Axis Dream of World Supremacy Ends

Hirohito Accepts Terms Orders Cease Fighting

The unconditional surrender of Japan Tuesday, and Emperor Hirohito's cease fighting order Thursday ends the wild 13-year old dream of conquest by madmen, based on the presumption that the scorned "soft peace-loving democracies" would not fight.

Boasting of secret weapons, it developed that the Axis nations had two—treachery and terrorism. Dependence on these two weapons debased the three self-styled "master races of men" to barbarians, destroying much of their vaunted intelligence, and they have now taken their places on the pages of history alongside the annals of the Golden Horde of Jenghiz Khan.

Iosco county, along with all other communities of the nation, heard with joy President Truman's confirmation of the long awaited end of the war. When the message was broadcast Tuesday evening places of business closed in the Tawas and everyone rushed out on the streets to celebrate.

A pandemonium of honking cars, screaming fire sirens, bells and joyous shouts and singing filled the early part of the night. Parades, with colors, color guard and firing squad, and a bonfire on the street at East Tawas added color to the occasion. In one of the many cars cruising through the city streets an accordion sounded out above the din.

Wednesday and Thursday most business places of the two places were closed. Although a happy people were greeting each other on the streets, their thoughts had turned to their sons and daughters, and brothers and sisters, and husbands who had helped to win the peace. Iosco county has more than 1,200 boys and girls in uniform. Africa, Sicily, Italy, Normandy, France, Germany, India, Burma, Guadalcanal, New Guinea, the Gilberts, the Marshalls, Tarawa, Saipan, Guam, Tinian, the Philippines—in the air and on the high seas—in all of these places, our boys and girls have given distinguished service to their country, twenty-five of them making the supreme sacrifice.

During the past few days an increasing number of these young people have come home on furloughs and leaves of absence, or have been discharged from the service.

According To Law

President's Proclamation

The War Lords of Japan and the Japanese armed forces have surrendered. They have surrendered unconditionally. Three months after victory in Europe victory has come in the East.

The cruel war of aggression which Japan started eight years ago to spread the forces of evil over the Pacific has resulted in her total defeat.

This is the end of the grandiose schemes of the dictators to enslave the peoples of the world, destroy their civilization, and institute a new era of darkness and degradation. This day is a new beginning in the history of freedom on this earth.

Our global victory has come from the courage and stamina and spirit of free men and women united in determination to fight.

It has come from the massive strength of arms and materials created by peace-loving peoples who knew that, unless they won, decency in the world would end.

It has come from millions of peaceful citizens all over the world turned soldiers almost overnight—who showed a ruthless enemy that they were not afraid to fight and who were not afraid to die.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Starts

Community Chairmen Named for County

The Annual Campaign to raise funds for Salvation Army home front activities and state institutions will be carried on through the remainder of August and into September.

The community chairmen are: E. John Moffatt, East Tawas; H. Read Smith, Tawas City; Howard Bru Baker, Oscoda. H. VanPatten, Superintendent of schools at Whittemore, Burtleigh; Mrs. Cora Johnson, Hale; W. A. Curtis, Whittemore; G. N. Shattuck, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Harry Goff of Richmond, Michigan, representative of eastern area of Michigan, was here last Friday making arrangements for the drive.

IN the SERVICE

Cpl. Howard Graham of Whittemore is with a field artillery somewhere in Germany. He writes that he is fine. His address is Cpl. Howard Graham, Hdqs. Btry, 228th F. A. Group, APO 758, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

The guns that have fired 150,476 shells into German lines and covered 1,500 miles of combat area are silent. Well lubricated and checked daily, they are standing by today as guardians, while the 219th Field Artillery Battalion carry out their military government mission with the XXIII Corps in Germany. This battalion has seen action in France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland and Germany and five Battle Stars are to its credit. Cpl. William A. Mallon of Tawas City is with this outfit.

M. Sgt. Walter Kasischke is spending his furlough with his mother, Mrs. Emil Kasischke in this city. Sergeant Kasischke has just returned from Germany.

Lieut. John J. Katterman, son of William Katterman of Iosco township, now here on leave, recently graduated as lieutenant from Bombardier Navigator School at Childress, Texas.

Neil Libka, Seaman 1st Class, spent several days at his home here before returning to San Francisco.

Lieut. Herbert Zollweg arrived in Detroit on Sunday after serving overseas nearly 27 months and participated in the invasions of Sicily and Normandy.

Sgt. Arthur Dease has returned from Europe and has received his discharge. He is a veteran of the early African and Italian campaigns, as well as the battle of Europe.

Cpl. Otto Berg has received his discharge after serving in the European campaign.

Pvt. Harold Moeller of this city has been transferred to Chanute Field. His address is Pvt. Harold C. Moeller, 3502 A.A.F. B.V., Squadron H, Barracks 190, Chanute Field, Illinois.

Tawas Boy Sees First Atomic Bomb Explosion

Sgt. Robert Fitzhugh At Historic Trial

"Suddenly everything went white, a glaring white, brighter than anything that I had ever before experienced," states T. Sgt. Robert Fitzhugh in a letter to his family here, giving a graphic description of the historic trial shot of the atomic bomb which has since put great fear in the minds of Japanese government officials and people according to the surrender message from Emperor Hirohito.

Following the release by the government of information about the world revolutionizing discovery, Sergeant Fitzhugh divulges that he has been employed for months as an engineer in the various government plants devoted to developing the atomic bomb. Knowing Sergeant Fitzhugh's great interest from childhood in science, friends will be pleased that he has been privileged to take part in this work, the outcome of which has been the dream of scientists since the days of ancient alchemy.

Excerpts from the sergeant's letter referring to the atomic bomb read as follows:

"By the time this reaches you, you will be quite saturated with the big news." However, there are still strict security regulations here and I will say no more than what was officially released to the papers and news broadcasts.

"I won't waste any more space giving details about what you have already read, except one thing which I was fortunate enough to witness. That was the world's first man-made atomic explosion that took place a few weeks ago in a desert south of here. I had a grandstand view from the top of a mountain 20 miles away from where the world's first atomic bomb was fired.

"With a flashlight, another fellow and I climbed the mountain at 3:30 a. m. to see the event at 5:30 a. m. Just as it was getting light, it was fired. Due to confused warning signals, I wasn't expecting it, but fortunately I was standing with my back turned, so I wasn't looking at it. (Turn to No. 4, Back Page)

Former Tawas City Woman Dies Here

Mrs. F. C. Hamer Funeral Here Sunday

Mrs. Franklin C. Hamer passed away early Thursday morning at Mercy Hospital, Bay City, where she had gone Monday afternoon for a few days treatment. Mrs. Hamer came here from her home in Lincoln, Nebraska, for a visit with her father, Benjamin Sawyer, and other relatives in the city last week.

Minna L. Sawyer was born March 19, 1883, at Tawas City, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sawyer, well known residents of this city. Married to Franklin C. Hamer of Lincoln, Nebraska, in 1915, she had been a resident of that city since that time.

She is survived by the husband, Franklin C. Hamer; the father, Benjamin Sawyer, three sisters, Mrs. William Radloff of Detroit, Mrs. Edward Schanbeck of East Tawas and Mrs. Percy N. Thornton of Tawas City, and two brothers, Grover B. Sawyer of San Francisco, California, and Nelson Sawyer of San Diego, California.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Amelia Johanna Strauer, who passed away one year ago today, August 17, 1944.

