. Another motive is to buy a farm as a hedge against excessive income taxes. Surplus income that would otherwise be heavily taxed can be put into farm improvements or operations, and thereby escape taxation. These two aspects of hedging are sufficiently prevalent among non-farmer land buyers to warrant listing fear psychology as a fourth major factor in the rush to buy farm lands.

To the extent that they exist, the fear motives might tend to lessen the purely speculative angle of the boom and to ameliorate its evils; but the danger of a runaway land boom cannot be overlooked.

Farmers are urged to buy war bonds, or pay off their mortgages with their surplus income, not to purchase more land. Bonds are a sound investment, and they can be turned to cash readily when the war is over, thus providing liquid assets at a time when farmers will have most need of them. The depression that has followed every war in history always hits the farmers first and hardest.

Vitamin D Doubles Hatchability of Eggs

With the government demanding 57 billion eggs and 4 billion pounds of poultry meat this year, the increased fertility and hatchability reported by two New England poultrymen is considered a valuable contribution to the food-for-victory program. These men attribute the decided increases in the last few years by their older hens to use of high-quality feed containing adequate amounts of "D"-activated animal sterol.

"The hatchability of the eggs from these hens averaged only between 40 and 50 per cent at certain seasons of the year," reported the brothers. "Today 80 per cent hatchability is not uncommon."

For more than two years the feed they used has been fortified with vitamin D, the all-important ingredient that prevents rickets and promotes health and growth of poultry. Egg-shell texture is also much improved, they say.

Support Price of $1.50 Set for Sweet Potatoes

Announcement has been made by the War Food administration of a potato loan program which will insure growers returns in accordance with the support prices announced prior to planting time.

Support prices for cured sweet potatoes marketed after January 1 have been set at a minimum of $1.50 per bushel for U. S. No. 1 or better grade during January, and $1.65 per bushel beginning February 1.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

The call home means a lot to a man in the service. Most of the time he's too busy to get near a telephone, but between 7 and 10 in the evening he sometimes has a chance to make a call.

You can imagine what a disappointment it is for him if he finds all the long distance lines are busy.

By avoiding the use of long distance during those hours — 7 to 10 P. M. — you're giving soldiers and sailors a break they surely deserve. And if you have a man of your own in the service, remember it's better to let him do the calling. If you place the call, it may be difficult to locate him.

WASHINGTON, D. C. QUEZON ON THE JOB

It's bad news for the Japs that President Quezon of the Philippines is back in Washington. They knew—though it was not generally realized in Washington—that Quezon had suffered a relapse of his old illness, tuberculosis, which has plagued him off and on for 20 years.

Quezon was a well man at the time of Pearl Harbor. But confinement in the dampness of Corregidor, during the Jap attack, brought the illness back again. That was one reason MacArthur urged him to return to the U. S. in a submarine. When he came to Washington, Quezon was advised to take things easy. Instead he rushed into the official activities of Philippine Commonwealth affairs, not sparing himself.

His physicians advised him not to remain in Washington during the summer of 1942, nor last winter. But he remained nevertheless. Result was that last spring he suffered a further relapse.

Specialists were summoned, and Quezon was given the stern advice that he would have to get out of the humid climate of Washington immediately, if he wanted to live. Yielding to pressure, he went to Saranac, N. Y., and submitted himself to a rigid discipline during most of the past summer.

Quezon led the life of an invalid, sitting in the sunshine in a wheel chair, listening to the radio, or to his nurses as they read to him. Result of this regime was that the tuberculosis was arrested, and Quezon gained 12 pounds.

When the Japs heard of his relapse, they were ready to say to the people of the Philippines, where Quezon is still highly popular: "Look, this is the skeleton you pin your hopes to."

But today Quezon is back on his feet and back at his desk, still hoping to realize his one great ambition, to see U. S. and Philippine forces march into Manila.

SEVEN MINUTES TO WAR

Every day now, pictures are arriving in a little room in Washington which seven minutes before were in Algiers, 3,400 miles away. One day, just after the landing in Italy, 41 pictures came through the air and landed safely on top of the Pentagon building, in a little room marked "Confidential—Keep Out."

Inside that room is a little machine not as big as a typewriter, with a little cylinder on it. The cylinder spins around, exposing a negative to dots and dashes of light, and after seven minutes, the exposure is complete. From there on, it's merely a matter of developing the negative, and the U. S. public has a picture of the landings in Italy, or the surrender of the Italian fleet.

