Iosco County Over Top In 7th War Loan Drive

Goes Over With $178,876.25 In E Bond Sales

Total Sales All Types of Bonds $482,202

Iosco county went over the top in the 7th War Loan campaign—one of the few counties in Michigan to reach the goal. Given a quota of $178,000.00 in E Bonds, when the final returns were made, Iosco had $178,876.25 in E Bonds, when the credit. The total bond sales here, including E and other types of bonds, amounted to $482,202.25.

H. E. Friedman, chairman of the Iosco County War Finance Committee, said yesterday, "We certainly are elated with the results of the 7th War Loan Campaign. With a greatly increased quota, this was the hardest drive we have ever had and the situation looked bad right up to the last minute. We wish to thank the bond purchasers and Gallants for putting the drive across. A record that was especially pleasing was made in Alabaster township where the school children sold $21,350 worth of E Bonds. We feel that every resident is proud of Iosco county's record. We know that our boys and girls, especially those overseas, will be equally as proud of Iosco county."

A notable accomplishment was made by employees of the National Gypsum Co. in the purchase of $16,777.00 in E Bonds.

In the sale of bonds, other than E bonds, the following were some of the larger allocations: National Gypsum Co. $50,000.00 Standard Oil Co. 4,000.00 A. & P. Stores 3,000.00 Consumers Power Co. 10,000.00 A. T. & T. Co. 1,000.00 Michigan State Treasurer 32,000.00 U. S. Gypsum Co. 20,000.00 Michigan Bell Telephone .. 4,000.00

The banks of the county purchased $140,000.00 worth of bonds.

IN the SERVICE

Sgt. Kenneth Rapp was recently decorated with the Air Medal. He is the son of Mrs. Hattie Rapp of Grant township, and Mrs. Rapp received the following from his commander, General George C. Kenney, of the Allied Air Forces in the Pacific:

Dear Mrs. Rapp: Recently your son, Sgt. Kenneth E. Rapp, was decorated with the Air Medal. It was an award made in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization, fellow airmen, his country, his home and to you.

He was cited for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Southwest Pacific Area from January 3, 1945, to April 28, 1945.

Your son took part in sustained operational flight missions during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These flights included bombing missions against enemy installations, shipping and supply bases, and aided considerably in the recent successes in this theatre.

Almost every hour of every day your son, and the sons of other American mothers, are doing just such things as that here in the Southwest Pacific.

Theirs is a very real and very tangible contribution to victory and to peace.

I would like to tell you how genuinely proud I am to have men as your son in my command, and how gratified I am to know that young Americans with such courage and resourcefulness are fighting our country's battle against the Japanese aggressors.

You, Mrs. Rapp, have every reason to share that pride and gratification.

Sincerely,
George C. Kenney,
General, United States Army.

Among those graduating recently from an intensive course for Gunner's Mate at Great Lakes was Roy A. Landon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landon of this city.

Cpl. Adam Kolodziejski of Hale is now home on furlough. While fighting with the Timbrenwolf Division and Central Germany campaigns. He was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star with Cluster, and the Purple Heart.

Sgt. Edgar J. Currie of Whittemore was one of those honored when his unit, the 327th Medical Battalion, was awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque for superior performance of duty in exceptionally difficult circumstances.

Food Shortage Brings OPA Hearing Here

Food Dealers Asked to Appear Monday Night

A heavy tourist population in Iosco county with a diminishing food supply to feed them has become a serious problem for the grocers and food dealers of the county.

Russell H. McKenzie, county OPA chairman, announced today that a hearing before District OPA officials from the Saginaw office will be held next Monday evening at the Court House. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Grocers and food dealers of the county are urged to attend, to advise the OPA of the necessity of a greater food allocation for Iosco county because of the heavy tourist population this summer.

Conditions are critical at this time due to the population increase, and your co-operation and advice is earnestly requested.

Last Sunday Game Rained Out Here

Last Sunday the game between Tawas City and Linwood was rained out. This game may be played a little later in the season.

Pinconning beat Worth, their first victory this year, nine to four. Sterling, the league leader, on a forfeited game from Duell, because the Duell team failed to have a full team in the field.

This Sunday Tawas City goes to Sterling where they play the league leaders in a double header. The outcome of these two games may be the deciding factor in the capture of the Northern Star League honors.

Family Theatre Now Being Reconditioned

Manager Howard Deitzel of the Family Theatre at East Tawas is busy this week with work on the building and equipment.

The seats are all being covered with new material and roof of the building is being resurfaced.

Manager Deitzel says the temperature is always fine at the Family for they have one of the best air conditioning systems in the state.

Friends of Edward Muir are very sorry to learn that he is very ill in a Detroit hospital.

AN OPEN LETTER

Members of Youth Recreation.

Dear Members: Arrangements have been made with Jack Donahue and Mrs. Williams whereby members of the Youth Recreation will be admitted to the Saturday night dances for the admission charge of 50c. However, it is necessary to present your card at the time of purchasing your ticket.

This will apply for the summer and regular parties held formerly will be discontinued for this period. Your parents and yourselves can be assured that adequate and proper supervision is being provided for by the management.

Plans for revised Recreational program are being worked out to begin at the starting of the school term, and will be announced at that time.

Sincerely,
Harris Barkman, Chairman.

$3,687 Weight Tax Returned to Iosco

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has sent the Auditor General vouchers for distribution of $875,877.08 in 2nd quarter motor vehicle weight tax returns to the counties and cities of Michigan. Iosco county will receive $3,687.20 in this distribution. All weight tax money is returned to the counties, who turn over approximately one-third to the cities and villages for use in building and maintaining their roads and streets. The rest is retained by the counties for use on county roads.

Iosco and adjoining counties were allocated the following amounts:

Alcona county	$2,394.34
Arenac county	$2,823.96
Bay County	10,369.45
Iosco county	3,687.20
Ogemaw county	3,227.32
Oscoda county	2,096.54

Gas tax money returned to the various counties of the state will amount to $1,275,000.