Dearest mother, how we miss you. Since from this earth you passed away. Our hearts are still aching for you. As we think of you today.

Her Children.

EAST TAWAS

Mrs. Effie Daley is spending the week with her daughter in Lansing.

Gene Nash of Bay City is visiting East Tawas relatives and friends for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Hendersholt of Flint were week end guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Harvey Watson. (The group spent the week end at the Watson cottage near Glennie.)

Miss Betty Simpson of Detroit is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Bergevin for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Humphrey and daughter, Mrs. William Harsch of Hale spent the week end with Mrs. Thos. White and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Murphy visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Cora Sheldon, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hawkins of Flint were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Watson a couple of days this week.

Miss Dorothy White visited Miss June Gurley in Alpena several days last week. On Sunday they went on a trip to Mackinaw Island, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gurley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Carpenter and daughter, Miss Margaret Ballard have returned to her home in Flint, after spending a week with East Tawas friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Vaughn (Eunice Pollard) and daughter of Kalamazoo are spending two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pollard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowen and family of Inkster are visiting Mrs. Alvin Stonehouse this week.

Several members of the local WSCS attended the annual Summer Education Seminar of the Saginaw district WSCS held in Saginaw at the Ames Church on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight of Detroit are spending a few days at their home.

Merrill Pollard of Buffalo is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pollard. His wife and two sons, who have been here for several weeks, will return home Friday.

Mrs. Nina May and Mrs. Hetty Calder are home from Mt. Pleasant, where they attended summer term at Central State college. Mrs. May will teach the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades in the Auburn school the coming year.

Mrs. Harris Barkman has had as her guests the past two weeks, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Scheeter, and her sister, Mrs. N. Goldstein and daughters, Martha and Wilma, all of Flint.

Guests in the C. J. Creaser home include Miss Phyllis Creaser of Fort Wayne, Miss Elizabeth Delroy of Chicago and Miss Betty Delroy of Detroit.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Ausbury and family have moved here from Clio. Rev. Ausbury is the new pastor at the Assembly of God Church.

Mrs. Martha Daugherty of Ann Arbor has returned home after spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Alvin Stonehouse.

Miss Betty Winn is spending a couple of weeks with friends at Glennie.

Mrs. O. W. Rowley entertained at a six o'clock dinner on August 8 in honor of Miss Jessie Milne of Saginaw and Mrs. Granger of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moffatt and family were called to Sheridan by the serious illness of Mr. Moffatt's father. They were accompanied by Mrs. Francis Zuber, who remained at Vestaburg for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dillon and family of Detroit have spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Earl McElleron.

Vesper services were held at St. Joseph's church Wednesday eve in recognition of Peace Day.

Mrs. Lula Hult of Chicago is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Oliver.

Billie Krueger had the misfortune to fracture both bones of his right arm, the first of the week.

BRITISH LABOR PERSONALITIES
 Britain's Labor party which swept Churchill out of office is a strange mixture, resembles the liberal branch of the Democratic party more than any Socialist movement. It has its liberal and its conservative wings, has had no labor troubles similar to ours during the past decade.

Clement Attlee, Britain's new prime minister, is a poor man. He was little known among the fashionable people of England until 1935 when his salary was raised to 2,000 pounds a year. . . . After getting this pay boost, Mrs. Attlee was able to venture into society for the first time, was able to start playing golf, hire enough help to keep her home going. . . . Attlee likes to putter in his garden, do odd jobs around the house, constantly puffs a pipe, is a sharp contrast to fiery, charming Ramsey MacDonald, England's last Labor prime minister. . . . Attlee is no forthright leader, is considered more of an impartial middle man, will have all he can do to keep peace within his own widely split party.

Attlee's greatest rivals for power inside the party are paunchy, jovial Herbert Morrison and hard-headed, deep-voiced, testy Ernest Bevin. . . . Morrison lost his right eye when he was three days old, has had a "leftish" outlook ever since. . . . Morrison has played runner-up to Attlee in many elections, carries on constant behind-the-scenes warfare with Bevin. . . . Bevin had the same war job which Sidney Hillman took over in the OPM after Pearl Harbor—handling labor relations. However, Bevin made a better go of it, fought grimly and successfully for better rations for workers. . . . Morrison is a cockney, has a spry sense of humor, likes to dance, is head of the Labor party in politically potent London. He is also a man of daring, had the ancient tradition-encrusted Waterloo bridge torn down because he found it unserviceable, afterward had traffic rolling more smoothly through the center of London. . . . Morrison is a hard ruler.

Bevin—Union Boss.
 Ernie Bevin is a hard-headed union boss. . . . He hates dictatorships but is a dictator in his own union, the giant transport workers. . . . Bevin runs his own union like John L. Lewis runs the mine workers. . . . Outside his union, however, Bevin's labor practices are more like those of Sidney Hillman and Phillip Murray. . . . He believes in negotiation rather than strikes. Bevin took a bad trouncing from Winston Churchill in 1928, has never forgiven the ex-prime minister. It was Bevin who called the 1928 general strike in England, a strike which Churchill dealt a shattering blow. . . . Bevin is a forthright anti-Fascist, was against Hitler, Mussolini and the Cliveden set from their inception, was responsible for the tough-minded position his party took internationally from 1933 to the outbreak of war. . . . As leader of the transport workers, Bevin controls considerable of the Labor party, is rough on his enemies, gruff with his friends, losses his patience frequently.

To get feminine support, the new labor government will lean heavily on a red-headed fiery labor M.P., Ellen Wilkinson. . . . Miss Wilkinson is at home in a fight, knows the world, has contempt for Britain's colonial policies, is a scrapper from the word go. . . . She knows about riots and bloodshed first hand, was in the thick of the black and tan trouble in Ireland, even led hunger marchers on London during the depression. . . . Miss Wilkinson lives in the Bohemian Bloomsbury section of London surrounded by poets, painters, actors and writers; has persuaded many of them to pitch into labor's fight. . . . Blunt and forthright, Miss Wilkinson was the first member of parliament to defend King Edward's marrying American-born Wallis Simpson. . . . In one speech she said, "We say that if a woman is good enough to be a man's wife, she is good enough to take her side by him as his equal in whatever rank of life intended."

Another powerful figure in the new Attlee government will be tall, sparse hard-headed Arthur Greenwood, recently minister of postwar reconstruction. . . . Greenwood was responsible for what little slum clearance the MacDonald government undertook. . . . A member of Churchill's cabinet, Greenwood never was known as a radical or a great liberal, is a seasoned bureaucrat, knows his way around government, is an able talker.

CAPITAL CHAFF
 Nelson Rockefeller recently asked for an appointment with Cordell Hull, but Hull refused to see him. Hull is a bitter-ender regarding Argentina, and it was Rockefeller who largely paved the way for Argentine recognition.
 Mrs. "Hope Diamond" McLean, mother-in-law of Sen. Bob Reynolds whom the Scripps Howard papers have been exposing, is making a play for new members of the Truman cabinet. Some of them have been inveigled into her drawing room.