And ditto for the South Pacific. It is farther away, but the seven minute requirement still holds. From an unmentionable post in Australia, the dots of light flash into the little room, and you have a picture of General MacArthur flying in a bomber over New Guinea.

The pictures may have been taken by any one of the four photo syndicates—Acme, AP, INP, or Life—or they may have been taken by the Army Signal service. In any case, they can be telephoted only by the official airwaves.

What would be a highly expensive daily transmission cost for the photo agencies is thus fully borne by the war department. Officials justify the cost in terms of keeping the public abreast of the war—in fact, only seven minutes away from the war.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Admiral Standley, U. S. ambassador to Russia, has cleared with the state department a significant speech in which, after praising Russian victories plus those of England and the United States, he says: "A victory for one is a victory for all" . . . Highly inflammatory remarks in Negro newspapers, some of them close to sedition, are being studied by the army . . .

Lew Douglas, war shipping administrator, was personally thanked by the President for the job he did in helping to smooth British and American general staff feelings at Quebec. There have been some very vigorous differences between them, and thanks partly to Douglas, things were smoothed out considerably at Quebec.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Winsome Molly Flynn of OCD recalls that on the day before Pearl Harbor she drove up to the White House door, on invitation to Mrs. Roosevelt's tea, and was told by guards, "We don't see your name on the list, but it's all right if you say so." Today, you can't get near the White House.

Among the canniest officials of OCD is Stanley McCandless, on leave from Yale university. At Yale, he was a stage-lighting expert. With OCD, he is a black-out expert.

REVERENCE FOR GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-7; Matthew 4:10; 6:9; John 4:23, 24.

GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 4:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship Him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). The third commandment (v. 7) indicates that true worship will deal reverently with the name of God.

Israel had lived among the Egyptians, a people known for their worship of images, and were about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God.

I. The Command to Worship (Exod. 20:3-7)

God first claims the entire devotion of man. If He is Jehovah, the Lord God, it is obvious that there can be no other god before Him. He is a personal God (v. 2) with whom it is possible for man to have fellowship. He must come first in our thought and our love.

The second commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshiped. It matters not whether it be an image or what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact, "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants. The careless, vain or irreverent use of God's name is forbidden (v. 7). How common that practice is today, even among Christian people. If we do not actually use His name, we use some slang expression which stands for His name.

Now we turn to two passages from the Gospel of Matthew to see how Jesus practiced these commandments.

II. The Example of Christ (Matt. 4:10; 6:9)

To the temptation of Satan, offering rich reward for an act of worship to himself, Jesus gave prompt and effective reply by quoting Deuteronomy 6:13. Thus He gave His approval to the command that all our worship and service is to be given to God.

This spirit shows itself in the reverent devotion of the prayer (6:9) which Jesus taught His disciples. The name of God is to be hallowed—that is, to be regarded as holy. No one set a higher example of that than our Lord, Himself God, He was obedient to the Father, even unto death, always doing those things which pleased Him and honored His name (John 8:29; Phil. 2:8).

III. The Manner of True Worship (John 4:23, 24)

God is to be worshiped in spirit and in truth, not in dead formalism or by empty ritual. There must be reality in such devotion.

One would suppose that a truth so obvious and vital would long since have been completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even today, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity, when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preaching of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends.

We see then that the commandment of God regarding reverence is not just a law on a faded page in an ancient manuscript. It is a living, vital reality, operative today.

Speaking Sports

By Bob McShane

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

ALTHOUGH Erwin Rudolph won his first pocket billiards championship in 1911, the genial cue shark is more active today than he was as a mere stripling of 30 or 35.

On Labor day of 1942, Rudolph started an exhibition tour which has taken him to army camps in all parts of the United States. His first stop was at Fort Ontario in Oswego, N. Y. From there he went to Key West, Fla., finally winding up deep in the heart of Texas the following June. So far he has visited at least 200 camps, played in 800 exhibitions and demonstrated his uncanny ability through the co-operation of Brunswick-Balke, the company which underwrites his army camp tour.

Rudolph, who will be 50 in December, started playing billiards back in 1909, when he was 15. Just a year and a half later he won the Ohio State pocket billiards championship. In 1927 he annexed his first world's championship by defeating Ralph Greenleaf 450 to 386.