Following are the amounts these counties will receive under the current gas tax return:

Alcona county	$2,732.17
Arenac county	3,861.44
Bay County	16,259.00
Iosco county	4,664.20
Ogemaw county	3,641.88
Oscoda county	2,430.75

Mr. and Mrs. Powell Now at Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Powell, formerly of Whittemore, arrived at their new home at Tulsa, Oklahoma, where Mr. Powell will enter business.

Mr. Powell, employed by the National Gypsum Co. at National City for the past 18 years, came to this community as operator at the Western Union Telegraph office at East Tawas. In 1927 he became an employee of the National Gypsum Company and became a resident of Whittemore where he was active in the affairs of his community. He served as mayor for several years.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Powell throughout the county wish them success at Tulsa.

Word has been received that a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shellenbarger on July 8. She has been named Linda Lee.

Make Plans For 1945 Fair Monday Night

Event Will Be Held at Hale, Sept. 26 to 28

The Board of Directors of the Iosco county Agricultural Association met at the Plainfield township hall Monday evening of this week to further develop plans for the Annual County Fair which will be held as a county-wide three day event September 26, 27 and 28.

The fair will be held at the Plainfield Township Hall, again this fall, with exhibits such as needlework, baking, canning, handicraft, antiques, gardening, field crops and poultry to be displayed in the Township Hall. The livestock will be housed in the adjoining County Garage, and in temporary quarters erected for that purpose.

As now planned, according to the association president, Mrs. T. G. Scofield, the first day will be devoted to the assembling of exhibits and judging. The second day will include a light weight horse pulling contest, a parade of educational and agricultural floats, and a general evening program that will attract the interest of everyone. During the third day the heavy weight pulling teams will compete for high honors. Other contests will include foot races, husband calling (for dinner) and athletic events for school children.

The baked goods sale during the late afternoon of the third day, according to Mrs. Scofield, will be the first indication of cleaning the hall in preparation for the dance which will be held that evening. Both round and square dancing will be sure to interest everyone.

The 1945 Premium List, according to the secretary, H. F. Black, will be increased this year to approximately $1,500.00, and will include many classes for the school children, 4-H Club members and adults. He urges local people to begin making plans for an exhibit at the fair. He stated that home canners have no excuse for not exhibiting, as the judges will be unable to tell that the canned fruit has no sugar in it.

At the fair meeting Monday evening considerable discussion was given the possibility of increasing housing facilities for livestock and poultry. However, no conclusions were drawn. A committee will continue to investigate and formulate plans for a future building program that may in time include a race track for harness horses. Numerous superintendents, committeemen and supervisors have already been named for the various departments, however, some have not been selected, and for that reason these committee members will be announced later.

Every family in the county is urged to purchase a 1945 Family Membership to the Fair Association at a cost of $1.50, and plan now to attend the fair September 26, 27 and 28 at Hale.

County Librarians Attend School

Mrs. Emma McKenzie, librarian of the Iosco County Library at Whittemore, and Mrs. Ada G. McRae, librarian of the Oscoda Public Library, are attending a workshop for librarians in rural, village and small city libraries of northern half of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan being held at the Conservation Training School at Higgins Lake near Roscommon, this week. Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, State Librarian, announces this as the third of four library workshops which will be sponsored this summer by the Michigan State Board for Libraries and the State Board of Control for Vocational Education.

Planning attractive library rooms, writing library news, effective lending methods and the library's part in adult education are some of the topics the librarians are discussing. Books and magazines are being exhibited and lectures given on current adult books, and reference and informational materials.

County OPA Moves

The Iosco County Price and Rationing Board office will be closed Monday afternoon, July 23, for the purpose of moving to new quarters. It will be located on the second floor directly above their present quarters in the Federal Building at East Tawas. Business will be resumed as usual on Tuesday.

Household Hints

Ripe tomato juice will remove fresh ink stains.

Yellow ochre dissolved in boiling water makes a lovely dye for muslin curtains.

When making pies that are likely to be juicy, cut the lower crust larger than the upper and fold over like a hem to prevent leaking at the edges.

Sprinkle a stubborn ribbon knot with talcum powder. Unties easier.

When the point of a steel wire brush wears down, saw off the worn end and the brush will be as good as new.

Saw off the legs of an old wobbly card table to about 18 inches long, and use it as a play table for the children. It can be moved easily from room to room and taken also on trips.

As soon as you notice frayed or worn spots in garments, mend them. Small holes are easier to hide than large ones and worn spots can be kept from tearing if reinforced with mending in time.

In buying scissors, choose the best you can afford or can find. If you can have only one pair, those about 8 inches in length will be satisfactory for most uses. Smaller scissors are handy for ripping seams, snipping, or cutting buttonholes, if you can possibly manage to have them. If you do much sewing, better invest in dress-maker's or pinking shears.

A skillet that has become encrusted with a rough coating which cannot be easily scraped off, may be put into a hot fire or bed of hot coals and the crust burned off. In this way the skillet is left smooth and like new and is not injured.

Grease the spout of the pitcher when you use it for muffin or waffle batter. It will make pouring smoother.

Although rubber is ordinarily considered non-conductive, B. F. Goodrich has perfected an electrically conductive rubber used in the form of a 'shoe' for de-icing airplane propellers.

Bathing suits that won't get wet even when the wearer goes in swimming are a good possibility. The waterproof bathing suits are coated with B. F. Goodrich Koroseal.

'Bullet-proof' tires are so designed that a punctured tire can be run for 40 miles before it is ruined.

Almost every modern weapon has some rubber in it.

Watch Your Kidneys!
 Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
 Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
 Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

A Bell for Adano
 By John Hersey

THE STORY THUS FAR: The American troops arrived at Adano, with Major Joppolo, the Amgot officer in charge. Sergeant Borth was in charge of security. The Major was determined to replace the town bell stolen by the Nazis, and in other ways to build confidence among the people. He wanted to start the fishermen out again and arranged with Lieut. Livingston, senior naval officer, to open the waters to their boats. He allowed the carts to enter the city with food and water, despite orders from General Marvin that the carts be kept out of the city. Capt. Purvis reported to headquarters the cart orders given by the Major, by sending off the delayed letter to headquarters.