Musical Shows Most Popular Films in Marine Camps, But They Like Any Movie That Has Plenty of Girls in It

Leathernecks Don't Like 'Flag Wavers' or Second Rate Westerns

Entertainment values have changed but little for marines in the three years since Guadalcanal. Leathernecks still prefer movies—usually because there is nothing else to "prefer," according to Sgt. Bill Ross, marine corps combat correspondent.
 "Movies are better now than they were in the 'old days' and we get them from the states a lot faster," said Marine Lt. Everett G. Force of Valdosta, Ga., motion picture officer of the 3rd marine division.
 The men, however, still want much the same type of movies as when the scope of marine offensive operations in the Pacific was limited to the Solomon islands, according to the lieutenant.

Survey Shows Preferences.
 A survey of the Leathernecks of the 3rd division, upon their return from the conquest of Iwo Jima, revealed the following preferences in types of movies:

- First: Musicals (with girls).
  - Second: Comedies (with girls).
  - Third: Mysteries (with girls).
  - Fourth: Dramas (with girls).
- Definitely on top of the "not wanted" list of films are war pictures. The men who fought on Bougainville, Guam and Iwo Jima don't even bother to explain why they'd almost rather sit through a mortar barrage than a "flag-waver," as they call war movies. Out-of-date newsreels, according to Lieutenant Force, also "are strictly from hunger." And second-rate "quickie" westerns are shunned like a Japanese ambush.

Behind the showing of movies in the Pacific is one of the untold stories of the Pacific war. To get the films from the movie lots of Hollywood to the fighting fronts is, in itself, a vast and complex job.
Film During Iwo Fighting.
 An example of the speed with which pictures are handled can be found in the fact that the movie "Saratoga Trunk" was shown on Iwo Jima while savage fighting was in progress, and before the film had been exhibited in any but the key cities back home.

Prints of movies shown to marines are bought by a special section of the navy department in San Francisco and New York. All film is flown overseas and from 25 to 30 new pictures—virtually all of Hollywood's output—are received in the war zones each month.
 "Of course we get 'stinkies' now and then," said a marine private, a projectionist who used to manage a chain of six theaters in Texas and Louisiana, "but we used to get them more often."
 Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hold top rank with the men of the 3rd marine division—in any movie, old or new, Betty Grable, Judy Garland and Gene Tierney are prime feminine favorites.

Like Re-Issues of Hits.
 Technicolor movies really hit the spot, and when it's a musical in color, "Mac, it's right on," says more than one marine. Curiously enough, Leathernecks don't mind re-issues of outstanding hit pictures of former years. "It Happened One Night," "Lost Horizon," "100 Men

'You'd Die Laughing' Proves to Be No Joke
 PRINCE RUPERT, B. C.—A coroner's jury decided that a hearty laugh over a dinner table joke led to the death of Charles Biehl, 60. "Biehl's stomach was filled with food and created a pressure on his heart, which caused it to stop beating when he leaned forward during his laugh," the coroner testified.

Movie Preference IN THE PACIFIC...

SURVEY OF 30 DIVISION LEATHERNECKS REVEALS PREFERENCE OF MOVIES:
 1. MUSICALS
 2. COMEDIES
 3. MYSTERIES
 4. DRAMAS (WITH GALS)

THESE ARE THE PRIME FAVORITES OF THE SCREEN AMONG MEN OF THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION.

SECOND RATE 'QUICKIE' WESTERNS AND 'FLAG WEVERS' ARE SHUNNED LIKE A JAPANESE AMBUSH.

IMPROVED SEATS AND TROPICAL RAINS DO NOT DISCOURAGE PACIFIC MOVIE-GOERS.

and a Girl," and similar top-notch films are in great demand.

"We've learned a lot of knacks that make outdoor sound better, and the pictures, too," Lieutenant Force explained. Regular periods of examination and repair on projectors and sound equipment, he said, virtually has eliminated breakdowns while films are being shown.
 Now and then the outdoor cinemas give way momentarily to "live" productions: USO shows and home-talent affairs. But, by and large, entertainment in the vast reaches of the Pacific still comes from movies.

Sit Through Rain-Storms.
 Each evening, seven nights a week, you'll see marines—with improvised chairs in hand—head for their respective movie areas. They sit through tropical rain-storms to see movies. They sit on empty oil-drums to see them. They sit in coconut groves and on hillsides where fierce fighting raged in the recent past.

"I was a once-a-week movie-goer before the war," said Pvt. Raymond J. O'Brien of Shreveport, La., "but now I'm an 'every-niter.'"
 And the funny part about it is that Marine O'Brien, like most of the other Leathernecks, won't think of going to a movie for at least six months when he returns to the states.
 "Then I'll be a twice-a-week man," he said.

Giant Electric Shovel Can Scoop Up Freight Carload

Some of the most powerful electric equipment ever designed for mining purposes is being manufactured for use at the new open pit coal mine near Jasonville, Ind. When completed, it will be installed in one of the world's largest mining machines, a 25-cubic-yard dragline. According to engineers, this dragline will be so mammoth that, if it were placed atop a 12-story building, it could dig at ground level and could pick up in one scoop a load that would fill a freight car.
 Weight of the huge mining machine will be 2,410,000 pounds. In operation it will be able to step off 7½ feet at one stride, zig-zag between working locations, sidestep at any angle and travel over soft and irregular ground. Direction may be changed simply by swinging the machine's revolving frame. Without advancing its base it will be able to dump a load a block away.
 Totalling the equivalent of approximately 700 horsepower, the electric equipment under construction includes the latest type of amplydne control, as well as two large motor-generator sets. Installed, it will make possible open-cut mining at the unusual depth of 40 to 70 feet.

Open-pit operations at the Indiana mine employing the machine are expected to begin about September 1. To be known as the Linton mine, number 28, it will have a monthly capacity of 60,000 tons of bituminous coal.

'Alligator Pears' Now Important Food Crop

Avocados were virtually unknown in the markets of the United States 50 years ago. The few people who grew them in Florida and California called them "alligator pears." But down in the tropics of South America, the Indians had been growing avocados in their gardens before the days of Columbus. They often took the place of meat and bread because of their rich nutritive values.

Some time in the last century the avocado (Persea Americana) was brought into southern Florida from Cuba and into southern California from Mexico. The Californians sent horticultural explorers to the great avocado-producing centers of Mexico. They discovered an excellent sort which was named "Puerto" because it was such a strong grower. The department of agriculture kept a plant explorer traveling from Mexico to Chile for the better part of 10 years hunting for avocados which might extend the ripening season in the United States or otherwise contribute to the success of the new industry.

 RECORD-BREAKING PARTY

No, you don't go around smashing your favorite King Cole trio disc. (And don't you drool for "Gee, Baby, Ain't I Good to You?") But you DO break records for party giving when you carry out this brand new idea.

The Invitation—Fold some black paper in half and cut out a circle, about five inches in diameter. Don't cut the circles apart. Leave enough on one side so that you can open the two circles, like a little book. Paste a little white disc in the center of the invitation written in white ink. Be sure to tell every guest to bring the invitation to the party.

The Mixer—If you've invited 20 guests—10 boys and 10 girls—you should have 10 records on a table where everyone can see them. The titles correspond to those on the invitations. Boys and girls match up their titles to correspond to the records. For instance, the boy who has "Drinking Rum and Coca Cola," pairs off with the girl who has "One Meat Ball."