Rudolph's Record

After taking the title from Greenleaf in 1927, Rudolph went on to win it again in 1930, 1933 and 1941. His last victory was at the expense of Willie Mosconi and Irving Crane, both of whom he defeated in the playoffs.

In talking to Rudolph, one gets the firm impression that he is much happier demonstrating his wares before the boys in army camps than he was—and is—in championship competition. And it isn't a question of nerves. He just likes to entertain the boys.

fore the boys in army camps than he was—and is—in championship competition. And it isn't a question of nerves. He just likes to entertain the boys.

"It would be impossible to find a more interested and appreciative audience than the boys in the army camps," he declares. "Most of them understand the fundamentals of the game and are with the player all the time. It's worth traveling any distance just to perform for the boys."

The game of billiards is definitely on the rebound, according to Rudolph. He feels—and with justification—that it will come back strong after the war. Thousands of service men who never played before are taking an interest in the game. As many as 200 billiard tables are found in some of the camps, and as many as 2,500 men have witnessed some of his exhibitions. That this builds interest in the game is proved by the following excerpt from one of the many letters Rudolph's employers have received from commanding officers of army camps where he has appeared:

"As you can well imagine, since Mr. Rudolph's appearance, the interest in pocket billiards has taken on new life and we truly are developing some great players."

Repeat Performances

The letters Rudolph receives speak volumes. They tell of the tremendous amount of camp interest and are almost unanimous in requesting a repeat performance.

The former champion entertains with exhibitions of both pocket billiards and trick shots. Many of the latter shots were first used by Rudolph and now are a standard fixture in other players' routines.

In talking to beginners, Rudolph emphasizes three fundamental rules. The first of these—the forming of a firm "bridge" with the left hand—he terms one of the most important factors in the game. He also cautions that the cue must be held very loosely at the balance, with the shooting arm relaxed, and finally that, when stroking the ball, the head should be kept absolutely still, as in golf.

In addition, he warns beginners to refrain from using "english"—the controlled spin imparted to the cue ball when it is stroked. "English will come naturally as you learn the game," he says. "It cannot be taught successfully."

Unlike many of the topnotch billiard players, Rudolph has refused to branch out into ballyho or three-cushion billiards. He concentrates on pocket billiards, and that concentration has brought him a just reward. Always sure of himself—but far from cocky—he is known as a fast player. He plays as rapidly in tournament competition as he does during exhibitions.

Added to his other qualifications is modesty. Asked to name his choice for today's greatest pocket billiards player, he replied: "Willie Mosconi."

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Heat and friction are the greatest enemies of rubber. Tire treads wear out five times as fast in a temperature of 100 degrees as when the thermometer registers 40 degrees.

Rubber previously used for garden hose will provide for tires on carriages of 8,500 "75's" and 6,800 37-mm. anti-aircraft guns and 600 pontoons for Army bridges.

Samuel Peal was granted the first rubber patent in England in 1791. It covered the water-proofing of leather, cotton, linen, etc.

THERE SEEMS TO BE NO END OF TRICKY WAYS TO TELL THE GANG YOU'RE GOING STEADY. EVERY TIME YOU CHANGE STEADIES (AND ISN'T THAT PRACTICALLY EVERY OTHER DAY?) TRY ONE OF THESE NEW IDEAS.

DRIZZLE BROOCH—For Drops that are going steady, of course. Frame a square of cardbord with kitchen matches; fastened together with yarn. Adhesive tape will hold cardbord and frame together in back. Paste a tiny photo of yourself and your favorite wolf on the cardbord and outline the photos with nail polish.

What to Do

By PHYLLIS BELMONT

It is customary when visiting a friend in the hospital to bring some little gift. Usually the easiest for us (and for everyone else) is a bouquet of flowers, and our sick friend is deluged with numerous bouquets for which the nurse can find no vases.

Why not show a little originality and bring your friend a gift that would be amusing? There are many games on the market that are to be played alone. You might bring your friend one of the newest books if you know his taste in literature.

Russian Wheat Sent to Native Land to Feed War Victims.

If an Axis enemy had been able to occupy North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois, and then retreated after destroying or stealing all existing seed stocks in those rich agricultural areas, our food problem would be comparable to that of the Russians as they move back into their recaptured territory.

American farmers, seed growers and victory gardeners have responded to the needs of their ally by sending 3,500,000 pounds of seeds into these Russian areas which were plundered by the Nazis. Those seeds which were sent from Kansas and Nebraska were really returning to their native country. For 70 years ago Ukrainian immigrants who settled in the Midwest brought their native wheat with them.