CHAPTER X
 At each meal there were also some idlers in the place, but they just came in to listen to the noon and six-thirty broadcasts from Rome.

On the day that Mayor Nasta came down from the hills, Major Joppolo and Captain Purvis had just finished their pasta and were talking about the stuffy Navy fellow, Livingston, when they heard an unusual noise out in the street. There were shouts of anger, and whistles.

But the noise outside grew, and seemed to be coming up the street. And soon several of the idlers who had been listening to the radio in the restaurant ran out. As the noise grew still louder the two women picked up handfuls of fruit and ran out, pursued by their guests. Then the owner of the place and his wife and son ran out with their mouths full of pasta and eggplant.

Finally Major Joppolo said: "Let's go see what it is." So he and Captain Purvis ran out too, with their napkins in their hands.

This is what they saw:
 Up the center of the street a forlorn looking man walked. He was very short, and rather heavy-set. His clothes were dirty and torn. His shoes were covered with dust. His face was very sad, and he walked slowly, hanging his head. There was only one proud touch to his whole figure, and that was a pair of pince-nez spectacles balanced on his big nose.

Behind the man, keeping a safe distance as if there still might be some dynamite in him, a large crowd walked, shouting and whistling in his derision. The derision was ten times louder than it would otherwise have been because this was the first time the people of Adano had ever been able to express their feelings toward this man. Even behind their own closed doors they had held their tongues about Mayor Nasta in the past, because he seemed to have ears in every house, and his eyes peered in every window, and his punishments were sadistic.

But now they shouted what they thought.
 "Fascist Pig," they shouted. This was what they shouted most.

But they also shouted: "The murderer always goes back to the scene of his crime!"

They also shouted: "Where is Mayor Nasta's whip now?"

Curiously the two women shouted, and there was a kind of pride in the way they shouted.

There was a priest in the crowd, and he shouted: "Blasphemer!"

There were some children in the crowd, and they ran along shouting: "Pig! Pig! Pig!"

The anger of the mob bordered on violence. When the unhappy Mayor got opposite the Albergo del Pescatori one of the women raised her arm and threw a plum at him. It missed him and splashed in the street.

A boy of twelve threw a stone. Then several brickbats flew, and the shouts of long repressed hatred became shrieks of revenge.

Captain Purvis looked at Major Joppolo and Major Joppolo said: "We've got to put a stop to this."

Captain Purvis was not a subtle American, but he was a brave one. He ran out in the street between Mayor Nasta and the crowd. He held up his hand and shouted: "Stop! Stop! You ignorant fools!"

The crowd kept coming. A stone flew past Captain Purvis toward Mayor Nasta.

Captain Purvis pulled his pistol out of his pocket. That was enough. The ones in front held back the others, and the mob halted in the street. Captain Purvis went back to the sidewalk.

Mayor Nasta, seeing that he was saved, ran over to his deliverers, and he stood in the gutter blubbering his thanks. "Americans! Oh, my friends. Thank you for saving me from these ungrateful people. I see how they behave. I am all alone, Americans. I have been in the hills all alone for days. No one would stay with me. All the others gave themselves up. I have thought everything over. I wish to help you if I can. . . ." And he rattled on, his voice going higher and higher.

Someone in the mob shouted: "Mister Major, if you help that man you are not our friend."

Major Joppolo acted quickly to save the situation. He walked into the street and held up his hand for silence; he was careful to make it his left hand, so that it would not be mistaken for a Fascist salute.

And the Major said quickly to Captain Purvis in English. "Arrest him, Purvis, show this gang that you're arresting him."

This was the kind of thing Captain Purvis enjoyed, and as he clapped his hand heavily on Mayor Nasta's shoulder he shouted: "I wish I understood Eytalian. This is wonderful!"

The crowd broke up slowly, mumbling its protests at being deprived of revenge.

Purvis said: "Who is this little squirt, anyway? They sure hate him, don't they?"

Major Joppolo said: "He's the one who used to be Mayor."

"Oh, he is, is he? Well, according to what Borth says, they've got plenty of reason to hate him." And the Captain kicked Mayor Nasta in the seat of the pants simply because he didn't know the Italian for: "You're a little squirt."

Mayor Nasta whimpered in Italian: "What are you going to do with me? If you are going to kill me, please tell me first. Don't shoot me from behind."

What Major Joppolo did with Mayor Nasta was to take him up to his office. Everyone, even little Zito who had once worked for Mayor Nasta, even D'Arpa, the weasel-like vice mayor who had once worked with him, everyone made faces of disgust when they saw Mayor Nasta, and some made obscene remarks within his hearing.

When word passed around the Palazzo that Mayor Nasta was back, many people stuck their heads in the door at the end of the Major's office, which had once been the Mayor's office, to have a look at him in his disheveled condition, and to laugh at him to his face.

Major Joppolo said to Zito and Giuseppe: "I want to have a talk with Mayor Nasta alone. Go and tell the people in the other offices that I do not want to be disturbed, not even by a cracking open of that door. I do not even want to be disturbed by the brushing of ears on the keyhole."

"Yes, Mister Major," Zito said. "No, Mister Major," Giuseppe said.

Major Joppolo sat at the desk and said brusquely: "Sit down."

Mayor Nasta sat in one of the chairs in front of the desk.

"Well, what is it that you wish?" Major Joppolo said.

Mayor Nasta brushed his hand along the wood of the desk pathetically, and he said: "It seems strange to be sitting on the wrong side of this desk."

Major Joppolo said: "It may seem stranger to sit on the wrong side of the bars of your municipal jail. What do you want?"

Mayor Nasta rearranged the pince-nez on his nose, but he did not look Major Joppolo in the eye as he said: "I just want a chance, Mister Major."

"You want a chance!" Major Joppolo spoke angrily. "To whom did you ever give a chance?"