Elimination Dance—Play bits of the different records for the first elimination dance. Couples are eliminated as either of their songs are played. Take it from there!

BLUES IN THE NIGHT
 I dreamed that I was singing
 With our high school band,
 When Harry James rushed up to Shake me by the hand.
 "Who's Dinah Shore?" he shouted,
 "Grable—who is she?
 Compared to you they're slipping—
 "Come and sing with me!"

G.I. SLANGUAGE
 Blue Mouse—Chisel, goldbrick-er.

Bounce the Beam—Sharpen up.
 Efficiency Report—Letter to his best gal.

Grasshopper—One who "jumps" camp nightly.
 Long Halt—Ten day furlough.
 Short Halt—Overnight pass.
 Sneezing Patrol—Draftees (caught in the draft, see?)
 Baffle Painting—Camouflage.
 On the Peg—Under arrest.

TRIXIE TEEN SAYS—
 Have you given any thought to what you want to be when you grow up? Or have you shied away from the problem completely because you thought you had plenty of time, and anyway, you wanted to go to the movies or something? It's your problem, not Mr. Anthony's, so you'd better face it now. What are your interests, what are your talents, what are your opportunities? It's as clear-cut as mathematics, but you have to do your figuring far in advance to have the right answer ready when you need it.

Pastures Require Renewal Regularly

Depletion Is Rapid If Fertilizer Missing

Farmers who used to let their pastures "shift for themselves" while they concentrated their time and attention on increasing the yield and quality of field crops, have learned that pasture improvement is now a "must," according to Paul M. Burson of the University of Minnesota.
 "Nature did not provide the soil with an inexhaustible supply of plant foods which could be drawn upon indefinitely by pasture crops," Mr. Burson pointed out. "Year after year, nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime have been removed from the soil by the animals grazing the pastures and marketed in the form of livestock and livestock products. As a result, many pastures which were once productive have become so depleted in plant food that they are no longer able to support a vigorous growth of pasture crops."

"An average herd of dairy cows producing around 4,000 pounds of milk annually, will remove the equivalent of 26½ tons of 20 per cent ammonium sulphate, 9½ tons of 20 per cent superphosphate, 4½ tons of 50 per cent muriate of potash and 3 tons of lime from the soil over a period of 30 years.

A renewed pasture lot.

"This reduction in fertility represents plant foods sold away from the farm in the milk produced by the dairy cows. It does not include the amount used in building up the body of the animal which is also eventually sold, nor that lost from the manure and the soil in leaching and possible soil erosion. This depletion of plant nutrients results in less vigorous growth of forage, lower carrying capacity, lower feeding value and a shortened grazing season."

"Pastures, whether they are permanent or rotation, should receive the same soil fertility practices as land used for regular production of field crops. The success of such a program depends on proper planning for the pasture fertilizing program. This may include the use of barnyard manure or commercial fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash."

Grain Bag Holder

Four pieces 1 by 2 by 36 inches and eight pieces 1 by 2 by 18 inches are required. Nail the short pieces to the long pieces as shown. Use hooks or nails driven into the top short pieces to hold the bag in the holder.

Can't Judge Milk Cow

By Size of Its Veins

The old notion that a high-producing cow can be judged by the number and size of veins showing on the surface of her udder, and those running along her belly, has been tossed out the window by dairy specialists. They have checked on that notion and found there is no significant relation between the size and number of veins and the cow's milk-producing ability.
 Keeping financial and production records, having a sound breeding program, practicing disease control, feeding high quality roughage and by practicing modern management methods, higher milk production can be secured. Ability to produce milk is inherited and the volume can be raised considerably by proper herd improvement methods.

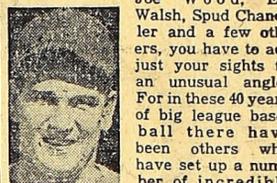

Damp litter is not dirty litter if it is 6 to 8 inches deep. Worry more about your ventilation than about the litter—but both are important.

Sulphur Fed Chicks

Tests conducted at Texas state experiment station showed that chicks fed sulphur for the control of coccidiosis, away from the sunlight require four times as much vitamin D carrier as chicks fed no sulphur. On the other hand, chicks fed sulphur did well if allowed two hours of direct noon-day sunlight distributed over a week's time. The feeding of sulphur to chicks running in the sunlight did not make it necessary to add vitamins to feed.

DAVE FERRISS, the Merlin of the mound, the ex-airman with the Boston Red Sox, is now after big game, meaning the star pitching records of the last 40 years. When you are levelling with dead aim on such past stars as Lefty Grove, Christy Mathewson, Carl Hubbell, Grover Alexander, Smokey Joe Wood, Ed Walsh, Spud Chandler and a few others, you have to adjust your sights to an unusual angle.

Dave Ferriss face, or figure to figure.

Here are just a few among those who have won more than 20 games in any given season:

- Robert Moses Grove, Athletics, 1931: Won 31, lost 4, pct. .886.
- Smokey Joe Wood, Red Sox, 1912: Won 34, lost 5, pct. .872.
- Lefty Gomez, Yankees, 1935: Won 26, lost 5, pct. .839.
- Walter Johnson, Senators, 1913: Won 36, lost 7, pct. .837.
- Spud Chandler, Yankees, 1943: Won 20, lost 4, pct. .833.
- Carl Hubbell, Giants, 1936: Won 26, lost 6, pct. .813.
- Dizzy Dean, Cardinals, 1935: Won 30, lost 7, pct. .811.
- Eddie Cicotte, White Sox, 1919: Won 29, lost 7, pct. .806.
- Christy Mathewson, Giants, 1909: Won 25, lost 6, pct. .806.

The above are the high-ranking percentage records since 1904. Ed Walsh won 40 and lost 15 in 1908 for .727. Alexander won 31 and lost 10 in 1915 for .756. Bob Feller's best year was 1939 when he won 24 and lost 9 for .727.

Quite a Target

It is Lefty Grove's record mark, set in 1931, that now becomes the main Ferriss target. Here's quite a target, no matter how keen a sharpshooter you may happen to be—WON 31, LOST 4—PCT. .886. Only Smokey Joe Wood of the Red Sox in 1912 has even approached these miracle figures and Joe was 14 points away at .872, which is no part of a bust or a flop.

To beat Lefty Grove's 1931 mark, Ferriss will have to win 31 games and drop only 3. This means that Miracle Dave will have to win 14 out of his next 15 starts. You will have to admit this is quite an order.
 This reminds us that Lefty Grove, the silent mountaineer, had the 6 greatest consecutive years any pitcher has ever known: 750 in 1928—769 in 1929—848 in 1930—886 in 1931—714 in 1932 and 750 in 1933. In 1930 and 1931, Lefty won 59 games and lost only 9. Try and match that combination for something over .870 for two straight seasons.

There are those perennial pessimists, who live in ancient history as they stroke their mossy beards, who have this to say:

"This is a soft year for pitchers. They are only facing a bunch of minor leaguers, most of them 'class B and class C. This is an off year. It shouldn't count."

But wait just a few seconds. Why aren't the rest of the pitchers mopping up as Ferriss is? Newhouse of the Tigers is one of the best from many seasons, but though working for a much better ball club he hasn't been able to follow the Ferriss pace.