Enough seeds were sent from America to Russia last spring to plant 500,000 acres of land with an estimated yield of 3,400,000 tons of food, enough to feed 15 million families. And it is solely needed for even today there are many Russians living exclusively off black bread and cabbage soup.

Average Civilian Diet. At best the average civilian diet for a workman, who puts in from 12 to 14 hours a day, consists of one bowl of thin soup, less meat, fish and poultry combined than the amount of meat in one hamburger, a single serving of potatoes, a single serving of cereal, one loaf of bread, three hard candies or little more sugar than one teaspoonful.

To Americans the ration of bread may seem large, but bread must compensate for a lack of green vegetables on the other. Can you tie that?

MAID FOR BRAIDS

Are you still dripping a glamour name? Even Veronica Lake has taken her hair out of her eye for the summer. Why don't you braid yours into pigtails for a "Daisy Mae" appeal?

RINGS ON YOUR PIGTAILS—Slip your pigtails through bright stone-set rings from the dime store. The rings should be just an inch or two above the ends. A red stone on one pigtail, a green stone on the other will have everybody in a tizzy about whether to Stop or to Go.

WIRED FOR SOUND—Braid a piece of thin wire into your pigtails, attach a jingle bell to the end. Then bend the pigtails any way you like and they'll stay that-a-way. Cute idea for a single pigtail down the back.

LOCAL COLOR—Get some color into your pigtails by braiding colored yarns into them. Or, make yourself a pigtail of yarn and attach it to the top of your head, hanging down in back.

PIN-UP GAL—The latest novelty at costume jewelry counters is the Pigtail Pin, a tricky gadget mounted on a bobby pin. Wear one on the end of each pigtail. Make your own out of yarn dolls on bobby pins.

THROUGH YOUR BEANIE—Cut a round hole in the top of your beanie and pull a pigtail through it to hang down in back. Some top knot!

SWEATER TAILS—One way to give new life to an old sweater is to make braids of contrasting yarn and sew 'em down the sides or over the shoulders and down the sleeves.

WHICH ARE YOU?

Are you always Hep and Jivin'? Are you Keen, Kute and Konvinin'? Can you be both smart and silly? Okay, sugar—you're a DILLY! Are the boy friends hard to find? Are your dates the kind that's blind? Are you slow with jokes and quip? Too bad, sister—you're a DRIP!

Young and old work in Russia to prevent famine. This picture of a 60-year-old farmer's wife and her grandchild typifies the agricultural struggle of this country as its citizens labor to transform battlefield into farm fields.

tables, fruits and sweets, all of which are rationed, in addition to meat, fish, poultry and all cereal products. Salt, too, is rationed, and so, incidentally, are matches.

Though the Russian rationing system is the same as ours, the rations are far more limited. In his scant diet the Russian gets 1,600 calories daily, compared to 2,500 consumed by the average civilian in Great Britain, and 3,000 in this country. As a result of the seeds Americans have sent, the Russians this year will undoubtedly have more food. These seeds are now being harvested by millions of women and children, who practically unaided today, are responsible for feeding the Red army and the civilian populace working behind the lines.

Even within the city limits victory gardens are grown—in every vacant lot, around hospitals, factories, school buildings and apartment houses, along boulevards and on balconies and window sills. This year school cafeterias will serve only the produce grown by pupils in the school courtyards.

The number of victory gardens is limited only by the shortage of seeds, and in this and other respects, the seed problem has contributed to the scarcity of food. The Russians have had to withhold wheat and vegetables from a hungry populace in order to use this produce for seeds.

Only in this way could they provide for their future needs but it was a bitter choice to sow their fields with grain that might have been fed to little children, mothers, and men and women working heroically on the home front.

America In Action

'LITTLE SISTER' AT THE FRONT

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN AFRICA.—The WAC closest to the front perhaps is First Lieut. Sarah A. Bagby of New Haven, Mo., confidential secretary to Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commanding the Northwest African air forces.

She accompanies the air force chief on all of his flying inspection trips, taking dictation and making notes en route. WACs consider that "the flying secretary" has one of the prize assignments of the girl soldiers.

Her job as aide and confidential secretary to the general is one of the outstanding assignments handed to the women soldiers and she is delighted with it. She works by his side all day in a large villa which has been taken over as quarters and offices for himself and his staff.