"I have thought it over," Mayor Nasta said. "I have been all alone for days. It was awful at night. I have thought it over, Mister Major. I want to help if I can."

"How many years were you in office?"

"Nine, Mister Major."

"After nine years in office, you have thought it all over, have you? After nine years of graft and stealing and keeping these people down, you've thought it over, you want to help, do you?"

This hurt. "Who is this Mayor?" "Bellanca the Notario, an honest man, much more honest than the former Mayor."

And the former Mayor said: "Yes, Bellanca is honest. But surely you have something for Nasta to do? I would accept something less than Mayor." Nasta rubbed the wood of the desk wistfully. "There is not much left of the old Nasta," he said. "I would accept something less than Mayor."

Major Joppolo's eyes grew angry. He stood up abruptly. "Oh, you would, would you? Yes, I have something for you to do. You are to report every morning to Sergeant Borth of the American Army. You will find him in the Fascio. That is all you have to do each day. But see that you do it, Nasta, or you will be put in jail."

"You mean that Nasta has become a common probationer?"

"Oh, so Nasta is familiar with the practice of putting people on probation? That is very genteel of you, Nasta. I thought all your punishments were more ingenious than that."

"Please be generous with me," Nasta said. "Please give me some work to do."

"Generous? Nasta, what do you expect? For the crimes you have committed against the people of Adano, you deserve to be shot outright, without a trial. You certainly never would give a fair trial, unless it brought you some kind of profit. I am being more than generous. I am putting you on probation. See that you behave, you Fascist."

Mayor Nasta was obsequious now. "Yes, Mister Major," he said. "What did you say was the name of the American officer to whom I must report?"

"His name is Borth, and he is not an officer. He is a sergeant. You are not worth an officer, Nasta."

"Yes, Mister Major."

This is how it happened that Mayor Nasta reported once every morning to Sergeant Borth at the Fascio. Because four or five people followed the Mayor everywhere he went out of curiosity and hatred, there was a small audience on hand the next morning when he reported to Sergeant Borth for the first time. The audience enjoyed what it saw and heard, for this kind of situation was meat for Sergeant Borth, who thought the whole war was a joke.

The tattered Nasta stepped into one of the M.P. offices, rearranged his pince-nez, and said: "Where will I find the Sergeant Borth?"

"I am Borth."

"I am Nasta."

"Oho," roared Sergeant Borth. He stood up, rubbing his hands. "So you are the Mayor. I understand that you have come to Adano to repent your sins. Is that right, noble Mayor?"

"I was told that I was to report here each morning. I was to report, not be humiliated, Sergeant."

"You will call me Mister Sergeant."

Mayor Nasta snorted, from his long habit of snorting.

Borth said sharply: "Listen, Nasta, I know more about you than you know about yourself. You be careful how you behave here. Now, answer my questions civilly. Is it correct that you came to Adano to repent your sins?"

Mayor Nasta was white with anger, but he said: "I suppose you might say so."

"Thank you," Borth said with exaggerated politeness. "In that case you will repent one sin each morning when you report to Sergeant Borth. Would you like to choose your own sins, or would you like Sergeant Borth to choose them for you?"

Mayor Nasta couldn't keep himself from snorting.

"I see," said Borth, with his over-politeness, "you would like Borth to choose. Very well, let's see. This morning we will discuss the sin of your disgraceful running away from your post in the face of the American invasion. What is this sin called, Mayor Nasta?"

"What do you mean, what is it called?"

"You are at a loss for words? Very well, Borth will answer his own question. It is called the sin of cowardice."

Mayor Nasta snorted. "No matter what side you were on, no matter if you were on the side of the crooks, it was a sin to run away, was it not, Mayor?"

Mayor Nasta rearranged his pince-nez with a trembling hand.

"Answer my question: did you or did you not give rifles to the Carabinieri and grenades to the Finance Guards, make them a beautiful speech about fighting to the last man, and then run to the hills?"

Mayor Nasta said with a trembling voice: "You tell me, clever Sergeant."

Sergeant Borth shouted: "Answer me, probationer."

Mayor Nasta said quietly: "I did, Sergeant."

"I did, Mister Sergeant."

"Are you sorry for this disgraceful sin, Nasta?"

Mayor Nasta could hear the people snickering behind him.

He said meekly: "I am, Mister Sergeant."

"I have a new Mayor, and a better one."

Our Country Needs Still More Used Fats...And We're the Folks to Save them!

IN between the good news about the war these days, careful readers of the paper will see grave words about a serious national shortage that has a direct bearing on military and civilian production schedules.
Our domestic supplies of fats and oils will be approximately one and one-half billion pounds less than last year. Yet thousands of tons of fats are still needed to help make countless essentials for the battle- and home-fronts.
While country people have been doing an even better job of saving fats than the city folks, we must remember that, because of the meat situation, we are in a better position to save. That's why we can't afford to miss a trick.
So, let's save not only the big amounts from frying and roasting, but also meat trimmings, plate scraps, and scrapings. Melt them down once a week and add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Skim soups and gravies. Scrape every pan. Every drop is important.
When your salvage can is full, take it to your butcher, and get 2 red points and up to 4¢ for each pound. If you have any difficulty, call your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent.
100,000,000 More Pounds of Used Fats Are Needed This Year!

Farm Fish Ponds Prove Popular

Relaxation as well as food is provided by the farm fish pond. This pond on a North Carolina farm yielded 90 fish in three days this spring—all of them edible. NO MORE SISTER SUSIE'S SOCKS
Civilian consumers will benefit in the postwar period for a number of wartime discoveries by army chemists and researchers. Not only will they have synthetic soups and self-heating cocoa to use on camping trips, but they will find that they can purchase such things as shrink-proof woolen socks. The days when "the socks of sisters raised the blooming blisters have been banished forever in the army.

All army socks are now shrink-proofed, and efforts are being made to apply the same treatment to all types of wool cloth.