No Real Support

And looking back to Grove's big year, has Ferriss another Jimmy Foxx or another Al Simmons battling in runs for his side? Simmons hit .390 that season and Jimmy Foxx hammered 30 home runs over the wall. And there were others. Connie Mack had a world series team that year, back in 1931. Don't forget that Grove drew far better defensive and offensive support than the 1945 Red Sox can offer.
 Without Ferriss, the Red Sox would be in seventh place, badly outclassed by every team in the American League except the Athletics. Leave out the Ferriss record and the Red Sox would have only 25 victories against the 42 they held after Sunday's list.

Don't forget again that Lefty Grove and Joe Wood were working with two pennant winning, two world series teams, while Ferriss has been pitching for a team that without him would be next to last among a lot of bad ball clubs. His infield and outfield support has been nothing to compare with the support Grove and Woods knew in other and better years.

Football's Coming Boom

"This will be the greatest war season football has known," remarked Steve Owen, coach of the New York Giants. "I am not referring alone to the pro game. I am also speaking for the colleges. We have been getting in a number of reports lately from our scouts. I've heard from a number of college coaches and they tell me their material will be much better than it was a year ago. They won't be beating Army or Navy but they will still be good."

Postwar Streamlined Cargo-Handling Plane

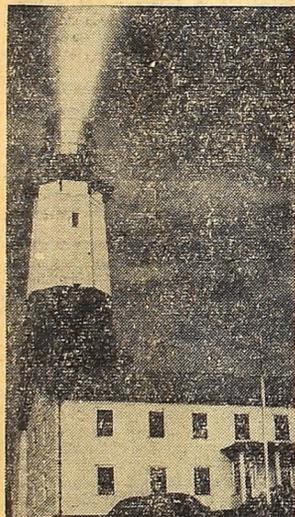

A streamlined cargo-handling system has been devised for speeding vitally needed supplies to the Pacific war front via the 72½-ton Mars Transports. It is the first ever planned for a fleet of large flying ships operating on extended overwater routes. The system has proven so successful that its use during postwar era is assured. These and similar planes will be fitted to carry on large operations on future global routes.

Jap 'Ersatz' Merchant Fleet Takes a Beating

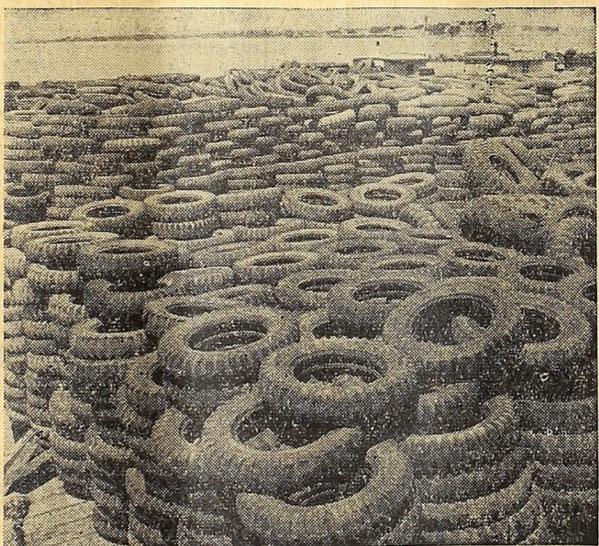

The harbor at Hachinohe, in the Jap home island of Honshu, is no safe harbor for these "ersatz" wooden jugglers of the dwindling Jap merchant fleet. Hastily and crudely built to replace better ships sunk by the Americans, these ugly ducklings of the sea soon join their better predecessors at the bottom of the sea—urged on their way by guns and bombs of carrier-based aircraft of the mighty U. S. Third fleet.

Light Comes on Again

Blacked out since Pearl Harbor, the 300,000-candlepower beacon at Montauk Point, Long Island, is shining again with its prewar brilliance. One of America's first lighthouses, it was established in 1799 and is one of thousand aids to navigation.

Tires to Aid Civilian Needs

Here is one of the huge shipments of rubber tires which arrived from Europe, where they were used on U. S. army vehicles throughout the war area. They were unloaded at Fort Totten, N. Y., where they were inspected and classified by the army. Some will be kept in army service, but many turned over for disposal to civilian purchasers.

I
1.—Oh, see the egg! Is it a fresh egg?
2.—Yes, but you mustn't be too particular these days.
3.—Which came first, the chicken or the egg?
4.—That no longer matters. The point to bear in mind today is that the customer comes last.

II
1.—Who is this?
2.—It is Jennie. Jennie is a housewife. Jennie is carrying a basket.
3.—What is that in Jennie's basket?
4.—A revolver, a letter from her senator, some credentials from her minister, a coil of rope, a map, a megaphone and a large bundle of money.
5.—Where is Jennie going?
6.—Jennie is going to try to get some eggs.
7.—Will she get some bacon, too?
8.—Don't be redick.

III
1.—Oh, see the egg! It is not like the egg in Chapter I.
2.—No. The egg has been polished, taken to market, card indexed, graded, stamped and given wound stripes.
3.—How does an egg get wound stripes?
4.—If you had to go through the wars that an egg has to go through in getting from the farm to the consumer you would have wound stripes.

IV
1.—Jennie is looking at the egg, isn't she?
2.—There are 67 people ahead of her, though.
3.—Will Jennie get the egg?
4.—No.

V
1.—Where is Jennie going now?
2.—She has left the store. She is going to a bingo party.
3.—Why?
4.—The door prize is one egg.
5.—Will she have a better chance to get the egg there?
6.—It won't be any worse.

VI
1.—Who is this?
2.—This is a maker of adages. He is author of the adage "Never place all your eggs in one basket."
3.—What is he doing?
4.—He is changing the adage to read: "Never use a basket to get negative answers."

The Pullman company announces that after the war the old fashioned diner will largely disappear, to be replaced by a hot and cold buffet, or "Smorgasbord" car. Huge platters of "tempting dishes"—foods will be piled on a center table, from which the passengers will take their choice. The old cry "Last call for dinner" will disappear. This is okay with us, although we doubt that the railroads have even a remote idea what constitutes "tempting dishes."

Nothing in the general record to date so indicates. If anything on the diners today is tempting, we will eat the flagman's lantern, without mustard. Of course the war is largely responsible, but in peace days we never once heard anybody leave a dining car exclaiming "Boy, wasn't that dinner a knockout!"

A Harvard board has decided that the present educational system there, in most colleges and in high schools is pretty defective. It must make a university blush to find that it has been teaching the wrong stuff for over 100 years.

The board says Harvard has been educating the boys in specialties and neglecting the all-around general education necessary to develop the intelligent and sound citizens.

Even Then the Farmer's Wife Was Nameless

Having accumulated a tidy little nest-egg, the old farmer went to a lawyer and said he would like to make a will.

"I'll leave all my money, house and stock to my good wife," he said, "so just you write it out plain for me."

"Certainly," said the lawyer. "What is your wife's name?"

After thinking for some minutes the farmer had to admit he couldn't remember it.

"Well, go to the door and shout upstairs as if you were calling her down," suggested the lawyer.

Hobbling to the door, the farmer opened it and roared up the stairs: "Missus! Missus! Missus!"

- 40% LONGER TREAD LIFE
- 14% STRONGER CORD BODY
- UP TO 16% MORE DRAWBAR PULL

GOOD tractor tires do two things. They get every ounce of pulling power from your tractor. They stay on the job. That's why Firestone Ground Grips are best on every job... under all conditions.