Minute Make-Ups

Wing-shaped plasters lift droopy mouth lines, help to erase between-the-eyes wrinkles. Worn when at work—writing, sewing, reading—they do real beauty work. A tiny dot of rouge at the inner corners of your eyes makes them appear brighter. Powdered pumice added to soap lather, softens heels, knees and elbows.

unteer one day a week to work in the fields, helping farmers or growing their own victory gardens, which line the outskirts of large cities like Moscow. On Sundays, Moscovites who spend six days a week at their factory workbench, rise at 5 a. m. to devote the entire day to weeding, hoeing and tending the well-manicured acres of potatoes, lettuce, parsnip, squash, tomatoes, radishes and other vegetables.

They provide for their future needs but it was a bitter choice to sow their fields with grain that might have been fed to little children, mothers, and men and women working heroically on the home front.

As Young Ladies Do, This One Had Her Choice

The manager of a business firm who was a widower had noticed that his son seemed rather interested in his pretty secretary.

The young man had only recently entered the firm, and the boy's father did not care for the prospect of an early engagement. He determined to speak to the young man, but was forestalled by the girl, who entered his office and announced that the son had proposed to her and that she had accepted him.

"Well, I think you might have seen me first," said the parent, rather tersely.

"I did," she replied, "but I preferred your son."

Admirals may be admirable, but that isn't where the word comes from. It comes from an old Arabic word "amir-al" meaning "commander of."

That's what the Admiral is, the top-ranking officer in the Navy. Top-ranking cigarette with our Navy men is Camel—the favorite, too with men in the Army, Marines, and Coast Guard, according to actual sales records from their service stores.

Camels are a top-ranking gift, too. And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

One of the strangest coincidents of war came to light recently when she walked into the arms of her "big brother," Col. Ralph Bagby, at Allied headquarters.

Lieutenant Bagby has two brothers, both colonels, in the army and another brother a major. Two other high ranking naval officer brothers are now dead. One nephew is an army major and another a lieutenant senior grade in the navy.

Another nephew, an army air corps cadet, died in training but received his wings posthumously. Two other nephews trained the past year at Annapolis.

"REGULAR" AGAIN AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read: "I was a sufferer from common constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Have been eating it about 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move regularly every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Earl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN's gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply this: Lack of certain cellulose elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. Not a purgative, that robs the system of water. Not "roughage" that acts by "sweeping you out!" ALL-BRAN is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food! Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Words in Reverse In the language of a sect of people in the Caucasus, daddy means mother and mama means father.

Feminine Veterans of Foreign Wars? Change of 'Men Only' Rule Discussed

The distaff side of the war was a problem at the 44th national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States held in New York when the question of admitting women to membership came up for a decision. Eligibility to the organization has been based on overseas service in any war, campaign or armed expedition for which the United States issues campaign medals. It has been limited to "officers and men." Such limitation was unquestioned until recently. In this war, creation of the WACS, WAVES, SPARS, women marines, and army and navy nurses' corps adds new fuel to a fire that was only smoldering prior to the present war when overseas nurses were the only group demanding admission on an equal basis with men.

SCHOOL NOTES

Last Friday morning the Juniors and Seniors sold War Bonds. They went from house to house in the city trying to get people to help once again in the War Effort.

Members of the two classes did very well for one morning—the amount sold was $5,250.00. The teams which sold the most consist-of: First Place Don Herriman, Olen
Herriman and Larry Klingler, selling
$1,850.00 worth. Second place, Hazel Galliker and Arlene Pfeiffer with sales of $1,300.00. Third place, Jan-ette Montgomery and Kathryn Westcott, who sold $425.00 in bonds.

The students wish especially to thank two local businessmen who helped by purchasing the largest bonds, Mr. Friedman and Mr. Keiser.
They also extend a hearty “thank you” to all other townspeople who bought bonds from them.

We have organized our boys and girls athletic club jointly, electing Roy Landon, president; Norma Lou
Westcott, secretary; and Donna
Moore, treasurer.
(This association is sponsoring a dance Saturday evening, October 9.
It is to be held in the gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock. Admission 15c for students and 25c for adults. Come out and help support our athletic fund.)

Most of the school band instruments have returned this week from Grinnels at Bay City where they were being repaired. It has been a handicap trying to hold band rehearsals with most of the instruments gone. It is hoped that the rest of the instruments will be back later this week. The band rehearsals will then start in earnest.