A new synthetic cloth has also been developed which can be rolled up into a ball and will rebound from a wall with the force of a rubber ball. If allowed to remain on a level surface for a quarter of an hour, however, the material will flatten out completely. The fiber wears extremely well, but the difficulty still to be worked out is that it will not stand more than 15 to 20 launderings.

CAPITAL CHAFF

In view of the lumber shortage and the terrific wartime destruction of forests in the South and Northwest, a drive has started for a renewal of the Civilian Conservation Corps after the war. This may be the answer to conscription.

While old-fashioned brass hats talk about a big land army after the war, General Bayerlein, commander of the Panzer Lehr division, now a prisoner, has given some interesting information to U. S. officers abroad. He reports that if the U. S. army had stepped up tactical air warfare last August, after our breakthrough into France, we could have won the war sooner. At that time, U. S. planes were bombing German factories but not concentrating heavily on tactical bombing—in other words bombing of enemy troops. . . . Wonder what the effect would be if the new goop bomb, which spreads unquenchable fire in every direction, were dropped wholesale on Jap troops in action?

U. S. and Franco's Radio

Top officials of OWI are seriously considering using the American taxpayers' money to buy time on Franco's Spanish radio network.

Up until recently, OWI was broadcasting over the Rabat, North African, station, which is French, in order to reach the Spanish people. According to OWI executive Thurman Barnard, "several programs a day carrying the American story are broadcast to the Spanish people."

But despite the recent action of the San Francisco conference in flatly vetoing the admission of Fascist Spain into the United Nations, OWI is considering a radio hookup over Franco's government-owned network.

BOOST IN COFFEE PRICES?

A debate has been raging inside the government over the price of coffee, which this time may be boosted.

Chief problem is that Brazil, our biggest coffee shipper and our best friend in Latin America, is finding it so uneconomical to grow coffee that she is turning to cotton. In that case she would be our chief competitor instead of our chief customer.

Labor costs in Brazil have risen to such an extent that Brazilian coffee growers can't produce at the OPA ceiling price which averages around 13 cents a pound. They want the price boosted to an average of 18 cents a pound. This would increase the cost of a cup of coffee one-eighth of a cent.

The state department favors such a price rise. The OPA, anxious to hold the line, is opposed.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Carl Hatch of New Mexico has been sitting on the anti-poll tax bill until the San Francisco United Nations charter is out of the way. He does not want a poll-tax filibuster to upset ratification of the charter.

Fortright Fred Vinson, the war mobilizer, is going to be put on the spot soon by the Surplus War Property board. It is about to hatch a ruling whereby 11 billion dollars of government-owned war plants and machinery would be sold merely on the basis of price, not on the basis of where they could stimulate business and competition. . . . If the Surplus board has its way, war plants, machinery, etc., will go to the DuPonts, General Motors, Ford, and others with the most cash to buy them.

Unsung heroes of the airplane carrier Franklin's rescue were Capt. John Gingrich, skipper of the cruiser Pittsburgh, and his executive officer, Ed Rivers. Capt. Leslie Gehres of the Franklin expressed astonishment that the Pittsburgh kept its towline on the burning airplane carrier with Jap suicides hitting at both. . . . The answer is that for over 37 hours, Gingrich remained on the bridge, with Rivers assigned to the fantail to watch the towline. Neither had a moment's sleep during those 37 hours.

ABRAHAM'S PRACTICE OF BROTHERHOOD

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 13:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee . . . for we be brethren.—Genesis 13:8.

As we study the contrasting selfishness of Lot, we see the true generosity of Abram and the brotherly love which prompted it in bold relief. In a world where men reckon even their friendships as something which must yield some financial return, it is good to stress the fact that kindness and sacrifice are recognized and rewarded by God.

Abram, after dwelling for a time in Canaan, had gone down into Egypt because of a famine in his own land. After many trying experiences, he returned to his promised land and there he prospered mightily under the good hand of God. Unlike many who forget God when they become rich, we find Abram

I. Meeting Prosperity With Godliness (vv. 1-4).

Abram—"was very rich." That would be almost enough to constitute a spiritual obituary notice for many a man's spiritual life.

But Abram did not let his riches come between him and God. He sought out the altar which he had first built at Bethel, and there he called upon the name of the Lord once again.

Note then, that riches in themselves need not destroy a man's character or spirituality if they are held as a gift from God, and for His glory. Meet growing prosperity with increased godliness and all will be well.

II. Meeting Problems With Kindness (vv. 5-9).

Abram's riches, and those of Lot, were largely in flocks and herds. For them there had to be great areas of grazing land, and in the rocky section where they found themselves, grass was scarce. Result? A fight between the herdsmen.

Lot, the younger, should have taken the lead in meeting that situation, but his selfish heart was too small for that. But Abram, eager for peace and brotherly love, indicated at once his willingness to do anything necessary to preserve peace.

One could not ask a finer indication of true bigness in a man. "Big men use their prestige to serve great ideals. Abram used his tremendous advantage to do a beautifully generous thing to eliminate strife. Not many men are big enough to follow this course" (W. R. White).

Only God can make a man that big, but God can do it for any one of us. If Christian people would listen to the words of Abram, "we are brethren" (v. 8), and put them into practice, there would be an immediate end to all the foolish strife which divides God's people.

There is no call for compromise with untruth, nor any occasion for softhearted generosity which will only spoil its recipients. We are talking about the honest and intelligent use of kindness and tact between brethren. When kindness meets problems, the problems disappear. Why not try it?

III. Meeting Selfishness With Love (vv. 10-12).

Lot made the typical choice of the worldly-minded man, the one which would give him the best returns in dollars and cents. It seemed like a shrewd thing to do, but it resulted in disaster, for it meant pitching his tents over toward the wickedness of Sodom.

Abram had to rescue Lot again and again from the results of his decision; but thus in love he met the arrogant selfishness of his foolish nephew.

God rewarded Abram by a renewal of His covenant with him (Gen. 13:14-18). God understands and values the kind and thoughtful act, even though the world may ignore it or sneer at it.