There are sound reasons for this. Cord bodies are 14% stronger... able to withstand hard knocks. Tread life is 40% longer... capable of giving years of extra service.

Firestone Ground Grips increase pull at the drawbar by as much as 16%. That's because traction bars are connected, adding up to 215 inches of traction bar length per tractor. Also, there are no broken-bar, trash-catching pockets.

The strong, sturdy bars are always clean... ready to take the next deep, forceful traction step. That's why it is just sound economy, when buying tractor tires, to demand Ground Grips, made by Firestone, the pioneer and pacemaker.

TOWN AND FARM WOMEN BEATING CITY FOLKS AT FAT SAVING

Our government knows that city women have done an outstanding job saving used fats—but, now that you town and farm women have rolled up your sleeves, you are providing more used fats per kitchen than any other group in the U. S. Keep it up! 100,000,000 more pounds of used fats are needed this year to help make vital war supplies. Without your record savings, we'll never make that quota.

Save every drop! Remember, it's the small amounts that fill the salvage can faster. Drippings, skimmings, scrapings, and fat scraps melted down. Your butcher will give you 2 red points and up to 4¢ a pound. If you have any difficulty, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent. Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

A Bell for Adano

By John Hersey

W. N. U. FEATURES

THE STORY THUS FAR: The American troops arrived in Adano, with Major Joppolo, the Amgot officer in charge. Sergeant Borth was in charge of security. The Major was determined to hold the confidence of the people and to replace their bell stolen by the Nazis. Despite orders issued by General Marvin, barring carts from the city, Major Joppolo recalled the order, to permit food and water to enter the city. M. Cacopardo asked permission from the Major to see General Marvin and give him information on German troop movements. When he arrived the General refused to listen to him and had Cacopardo tossed out. The general immediately recalled Major Joppolo's name.

CHAPTER XIV

"I don't know whether he has been captured or killed or what. That is the bad part. That is why I wanted to talk with you, Mister Major. Giorgio and I were going to be married."

"Well, what do you want me to do?"

"Can you find out for me whether he is a prisoner, Mister Major?"

"What do you expect me to do, go through all our prison camps and ask all the men if they are the sweetheart of Tina in Adano?"

"You must have some lists, don't you?"

"That is none of my business. I am civil affairs officer of Adano."

"Please help me, Mister Major. Not knowing is worse than having him dead."

"A hundred people come in my office every day asking me this. I tell you it is none of my business. The war is still going on, can't you understand that? We have a campaign to fight. We can't just stop in the middle of battle and open up a question-and-answer service for forlorn lovers."

"Oh don't, Mister Major, don't. You had been so nice to me. I thought—"

"Is this why you were cordial to me? Is this why you sent your father to invite me to your house? So that I could track down your lover?" Major Joppolo stood up. "I'm sorry that you have a mistaken idea of how I work. If you have business to do with me, do not invite me to your home and feed me candy. Come to my office. I will give you equal treatment with all the others."

And he turned and went into the living room, where Captain Purvis was shaping a heart with his two thumbs and forefingers and then pointing first at himself, then at Francesca.

"I'm going home, Captain."

"What for?"

"Oh, I'm fed up with this, I'm going home."

"Well, you'll excuse me if I don't come. I never thought I'd ever get anywhere talking with my fingers, but this isn't bad. See you tomorrow, Major."

It is very rare for an M.P. to drink anything, even vino, to excess, but Corporal Chuck Schultz was a rare M.P. His two friends, Bill and Polack, were in the Engineer Battalion which was working around Adano. They were billeted in the same house with Chuck and some other M.P.'s.

Chuck and Bill and Polack did not drink vino in order to savor it on their tongues. They did not drink it to compare it with other wines which they had had on other occasions. They did not drink it to complement food. They drank it to get drunk.

Therefore it was not surprising that on the night when they bought three bottles for three dollars, they began quite early in the evening to tell dirty jokes, then sang some songs, then argued a little, then got restless and decided to go for a walk. Nor was it surprising that the walk was rather noisy. It was really not surprising, either, that when they found that their walk was not taking them anywhere except round and round the same block, they should have decided to go back to their billet. This was not surprising, but it was the thing which got them in trouble.

If they had stayed in their billet and not gone for a walk, they would have been all right. So would they if they had not gone home to their billet so soon, but had walked until their drunkenness dulled their vision and blurred their keenness. But doing what they did got them in trouble.

Here is why:

On the way home, Chuck Schultz said: "Hell of a war."

Polack said: "Smatter, Chuck, you gonna get sick again?"

Chuck said: "Oh, no, I feel good. It's jus' hell of a war."

Polack said: "Prove it."

Bill said, for the nineteenth time that night: "Uno due tre quattro cinque."

Polack said: "Shup, Bill. Prove it's hell of a war, Chuck."

Chuck said: "Major?"

Polack said: "Major who?"

Chuck said: "You know the fella, Town Hall fella."

Polack said: "Oh, he's wonderful fella."

Chuck said: "He's bes' fella whole invasion."

Polack said: "Oh, he's better'n that. He's perfect."

Chuck said: "No, he ain't perfect. He don't drink. But he's good. Oh, he's good's hell. These wops, they think he's perfect. He's bes' thing ever happened to this town."

Polack said: "What's 'at prove? Prove it's hell of a war. Don't change a subject."

Bill said: "Una due tre una due tre."

Chuck said: "Shut up your counting, Bill. I'll prove it's hell of a war. It's all 'cause of the Major."

Polack said: "How's he prove anything if he don't drink?"

Chuck said: "Here's how he proves everything. He's bes' thing ever happened to this town, but he's gonna get kicked. Now is that any kind of a war?"

Polack said: "Who's gonna kick him? Show me the stiff who's gonna kick him."

Chuck said: "General Marvin's gonna kick him, that's who!"

Polack said: "Oh, he kicks everybody, I don't see nothin' special about that."

Chuck said: "Yeah, but look, Polack, here you got a guy who's best thing ever happened to this town, I mean he understands these people, ent, it's got to be good, if it's for him."

Polack said: "It was Bill's idea. What'll we give him, Bill?"

Bill said grandly: "Uno due tre quattro cinque."

Chuck said: "He's no good, him and his numbers. We got to think of something, Polack, we got to."

Polack said: "Let's go back and get those bottles. Maybe they'd help us think of something."

Chuck said: "That's hard, to think of somethin' good enough for that Major."

Polack said: "I can think of a lot of things, but not a one of 'em is good enough. The trouble with that Major is he's too good. Now you give me a lousy Major, and I'd have you a present in no time."

Chuck said: "It's a hell of a war when you can't even think of a goin'-away present for a good guy."

Polack said: "Say! I just thought of somethin' terrible. Are you sure this Major's goin' away?"

Chuck said: "Didn't I see that slip of paper?"

Polack said: "That's right. Shall we give him a bottle of ol' lady Fatta's wine?"

Chuck said: "Polack, you know that's not good enough."

Chuck said: "Polack, I think you're drunk. What's the matter with you?"

Bill said: "One, two, three, four, five. Why don't you borrow something from ol' Four Eyes here to give the Major? You'd find a real nice goin'-away present right here in this house if you just got up and looked for it."

Chuck said: "Bill, why don't you have more ideas? You got the best ideas when you have 'em."

Polack said: "Yeah, good idea, let's borrow something."

Chuck said: "Bill, you don't even know how good your ideas are when you have 'em. Look: this Major, he's Italian himself, speaks it like a native. He sure is gonna appreciate something Italian from ol' Four Eyes' house. Boy, Bill, I don't know why you aren't a millionaire with the ideas you got."

Bill said: "Una and tre is quattro. Due and tre is cinque. I can even add."

Chuck said: "Let's go an' find something fore we pass out."

Polack said: "Lookit that room, like a Gran' Central Station. There's a lot of Eyetalian junk in there."

Chuck said: "Let's have look."

Polack said: "Why'n we give'm a chair?"

Chuck said: "Good idea. Take the shroud off'n a chair, give 'im a chair."

Chuck and Polack skated across the floor to a chair. They bent over it to take the slip cover off. Their fumbling hands could not find where to loosen the cover.

"Lif it up," Chuck suggested. "Look at it from underneath."

So they lifted the chair above their heads. Polack reeled. Chuck lost his grip. The chair crashed to the floor, and a leg broke off. Bill picked the leg up.

Chuck said: "Too much trouble, lousy chair."

Polack spotted a terra cotta bust standing on a marble pillar-like stand in one corner. "Who's 'at?"

Bill said, as if positive: "Garibaldi."

Polack said: "Le's give'm a Garibaldi." And he went over to the corner, lifted the bust off the pillar, started uncertainly back toward the others, lost his balance, and dropped the bust. It broke into hundreds of pieces.

Polack looked over the mantel at a painting of a fat nude. She was lovely in his wine-washed eyes, and he said: "Give'm a woman. A Major needs a woman."

So the three worked together to get the painting down. They balanced themselves on chairs and grunted and all lifted on the bottom edge of the painting. They managed to lift it off its hook, but they could not keep it balanced. The picture fell, and its canvas hit the back of a chair, and the fat woman was ripped from flank to flank.

Polack said: "Le's go in 'nother room."

They went into a dining room. In one corner there was a big glass-fronted cabinet containing Venetian glassware on shelves. "Give 'im somethin' to drink out of," Chuck said.

He tried the door of the cabinet, but it was locked. "Bill," he said, "open this thing up. Don't just stan' there with that club. Open up."

Polack said: "Case of 'emergency, break glass an' pull lever."

Bill stepped up and poised the chair leg. "Una, due, tre," he said, and on three he let go. The glass front shattered to the floor. The three boys staggered forward to choose a gift. First they dropped a bowl. Then they dropped a glass swan. Then they dropped a big goblet. Then they knocked the whole cabinet over and broke everything.

The three men went from room to room this way, leaving a trail of ruin behind them. Their disappointment grew as they saw their chances dwindling of getting anything good enough (or durable enough) for the Major.

Finally Chuck said: "Hell of a war, when you can't even find a present in ol' Four Eyes' house."

Wide Call for Hostess Gowns And Housecoats in Gay Prints

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

DEPEND upon it, the happy possessor of a charming housecoat fashioned of gay and beguiling everglaze chintz, as illustrated to the left, will find it a source of joy and comfort the whole summer through, and on into mellow autumn days.

Now's the time that the lightweight houserobe gives real service. Ideal it is for betwixt and between season wear, and it will continue to carry on triumphantly way up to when the new crop of luxuriant "keep warm" fashions begin to come in.

Enthusiasm for housecoats and hostess gowns done in gay print jersey, crepe and washable prints has been unprecedented this season. The trend is toward stunning modes such as the dramatic bowknot print hostess gown shown to the right. The material is a shantung in Du Pont rayon yarn. The gown is ultra modern in that it goes 50-50 print with plain. The front bodice, as you will note in the inset, shows a blouse effect made of the plain. You'll love this dress for its candlelight flattery as well as its daytime loveliness.

Housecoats of richly colorful jersey print have high fashion rank for fall. They are serviceable and ever so good-looking. One of their outstanding features is that they are so smartly styled, some with inset belts, others with the new corselet effect. Side-draping is much in evidence, also ruffled shoulder treatments and a dramatic use of jeweled buttons at the waistline. These bright jersey-print lovelies are not only relaxation-perfect but you can meet your guests with perfect poise in one of these fashion-right robes.

The outlook for fall and winter at-home fashions is most glamorous.

Fabulous things are being done in exciting lounge wear that involves a use of glitter accents, exotic color and picturesque silhouettes, also there is a feeling of far East influence expressed in such items as hand-painted or sequin-trimmed leisure blouses worn with tapered trousers. Gold bangles dangle from belts, arms are laden with bracelets, and midriff effects are seen in wide girdles and sashes.

Contrasting the dramatic and sophisticated styling of luxury-type novelties, the early new collections show wool jersey hostess robes or coats which place the accent on the refinement and elegance of exquisite simplicity. These are very lovely in pastels, as for instance, the side-button model in pink wool jersey that achieves a slim-at-the-waistline silhouette together with a full-skirted hemline. Wool jersey in the darker colors will be a first-in-favor for practical, "comfy" good-looking fall and winter housecoats.

The robe made of horseblanket plaid brings in the American feeling. This type is the sort college girls go for, and their practicality is emphasized in that some of them have a collar attachment cleverly taped so that it may be converted into a hood.

There is quite a wide use being made of durable all-over lace in tints to match the crepe with which it is made up. One lovely model has a peplum jacket bodice of all-over lace which tops a skirt in matched-color crepe. An increasing trend to soft styling is noted all the way through the advance at-home apparel collections.

Early Fall Gingham

You will be seeing more cottons worn this fall than ever. Their high fashion rank is declared in just such stunning and wearable costumes as is this stunning bolero suit. This three-piece charmer in black and white gingham is just the type that makes for perfect midseason wear. For hot September days the brief bolero conceals a black halter blouse that spells comfort. Then too, with the bolero removed, you have a modish little frock that can go dancing informally.

Make-Your-Own Idea Spreading on Campus

Sewing interest is mounting to a new high. Now that the make-your-own idea is spreading throughout the college girl clan there sure will be something doing in the way of clothes budget thrift by these ambitious enthusiasts. Many of them are already planning to make their next semester's wardrobe.

Exceptional opportunities are being offered in way of sewing instructions given in fabric departments in many stores. To do your own sewing is really inspirational for it gives play to creative genius. No wonder the sewing venture is becoming a hobby with young moderns who have ideas of their own and welcome the chance to work out individual touches in the clothes they wear. You can get perfect patterns for every thing from slacks outfits to daytime frocks and dressy after-noon costumes, with complete sewing instructions.

Fall Sweater Dresses Are Pretty and Practical

You'll be that intrigued with the new sweater dresses that are being shown for fall, you will feel the urge to buy one at first glance. They appeal from two angles. One is their practicality and dependable wearableness, the other is that they are so perfectly charming in appearance.

They have all the qualities to make them a big success fashion. They are shown in one and two-piece versions, combining soft wool jersey tops with black crepe skirts. The sweater tops are in delicate colors like pale pink or beige. In some instances the jersey bodice is finished off with a beguiling jeweled necklace line.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JACOB REALIZES THE PRESENCE OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 28:10-22. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him, to all that call upon Him in truth.—Psalm 145:18.