Lot probably did not intend to go all the way into wicked Sodom to live, but having once started that way, it was easy to go on and on. Even so Christians in our day may not intend to slip off into worldliness, but if they continue to pitch their tents toward Sodom, they will find themselves there one sad day.

This may be done by seeking wealth or worldly advantage at the expense of association with unbelievers, or by some manipulations or maneuvers which will involve compromise. It may come about by reason of indulgence in worldly amusements which dull spiritual perceptions and kill an appetite for the Word of God and prayer.

Abram is a character who "wears" well. We see him meeting one situation after another, and making the right choice. Oh, he was not perfect! His mistakes are noted in Scripture, and he suffered for them, too. But because his heart was fundamentally right, and he had a constant desire to do the will of God, he found his way through, and justified the name which God gave him—"The friend of God" (see James 2:23; Isa. 41:8).

It's Good News That Irish Linen Is Coming Into Its Own Again

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

CHEERIO! Hear the good news!

Shipments of Irish linen are gradually being resumed. Irish linen, a strategic material, has been helping to win the European war. Now that it has come to a victorious end, more linens will be released for civilian wear.

The strength, lightness and dependability of linen have made it an indispensable war material. Paratroopers have drifted down from their chutes by the lightest and strongest linen harnesses made. Linen canvas which does not stretch when soaked with rain has protected precious supplies dumped on the beachheads of France. Miles of strong linen thread have sewed the thousands and thousands of shoes that went marching to Berlin. This war demand explains why no one store in the United States has been able to secure sufficient quantities of Irish linen yardage, handkerchiefs, table damasks, towels, sheets and so on to fill their customers' requirements.

One thing that is certain, however, is that notwithstanding this long period of watchful waiting, the American consumer has not lost her enthusiasm for Irish linens or her appreciation of their beauty and peerless durability. Among the most attractive costumes seen on the beach this summer is the sunback dress with its accompanying bolero, both made of Irish linen in the smart fashion shown to the left. Carried out in the sun's favorite yellow, the dress is distinguished by a V-halter neckline and a flattering cuff effect across the bustline. The brief matching bolero makes possible a double career for this smart sunwarrior. Frocks tailored of pure white linen are also the latest word in smart summer fashions.

When it comes to dazzling white accessories such as fashion decrees for this summer, snowy linen plays its most thrilling role. Even the spotless white bag you will need to complete your collection of white accessories presents no difficulty. Just make a slipcover of washable white Irish linen for the dark bag you bought earlier in the season and the problem of keeping your bag immaculately clean and white looking is solved. The girl to the right in the picture did just that adding a touch that tells in way of a hand-embroidered initial.

Women who have a yen for exquisite frost-white lingerie accents have become intrigued this summer with the idea of "make it yourself" collars, jabots, gilets and other neckwear "lovelies" for which they use the daintiest and finest Irish linen handkerchiefs they can find. News dispatches from Ireland report that increasing quantities of linen handkerchiefs are being shipped to the United States this summer.

For a ladylike look that will add class to a career girl's simple daytime dress or suit, handkerchiefs with clip-cord borders and hand-rolled hems work up beautifully. You'll need only one hanky to make a saw-tooth collar to wear with a V-neck dress as pictured in the right inset. Just cut it into quarters and lay the corners in overlapping points. Finish the cut edge that fits into the neckline with a narrow binding.

For softly feminine styles one should be very "choosy" in selecting handkerchiefs that have reached the ultimate in matter of exquisitely sheer Irish linen and choice needlework. You will take utmost pride in wearing a gilet made of two handkerchiefs as shown in the inset above to the center. One of the lovely Irish linen handkerchiefs is cut in half diagonally across. The bordered edges are joined together part of the way up to make the front of the gilet, being left free the rest of the way to open back into revers. The other handkerchief is used for a most flattering butterfly-wing jabot.

IT DIDN'T take Myrna Loy long to decide what she'd do as a free-lance star after she left Metro. Practically everybody wanted her for a picture, but she chose the feminine starring role in "Genius in the Family." The story's laid in 1870, and is all about the courting days of Hiram Stevens Maxim, who invented the machine gun, among other things. And who do you suppose plays Hiram? None other than Don Ameche. But he doesn't invent a thing during the picture, just plays a charming and resourceful suitor.

When the Kate Smith program returns to the air early in September, it will be broadcast Fridays at 8:30 p. m., EWT, on CBS, instead of Sundays, and will be on the air 25 minutes instead of a full hour. And there'll be more songs by Kate.

Cornel Wilde, expert fencer, who plays the swashbuckling Aladdin in Columbia's "A Thousand and One Nights," will be built up as the successor to the late Douglas Fairbanks in roles of that type. He's the first to get that build-up since Fairbanks died.

Remember all those models who were taken to Hollywood, with much fanfare, for "Cover Girl"? Dusty Anderson, the only one of the 15 to be given a studio contract, gets her first lead playing opposite Warner Baxter in "The Paper Doll Murders."

John Reilly, the engineer of the air show, "It Pays to Be Ignorant," works nights, and sleeps late mornings. At least, he did until his three-year-old daughter heard little Johnny, the call boy on the Ginny Simms show. Now she gets up at the crack of dawn and goes around the house imitating Johnny's clarion call advertising the sponsor's cigarettes at the top of her lungs.

Marie McDonald will play her first piano solo before a huge audience—all the people who go to see "Getting Gertie's Garter." Producer Edward Small heard that Marie had been studying piano with Ray Sinatra, cousin of Frank, who's one of Hollywood's best known pianists and arrangers. Small didn't know she'd learned little more than the scales, so he had her written in for a piano solo.

The new Fred Waring show, heard Mondays through Fridays over NBC, is a novelty in more ways than merely changing the usual network type of morning programs. Waring has made his program a showcase for returning veterans who want to make show business their postwar careers. The veterans apply for an NBC "Welcome Home Audition," provided by the network especially for servicemen; Waring scans the results and picks the most promising.