Crises bring out the real qualities of man. When they lead him into the very presence of God, they become an experience, the remembrance of which can bring blessing all through life.

Jacob had such an experience in our lesson, and it is the more remarkable because he was a man whose life was far from commendable. His mother, Rebekah, had determined that Jacob was to have Isaac's blessing, even though she had to use falsehood to get it.

Jacob shared the deception planned by his mother, and thereby he received the blessing of Esau. Not willing to wait God's time for the carrying out of His purpose, they sinned to gain an advantage. Then to escape the wrath of Esau, he had to flee.

I. A Revelation of God's Grace (vv. 10-15).

The fugitive was overtaken by darkness on the second night of his journey, and made his bed in the open. Then came the magnificent vision of the ladder to heaven.

Heaven and earth are not separated. There is a way to reach the throne of God, and there is a way for God to reach and bless His people. The vision of the ladder reassured Jacob.

God renewed to Jacob the covenant with Abraham and with Isaac. He does not forget. Men make treaties only to break them. God says, "I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken" (v. 15).

In His matchless grace God relieved Jacob's fear by assuring him of His protection; his loneliness by His divine presence; and his uncertainty regarding the future by the promise of blessing.

Jacob's heart was deeply moved by his dream, and as he awoke to full consciousness, he came to

II. A Realization of God's Greatness (vv. 16-19).

Full of holy fear and awe, Jacob realized the presence of the infinite God. It is a proper and wholesome reaction when a man, realizing himself to be in God's presence, is overcome by the awe-inspiring experience.

Theologians, preachers and teachers have dared to speak swelling words of disrespect concerning His miraculous power, have denied the deity of His Son, and have questioned the authority of His Word. Having sown the wind of unbelief, they have reaped from the people the whirlwind of irreverence, a belittling of God, and a rejection of His authority (Hos. 8:7).

Jacob was reminded of God's immediate presence, "the Lord is in this place." The place of his vision of heavenly things had special meaning to Jacob.

The thing that Jacob "found out that night was not that God visits man, but that God is with man wherever he is. We expect to meet Him in the sanctuary, but He is near us in the market place. Not alone in the sanctuary, but where the multitude gathers in defiance of His law, He is there" (G. Campbell Morgan).

This rich experience led Jacob to

III. A Recognition of God's Goodness (vv. 20-22).

The God who would supply his every need, who would watch over him and keep him, was recognized by Jacob as being worthy of his devotion, and he made a vow that He should be his God (v. 21).

The grace and goodness of God are intended to bring men to faith in Him and devotion to His service. Yet men can go on year after year, the beneficiaries of all His bounty, and never so much as say, "Thank you," let alone recognize Him as Lord.

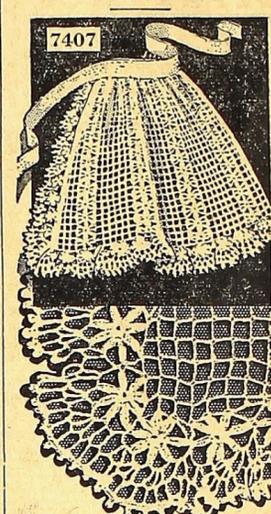

Jacob made a very practical and workable decision to demonstrate the reality of his vow. He promised that one-tenth of all God gave him should be returned to Him.

Many have followed his example and found blessing in giving a tithe for the Lord's work. Some who count themselves far better than poor, weak and tricky Jacob have done far less to show their appreciation of God's blessing.

Note also that Jacob raised a stone of remembrance, and gave the place a name which forever after would recall not only to him, but to posterity, the wonderful blessing of that night. It is a great thing to keep fresh the memory of the occasions when we have met God in special blessing.

Trickery and deception were changed to truthfulness and devotion when Jacob met God face to face. The same blessed transformation awaits those who meet our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ in faith. Have you met Him?

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Salt Box and a Pan Holder Rack to Make

HERE is a pair of gifts that will bring joy to any homemaker. The salt box has the graceful proportions of those used in Colonial kitchens, and the rack with cup hooks screwed in place for hot pan holders is designed to harmonize with the box.

Both box and rack are easy to cut out of plywood or thin lumber scraps—either by hand with a coping saw or with a jig saw. The quaint stencil design may be applied right on the wood with wax crayon and then shellacked to fix the color. This washable finish brings out the brilliance of the crayon colors and at the same time gives a soft, antique finish. The stencil also may be used with oil paint if preferred.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual-size pattern for all the pieces of this salt box and the kitchen rack with step-by-step directions for making. A pattern and color guide with complete directions for the stencil design is also included. The pattern may be used over and over for decorating canisters, place mats and other attractive gifts. Ask for pattern 251 and enclose 15 cents which covers cost and mailing. Address:

SNAPPY FACTS about RUBBER

Tire conservation is important on the fighting fronts, too. Winning slogan in a contest conducted by Stars and Stripes, Army newspaper, was "Bring victory, and the fight, conserve tires day and night."

A new highly maneuverable combat vehicle called the "Staghound" uses tires four feet high. Rubber required for one such tire is equivalent to five passenger tires.

die, and that they knew how to win.

It has come with the help of God, who was with us in the early days of adversity and disaster, and who has now brought us to this glorious day of triumph.

Let us give thanks to Him, and remember that we have now dedicated ourselves to follow in His ways to a lasting and just peace, and to a better world.

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Sunday, August 19, 1945, to be a day of prayer.

I call upon the people of the United States, of all faiths, to unite in offering their thanks to God for the victory we have won, and in praying that He will support and guide us into the paths of peace.

I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible this victory.

No. 4 Continued from First Page.

(We had been warned before-hand not to look at the flash and to cover our eyes to prevent being blinded.) "Suddenly everything in front of me went white, a glaring white, brighter than anything that I had ever before experienced. I dropped to the ground not knowing what to expect next. I hid my face in my arm, but nothing would shut out the light. It seemed I could see right through eyelids, clothes and arm—and that was merely the light reflected from the sky and ground, the source being 20 miles away.

"After the white glare began to die down, I peeked over my arm and there, was one of the biggest explosions taking place. The great sun-like ball of fire was rapidly expanding, and changing from white to yellow, to red. The planes above were finally lost in the great cloud of smoke and dust which rose quickly and mushroomed out, glowing with a peculiar violet color. Another column of smoke arose out of this and went straight up to the level of the rain clouds.

"About a minute and a half after the flash, the shock and sound wave hit us. It was a loud sharp crack followed by a thundering reverberation that rose to a peak and died away. All that was left were dust clouds and a long thin column of smoke."

How Long

before you'll get your new car?

AUTHORIZED industry-wide manufacturing quotas indicate comparatively few new cars will be available this year. And it is expected that strict priority rationing will continue until all essential needs are met.

• • The New York Times says: "Since the interest of the nation requires that every possible car be kept in service, continued, careful maintenance and conservation of existing cars is imperative."

• • So, when your present Ford needs attention—and it will, as it grows older—let us help you keep it rolling—as only your Ford Dealer knows how! We have genuine Ford replacement parts and adequate equipment. Our mechanics know your car best.

• • We pledge you the very best service possible. Let us help you get all the "extra" miles that Ford built into your car. By all means, bring it "HOME" for service!