When Roy Acuff and the Smoky Mountain Boys and Girls of "Grand Ole Opry" fame were being flown in a C-47 to a huge war bond rally in Tennessee, members of the plane's crew regretted that they'd miss the show, as they had to return. So Roy and his band got out their instruments, and while flying 200 miles an hour at 5,000 feet, gave their complete performance for the crew.

Kay Kyser wrote President Truman asking for a list of the chief executive's tunes, and was informed that they're "Over There," "Pack Up Your Troubles," the "Toreador Song" from "Carmen," and "Song without Words." Kay will present them in new arrangements on his air show.

THE kid, Keecee, is bright all right. He sure gets Old Dave. After he's been in the service station there's always something missin', or the change is wrong. But never any proof. He's slick or has no nerves. Got away with things because he'd pull them right in your face. Dave won't accuse him because he wants to beat him at his own game. Things are pulled so often that Dave commences to feel like a fool. To tell Keecee to stay out would be no satisfaction. Dave's too contrary himself for half-justice. He wants to turn the tables.

Well, me an' Dave are playin' checkers on the side counter. Keecee is perched up on the end. Sittin' there lookin' innocent. He can't reach anythin' from there, so we don't pay too much attention to him. Dave, pretendin' he doesn't know the game, is takin' me over with his smooth moves.

Keecee's down. Glides back of Dave to the refrigerator for a bottle of chocolate milk. Dave keeps his face toward me an' the board, but moves his eyes watchin' Keecee. Keecee gets his bottle, comes back, opens the slide, takes a bag of peanuts from right under the checkerboard. He lays a coin at Dave's elbow. Dave glances at the money. But he doesn't say a word. Not to Keecee. To me he says, "It's yore move."

I think, Is he gonna let him get away with that? He can easy enough see it's a cent and not a dime. But it's Dave's business. I make my move an' keep my face straight. Dave sees through it.

"Somethin' slick, ain't yuh?" he grins. "But it happens I pulled that one on a guy once, myself."

I look up, an' I see on Keecee's face a sly grin which says plain'n Scripture, "Yuh old fools, anybody could outlick both of yuh."

Dave picks up the coin, absent-like, drops it in his pocket. Keecee is perched again, eatin' peanuts an', o' course, much to the good. Guys start comin' fer gas. Dave has to go out once in a while to fill a tank—or give 'em their stamps' worth anyhow. Sometimes there is quite a bit of business per square inch. So, while Dave's out I just keep an eye tailed on Keecee so's he don't shin up the chimney with the cash register or nothin'. But he sits there, sweet an' good as a bouquet of lilacs.

A guy comes in fer change, an' up speaks Keecee! He says: "I get change, too, Dave!"

Dave looks puzzled. "Why? What did yuh gimme?"

"I gave yuh a quarter. I got a chocolate milk an' a bag o' peanuts." Hm! So this is how it works, I think to myself.

Dave fishes all the silver out of his pocket where he's been puttin' it all evenin'. "Why, I ain't got no quarter."

"I gave yuh a quarter, because I had a nickel and a quarter, and here's the nickel!" An' sure enough he pulls out a nickel. He looks at me. He wants me to speak up fer 'im. Nerve! Whew!

"Yuh laid yur money down," I says, sarcastic-like, "but I thought it was a nickel." But darned if Dave don't give in and hand him three nickels change!

"I reckon yuh wouldn't lie for 15 cents," Dave grins.

Keecee perches himself up on the counter again, four coins in his jeans 'stead of the two he started out with, an' a bag of peanuts glidin' along his gullet. Washin' 'em down with his free chocolate milk! Naturally, I'm wonderin' if Dave's not or blind, when he gives me a look which says, "Shut up! Everythin' hunky-dory!"

Soon Keecee goes out, lookin' thoughtful. Dave starts grinnin' all over his face, an' Dave's face covers a lot of territory. He gets all his change out of his pocket. He fiddles around through a fistful of it till he comes to Keecee's bit. He hands it to me, an' I see Keecee's right! It's NOT a nickel. But it's somethin'! I have only seen twice in 15 years of steady lookin'. An' while I'm makin' plumb sure, Dave's reachin' for a big "No Loafin'" sign. "I'm ahead of him now," he chortles, "and sure as gun's iron I'm gonna stay ahead!"

He hangs up the "No Loafin'" so it'll look Keecee right in the eye when he comes in. He stacks empty pop cases, old boxes and sticky oil rags two feet deep on Keecee's end seat. Now I'm sure he's not nuts! For that piece I'm a-gappin' at is a big copper cent. It's a 1799 model in beautiful condition. An' Dave knows it's the real thing. He's been huntin' one a long time. He pulls out his Rare Coin Encyclopedia an' points to somethin', still grinnin' a-plenty. It's value is listed accordin' to condition—$2 to $80!

Touch Up Appliances

Keep that refrigerator and range new looking by touching up chipped and scratched places. Shake the container of "liquid enamel" well before using, then apply with the small brush that is attached to a cap. This "cover up" comes in a variety of colors and can be used on bathroom fixtures, washing machines or any porcelain enameled surface.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS . . . by Lynn Chambers

Preserves Bring Bright Cheer for Winter (See Recipes Below)

Let's Preserve

Wise are the women who gather their fruits and vegetables and plan ahead for winter months when food is scarce. Imagine, if you can, the thrill of knowing that your canning cupboard holds within it the provision for several hundred meals, all the result of your own work.

Last winter the women who put up pickles and preserves blessed the providence that caused them to do it. For preserves often made up for the plainness of the meat dish, pickles gave a flavor touch when menu variety was at a low ebb, and chili sauce went into hundreds of meat dishes which otherwise might have lacked for flavor.

Preserves may be served with meats, fowl or plain bread. Try to gauge how much sugar you will have and allot only a portion of that for preserves this summer as you will want to use much of the canning sugar for whole fruit.

To be at their best, preserves must be cooked in small batches, anyway in fairly wide pans. There is no need for skimming preserves if they are left in the pans for five minutes after cooking time is finished.

In warm climates where storage is difficult, they are best when processed in a water bath at simmering temperature for 20 minutes. This will help prevent mold.

Tomato Preserves.
2 pounds tomatoes
4 cups sugar
1½ cups water
1 lemon
1 stick cinnamon
2 pieces ginger root, if desired

Use small, firm red, yellow or green tomatoes. Scald one minute. Dip into cold water. Skin but do not core. Combine sugar, water, lemon (sliced thin), cinnamon and ginger and simmer for 20 minutes. Add tomatoes and boil gently until they are bright and clear. Cover and let stand overnight. Pack cold tomatoes into sterile jars. Boil syrup as thick as honey and pour over tomatoes. Process in water bath for 15 minutes.

Apricot Preserves.
2 pounds apricots
¾ cup sugar or corn syrup

Wash, peel and halve firm, ripe apricots. Combine fruit and sugar in alternate layers. Let stand several hours or overnight. Heat slowly until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until fruit is clear. Let stand several hours. Pack cold fruit into sterile jars. Reheat syrup, boiling it

Lynn Says

Serve These Leftovers with Scrambled Eggs: For every six eggs used, blend in 1 cup diced, sauteed bread cubes with 1 teaspoon chopped chives.

If you prefer a meaty flavor, add 1 cup sauteed chicken liver and top with several slices of cooked bacon.

Fish is delicious with the egg combination. You might try ½ cup flaked fish, or ½ cup of any of the following: flaked lobster, shrimp, or crabmeat.

Vegetables add eye-appealing goodness to a golden fluffy mixture of scrambled eggs: 3 tablespoons minced parsley and chives; ½ cup chopped or cooked tomatoes, in which case omit the milk from the mixture; ¼ cup chopped, cooked mushrooms.

down if not thick enough. Pour hot syrup over fruit and seal at once.

Chili sauce does not require much sugar and is very good when made with the combination of spices given in the following directions:

- Chili Sauce.
- 1 gallon tomatoes
- 2 cups onions
- 2 cups sweet red peppers
- 1 pod hot red pepper
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons salt
- 1 tablespoon mustard seed
- 1 tablespoon celery seed
- 3 tablespoons mixed spices
- 2½ cups vinegar

Skin tomatoes before chopping. Chop all vegetables before measuring. Tie spices in a mixed bag. Mix all ingredients except spice bag and vinegar. Add spice bag after mixture has boiled for 30 minutes.

Cook until very thick, then add vinegar and boil until there seems to be no more free liquid. Taste and add more seasoning if necessary. Pour while hot into hot, sterile jars and seal according to manufacturer's directions.

There are a number of other foods which you may not have preserved in other years that would now come in handy. First of all, you may want some lovely garden or orchard fresh fruit juices. For these you will need one cup sugar to the gallon with additional sweetening when served.

Canning Berry Juices.

Blackberries, blueberries, loganberries, raspberries, etc., may be used. Wash, crush and simmer juices until soft. Strain through several layers of cheesecloth. Add one cup sugar to each gallon of juice. Reheat to simmering and pour into hot, sterile jars. Process for 30 minutes in hot water bath at simmering temperature (180 degrees).

It's good to have tomato sauce handy for those meat and vegetable dishes throughout the winter. Canned? Of course:

Canned Tomato Sauce.

- Mix 3 quarts chopped tomatoes, 1 quart sliced onions, 1 pint chopped green peppers, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, salt to taste and a pod of hot red pepper. Cook slowly until thick. Then pour into sterile jars and process in a pressure cooker at 10 pounds for 35 minutes or 2 hours in a boiling water bath.

Canned Vegetable Soup.

- 5 quarts chopped tomatoes
- 2 quarts chopped green lima beans or
- 2 quarts green beans
- 2 quarts carrots
- 1 pint celery
- 4 tablespoons salt

Cook tomatoes until soft, then press through sieve. Add other ingredients and simmer for 10 minutes. Pour into sterile jars and process in boiling water bath 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure or 3 hours in a boiling water bath.

Button Glamor

Buttons here, buttons there and buttons everywhere is a fashion gesture that persists in the summer mode. Attractive buttons impart drama to this charming coat dress made of a pastel spun rayon. These are two-tone buttons patterned as a shaggy flower with their petals tipped in lighter shade. These handsome button originals are feather-light in weight and come in all the new costume colors. For those who make their own clothes, these handsome buttons are just the thing to add a touch of distinction.

It's Clever to Have A Number of Boleros

One of the outstanding fashion highlights this summer is the cunning separate bolero that you can slip on at a moment's notice. A bolero of pink linen worn with your slender black or navy basic dress will look charming. A bolero is ever so easy to make. You can buy just a remnant of linen or gabardine or allover eyelet, and with a good pattern you can seam up a simple bolero in just a short time. Pretty, too, and ever so useful is a little bolero fashioned of black, navy or white eyelet. Finishing off with an inch-wide border or binding of plain material gives an expert dressmaker touch. It's nice to have a white pique bolero on hand either eyeleted or of the waffle type. This will go with most any of your summer dresses. You will find that you can stretch your wardrobe to do double if you have a collection of colorful boleros on hand. They are just the thing for vacation trips too, when you don't want to take too much.

Gabardine Separates

Sports separates made of gabardine in such delectable colors as seafoam, water rose, magnolia petal, olive green, black and navy are finding ready sale. You'll be wanting several of these beautiful separates to mix and match as you please. Items included in the group are slacks, skirts, beach coats and tailored shorts.

Fat-Salvage Bee
 To Aid in Licking National Fat Shortage

It's been ages since we had an old-fashioned "bee" in these parts, but just as we've always pitched in to help a neighbor, so must we pitch in for our country. To help make hundreds of battlefield and home-front essentials, more used fats are needed than are on hand. City folks are trying to make up the deficit of over 1,200,000,000 pounds. But their fats aren't enough.
 Women in small cities, towns and rural districts must also save every drop of fat. Not just big amounts. But scraps off plates, meat trimmings. Melt them down once a week. Your butcher will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.
